

Fall for You 994

Chapter 994

Thomas, worried that she might do something impulsive, quickly called Maxim.

“Mr. Yoder, this is Thomas. My father was taken away by the police this morning and couldn’t be bailed out. Briana, knowing that the famous lawyer Timothy is now at Kingly Group, drove there directly. I’m afraid she might do something impulsive. Could you please go there now and stop her? I still have to deal with things at the police station and can’t get there in time.”

“Alright, I’m coming over immediately.” Maxim’s cold voice came through. Before Thomas could respond, the other party had already hung up the phone.

On the other hand, Briana Cameron drove at a breakneck speed, and in less than half an hour, the car was parked under the Kingly Group building.

She extinguished the fire, pushed open the car door and was about to walk in, when her wrist was suddenly grabbed.

Briana Cameron turned her head in shock, only to see Maxim looking at her with a cold expression, a hint of surprise flashing in his eyes.

“Maxim, how did you end up here?”

Maxim didn’t speak, he just pulled her into his car. Only after he locked the car door did he speak in a cold voice, “Briana Cameron, do you even know what you’re doing!?”

If he hadn’t rushed over just now, who knows what consequences would have resulted from her barging into Kingly Group.

Briana Cameron was taken aback by his shout, frowning, she said, “I came here to find someone, what’s wrong?”

“Did you know how dangerous the Kingly Group could be for you? You just barged in there. The people from Kingly Group could have easily called the police and had you arrested!”

After a few seconds of silence, Briana Cameron said coldly, “Did my third brother tell you why I came to Kingly Group?!”

“If he hadn’t spoken up, you might have already been arrested by the people from Kingly Group by now.”

Briana Cameron took a deep breath, her gaze icy as she looked at Maxim, “Since you know my purpose, you shouldn’t be stopping me. Besides, you didn’t even ask me how I plan to do it. How do you know I’m going to force my way in?!”

At Briana Cameron’s questioning gaze, Maxim’s brows furrowed even deeper in an instant, “Briana, it’s not that I disagree with you saving Mr. Cameron, it’s just that there could be other ways. There’s no need to be so impulsive.”

Briana Cameron scoffed, "It's my dad locked up in the police station, not yours. Of course, you can say that so easily."

As her voice trailed off, the carriage fell into silence.

The angry expression on Maxim's face gradually faded, all emotions returning to calm, and the look in his eyes towards her was filled with disappointment.

"So this is how you thought of me in your heart. Perhaps, from the moment you regained your memory, you stopped believing in me."

Briana Cameron also realized that her words were somewhat hurtful, but she couldn't bring herself to apologize at that moment, she could only turn her face to one side in silence.

After a while, Maxim started the car, his tone indifferent as he said, "I'll take you back to the police station. Thomas asked me to bring you back."

Briana Cameron pursed her lips, hanging her head in silence.

In silence all the way, after Maxim's car stopped at the police station, Briana Cameron pushed the car door open and left without looking back.

Watching her retreating figure, Maxim gave a bitter smile and also started his car to leave.

Hearing the sound of the car fading into the distance, Briana Cameron's steps gradually came to a halt. She slightly turned her head to look in the direction where Maxim's car was leaving, until the car disappeared from her sight.

Maxim returned to the Yoder Group with a stern face. As soon as he sat down, a call from Cosmo came in.

"Maxim, I heard Sean was detained. The Cameron family must be very worried now, right? Especially Briana Cameron, she can't help at all."

Maxim furrowed his brow, immediately understanding the implication in Cosmo's words.

"Did you send someone to follow me, or to follow Briana Cameron?"
