

Fall for You 996

Chapter 996

Timothy sneered, "I never regret my actions, Mr. Yoder. You'd better spend your time finding a decent lawyer, so the Cameron Group won't lose too badly in court!"

After speaking, Timothy turned around and walked straight into the villa.

A glint of coldness flashed in Maxim's eyes as he turned around, got directly into the car, and left.

Returning to the Yoder Group, he immediately told the secretary, "Contact famous lawyers both domestically and internationally."

He didn't believe that Timothy was the only one who could litigate.

On the other side, Timothy had returned home and went straight to the study.

He pulled open the first row of bookshelves in the study, and a secret room appeared before his eyes.

After walking in, the three walls inside were covered with various news and photos cut out from newspapers, and they were also filled with arrows and marks.

Timothy walked up to one of the walls and added the words "the Yoder Group" on it, then wrote the names "Kingly Group" and "Robinson" next to it.

Afterwards, he posted a few more photos, and only after looking over everything on the wall did he turn around and leave.

1/4

288 Vouchers

It was past ten in the evening, Maxim had just finished his work and was preparing to leave the Yoder Group when Cosmo arrived.

Upon seeing him, Maxim's face was all cold.

"Mr. Vanderberg, what brought you to the Yoder Group?"

Cosmo furrowed his brow, "Maxim, I am your father, could you please show me some respect?"

He, the dignified president of the Vanderberg Group, would have long ago bankrupted the Yoder Group if it weren't for the fact that Maxim was his son. Anyone who dared to show him such an attitude would not have lasted.

"It seemed I had never admitted this before."

"You!"

Cosmo was quite upset, and it took him several deep breaths to suppress his anger.

"I came to find you because I wanted to help you. As long as you agreed to get engaged with Aurora, I would have Timothy help Sean. Are you sure you won't reconsider?"

“Without further consideration, you could leave.”

Cosmo snorted coldly, walked straight to the sofa and sat down, staring at Maxim, “You promised the Vanderberg family before, shouldn’t you fulfill it now? Otherwise, I won’t

2/4

Chooser 996

show mercy to Briana Cameron anymore.”

288 Vouchers

Maxim’s icy eyes narrowed, coldly looking at Cosmo, “Are you threatening me?”

“So what? Ever since I found out you were my son, I haven’t mistreated you in the past three years, have I? I don’t even expect you to be filial to me, I just want you to come back and take over the Vanderberg Group. Is that too much to ask?”

If others had heard that they could inherit the Vanderberg Group, they would have come running to curry favor with me. But he, on the other hand, showed no interest at all, refusing to come back no matter what I said.

Maxim looked at him, speaking indifferently, “I could go back and take over the Vanderberg Group if you want.”

“Really?”

Cosmo immediately sat up straight, a flash of joy crossing his face.

“As long as you could accept Briana, I would bring her back to the Vanderberg family.”

Upon hearing this, Cosmo’s face fell immediately, he said irritably, “No! I’ve told you, she’s not good enough for you!”

“Whether I’m worthy or not, I know it myself, I don’t need you to measure!”

Cosmo frowned, irritably saying, “Are you trying to infuriate me to death?! I found you a well-matched socialite and you refused her. Instead, you insist on a woman from a humble background who can’t contribute anything to your career! If she were the biological daughter of the Cameron family, it would be a different story. But an adopted daughter can be abandoned at any time!”

Maxim sneered, “So you always looked down on my mother, and then married a woman of equal social status?”

“You! This is not the same!”

“What’s different is that my mom was with you for so long and in the end, she didn’t even have a title. At least Briana and I are already married. As long as we don’t want to divorce, you have no right to dictate from the sidelines.”

“Alright, Maxim, you will surely regret this!”