

Fall for You 999

Chapter 999

Barbara was clearly very professional, she negotiated with the police and had Sean bailed out in no time.

Seeing his proxy lawyer so young, surprise was all in Sean's eyes.

"Ms. Hamilton, thank you!"

With a standard smile playing at the corners of her lips, Barbara said, "Mr. Cameron, there's no need for formalities, it's my duty. I need to organize some information, so I might ask you a few questions later. I hope you can answer them honestly."

Sean nodded, "Alright."

After understanding the situation with Thomas, Barbara stood up and said, "Mr. Cameron, I have almost understood what I need to know. This case should be over soon. However, I think the purpose of the Kingly Group is to use this matter to affect the stock price of the Cameron Group. There might also be a mole in the Cameron Group."

"You should have recently sought a professional financial team to check the financial status of the Cameron Group, otherwise there was a high possibility of being exploited later."

Barbara had handled similar cases before. If it hadn't been discovered in time back then, the party involved might have gone bankrupt directly.

"Alright, thank you Ms. Hamilton. Thomas, could you please escort Ms. Hamilton?"

Thomas frowned, about to speak, when Barbara laughed and said, "No need, my law firm is not far from here, I can walk back. I will negotiate with the lawyers from Kingly Group tomorrow, I will contact you about what to do next!"

"Good."

After Barbara left, Sean couldn't help but say, "Although this lawyer is a woman, she speaks and acts very decisively. I think we could consider recruiting her for the legal department of the Cameron Group."

Hearing this, Thomas quickly said, "Dad, she was doing just fine at the law firm. Why do you insist on poaching her to the Cameron Group? Maybe she prefers the feeling of arguing cases in court!"

Sean gave him a strange look, "Why do you talk as if you know her very well? Did you know each other before?"

"Not know! How could I possibly know a lawyer!"

Sean didn't press further, instead he asked about the company, "By the way, how has the Cameron Group been these past few days?"

"Someone leaked the news of your detention, and the stock price of the Cameron Group has fallen quite a bit in the past two days. Moreover, I found that someone bought a lot of shares when the stock price of the Cameron Group was falling!"

Upon hearing this, Sean's face instantly turned incredibly unsightly. He said coldly, "Take me to the company!"

If a large amount of The Cameron Group's stocks were bought and then massively sold off, it would cause significant fluctuations in the stock price. The people behind this must have motives beyond simply wanting to buy The Cameron Group's stocks.

"Good."

Upon returning to the company, Sean immediately convened a shareholders' meeting.
