Chapter 111

Still Rolf Titus Point of View:

"Hello, there..."

I looked over and saw her standing next to me with a smile on her face.

"Doctor Wendy, hi, I didn't expect to see you here" I feigned surprise and moved so that she could sit next to me.

He nodded and then unhesitatingly sat down next to me. Wolf who growled in annoyance that a woman approached me made me have to restrain myself so as not to look like a person who doesn't like being approached by women, like someone who has found his mate.

Yes, we are currently hiding the fact that Gwen is my mate from this female doctor beside me.

"Are you out for patient control?" I question her in an attempt to look friendly.

She nodded "Yes, the other 2 patients who came with you also had a bad experience with wolfsbane poison" She replied with at sigh and leaned herself on the chair.

"What about Gwen?" I asked curiously, wanting to know what she thought of my mate. She looked at me before surprisingly touching my palm "Your sister... It's a bit difficult." My heart skipped a beat at that...

What does she mean by serious?

Staring at her solemnly, I waited for her to explain further with full attention.

Knowing my gaze was riveted on her, she gave a small smile

"The blood test results show that 30% of the poison has been mixed in her body, so she needs dialysis and special antibiotics to be able to clear the poison"

Yes, I know about that....

"But, it can be cured, right?" I wanted to hear that she was able to restore my mate's health back to normal.

She nodded her head "It's difficult but with time it will be possible, we already have the wolfsbane anti-toxin that has started to be given to her, that's one of the reasons her body is weakening and vomiting due to the side effects of the anti-toxin we gave her."

They've given her anti-toxin?!

Why didn't I know this?

"I thought my sister was still being examined and treated with antibiotics, didn't realize that the antitoxin had been given to her" I commented calmly and tried not to be annoyed that they had given her something without explaining it to me or her parents first.

The female doctor just smiled "All patients who are sent here must be due to poison and the anti-toxin treatment is definitely given, it's just that the dosage will be adjusted according to the severity of the poison in the patient's body."

"I see" I commented quietly but I seemed to understand why Alpha Blake was checking on him.

"I heard that you'll be the one waiting here when your parents return to the territory tomorrow?" She inquired softly with her hand still touching me.

Damn, how can I break away from his touch?!

I nodded my head "Yes, because an Alpha cannot leave his position for too long, so..." I shrugged as if it was obvious and he would understand.

Yes, the side effects were explained by Dr. Wendy and the nurses, but I never thought it would be this bad.

My body was so weak from the vomiting and headache that hit me. And this will last 2-3 days she said, ugh... God, help me.

Seeing the sad look given by the woman who was my mother, made me want to endure this pain, but I couldn't, I didn't have the energy to endure this nausea and pain.

These 2 days were terrible, everyone looked so tense and worried and I couldn't do anything to comfort them.

I can only hold on for the sake of my health, that's all I can do.

But I knew that during that time someone was always holding my hand, yes, that someone was my mate.

Without saying anything and without shedding tears, I knew he was worried.

Every night or during our time together, he would always clasp my hand, as if to channel his energy and let me know that he was always by my side.

Little things that show his attention without saying anything, yes, because we can't show that we are a pair of mates because everyone knows him as my older brother.

Something that must be done in order to avoid something unwanted, yes, because we don't know how Doctor Wendy is feeling right now, because she is someone who has lost her mate.

Waking up from my sleep, I saw that it was 2am, but I turned my head to realize that someone was holding my left hand while stroking my cheek gently.

Titus, I thought as I smiled at my mate who smiled back at me when he saw me awake.. "Hey..."

La King's Fated Mate

"You didn't sleep?" I asked with a sigh, knowing that without saying he was in agony right now.

Yes, he's certainly blaming himself for what I'm going through, he must be hating himself for not being able to help me.

I don't know since when I understood him like this...

"How do you feel?" He asked softly while continuing to stroke my cheek tenderly.

"Better" I said but he didn't seem convinced by my lie. "They said they're going home tomorrow, right?" I changed the subject.

Titus nodded as he moved his chair closer to me.

"You know, I heard a voice in my head earlier, I think it was Destine calling me" I said cheerfully with a big smile and I finally saw a glimmer of pleasure in my mate's eyes when he heard my words.

"Really?" He asked, looking happy for the first time.

"Yup, it seems that this sacrifice is indeed for the better" I said confidently and he just smiled back before bringing his face closer to give me an intimate peck on the lips.

"Thank goodness then, I've been wanting to burn this place down every time I hear you in pain” He said in annoyance and I couldn’t help bursting into laughter at that, yup, typical Titus and I’m sure his wolf was even worse.

Seeing me laugh made him look even happier, it seemed that he was waiting for my laughter.

“I’m fine, please don’t worry” I whispered trying to reassure him and he just continued to caress me.

“I love you, Gwen, please get well” He pleaded while putting his head in my arms, I wrapped my hands there while stroking his hair.

“I’m getting better, don’t worry” I assured him.

That night Titus lay with me in bed, I knew he did that because he wanted to hold back his emotions and sadness.

He wanted to calm his wolf who must have also been worried and sad about what I was going through.

Placing his lips on my neck, Titus continued to kiss me softly as he inhaled me, something I knew was something werewolves did to calm themselves.

The Alpha King’s Fated Mate

I knew we shouldn’t be doing this, fearing that a nurse might come in, but I couldn’t stop him, well, after what I’d been through it must have been hard for all those who saw me and couldn’t do anything, so I let him hold me and act like a mate for the night.

I was sure that Kurt or whoever would be guarding the door, would inform us if a nurse was coming in for a night check.

Hearing my mate’s steady breathing, I knew he was asleep and like a lullaby, I followed him into dreamland.

Hopefully tomorrow will be better, so he won’t worry about me anymore, I thought before letting the darkness envelop me.

****

The next day, It seems that Titus had told Kurt to immediately notify if there was a nurse coming into the room, so in the morning,

I didn’t realize that my mate was no longer in bed with me.

It was the most comfortable and deepest sleep I have had since I got here, and I didn’t even feel any nausea or headache while I was with him.

It is sad to know Alice, Melissa and my parents would return home and everyone shed tears of worry as they said goodbye.

I knew that they wouldn’t be able to keep me company, but it was already a blessing to have them here with me.

“Don’t cry Alice, mom and Mel” I said softly while patting the back of my mom’s hand gently.

"I'm sorry we can't keep you company" My father added and I shook my head.
"It's okay, I understand" I replied with a small smile.

Alexa and Kurt would stay with Titus and the three rooms we had rented would remain rented out because my mate didn't want this hallway to be filled with foreign werewolves, although that wasn't necessary since there weren't many werewolves here.

But it turned out that after my parents left, Jose and Paul were already on their way here, I don't know what made them decide that we needed more guards here but I could only trust my mate and his judgment. regarding everything.

I waved as they walked out of the room to the car that was waiting for them, with Titus accompanying them until they got into the car, I gave my best smile so as not to worry those who loved me.

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

10 seconds after they left, I asked Alexa to immediately help me to the bathroom because it was the only time I could endure, yes, actually the nausea bothered me again but for their sake, I tried to endure it and the human medicine given by the doctor, increasingly did not have much effect.

Could it mean that my wolf is coming back? I thought happily before. going back to emptying everything in my stomach again.

Gwen forgot, however, that they were not human but werewolves and their hearing was so sensitive that they managed to hear what was going on in the room.

Luna Lisa walked with her mate in her arms, guiltily and resentfully unable to be with her daughter who was in pain, but she understood that she was a Luna who had to assist the Alpha with her duties in her territory, a dilemma for an Alpha's companion.

"Take care of her Titus, keep in touch in the group chat about everything" Alpha Blake pleaded politely to the king, yes, as a father he was also resenting his position of responsibility as Alpha so he could not accompany his only daughter. But he was sure, with the love and care shown by the Alpha king who was his daughter's mate, he would protect her with anything.

Titus nodded his head firmly before shaking his mate's father's hand and giving a hug to Luna Lisa who was still crying worriedly.

Slowly, one by one, they entered the car and returned home but two people nodded their heads and gave the Alpha king a meaningful look.

Far away from the 8th floor of the adjoining building, there was a pair of eyes that were staring at the scene in the lobby with a twisted expression on her face.

Chapter 114

This is my third week in this hospital, every day is erratic, side effects can appear or not, I don't know what causes it to happen, but at least it's not like the first time the anti-toxin was given where I vomited non-stop until I felt very weak now it's not that bad and I'm grateful for it.

It was also the week that I started dreaming of Destine again, yes, my wolf started appearing in my dreams, a sign that I was slowly starting to heal even though I still had a long way to go but it seemed to be heading in a better direction.

Titus was very happy to hear that and he's been a lot more cheerful and has started showing a lot of smiles lately.

But there was one thing that bothered me...

"How are you today, Gwen?" Doctor Wendy came to visit for a routine check-up every morning, although she asked about my condition, but I realized that her gaze was always glued to the man beside me who was my fated mate.

Yes, she seemed to have an obvious attraction to Titus and it was impossible for anyone in this room not to notice.

For a werewolf who has a mate and has lost it, her attitude and affection towards my fated mate does not seem like someone who is like that, she looks too calm for someone who has lost her fated mate.

Should I discuss this matter with Titus? I thought hesitantly and just listened to the female doctor speak while watching how she looked at the man who was my fated mate who ignored her and just looked at me.

All this is confusing...

I knew Titus' attention wouldn't be diverted and he wouldn't cheat on me but I was afraid it would have a bad effect on my treatment, after all Doctor Wendy was the doctor who was treating me.

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

'Did you know you're a doctor too, Gwen? The voice in my head told me and startled me.

Destine?

Yes, it's been 3 days since Destine sometimes speaks in my head, but not for long, only telling me 1-2 things.

"Was I a doctor before?" I asked my mate who looked shocked, not long after the doctor who examined me left the room. Titus nodded his head as he took my hand to hold it "Are you starting to remember anything?" He asked hopefully.

I shook my head "No, but Destine told me" My answer surprised him again.

He smiled with relief "That's good to hear, it means your treatment is going in a positive way" he said as he kissed my palm.

Come on, I promise to show you the beauty of the snow behind this hospital" he added excitedly before wrapping his arms around me to carry me easily in his arms.

With the help of Alexa and Kurt who took my infusion as well as a blanket and thick jacket for me, the four of us started walking, well I didn't walk but was carried by my mate, heading outside. for me to breathe fresh air and see the beauty of the snow.

All the nurses nodded their heads as we walked past them. Earlier Titus had asked permission for me to go out and seeing that I was no longer vomiting, they allowed me to leave the room.

Letting out a long sigh while gazing at the beautiful scenery in front of me, Titus took me to a bench in the garden that was facing the pine forest behind the hospital.

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

We sat for a while to look at the beauty of the snow covering the forest like white sugar and Titus as well as the others laughed when I said I wanted a white sugar doughnut when I saw it.

Yes, it was nice to see that they weren't stiff with worry about me anymore.

"Let's go back" My mate said and carried me back as I caught a black figure standing staring at us.

'Don't go back there'

Huh?

I looked at Titus and my two guards but it seemed that no one heard them, then looked back at the figure standing near the forest not far from where we were over the shoulder of my mate who started walking into the hospital with me in his arms.

'Don't go there, go far away... Your mate is in danger...'

Who?

Why would he say that?

15, who noticed me stiffening made him stop his footsteps.

at's wrong?" He asked in alert.

I looked into his eyes before looking back at where the figure was.

Kurt and Alexa looked tense before all of them turned to where I was looking.

"What's wrong, queen? Gwen?" Alexa asked quickly.

"There was a man there and he seemed to be talking to me" I whispered which made the two guards run towards the forest. but not for long as the black figure seemed to disappear at the same time Titus stepped back carrying me into the hospital with worry.

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

My heart skipped a beat at the sound of that voice in my head.

How did he know who I was?

Who is he?

No... What is he?

What does he mean by 'don't go back there? My mate is in danger? Titus?

****

As Titus sat me back down in my room he looked at me confused "What's wrong? What did you see?" He asked worriedly.

I shrugged "I don't know, but I heard him tell me not to come back here"

"It was a male?"

I nodded my head "It was a male voice but I didn't see it clearly"

Titus hugged me and stroked my head gently "Never mind, I'll figure it all out, you just focus on getting yourself healed" He said softly.

However, the man said that Titus was in danger.

Could I let anything happen to my mate?

My feelings for him are deeper than I thought, whether it's because of the mate bond or the things he did to me, whatever it is, I have to do something if he's in danger.

Could this be related to the female doctor who treated me?

Yes, I know she has an interest in Titus, could it be about her?

Should I be wary of her?

Chapter 115

"Morning, Gwen, how are you? Hi Rolf, you're still here"

The next day I again realized that when the doctor paid a visit to my room, he would surely greet my mate soon.

Titus smiled kindly as he could do nothing knowing that it was the doctor who was taking care of my recovery.

"Morning, Gwen, how are you? Hi Rolf, you're still here"

The next day I again realized that when the doctor paid a visit to my room, he would surely greet my mate soon.

Titus smiled kindly as he could do nothing knowing that it was the doctor who was taking care of my recovery.

I know it's our fault for telling lies, but seeing the doctor's reaction to the man who is my mate, I regret it so much, she doesn't look like a person who lost her mate, she doesn't seem to have any sadness about losing her fated mate at all.

Why, though?

"Morning... Hello, Rolf" day 4.

"Hello... how are you, Gwen? Hey, I don't see your older brother?" The next day, again asking for Titus.

"Hello, I'm going to check the level of poison in your sister's blood today, so we can check the level of anti-toxins" Another week had passed and there wasn't a day when she didn't come to visit to ask how I was doing, oh no, to check on my mate seemed to be the more accurate words.

However, why didn't Titus react the way I expected him to?
Why did he remain calm and smile like that?
Did he not mind getting the doctor's attention?
Honestly, the reaction of the man who was my mate pissed me off and... jealous.
'Looks like he has a plan' Destine's voice told me, but she did not elaborate more.

Sighed. I guess I can only trust her and my mate.
Everyone looked upset but they didn't say anything, yes, it was our fault for introducing the two of us as siblings, so there was no way I could show my jealousy or displeasure knowing that my brother was favored by the doctor who was treating me.

Ugh... I hate this situation!

Ugh... I hate this situation!

'My queen...'

Huh?

A male voice?

Titus who was still talking to doctor Wendy while walking out, at the same time I walked towards the window.

Yes, there was a man in a black robe standing at the edge of the forest...

However, why can I hear him?

"Alexa..." I called out to my loyal bodyguard who immediately walked over to me and stood beside me "Did you see something beside that big tree?" I asked to confirm something.

However, the woman only narrowed her eyes while continuing to try to find the thing I was looking at, the object that I had seen was still there.

"What's wrong? Did you see a man again?" She asked, perplexed and answered my suspicion.

I see... So it turns out that no one can see it...

He was clearly standing next to the tree, there was no way Alexa could have missed him...

Who is he?

Why did he seem to be calling me to come to him there?

Could he be the answer to what I'm looking for?

Someone who knows about the strangeness that happened to Dr. Wendy?

Should I try to go to him and ask him why he was so eager to meet me and tell me something?

What does he know about all this?

And most importantly, what is he?

how everything is like not being able to see him when I can see him so clearly now.

Should I tell Titus?

No... It seems I need to find out first before informing my mate. "My queen?" Alexa called out to me who was sucked into my thoughts and made me look back at her who was still looking at me with worry. Smiling to calm her down "Just happy to see the beautiful snow outside, maybe we can get some fresh air again?" I asked softly

She smiled with a nod "I bet the king would love to take you out again" she replied kindly not long at the same time, the man himself walked inside my room with a nurse behind him.

Sh*t..!

I forgot one thing.. They will take my blood today..

Hopefully there won't be any side effects that make me weak and unable to get up again.

Looking towards the window to see if the man in the black robe was still there, I found him gone before walking back to the bed and holding out my hand to the nurse who was going to draw my blood.

Who exactly is the man in the robe?

Why did he appear at such an unexpected time?

When the nurse came out with the two bottles that she had taken from me, it wasn't long before I was lying limp on my bed, yes, the anti-toxin treatment continued but it seemed that today the side effects of the anti-toxin would be felt more because of the blood draw that the nurse had done on me.

Then, something that surprised me happened when I felt Titus touch my hand...

I didn't really feel the electric rush I used to feel when he touched me.

What?!

What happened?!

Why did I barely feel the electric shock? As if it's starting to disappear?

What is this?

What's happening to me?

Because from what everyone explained, the electricity was a mate bond

10

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

between me and Titus!

Why can't I barely feel it?!

“Alexa” I called my loyal guard who was sitting in the lounge with me the next day when I didn’t see my mate in my room, which was surprising, “Where is Titus?”

She lifted her head and looked at me with a look I never thought I would get.

Anxiety and ignorance of what she wanted to tell me.

What’s going on?

Why was she looking at me like that?

What did she know?

Pretending to be calm, I tried to control my emotions so that no one would notice that I suspected something was going on here,

The thing I’m afraid of... What? That Titus is capable of doing things that no werewolf with a mate has ever done before?

No, I mustn’t think like that.

“The king is in doctor Wendy’s room, my queen” The woman finally answered me “She said she found something in your blood levels that were taken the other day.”

Hmm... Is that really what happened?

I

gave a smile and nodded my head before trying to get up.

couldn’t just sit and do nothing.

“My queen?”

“Help me get to the doctor’s room, Alexa, usually she explains everything here because it’s also my right to know what’s happening to me, isn’t it?” I asked firmly but didn’t want to hear any answers, and Alexa, too, seemed to understand that I smelled something off about the doctor who was treating me.

Chapter 116

The atmosphere was colder, like there was something enveloping this building that gave me goosebumps.

It was cold, like something bad was going to happen and I couldn’t help but feel worried inside.

What is this?

What am I feeling here?

Exhaling heavily I stepped into the main building towards the direction where doctor Wendy’s office was. Yes, I’ve been here for a long time, I recognized the direction to the doctor’s office that treated me.

Alexa and Kurt who walked behind me, said nothing and just followed like a devoted guard.

There were a few nurses guarding the place and they greeted me and looked at me with a quizzical look, probably confused since I currently had no medical schedule yet why here.

Seeing the door of the room in front of me as I walked over, my chest rumbled so hard that I was shaking violently.

Why is this?

What am I afraid of?

Stopping in front of the door, I heard a sound and heaved a sigh, I opened the door of the room to see something I never thought

I would see.

My heart was broken...

Anger, sadness and disappointment all rolled into one...

Alexa and Kurt, who were behind me, gasped loudly, making the two people in the room startle and immediately looked towards the door, where I stood staring at them in disbelief.

"Gwen..." Titus was heard calling me weakly but I quickly turned around and ran out of doctor Wendy's room who was the doctor who was treating me, locking lips with the man who was my fated mate.

Of all the things I thought possible, I never thought that Titus could do such the most impossible thing.

Yes, werewolves don't cheat, but the evidence I saw indicated otherwise and the possibility was there.

I can't believe it....

Everyone looked at me with worry as I staggered past them, my chest hurt, my breathing was irregular and my head was dizzy.

Leaning against the wall with tears still in my eyes, I catch my breath to keep from fainting but I hear a voice from the man I don't want to see right now, yes, it seems Titus is running after me, but I'm thankful that Kurt is holding him back before turning to my left to see Alexa already standing there.

Of course, they can smell me, I thought irritably and walked back away from the hospital building.

I know I'm here for my recovery, but why would I keep living if the man I've given my heart to is with someone else?!

Why would I sacrifice like this just to get heartache?

Why God?!

Why do I have to feel this way?

Why not just let me die?

Why did I agree to come here?!

Ugh... I'm so st*pid!!

I hate myself for believing in love.

Ugh... St*pid!!!!

Without realizing it I walked towards the forest and hugged myself, who was starting to get cold because I was wearing a less thick jacket but I didn't want to go back, no, I was till too sad and sick to go back to that place.

Having to endure the torture caused by the anti-poison I drank, no, I don't want to, I will not stand the chance of going through that again if it will only result in more pain.

"You came..."

Gasping in shock, I jumped at the sound of the man's voice in my head and saw the black-robed figure appear in front of me.

Alexa, who was still behind me, seemed unable to see him and only looked at me with worry.

So, there's really no one who can see this cloaked figure! I thought.

"Who are you?" I whispered while looking at him suspiciously.

It was the first time I saw him clearly, he looked like an ordinary man with brown eyes and shoulder-length hair.

Who is he?

Why did he appear like a ghost?

As if he could hear the words I said inside my head, the man in the robe smiled.

'You're right... I am indeed a ghost' He said casually with a smile directed at me.

WHAT?!

A ghost?!

How is that possible?

What is he doing here?!

'My name is Abel' He said again as if answering my unspoken question. Abel?

He nodded his head 'I am the original fated mate of the doctor who treated you'

My eyes widened at his words.

What did he say?!

"WHAT?!"

'Yes, I am the fated mate of doctor Wendy'

Alexa, who heard me shouting, came to me slowly to find out something strange, but she, who could not see the black-robed man in front of me, just stared at me before walking back to guard me.

"Why are you here?" I asked silently, afraid that the guard lady not far away would hear me talking and get suspicious.

'Because after he killed me he buried me in this forest and made me unable to leave here' His answer again shocked me.

How could a werewolf kill her mate and bury them like that?!

What exactly is going on here?!

'The medicine he gave you is capable of breaking mate-bonds... And that's what's happening to you and the king who is your fated mate' Oh. My. God!!!

WHAT?!

Again, the black-robed man who seemed to be able to read my mind smiled before he again let out words that continued to surprise me, words that I never thought he would say.

'Because, I am the owner of this hospital and the one who invented the wolfsbane poison medicine for werewolves, because

Wendy used to be my mate who I treated with the anti-poison I invented in 8 years, but didn't realize the side effect was the dissolution of our mate bond until it was too late'

Chapter 117

Abel Point of View:

My name is Abelard Maison, and I am the heir to the Maison family, one of Germany's wealthy nobles.

My family all worked as doctors and I was no exception, but I had a slightly different interest from the rest of my family.

My interest in Dementia and Alzheimer's disease always made me the butt of the jokes, because it was a difficult department and there wasn't much doctors could do about it, and most importantly, the income was far different from my other siblings who were surgeons at top hospitals.

But there was one person who always had my back, my grandmother who apparently shared my interests, so it was no surprise that she gave the brain hospital in Switzerland to me.

What I thought was a good thing turned out to be my worst nightmare...

It all started in the second month since my arrival at St Patrick's Hospital, I found a badly injured woman back in the forest.

For some reason from the moment I met her my heart was vibrating strangely and there was an electric shock when I touched her.

Strange things I want to know....

The woman woke up, that's what one of the nurses said and I quickly made my way to the room where she was resting.

As I opened the door and looked into her eyes, I realised that love at first sight does exist.

I never believed that at 37 years old I would find someone I would love, and it was only at first sight.

What is this?
Why her?
And what's wrong with me?
"My name is Wendy"

The first words spoken by her have been ringing in my ears all this time.
The first woman I fell in love with...
Over the following month we grew closer and it was on that full moon night that she told me a shocking revelation that answered everything

The Alpha King's Fated Mate
that had happened to me.

"What do you mean, Wendy?" I asked in shock as we sat beside the forest behind the hospital, which was our favourite place to be together.

Actually her favourite because she really likes the forest or nature.

"Abel, I'm a werewolf, that's why you fell in love with me from the moment you first saw me" I didn't believe a word she said, I knew she had a brain disease, but it was sad to know that it was a delusion.

Until she stood up and took off her clothes in front of me to show me the truth.

Yes... The figure of the woman I knew turned into a big wolf that made me widen my eyes in shock until I fell to the ground.

That's when she told me everything about her world.

I, who had never thought that the werewolf world was real and not just a story, learnt something new about the world I thought was only a fantasy. "Wolfbane?" I asked later when I enquired about what she was suffering from.

Wendy nodded her head "Yes, Wolfsbane is a poison that can kill werewolves like me.

The alpha in my pack gave it to me as a punishment because I didn't want to marry his son," she replied at that time with a sad look.

I, who was in deep love with her, easily believed the lies she told me without any suspicion.

Since then, my obsession with the wolfsbane poison led me to use all the knowledge I had learnt to find a cure for the poison that managed to kill my mate.

Blinded by love, over the years we've worked together to find ways to improve Wendy's condition and it's starting to yield positive results as she looks stronger and is able to show her different self.

Until one day another werewolf came to my hospital...

Yes, the William and Fergy pair...

William who turned out to be a man that Wendy had long liked who came from the neighbouring pack of her territory.

That's when I realised something in our mate-bond...

Wendy showed interest in a man other than me, which should not happen to a werewolf who has found a fated mate.

10:09

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

However, I, who thought it was all just my jealousy, put that fact aside.

Until it was too late....

Fergy was heard crying the next day, saying that her mate was with Wendy in bed.

I didn't believe her...

No, I didn't want to believe that the woman I had healed could do that.

And I foolishly believed Wendy again until the couple left the hospital the next day.

But as the days went by Wendy became more and more distant, she even made excuses when I seduced her into the room under the pretext of a headache or whatever she could.

It wasn't until I learnt that she developed the anti-toxin knowledge further.

Yes, the 8 years we worked together made her learn the science of medicine better now.

My stupidity and blindness to love made me create a dangerous monster in the form of a doctor.

And when I discovered all of that, she viciously killed me and hid my corpse in this forest that she loved.

That's why I can't leave here, I don't know what she did to my body that I can't escape from this forest.

Back to Gwen Point of View :

"And you are the first person who can hear me and even see me, my queen"

I couldn't believe what I was hearing today.

About the truth about Doctor Wendy who I thought was trying to treat me but she also seemed to be after my mate, Titus.

Alexa, who suspected that something happened in the forest, but she had no proof so she just followed me silently behind.

"What should I do now to get my mate back?" I remember asking the ghostly figure.

He smiled "Woo him back and get your bond back, it's still there so it's easy" He replied and I couldn't help how it was a relief to know that I could get the man I loved back.

My fated mate...

I will not lose and easily give it to anyone.

Yes, I must fight to take back what is mine.

Titus is in this situation because of me, this time it is my turn to help him.

Just wait, Titus....

You are mine and I won't let anyone else take you in such a dirty way.

I have to make a plan...

Chapter 118

'Hello, Gwen'

Smiling widely at hearing my white-wolf voice clearly as well as regaining my memories made Alexa wide-eyed at me before she bowed her body respectfully.

Yes, she must have known my wolf and power had returned.

'It's good to be back awake and be with you, my dear' My wolf said in my head.

Yes, as Abel had said that my condition had actually recovered, there was just some additional medicine that had been given to me so that my bond-mate connection with Titus was completely severed.

It means that Doctor Wendy knows our lies and that Titus is my fated mate, but that doesn't make her back down and continue to do her evil deeds to steal the man who is my mate from me.

— Memory

"What do you mean that anti-toxins only need to be injected within a week?" I was surprised to hear Abel's explanation of how to treat the wolfsbane poison using the anti-toxin he made.

Abel nodded his head with an apologetic look "Yes, that's why the effects of the anti-toxins you received were not as severe at the beginning, because it was only at the beginning that the anti-toxins reacted strongly to the werewolf's body" He explained and I felt like I was slapped if I remembered the things I had to go through because of that female doctor.

Which tu

out to be just an attempt to take my mate.

If that is true so... "But why can't I hear my wolf in my head, as if she's still sick?" I asked since I was confused, I never thought this is what happened.

Abel shrugged "Because the sedative was given to keep the werewolf asleep." He state it easily like that.

What?!

Oh. My. God... That's it? How come I never thought anything?!

Ugh.... I've been fooled?!

I feel like getting angry!!!! ARGH..!!!!

With Destine back in my body and hearing her growls of emotion, I knew she was also upset about what the female doctor had done.

We were such fools!

"However, we have to plan, Wendy is very slippery and she must not know that you have found out about me" Abel added and made me raise a confused eyebrow.

"Why?" I growled in anger, just want to ripped her head, not make any more plan but just quickly make a move and killed the woman on the spol.

He let out a long sigh before I opened my eyes to stare at the figure that appeared behind him.

Melissa....? What is she doing here?

Is that mean, she's the one who helped?

She knows about doctor Wendy? She's the one who helped Abel?!

Oh. My. God... I should have known that she was the one behind all this, that the witch blood inside her wasn't completely gone.

God.. I'm so stupid!

The familiar white witch smiled, and nodded her head.

"When I came here, I was surprised to see the figure locked in the forest who turned out to be the real mate of the female doctor who was going to treat you, so, with the help of your father, we secretly made a plan"

Melissa explained and I couldn't tell how happy I was to hear it and Alexa who was there, could only gape in shock because she was confused about what happened.

"How did now?" I asked her.

"Apparently there have been many broken mate-bonds because of that woman... I don't know what she's looking for by destroying mate-bonds" Melissa sighed as she shook her head in annoyance

"Imagining her destroying your mate-bond with the king, ugh..." She added with disgust as if it was something she did not want to happen.

I can't believe it!!! But also I'm glad to know that she really cares about us, about me.

"So, you're not going?" I asked with a smile and she simply shrugged her shoulders with a mischievous smile.

It felt good to know that I wasn't alone, there was someone who would help me.

And my dad... He really is a great guy, I'll have to thank him when I meet him later.

"What should we do then?" I asked the two of them, Melissa and Abel who were looking at me sharply.

Yes... We should make a plan now.

So that this is the last bad thing that she can and will do to others.

We have to stop that crazy female doctor!

"Where's Titus?" I asked Alexa when we're back in our room.

"Kurt's got him... he's out front" She replied firmly, good, she didn't seem to believe that my mate was capable of doing such a cursed thing to me either, but I didn't have time to explain so I just nodded and ordered her to open the door and let my mate in.

I know she has a lot of questions, but she knows to trust me and I'm grateful for the faith she has in me.

Now, what I will do is restore my mate-bond with Titus.

"Send him in" I ordered her and the next time I saw the man himself walk in shame toward me.

"Gwen..." He whispered softly.

"Ggrrrr..."

Destine growled in anger at the sight of her mate, apparently still imagining the man kissing another woman besides me, his fated mate. I heard the angry growl of my white-wolf, looked startled and eyes towards me.

Titus

turned

Yes, he didn't seem to expect that my white-wolf was back.

That, even my memories have returned.

That... I'm back.....

"You..." He choked when he lost his words but I am nodded my head with a wide and confident smile.

"Yes, Titus... This is me..." I respond to him with a wide smile forming from my mouth and make him shocked even more "I am back... powerful and angry at you" I state which makes him gulp in nervousness the moment he hears my words.

Good."

Be afraid of me...

Because he has to remember that I am the only one of the women he should be kissed, not the evil female doctor named Wendy!

Chapter 119

"What do I need to do to get my mate back, Abel?" I asked the ghost of the man who was the originator of the anti-poison that unexpectedly had this horrible side effect.

But this man named Abel smiled, as if he knew the answer and that made me relieved.

Yes, I don't know what I will do if my bond-mate with Titus is erased.

No need to worry my queen, you can return what is yours easily, kiss and claim him back because basically he is only yours, so returning the bond—mate that was broken by the woman is quite easy because it hasn't been broken completely."

His words made me breathe a sigh of relief and I was glad to know that I could do that. Yes... it's an easy thing, I hope that he's right.

Blam..

Alexa closed the door and left me alone with my mate, yes, she knew what I would do to her king.

I slowly reached out my hand to stroke her cheek.

"Gwen... I'm sorry... I... I don't know what..." Titus stuttered as he tried to explain to me.

Yes, I was angry with him, very upset, but I knew that he was also tricked into doing that.

Right now he was confused because his mate—bond with me seemed to have disappeared so he didn't realise what he was doing.

Bringing myself closer to him, I pulled his shirt to bring our lips together and gave my mate a long, deep kiss.

As if surprised, I saw him widen his eyes before he finally wrapped his arms around my body.

He acted as if he just realised that it was me, Gwen, his fated mate.

Oh my God, you really have been tricked, I thought and deepened our increasingly wild kisses.

Moans and grunts rang out as we quenched our thirst for each other.

I accepted with open arms everything Titus did to me.

Considering all the things he went through for me, I was unable to stay mad at him.

And right then and there I knew that I had my mate back, that it was true as Abel had told me, that to restore our mate—bond was easy.

"Gwen... Gwen..." He continued to call my name as if he had just realised about me.

Hugs and kisses continued to be thrown at me like fireflies thirsting for light.

"My Gwen.. I love you Gwen.. I love you so much"

The moment I heard his words, I knew I had him back.

My fated mate... My Titus...

*****

2 hours later, convinced that my Titus had returned, I explained everything to him.

And he was wide-eyed with shock at what I knew...

Yes, I'm sure that out of all the scenarios he thought of, he never expected this, but we have to stick to the plan.

"Then, you're telling me to keep acting like I'm interested in her?" He asked with a horrified look at the thought of what he should do to another woman.

It's a funny thing to see, but if I remember how close I came to losing the man in front of me because of that woman, I don't want to laugh.

I touched his cheek and nodded my head "There is no other choice because these few days our mate-bond has been broken by her so you have an attraction to that female doctor" I tried to speak calmly, but still growled in annoyance as I said my last words.

Titus noticed my annoyance and smiled a little before wrapping his arms around my body to give me a comforting hug.

"I'm sorry you had to see me like that... I'm a stupid man!" He said and I just nodded my head while wiping away the tears that I didn't expect to fall from my eyes.

Shit... I still hate knowing he kissed that female doctor!

Ugh!

He seemed to understand the pain I was feeling, so he kept embracing me as if it was something he wanted to show me that I would always be in his arms.

And it worked... Destine and I calmed down a little from the warm embrace he gave me.

"I love you Gwen.. Only you, love" He kept whispered the words and I start smiling when I hear it.

Knock.. Knock...

"They're coming" Alexa's voice came from outside telling us that the female doctor was walking towards my room.

Titus and I reluctantly let go of our embrace and started to behave like brothers and sisters and still didn't know the real thing that happened. Yes... we must continue to behave like this until Melissa manages to find where the woman hid the potion she gave to the patients here to damage the mate-bond and destroy it so that no one is harmed by it anymore. You're against the clock but you still have to be reasonable so that the female doctor doesn't get suspicious at all or you'll fail.

Yes... we can't afford to lose.

I hope Titus can pretend because I know he is a person who hates the slightest lie, but this is something he must do or we will lose.

Click...

“Good morning” Doctor Wendy came inside when I lay on my bed and Titus abruptly stood up from his chair when he saw her coming.

“Hey” He greeted her and I tried to hold my emotion when I heard him speaking nicely to her.

Calm down, Destine... I try to assure my wolf and myself, I guess.

“Hi Titus.” He greeted my mate with a dreamy look that I wanted to pry from his eyes.

Damn it!!!

Then, I was shocked when Doctor Wendy turned to me “Sorry dear, you must have been shocked yesterday?” She said sweetly referring to the incident where I saw them locking lips.

Damn it, I didn’t expect her to be able to confidently ask me without any guilt.

Shouldn’t she know that this man is not my older brother? Or is it also a trap?

Hmm...

I quickly smiled and shook my head “Yes, but considering the things you’ve done to me, it’s nice to see my brother with you doctor” I replied kindly, contrast to what was in my mind at the moment. Ugh....

I saw that he was a little surprised at my reaction, yes, it seems that he is still finding out the truth....

Hmm... That means his suspicion that Titus and I are mates isn’t 100% confirmed, it’s just a suspicion.

Okay then... I thought...

“Yet I’m a little weak today doctor?” I added and she seemed happy to hear it.

Abel says the weakness is an effect of the mate–destroying drug, and I have to keep pretending to be weak so she thinks I’m still taking it. Seeing the doctor’s reaction, Abel again told the truth.

Doctor Wendy nodded her head “We’ll check on you soon, dear” she said softly before she looked back at my mate and spoke kindly to him. Ugh... they were having lunch together and staring at Titus’ fist, I could tell that my mate was trying very hard to contain his emotions and anger.

Stay strong, Titus... I thought.

Keep strong for our goal!

Chapter 120

“My queen...” Alexa called out to me just after Titus and Doctor Wendy left the room together, she looked worried.

I looked back at her and gave a reassuring smile to show that nothing would happen this time, because I was confident that our mate bond was irreversible.

She just sighed and soon Melissa walked into my room.

“Are you okay?” She asked and gave me some water to drink.

Yes, to hide Destine’s returning power, Melissa gave me a potion so that no one would be able to smell or know that power from me.

I knew she was a descendant of the black witch Pearl we had defeated, but knowing she had her heart in the right place and on our side was a relief to me.

Because I don’t want to imagine having to fight against witches again.

Ugh... It’s troublesome, those black witches, because of their underhanded tricks that I have to rack my brains to deceive them.

That also resulted in me having to part with my Mate, Titus and being in this situation, yes because of the black witches.

So, I understand why Melissa hid her ability. Yes, she must have thought that Titus and I hated it because it kept us apart, but we can’t keep blaming it on them. It wasn’t Melissa’s fault, but Pearl’s and Jack’s, who thankfully are both in hell right now.

“Did you really put a potion into all the water in this hospital, Luna?” Alexa asked Melissa who just winked mischievously and didn’t answer anything.

I just chuckled in amusement while shaking my head at Drake’s mate. “So Wendy really hypnotized all the workers here?” I asked her.

Melissa nodded her head as she handed me a shirt “Everyone, even that friend of mine that I called”

My eyes widened. “How did you know?”

“When I came to see her, I had discussed something important but she seemed to have forgotten about it... That’s when I realized that there was something wrong with this hospital” She shrugged but made me frown in annoyance.

10.30

The Alpha King’s Fated Mate

“Why put me through that kind of torture?!” I accused, remembering the things I had to go through after taking the anti–poison given by that evil woman who claimed to be my doctor.

Melissa chuckled, know why I am complaining now.

‘But it helped you at that time, Gwen’s, Destine voice spoke in my mind and I just sighed in defeat.

2 against one.. you guys win, I thought.

Creaakkk....

Walking out of the room and only seeing Kurt and Jose and one other bodyguard there, made me look at the white witch beside me “What did you do to the others, Mel?” I accused and the white witch just winked back.

"Sleeping like a princess" She replied casually and I could only shake my head.

"So, what are we looking for?" Kurt asked me and I immediately turned to Melissa, who knew more about what we were trying to find.

"The pots and everything used to make potions, might be different laboratories than the humans use" Melissa said quickly and everyone nodded their heads in understanding.

"Remember, the king is taking the doctor on a tour of the forest, and we only have an hour before they return and the sleeping princesses will be awakened" She added and we nodded our heads again before moving separately to explore the hospital.

We currently need to find the potion that Doctor Wendy used to destroy the mate-bond.

Because that's where Abel can help find a way to make the potion also have the cure so that it doesn't continue to be misused by the woman who used to be his mate.

Maybe even with the potion, it can restore their mate-bond that has been destroyed by the anti-toxic drugs used by Abel to cure his mate.

With that, all of this can be resolved and no one will be hurt anymore.

That's why we had to hurry before Wendy's doctor returned and could foil this plan.

We can't afford to fail!

"I'll search doctor Wendy's office, Alexa you try to find the building where Hooowwwlllllll...

That's Titus, Destine said, that means they've turned into their wolves and gone into the forest, we need to hurry before they come back!

Nothing...

Nothing....!!!

Nothing...!!!!

Oh My God, where is it?!

We found nothing inside the hospital?!

There was no way she could hide something like that, she needed the potion which meant she had a place to make it, so why was it nowhere?!

'my queen...'

The male voice that I knew belonged to Abel was in my head and I quickly stood up and headed towards the forest to talk to him.

Yes... Abel must know!

Why didn't I think of that?!

What an idiot!!!

Running quickly and using Destine's power, Abel looked surprised to see me coming and standing in front of him.

"You want to tell me something, what is it?" I asked quickly and Abel smiled while holding out a key in his hand.

What key is this?!

'It seems Wendy forgot that I'm the rightful owner of this hospital, it took me a while to find this spare key, because I only remember burying it under the apple tree and right now all the apples are popping out'

He smiled as he told me and my eyes widened knowing that this key might be the answer we were looking for.

"Is this the key to the secret room?" I asked quickly and smiled as the ghostly figure nodded his head.
