Chapter 131

"Werewolf? What do you mean you're a werewolf, Wendy?"

My eyes stared in disbelief at the words she said about herself.

Yes, we had been together for almost a month but her condition was still very weak and didn't seem to be improving which made me wonder what made her different from other patients and then find out the strange things she told me.

Could madness be a side effect too?

Illusions and insanity making her say things like this?

"Wendy..." I tried to calm her down and explain to her but she sighed and gave me a small smile that made me immediately fall silent.

Why is she looking at me like that?

Why did she smile at me like that?

It was as if she knew what was going on in my head right now...

As if she realizes that you think she's crazy because of the words she said just now...

"Abel... I'm not crazy" She emphasized and made me very surprised to hear it.

She knows...

Yes, she knows that I think she's crazy for saying she's a werewolf, a creature that only exists in the imagination of writers or movies.

Could she be telling the truth?

No Abel, you wouldn't believe a word she said would you?

But... She looks serious...

Ugh... This is so confusing to me!!!

"No..." I shook my head stubbornly refusing to believe that I couldn't do anything to help her. No, for the first time you love a woman only to watch her die? No, I don't want that to happen "I'm the greatest poison doctor and I refuse to accept the fate of your incurable self because you say that you're not human but what... a werewolf? No...

I will keep trying, Wendy" I said firmly and made her look at me with a dreamy look that made my heart beat very fast.

Never has someone looked at me like that.

As if I'm the greatest man with what I'm doing right now.

And I love it when she looks at me like that, as if I'm a great guy who can do it all.

Placing my hand on his cheek, I ventured to bring my face closer to his.

Yes, the urge to kiss her was overwhelming but I had been trying to hold back because of her condition, but she looked at me longingly as if she wanted this to happen just as much as I did.

I boldly kissed her softly and when I heard no protest or anger from her, I kissed her again but with more intensity and deepened my kiss.

Yes, this was our first kiss and I loved it.

No, not the kiss, but who I kissed.

Yes, I love Wendy therefore I love this kiss.

Could this really be happening to me?

Falling in love at first sight with an unconscious woman?

God, this is so crazy!!!

I think I am crazy...

Yes, I am crazy in love!!

Haha.. I didn't know and never thought that I could feel this way at 35 years old... God, all this time medical science, poison and also the brain are things that always attract my attention, somehow Wendy is different. Yes, my feelings for this woman named Wendy are different from what I have ever felt. "Abel?"

The male ghost named Abel blinked and looked startled when I called out, as if he wasn't here with us.

Could it be that he still has feelings for Wendy? I thought worriedly, will he help us or not?

I knew that trusting him was the biggest gamble we were making, knowing that he was the mate of the female doctor, could he possibly hurt her?

It had occurred to me that Abel couldn't be completely trusted, but we needed the information he had so there was no other way but to trust him.

However, looking at it now, I can't say that I'm not worried.

Yes, just as I am currently worried about Titus, my mate, he must also have concerns for Wendy who is his fated mate.

The ghostly figure named Abel met my gaze and gave a big smile, as if to show that he was fine and I could trust him "I'm sorry queen Gwen, for a moment I saw the memory of my meeting with the woman who used to be my mate" He said softly and made me smile back before sitting on the ground beside him.

"Has she changed?" I asked curiously, afraid or maybe a little anticipating that if that woman changed my mate that I should know what I could do.

He nodded his head softly "She wasn't like that before, sometimes I blame myself for making her like that" He said softly with sadness.

"Will my mate be like that?" I asked softly, worried that she managed to poison

Titus and really make him forget me.

The very thing I don't want to happen, hopefully it's just my fear.

However, I was surprised to see a smile fixed on his face as he looked at me "No" He replied confidently which made me raise an eyebrow.

"Why so sure?" I asked curiously.

"Because I have seen how he looks at you and treats you, such a strong bond—mate would be impossible to separate" He answered firmly and from his answer I was convinced that Abel was a trustworthy person.

Yes, from his answer he understands that his mate, Wendy, is no longer the woman he used to love, that their relationship is gone, unlike me.

I gave him a smile and placed my hand on his, knowing that we couldn't hold hands, but I wanted to show him that what he did for me meant a lot.

"Thank you, Abel" I said softly and made him bow his head as if he was surprised by what I did "Thank you for everything you did for us" I added and was surprised to see his shoulders shaking as if he was crying.

Is it possible for a ghost to cry?

Chapter 132

"They're not in that secret room I told you about?" Abel was surprised by the reason why we were here and looked very shocked to hear that Wendy and Titus could not be found anywhere, especially since they were also not in the secret room that he told us about.

I nodded my head to confirm his answer "They weren't there, and that's when Melissa found the witch books" I said to him "Do you know of or perhaps make any other secret rooms?" I asked quietly and as I looked into his eyes I knew that there was.

"Please tell me."

He swallowed and looked nervous, not his usual self, why?

"There is one room that um... I usually use it for experiments for humans who um... don't have families, or maybe experiments for um... rogues" My eyes widened at his confession.

"What?" I hissed in surprise.

He... So he doesn't just make medicine and potions? So they used to try many victims too?

it

Oh my God....

"What are you doing, Abel?" I said in disbelief of what I heard and knew today. He sighed and lowered his head again 'I did many things that I am ashamed of, queen' he confessed quietly and I could only close my eyes to contain my anger at the moment.

Yes, there's no way she can get answers and knowledge like this without a victim, I should be aware and understand that...

I was so naive...

Someone patted my back and I turned my head to look into Melissa's gave me a small smile.

eyes who

Of all the witches I know, only this woman beside me seems to have the only Alpha Drake that makes her enough to do something with her magic, namely helping me, she seems to have no desire for something that makes her white magic turn into darkness.

P

Thank goodness for that...

"Tell us, Abel, where that horrible secret room is" Melissa added to him. However, when Abel raised his face, he looked at me as if he wanted to ask for forgiveness or apologise from the look he gave me.

Letting out a long sigh, I gave him a small smile.

Yes, I was angry about the things he had done to achieve his goal until he got his karma by being killed at the hands of his own mate and I thought it was already a punishment or severe punishment for him.

At least it made him stay here and help us.

"Tell me" I said softly and finally as if waiting for me to say the instruction, the male ghost nodded his head and began to walk slowly into the forest.

Raising a confused eyebrow at Melissa, I immediately waved my hand as a sign to Kurt, Jose and the others who were not far from us to come with us into the forest, following the ghost that only we could see.

So, that's the reason why Abel found Wendy in the forest, because he didn't accidentally enter the forest, but he had a secret room in this forest...

The secret of the black health science that was thought to be for the benefit of the world but was only for the satisfaction of his lust.

And also why he seemed to know the ins and outs of this forest, not because he died here and travelled around, but because he had already memorised all the ins and outs of this forest.

Yes, that explains everything....

However, why couldn't he leave this forest?

Was it related to the way or how he died here?

He will disappear and go to the next destination if he leaves this forest" Melissa's words startled me and I immediately looked in her direction.

"What?"

She gives me a wry smile "Abel... He was aware of the bad things he did after his death, that's why he survived because he didn't want it to continue in the hands of his mate, because he knew what Wendy could do was very dangerous with that knowledge, that's why he survived in this world, in this forest, to stop her." Melissa's explanation told me again that Abel was really ashamed and sorry for what he had done.

He could have left, but he stayed to stop what he started...

I judged him too harshly, I'm sorry Abel, I was wrong to accuse you earlier. Yes, everyone makes mistakes, but how one resolves and regrets them, that's what matters in life, isn't it?

We walked for almost 10 minutes until the smell of witch's potion began to waft up.

'Be careful... there are many traps and poison Wolfsbane, try not to touch anything" He commanded quietly and I nodded my head before hearing Melissa reduce the ghost's orders to everyone walking behind us.

Titus...

Is he here too?

Is he okay? I thought worriedly.

We slowly walked towards a wall and with a raised eyebrow seeing Abel enter the wall easily stopped my steps.

He's a ghost, it must be easy to walk into that wall, did he forget that we're just humans? I thought confused but the figure of the ghost's head that appeared suddenly startled me making him almost smile.

'Sorry, it's not a wall, it's an illusion so you can just walk through it' He said and I looked at Melissa before seeing her nod her head and walk first into the secret room through the wall which surprised everyone behind us when they saw it. It wasn't long before I, along with the others, followed Melissa's footsteps into the illusionary wall.

So, the forest inside is not all forest, there is an illusion, I thought.

Yes, we can't judge everything just by its appearance, it seems that it is also included in the forest that looks dark and dangerous is not what it looks like. I suppressed a squeal of surprise as I entered the secret room.

There were many pieces of animals and also... um... humans...

Oh my God, are those really real human parts in those jars?

So.... I was cured of the poison with the results of the horrific experiment of the witch's potion by means of darkness like this?!

It's no wonder that the side effects are just as horrifying, the way it's made is already this horrifying.

Yes, nothing good can be achieved if the method is this horrible.

Chapter 133

'Be careful' Abel said and made us pause before continuing inside.

Ugh.. What is this smell? I thought in wonder.

'It's Blood and silver, Gwen' Destine replied. Silver?

'Yes, it seems that he wants to weaken us with this silver smell, be careful, Gwen' My wolf added and I quickly took the scarf around my neck to cover my nose so as not to inhale this smell too much in case there were harmful side effects to my body and glanced to the side to see Melissa and the others doing the same. Yes, silver is one of the weaknesses of a werewolf and there was no way that woman named Wendy didn't know about it considering she was also a werewolf. However, wouldn't burning this will make her weak too?

Or did she want something else from this silver smell?

'Maybe weaken our mate' Destine's speculation made sense and made me widen my eyes at the truth she was saying in my head.

Well... She knew that making Titus weak was one way to keep him from fighting back, could this be what she was doing to get my mate to come with her?

That means Titus is in danger, because inhaling silver for a long time can make a werewolf not only weak but...

'dead...'

Damn it!!!!

We must find him quickly!

Entering the front room, we stopped when Abel stopped his steps and looked up to gasp at the sight of the man who was the Alpha king and also my fated mate tied up and looking unconscious.

No...

"Titus!!!" I gasped loudly and was about to run towards the injured and unconscious man tied up with an invisible rope, but immediately Kurt and Melissa restrained my hands and body from walking closer to my injured mate "Let go of me!!!" I growled in annoyance and tried to break their grip.

However, we were wide-eyed at the figure standing next to the unconscious man.

Yes, Wendy was standing on the 2nd floor next to Titus' unconscious figure with a satisfied and evil smile on her face.

What is this?

Why did he hurt Titus like that?

Doesn't he love my mate?

But why?

"What's with your face? Are you shocked?" The woman mocked and walked up to the man I loved and casually stroked his cheek making me growl in annoyance "You think I can fall for his pretense? You idiot!!!"

She added and slapped Titus on the cheek before looking back at me with a hateful stare.

So she knew that Titus' feelings for her were just an act and she also knew that I was his fated mate because of that she looked at me with such hatred.

I sighed to try and compose myself as the two people holding me slowly let go of their handholds knowing that I was in control of my emotions.

'He loves our mate' Destine stated and I nodded my head to confirm her words. It seemed that she tied the man up just to cause my reaction, but we didn't smell blood or wounds from him, which indicated that she truly loved our mate.

I'm the one she wants...

Because it's my mate, so her real target is me, not my Titus.

'Doesn't she know you have me, Gwen?' Destine asked and I realized one thing. Oh. My. God...

any

Yes... Destine is right, Wendy doesn't know that I'm the owner of the white-wolf that only the Moon Goddess possesses.

'Pretend to approach her and still look worried... I'm going to rip that b*tch to shreds for having the audacity to try and take what's ours and hurt him' Destine growled as I pretended to walk up to the female doctor as my wolf commanded with my focus on my mate.

"Titus... Wake up Titus" I whispered as I walked and made everyone immediately panic and try to pull my hand away, thinking I was worried for my mate's safety and was actually trying to wake him up, but I didn't have time to explain to anyone and kept walking and avoiding the hands that were trying to grab me as Destine had ordered because I was confident in Destine's ability to tear the she-wolf b*tch apart.

'Keep approaching and keep looking panicked' Destine ordered and I tried to follow suit.

"No... Gwen..." Melissa who was closest tried to hold me back, but her strength was no match for mine so I easily pulled my hand away and continued walking.

“No, Queen...” Kurt shout out and quickly shut it when he know he was made mistake.
F*ck!!!

Oh... No...!!!!

Everyone was shocked at Kurt’s words and I closed my eyes before looking up to see the crazy stare and wide smile plastered on the crazy female doctor’s face.

Yes, she’s like she got the candy she wanted the most, her happy look is horrible and I know that means she understands that if I’m the queen, then Titus is.... “King Titus... I should have remembered that King Rolf Desmond’s son is named Rolf... Titus... Desmond” She whispered happily and I knew that I had to move quickly before she used her cunning mind or worse, her poisons to stop us from retrieving our injured king because she took the most dangerous step by pretending to love the female doctor to fool him.

‘NOW, GWEN’ Destine commanded and a second later I transformed into my white wolf form to pounce on the female doctor who was unexpectedly moving very fast to avoid my slashes and bites.

I quickly turned to the unconscious man who was my mate and tried to take him.

However, an explosion hit me from the side and

I failed to pick up my mate’s body which was still bound and hanging in the air.

SHIT!!!

No!!!

What was that explosion that hit me?!!!

Chapter 134

BOOMMMMMBB...!!!!!!

“GWEN...!!!!!!”

Huh?

Melissa looked worried and quickly checked my condition a moment after I was pushed away from my mate by the explosion next to me.

Sh*t!! What is that?!

A bomb??!

Seriously..????

oned us’ Destine said and I just have to She’s getting more and more annoying, I thought in anger.

‘That doctor is trying to weaken me with a silver bomb’ Destine told me for the second time but I knew that from the words and confidence that my white-wolf showed, silver was nothing to be afraid of. But I have to make sure 'Are you okay, Destine?' I asked to confirm her condition. 'Yes, silver has never made me weak... She replied and I just nodded my head at her answer. Wow.. I forgot that my wolf isn't an ordinary werewolf, I thought in proud. So that's why she's this confident, because silver has no effect on her, I thought. 'Don't let your guard down, Destine..... She still has wolfsbane' I warned her but still can't help myself but feel proud to have her as my wolf. Wendy gave me an annoyed look, perhaps she was surprised to find out that I was a white wolf and silver didn't affect me at all.

"How... Who are you?! How come you know all about my secret room?!" Doctor Wendy snapped at me in annoyance.

Everyone behind me had already transformed into their wolf form, but they were keeping their distance because of the silver poison that weakened them so they couldn't get close to the seemingly crazy female doctor.

I thought the secret room was a tiny room filled with books but this was more like a wide cave where many people could fit in, even our big wolf figures still fit in here.

Could it be that this used to be a cave that was transformed into a room like this? It's like Batman's lair, I thought amused.

I just stared at her without answering her question, not only because I was still in my wolf form, but also because I was lazy to answer her.

it youbers

She sported in annoyance "I also know you've entered the secret room in the hospital, you think I'm stupid? So I just pretending to be unconscious, but how do you know everything?" she yelled back when she asked me.

Yes, she didn't know that we had a ghost that told her everything

Could it be that she didn't realise that Abel was still here?

That her mate who she killed is still in this world to stop her madness.

"TELL MEH!" She shouted in annoyance with her eyes bulged so horribly it was almost as if they were going to pop out,

Just as I was thinking of excuses or lies to answer her, then unexpectedly a black-robed ghost figure appeared in front of me.

Abel?!

Melissa and I, who had only been able to see him, were shocked to find him suddenly showing himself in front of the woman who used to be his mate, the woman he used to love with all his heart, yes, the woman who was his fated mate, What is he doing!!!!

Someone gasped loudly when she see it like she disbelief with what she see, “Ab... Abel?” Wendy whispered in disbelief as she stared at the black-robed transparent ghost figure floating in front of us staring at her.

But, the ghost only smile in calm ‘Hello, Wendy’

She could see him.... Yes, Wendy has the blood of a witch, of course she can see it. But how is it that the ghost has been hiding all this time without her knowing, that’s a great thing, I thought.

“How... How is it possible? You... You already...”

‘I’m already dead... Yes... You’re the one who killed me, Wendy’ Abel said finishing the words of the female doctor.

“You?! You betrayed and helped them?! You betrayed me, your mate?!” She was angry at Abel and made the ghostly figure laugh out loud when he heard it.

Wow...

How could he accuse Abel of betraying him, when he was the one who had killed his mate?

What was going through her mind? I wondered.

Abel shook his head ‘Stop this, Wendy... You’ve crossed the line’ Abel said to her but the woman just shook her head while covering her ears with both hands as if she didn’t want to hear the words of the man who used to be her mate.

“How can you tell me to stop, you made me like this?!” She said angrily and I’m sure it must be because of the treatment experiment that Abel did on her.

Yes, I don’t know what they went through to make this woman become like this, until she was able to kill the man who was her mate, but right now Abel was right, she had to stop.

‘Me? Wendy... You’re the one who told me to continue this experiment on you, you’re the one who forced me to get you cured!!’

Abel shot back emotionlessly, as if he wanted to remind her of the truth.

As they talked, I stared at the tied-up, unconscious man who was my mate.

Could I reach him and untie the knot?

Titus. Titus woke up... I tried calling him telepathically, but there was no answer.

With what poison did Wendy drug my mate into unconsciousness like that?

Oh God, I hope it’s not a dangerous poison...

‘We can jump and turn into humans to untie the ropes before turning back into me when we all fall as soon as the ropes are untied’ Destine ordered and I nodded my head in agreement with her plan.

Yes, I need to save Titus first, while they are still busy with each other before I deal with that crazy woman.

‘One... Two.. Three...?’

I jump...!!!

Have you ever done it all for someone who you know would do the same for you? Yes, that's what I'm currently doing for Titus, my fated mate.

Not just because he is my mate, not because I love him, but more because I believe he would also do the same if he were in my position, he would definitely sacrifice himself immediately to save me, without exception. Our experience has taught me that he cares more about me than himself, that's why I'm doing this for him, because he is the most important thing to me, not only is he my love and itself, without him I would not be mate but he is life able to live, without him there would be no me in the world. I know he would be angry if he knew I was putting myself in danger to save him, but he's not the only one who loves me, I love him more than I love myself.
with

Call me stupid for this excessive love, but I am proud to be able to give my heart to him, I am proud to say that I am his mate who loves him very much. As I jumped to head towards my mate while the female doctor was arguing w the ghost who used to be her mate, I didn't expect that she had set up a trap. BANG!!!

A bullet that I knew must have contained poison was fired and I was in no position to dodge it, but my eyes widened to see a figure blocking the direction of the shot so I managed to grab my mate's bound and unconscious body.

I quickly pulled Titus' unconscious body away from the threat of the crazy woman who wanted him before gasping and looking at the werewolf who took the poison-filled shot that was supposed to be aimed at me. No...!!!

Melissa quickly pulled Titus' body along with his mate, Alpha Drake to check on my mate's condition.

I quickly ran towards the wolf that was injured from protecting me.

Oh no...

"Kurt... Kurt..." I called out and pulled his body away from the crazy woman who was still staring at the living me with extreme hatred.

Staring at Abel who was immediately beside me who was checking the condition of my loyal bodyguard, I also turned towards him to ask the ghostly man for help "Abel... Please" I begged but I couldn't hold back my sobbing tears when I saw him shaking his head.

Kurt is a man who feels guilty for what happened to me and blames himself for it. Kurt who since then is like my shadow, he is always there wherever I go.

Kurt, who always protects me from anything.

The wolfsbane poison was smelled from the gunpowder that was fired and there was no way he could have survived it.

[Kurt] No... Kurt....

Kurt's wolfish figure turned human in a moment and I placed his head on my lap

"Queen... I'm glad I was able to help you..."

Keep...living...and...healthy..." Those were the last words he uttered before he closed his eyes.

"NOOOOOOOOOOOO.....!!!!!!!!!!!"

Ggrrrrr.....

First he hurts Titus... Now he kills Kurt!!!

Emotion and anger gnawed at me...

Putting aside Kurt's lifeless body, I got up with an angry gaze directed at the crazy woman who lost her way "Abel I'm sorry..."

Abel looked back at me as I spoke, but I had no desire to look him in the eye, because right now the direction I was heading was to kill that crazy woman "I have to kill her" were the words I said before running towards his mate who was wide-eyed in shock at the speed of movement to attack her.

In 1 second my human figure turned into a raging, bloodthirsty white-wolf.

my

A white-wolf figure that wanted the death of one person... The person who caused all of this to happen.

Wendy!!!

'Die, you wicked witch!!!' I screamed in my white-wolf head at the same time Wendy turned into her wolf, but due to my rage and uncontrollable strength, with a single shred I pierced her wolf body and without mercy or waiting anymore, I tore her head from her body until it was separated.

Only a loud scream remained in this secret room and everyone seemed to be shocked by the rage that I had shown for the first time.

Silence.....

الله

No one spoke as I bit off the head of the person who had caused all this and the dislodged head rolling on the ground.

spat

Yes, that was the end of the fake female doctor who was supposed to be a real doctor and treat the impossible with her knowledge.

However, dark magic ate away at her soul so she lost her sanity and I was happy to be able to end that person's life with my own hands.

Turning towards Abel who was staring at the wolf head of his ex-mate, he looked up to meet my gaze.

He knew what his mate had done was outrageous and I had to act quickly before there were any more victims.

And when he nodded his head, I knew that he couldn't be angry or understand what I had done to the woman he used to love.

'Thank you, my queen' were the words she uttered before she closed her eyes and disappeared from our presence as if her duties in this world were over.

But what about the potions in this room?

Melissa, who had been checking on my mate's condition walked over to me "Titus is fine, he was given silver and a little wolfsbane but not in dangerous doses. So it might take 2-3 days for him to wake up and recover" She said to me and I nodded my head in response.

Melissa, the only white witch who remains with her kindness and is not interested in the greatness that black magic has to offer.

I can't help but be grateful to have her and understand why Titus used to believe in her too.

She sighed as she looked around the room "Wow... a lot of potions and I need to learn them soon if I want to treat all the patients in that hospital" she said while giving me a smile.

Yes, if there is only one person who can learn these things, it is her, but I have to make sure that there is no dark magic at the moment and believe that Melissa is the one who can do it and remove the darkness from these potions.

Chapter 136

A respectful burial was conducted by us the next day for Kurt, yes, he died like a hero protecting his queen, or me.

Everyone was very respectful and also amazed at Kurt's bravery because if I had been there, they knew the effect would be very bad for the king when he woke up and found out something happened to his mate.

But losing a great warrior like Kurt is unfortunate.

Many Alphas came to this territory as word of what happened here traveled and Alphas from all over the alliance immediately arrived to help heal the victims here.

Although without the presence of my mate or the Alpha king who was currently still unconscious and lying in one of the hospital rooms with Melissa taking care of him, yes, I couldn't trust everyone here to treat my mate so the room was only allowed to be entered by a few people, not all could enter the floor where Titus was treated. It turned out that the sisters were also experiencing hallucinations and confusion due to the poison they had consumed every day since arriving here.

All drinking water and food was thrown away and/or burnt so that no one could consume it, to avoid further casualties.

Disinfectants were even sprayed all over the building and on every side of the rooms to make them completely clean of the toxins that had been present.

All the dangerous potions were immediately stored by Melissa in a secret room in the forest that we agreed would remain there for our use to find the white potion. that Melissa was concocting.

It's going to be a long journey, but I'm sure Melissa is capable of this and she's the only one I trust right now considering the many unfortunate things that happen. with witches.

Everyone was busy with their own tasks and responsibilities and for the first time I became the leader of the entire cleanup project.

Yes, without Titus by my side, I was surprising myself with my ability to lead this project, until my father revealed it to me and told me how proud he was of me.

Everyone nodded their heads respectfully as they watched me walk past them to the ward of my mate, their Alpha king.

Yes, I knew that we were no longer King Alpha and Queen Luna but everyone still seemed to regard us as their king and queen without exception.

Their presence and help here expresses their loyalty and care for us, and I am very grateful for everyone's care and help after hearing what happened here to us and can't say thank you to each and every person present today.

The burning of bodies and dangerous poisons was done by the royal guards in secret so that there would be no toxic fumes or anything that could expose others. to its ill effects.

Wendy's head and body were burned along with the poisons made by her along with dangerous books that could not be known by anyone.

Yes, this knowledge of healing is rare and useful, but there is black magic in it that Melissa and I think will be very dangerous if it is used again in general because we already know the side effects are very bad for werewolves.

Yes, mate—bonds are very sacred to werewolves and tampering with them is like insulting the Moon Goddess herself, so we thought of eliminating all knowledge of them.

Yes, wolfsbane is already very dangerous for werewolves and the concocted wolfsbane will become even more dangerous, so we better bury this so that no one can use this terrible science in the future. I let out a long sigh as I entered the elevator with Alexa who was currently acting like my shadow that had never left me at all since Kurt's death.

Yes, it seemed that Alexa had her own shock of knowing I was a step away from being away. I would have been hurt or even dead if Kurt hadn't been there. However, whatever I said to calm her down, it didn't seem to have any effect so I could only smile to show that I didn't blame her, it could all happen and the guards had also done their best to protect me so when things happened I wanted them not to blame themselves. All the guards guarding the floor where Titus was, bowed their heads respectfully when they saw me coming and walked towards the room where my mate was. It's been two days and he's still unconscious, I know Melissa said that he was injected with wolfsbane and silver poison but it's harmless, but why hasn't he opened his eyes yet? I can only hope nothing bad happens to him....

Everyone opened the door to the room where my mate was before going out to give us some privacy.

Walking slowly towards the man sleeping on the bed in the middle, I stepped closer to him before giving him a peck on the chin.

"Hello, baby" I greeted my mate and expected him to return my greeting, but when I didn't hear anything I took his hand and sat down on the sofa next to his bed to rest my face in his hands.

The moment my head hit the mattress and Titus' hand, everything came back to Everything that happened to us today started with me, yes, I was the cause of all Titus I'm sorry about all this... it's all my fault I whispered sadly and unconsciously shed my tears when I heard no answer from the man I loved so much. I let out a long sigh and closed my eyes, when something surprising happened that made me wake up immediately.

"It's not your fault, Gwen"

Of all the things he could have said, those were the words he said to me!

While stroking my cheek gently. Titus gave me his rare smile that made me cry harder knowing that the man I thought wouldn't wake up finally opened his eyes. and still recognized me.

Chapter 137

Everyone in the building knelt on their knees as Titus and I walked out of the elevator together with him constantly holding my hand.

It had been 3 hours since he woke up, after accompanying me to shed my worries, he insisted on waking up and asked why there were so many links on his head?

Links? I thought confusedly...

Could it be?

"The loyal Alphas that are here have all never stopped thinking of our mate as their Alpha king" Destine whispered softly but sounded proud as she told me. So that's why he said link?

The voices of his loyal pack seemed to be ringing in his head again. The kind of thing that shows the loyalty of a werewolf to its leader. The Alphas who were standing in the front row all walked over to us.

"We're glad you're finally awake, King Titus" Alpha Richard said with a happy smile and nodded his head towards me respectfully

"Though I'd say we don't need you anymore with Queen Luna here" he added teasingly and made my mate raise his eyebrows in confusion.

I just shook my head but was happy to see the proud gazes directed from all the Alphas at me which made my mate glance confused but curious.

Luckily Melissa arrived and I quickly walked towards her as she bowed her head. towards me and my mate as if she had something to say to us "It's good to see. you're finally awake, king Titus" she said and my mate nodded his head towards her.

"Thanks to you for everything you've done" he replied.

Melissa shook her head "Thank your mate, my king" she said as she glanced at me and made me blush.

What is it about everyone who seems to want to make me blush? And I just laughed shyly because of the praise given by everyone while pulling Melissa out of this room and letting my mate discuss with the Alphas who were here.

I let out a long sigh as I sat on the sofa in the waiting room, just feeling tired and relieved after seeing that my mate was really okay. It felt like my adrenaline instantly disappeared.

"Are you okay?" Melissa sat beside me and looked at me with worry.

Alexa, who was not far from me, offered me a glass of tea to drink which I gladly accepted. "Thank you, Alexa" I said quietly and sipped the tea.

Melissa smiled at me "The adrenaline is wearing off and you're just feeling tired huh?"

She was right and I just shrugged casually without answering her because knew she understood why I was worried and why I could breathe easier now.

I know she told me that the poison injected into my mate was not in a dangerous. stage but still I couldn't help but worry knowing your mate was unconscious like that.

These few months have been very stressful, everything seems to be strangling me where you have to be careful in taking action and can only breathe a sigh of relief when you know the bad person is no longer in this world.

I should have killed her from the start as soon as I knew my white-wolf powers were back and learned of her evil plans for me and my mate...

How's Abel... Did he make it to the afterlife safely?

Does he have any feelings of hatred towards me who cruelly killed his mate like that in front of his eyes.

I was in a rage after seeing 2 people who were part of my life injured and killed like that, so without caring to tear her head off cruelly like that in front of the man's ghost without caring about her feelings.

And now I'm regretting it so much...

"Abel thanked you" Melissa's words startled me and made me quickly turn my head towards her.

How...

"Abel talked to you?" I asked quickly.

The white witch who became my close friend nodded her head "He is still here but his power is not as strong as before so you can no longer see him"

I raised a confused eyebrow at her answer.

Why did he lose his power?

Melissa, who saw my confused expression, explained, "He has that power because his mate is a werewolf and a witch, that's also why he can be in this world and avoid his destiny to 'move on.'" My mouth formed an oo after hearing that.

It all makes sense now, so that's why Abel is here, it turns out that their mate-bond is not completely gone, yes, there is no way anything can remove the mate bond. unless it is done by the Moon Goddess herself.

He became strong because Wendy had werewolf and witch blood, and Wendy had that knowledge because Abel was a genius doctor in his field.

Actually, both of them are capable of making amazing things, but the darkness destroys everything.

What a pity, I thought...

We should have been able to find the anti-poison of the deadly wolfsbane, but everything was now lost due to the side effects of the darkness in the world. We lost many great werewolves and I still regret what happened to Kurt.

"At least I'm glad you're better, Gwen" Melissa wrapped her arm around my shoulder and made me rest my head on her body.

Yes, I don't know when this friendship of ours happened.

If I remember back then, I hated her for the lie that she was Titus' chosen woman. back then, but look at us now, sitting together like old friends who have known each other since a long time ago.

People who know how I know her would raise their eyebrows in disbelief when they see the two of us sitting together and being so close right now.

"You left me to have an affair with another woman?" The male voice coming from behind us startled both of us who turned around to see the male figure of our partner smiling at his women close together like close friends.

Titus sat next to me at the same time Melissa stood up and walked towards her waiting mate.

She waved which I returned with a small wave before leaning into my mate who immediately wrapped his arms around me "You guys are best friends now?" He asked amusedly and I nodded my head.

"I think the possibility of me loving her more than you is very high, be careful" I teased, which made him laugh out loud before giving me a warm peck on the side of my neck.

"I've heard so many amazing things you did while I was unconscious" He said with a slight sigh and looked at me with a look of pride as well as the love I knew all along.

I smiled at him "Just doing the right thing and also to avoid worrying too much. about your condition" he tightened his hug and inhaled my scent heavily.

We sat there together, not caring that we were in a public room where everyone. could see us, but no one dared to disturb us and just let us spend our time together, as if everyone understood that after what we had been through, we deserved this kind of time together.

Chapter 138

Explaining to werewolves is easy, but this hospital in Switzerland is not only for werewolves but also humans, so many humans feel uncomfortable when many werewolves come to this hospital and behave not like normal humans according to them, so Titus and the Alphas often admonish pack members to be less animal.

A difficult thing, considering that many mates who were once separated are suddenly back together and their mate bonds are starting to return, so many are doing things that are natural for mates but too vulgar for humans that are seen done by werewolves in public places.

It's natural, that's why we werewolves can't live with humans, our animal instincts. are more dominant than our animal instincts so this must happen if there are humans living side by side with us.

Slowly, many human patients left the hospital because they thought the quality was not as advertised.

But, for the first time, I saw one person who looked comfortable here.

Yes, Melissa who was here known as a healer for werewolves suddenly became famous and everyone admired her.

It was something she rarely found in others, considering the witch blood running through her veins so for the first time I always saw her smiling as if this was her calling.

I, who was a medical graduate, was side by side with her trying to create a cure for a severe patient who had his mate—bond destroyed.

It wasn't easy, but Melissa and I were confident that we could make the white witch's version of anti—poison without any side effects.

Titus came into our lab room, as I sat exhausted on one of the stools which made him raise an annoyed eyebrow because it seemed like I was pushing myself and worrying him.

Yes, he, who had just recovered, seemed unconcerned about his health and kept talking about mine.

Melissa looked over and said nothing as she watched my mate carry me bridal style and with ease as if I didn't weigh a thing to him before carrying me out of the lab.

"Titus, I'm not done yet" I grumbled but he just glanced at me in annoyance. which made me shut up instantly.

Yes, it seems that he was very upset when he saw me exhausted, as if he was afraid that I would get too tired and my health would suffer.

"I know curing them is your and Melissa's goal, but that doesn't mean you have to work that hard, Gwen" He said succinctly as if he didn't want to be contradicted and I fell silent as I leaned my body in his arms.

Yes, the most comfortable position for me was in his arms and he knew that I was very happy to be held by him.

"I'm sorry" I murmured while leaning on him.

He, seeing me like this, knew that he had lost and could not be angry with me any longer.

And I, knowing that I had won, secretly smiled so that the man holding me wouldn't see it.

It seems that the hospital will be closed soon, there are no doctors and nurses who can treat the patients and we are currently only curing the remaining werewolf patients from the poison with our best efforts through Melissa who received training from Abel's ghost who cannot be seen by others.

Melissa said that Abel's task was almost complete and the anti—poison was also almost obtained, which we were very hopeful for but a week had passed without any hope for the remaining 3 patients who were still seen suffering from the destruction of their bond—mate bond due to doctor Wendy's potion.

Yes, many werewolves have returned to their packs or joined the packs they want, because many Alphas came yesterday, so they easily visited the territory of the chosen pack.

There is only one human left and he will leave today. The complaints and anger from the humans have been heard but we don't care too much about it.

But it turns out that there is one thing we just found out from Alpha Drake and his mate Melissa said about staying here and continuing treatment for werewolves, but without dark magic.

My eyes widened as I listened to the words the couple spoke.

I never thought that the knowledge of potion medicine made Melissa find her purpose here and Alpha Drake, as a good partner and mate, would follow whatever his mate decided.

"Are you sure, Drake? Mel?" Asked Titus for the umpteenth time about their plans to continue to stay here and manage this hospital "But managing a medical clinic for werewolves is not an easy task" he added but the couple just smiled at us.

I stroked my mate's hand and gave him a reassuring smile.

I understood that Drake was his best friend and most loyal comrade—in—arms. It's a sad breakup for him, but it's his decision and he, as his best friend, can only support and wish him the best.

The palace is not my place, king. It's your place and Harry will be the best Beta. for you Drake assured his best friend and Titus only sighed before nodding his head and they shook hands while patting each other's shoulders.

I also looked at Melissa, the woman who had become my closest friend in the past) few months.

I shed a tear while smiling a little before giving her a hug "I'm going to miss our time together, Mel" I whispered in her ear and made her giggle.

Yes, we spent a lot of time achieving my goal and she helped me selflessly.

The only witch that Titus and I trusted wholeheartedly. A white witch who is not tempted by black power and can be trusted.

And we're sure, this hospital would be an amazing place if it was Melissa and Drake who managed it.

Staring at the sky that had turned yellowish from my room, I stopped folding the clothes that we were going to take home.

Yes, tomorrow we will return to the palace and Titus will reclaim his position as the king of the Alphas.

Everyone seemed very excited about that, the return of the Alpha king with. Queen Luna.

Can I be queen Luna? I thought confusedly.
This is all a dream....
I never thought it would end up like this. We just came for treatment and look at us now....

Yes, could we finally be happy together?
Is this our happy ending?

Chapter 139

Have you ever experienced the fear of one thing happening after another? That's what I'm going through right now, the happiness I'm feeling right now is scaring me. Can I have consecutive happiness like this?

Can I keep smiling at the things that keep happening in my life lately?
Is it possible that this could happen to me? That happiness with my mate really happened, that happy ever after really happened to me?

Someone's arms embraced me from behind and from the smell of his body I immediately recognized who this man was who embraced me intimately while starting to kiss the back of my neck.

"What are you doing here, Titus?" I greeted with a small smile without turning my body and tilting my head so that he would have easier access to kiss my neck.

He continued kissing my neck and tightened his embrace for a while before turning me around and kissing my lips passionately.

This is what I was afraid of, the constant bliss of being with my mate Titus to the point where I was afraid that this time would end because I wanted to feel this bliss forever.

"What's wrong?" He asked confusedly with raised eyebrows as he lowered his head to meet my gaze.

Yes, that's Titus, I can't hide anything from him, not even from my unreasonable worries.

He knows me and knows everything about me, even the things I'm used to so I can't hide anything from him.

Things that are sometimes good but also not good for me.

Because sometimes not everything can be told to our mate, there are things that we can't tell him but Titus always wants to know everything that I'm thinking and troubling me, he doesn't even care if it's completely unimportant, yes, he just wants me to always be open and talk to him about whatever is in my head at the moment.

Turning towards him and cupping his cheek, I gave him a small peck before smiling to calm him down "I'm just confused because I'm happy" I said softly and he exhaled before cupping my face and bringing his forehead to mine.

We enjoyed our closeness for some time before he again kissed my lips. affectionately "It's good that you're happy, my dear. You deserve this happiness after what you've been through" He whispered softly and continued to stroke my body so tenderly that it felt like I was floating high into the clouds with this sense of happiness.

Before long, a strange body scent approached and we turned our heads towards H)-20 mm the couple who decided to stay in this hospital and manage the treatment center for werewolves.

"Hey, Drake" Titus greeted kindly and shook his best friend's hand "What's up?" Drake looked hesitant before he looked at Melissa who nodded her head as if they had important information to tell you.

"The witch is pregnant" Destine whispered and shattered the secret in a second.

I gasped loudly with wide eyes in shock at the words spoken by my wolf and made Titus look back at me in confusion, but

Melissa only chuckled in annoyance, understanding that I had found out her secret from my white-wolf. "D*mn white-wolf" she cursed in annoyance but kept smiling as I cried out in pleasure and gave my best friend a warm hug.

"Congratulations!!!" I shouted happily and continued to give him a hug while jumping up and down which made Drake look wide-eyed with fear.

Oops... Yes, male werewolves will be very over-protective of their mates who are carrying their future babies or pups.

Titus, who was staring at his best friend's reaction, also gasped loudly as if he had just realized something.

Yes, it seemed that he also realized that his best friend's reaction was very strange. "Oh my God, Drake...." He seemed to come to his senses and patted Drake on the shoulder "Congratulations, you're going to have a pup!!" he exclaimed happily and made his friend beam in happiness and proud.

Yes, we know how long Drake has been trying to get an heir with Melissa, but it is difficult because Melissa is not a werewolf so it always fails and miscarries, therefore Titus, who does understand and knows the sacrifices and the wait for his best friend to get an ancestry, understands why he will be very protective of his mate.

But, with all that they will carry here, will it be okay for Melissa's fetus?

"You can't be too tired, Mel" I admonished the woman who just nodded her head with a smile plastered on her face.

There was no denying that she was pregnant, her face was glistening with beauty and I couldn't stop myself from hugging her back and screaming with joy at this good news.

Hopefully we'll be the ones to get offspring next, I prayed silently and smiled at my mate who was looking at me in delight for seeing me this happy.

We walked to our room to clean up our things again, holding hands in silence, Titus continued to hold me and didn't let go of his hand to keep touching me.

I looked up at him with a smile and made him raise an eyebrow questioningly "It would be nice if I was pregnant too, wouldn't it?"

I asked sincerely and made him smile widely before pulling my hand and stopping our steps.

Chapter 140

The time for us to return to the palace had come, all our luggage had been stored in the car that would take us to the private plane that would be used by us to take us back to the palace.

Yes, everyone was getting ready to return to the palace except for the ex-Alpha couple and their mate, Drake and Melissa who were waiting for us in the front lobby with smiles plastered on their faces. A few other colleagues who were loyal to Drake and who also felt a debt of life to the white witch chose to stay in this hospital area and were willing to help them manage this hospital and become nurses and someone who could help here. Apparently, many werewolves felt that staying here and helping Melissa was the answer so it was no surprise to learn that around 30 werewolves had chosen to stay with Drake and Melissa, and would continue to help them here.

Looking at the results achieved by my best friend who was once shunned by some werewolves because of her sorcerous blood, I understood why she chose to stay. For the first time many people are looking at her with admiration and without fear, which is probably why Melissa said that her place is here.

Opening my arms wide as we walked towards her, Melissa giggled before we gave each other a farewell hug.

“Be healthy, let me know if it’s time to give birth and I’ll be here soon” I whispered which was answered with a nod and made me kiss her cheek before waving goodbye to her and walking into the car.

Titus just patted the shoulder of his best friend and ex–Beta before he followed me into the car that would take us to the airport.

Staring at the white and cold figure of the snow in Switzerland, I let out a sigh of relief that all this ended well.

The touch of my hand made me look at the man sitting beside me who was looking at me attentively.

Titus pulls my body until I’m on his lap and without any embarrassment I lean my body fully into his warm embrace.

And that’s what we did throughout our trip, shamelessly ingratiating ourselves to each other’s arms.

I hope this happiness will last forever.

Everyone turned towards us and looked curiously at the number of people waiting for us.

Yes, I was wide–eyed to find so many people, Alphas and alliances waiting for us at the airport.

11:08

Oh my God, could this be what I think it is? I said to myself and gasped as Titus took my left arm and held me as we walked towards all those who were waiting for us.

Everyone bowed their heads in unison as a sign of respect as we walked closer and closer towards them.

We were like the leaders of a cult or mafia, weren’t we? I thought with amusement as I saw the frightened looks that the humans showed when they saw us.

“Glad to see you both landed safely... Welcome back, king and queen.” Greeted Harry, who was currently a Beta since Drake chose to be with his mate and stay in Switzerland to manage the specialist werewolf hospital there.

King and queen, I thought and understood all this.

Well...

My health is back, my wolf-white and my powers are back.

Was that a sign that Titus would reclaim his throne as king of the Alphas?

Especially in the absence of Alpha Drake, the palace could not be empty and led only by the Beta.

Wow... back to being queen Luna? I thought and remembered how everyone treated me when I was queen back then.

Oh well... whatever it is important that I am beside my fated mate, it doesn't matter if it's being queen even if it's as long as he is beside me and loves me wholeheartedly, it's enough for me and willing to be whatever he wants.

8 cars were waiting for us and Titus and I got into the car in the middle before we walked to the main road.

I remember we were once attacked while traveling like this, but looking around there didn't seem to be any rogues so there would be no danger to us, I thought and let out a long sigh before resting my head on my mate's shoulder who immediately kissed my forehead as he began to stroke my hair fondly.

As the car pulled into the lobby of the palace and the doors were opened, I understood that we were being given special treatment again, as if we had returned from a long vacation and never relinquished our title as king and queen of the werewolves.

Titus didn't say anything and just stayed silent while occasionally glancing at me.

'Maybe he's afraid you won't accompany him and don't want to be the queen?' Destine guessed and I remained silent.

Could that be what my mate was thinking? That he was afraid I wouldn't like being queen and accompanying him as Alpha king.

Doesn't she remember that I would do anything for her? How could she have such stupid thoughts?

'Our mate loves us so much that she doesn't want us to experience any discomfort

The Alpha King's Fated Mate

5 vouchers

Destine said and made me let out a long breath because the words she said to me made so much sense.

Sh*t... I can't get angry at this, I thought irritably and walked inside accompanied by Alexa and a few other female guards who started following me wherever I went.

Just when I thought I was coming back here blissfully, this happened.

Sigh.. indeed life is unpredictable, I thought and gasped in shock as someone pulled my hand and made me stop walking then saw the figure of my mate, it was Titus who pulled my hand before he carried me bridal style and ran upstairs, to the old room that we both used to use.

Click...

Titus closed the door behind us and dropped me off in the room.

Giving a small smile, I looked around my old room.

Wow... how long have I not been here, I thought and opened the balcony door to stand there staring at the horizon.

It wasn't long before I felt a hug around my body from behind before Titus placed his chin on my head.

"What are you thinking about" he whispered softly.

I smiled without even looking into his eyes, it seemed Destine was right, he was worried that I didn't want him to be the Alpha king that made me his queen. This guy, I thought angrily but I couldn't deny that everything he did made me want to hug him and kiss him because I knew he did it because of his love for me. So, I turned my body to place my hand on her nape. "It's good to be back here" I said softly and made her blink in surprise as I kissed her lips passionately. "Yeah?" He asked while raising an eyebrow at the same time his arms embraced my body to make it even more attached to his body.

I nodded my head while playing with her hair "Are we queen and king again?" I asked bluntly.

Titus looked surprised once again and just stayed silent while looking at me tightly, as if he wanted to see my reaction "Do you mind?" He asked softly.

I planted my foot to nibble on his sharp nose which made him widen his eyes making me laugh.

He looked nervous so he didn't laugh which made me sigh before giving him a hug

"How could I not be happy... As long as I'm with you, I'll do anything" I said as I hugged him before slowly raising my head to see him smiling widely.

Yes, that seems to be what he was waiting for.

Confirmation from me...

D*mn, he may be a scary Alpha king in everyone's eyes, but he's actually a fragile
