

The Alpha King's Fated Mate By Yui Ismutomo

Chapter 141

The next day when I woke up, I was surprised to see many familiar Luna's gathered in the living room as well as my mother and Alice who quickly gave me a big hug when they saw me coming.

Yes, I remember the last time we met was when they left me at the hospital to return to their territory as they couldn't stay with me in Switzerland for long.

"Thank goodness you're better, Gwen" My mom said with tears in her eyes as she cupped my cheeks to get a closer look at me before giving me a peck on both cheeks.

Alice who was always expressive was already sobbing as she waited for her turn to hug me which made me laugh looking at her

"Why are you crying like that?" I asked amusedly and she just wrapped her arms around me to hug me very tightly. "Oh my God, it's so good to see you back, Gwen... I was so worried" She sobbed which made me shake my head in surprise at her behavior, but I couldn't help but be touched that so many people cared about me. It wasn't long before all the assembled guests expressed their relief that I was healthy and recovered.

Yes, I understood why they were worried, not only for me but also for my mate's reaction if he found out I had been gone again.

Yes, madness and anger could return to their Alpha king's mind and soul if something bad happened to me, but thankfully it didn't happen.

"Are you here for the ceremony to crown me and Titus as your queen and king?" I asked and they nodded their heads in response to my question.

I had no idea that Titus' position was so important, that everyone was so fond of him leading them as the Alpha king.

There was no way I could not feel a sense of pride and admiration for my mate. He's such a great and perfect guy, that I still can't believe that a guy as perfect and wonderful as him is my mate and loves me so much.

How could I be so lucky to have him...

Yes, it all started with misunderstandings and fears but luckily we got through all the trials that sprung up.

All the women started talking at the same time as we walked towards the kitchen, yes, as usual, when there was an event, the women would prepare all the food, but they knew that I, their queen, was not a woman who could hold a knife and make something without poisoning it, so they let me sit while I listened to their funny babble. I forgot the taste of this...

The feeling of talking to friends and hanging out with them, yes, the things that I went through when I was in this position.

11.09

We kept talking and laughing until someone called out to me and made me turn around to see my mate standing next to the door with his eyes fixed on me. "Titus? What's wrong?" I asked in surprise and quickly walked towards him. However, my mate just kissed me affectionately before smiling mischievously as he saw my reaction and expression "I didn't give you a good morning kiss earlier because you were still sleeping, so... Good morning, baby" He said very affectionately while winking mischievously with his right eye before he turned to leave the kitchen and left me alone feeling embarrassed at the moment.

What the....

Red-faced, I turned around to look in shock as all eyes were on me.

Oh. My. God!!! Did everyone mean to see and hear what Titus said to me earlier?! I thought embarrassedly and made everyone laugh amusedly when they saw my face which immediately reddened because of the embarrassment I felt.

Hell, Titus knew that lots of Luna's were coming but he still did it even though he knew all eyes were on us.

Ugh!!!!

I wanted to be angry but I knew that I liked his gesture.

So I could only sigh while shaking my head in surrender.

You'll see, I thought mischievously.

**

In the afternoon when the food was ready, one by one we brought out the food and I saw that the men were putting up tents for an outdoor event.

Yes, the coronation of the king and queen will take place tonight during the full moon so the event needs to be done outdoors so that we can quickly transform into our wolves.

Walking while carrying a bowl filled with mashed potatoes, I also saw my mate standing in the middle of the field talking to Harry, yes, it seems they are serious, maybe talking about the choice of who they choose to be the third right hand of the Alpha king or the Gamma.

I knew they already had two names, but I didn't know who they would choose in the end.

Ignorantly and confidently, after putting the food on the table, I walked towards the direction where my mate was.

Harry who saw me approaching immediately lowered his head before retreating to get away from my mate.

A confused Titus only raised an eyebrow until he turned his body to see me walking towards him.

“Hey” he greeted with a smile before looking confused again when I didn’t say anything to him and with a single jerk I jumped into his arms and wrapped my legs around his waist “Gwen, what...” I kissed him heatedly and passionately until he groaned and then quickly got down to leave the man who now looked confused and with a hint of lust and anger on his face. I just giggled amusedly before blowing a kiss from afar that made him sigh while shaking his head defeatedly. Yes, he knows this is my revenge for what he did earlier and know to not messed with me.
Ha!!! I win!!!
Send gift

Chapter 142

I was running around my neighborhood when I smelled this strange scent... ‘What is this smell, Vie?’ I asked my wolf.
‘Blood and... I’ve never smelled it before’ my wolf replied.
I knew my father, King Alpha Titus had always said to never go far from the palace grounds, as there were many dangerous things out there, but right now my curiosity overpowered my logic, so I turned my wolf’s body around and ran towards the source of the smell.
“Vienna... Damn, where are you going?” I heard Justin call my name in annoyance as he watched me keep running away from him.
I knew it wouldn’t be long before my father heard about my mischief, but I was curious and tired of his overprotectiveness towards me.
My name is Vienna Katherine Osmund, yes I am the first daughter of king Rolf Titus Osmund and my mother the queen Gwen Katherine Louve who has a very understanding and kind nature, unlike my father who likes to tell me this as if I am his personal servant.
Anyway, he never let me free, always wanted a guard to protect me, but since I was young, I never experienced anything bad, so I never understood what bad things could happen to me?
Tomorrow I turn 16, which is old enough to find my mate and hopefully find him soon so I can leave the prison-like palace.
Yes, the title of princess and heir makes me tired and want to run away from there, but I know that my father, King Alpha will kill me if he catches me running away from my responsibilities as the successor to the royal throne.
“Vienna... Vienna, where are you?” I heard Justin’s voice trying to find me and ignored him by continuing to walk towards the source of the smell I smelled. Blood was everywhere and made me have to scrunch up my wolf life which was very sensitive to odors so I had to know this answer immediately.

Blood is everywhere and I wonder, where are the guards that no one knows about this?
I thought and then not long after, Mr. Lim came with Rangga and just left him.
I heard the sound of groans and I immediately walked slowly to find the source of the groans.

stopped my steps when I saw someone lying on the ground with bruises his body.
I asked softly
He groaned and sat up while leaning his body against a nearby tree before looking at me with a smile.
Who is this guy?
Blond hair, blue eyes and porcelain–white skin. He’s.... pretty?
Gasping in shock as if I just remembered, I looked back at the man.
Yes, for the first time Vienna met a man who had a strange figure that she had never seen before and strangely there was something in that man that shook her heart.
‘Huh? Who is that man?’ she thought in wonder.

Fifteen years ago upon hearing that Melissa had given birth to a cute baby boy, but somehow my circumstances did not allow me to come and visit the snowy country to meet her.
Yes, I, Gwen for the first time since becoming a werewolf experienced strange symptoms and pain without cause.
What’s wrong with me Destine?’ I asked for the umpteenth time but my white–wolf just replied ‘you’ll be fine’ in a very strange way that made me worry about my condition.
Was I really going to be okay?
Why didn’t she help me and explain my condition if I really wasn’t well anymore?
Why is he acting so strange?
It’s as if she....
Happy with my condition?
BLAM...

Titus opened the door to the room loudly before he walked quickly towards me but before he was by my side, I saw him take a deep breath and fall to his knees a second later which made me widen my eyes in surprise before running towards him.
Titus.. you.. you why?” I gasped in shock and touched his back which was staring at the floor with a look of disbelief before with tears in his eyes, he looked back at me with a look of disbelief towards me which made me raise my eyebrows in confusion with his current reaction and attitude.
You scared me. Titus’ I whispered in concern but the man who was my mate just pulled me in and gave me a tight hug “Titus?” I called out still confused.

you... Thank you, Gwen He confused me even more with his thanks as if I something truly wonderful.

I really don't understand" I said honestly and made him reach my face with a smile and still covered with tears of happiness.

"Gwen... You..."

"Yeah? What's wrong with me?" I urged curiously.

"Gwen, you're pregnant..." I gasp loudly in shock and Titus just nods his head "I can smell my pup from your body"

What????!!!!

That's why....

I...

I'm pregnant?

That's why Destine seemed to be happy about my sickness.

'Why didn't you tell me, Destine?" I said to myself and my wolf just laughed. However, I couldn't stay angry any longer, as my mate's reaction was more than I could have imagined.

Smiling at her I touched her cheek and made her look into my eyes "I didn't expect you to be this happy" I whispered softly while smiling happily.

The man just sobbed and it was the most beautiful thing I had ever seen.

The man who was the king of Alpha, crying tears of joy just knowing that he was going to have a child from his mate, me.

With this I'm sure that the child I'm carrying will receive a great deal of love from the father, because just knowing that I'm going to have it has made him shed such tears, I can't imagine how it will be when he sees it for the first time.

"I love you, Gwen... and thank you so much for this amazing gift you've given me. I will take good care of all of you and make you always happy" My mate promised before capturing my lips as if it was a sealed promise.

Send gift

Chapter 143

And since then the news of my pregnancy has spread like wildfire and I'm not allowed to do anything at all, not even to walk to fetch water.

Sighed....

Yes, at first I was happy to be treated like a princess with all the help but over time I became very sulky and angry at not being able to do anything as if I were a human, no, a deformed werewolf that couldn't do anything on its own.

BLAM..!!!!

I pushed the door to my mate's office hard and startled everyone inside, including my mate who immediately widened his eyes and woke up from his chair when he saw me coming.

“Gwen!!! What are you doing here? You shouldn’t have come and just tell someone if you want to talk to me” He said in a worried tone and pulled my body to sit on the sofa, but I just widened my eyes angrily at him “What’s wrong?” He asked confused and made me scream so loud that it shocked everyone again.

“AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH”

“Gwen... What’s wrong? Is something wrong?” She asked frantically and made me even more annoyed so I threw the book on the table, closest to my hand, at her. “YOU... YOU...Ugh...”

“Gwen?”

“TITUS, I’M PREGNANT, NOT DISABLED!!!”

And he fell silent when he heard my shout and I continued to stare at him angrily. Yeah, I don’t know why I’m acting like this?

Does this have anything to do with my pregnancy?

I don’t know for sure but it feels like right now I have to let out or vent these emotions that seem to be stuck in my chest.

You can’t stop me from doing anything, I’m bored!!! I’m pregnant with your child instead of dying, so stop making everyone do things for me, even just fetching drinking water....” I continued to rant and watched him stand silently in front of me and not say anything until I stopped talking and panted from exhaustion. Sit down, you’re tired’ were the words he said which made me glare back in noyance but he immediately raised his hand in surrender “Please that I was too hard on the man who was only worried about my his direction and sat down on the sofa and let out a long dut. I was very tired.

Alpha Richard with several other Alphas, my face immediately flushed with embarrassment to make them see my anger like that

“We want to congratulate the future heir of the king” He said and I just nodded my head in shame.

As if understanding what I was feeling, I heard them say goodbye to my mate and not long after that I heard the door close behind me and leave me alone with Titus.

Footsteps sounded and I glanced at my mate who was sitting next to me before grabbing my hand and clasping it.

“Gwen... I’m sorry” He said softly and made me glance up to meet his locked gaze on me “I... I’m sorry. I didn’t realize that my worries were holding you back” He let out a long sigh and looked guilty.

Sh*t!

I knew I couldn’t stay angry any longer by seeing my mate’s guilty expression like this. I pecked her cheek gently which made her look up in disbelief at me.

“I understand you’re worried, but... remember, I’m a strong woman, so don’t treat me like a patient who’s about to die, I’m carrying your baby, the future king of this palace and there’s no way a child will be weak if he has you as his father.”

Titus smiled a little at her words and nodded his head.

“Yes... You’re right, I forgot, I’m sorry” he said softly while stroking my cheek with that affectionate look I adore so much “I love you so much, Gwen that I’m afraid something will happen to you” he explained.

I gave him a big smile “What could happen? I have everything here, the guards are also always with me” I said wanting to reassure him.

And since then things have changed a bit.

Well... Not much but at least something has changed.

Titus would be there when I woke up, he would help me shower and even get dressed, feed me and make sure every morning I would get his attention before he left to finish his business as the Alpha king.

I could only sigh and shake my head but knew that it was common for a mate, let alone an Alpha, to always be overprotective of his pregnant mate.

Especially knowing that he went through hundreds of years to get me, and finally had an offspring, well, I can’t completely blame him if he acts so overprotective that.

Knees have been horrible for me and thankfully I have a lot of people when it happens.

Alice came to keep me company and helped me for a few days, I took ginger to ease the nausea I was experiencing weight and the doctor said that I should continue to rest and eat a lot to stay energized.

Sometimes I would wake up and see the man who was my mate sitting beside my bed and just looking at me asleep while stroking my head gently and lovingly. “Titus? Honey?” I said in disbelief as I woke up and saw that it was 2am in the morning

“You didn’t sleep?” I asked and knew that he had lost sleep over the past few days due to worrying about me.

“Are you okay?” He asked without answering my question.

I shook my head as I pulled his hand so that he lay down beside me.

At first he didn’t budge but I gave him a pleading look that made him move and lie down beside me.

As he lay beside me, Titus immediately embraced my body tightly and rested his head on my neck to inhale my scent before kissing it passionately.

His embrace calmed me down, and apparently the fetus liked his touch too, because I fell asleep without any nausea not long after that.

And from then on, every night I would sleep in his arms and it managed to alleviate the nausea and vomiting that I had been going through.

Titus seemed very proud and happy to know that he could help me reduce my morning sickness.

"That means the fetus already loves me as much as I love him and would do anything for him and his mother" he said proudly and I could only laugh happily at that, because it seems that this time what my mate said was very true.

Just like I love his father, it seems that the fetus becomes calmer when Titus touches me or is near me.

Well... It seems like it knows who its father is, even before it's born, I thought happily. I thought I knew everything about life, but this pregnancy taught me something else.

That affection and love can be given not only to one person, yes, this fetus taught me that I can love him as much as I love its father, my mate.

I thought it was impossible to share my love but it happened.

And this experience also taught me to love my mother's more, because everything experienced by so to be a mother is not an easy path and I am grateful that I my family and mate who loves me so much that my pregnancy journey nes easier.

Chapter 143

And since then the news of my pregnancy has spread like wildfire and I'm not allowed to do anything at all, not even to walk to fetch water.

Sighed....

Yes, at first I was happy to be treated like a princess with all the help but over time I became very sulky and angry at not being able to do anything as if I were a human, no, a deformed werewolf that couldn't do anything on its own.

BLAM..!!!!

I pushed the door to my mate's office hard and startled everyone inside, including my mate who immediately widened his eyes and woke up from his chair when he saw me coming.

"Gwen!!! What are you doing here? You shouldn't have come and just tell someone if you want to talk to me" He said in a worried tone and pulled my body to sit on the sofa, but I just widened my eyes angrily at him "What's wrong?" He asked confused and made me scream so loud that it shocked everyone again.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH"

"Gwen... What's wrong? Is something wrong?" She asked frantically and made me even more annoyed so I threw the book on the table, closest to my hand, at her.

"YOU... YOU... Ugh..."

"Gwen?"

"TITUS, I'M PREGNANT, NOT DISABLED!!!"

And he fell silent when he heard my shout and I continued to stare at him angrily.

Yeah, I don't know why I'm acting like this?

Does this have anything to do with my pregnancy?

I don't know for sure but it feels like right now I have to let out or vent these emotions that seem to be stuck in my chest.

"You can't stop me from doing anything, I'm bored!!! I'm pregnant with your child instead of dying, so stop making everyone do things for me, even just fetching drinking water..." I continued to rant and watched him stand silently in front of me and not say anything until I stopped talking and panted from exhaustion. "Sit down, you're tired" were the words he said which made me glare back in yance but he immediately raised his hand in surrender "Please".

aded..??

that I was too hard on the man who was only worried about my his direction and sat down on the sofa and let out a long

I was very tired.

Alpha Richard with several other Alphas, my face immediately flushed with embarrassment to make them see my anger like that

"We want to congratulate the future heir of the king" He said and I just nodded my head in shame.

As if understanding what I was feeling, I heard them say goodbye to my mate and not long after that I heard the door close behind me and leave me alone with Titus.

Footsteps sounded and I glanced at my mate who was sitting next to me before grabbing my hand and clasping it.

"Gwen... I'm sorry" He said softly and made me glance up to meet his locked gaze on me "I... I'm sorry. I didn't realize that my worries were holding you back" He let out a long sigh and looked guilty.

Sh*t!

I knew I couldn't stay angry any longer by seeing my mate's guilty expression like this. I pecked her cheek gently which made her look up in disbelief at me.

"I understand you're worried, but... remember, I'm a strong woman, so don't treat me like a patient who's about to die, I'm carrying your baby, the future king of this palace and there's no way a child will be weak if he has you as his father." Titus smiled a little at her words and nodded his head.

"Yes... You're right, I forgot, I'm sorry" he said softly while stroking my cheek with that affectionate look I adore so much "I love you so much, Gwen that I'm afraid something will happen to you" he explained.

I gave him a big smile "What could happen? I have everything here, the guards are also always with me" I said wanting to reassure him.

And since then things have changed a bit.

Well... Not much but at least something has changed.

Titus would be there when I woke up, he would help me shower and even get dressed, feed me and make sure every morning I would get his attention before he left to finish his business as the Alpha king.

I could only sigh and shake my head but knew that it was common for a mate, let alone an Alpha, to always be overprotective of his pregnant mate.

Especially knowing that he went through hundreds of years to get me, and finally had an offspring, well, I can't completely blame him if he acts so overprotective like that.

Morning sickness have been horrible for me and thankfully I have a lot of people me when it happens.

Sam and Alice came to keep me company and helped me for a few days, they from ginger to ease the nausea I was experience weight and the doctor said that I should continue to rest and eat a lot to stay energized.

Sometimes I would wake up and see the man who was my mate sitting beside my bed and just looking at me asleep while stroking my head gently and lovingly. "Titus? Honey?" I said in disbelief as I woke up and saw that it was 2am in the morning

"You didn't sleep?" I asked and knew that he had lost sleep over the past few days due to worrying about me.

"Are you okay?" He asked without answering my question.

I shook my head as I pulled his hand so that he lay down beside me.

At first he didn't budge but I gave him a pleading look that made him move and lie down beside me.

As he lay beside me, Titus immediately embraced my body tightly and rested his head on my neck to inhale my scent before kissing it passionately.

His embrace calmed me down, and apparently the fetus liked his touch too, because I fell asleep without any nausea not long after that.

And from then on, every night I would sleep in his arms and it managed to alleviate the nausea and vomiting that I had been going through.

Titus seemed very proud and happy to know that he could help me reduce my morning sickness.

"That means the fetus already loves me as much as I love him and would do anything for him and his mother" he said proudly and I could only laugh happily at that, because it seems that this time what my mate said was very true.

Just like I love his father, it seems that the fetus becomes calmer when Titus touches me or is near me.

Well... It seems like it knows who its father is, even before it's born, I thought happily.

I thought I knew everything about life, but this pregnancy taught me something else.

That affection and love can be given not only to one person, yes, this fetus taught me that I can love him as much as I love its father, my mate.

I thought it was impossible to share my love but it happened.

And this experience also taught me to love my mother's more, because everything experienced by so to be a mother is not an easy path and I am grateful that I have my family and mate who loves me so much that my pregnancy journey becomes easier.

Chapter 144

It was one of the quietest nights in the kingdom, the lack of Rogues due to Jack's disappearance made threats almost nonexistent, but that didn't mean they could let their guard down, yes, the Alpha king, Titus who believed calm was just a sleeping danger didn't believe that threats would no longer come, so he still kept a tight guard on his territory, especially with his mate, the queen Luna who was pregnant, so guarding to ensure security was the number one priority.

And the king Alpha Titus was right, deep in the forest in the kingdom's territory, there was an unconscious man who fell from the sky and fell on one of the night guards who was making rounds at that time, a man who was not known where he came from or what kind of creature he was but the aura of darkness and strength he possessed made everyone who saw him shiver with fear....

'Hey, Bert, are you alright?' His friend asked through the mind link and helped him get up then they stared wide-eyed at the unconscious figure of the man.

He appeared to be badly injured with many bruises and blood all over his body, with shoulder length jet black hair, he was almost too beautiful to be a man.

'Who is he?' Bert asked his companion George as they finished staring at the figure of the injured man who was still lying on the ground.

George shook his head 'I don't know, it's like he fell from the sky but is that even possible?'

Bert turned his head towards his friend 'Should we alert the palace and royal guards?' He asked and George nodded his head in response.

Hooowwlllll...

The roar of Jose's royal guard leader was heard and it was only 5 minutes after Bert and George informed him of their discovery in the forest while doing a perimeter check of the royal territory.

The two young werewolves swallowed nervously when they saw that not only the royal guards had arrived but also the Beta, Harry was with them.

Is it possible that this man is a fugitive so the Beta came to check on him here? George thought confusedly and hoped they wouldn't get punished.

They all bowed their heads respectfully as they arrived and the Beta and Jose transformed into their human forms to pat the unconscious man.

Jose was wide-eyed in shock which made us raise our eyebrows in confusion. Why was he that shocked?

Who is the unconscious man? Bert thought confused but knew that he shouldn't say anything.

"A Demon? In the human world?" Harry whispered in surprise and looked at Jose who nodded his head, but everyone had already heard the words spoken by the Beta which made all parties there swallow nervously.

What...?

That man....

.... A Demon...?!!!

Could it be true?

How could that weak and wounded man be a Demon? Could the Beta be wrong?

"Take this man to the dungeon and make sure that the entire cell at the door is covered with holy water" Harry ordered quickly and although we still didn't quite believe that the figure of the man was a Demon and from the strange order regarding the Holy

Water in the cell, no one dared to ask questions and just nodded their heads before carrying out his orders.

Demon....

If he really is a Demon, the question is....

What is his name?

"Then another one..." Everyone stopped their steps and looked back at the Beta "Don't say anything about this to anyone, it's top secret" Harry added seriously and everyone nodded their heads obediently before they saw him transform back into his wolf form and run back towards the castle.

Who is this man who can make the Beta act like that?

The next morning, the Alpha king who listened to the report from the leader of the royal guard and his Beta, was wide-eyed with shock when he heard what or who they found in their territory.

"What? A Demon? You sure?"

Titus' brows furrowed in concern after hearing about what happened last night in his territory. "That man is still unconscious?" He asked to make sure.

Jose shook his head "I was just there before coming here, my king and he's still unconscious" He replied with certainty and Titus just nodded his head.

He remembered that his father had dealt with one of the demons, Baal if I'm not mistaken and it almost killed him because the other demons thought his father was siding with Baal.

Demon?

Who?

What do demons do in this human world?

Gwen.... I have to keep my mate away from Demon, because she is pregnant, the smell of my pup's fresh blood will smell so tantalizing to those Demons who love pure blood from babies and virgin women.

"Keep him away from women, babies and things that we know Demons like" I ordered to those who nodded their heads obediently, we all know that werewolves are indeed part of the darkness, we used to side with Lucifer in the war in Hell but because Lycan is very brutal and unruly, therefore the Moon Goddess created a mate or pair for us Lycan to restrain our animal instincts so that it can be a little regulated, therefore, the mate for Lycan and werewolf becomes our biggest weakness.

And since then, Lucifer who thought the Lycans were no longer what he expected and began to have weaknesses, he put us in the human world.

So now the question is, who is the Demon here?

"Let's go visit the Demon right away, I hope he's awake and can give us an answer as to why he's here" I said as I started walking towards the exit of my office with my two loyal members following behind me.

Titus can only hope that the Demon's arrival will not bring bad things to his people, and especially to his mate who is currently carrying his pup which is the most beautiful thing that has ever happened in my life.

Chapter 145

Heading to Gwen Point of View:

That night I couldn't sleep..

The heat and also the thing I couldn't talk about seemed to disturb my mind and make me restless.

What was wrong with me anyway?

'What's wrong?' Destine, who seemed to have noticed my restlessness, asked and I sat down on my bed before standing up to get some water from the table in front of the sofa, one of the extras provided at my mate's request, because she realized that I was often thirsty and hungry in the middle of the night.

Badump...

My heart was racing tonight, as if something was going to happen.

What's going on?

Why am I feeling like this? I sighed after finishing one glass of water quickly before setting the glass back on the table.

'This reaction is from your fetus, Gwen' Destine responds in my head and she sounds confused, just like me.

Huh... What did she say?

My fetus? Did I hear clearly what she said?

'My fetus, Destine? What's wrong with my fetus? It must not have formed yet because it's only the fourth month?' I said in response to her worried words.

Destine seemed to sigh and shake her head, because she was uncertain.

"Try touching your stomach, your heart is racing and you feel like vomiting, that effect is not from you, but from your fetus"

I followed my wolf's orders and realized that she was right.

What's wrong with my fetus?

Why is it reacting like this?

What's going on?

I walked over to the window and saw Harry and Jose with the other warriors running towards the forest and immediately turning into their wolves as they ran.

'They look panicked' Destine commented and I again agreed with her words.

What's going on here?

It's been a long time since there was a threat from Rogue since Jack died, so what is this?

'That's Titus' Destine pointed at the man coming out of the main door and looked at the Betas and the others who were leaving for the forest.

He looked worried...

What's going on?

Not long after, as if knowing I was staring at him, my mate cocked his head and stared into my eyes for a few seconds before he turned around and spoke to someone beside him.

'He looks worried' Destine commented and I nodded my head.

It seemed like something coming into the forest was something to worry about.

What is this?

Should we be worried, Destine? I asked my wolf who became the most loyal friend in my body, someone I always made a place to rely on and a place to tell everything, because she is always calm and never rushes to make decisions about something, maybe because she was once a wolf of the Moon Goddess so that her character and behavior are different, I learned a lot from her and she was very patient in helping me with anything.

'Let's just wait, our mate is currently doing everything to make sure we are okay, let's wait until everything unfolds on its own' I listened carefully to my wolf's recommendation.

She was right, Titus was currently on edge, he was worried about my pregnancy and it seemed that the things that happened in the forest were being made sure not to disturb me.

We'll see, hopefully it's nothing, hopefully my feelings are also nothing...

However, I sensed that my wolf was hiding something, it seemed that she knew something but didn't want to tell me.

This is the same as what happened the other day, when I was exposed to that poison...

'You'll tell me when you're sure it's true, won't you, Destine?' I ventured to say to my wolf who was laughing inside my head.

'You're getting to know me well, Gwen' She said calmly and assured me that what I was thinking was true, that she was hiding something.

Lightning flashed before our eyes so many times that it startled me, as if the sky was struggling up there.

However, why is there lightning and no rain? I thought strangely and closed the window curtains so as not to see the terrible lightning strikes again.

Tonight was the strangest night ever and I slowly climbed into my bed to try and get some rest.

'Mama... Mama...

A small silver-haired woman ran towards me with her arms outstretched. She has very pretty silver colored curls with the same sea-like blue eyes as mine, who is this beautiful girl?

Who? I thought confused but instinctively I reached out to catch her outstretched hand.

She hugged me tightly while inhaling my body fragrance and simultaneously for the first time my heart felt a sense of love and serenity that I usually felt only from my mate, Titus. She seemed to know me well and did not hesitate to lay her body on me.

Wide-eyed while bowing my head, I cupped the little girl's face who smiled at me.

That smile.... Her smile is the same as someone I know well...

Could it be? And she just called me... Mama?

Could it be that this little girl...

I gasped loudly as I realized that the girl in my arms was..... my daughter????

So... The fetus I'm carrying is a girl and this is her?

SEND GIFT

Oh. My. God..!!!!

'Hi... Mama..' She greeted me with a big smile and for the first time I realized that she was indeed my daughter and my mate Titus, her smile was just like her father's... His eyes are mine and his hair... Very rare silver hair unlike mine or Titus'...

It wasn't long before a white wolf walked up behind her that I recognized as my white wolf Destine and I realized that my little girl's hair was almost the same as Destine's...

How did this happen?

Chapter 146

Heading to Gwen Point of View:

That night I couldn't sleep..

The heat and also the thing I couldn't talk about seemed to disturb my mind and make me restless.

What was wrong with me anyway?

'What's wrong?' Destine, who seemed to have noticed my restlessness, asked and I sat down on my bed before standing up to get some water from the table in front of the sofa, one of the extras provided at my mate's request, because she realized that I was often thirsty and hungry in the middle of the night.

Badump...

My heart was racing tonight, as if something was going to happen.

What's going on?

Why am I feeling like this? I sighed after finishing one glass of water quickly before setting the glass back on the table.

"This reaction is from your fetus, Gwen" Destine responds in my head and she sounds confused, just like me.

Huh... What did she say?

My fetus? Did I hear clearly what she said?

'My fetus, Destine? What's wrong with my fetus? It must not have formed yet because it's only the fourth month?' I said in response to her worried words.

Destine seemed to sigh and shake her head, because she was uncertain.

'Try touching your stomach, your heart is racing and you feel like vomiting, that effect is not from you, but from your fetus'

I followed

my wolf's orders and realized that she was right.

What's wrong with my fetus?

Why is it reacting like this?

What's going on?

I walked over to the window and saw Harry and Jose with the other warriors running towards the forest and immediately turning into their wolves as they ran.

"They look panicked" Destine commented and I again agreed with her words.

What's going on here?

It's been a long time since there was a threat from Rogue since Jack died, so what is this?

'That's Titus' Destine pointed at the man coming out of the main door and looked at the Betas and the others who were leaving for the forest.

He looked worried...

What's going on?

Not long after, as if knowing I was staring at him, my mate cocked his head and stared into my eyes for a few seconds before he turned around and spoke to someone beside him.

'He looks worried' Destine commented and I nodded my head.

It seemed like something coming into the forest was something to worry about.

What is this?

Should we be worried, Destine? I asked my wolf who became the most loyal friend in my body, someone I always made a place to rely on and a place to tell everything, because she is always calm and never rushes to make decisions about something, maybe because she was once a wolf of the Moon Goddess so that her character and behavior are different, I learned a lot from her and she was very patient in helping me with anything.

'Let's just wait, our mate is currently doing everything to make sure we are okay, let's wait until everything unfolds on its own I listened carefully to my wolf's recommendation.

She was right, Titus was currently on edge, he was worried about my pregnancy and it seemed that the things that happened in the forest were being made sure not to disturb me.

We'll see, hopefully it's nothing, hopefully my feelings are also nothing...

However, I sensed that my wolf was hiding something, it seemed that she knew something but didn't want to tell me.

This is the same as what happened the other day, when I was exposed to that poison...

'You'll tell me when you're sure it's true, won't you, Destine?' I ventured to say to my wolf who was laughing inside my head.

'You're getting to know me well, Gwen' She said calmly and assured me that what I was thinking was true, that she was hiding something.

Lightning flashed before our eyes so many times that it startled me, as if the sky was struggling up there.

However, why is there lightning and no rain? I thought strangely and closed the window curtains so as not to see the terrible lightning strikes again.

Tonight was the strangest night ever and I slowly climbed into my bed to try and get some rest.

'Mama... Mama...'

A small silver-haired woman ran towards me with her arms outstretched. She has very pretty silver colored curls with the same sea-like blue eyes as mine, who is this beautiful girl?

Who? I thought confused but instinctively I reached out to catch her outstretched hand.

She hugged me tightly while inhaling my body fragrance and simultaneously for the first time my heart felt a sense of love and serenity that I usually felt only from my/mate, Titus. She seemed to know me well and did not hesitate to lay her body on me.

Wide-eyed while bowing my head, I cupped the little girl's face who smiled at me.
That smile.... Her smile is the same as someone I know well...
Could it be? And she just called me... Mama?
Could it be that this little girl...
I gasped loudly as I realized that the girl in my arms was..... my daughter????
So... The fetus I'm carrying is a girl and this is her?
Oh. My. God..!!!!
'Hi... Mama..' She greeted me with a big smile and for the first time I realized that she was indeed my daughter and my mate Titus, her smile was just like her father's... His eyes are mine and his hair... Very rare silver hair unlike mine or Titus...
It wasn't long before a white wolf walked up behind her that I recognized as my white wolf Destine and I realized that my little girl's hair was almost the same as Destine's...
How did this happen?

Chapter 147

BOOM..!!!!

I was eating lunch in the dining room when a sound like an explosion and violent tremors like an earthquake occurred.
Everyone around me immediately ran towards me, as if something was coming towards me and a second later I widened my eyes as a man with shoulder-length black hair suddenly appeared in front of me.
A very handsome man with a surprised look as he met my eyes before finally lowering his eyes towards my stomach which made my heart beat very fast.
I gasped in shock 'Oh my God, who is he?' I thought in shock and not long after, Alexa who was always there wherever I was, pulled me to my feet and with her body became my shield from the man.
'He's no ordinary man' I thought, because somehow there was an aura of power that I thought only my mate Titus had, but somehow this man also seemed to have the same aura of power as my mate.
BLAM..!!!!
The man I thought was my mate arrived with his wolf figure and smashed the door to smithereens before standing in front of Alexa who was protecting me as if she didn't want him to come near me.
Why me?
Why would he come near me?
Who is he?
What's really going on?
Titus seems to know who he is...
Could this be the man he was hiding? This is the man they found that night?
'A Demon...' Destine's voice startled me and made me gasp as I realised that she was telling me who this man in front of us was.

What...??

A demon? I asked my white-wolf.

So this is what Destine was hiding from me?

Why does everyone seem to know about this man but I'm the last to know?!

Ugh... I suddenly felt nauseous and weak as if my legs couldn't hold my body any longer, and I felt my eyes clouding over from the dizziness and weakness I felt so suddenly.

'What's wrong with my body?' I thought confusedly and immediately knew that I had to tell someone or I would fall down which could endanger my baby.

"Ti... Titus... he... help.... me" I whispered softly, but by the time everyone looked in my direction, I was already on the verge of falling and very close to the hard floor.

Until I felt a very hot hand catch me from the touch of the floor before I was shocked again when I felt an electrical vibration that should not have existed from its touch on me.

Oh God... What is this?

This feeling....

Why is this almost the same as what I feel every time I'm with Titus?

This can't be....

What's going on?

There's no way

My fated mate..?

this man is also....

But how is it possible when Titus is there?

Go to Titus Point of View:

"Let's

go

visit the Demon right away, I hope he's awake and can give us an answer as to why he's here" I said that just so I could question the man who was a Demon, why was he in the human world, especially in my territory?

What is he doing here?

As I approached the prisoner cell at the far end, I found out that all the guards who were there were already unconscious and staring at the figure of the man with shoulder-length jet black hair looking at me with golden yellow eyes that surprised me, shouldn't Demons have red eyes? Why is he different?

"Who are you, why are you here and making a mess in my territory?" I asked softly while slowly walking towards him.

He just cracked his neck and hands in a casual motion as if he didn't care that he was under a set with many werewolves behind me that could conquer him at any time.

'Be careful, he's no ordinary Demon' Wolf warned me immediately and I knew that he was right.

The aura of power that this Demon man possessed was immense, it even seemed to surpass me.

Who is he?

The man, Demon, I don't know what to call him, smiled broadly as he saw me clearly

"The Alpha king, the mighty Rolf Titus" he said as he bowed his body in a seemingly mocking salute that made the members behind me growl in annoyance and anger.

Who is he?

Does he know me?

Only high-ranking Demons know me.....

The man kept smiling casually as he looked at me in shock as if it didn't surprise him, that for him, knowing me was easy as he kept silent, as if waiting for me to recognise him.

Lucifer, no, father said the prince of darkness had blood-red eyes and a dreadful face, the man in front of me was almost as beautiful as a woman with his hair like that. A different kind of horror...

Yellow eyes...

Who is the yellow-eyed Demon I ever heard of?

Then, as if to give a hint, the man sat down as if there was a bench there in style and it looked like a crown figure appeared above his head.

And my eyes widened as if that explained everything...

Oh no, I thought in panic and he, as if he knew I realised who he was, smiled even wider and I could see the fangs in his teeth which gave a terrifying and threatening impression without having to do anything else.

"Astaroth..." I whispered softly which surprised everyone who heard me and made the Demon I had called smile contentedly and broadly at me.

"Glad you finally know me, Alpha King Titus..." He replied casually.

Sh*t... What is part of the evil trinity doing here? In my territory? In the human world?!

Bad things always happen when Demons are in the human world, nothing good ever happens when they are here.

Why is he here?

Why now? When my mate is pregnant and doesn't need anything that could harm our future baby?!

I need to get him to return to his world and not stay here for long...

Chapter 148

Still Titus Point of View:

"Astaroth..." I whispered softly which surprised everyone who heard me and made the Demon I had called smile contentedly and broadly at me.

"Glad you finally know me, Alpha King Titus..."

Astaroth is a Crowned "Prince" of Jinnestan. He is known as the chaos god of time and space.

He is one of the highest-ranking demons, a Duke of Hell and is said to be among the strongest. He is the patron of battles and engagements, eater of souls, the Father of the Executioners. Astaroth is also said to be one of the incarnations of death.

According to Judaic lore, he was a high-ranking angel, either one of the Seraphim or a prince of Thrones, prior to his fall.

Astaroth is a Grand Duke, a Treasurer of Hell, and commands 40 Legions of demons. Like many of the fallen angels that fell from Heaven, was an angel that resided in Paradise and was a member of the Thrones.

Due to his position as a Throne, he was highly ranked amongst the choir of angels as he would see to the carrying of God's throne. However, he found himself joining Lucifer's side during the War in Heaven, and was cast down to Hell alongside all other rebel-angels. He was present at Pandemonium during Lucifer's Rally, officially declaring himself as an enemy of God forever.

After Lucifer and his rebel brothers conquered Hell while newly establishing it as their own kingdom a hierarchy was formed during the process with Astaroth aiding in the decreeing of noble positions. Hell would ultimately be ruled by the three supreme monarchs known as the Satanic Triumvirate which consisted of Lucifer, Beelzebub, and Samael. These three would be above, and simultaneously be part of, the Seven Kings of Hell who were the ruling body of the Inferno.

Due to Astaroth's influence and power he would be closely affiliated with the Seven Great Kings and the Triumvirate as well to the point where demonologists counted him among their number.

So what is he doing here?

My father, the late king, once mentioned Astaroth's relationship with Asmodeus who always claimed he was the most powerful of the nine archdevils that inhabit Hell, and the only one of Hell's rulers to claim full divinity. And that was the reason why Baal, one of the Demons, came down to earth because he was tired of these two Demons fighting.

Giving me and the Demon time to talk, all the guards stood away and left us alone.

Yes, they know that we are part of the Demons after all, we used to be the guardians of Hell that Lucifer trusted until the Moon Goddess gave us her heart and we were no longer useful to the king of Hell.

However, I also know that the presence of Demons can cause our animal instincts to become more primal and ferocious, which can be dangerous for those who cannot restrain themselves and their instructions.

"So, why are you here, Duke of Hell?" I questioned while addressing him with the position he held respectfully, because I knew that there was no way I could defeat this Demon.

We were inside the prisoner's room, with the door open, it seemed that he did not want to walk out of this room, so I talked to him/here and now.

I need to know for sure about his purpose and hope that he will not cause chaos in my kingdom's territory.

He remained silent and gave me a cold smile, but looking at his wounds, it seemed that something had happened in his world, something that had brought him here.

"Asmodeus did that to you?" As soon as I said that, his eyes narrowed and looked at me angrily which made me realise that I was right, damn it!

"Don't mention that f*cking boy!" He hissed angrily and spat after that.

Their fight had happened centuries ago, but never did I know that Asmodeus dared to even hurt the legendary figure of Astaroth's power like this.

And only he can call Asmodeus with such a title, I can't imagine if others, random people call him in the same way as this Demon in front of me just now.

"What is this smell?" His words caught me by surprise and I immediately looked at him in confusion as the Demon in front of me raised his nose as if smelling something.

What does that mean? A smell?

"What do you mean, As..." He raised his hand to shut me up before closing his eyes for a few moments, then not long after he opened his eyes and said the one thing I never expected him to say or wanted to hear.

"You have a pregnant woman with a very strange aroma in your territory...." My eyes widened at his words and instantly felt like cold water as I thought of my pregnant mate. Could it be what he said is about....her?

"Sniiiffsssss..... Wow! This is my first time...." Astaroth kept saying to himself with a horrifyingly sinister smile fixed on his face, Oh No, I thought in panic. "That scent..." He didn't finish his words and simply smashed the ceiling using his power with ease and jumped out as if it was a piece of cake, even with those injuries the Demon is still very dangerous.

"SH IT!!! Gwen!!!" I shouted in panic and instantly transformed into my wolf form to chase where the Demon was heading, hoping that the pregnant woman he mentioned was not my mate.

However, when I saw him running towards the palace where my mate was, it seemed that my prayer was not answered and the scent he smelled was coming from inside the palace, and there was only one pregnant woman there, my Gwen.

D*mn it!

The thing I didn't want to happen, happened!

There's no way I'm letting him have my mate and why would a Demon smell Gwen when there are so many other women in my kingdom?

Why Gwen?!

Why does it have to be my mate?!

Chapter 149

Still Rolf Titus Point of View :

“Ti... Titus... he... help... me”

When I looked over after hearing the soft call of my mate’s voice, she had almost fallen unconscious.

With wide eyes I knew that I wouldn’t be able to catch her and with her pregnant condition, falling was a bad thing that could have a bad effect on the baby as well as my mate.

“No, Gwen” I called out and immediately froze when I saw a man catch her so that nothing bad could happen to her

With a sigh of relief, even though I hated the man who caught her and touched my mate, I couldn’t help but be relieved that he was able to move so fast to catch my mate.

However, as I approached the two of them, my heart seemed to stop as I realised something.

Badump... Badump...

What is this? No way!!!

The Demon named Astaroth raised his head with widening eyes towards me, as if he too could not believe what was happening.

Yes, a very impossible thing happened in front of us, something I never knew could happen to a Demon.

Not as long as I’ve been alive have I heard stories about the things I saw, things where a Demon has a bond with a mortal on earth.

Not wanting anyone to know this secret, I immediately took my mate from the hands of the Demon, who didn’t seem to want to release his grip on my woman, but he knew that he couldn’t do anything, still in his shocked face, he finally gave my woman into my arms.

“Thank you” I said softly while nodding my head “Let’s talk in the other room” I added with a look so that he would not do anything else that could make all the members in this room suspicious of what happened.

D*mn it!

What is this?

What bond does Demon have with my mate?

Why now?

Why does it have to be with my mate?!

BLAM!!

I told him to wait in my room as I opened the connecting door and put my mate on her bed. Alexa was already there to keep her company.

She gave me a strange look, as if she knew what was happening and told me to be careful.

I just gave her a nod of my head, we all know Demons are the most unpredictable creatures, they can be good and evil in just a second because it is in their nature to be evil and destroy the things they encounter.

That's why we can't trust Demons completely, because eventually they will betray us. "Please take care of Gwen and check if she's okay..." I ordered my mate's loyal guard who nodded his head obediently at the same time a healer came into the room.

She nodded her head to me before walking towards my sleeping mate in my bed "She didn't fall, but I don't know why she fainted, I hope she's okay" I explained to the healer who nodded her head again.

"I have heard from the Beta, my king" She informed me before touching my mate and examining her.

Click...

The door opened beside me and I looked over to see the Demon standing in the doorway connecting my room and my mate, he looked curious and I quickly walked over to him.

"Is she okay?" He asked and I almost raised my eyebrows hearing the concerned tone coming from his words.

Suppressing my jealousy because I knew it would only make him angry, I nodded my head "The doctor is checking on her" I replied quietly while trying to hold back my emotions.

D*mn, of all the things that can happen nowadays, why is this the case?

"Do you know why this is happening?" I asked the Demon who surprisingly nodded his head, but he knew not to explain when there were people in this room, at least he understood that I didn't want anyone to know about this right now.

"She seems to have lost a lot of energy, very tired" The healer's words made me look up and approach the bed where my mate lay limply there.

Losing energy? I thought and raised my eyes to meet the yellow eyes of the Demon who was still standing by the connecting door, like he knew what happened to my woman.

"I will prescribe vitamins for her to recover quickly and ask the chef to cook a nutritious meal" She added before nodding her head respectfully and walking out.

Letting out a long sigh, I patted Alexa on the shoulder before walking back towards the Demon, it seemed like it was time we talked and got an explanation for all of this.

Click...

Closing the connecting door behind me, I waited for her to speak, she must understand why I brought her here.

"Explain it to me" I ordered softly and made him raise an eyebrow as if hearing my words commanding him was something that annoyed him.

Folding his arms across his chest, he arrogantly said, "That woman is your mate?"
"Yes, Gwen my fated mate" I replied firmly and waited to see why he was asking about the obvious "So, what's going on?"
He looked back at me sharply "It seems that your woman has a bond with me" I couldn't help but growl with rage as I heard his words.
No Sh*t!!!
'She's MINE!!!!' Wolf growls furiously and I refrain from attacking the Demon in front of me who just rolls his eyes as if he knows that it's pointless to attack him.

"She carried someone who had a real bond with me, which is why she weakened..."
Gasping in shock, I was transfixed by his words.
What?!

She carried someone who has a true bond with him?
What is the meaning of those words... My eyes widened as I realized what he meant...
Oh my God.... That can't be?!
Don't say that mean....
With wide eyes I looked at the man who is the Demon "You... You're my daughter's mate?!" I said in shock.

Chapter 150

Have you ever had a moment where you felt like you were living in a game?
Why do things always happen when all the good things are happening to you?
Why do beautiful things have to end?
D*mn it! Demon Astaroth is the mate of my daughter who hasn't even been born yet, which is the worst slap in the face I've ever gotten.
"What did you say?"
My eyes widened in shock at the words that came out of the Demon's mouth with no expression or even any guilt at all.
As if he didn't care about what he said or that I was the father of the woman who would become his mate.
His yellow eyes stared at me intently, as if he knew what was going through my mind right now.
And all I could think about was whether or not I should be happy to hear what he said. However, one thing I do remember is that I once did the same thing to my mate and it destroyed her so much that it took me a long time to gather the fragments again so that I could restore my mate to what she is today.
"Look, King Titus, you know who I am..." He started and let out a long sigh "You know who I am and I can't possibly have what you, werewolves, have... what? A mate? That's impossible" He said with a disgusted look on his face and made the wolf in my head growl in annoyance.

“Do you know what it does to a woman if you reject her?” I snarled at the Demon. Yes, I hated knowing he was the mate of my daughter I’d just heard I was going to have today, but considering what she could go through suffering from a life without a mate, I couldn’t imagine her having to go through what my mate went through because of my stupidity, rejecting her. No... Is this my punishment for hurting my mate back then? Making me see my daughter go through the same experience because it could destroy me too.

Mate is a sacred thing, even though I hate the Demon and don’t believe he can be my daughter’s mate but imagining a girl, let alone my daughter having to live in pain because her mate doesn’t want her, God, I’m willing to accept a horrible man and a Demon just to see my daughter happy.

Why is this happening?

“You can’t reject my daughter!” I pressed and tried to hold back my mounting emotions. Imagining having to see my daughter suffer because of her mate’s unwillingness, no, I didn’t want to see her shed even a single tear.

The demon raised an eyebrow as if in mockery while wrapping his arms around his chest “What is this? I didn’t expect you to want me to be your son-in-law?” he scoffed and I knew I shouldn’t have fallen for it but seeing him speak as if it wasn’t important, that my daughter wasn’t important to him made me very upset.

GgITTT....

I stupidly went up to him with my fist raised and punched him hard in the face before he raised his hand and pushed me so that I backed away easily.

Sh*t! He’s so strong!!!

However, my emotions overpowered all reason until the Demon put his fingers around my neck and choked me.

For the first time, there was someone who could stop me, the Alpha king who had the strength of a Lycan, and he was the mate of my daughter, Astaroth.

D’mn it!!!

Letting out a long sigh, I went limp until he finally removed his hand from my neck when he knew I wasn’t going to attack him anymore.

“Don’t make me hurt you, mutt” He spat rudely and I just rolled my eyes in annoyance as I got up and stood back to him.

“Then explain why you’re here?” I tried to steer the conversation away from mate things and asking questions I hadn’t gotten an answer to since we first found him unconscious in the forest.

He was silent for a while before walking towards the liquor cabinet that I used to drink from when I had problems and wanted something to lighten my troubles.

Picking up a bottle of Whiskey and drinking it straight with an expressionless ease that made me raise my eyebrows in surprise as if to remind me that this man really wasn't just any man.

Yes, he's not just any Demon either.

It seems that his title as the highest-ranking demon, a Duke of Hell is not for nothing.

His aura and the power he displayed told me that I couldn't play around with him, that he could have killed me easily earlier but he didn't do it.

"Hiding..." He only said one word but I knew that it could lead to war and disaster if any Demon who knew he was hiding here, could come and destroy my territory easily.

D*mn it!!! Why did he have to come here?!

"From whom?" I asked sternly and looked at him closely, hoping that the answer was not from a young Demon that I knew was his greatest enemy, someone who was also not a random Demon and almost had the same power as him.

He finished the bottle of whiskey with a single gulp before setting it down on the table and turning to me who was nervously waiting for his answer "Asmodeus"

Oh G od, no... I thought in panic because it turns out that he did run away from hell here because he was running away from another dangerous Demon, Asmodeus.

And to think that this Demon in front of me is my daughter's mate?

No...

Gwen could be in danger if anyone finds out this secret, because a mate is a weakness for Demons and they will immediately come to her in order to weaken the Demon Astaroth.

What is this?

A day full of surprises for me?

Why did all this happen in one night?

So, could this be the reason why the Demon, Astaroth is thinking of rejecting my daughter?

He knows that he is in danger and having a mate could be his weakness.

Isn't that the same thing I did to Gwen?

My fear made me do the stupidest thing I've ever done to my mate.

Why do I feel like I'm seeing the past repeating itself?

Deja vu?

Or could it be karma?

Because this time I will also feel the pain that my daughter felt?