

The Alpha King's Fated Mate By Yui Ismutomo

Chapter 151

Staring at my mate who was laughing in the flower garden, I was happy to see her waking up and being healthy again.

Yes, since the Demon's departure, Gwen's health has returned to the original as if it was because of that man the health of my mate had deteriorated.

Sighed.

All of this is extremely unreasonable and unpredictable.

I don't know what will happen in the future.

"Listen king Titus" I remember the last words spoken by the Demon before he walked away from my territory "I don't know why this is happening, but it seems that I can't get close to your mate because it has a bad effect on her, actually it's the effect of the foetus in her stomach, so, until the baby is born, it's better if you let me go now" so I was right, he was the cause of why Gwen was experiencing a deterioration in health.

Why?

Is it because this man is a Demon?

But what does that have to do with the fetus or my future child?

Walking to open the balcony door, the Demon simply nodded his head before he jumped off and seemed to disappear without a trace, no one had ever seen him again since then and it had been almost a month since his disappearance.

Asmodeus hurt him, I don't know how he did it, but the news that my daughter is his mate must not be known to anyone or she could be in danger.

Yes, even Gwen cannot know or she will worry so much that it will affect the foetus she is carrying.

For the time being, I must keep all this a secret, just until my child is born and my mate is fully healthy.

I can't imagine what will happen when my daughter is born?

God, having a Demon mate?!

We are part of hell and were once Lucifer's loyal warriors, but is that the reason why Astaroth has a mate?

What about the other Demons, could they have one too?

I know that Lucifer also had a lover that he loved but couldn't have, is that why the hell creatures also have someone who is destined to be their mate?

I never thought this could happen, the possibility is there, but knowing the Demon's true nature, there is no way they would submit to love or a mate.

Turning towards the door, I raised an eyebrow in surprise to see my mate there, wasn't she down there earlier? I thought in surprise but still went up to her with a smile and kissed her lips.

“What are you doing here?” I asked softly and let her sit on my lap.

While wrapping her arms around my neck she shrugged “You’re the one who needs to tell me, why do you seem to have something on your mind lately and seem to be worried?” She asked directly and I cursed myself for not being able to hide myself from my mate who I should have realised would know that I was hiding something from her.

Sh*t, what should I say?

‘She knows.. Wolf’s voice came into my head and shocked me.

Destine knows? I asked him and hear him say ‘yes’

I should have known that this woman on my lap, my mate, has a white-wolf that is part of the Moon Goddess, she is not just any woman.

Of course Destine knows, I thought and let out a long sigh.

“You know...?” I opened the conversation and saw her nod her head.

“It’s just that the Demon is our future child’s mate and the fetus in my body is absorbing me so that it can be born to him soon”

My eyes widened at her words.

This is something new to me, is that why Astaroth left, he knew that my mate was in danger if he stayed there, the mate- bond was well established even though she was not born yet? Could that be possible?

This is all for the first time, so I don’t know anything. Even in my long life, I have never heard of a werewolf having a Demon mate, vampires yes, but Demons?

Never!

“I am the one who caused all this” I looked back at her and tilted her head to meet her gaze.

Was it because she was part of the Moon-Goddess that this was possible?

“It’s no one’s fault” I said gently with a smile to calm her down which was shortly reciprocated then hugged me tightly “Everything that happens is destined, like our journey, everything will end beautifully, just watch” I added, but I don’t know if the words I said were wishes for me or for her?

But for sure, whatever happens I will always protect the most important woman in my life, my mate and my daughter.

Everything has happened, we can’t always regret and mourn what has happened, what I can do now is not only to be a mate.

who will protect his mate with his life, but also to be a father who will protect his daughter even if it has to face the strongest Demon that I have to sacrifice my life, at least to ensure that my daughter is being happy and not shedding tears of sadness.

You just see, I won’t stand by if Astaroth makes my daughter cry in the future, no matter that I will lose to him, I just need to train to become even stronger so that I can face the strongest Demons that come from hell.

Clasping my hands into a fist while embracing my mate's body into my arms, I made a promise that I knew would be followed and approved by my wolf who also had affection for these women I cared about. 'Don't worry, I have your back, I will be the protector of our women' Wolf replied firmly and I couldn't hide my smile at his words. 'thankyou, Wolf'

Chapter 152

my office

The next day when I heard the howl that there was a guest from the werewolf guarding the perimeter, I was in walking towards the window to stare when I saw a silver SUV shortly approaching the palace 'If the guards let that car in, then they recognise the person driving it, but who?' I thought confusedly as I continued to stare at the vehicle as it continued to approach the palace where we lived.

And I shouldn't have been surprised when the car stopped in front of the lobby and a couple got out to show that they were Melissa and Drake who alighted from the four-wheeler.

Letting out a long sigh while smiling and shaking my head, I also knew that maybe Melissa had an instinct about what was going on, so they were here at this time.

"Well... Drake and Melissa are coming?" Harry's voice standing next to me made me wake up from my reverie and look over while nodding my head to confirm it.

"Did they call to come visit?" I asked the Beta who was standing next to me.

Harry shook his head as he answered me "No, yesterday as far as I know we only heard about the child who was hot for days explaining her 7th birthday but there was no info that they would be here" He said and made me understand that it was true that it seemed like Melissa was the cause of their sudden arrival.

However, the question is what made the white witch come here so soon? What caused her or rather, what did she know that led her to come here so quickly?

"Let's welcome them," I said softly as I walked out towards the guests who were unloading their luggage from the vehicle that brought them.

I knew that Melissa's arrival must have some meaning, and although I knew that this situation with the Demon was something that a witch could not possibly deal with, at least Melissa's power could help a little.

Approaching the lobby, I looked at the woman in front of me who was running dangerously small which made me quicken my footsteps to stop her from running so that she could put herself in danger.

Gwen, my mate, raised her head in shock as my hand held hers to stop her hurried footsteps "Be careful, dear, you could get hurt” I said softly and she just gave me her very cute smile that always made me weak because of her.

Da mn, she knows I’m weak against her, so there’s no way I’d get angry at anything she does, even if I know it could endanger her health.

“Melissa came, did you invite her?” She asked happily as we started walking hand in hand with slower footsteps.

I shook my head “They are here because of you” I replied briefly without elaborating and only gave information as if it was because of her pregnancy, not the problem with the Demon, because I was also uncertain about why they came here.

But seeing her nod with a smile still on her face, it seemed that she didn’t realise what I was thinking “I’m glad, Melissa can help me with my pregnancy” She said excitedly and I smiled too before giving a loving peck to my mate who was surprised before smiling in acceptance.

“And Drake jr also came with them” I added which made my mate even more happy, yes, Drake named his son Drake Jr., it was all Melissa who gave it, saying that she was not good with names, at first everyone just shook their heads at the uncreativity that the mother did to her first son, but in time everyone finally accepted and did not make fun of her for it anymore.

“Melissa!!!”

The white witch lifted her head after my mate called her name, and they let out a small shout of joy before hugging like a true friend.

Yes, I know that since the things that happened to them, Gwen and Melissa have become closer, like non-blood sisters.

Remembering how I lied to my mate by saying that Melissa was the one I loved at that time, I never believed that they would become best friends in the future.

Life is truly unpredictable.

I can only hope that everything will be alright, that this calmness and happiness that I feel will continue.

Drake, who saw me approached me while bowing his head respectfully “Greetings, king Alpha, sorry we came unannounced” He said politely and I just patted him on the shoulder before shaking my former Beta’s hand.

“Welcome to my territory again, Drake” I greeted him and made the man in front of me smile proudly “Our home will always be open to alliances” I added before we walked into the palace, following the two women, who were our mates started talking about things related to pregnancy.

Drake jr. who was silent at the back made me look back at him as he continued to stare at my mate "That's my mate, you've met her, haven't you?" I asked the boy who nodded his head before bowing respectfully towards me. Drake raised his son well, I thought proudly at the manners shown by this 7 year old boy in front of me. "Greetings, king Alpha" He said politely and I just put my hand on his head "I'm just amazed that even in her pregnancy, the queen always looks beautiful" The answer from the little boy in front of me made me raise my eyebrows before looking at his father who could only smile with a shrug. Seeing his son, Drake Jr, makes me think that he could be a great guardian for my future daughter. Is that why the child seems to admire my mate? Is it the effect of my future daughter? I don't know what will happen when my daughter is actually born, because even while she's still in my mate's womb, there are already two males admiring her mother because of her.

Chapter 153

"It turns out that my son is the guardian of the future baby king," I quickly looked at my former Beta who was sitting next to me in the study. He smiled at my surprise, I guess he knew I didn't expect him to know about it.

Sighing while shaking my head "You're aware apparently" I said quietly and leaned my head on the sofa, all of this gave me a headache.

Could it be that he is aware of what's going on? Is that why he came here? I thought. Click...

The office door closed and from the scent I knew it was my current Beta, Harry.

It seems that I have to explain to them and can't hide this anymore if Drake is here, most likely he already got the information from his mate who is a witch.

Sitting up straight and letting the two men know that I was about to speak seriously from my gestures, they glanced at each other before straightening their seats while waiting for me to speak.

"The queen is pregnant with the future princess" I said as an opening and made them look happy after hearing it. Yes, I was happy when I heard the news from my mate.

However, Drake, who had been beside me longer, noticed my expression was far from happy, so he asked "Then what's wrong?

You look stressed" He asked directly without a preamble.

"Is it related to that guy we found the other day?" Harry added and made Drake look at him in surprise after hearing the words that my Beta threw out.

"A guy? What guy?" Asked Drake in shock with a furrowed brow.

I smiled a little as I listened to Harry explain the thing he found a while ago and how he disappeared without a trace as well as my order telling all the weirdos not to look for that guy anywhere.

Yes, I realized that for the first time I was telling them not to look for the man who ran away from the territory, because they didn't know the things I knew.

No wonder they must have thought I was crazy and weird for letting that man just walk away.

Drake looked back at me after he listened to Harry's explanation, from the look he gave me I knew that he knew that I was hiding something from everyone.

"Who was that man, King Titus?" he immediately asked, realizing that I was hiding the truth about him.

Letting out a long sigh, I looked into the eyes of my former Beta "Why are you here, Drake?" I asked him back.

He shrugged "Melissa.." He replied as he let out a long breath.

"What did she say to you?" I pressed him.

He sighed "She dreamt something bad happened to the queen" My hair stood on end and my emotions instantly rose after hearing that.

SH*T!!!

"AARRGHH!!!" I screamed in frustration and flipped the table in front of me until it broke in half which startled the two men who knew very well that my anger was peaking, that Wolf was taking over my body.

They knew not to stop me and just looked at me, as if waiting for my emotions to subside.

Letting out a long sigh, I finally looked up and stared into the eyes of the two men who were silently staring at me.

"What's wrong?" Harry asked.

Throwing myself back onto the sofa, I folded my arms in front of me before saying, "Do you remember how my father, the previous king, told me about Baal coming and almost causing chaos in the palace?" I asked Drake without looking him in the eye.

Yes, that time my father told me and Drake who was always beside me also knew about it.

Turning to my former Beta as he nodded his head "Baal the Demon? Yes, I remember"

He replied quietly and could hear his heartbeat quicken as he realized what I was about to say had to do with Demons as well.

Smiling a little, I continued "The man you found in the forest, Harry, he's Astaroth..." I said and left them both wide-eyed in shock as if they couldn't believe what I was saying.

"F*ck!" Drake cursed loudly. Meanwhile, Harry looked like he had seen a ghost and was very pale.

Well, considering that Demons are part of ghosts, it's no wonder he was surprised like that.

"A.. A Demon??" Harry asked and I nodded my head to confirm him.

Drake combs his hair absentmindedly, one of his habits when he is nervous or worried about something.

"What is he doing here?" He asked after a while.

I looked at him seriously. "You know who hates him?" I asked quietly and nodded my head as the two men seemed to realize something.

"Asmodeus..." They answered simultaneously.

Yes, the bad relationship between the two Demons was common knowledge to all, but it was never known that their war reached the human world.

"But what do the two Demons have to do with us, king?" Harry asked in confusion and I knew the answer I was about to give him would make both men faint, even I still couldn't believe it.

"And why is it related to the queen that Melissa saw in danger?" Drake added.

There was only one thing that could put my mate in danger, the possibility that Asmodeus knew who my mate was carrying. Yes, having a mate for them is a weakness, that's why Astaroth doesn't want anything to do with my daughter, he knows that having a mate will be his weakness.

I must protect them both, the women who matter in my life.

"Because the queen, my mate, is carrying my daughter.... She is the mate.... My baby-to-be, that princess is the mate of Astaroth." I answered so quietly that the whole room fell silent as the two men looked very shocked by my news.

Chapter 154

For a moment after I told them about it, no one spoke, as if they wanted to absorb the information first, hoping that what I said was not what they heard.

"Sorry..." Drake cleared his throat "I seem to have misheard you..."

Smiling a little at him, I understand, they don't trust their ears "Yeah... The princess-to-be, the daughter my mate is carrying is the mate of Astaroth the Demon" I said once again with a firm tone that this time made Harry collapse onto a nearby couch as if his legs couldn't support his body any longer.

Drake was silent and went back to combing his hair until instead of being neat, it was messier.

If only we weren't in this state, I would've teased them but I couldn't laugh at the moment.

"Then what are we going to do?" Drake said and I was speechless because I was touched by his comment that 'We' think this is their problem too.

Again, I couldn't help but be moved by this.

"I've never heard of a Demon having a mate" Harry commented and I nodded my head.

"Me too" I said and sighed "That's why all this is stressing me out, and my mate... She fainted because her fetus absorbed her energy because she wanted to be with her mate, the Demon" I added which again made the two men bulge their eyes in surprise at my words.

"Oh G od, I can't believe this is happening" Drake commented rubbing his face as if he wanted to wake himself up from a dream but knew that what I was saying was not a dream but the truth that was happening. Everyone fell silent again, buried in their own thoughts.

Yes, everyone knew that Demons were the most dangerous creatures, there was nothing good about being associated with them.

Their instinct to always create evil defeats all good things so there is almost nothing good that can be done when dealing with Demons.

The princess' mate is one of the Demons? Not only that but the Demon who has power is not arbitrary.

I don't know what will happen to my daughter in the future.

G od, this is all so impossible, why did you give my daughter this fate?

I don't care if her mate is just a human, but why a Demon?

"Then, where is that Demon now?" Drake broke the silence and asked questions that even I could not answer.

I shrugged helplessly "He left, said he didn't need a mate because it could be his weakness" I replied sarcastically but Drake just nodded his head as he continued to stare at me with a strange expression "What?" I asked while frowning at him.

"I seem to have heard those words before" replied my ex Beta who seemed to stab me sharply with his words.

D*mn it!

He's right... That's just like me, when I rejected Gwen!!!

I just rolled my eyes which made him furrow his brows again to show that he was thinking hard.

You mean..." I asked softly and he nodded his head.

"He is doing what you did back then, protecting his mate" Drake replied firmly to me, actually I have also had the same thought about it, but I am afraid that it is just a whim and dream that could hurt my daughter due to too much hope, so I better think the worst so that if it turns out that the bad thing is not true, she will be very happy and my daughter's happiness is now also my priority.

"Drake has a point, king" Harry chimed in on our conversation and made me think hard

"We know of his bad relationship with the Asmodeus, maybe he did that to keep his enemies from using the princess" He said and I let out a long sigh after hearing the explanation from the two men I trusted.

The possibility is there, what they said makes sense, but still I am here to protect my daughter, especially knowing that the Demon who is my daughter's mate disappeared as if he didn't care.

"Right now, our priority is the safety of the queen and her foetus" I ordered firmly and they nodded their heads simultaneously obediently "This is going to be a secret between the three of us because I don't want anyone else to know which led to Asmodeus hearing about this that could be fatal for the two women I love, so... Are you coming back to live here Drake?" I looked at my former Beta as I asked him about moving back here, I knew he ran the best anti-venom hospital now in Switzerland, so understood that he would have to go back there at any time but I also knew having him and his mate here could be a good thing for us.

However, Drake smiled and patted my shoulder "Melissa and the queen have a closer relationship than a sister and ever since she had the dream that the queen was in danger, you've decided that we'll stay here until you're sure she's out of danger" His answer brought a smile to my face and I nodded my head before shaking his hand until we shook.

"It's good to have you back, brother" I greeted him and Harry tapped him on the shoulder as a sign of welcome.

The three of us, we were like in the old days of war where it was always the three of us, and I'm glad they continue to be by my side until now "Thank you everyone, you're always here" I said calmly and they just nodded their heads firmly while giving me a grin.

I know this path will be more dangerous, because what we face are Demons, Asmodeus and Astaroth, well... I can only hope that Astaroth will be on my side as he is the mate of my daughter, but again I also understand that we cannot rely on Demons who are known to be evil and cunning, but at least I know that I have parties that will never leave me, friends who are always loyal to me so that I can face any enemy at this time to protect the people I love,

Chapter 155

"No one should know" Drake stated loudly and Harry nodded his head in agreement with his friend's words.

I smiled proudly at my two trusted men, proud to call them non-blood brothers as well as my best friends.

Thanks, guys" I said and patted both of their shoulders as they nodded their heads to me.

But... Tap... Tap....

Footsteps were heard walking towards the workspace we occupied, from the footsteps we knew that it was a pair of women, yes, it seemed that my mate and Drake's mate were walking towards our workspace, possibly looking for where we were.

The three of us smiled at each other, before Harry walked towards the door and opened it just as they were about to.

"Harry..." Melissa greeted surprised with a smile on her face while I stared past them to stare at my beautiful mate, with her stomach starting to bulge beautifully staring at me with her smile that always thrilled my heart "Didn't know you were à gentleman now" I heard Melissa tease my Beta which made Drake growl beside me before he walked towards his mate.

I couldn't help but be amused at Melissa's words as if she was intentionally making his mate, my former Beta jealous.

Walking towards my mate who was smiling broadly after hearing her best friend's words, I wrapped my arms around her waist and gave her an intimate peck on the forehead "Hello, darling" I said to my amazing mate then lowered my head to kiss her stomach where I knew my daughter was forming there "Hello to you too, beautiful" I said to my mate's distended stomach which made her giggle.

"I didn't expect you to ask Melissa to come to accompany me, thank you, Titus" I tried not to react to my mate's words about the reason why Melissa was here.

With a smile on my face I nodded my head "For you, dear" I said then gave a hug and looked at Melissa who only gave a guilty smile while Harry just shook his head.

You punk!!! Couldn't she have warned me first before telling such lies? I thought annoyed but on the other hand happy that she didn't explain the truth.

Is there anything Melissa wants to explain to me?

Why did she lie?

Hmm... There is something she needs to explain to me.

Realizing what was going through my mind right now, Drake and Melissa nodded their heads slowly, knowing that they had something to explain to me.

"How are you today?" I asked my mate and led her towards the sofa.

I knew that being pregnant with an Alpha child would be very tiring, because the power that the fetus would have was so great, that it could make the mother carrying it very tired, so that if she was not strong, there were many cases that they would miscarry before the baby could be born.

Having said that, I know I am not the only Alpha, so the power that the baby-to-be of my child will have will make my mate,

Gwen, very tired, especially considering she has a part of the Moon Goddess in her body, yes, it will make my child stronger than

I can imagine:

Gwen smiled with a sigh as she touched the sofa "She's not too fussy today" She replied softly and I couldn't help but stroke her cheeks as well as her very beautiful self, yes, since she was pregnant, her beauty seemed to be more than usual, so I had to restrain my desire greatly because I knew at this time she would not be able to face two Alphas at the same time, yes, the baby-to-be of my child, although female, but she was the first born so it was no surprise that she had the strength of an Alpha. Smiling at her upon hearing her answer, I knelt down in front of my mate so I could rest my head on her lap.

Click!

The closed door sounded behind me, knowing that everyone had left the room to give us some time alone and I really appreciated their understanding.

Yes, they knew that I needed to do this to hold back the fear, worry and anger of what was happening right now, that only my mate could control my emotions and this bad Wolf.

"You seem worried lately, are you okay?" She asked while gently rubbing my head. I tried not to show my emotions and just inhaled deeply the scent that started to change, yes, my mate's smell has changed, I think it's a mixed smell with the baby who is my son.

"Explain more about our daughter, you haven't told me the details of how she is" I said, trying to shift the conversation and focus away from my worried-looking self.

Gwen seemed excited and happy to hear my words and she explained in detail about the little girl who appeared in her dream last night.

A very beautiful little girl who she said looked like me but also looked like her.

I can't wait to see her, my little girl...

"What do you want to name her, dear?" The words my mate asked made me stare in shock.

Name?

Oh, Sh*t!!!

Yes, she's right, we should give her a name, why didn't I think of that?!

An amused giggle came from my mate's mouth "You didn't think of that, did you?" She was right and I just gave her a guilty smile which she returned with a big smile that was so pretty that I couldn't resist giving her a long, ferocious peck, something I should have been able to resist, but seeing my mate in front of me so pretty and adorable, made me lose my patience not to give her the attention she deserved.

"I love you, Gwen.. My love.. My wife.. My everything!" I whisper on her lips before claiming it again.

Chapter 156

After Drake and Melissa's arrival, a week went by without anything happening, and I hadn't found the right time to talk to either of them about why Melissa hadn't explained her reasons honestly to my mate.

Yes, training and strict guarding began, although many were confused about why I ordered this, but they knew how much I was worried about my mate in her pregnant condition, making excuses that would always be in their minds so that I could make a safe environment for my mate, yes, they were not wrong, but also not 100% right and I did not want to correct or explain the truth, only Harry and Drake who were currently helping as advisers in training at the palace knew the real reason and they became the eyes and encouragement for all members to become stronger and better.

The two of them also, with the help of the white witch, learned about the Demon's weaknesses from some old and secret books in my library.

The two of them sometimes spent a lot of time reading, something I never thought could happen but this time I really saw with my own eyes that they were really reading. Wow!!!

Drake Jr. Since his introduction and welcome to always be around my mate, never far from her.

What we think is so cute but wish they were mates, well, maybe it would be so easy and fun if my daughter was Drake Jr.'s mate and all this protection and stuff I'm doing wouldn't exist.

I hurriedly shook my head due to this disturbing thought, yes, I must not regret, this is all for the sake of my daughter.

"So..." One night as I walked towards the bed where my mate was waiting I joined her asking me "Have you thought of a name?"

"Yes, I did" I replied quietly and made her gasp in surprise.

"Really?" She asked excitedly and made me chuckle.

"Yes, did you think I wouldn't think of one?" I teased while flicking the tip of her nose.

She laughed which made me melt by hearing those laughs "Tell me" She demanded and she's the only one who'd be able to order me like that, only her.

"I am thinking... Elisabeth..?".

"Like the queen??? No..." She laughed.

"How about Mercedes..?" I try again.

"What?? NOOOO..!!!"

Hmm... I didn't know choosing a name would be this much trouble? I thought.

"Adelle? You like the singer" I tried to give her input but again she shook her head.

"Not for my daughter's name... Do you have any more?" She asked curiously and I couldn't help but chuckle.

"Do you have any?" I asked her back.

She nodded her head excitedly "Of course and mine is awesome" She said proudly and made me almost roll my eyes for making me think of this name when she had already decided on one.

"Name yours" I coaxed but again she shook her head "Come on... I've already given you 3 names that you rejected, I don't know anymore" I added and made her giggle in a very cute way.

"Okay" Finally she nodded her head and made me wary of the name she was going to tell me "I was thinking about...

Alexandra..." My eyes widened because that was the last name I wanted to say.

"Hey, I was thinking of the same name" I said quickly but the woman in my arms looked at me in disbelief which made me laugh out loud "What? It's true!" I said behind my laughter.

This peace and happiness that I feel is something I don't want to lose.

Yes, I really enjoy the time I spend with her, even if it's just to choose a name but everything becomes very wonderful because of her.

"2.5 months away" She sighs as she hugs me and rests her head on my chest. Yes, this is our habit every time we go to bed, she will definitely hug me tightly, well... I won't complain about this because I really like how close we are right now "I can't wait to meet her"

While starting to stroke her hair I also put my lips on her head while inhaling my mate's distinctive fragrance that has been mixed with the smell of my future daughter "Me too... Imagining her as you described, I'm eager to meet her" I replied seriously and felt her head nodding.

I heard the purring and steady breathing of my mate as she fell asleep without us coming up with a name for our future daughter.

I could only chuckle softly at the memory of today's events and began to close my eyes to follow my mate into the peace of the dream world.

Hoping that nothing bad will happen to this family of mine in my arms, that everything will be/okay, that everything will go on as usual with happiness like today.

However, just as the bad things will end, so will the good things, they will pass quickly before we can absorb them.

It was the month Gwen was nearing the birth of their baby girl, the daughter of the Alpha king who would hold the throne, when something untoward happened.

Oh well...

Lightning strikes and wind rains like a warning of bad things to come, bad things to come into their territory.

Titus and the others were alerted when they heard from the perimeter guards that there was a man with large, long black wings walking towards the kingdom.

Oh G od, no... thought Titus but knew that they had to be prepared to welcome whoever the Demon was that came into their territory this time.

Creak...

The moment the main gate opened and Titus and the others were already waiting uncertainly while trying to digest who was coming. Within seconds he was about to ask the king for a favor, to untie the mate, but knew it was impossible.

Seeing the red eyes and the large black wings, Titus immediately knew that the Demon in front of him was....

"Asmodeus... What brings you to this human world?" I greeted while bowing my head and kneeling in front of him.

Chapter 157

What the hell?!

Why did they come here anyway? I thought annoyed looking slowly at the Demon figure that was getting closer to where I was standing.

SH't, this is bad!

'Stay calm, and don't do anything stupid, even don't dare to stare at him longer and just low your head, this isn't any kind of

Demon, this is practically like a Demon prince' I told my member through mind-link.

Everything, based on my orders, no one moves to attack him or dare to challenge him, we all know how Demon and his arrogance, the slightest mistake that he thinks offends him, can be fatal for everything and I don't want to gamble on that.

Asmodeus is the Demon who personifies and represents lust, the sexual sin related to adultery. He is the demon who exists as the arch-rival of the angel of Chastity, Gabriel.

Asmodeus is a member of the Seven Princes of Hell and the embodiment of Lust, one of the Seven Deadly Sins. As the demon of lust, he manipulates the sexual desires of humans. Everyone who fails to resist his corruption will be condemned to spend an eternity in the second layer of Hell. Asmodeus can be a ruthless monster or a mischievous demon who is an expert on satire. He also has an intense dislike of birds and water as to him, they are a reminder of God...

Asmodeus commands hundreds of legions of demons. His authority over Hell is second to Lucifer and Satan. He also oversees all the gambling houses that reside in the court of Hell. He is sometimes compared to Abaddon by theologians.

Before falling, Asmodeus was known as Asmodel, the angel of April and Patience and the ruler of Taurus.

He is one of the Kings of Hell under Lucifer the emperor. He incites gambling, and is the overseer of all the gambling houses in the court of Hell. He is considered a prince of revenge.

In Hell, they said that Asmodeus looks like a human, he has stark black eyes and two rows of shark teeth sticking out of his mouth and with a lion's head on his left shoulder while on his right shoulder there is a goat's head. In this form, Asmodeus has no hair on his head, but has a muscular appearance from the waist up and two bat wings protruding from his back. From the waist down, he has what looks like kangaroo legs and a long dragon's tail.

His horrible appearance is capable of causing fear and repudiation in humans who fall into Hell, and that is the demon's intention, but now, he looks like a young man in his early 30s who is very handsome, no wonder why he is said to be a Demon of Lust, yes, right now I am starting to smell some lust rising from the women who are staring at his very seductive human figure, d*mn it!!!

And I also understand why he is also called a boy by Astaroth, yes, his human figure does look like a younger man than all the Demons I have met and heard of so far.

He smiled as if he could hear what was going on in my head but I knew that the only thing Demons couldn't do was read minds, yes, they wanted that skill, however, they never got it because that's why seduction and temptation were the main things in order to trap their prey and victims

"Alpha King, Rolf Titus" He said quietly while telling me to get up with a flick of his finger.

An atmosphere of silence pervaded the entire place, as if even just to breathe they were afraid.

Yes, perhaps this was a new thing for all of them, meeting a real Demon, let alone not an ordinary Demon.

"Why are you here, Asmodeus?" I asked him and made him raise an interested eyebrow at my words.

He strolled around casually which made some of the members have to gulp nervously and fearfully at the sight of him.

I sighed, he seemed to like this situation "Asmodeus..." I called out to remind him.

The demon only snickered before he turned back to me and gave me a pained expression as if I was preventing him from having fun.

Demon!!! I thought angrily.

"I heard this was the last place my brother went to... maybe you've seen it?" Asked the Demon to me, he looked relaxed but I knew the threat implied by his words "Astaroth... Did you see him?" He added with his eyes fixed on me.

So he knows Astaroth is here, damn it!!!

I knew that there was no way I could lie to him, he would be furious if he found out that we were trying to lie to him.

"Yes, we found an unconscious man in the forest and only found out it was Astaroth after he regained consciousness" I told him without giving any additional information on what we found afterwards.

"Then where is he now?" He asked looking interested and looking around as if he wanted to find him among the group of members who were here at the moment.

"He's gone..." I replied.

He raised an eyebrow and looked back at me "Just like that?"

I nodded my head "We knew he wasn't a normal Demon and we weren't his opponent so yes, I let him go" I replied without blinking my eyes and continued to look at him to state that I was telling the truth.

"I see..."

He paused and continued to stare at his surroundings before turning back to me and uttering words that made me have to restrain myself from my anger and emotions.

"I heard your mate is pregnant with your pup?"

Everyone looked tense and tried not to get angry after hearing her mention my pregnant mate, even Wolf could only growl inside my head and I tried not to react.

Smiling a little I nodded my head "Yes, I will finally have a bloodline" I replied lightly.

The demon just continued to stare at me, hoping that I would let my emotions out for a few moments before he finally smiled widely with his fangs showing and burst out laughing.

"Relax... Why so tense?!!!" He said between laughs.

SH*IT!!!!

We got played by this d*mn Demon?!

Chapter 158

The Demon's explosive laughter rang out and no one else found it funny until I let out another long sigh.

Indeed Demon is very different, I thought irritably but knew I couldn't do anything at the moment, afraid that Demon's anger could lead to bad things for my members who are currently around us.

Yes, I have to act smart and not be in a hurry that is fatal to my people.

"Let's talk inside" I invited and he, the Demon, just raised an eyebrow in silence while watching me carefully, as if he wanted to find out my true purpose.

D*mn it, I really don't know how to act with these Demons, they are so unpredictable and I don't know what to do, this is a first, d*mn it!!!

The Demon looked at me silently with a sardonic smile before walking ahead of me, as if he knew the ins and outs of this territory.

I know, it's a form of intimidation that he does to make us feel uncomfortable, but I just sighed softly and kept a calm look while following him into the palace, yes, I know it's useless to take him away from this place, he can definitely find my office and see his steady footsteps, my guess is right, he knows.

But to what extent does he know?

That's what I want to find out more...

"What is it with you and Astaroth?" I opened the conversation while walking with him and heard a rude snort come out of his mouth when I said it "He was unconscious and injured when we found him" I added but he still kept walking and didn't respond to me, ugh, he's great I thought annoyed!

For a while he didn't answer me and just stayed silent, I kept walking until I reached a very familiar door that was the door to my office.

Opening the door, I gave a glance towards the guards who were following us from behind and gave a soothing nod to them, who

I knew would be eager to come inside so that they could protect me in the room and not leave me alone with her.

But one thing they didn't realize was that with me inside, it would be easier for me to move and threaten him without worrying about him doing something to my members around me like earlier.

The question is, can I win against him?

"That beautiful man thought I was too young to beat him and I proved him wrong, I can beat him if I want to" The words spoken by the Demon surprised me.

I didn't expect him to tell me about it.

Yes, the hostile relationship and rivalry between the two of them is legendary, and hearing it from him, it seems that it is more than just a rivalry.

When he noticed my surprise, the Demon gave me a mischievous smile before making his way to the liquor cabinet that I had stashed in the corner of the room.

Just like Astaroth did, I thought and tried not to shake my head remembering that the beautiful Demon he had insulted also took the same drink he was currently sipping.

"So you hurt him?" I asked again for reassurance, I thought they were equal in strength, maybe Astaroth was even stronger, but apparently I was wrong?

"I attacked him when he least expected and predicted it" He replied casually while taking a swig of whiskey straight from the bottle which made me almost, frown at him.

D*mn it! I had to throw that drink away, because the saliva of demons is very dangerous for earthlings, and also for us werewolves.

"And apparently, knowing he's hiding, I'm sure he must know by now not to mess with me" he added with a smug and arrogant face that made me understand why Astaroth hated him.

This boy really didn't realize that he wasn't the greatest here.
"I see.." Not knowing what to say, I just said that.
Hey, I hate small talk!!!

Asmodeus, who noticed my curiosity raised an eyebrow before walking over to me
"What's this? The Alpha king doesn't seem to be afraid of me?" He challenged while pointing towards my cheek, trying to anger me with his lack of chastisement towards me.
However, I was already well-versed in this kind of manipulation, so it was impossible for him to get anything he wanted from me at the moment..

I shrugged casually and took a drink from the liquor cabinet as well and poured it into a glass and took a quick sip "What do you want here, Asmodeus?" I asked matter-of-factly and straight to the point.
His red eyes looked at me intently with a sardonic smile still on display on his face, I could tell he was upset, but he didn't want to show it.

We both know each other's strengths and I think he also knows he can't hurt me because of my good relationship with Lucifer.

"Why did Astaroth leave without doing anything here?" He asked and I raised a confused eyebrow at the question the Demon in front of me threw out.

"What do you mean?" I asked in astonishment.

"I know how angry Astaroth would be if he found out I defeated him to the point of destroying everything he encountered, but why didn't he destroy this place when he woke up?"

D*MN IT!!!!

He knew Astaroth's nature so well, he suspected something was preventing his rival from doing what he would normally do, but did not.

"What is there here that keeps him from doing what I think he's going to do?" He looked at me sharply as he threw the question towards me again "I really want to know what happened back then? Made him just leave this place without any damage?"

F*ck! What should I say?

Chapter 159

Oh. My. G od.

He said what?!

What does he mean by saying that? Does he want this territory to be destroyed because he managed to injure the Astaroth and angered the Demon to destroy my territory?!

D*mn it!!!!

If he wasn't just any Demon, I would have destroyed him.

"What do you mean, you want my territory destroyed? Is that what you expect?" I asked angrily and he raised an eyebrow in shock at my reaction.

"I was just wondering, there's no need to get angry, calm down mutt" He deflected but he made me even more annoyed

D*mn, it's true what Astaroth said, this boy is so annoying!!!

"My mate is pregnant with my child, do you think I'm going to stand idly by knowing he's going to do something terrible here?

Think again about who's standing in front of you right now, Asmodeus" I almost called him a boy but managed to change it smoothly and called him by his name.

Yes, I don't know what he would do if I called him by the same name as his enemy, Astaroth did.

Asmodeus raised his hands as if he was giving up but still with an annoying smile on his face.

Ugh... This boy is getting more and more annoying, I thought irritably.

"Do you mind if I stay here for a while?" He asked still with that annoying smile.

"Of course" I quickly answered him and he didn't look angry but just laughed out loud as if my reaction was very funny to him.

"What do you want, Asmodeus?" I asked again and this time the Demon paused and then showed a different expression than before.

He looked at me intently before walking over to me.

Staring into my eyes he said "I will destroy everything if I find out you are hiding

Astaroth, the Alpha King and I hope you have nothing to do with Astaroth's disappearance, for your own good" He threatened quietly but I knew that it was not just a threat, but a promise.

D*mn it!

I knew this would happen since the Demon Astaroth came here, but now his enemies know he was here and think we're hiding him.

God, what am I supposed to do?

I can't possibly be in the middle of a powerful Demon battle like these two.

All my members could die in an instant and my mate's safety is also at stake.

Especially if he knows the baby my mate is carrying is.....

No... I have to protect everyone from this stupid battle of Demons.

I won't let my daughter be in the middle of this battle.

"I want you to be careful when you talk to me, Asmodeus, you know who I am and I will not let you threaten me with things that have not been confirmed," I said angrily to the Demon who was still wearing a cynical smile towards me, he did not flinch and continued to stare at me in silence and that smile.

The longer I talk to him, the more I understand why Astaroth wants to get rid of this boy, he really doesn't know manners and is very arrogant.

How they can put up with him is amazing to me, I've only been a few minutes and I want to tear him apart with my wolf claws.

We looked at each other for a while until finally he nodded his head and sighed "Okay... Okay..." He eventually said and finished his liquor in one long gulp before putting the empty bottle on the table "You don't have to growl like a dog, I thought you were a wolf?!" He snapped and made me growl again to contain my anger and emotions.

This kid is really annoying!!!!

An annoying smile tugged at the corners of his lips, indicating he knew how much he was upsetting me, damn it!!!

I can't be provoked, calm down Titus, take a deep breath, I'm trying to calm myself down.

"Werewolf, how you guys are so easily ignorant of everything" He grumbled as he shook his head,

Yes, that's one of our weaknesses and I'm aware of it, it seems that everyone knows it too and that's why he's taking advantage of the ups and downs of my emotions.

"You used to be fun, not caring about anything and destroying everything... Until these mates appeared, you were no longer fun"

Asmodeus grumbled like a child who didn't get his toys.

Yes, I remember that story...

We used to be the strongest Lucifer patriots because we were invincible and wild, whatever the king of hell ordered we would listen to and do without mercy, that changed since the moon Goddess brought up mate for us, in order to reduce our wildness, the werewolves, since then everything changed and our wildness seemed to decrease.

"Everything's changed, everything's become unpleasant... even Lucifer isn't as crazy now as he used to be" I raised an eyebrow as I heard Asmodeus' follow-up remark.

He sounded like a lonely person, like a child who didn't have friends or a place to play, but the problem was that his games involved killing and blood, I sighed softly and didn't know how to respond.

He can be very dangerous, because a destruction-hungry person like him, who doesn't know the meaning of someone who is meaningful can be a danger.

How can I return him to hell?

To get him out of here immediately?!

Because he can know things I don't want him to know and make things more complicated, because I'm not sure if Astaroth will react or not, yes, I'm not sure yet if Astaroth will consider a mate an important thing for him and not a nuisance.

The fear is that Asmodeus has done something crazy just to see Astaroth's reaction but the Demon is just silent and lets him do anything without reacting, my mate could be destroyed if that happens, it is my daughter who is likely to be sacrificed.

Chapter 160

Third Party Point of View:

Unbeknownst to them or anyone else, a pair of mates were watching a pregnant woman in a kingdom ruled by the most powerful Alpha king ever to have lived on earth.

He was aware of what happened to the Alpha king in the past and his dealings with the black witch who had almost defeated him, but again the moon Goddess intervened in it, she gave her trusted white-wolf to the mate, but I still can't figure out why the moon Goddess likes to interfere like that?

However, this time that's not all that happened.....

Me, having a mate????

Crazy... It seems like the Goddess has gone completely crazy!!!

It was the only thing I could think of after learning about the crazy thing that happened a while ago.

Me? Mate?

Huh? I'm not even part of a mutt, how could that be possible? Crazy!!!

This must be the work of that stupid kid who thought he could always beat me and get rid of me from hell and Lucifer.

He thought I'd just believe him?

He's so stupid to think that happened.

Zziipp....

Looking towards the forest, she knew whose power this was that was approaching.

Huh... Could it be that it knows I'm here?

Sh*t!!!

I was right, he apparently has a plan with that Alpha king, I didn't think the Alpha king could go this low by cooperating with that crazy boy.

How could he have reacted as if he didn't know back then?

What a liar!!!

I will never believe anyone!!!

He thinks I'm stupid?!

Huh, I don't care what happens to that mother and child, even if they die, they think I'll worry and care?

I'll show them that it doesn't matter to me, just watch, I'll even kill them with my own hands if necessary, to prove that I can't be lied to

Seeing the crimson eyes of the familiar crazy boy, I removed myself from the area but not without taking one last look at the pregnant woman carrying a daughter on her b*dy.

Yes, unbeknownst to Astaroth, Gwen and her baby had become important figures to the Demon, without or with him realizing it.

With his gaze fixed on the huge belly of the Luna queen, Astaroth left the kingdom's territory in silence, yes, something he had been doing lately without anyone noticing...

He always ended up in front of queen Luna's room, not doing anything, but just looking at her from a distance, something that would be considered creepy or even like a stalker and knew that it could get him killed if the Alpha king found out he was here and seemed to be stalking his mate, but he didn't care, why?

Even she didn't realize that what she was doing right now was odd.

Appearing at the door of hell she met Lucifer who was walking gracefully towards his palace, immediately she bowed her b*dy and greeted the king of darkness.

"Hail King Lucifer" He greeted and the king of hell only looked at him before nodding his head for him to stand up.

"You're not like usual, Duke" greeted the king of hell which made him raise a confused eyebrow.

How did he know?

"Is it Asmodeus again?" She asked and he just rolled his eyes at the boy's name.

"He hurt me from behind, that cowardly boy!!!" I said in annoyance which made the king of hell snicker under his breath.

"He wants a playmate, you know that" He said casually which made me just remain silent and not answer him.

I rolled my eyes "Why me, there's plenty of other Demons..."

He snorted before patting my back "Because only you can defeat him" He replied before walking ahead of me into his palace and leaving me confused.

What did he mean by that?

Only I can defeat it?

I knew Lucifer wasn't one to explain and say things casually, but this time I didn't understand what he meant at all.

Sh*t!!!

*****

Third Party Point of View (Melissa):

Finally the Demon left....

This was the umpteenth time he had come only to stare at queen Luna or perhaps the baby she was carrying with a longing gaze that could get him killed if the Alpha king, Titus saw him and assumed the longing gaze was directed at his mate.

God, I don't know why this is happening but it never entered my mind or my predictions. I thought Drake Jr would be the princess's mate, not a Demon let alone one of the most powerful Demons I've ever heard of.

Astaroth...

Lord, everything I knew about her was legend or rumor, I never thought that Demon really existed.

Even in a very beautiful human figure, if he were not a man then everyone would definitely consider him a very beautiful woman.

But after facing the black witch, then the ghost and also the last thing that happened in that hospital, I should no longer be surprised that this is really the case.

All things are possible in this world.

Even I, a witch, should no longer be surprised to hear and know about this.

The power felt from that Demon figure is so strong, I even get goosebumps if I get close to it.

And also the power of the fetus....

Yes, I also felt the immense power coming from the fetus.

What will happen if the two powers meet, or even become mates?

I don't want to imagine how everyone would respond if they knew that the Astaroth, the Duke of hell, had a werewolf mate.

And Gwen....

I still couldn't see her in the future, as if she didn't exist in the future, only the silver-haired little girl who was still standing next to the figure of the Alpha king, who was her father.

Where is the mother?

Where is queen Luna, Gwen?

why isn't she with them?
