

The Alpha King's Fated Mate By Yui Ismutomo

Chapter 161

Back to Rolf Titus Point of View:

The Demon continued to stare boldly as if daring him to do something or even attack him, and Titus, the Alpha king did the same, not lowering his gaze from the Demon in front of him.

The atmosphere was still very tense in the room containing the Alpha king and the Demon Asmodeus, so if anyone came they would immediately understand that a cold war was going on between the two.

A battle where the aura of power competed with each other that almost made it impossible for ordinary people to breathe if they were in the same room with them.

"Alright then, I'll trust you now" Finally the Demon said what the Alpha king Titus wanted to hear, that he was leaving.

Thank goodness, he thought.

"But..."

Oh Sh*t!!! I knew there would be a catch.

I'm going to wander around for a bit, check things out before I leave, that's how I'll know if you're lying or not" He looked at me sharply as he said that, a clear threat.

He doesn't care who I am and dares to say that threat directly to me, damn it!

"Why do you need to go around my territory?" I asked quickly.

He tilted his head "There are things that only fellow Demons can do and feel" He said suspiciously but I understood that he seemed to think I was hiding the Demon Astaroth, but how did he check?

"Do what you want to do" I shrugged casually.

A second later the Demon Asmodeus disappeared before my eyes with a smile still on his face.

I don't know what he will do but I have to tell the members to ignore him if they see him wandering around. I don't want any chaos due to the boy's actions.

Knock.. Knock...

Drake and Harry walked into my office and looked around "She's gone?" Drake asked before walking inside and sitting next to me on the couch.

I nodded my head "Yeah, he just disappeared, so much style, the arrogant one!" I grumbled in annoyance.

Harry grabbed a drink from the cabinet with 2 glasses for him and Drake, he looked at me as if asking if I wanted one but I shook my head, I didn't want to drink alcohol at the moment, everything was making me dizzy.

"What does he want?" Harry asked as he handed the glasses to his partner, Drake.

I sighed "Looking for Astaroth" I answered briefly.

"Is he?"

"No, I hurriedly said so that no one would overhear us.

Both pairs of eyes from Harry and Drake were wide-eyed in shock, yes, currently the Demon is still roaming this area, I don't want there to be a possibility of him hearing our current conversation, let alone mentioning that my future daughter or son is a mate of Astaroth.

I can't imagine what would happen if that crazy boy heard my words.

"He's still traveling around the region, be careful" I said quietly but I knew they could hear the warning I said even though it was very quiet.

They simultaneously nodded their heads in understanding.

Walking towards the window and looking at the beautiful scenery in front of me, why is my life never as beautiful as that scenery?

I thought dejectedly.

'You're wrong... Wolf spoke in my head and made me raise my eyebrows.

"What do you mean?" I asked confused.

'Having Gwen and now pooping in her womb, is the most beautiful thing that ever happened to us, don't forget that' he explained and I had to close my eyes while exhaling.

That's right, what Wolf said was very true, I must not give up hope and believe that the beautiful thing we are trying to achieve together

"I'm sorry, you're right Wolf" I finally admitted to my wolf that what she said was true, having Gwen and the information about having pups from her was the happiest thing that ever happened to me, I can't forget that."

"Then what are we going to do now?" Harry asked and made me slowly turn my head towards him, I could have gone to another city by now, I thought mischievously but still acted like a woman in love.

"Keep tightening the protection on the perimeter" I ordered after a moment of silence.

"And for sure we don't say anything to the anyone," he added, apparently almost all the workers were naughty huns,

Count me in!

"Keep tightening the protection on the perimeter" I ordered after a moment of silence.

"And for sure we don't say anything to anyone except in a closed room and only consist of a sleeping baby in your arms" He added, it seemed that almost all the workers were giving mischievous smiles.

Count me in!

Ugh, if I hadn't remembered that my mate was here, I would have wanted to take this whole room to pour out my emotions,

Gwen would have been so happy to know this and she would have asked details that could have worried her more.

Harry nodded his head obediently "Stricter protection and training, so that if anything happens we'll be ready" He answered firmly and I nodded my head with satisfaction after hearing his words.

"Thankyou..."

“One more thing” Drake added by taking something from the pocket of his jacket “This is from Melissa, we need to learn...” He said while putting the book on his desk which made all of us wide-eyed at him. A book?

This must not be a random book if Melissa gave it to him.

Could this be a rare book about demons?

However, where did Melissa find this book?

Staring into each other’s eyes, we knew that we would take turns studying this book together.

If this is the way to escape from the Demon’s clutches, I will do anything, everything for my mate and my daughter.

Chapter 162

So that’s what I’ve been doing for the past 1 month, reading books that I think surprised everyone around me. Yes, it’s not that I don’t like reading, but usually I only read in my room, but this is wherever I always read books and read.

I don’t know what Melissa did, the original book title could only be read by the three of us, while for others it read “A book about names and their meanings” which made everyone think I was seriously looking for a name for my future child.

Even Gwen started to tease me but she seemed happy that I looked that serious in finding a name for our future child, if only she knew the truth, I wouldn’t get the intimate and affectionate gaze that she was showing right now, I thought.

“Back in the book I read, it mentioned that Demons can be killed by higher demons and also by some other monsters and creatures like archangels, angels and leviathans. Though conventional weapons are effective against demons, supernatural weapons can kill or at least harm demons like an angel blade, the First Blade, Ruby’s knife or The Colt.

‘Holy fire could destroy a demon’s vessel and is capable of killing some of them. Iron – Most demons are vulnerable to iron and contact with it burns their skin. Palo Santo Holy Wood that affects demons in the same way as holy water.

Weapons?

So, is the story about holy water true?

However, Demons of the class of Asmodeus and Astaroth could not possibly be destroyed with just Holy Water, they were destroyed as well as everyone knew this and doused them with this water.

‘The color of a demon’s eyes denotes their status and rank in Hell’s hierarchy, black is the lowest, then red, Yellow and the most powerful is white.

I just found out that eye colour is also a ranking of strength.

Asmodeus earlier with his red eyes and I believe Astaroth has amber-coloured eyes, could this be what upset the Demon boy?

After all he was under Astaroth, from the eye colour alone it could be said that in the hierarchy. Astaroth was the owner of power and ranked higher than him.

Yes, this must be what upset the boy.

People and their thirst for power and position. I understand best how it happens, remembering how my own uncle did dirty things just for the sake of power and strength, he was willing to sacrifice everything, even his own family.

Greed, greed is the main cause of one's destruction, something that I know is the food of the Demons.

Yes, they are very fond of humans or creatures like that, because it is their friend that they will take to hell.

Demon...

First the black witch, my uncle and his greed, then meeting the werewolf who has knowledge of medicine, all the great things or abilities that should be something beautiful that can help others will become a nightmare if used wrong or owned by the wrong person.

It seems that Asmodeus' power shouldn't have been his, because I can see he doesn't care to use it in a bad way just to satisfy his lust and bloodlust.

It's a horrible thing for me to know and meet that type of creature who only thinks about thirst and self-gratification without caring about the consequences of his actions.

Knock.. Knock...

The door to my study opened and I saw my mate's beautiful face walk into the room which made me stand up immediately to help her walk.

Yes, the day was getting closer for her to go into labour, I was so scared and hoped everything would go smoothly.

The doctors who were going to help her were already preparing so that the birth of the royal successor would go smoothly and everyone would be healthy again. They knew what could happen if my mate had something wrong, so they wanted to make sure that everything went smoothly without anything bad happening.

"What are you doing here, baby?" I asked as I kissed her forehead and carried her easily to the sofa.

Gwen sighed as she hugged me tightly "You've been busy lately, I've missed you" She said spoiled which made the corner of my lips tug as I smiled happily.

"Yeah? I'm sorry I haven't been giving you the attention you want, baby" I said while taking her fingers and kissing them one by one.

"So, did you find a name yet?" She raised an eyebrow as she asked and I knew why she was asking this, because the book I'd been reading lately was, according to her, a book about children's names.

I nodded my head "Yes. There's one I like.... Iris. What do you think?"

"Hmm... Iris?" She repeated thoughtfully which made me want to kiss her badly but knew I had to hold back my desire "Why Iris?" She asked me.

I looked up and remembered why I thought the name was appropriate.

"Hmm... I know how you like the Goo Goo Dolls song – Iris and also in Greek is the Rainbow Goddess, I feel that name is suitable for my daughter" I said honestly and made the mate sitting beside me look at me with longing, maybe she didn't expect me to think of a name so far?

Hey, this is my future heir, my daughter, of course I will definitely not carelessly choose a name.

"I like that" Gwen said while giving a warm peck on my lips that made my eyebrows raised "And I like how you thought so much about this name, I love you, Titus" She added and made me wrap my arms around her body.

"I love you more than you know, you and Iris will be the most beautiful thing to me" I said which made her smile even wider.

Chapter 163

After the Demon's departure, time continued to pass without any further events. Everything seemed to be running normally as if nothing had happened.

Thank God.. I thought in relieved, I hate to face another Demon, especially as cocky as the last time. Ugh... I thought in shiver.

But more and more anxiety continues to haunt me. Yes, the day of my daughter's birth is approaching and everyone already knows how you have called her Princess Iris and that she is a girl.

Everyone is very happy because this is the first time this has happened in this kingdom after so long, yes, this has been awaited by everyone.

But most of all, the thing I've been waiting for the most, I never imagined that I would be able to have a successor or a child.

Yes, everything is still a dream for me.

Just having a mate who loves me is already a beautiful thing, and now a child?

God, I'm so grateful for everything that happened to me, for the happiness you showed and gave me, I will always take good care of them.

Drake, Jose, and several other warriors looked up at me when I came to the field to watch them practice.

Immediately everyone stopped what they were doing to give a respectful greeting to me, the Alpha King, Titus.

"Greetings to the Alpha King" They all said and I immediately nodded my head while raising my hand to indicate they could continue their activities.

"It's good to see you, Alpha king, but why are you here?" Jose asked, confused as he approached the king.

I just glanced over with a long sigh, not knowing how to explain it to him.

"He just wants to not worry too much about his mate who is only counting the days before giving birth" The words that his former beta said were very true and made him just roll his eyes because he was annoyed at being caught by him.

Yes, but he's so right, Gwen snapped at me because you were getting more and more nervous and worried about her, so she doesn't want to get close to me right now because of that.

Sighed....

Why doesn't everyone understand my feelings? I thought annoyed and undressed to think a little sparring and practice seemed like the thing I needed right now.

Everyone looked surprised to see me wanting to join them for training.

Yup, they should get ready, if I know they are weak, I will make them strong, I thought.

"O—ow, they are in danger" Jose whispered to Drake who just smiled while shaking his head but finally followed me and took off his shirt as well, it seems that he is still soft—hearted and is the one who will train with me so that the others do not become victims, basic, I thought while shaking my head in disbelief that he is still like this to others.

3 hours later everyone was groaning in exhaustion and pain, even Jose and Drake were still shaking their heads at me after the training I had given everyone.

"What?" I asked my two members.

"Training is over, thank you all!!!" Jose shouted to everyone who immediately bowed respectfully to the three of us before running quickly to leave the field.

Drake handed me a small towel "You" He sighed "Can't you remember that these guys are still young? You keep training them like that, they'll run away and it'll be troublesome, you know?" he grumbled in annoyance while Jose just laughed.

"Let them be, so that they become stronger" Jose said casually and Drake could only roll his eyes in annoyance at the two of us being united in this.

We were joking and talking, when someone I knew very well contacted me through Mind—Link.

I immediately stood transfixed and focused on what he said.

'My king, the queen slipped in the bathroom and is currently in labor!'

That was all I needed to immediately dart away leaving behind the two men I was with who quickly followed suit and ran with me to my mate's room.

'Oh no.. Oh no.. Oh no.. Gwen... Iris...'

Those were the words I kept saying in my head, worried and terrified that something would happen to them.

Within minutes I looked at the door to my mate's room and there were already a few members standing there looking worried.

I quickly opened the door to hear my mate's screams of pain that nearly broke my heart.

"Gwen" I quickly ran to grab her hand, and tried not to look at the blood that was pouring out of her.

"Titus? It hurts." She whined and I just kissed her forehead while hugging her head, trying to give her my strength.

Oh God....

'Please God, Moon Goddess... Help her, help my mate' I said a prayer for my mate and almost shed tears seeing her in pain like this.

"Yep, looks like we have to act soon, the baby is about to come out" The doctor said and startled me.

Oh no...

There should still have been a few days before labor was due, but because of the accident, the baby fought to get out of the mother's womb, something that could have killed the mother if she had not acted immediately because the child's strength was excessive and she was too ripe to be born into the world.

"You'll be fine, baby... you'll be fine" I kept saying that over and over again, as if to reassure myself and not my mate.

Please God, don't let anything bad happen to her and my child.

I beg you to save them, I would give anything for them to be okay, I said to myself as I continued to hold the hand of my mate who began to do her job in delivering our baby.

I'm sorry, please be okay, Gwen, please be strong for me...

ad continued to try her best for this even though it was draining
You're great Gwen I love you so much were the words I whispered over and over again in her ear
She turned to me to give me a smile and I gently kissed her forehead while continuing to channel my energy by staying by her side
Until finally

Everyone fell silent and widened their eyes as the baby was finally born with a loud powerful cry
My tears fell as I stared at my daughter in the doctor's hands before he gave her to be cleaned.
Like a zombie. I walked over to my daughter and like someone who had been hit by a lightning bolt, I fell in love with another woman besides my mate, yes, I fell in love with my daughter who had unique silver hair that I knew made everyone in this room marvel at the beauty and strength that radiated from this little baby
The nurse handed it to me with a smile on her face, knowing that I had been waiting for this opportunity to hold it "This is the princess, King Alpha" she said respectfully and I was again amazed as I scooped up the tiny figure in my arms
Oh my God
If having a mate already gives me such happiness that I want to scream with joy, having the child you're holding right now from your love with the mate makes me want to fly and scream even louder Slowly in awe of the little thing in my hand walked back to my mate who looked tired but still smiled with tears as she looked at me looking at us
Gwen look who it is I said softly and lowered my hand so that my mate could see the tiny figure I was holding hello, is nice to finally meet you. Welcome to the world, my darling my daughter, my ins."
The howls of the member outside began to sound soon after
The howls of joy from all the packs in welcoming the true heir of their Alpha king princess Inis Evangeline Desmond
News of the birth of King Alpha's offspring soon spread to his allies around the world and all expressed their congratulations to the happy king and queen
The Alpha king's daughter who is said to have silver hair like the Moon Goddess's white wolf currently owned by Queen Luna, her mother became another story that concluded that the princess would probably have the power of the Moon Goddess herself, that the princess would bring peace to this world
If the possessiveness of an Alpha king to his mate is excessive, you need to see how Titus is now to his daughter.

If the possessiveness of an Alpha king to his mate is too much, you need to see how Titus is now to his daughter.

Yes, Titus who has a sense of happiness because he can finally meet his daughter, Iris, is like someone who doesn't want to lose his toy even for just 1 second, Titus always wants to hold her and be by her side every moment of the 24 hours.

Titus was like a man who had fallen in love with his daughter all over again, he even brought her with him. when he made his morning rounds to check the surroundings of his territory without any shame which made all his members feel proud of the Alpha king's great love for his daughter.

Gwen could only smile and shake her head at her mate's behavior, but she said nothing and just smiled happily knowing that her mate loved her daughter so much that he would do anything for both of us.

5 days later, after Titus was sure that Gwen's condition was better, he opened the gate so that people from other packs who came could enter his territory.

Yes, within 2 days, he will show the figure of his successor, princess Iris to the world. One of the rituals that must be done when the king and queen have their first child, therefore, Titus wanted to make sure of his mate's condition first before he opened the gate for everyone who wanted to congratulate

1. US.

Not far from the area where the baby was sleeping, there was a man looking at him from a distance.

The man didn't want to admit that he was happy to see that face, so she was born into the world safely.

He sighed before turning to leave but not before seeing that face for the last time.

Yes, that man was Astaroth...

He did not want his presence here to cause a stir so it was only in silence before he left this territory and returned to where he came from...

Iris... he said silently.

It was a beautiful name and he was grateful to the girl's parents for showing sacrifice and love to her.

Chapter 165

Happiness continued to envelop the kingdom and everyone could see how protective the king was of the princess only from a distance.

He was not ashamed to carry her when welcoming guests, he kept her in his arms unless it was time for the baby to feed, he even kept her in his arms when the princess fell asleep and refused to put her into the bed that had been provided for her.

Yes, everyone who saw the Alpha king's behavior could smile with understanding and also amazed to have the opportunity to see the Alpha king's antics like this for the first time.

No one dared to forbid what the king was doing but only the queen could tell him to let go of his embrace with their daughter as he needed to get to work.

Alpha Richard, Alpha Mike and the Alphas of the royal alliance arrived with their mates and children.

Everyone was amazed to see the figure of Princess Iris who had unique hair with a very beautiful face that had been seen from an early age.

Yes, never expecting Princess Iris to be like this, everyone could only smile in admiration of her.

"Thank goodness she looks like Queen Luna" Alpha Richard teased, but he only chuckled at my answer who agreed without caring that I were being teased by him.

"Yeah, she's amazing and I'm glad she looks like my mate" I replied seriously, knowing that they were all teasing me but indeed I was very happy that my daughter looked so much like my beautiful mate.

Right now there is nothing that can make me sad because I am very happy right now and if anyone tries to take away this happiness or even tries to try to destroy this, I will not hesitate to kill or destroy whoever it is.

Even if they are Demons, I promise in my heart.

Not after I see my daughter, I will not easily hand her over to anyone.

She only belongs to me now... Even if she has a mate, I will not hand her over to her mate, not until she is old enough or maybe, if possible not at all because I am ready to always take care of her.

However, I knew that if my mate or anyone else heard about this, I would definitely get beaten up because it was impossible.

Yes, I know it's not allowed because after all a mate is the original owner of my child, but I don't want to think about Iris' mate right now, no, I just want to spend my precious time with my daughter without thinking about who her mate is or anything else that could make me angry.

The welcoming ceremony for princess Iris, heir to the kingdom and the pure offspring of king Alpha Titus and queen Luna Gwen went very smoothly, all alliances, friends and family gathered to attend this official and sacred ritual.

Everyone bowed their bodies as a sign of respect to princess Iris as she was welcomed into the kingdom.

And from this day forward, Iris will always be known as Princess Iris, the heir to the throne.

— 5 years later —

“Princess Iris... Princess Iris, where are you?”

I let out a long sigh as I heard the servants returning to look for my little princess who, apparently, had run away from them again.

Yes, I know it's all my fault for spoiling her too much, but I don't feel guilty because she deserves the best from me that I can give her.

Drake and the others smiled at me as we heard the clamor outside coming from the servants looking for their little princess.

Looks like our little princess stirring up trouble again.” Harry said with an amused smirk, yes it wasn't the first time she had done this but I couldn't be mad at my daughter after whatever she did to everyone or after being naughty.

Yes, because she is my little princess and she knows how to make me melt into her.

“Looks like she's acting up again, king Alpha” Jose added with an amused snicker.

I glanced at them who were giving me smiles, they knew that I wouldn't be able to get mad at my little princess “Let it go, that's how she plays” I said finally which made them all chuckle at my answer.

Yes, I am weak towards my daughter, sue me, I don't care.

“IRIIIISSS!!!! Come quickly or I won't feed you. !!!!” D*mn, that's my Mate's voice, when it comes to Gwen, even I can't help my little princess out of trouble because Gwen is very strict with her, even I think too strict.

“O—ow...” Harry is teasing me, he knows what happens when my mate gets involved, d*mn!!!

“Let's postpone today's meeting” I said quickly and got up from my seat to go out to my angry mate.

Gwen narrowed her eyes as she saw me walk up to her “Don't you defend him this time, I know why you're here!” She threatened immediately and made me sigh again, damn!!!

I lost, I can't fight my mate when she's like this.

This is life as the Alpha King, Titus, where I have no power in front of these women who have an important role in my life, but I will not complain and give back whatever happens in my life right now.

Yes, I'm already so happy with everything that's happening right now, that I feel like if something or someone tries to ruin or disturb this peace, I won't hesitate to eliminate them on the face of this earth.

I will fight as a warrior for my family here.

Pulling my mate's hand and giving her a warm hug while kissing her passionately she groaned in annoyance “Don't you think this will make me forget my anger towards your son, mister!” she said while pursing her lips cutely so that I couldn't help myself from kissing her.

“Come on, she's just a kid, baby” I coaxed, which made her roll her eyes in annoyance but I continued to wrap my arms around her body.

Chapter 166

From now on, we're going to iris Point of View:

"Princess Iris... Princess Iris, where are you?"

I couldn't help but laugh at everyone trying to find me, yes, I'm like a ninja who can disappear and no one can find me.

Hiding my smell, a newfound thing where people can't smell me, is a skill that's been working to my advantage lately.

No one knows about this and I plan to keep this a secret for the time being.

Holding back my laughter, I ran out of the palace and hid from the eyes of the servants who were looking for me at this moment.

Running fast, I burst out laughing when I saw the main door in front of me and was surprised to see a male figure standing next to the door as if he was waiting for me there.

Oh my God!!!

Him again?!

"Why do you always know where I'm going anyway?" I grumbled in annoyance as I threw my feet to the ground at Drake jr who seemed to have a plan to ruin my game plan.

Huft... I folded my arms resentfully as I walked out with him who wouldn't leave me alone and kept me company.

"I just understand how you think, Iris" He jabbed casually and made me curl my lips in annoyance after hearing it.

"Your goal seems to be to make my life miserable, Drake Jr." I said quickly to the 10 year old boy, yes he was 5 years older than me but I was annoyed that he acted like I was just a brat when we were both young!

He rolled his eyes "Protecting you, Iris... Why do you always have to make trouble anyway?" He said quickly and I just stuck my tongue out at him which made him let out a long sigh "So, where are we going?" He finally asked, yes.

He knows I find it very difficult to leave the palace, which is why if I do, even though he will grumble at first, I always know Drake

Jr. will accompany me wherever I go because he has the duty to be my loyal bodyguard.

"I heard there's a waterfall in the forest and..."

"NO!!!"

I pursed my lips again after hearing her firm refusal, even though I hadn't finished speaking.

"Do you have to be that annoying?" I said irritably.

He just shook his head as if he was used to my behavior that made me very annoyed.

"You know there's a morning market in the city? What if we go there?" He said softly and my eyes widened at his words, morning market?

"You want to take me there? Do you have money?" I asked happily with my eyes sparkling at him.

“Yes” Drake Jr. smiled in response and then quickly informed his father of his plan to take the princess to the morning market in the city through the mind-link.

The father, Drake, who heard the information told by his son smiled with satisfaction before informing about it to the parents and servants who were looking for the princess in the palace.

Arriving at the morning market, several guards for the princess had begun to stand guard in their free clothes so that the princess would not be suspicious of their respective positions, yes, protection for the princess was always carried out by order of the king, because there were many enemies who wanted to harm the Alpha king through the princess Iris so strict protection was carried out by the Alpha king as a way to keep the princess safe and secure.

Although Iris did not understand why the Alpha king or her father was so protective of her, that she was always trying to escape from the strict protection her father had made.

However, this time seeing the various trade stands and also the many people and activities that she was seeing for the first time, made Iris so happy that some members who recognized her widened their eyes knowing that the princess was here.

Yes, word of the princess' presence spread quickly and Iris, who didn't realize that she was getting a lot of free food because they recognized her, thought that her father's people were so kind and friendly to her that Drake Jr. just rolled his eyes at the naivety of the little princess.

However, because she saw how happy and cheerful the little princess was there, she could not say anything and make the princess sad so she and the other guards who were there, could only look at the beautiful scenery with smiles on their faces because of the joy that the princess Iris showed.

Not only markets selling small snacks, but there were various kinds of games that were usually played by the people during the morning market, games that could be played by small children to adults and Iris's eyes lit up very wide with happiness seeing an atmosphere that she had never seen so far, a beautiful thing where everything was full of laughter and happy smiles.

Why did you never let me come here? I thought in wonder and just enjoyed the atmosphere and new things that I knew would be difficult to enjoy in the future.

Yes, 5-year-old Iris does not yet understand the dangers of the world and her position as an heiress who is very at risk of the dangers that are targeting her, because she wants to bring down the Alpha king through her.

Yes, Iris was still very naive and didn't understand that, and everyone didn't blame the innocence of the little girl who was their daughter and just wanted to be her protector without scaring her. After all, she was only a 5-year-old girl and right now, even though she was in public, everyone was determined to always protect her from anyone who wanted to do harm to her.

Chapter 167

ouchers

Third Party Point of view (Alexa):

It was the most exciting day for princess Iris, everyone was so friendly and welcoming that Drake Jr. and the others had to be extra careful to keep a close eye on her.

She ate all the food that was offered to her, a very dangerous thing, because if someone poisoned her, then there would be no one to suspect because they wouldn't know where the food came from.

Alexa, who was also there because of the queen's orders, could only bite her fingers and grind her teeth in worry at the sight of her queen's little princess who seemed unconcerned and not worried about anything. Ugh... She wanted to tell her that it shouldn't be too carefree like that, but again she realized that she was just a little girl who wanted to experience like an ordinary girl in the morning market.

And when I saw her start to yawn and look tired, Drake Jr. started to take her to sit on one of the benches available and then he immediately went to get something...

Letting out a long sigh Alexa slowly walked over to the princess and gasped in surprise when she saw a tall man standing in front of her.

Who the hell is that? Wasn't he there?!

Who...?

Then as she rushed over to the sleeping princess, in the blink of an eye the man was gone.

Huh?

Who?

Did my eyes just deceive me?

Alexa managed to touch the sleeping body of the princess and immediately picked her up at the same time Drake Jr. arrived with a candy that made the queen's guard raise a questioning eyebrow...

"She wants this candy for tomorrow" the boy said as if to explain to the horrible looking female guard. Without another word, Alexa took the soundly sleeping princess Iris into the palace where her parents were waiting worriedly.

But Alexa still wondered about the dark-haired man she saw there...

Was it just a trick of the eye or was the man really there?

*****

The figure of the man the female guard saw, Alexa, standing not far from them stared intently at the sleeping little princess the female guard was holding.

T

Turning towards the other man who was currently staring back at her, she knew who it was...

At the speed of light, she approached the man disguised as a human who intended to harm her little daughter.

Yes... hers./

Even though he hated this, but that little princess became a meaningful part of him and he did not know why he always wanted to be near her and protect her.

Damn it... This is all because of that thing they called mate!!!

This happened because of a thing called mate by everyone.

How can I escape from this?

However, right now my focus is back on this disguised creature in front of me.

Grabbing her by the neck and immediately switching places using my power so that no one would see or realize what we were doing here, I brought this fake figure into another room which I knew was an empty room

“Ohokk... Ohok... Astaroth.”

He recognizes me, I thought and should not be surprised that a Demon sent him here.

But who?

Could it be Asmodeus?

“Why are you here, identity thief?” I said quietly in a dangerous and threatening tone as I tightened my grip around his neck.

“Harharhar... The news has been spread that you have things here, what are you always doing here, The Duke of Hell?” He looked unafraid and asked with a defiant face that made me furious to tighten my grip and instantly kill him in a split second.

His body turned into ashes and I just let out a long sigh...

The news about me is always here to spread?

How is that possible?

I was always hiding and no one knew I was here?

Are there spies monitoring my daily activities?

Who could possibly know about this?

And why?

Damn it!!!

They or anyone who knows I'm here shouldn't be suspicious of Iris.

I had to quickly divert my attention from that little girl, or else...

Damn it!!!

Why can't she disappear from my mind?!

She's just a little girl!!!

UGH... I HATE THIS!!!!

“You have to make your choice”

What?!

Who's talking?

How does anyone know I'm here?

Astaroth, the Demon had already raised his hand to kill whoever was there but Melissa immediately raised her hand as a sign of surrender so as not to be harmed by the Demon.

"Hey... Hey! I didn't mean to harm... hey... Calm down." The woman immediately spoke and Astaroth furrowed his brows as he thought, because he hit the woman's face.

"You... The witch?" He asked softly and Melissa nodded her head, glad she didn't have to introduce herself.

The woman nodded her head "I'm Melissa" She introduced herself.

Astaroth immediately lowered his hand and sighed "Why are you here?" He asked bluntly "And how did you see me?" He added flatly.

Melissa gave a small smile "I've always seen you around here since Iris was still in the queen's womb replied the witch who surprised the Demon named Astaroth.

He knows I've always been around the queen?!

D*mn it!!!

How embarrassing?!

"So? What do you want?" I asked the female witch harshly, I often saw her around the queen and knew that they had a very close relationship, but I never expected her power to be this great.

How a human witch could see me, surprised me greatly.

it's not me you should ask, but, you should ask yourself, Mr. Demon..." I raised an eyebrow at his words, and he continued 'What do you want with our little princess, Iris, Mr. Demon?'

D*mn it!!!

How could she ask me about that as if she knew what I was thinking?

D*mn her!!!

Chapter 168

Melissa Point of View:

This power...

The Demon is around. I thought as I saw goosebumps on my skin as I stared at the princess who was at the morning market with the members here.

Yes, I didn't tell anyone since I could always see him in front of the window of Luna's queen, Gwen.

I knew why he was there, even though he refused to believe it, but I always saw him there, staring at the silver-haired little girl who was our little princess

Who was his fated mate...

It was a shock to learn that our little princess was the mate of a Demon, yes, nothing like this had ever happened, but for the first time it was true.

And I don't know and can't think of a reason why this happened, but it did, so I just hope for the best for our little girl

Seeing as how he's always here, I hope that he won't do the same bad thing that her father once did, rejecting the mate, because if that happens, King Titus will be very angry because his favorite daughter will suffer so much pain because of that.

All this is very surprising, yes, everything related to the king's family is never easy, but I always hope that this can also be passed with good things without any bloodshed, because as we know, Demons against werewolves, it is certain that we will not win against Demons, they somehow have infinite power over werewolves.

This was the second time she was here to stop an intruder who wanted to hurt her little daughter, Iris.

It proved that he cared deeply for her, but still did not want to admit it to anyone, even to himself.

Men...

Why are they so stubborn?! I thought irritably while shaking my head.

I followed the direction of his eyes and saw that there was someone in disguise around one of the werewolves there, damn it!

How can there be a disguise there?! I thought in shock and breathed a sigh of relief that Astaroth did something about it immediately.

When I stepped into the unused warehouse room, the disguise figure had already turned into dust killed easily by the Demon named Astaroth. Wow, he is terrible, I thought but knew I had to do it immediately and asked for the sword.

When I opened my eyes, I hurriedly explained why I was here so as not to be immediately killed by him.

Yes, he can easily get rid of me just like he got rid of the disguise so easily.

"So? What do you want?" I raise my eyebrow in wonder when I hear his question.

That is not what he should have asked me, but himself, I thought irritably but know to hold myself and not make any rash moves

"It's not me you should ask, but, you should ask yourself, Mr. Demon..." I slowly asked him who frowned the moment I open my mouth and told him that "What do you want with our little princess, Iris, Mr. Demon?" I added firmly and locked my gaze on him.

I know I'm doing a dangerous thing right now, he could get angry and think I'm insolent and get rid of me easily but I'm risking myself so that he can open his eyes wider, so that he realizes that he's been here all this time because he has feelings for our little daughter.

He's been coming here too many times, and I'm sure there must be a lot of Demons who realize that eventually they will find out why he's here and it will be dangerous for our Iris, so I want him to realize sooner how precious our little princess is to him, so that he will be on our side to always protect her, just like he just did for her.

Because to fight the Demon, we will definitely lose and have many casualties, but not if we have an alliance as strong as the Demon like him, yes, the great Astaroth on our side will be the greatest alliance. And it's my job now to make him open his eyes to see how much our little princess means to him that he would do anything for her.

Astaroth just stared at me in expressionless silence, my heart pounding so hard I hoped he would agree to what I was saying.

But seeing him smirking and shaking his head, I knew that I was losing, that he didn't want to admit it yet, that I needed more time.

D*mn it!

"Nice try, witch, but you look like you need to get your sanity checked" He said teasingly before turning around and leaving me alone by disappearing using his powers.

Letting out a long sigh, I was relieved that he only left me instead of killing me.

One good thing that makes me confident that the words I said to him seem to have an effect, though again, he hasn't realized it yet.

Hopefully it wouldn't take long for him to realize that the things I said about his mate, our little princess, were true.

*****

Walking into the palace, I saw Drake waiting for me there with a smile on his face. It seemed that he knew what I was doing without me explaining it to him, yes, that's Drake, he became someone who understood me the most, knew me very well without me having to explain what I was doing, someone who believed in me even though people used to hate me because of my background of having witch blood, but he was the only one who always believed in me and supported me wholeheartedly.

"I'm glad you're okay" he said as he wrapped his arm around my waist and we began to walk together into the palace.

"Yeah, he won't admit it yet but I'm still alive so..." I said softly and gave him my sweetest smile.

Drake just let out a long sigh while shaking his head "Don't risk your life like that, you know I hate it, Mel" He said softly while kissing my forehead.

I just wrapped my arms around him and brought my body closer into his embrace.

Yes, I know I make him worry a lot, but with this power comes responsibility and I can't just stand by and do nothing.

Chapter 169

Back to Iris point of View:

"Hello, baby girl"

"Who are you? You're so beautiful..." I was amazed at the very tall figure in front of me. Was it a man or a woman? but she was very tall.

"Beautiful? I'm a man, baby girl" The man said giggling and made me laugh along with him, is he a man? but he's very beautiful.

"I'm sorry, but you are very beautiful" I said again and made him smile again which made me look at him again.

Wow...

"Are you sleepy baby? Get some rest now..." I don't know what made me follow his instructions, but not long after, I felt my body weaken and I fell asleep not long after and woke up back in my room.

Who was that beautiful man? I thought I was confused but since then, I no longer saw the figure of that man again

Who is that beautiful man?

I met him at the morning market back then and that was the first and last time I met such a beautiful man that I couldn't forget him.

I didn't even know his name, was he a real person and not my imagination?

I was 5 years old at the time and since I never saw him again, I forgot about the incident.

Every year on my birthday I always received a strange gift from someone who called me 'Baby Girl', wasn't the only person who called me that was that beautiful man?

The first 1 to 3 years I always remembered him and waited for his gift, but as things happened and he never reappeared I forgot about him.

Yes, I forgot about that beautiful man....

And today is my 16th birthday, where many of my friends have already started to find my mate but it seems that I will not find it yet, because until now I have not felt the strange vibrations that my friends described when they turned 16 years old

Will I not find my mate at 16 like Drake Jr?

Yes, everyone thinks that I'm the mate of my little friend who I consider my older brother, but seeing how he treats me the same as before, like a little sister, I feel like he's not my mate.

Knock Knock...

"Are you ready?" Asked my mom, the queen Luna as she entered my room.

Yes, today is my 16th birthday...

T

An important day for she-wolves, where usually they will find their mate or not, but also when a werewolf will unite with their wolf for the first time.

And I can't wait to meet my wolf.

"I'm so nervous, mommy" I told my mother who gave me a warm smile before she stroke my hair lovingly.

"Why are you nervous?" She asked softly with that characteristic of hers that made me love her so much, yes, this mother of mine would be very strict but she was also very gentle so that's what made my rigid father melt to her.

Sometimes I also want a mate like my father who loves my mother wholeheartedly and is willing to sacrifice for her. Hopefully my mate will do the same for me as my father did for my mother.

But I know that I'm still too young to think about a mate, yes, my mother had a career and skills as a doctor that made my father proud of her before they met each other and I want to be like that, making my mate proud when I meet her.

Not because I am the heir of my father the Alpha king, but also because I am me, without any frills of the Alpha king's daughter or descendant.

"That I won't have a wolf?" My answer was low as a whisper, but I knew she could hear it.

My mom smiled and pulled my hand until we were sitting on my bed "I have something to tell you, dear" My mom said softly while pulling me to sit down which made me raise a confused eyebrow but said nothing and followed her.

My heart was racing as I sat in front of my mother, waiting for what she would say to me.

"Did you know I didn't have a wolf before?" My eyes widened at that and I shook my head slowly.

What?... Is she serious?!

"No, mom, I didn't know" I replied quietly in shock.

She smiled warmly "Yes, I used to be wolfless or have no wolf until one day a miracle happened and Destine was loaned to me"

She told me softly and quietly which made me stare at her in awe of my mother.

I had never heard that she had gone through such a hard time, it must be hard if you don't have a wolf for a werewolf but all I had heard about her was how great of a person my mother was never about her being wolfless.

"Borrowed?" I confirmed something to her, who nodded her head again.

"Yes... Borrowed, my dear" She replied confirming "And lately Destine has been telling me why your hair is the same as hers"

Again her words confused me, which made her chuckle before giving me a warm hug.

"Mom?" I called out as I felt the warm embrace she gave me felt different.

"Destine told me that she would be yours and no longer mine" She whispered softly and made me gasp loudly.

"What?!"

I had to blink a few times to make sure what I was being told was correct and that I hadn't misheard.

I knew having the Moon Goddess's white wolf was amazing, but imagining my mother without it...

"Mom, no, it's yours" I whispered sadly and started to shed my tears at the thought of my mom not having her wolf.

She cupped my face and gave me a warm peck on the forehead,

"It belongs to the Moon Goddess and she has the right to decide to whom she will lend her beloved white-wolf" My mom answered me but I still couldn't stop my tears at the thought of my mom without her wolf.

"But why? Why is she giving it to me?"

"You will know one day" Those are the words my mother said to me.

I'll know soon enough, without giving any further explanation.....

But me?

Going to be the owner of my mom's milky white wolf?

Does father know about this?

Oh God... What exactly is going on?

Chapter 170

Everything happens for a reason, yes, I know that, I've always understood that everything happens because it's meant to be and it's destined to happen, but the information my mother told me was something I never thought would happen to me.

Yes, I never wanted to be a princess or a successor to the throne of this kingdom, I just wanted to be an ordinary girl, with a great wolf and a mate who loved me for who I was, but I was born with unusual privileges that made me have advantages or things that people wanted to happen to me who was descended from my father and my mother who were two great people who once led the kingdom.

However, the closer I get to the common age of 16, the more I realize that many people want to see me deliver the great things that my mother and father have delivered during their time at the helm, but I am not them, I am just me, Iris, not Titus and Gwen

I'm sometimes afraid that my life or my greatness doesn't compare to my parents' and that I'm embarrassing them.

And now this?

I'm going to be the next owner of the Moon Goddess' white wolf that my mother previously owned?

I don't know what they will all expect from me, and it scares me a lot.

What exactly am I going to do?

What could happen to me?

"Iris? Are you okay?" The voice in my father's milky voice startled me and brought me back to this world and no longer drowned in my thoughts.

"Oh Dad, I'm scared" I said quickly and gave a tight hug to my father who immediately returned my hug, yes, my father is my strength, he always tries to provide the best thing for me even if it could put him in danger, or make him fight with my mother, but I know that I can always count on him.

My new father came into the room not long after my mother left, though confused he returned my hug and kissed my head.

"What are you worried about? Dad is here. Your mom will always be with you too so no need to worry" He answered firmly and I just giggled at him, yes, he couldn't speak sweetly, but that was my father.

"Whatever happens, you have both of us, okay?" He added and I nodded my head while still in his arms.

I knew it...

That's why I'm grateful to have the two of them as my parents, but still, knowing your mother would give her wolf to me, as if there was something great I could do, terrifies me.

What can a 16-year-old girl do to this world?

Just because I'm going to have my mother's white wolf borrowed by the Moon Goddess, doesn't mean I'll have the same greatness as my mother, right?

My mom is already great, but me? What can I do?

I am just a little 16 year old girl who doesn't know anything about life.

As we entered the hall, everyone was there, hiding my nerves, I walked side by side with my father to the center where my mother was waiting for us with a smile on her face.

Everyone had a smile on their face as my father opened the event with a speech and the party began with my parents opening it with the first dance.

who didn't smell strong mate or anything just stood awkwardly and walked to the nearest food stand.

winked at me as he noticed me walking towards the food.

It seemed that the only one who was happy about my lack of mate was him.

1. e) my father always said that he would take care of me if I didn't have a mate and hoped that I would find one when I was older, because he wasn't willing to let me find one now.

He talks as if he knows who my mate is...

However, the party that I thought would be boring turned out to be very enjoyable, the Alphas who knew that I would not find my eyes yet, lined up to take turns dancing with me, until finally my father had to overtake Alpha Richard and take my hand so that he could dance with him.

Everyone and I could only laugh at the behavior of the Alpha king who was my father. It seemed that he was jealous because I hadn't danced with him at all, so he overtook one of his best friends who was dancing with me.

"Are you happy, dear?" I asked softly as we started dancing in front of everyone.

Nodding my head I replied "I'm glad today turned out so well" I told her which made her smile widely after hearing my answer.

But he was trying to turn my body around when an explosion sounded from the entrance that made us all gasp at the figure that walked casually from the doorway towards where my father and I were standing. My eyes widened at the sight of the red-eyed man who locked his evil smile on me. Who was he?

He seems to have enormous power, I thought in shock and tried to hide the goosebumps I felt as a result.

"I'm glad I'm not late" The red-eyed man said with an evil smile still on his face.

Who is he?!

Gripping my father tightly, I could feel the tension in my father's body as if he knew this red-eyed man.

"You won't welcome me, King Titus?" The red-eyed man said again and seemed to be teasing my father as he greeted him with a smirk on his face.

He's so disrespectful! I thought irritably.

Has he never been taught about manners?!

"Who are you?!" I ventured to ask and saw my father widen his eyes as he looked in my direction and immediately hid myself with his body as if just realizing that I was here with him.

What the hell is going on?

My father looks scared?!

"Asmodeus..." My eyes widened at my father's words as he called out to him.

What?!

I know it... I've read about it...

Asmodeus the Demon?
