

The Alpha King's Fated Mate By Yui Ismutomo

Chapter 191

When my dad said he wanted to talk to my mate face-to-face, I knew what he would say and to be honest, I was a little scared of what he would say to Astaroth.

Well... I was only 16 years old, and I knew that while usually mates who met would claim officially, I didn't have a wolf yet and Astaroth wasn't a werewolf, so we didn't know what to do to make it official.

What should I do now?

Tap...

Footsteps sounded from behind me and I knew it must be Drake Jr.

He was sitting next to me in the courtyard as I stared at the forest in front of me.

Everyone smiled and nodded their heads as they watched me walk out of my father's office.

Yes, there was respect in the eyes of all of them, more than usual, it seems that what my mate did to save my people has spread everywhere. save my people has sp

"How are you?" I heard him ask and it broke my reverie and made me look back at him.

Staring at the face of the man who was like a big brother to me, I rested my head on his shoulder, something I always did when I had a lot on my mind and needed him to support me.

Yes, I was angry at him for not telling me the true cause of Astaroth, but I also understood his reasoning.

After all, there is no way I could be angry with him.

You're not mad at me anymore." It was a statement and not a question and made me laugh a little before shaking my head.

I let out a long sigh "I can't be mad at you, you know that" I said and this time I heard him chuckle as if he knew this.

Chapter 191

"Then, why are you alone? Where is that guy?" He asked and I raised my head to point towards the palace with my head.

"Father..." I answered briefly and saw him stare wide-eyed before nodding his head in understanding.

"How are you feeling?" He asked again as if he wanted to know what was in my head right now by looking at me intently as if he wanted to know if I was lying or not.

Staring into his eyes I shrugged.

This is all new, happy? sad? shocked? well... I'm feeling it all, I thought but how do I explain it?

"Um... Weird? It's all coming together, confusing me" I said finally and made him smile again before patting my head, something I hated because it made me feel like a little girl. Ugh!

+5)

"Of course it's confusing, you got a demon as a mate!!!" He said while smiling casually to keep me from thinking and calming down.

Returning the smile she stroked my head affectionately, the kind of thing a big brother would do to his little sister.

Ggrrrr...

However, when we heard the horrible growl coming from beside us and the angry glare coming from my demon mate, Drake jr. immediately removed his hand from my head as if he felt the fire overheating there.

Well... I presume my mate knows about my relationship with my friend, I thought and smiled at him, but *he continued to look angry and did not move at all from his position.

Ugh... Man... Why are they this possessive anyway? No werewolf, no demon, it's the same, I thought before standing up and approaching him.

"I thought you were waiting for me, but instead you're dating here" He fumed and I, instead of taking offense, burst out laughing at him.

He's so funny....

Jealous?

I guess he didn't realize that his jealousy was so funny, well... at least to me, because my mate looked like he wanted to kill him with his gaze at my friend who looked increasingly nervous.

Oh ow... I must do something before he really hurts Drake Jr. I thought.

"This is Drake Jr. He's like a big brother and my best friend, Astro" I said while giving him a sweet smile.

The demon who received my sweet words and sudden smile looked surprised before blinking a few times and nodding his head.

Wow... I thought in surprise, not expecting me to have such an effect on him.

Is this what a mate bond is all about?

For the first time seeing the figure of Astaroth who I knew was a cold man with no expression could show jealousy, had its own satisfaction, meaning it wasn't just me who had this feeling, but him too.

Can demons be jealous?

Well... this is proof that the answer is yes...

I gasped loudly as he pulled my body to embrace me tightly.

"As..." I whispered in shock but soon fell silent as I felt the violent trembling of his body

The absence of an answer and the tightening of his embrace was very clear, he was also confused about what he felt for me, this must be all the first time for this demon, P thought and wrapped my arms around his neck, because I remembered my father once mentioned that the thing that could calm a mate was the embrace of his mate, and slowly heard his breathing began to calm down and no longer hunted as if his emotions had subsided. 888

"All this is new to me" I heard him say and gave him a smile.

Nodding my head, I replied, "I don't think I need to be told, I already know." Looking at me intently before cupping my left cheek, we locked eyes as if the

Chapter 192

Meanwhile....

Asmodeus returned to his palace deep in the 7th region of Hell, which was the region Lucifer had given him.

Everyone there knew that the young prince was not in a good mood, and there was only one good reason for that, Astaroth.

Don't know when but everyone who had been his subordinate and worked with him knew how obsessed the young master was with the duke of darkness, Astaroth.

Thus they understood that even this time, the young prince Asmodeus' anxiety and anger must have been caused by the dark duke, it was always like that.

No one would dare to approach him if he was like this, as he could easily get angry and even kill anyone who disturbed him.

That's why no one dares to approach him, only looking at each other with fear and confusion because they don't know what can be done if he's like this.

Tap.. Tap...

The sound of footsteps made everyone turn around and see Inara walking towards the young prince with a smile and confidence.

Yes, if there was one person who could persuade him, it was Inara.

Inara was the only one who could calm Asmodeus down, for some reason the demon liked the presence of a weak demon named Inara, even the name alone was like a girl's name, thought the demons around him before leaving the room where their boss was.

Yes, Asmodeus and Inara would act very dirty without caring about their surroundings while having their rough sex.

Chapter 192

The desire to satisfy each other's lust by involving blood could also lead to casualties no matter who it was, therefore, all those who had found out about this immediately left the moment Inara entered the room where Asmodeus sat on his throne.

Asmodeus who heard the footsteps, before wanting to get angry he fell silent when he found out that it was his Inara...

He quickly got up from his seat and walked towards the man who came to him.

At the speed of light they devoured each other's lips at the same time as the door closed and the little demons around them left.

"Inara.. Inara.." He continued to say his name before continuing "Why did Astaroth betray me with that damn werewolf woman? He was the strongest demon in my eyes, yet he was defeated by something called love? I don't understand, Inara" He whispered in annoyance as he continued to kiss his lover's body.

Inara, who was a little jealous of Asmodeus' obsession with Astaroth, was happy that the demon was doing this for Asmodeus, so that he would become number 1 again for the demon in his arms.

"Forget him, I am here" He cooed softly and continued to coax and seduce the little demon prince with his intoxicating kisses and touches.

"Didn't I always say if he's not worthy, kill him, or kill the woman" Inara whispered viciously and Asmodeus stared at his man before giving a satisfied smile.

"You're right" Asmodeus replied contentedly to the lover in his arms, pleased that he had said something so sensible "Let's kill the damn woman!" He added happily and Inara, who was thinking of not only killing the wolf woman but also Astaroth, was annoyed that Asmodeus' answer seemed to indicate that he was jealous of Astaroth's closeness with a woman.

Could it be that Asmodeus loved Astaroth?

Why didn't I realize this? Inara thought in shock and annoyance.

Back to Iris point of view:

"So, you're with Melissa..."

Astaroth nodded his head "We are strengthening the protection so that no demons can penetrate this territory" He finished the question I hadn't said.

Oh, wow...

Yes, the few times I saw the two of them and did have suspicions about it, but never thought he would do that, did he do it for me?

"Is it because of me?" I asked softly and he looked at me intently before giving me a rare little smile that he had been showing me lately.

Patting my head he said, "No, it's for another woman?! Yes, it's because of you!" he replied and made me grin widely at the confirmation from his mouth.

I let out a small cry of delight as I jumped onto his back and he easily carried me on his back before walking back inside to the dining room as if r

my weight didn't affect him.

Wrapping my arms around his neck, he placed his hands on my thighs while carrying me on his back.

Is this what it feels like to have someone who love you besides your mom and dad?

Wow... I like this....

I like how he spoils me in a way that no one ever does.

And he also knew how important the family was here, so he not only wanted to protect her, but also everyone who was important to her.

Because he knew who Asmodeus was and what that annoying little boy could do so he didn't want anything to happen to his woman or his family that could make his w sad.

He would do anything to make sure Iris was always smiling and happy.

Therefore, when Asmodeus comes, he will be ready.

Protection using magic must be ready before Asmodeus comes back with his foolishness, Astaroth thought.

chapter there!

He had to move quickly, before it was too late and something bad happened here.

Yes, Asmodeus although annoying, he admits that the little demon is very powerful and can be troublesome.

Chapter 194

Move into the Palace where Gwen and Rolf are.

Rolf stood beside the window looking out into the forest, thinking about all that had happened and about his little princess.

Fear of everything actually gnawed at his heart, fear of the uncertainty or things that his little daughter would face, after all demons were not enemies that could be ignored or dismissed, they were very cunning and evil, even though he knew that her mate, Astaroth would definitely protect her, but still as a father who had been protecting her, having to leave that task to her mate was not an easy thing.

"She's only 16, little girl" Rolf whispered and made his mate who was there let out a long sigh, yes, Rolf knew that Gwen was actually worried but as a woman, she could be more accepting of this.

"I know"

He heard his mate's reply before making him turn around to walk towards her and sit beside her on the cosy sofa in his study.

Pulling the body of the woman he loved so much into his arms, he gave her a warm peck on the forehead before inhaling the body scent that always calmed him down.

"If I had known that she was going to find a mate at such a young age, I would have done more with her" Rolf grumbled and this time felt a vibration of laughter from his mate.

"Knowing that other men are touching our little princess is annoying, isn't it?" Gwen commented as she teased him and smiled wider at the sight of him scowling before resting his head in her neck and tightening his embrace.

"My wolf is also saddened to learn that our pup has turned deciduous and may leave with his - mate from our protective arms." Rolf continued and made Gwen nod her head. They knew having a mate meant the life of the girl, their little princess belonged to the mate, especially if they had done the sacred thing and accepted each other, not even the Moon Goddess had the right to separate them, except for death which could result in the death of the couple left behind.

"But I am glad that Astaroth is brave enough to accept his destiny as the mate of Iris, it is not an easy thing, considering we know how he has no knowledge about this mate thing" Rolf could only heave a long breath at Gwen's words, because his mate was right, for a creature who was never taught about pity or compassion for other creatures or people, Astaroth was brave enough to accept what was destined for him. Signalling that he actually has a heart and kindness that neither he nor anyone else realises.

"Yeah, but it still won't be easy" Rolf commented and Gwen just chuckled in amusement.

"Especially with Iris' character, oh God, help them" Gwen added and made her mate beside her laugh too.

Who would have ever thought that a werewolf and a demon could be mates, well... If this didn't happen before my eyes, I'd say it's impossible.

"So..." Rolf tightened his embrace and made Gwen, his mate, raise an eyebrow while looking at him.

"What?"

Rolf gave a seductive smile before pecking his mate's lips.

"What?" She giggled, feeling suspicious of her mate's plan.

"How about we have another child then?" He whispered and made his mate laugh out loud before pushing his body away slowly but Rolf was serious and continued to flirt with her as he tightened his arms around her, not wanting to let go.

"Oh my God, are you

God, are you serious?!"

Without listening to his mate's complaints or protests again, Rolf attacked her weak spot, nuzzling her neck until he heard a sigh escape her mouth.

Smiling with satisfaction, he moved to her lips and devoured them with intensity and purpose clear in his mind.

Yes, the possibility of having another child was possible and Rolf planned not to stop until he could make his mate have something in her belly.

While everyone seemed to be lost in their own happiness, they did not know about the evil plans of the other demon, who wanted Astaroth to return to being the evil demon he desired to be.

. With his evil and cunning mind, Asmodeus who had satisfied himself with the touch of Inara who was still in his arms, naked and sleeping exhausted beside him, Asmodeus, with his evil mind was planning what he would do so that Astaroth could open his eyes and realise that being a demon was the best thing, that having a fuckin' mate was a weakness that no one needed, especially a great demon like the two of us.

Yes, we don't need anyone, let alone a woman, they are only for satisfying lust, not for a companion that can make us stupid and weak.

"I will make him open his eyes to the foolishness of having a mate that got werewolves banished from our world and open his eyes to the fact that he does not need the same foolishness as they do" Asmodeus growled before getting up from his bed and heading outside, to his study and summoning the man who would be his first plan to destroy Astaroth's belief in mate relationships. Chapter 194

Deep in a forest in the country of Switzerland, there is a ghostly figure who is part of the darkness feeling the great power of the world of darkness.

This power is more powerful than he has ever felt.

96%

"What is this?" He whispered confusedly and with curiosity, he moved towards the world of darkness, where this dark power originated and why could he feel it in the human world?

Yes, Abel working with Melissa in Switzerland was a secret that no one else knew about, except Gwen and Rolf, which was one of the reasons why Melissa stayed there to become a healer of the mystical things that happened.

Chapter 195

Meanwhile....

Return to Asmodeus' palace where Inara makes a move to destroy the she-wolf who seduced the figure of Astaroth.

And there was only one person who she believed would hate to know that Astaroth had a woman.

Yes, the woman who has been Astaroth's lust-quencher....

Beezlebub...

"Beelzebub, I am glad you come, darling" Inara greet the demon with a wide smile.

Beezlebub, a woman with long blonde hair and a beauty beyond ordinary walked with her head held high into Asmodeus' palace.

Glancing at Inara, she sighed before sitting on the sofa provided for her "I hope you have a good reason for calling me here, Inara" She said in a cold and arrogant tone. Beezlebub knew that Inara was just a weak demon who was here because she was Asmodeus's favorite, so she couldn't carelessly attack her, but their relationship had never been close, so she dared to call her to come to this palace was crossing the line, but she wanted to know the reason why a little demon dared to call her here. Let's hope the reason is important, Beezlebub thought to herself in annoyance. Ugh.. Inara did not really like this woman who acted like a queen, but she knew she was a dangerous woman and right now this woman could do something that could destroy Astaroth's relationship with the human. Inara tried to smile before showing a sad face "It's about Astaroth, Beezlebub..." She began and when she saw the eyebrows of the woman before her, she knew that she had the full attention of this scary demon woman. Hmm.. She look interest, good start, Inafa thought happily. Well... let's see what she'll do to the werewolf, Inara continue thinking before explaining everything to the dangerously beautiful demon who I know won't like after she hears everything about the man name Astaroth.

A shocked look, sitting up straight, the demon woman's figure was wide-eyed in shock at what I told her, making me even more happy to see the anger clearly in her eyes.

Yes...

Be angry...

Destroy that she-wolf... Inara thought happily as she continued to explain to her.

"Hmm..." She mumbled as I finished explaining "I see, I find it hard to believe an Astaroth is capable of showing expression let alone caring about others" She said as she touched her chin as if thinking.

Swallowing nervously I hope she believes me and doesn't accuse me of nonsense because my power is not comparable to hers.

Shit!

Is she suspicious?

I hope not.

My Lucifer, she's scary!!! Inara lamely thought to herself, showing how weak she truly are.

"Where's Asmodeus?" she asked, suddenly turning towards me and startling me.

"Oh... He's still sleeping, in his room" I replied trying not to be nervous about his gaze that seemed to pierce my soul.

Damn... Beelzebub is really an unpredictable demon woman.

"He didn't do anything to bring Astaroth back to his senses?" She asked me again.

Damn, she seems to know that Asmodeus has an interest in Astaroth.

"He was injured trying to resuscitate Astaroth" I told her and made her raise an eyebrow in shock at that so I just nodded my head to reassure her.

"I see...." she responded quietly before surprisingly standing up "Looks like I need to check something, bye Inara" she said before disappearing.

Oh. God... Is she going to go to the human world and ravage the wolf woman?!

Beezlebub appeared in the human world, looking for information about the werewolf and the demon that was supposed to be the subject of conversation, however, in the three days he had been here and trying to get close to the werewolves, no one had mentioned the demon.

What was going on?

Is Inara lying to me? The female demon thought irritably.

Until she arrived at an area that was the territory of the Alpha king, the famous Alpha King Titus.

He had heard stories about the Alpha king's greatness, even tried to seduce him long time ago but failed because the werewolf king was very cold and he had no expression at all, the same thing as Astaroth, but with Astaroth he was able to penetrate him because the demon let him give Stopping her steps and looking in the direction the power came from, Beezlebub smiled widely at the figure she had been looking for all this time.

"Astaroth..." She whispered happily before squinting when she noticed the demon holding the woman beside him with a small smile that she had never seen from the demon at all.
The smile she wanted just for him, but never got.
Who is that woman?
Is she the she-wolf Inara told me about? Beezlebub thought irritably as she continued to stare at the two people with hatred.

Chapter 196

Meanwhile, Rolf Titus and Gwen who were together in the dining room with Melissa and the other werewolves stopped their meal simultaneously when they felt this powerful dark energy.

Gasped loudly....

"What is this? neither Astaroth nor Asmodeus" Melissa said in surprise while looking outside.

Rolf Titus, Gwen and the strongest warriors who were able to feel this goosebump-inducing power immediately stood up and left their food before running towards the direction where the power came from.

There was only one thing on Rolf's mind at the moment, his little daughter was in danger.

Yes, he knew that Iris already had her fated mate, but a father could not possibly not worry about his only daughter.

Astaroth, who also noticed the demon nearby, immediately pulled her lover's body behind her.

Iris gasped in shock, yes, because she didn't have a wolf inside her yet, so she couldn't sense the dangerous dark power nearby, which was currently staring at her with terrible hatred.

Astaroth let out a long sigh when he realized who was near him, Beezlebub.

Yet he still wondered why the demoness was here.

"I see you weakened and betrayed your people, Astaroth" She hissed angrily and made Iris raise an eyebrow in surprise as the beautiful woman at the other end stared with hatred at her and recognized her mate.

Who is she? Iris thought in wonder.

"Beezlebub" Iris gasped loudly at Astaroth's mention of that name.

Yes, she had heard of that demoness.

Cruel, and a woman who was said to be able to warm her mate's bed.

Using all the power at his disposal, Rolf accelerated his footsteps to where he saw Astaroth confronting the blonde woman in the middle of the crowd and cursed the situation he saw.

Damn!! How many people are there? Rolf cursed silently and immediately ordered everyone to leave immediately through his mind-link.

The female demon who noticed the people leaving and felt the great power of the Alpha king approaching, knew that the famous Alpha king Titus had come.

Turning towards the Alpha King, Beezlebub gave her best smile, hoping to get a smile back from the Alpha King. but failed.

Huff... He's still cold, Beezlebub thought irritably and tried to hide her annoyance.

"Hello, King Titus," she greeted softly and shocked him.

Rolf Titus raised an eyebrow in surprise that the beautiful woman recognized him, as he remembered never meeting her.

"Do I know you?" He asked quickly and walked closer to them, hoping that this demoness was not here to me: up his territory.

Damn, what now? he thought irritably.

Beezlebub shook her head before stepping forward and approaching as if she did not fear anything or care that she was currently in werewolf territory.

"I have heard of you, but I am here to see the woman who managed to corrupt my Astaroth" Her remarks made Rolf Titus and Iris raise their eyebrows in surprise.

Iris with her jealousy, and Rolf Titus with his knowledge that this woman had a past with the fated mate of his little daughter.

This is not good, Rolf thought worriedly at how the demoness looked at Iris.

"Your Astaroth? Don't joke, Beez" Astaroth commented and made the demoness look at him for the first time

"What?" Beezlebub was surprised to hear that.

Yes, she knew their relationship was never special to the demon, but saying it out loud in front of everyone her very upset and angry.

"What are you doing here? And don't make a scene here" Astaroth again spoke casually as if the woman in front of him was a child and that made the demoness even more annoyed because he was still protecting the she-wolf figure behind his body, as if she was very special.

"Who is she?" she finally asked and was even more annoyed when Astaroth looked even more protective of the she-wolf.

Damn it!!!

Who is she?!

Midy M

Why did Astaroth care about her so much?!

"Who she is is none of your business,

Beez, go away, go back to the world of darkness and do not make a scene NO here" Astaroth said as though the woman in front of him was really an insignificant woman. chapter there!

Then, surprisingly, Beezlebub raised a hand and Astaroth, unpredictably, grabbed the demoness by the neck which made her choke in shock at the speed and strength the demon possessed.

'He... when did he get this strong?' Beezlebub thought in shock.

She had never known and understood why Asmodeus admired him so much, but now she knew. Astaroth was so powerful, he was almost as powerful as Lucifer. "Didn't I tell you, don't cause trouble here?" Astaroth threatened in the demoness's ear hoping to make her leave this werewolf territory and didn't make any mess.

Why is everyone insisting that I not be with Iris? He thought irritably and wanted to let it be known that whoever his life choice was was his business, not anyone else's or anyone else's business.

Yesterday Asmodeus, now Beezlebub, who will it be next? Why don't they all want to leave me alone? They usually never care, why do they care so much now about who I choose to be my partner?

However, Astaroth did not realize that approaching her would mean leaving Iris alone without his protection.

With his left hand, Beezlebub brought up a long blade that he deliberately aimed at the figure of a woman who did not deserve to be next to the Astaroth whom she adored and had great strength.

Luna Ryley

I was sitting by the window nursing Oakley while Blake went to speak to the alpha. Luca was close by but I needed time to process everything I had been through. I had never been that scared before. The thought of that monster hurting my baby. I choked back a sob as tears rained down my cheeks. I held him a little tighter as I watched him.

"Luna?"

"I'm okay," I cried, quickly wiping away my tears.

Luca pulled up a chair and sat down beside me. He gave me a pointed look, knowing full well I wasn't okay. And I wasn't, but I had to be strong.

"I was scared too," Lily whimpered.

"He touched me," I whispered. "And I can't tell Blake. I don't want to hurt him." Luca reached over and gripped my forearm.

"He would never blame you for that monster's actions. You were trying to keep you and your baby safe." I nodded as I sniffled..

"I was so scared, Luca. I've never felt fear like that before." I confessed..

"We were all scared. Blake stormed into the council and ripped it apart to find you. He was never going to let you go without a fight, Luna. The pack would have fought to the death to get you back safely. You and this

"I know none of this was his fault, but that fear. Everything that happened is finally sinking in and I don't know how to deal with it."

"I'm glad you are safe," Luca gave my arm a squeeze before rising from his seat. "I'll go get the warriors ready to leave." He told Blake before he left.

Blake took Luca's seat beside me and I quickly wiped away more tears that had fallen.

"Baby," he cupped my cheek, wiping tears away with his thumb.

"I'm okay," I mumbled, but he too gave me a look that said he didn't believe me. "How did Sarah take the news?" I asked instead.

"I think she is still in shock, but it was the right call, my Luna. Now, can you tell me why you are crying?"

Oakley was finished nursing and I put my breast away before leaving him to my chest to burp him. He was almost three weeks early but he was still a big boy. He's the size of his sister when she was born at full term.

"I'm sorry, babe, I shouldn't have brought this up right now. Can we go home?" I pleaded.

"Of course, baby," he leaned over and kissed my forehead before standing. I grabbed his hand before he could move away.

"I love you, so much. Thank you for coming to my rescue." I smiled up at him.

"Always. I love you," he leaned down and brushed his lips against mine. "I'm going to get everything ready, do you need anything? Any help with our little man?" He rubbed his son's back.

"I'll be okay. The alpha had someone bring up so much baby stuff. I'm going to bath him and get him ready to leave. We even have a carseat for him."

"Good. Link me if you need me. I shouldn't be long and there are warriors outside the door." He kissed my forehead again before leaving the room.

"I can't wait for you to meet your sister and brother, Channing. They are both going to love you as much as I do," I stood up and looked down at Oakley and he was staring up at me with his big brown eyes. Just like his Daddy's. He even had the dusting of dark hair like his Daddy. I don't think this boy got anything from me. "You are just the cutest," I cooed as I laid him on the bed to get him undressed for a bath. This should get him sleepy and then after another feeding, he should sleep well.

When I was in the middle of getting him dressed in a little blue sleeper there was a knock on the door.

"Luna, there is a Sarah here to see you," a warrior cracked opened the door to announce.

"Let her in," I told him. I quickly zipped the sleeper and picked up my boy.

"I'm not disturbing you, am I, Luna?" Sarah stepped into the room and the warrior closed the door behind her but leaving it ajar.

"Not at all. Have a seat," I motioned to the chairs by the window. Oakley was already sleeping so I sat down with him with his head on my shoulder.

"He is such a beautiful boy," she smiled as she took the seat beside me.

"Thank you. I'm glad you're here. I wanted to thank you for everything you have done for us.

"I wanted to thank you for the pack. I don't deserve it and I'm not even a Luna wolf. I can't run a pack," she ranted.

"But you can. I saw the way the alpha her looks at you. You may not have a Luna wolf but you are every bit his Luna." I told her.

"I'm not his fated and then I would have no one," she whispered.

"I don't think that matters to him and you will never be alone, Sarah. You will always have us and Tessa m know her leaving can't be easy and En you are welcome to visit our pack whenever you wish. I owe you both great debt, saving me and my boy." I reach out and squeezed her hand. The content is on bignovels.com! Read the latest chapter there!
