

The Alpha King's Fated Mate By Yui Ismutomo

Chapter 5

Chapter 5

I didn't return to the party and headed straight to my room, not caring about what will people thought, they were free to think whatever they wanted.

They can consider me arrogant for having the Alpha king's as a mate, I really don't care.

Oh G*d, what happened? Why is he suddenly like that?

Annoyance still filling me, I slammed the door to my room and shouted loudly because of the situation that happened today.

5 years of me trying to be the way I am now, stronger without the need to cry over my misfortune, he came and broke my wall again.

D*mn it!

Knock.. Knock.. Knock..!!!

"Gwen, it's mom"

I took a long breath to calm myself when I heard my mum's voice in front of my room before opening the door and letting her in. She smiled and hugged me.

"I know you must be sad to have to leave again" She said and I quickly realized that is this what people think I was upset about?

I'm just coming to my hometown and then having to leave again because I found my mate?!

How should I explain it?

So I just nodded my head in her arms.

"My dear... Finding your fated mate is the most beautiful thing..." my mum said softly as she placed her hand on my cheek to wipe away my tears "And knowing that you have someone as great as the king... my G*d, I knew you would be great, but... the queen? I never thought that far ahead" she said and I was saddened to hear the pride in her voice.

Is being the king's mate something to be proud of? Why?

I'm just quiet, don't know how to respond....

"He explained how you had a dilemma because you just came" My mum explained and I tried not to snort when I heard the king lied to her and my dad, what dilemma?! "but, your father understands and so do I, even the Alphas who came are happy that you're the king's mate" I sighed and take a seat in my bed.

I know my mom thought maybe that's what's happening to me right now and she came to calm my nerves.

If only she or people know....

'I'll give you one week before my men take you to my castle'

I remember him saying that.

But, is he really going to give me 1 week before taking me?

If he thinks I don't have a wolf so I'm weak and can do whatever he wants, he's wrong, I'll show him that he can't just play with my feelings.

The next day I still went to the clinic where I was supposed to work.

The people there were surprised to see me, but some couples were happy that a female doctor had come to help.

Dr. Malik, one of the senior doctors, although surprised, was happy that I came and helped so he gave me my supposedly office as long as I wanted to work there.

I worked because I didn't want to take the selfish man who claimed to be my mate seriously.

Not because I'm arrogant or feel superior, but I'm trying to predict if at any time he rejects me again, so my heart won't be as broken as before.

PING!

I looked at my phone and read an incoming text from unknown number.

Who? I thought and open to read it...

'I heard you're working? -your mate'

Rolling my eyes in annoyance, I didn't reply and deleted the text immediately.

My mate!!! How dare he claim that by himself?!

Of course he knows my number, he must have spies everywhere, I said to myself. I wonder how he knows my number from my father himself.

Sighed loudly, I put my phone back on the table.

Ignoring him, I continued to take my work seriously.

Working always makes me forget about him, it's what I've been doing since he rejected me, studying and working hard so there's no time to think about him.

Even now, I'll keep working hard so that my mind won't get disturbed by it.

Knock.. Knock...

"Look, who's here?!" Daniel smirked on the door before he walked inside my office.

I smile and kiss his cheek "What are you doing here? and it's early!" We all know how he loves his beauty sleep and can't get up at least at 11AM, and now, it's still 9 AM.

"I can't sleep, can't wait to meet the future queen of the king Alpha" He wiggled his eyebrows mischievously and teased me.

I didn't know how to respond and just smiled.

That's right, last night's events would have been heard by everyone and they would have been curious about the Alpha king's life mate, I forgot that my life would never be the same again.

SH*T!

I hid this for 5 years in vain, he just blurted it out and acted as if the rejection was never done.

What a selfish Alpha king!

"What's wrong?" The touch on my hand jolted me awake and made me realize that Daniel was still here, staring at me intently.

I'd forgotten that he's a very sensitive person and there's nothing I can hide from this man.

Daniel looked at me with a 'Don't you dare lie, I know you have hidden something' look.

For a moment I was at a loss for what to say, because whatever I said would definitely be revealed, considering that I was currently in a room that was not soundproof and with the werewolf hearing of the people around me, they would know the secret

I had been keeping all this time.

Sh*t!!!!

Say something, Gwen!

Come on, hurry up and don't make Daniel more suspicious!!!

"Am I bothering you two right now?"

Surprised, I looked towards the door and for the first time was happy to see that jerk standing there.

However, looking at his hateful gaze toward Daniel, I knew he wasn't happy to see the two of us here.

Huh?

Why does he look angry?

It was the same look as last night.

"My king" Daniel hurriedly greeted him respectfully while bowing his face.

"I, as his closest cousin, would like to extend my congratulations to Gwen, please forgive me if I am interrupting, Your Majesty" My eyebrows raised with curiosity at the way Daniel spoke to him.

Why was he talking like that, as if explaining to the king why he was here?

Could it be....

Is the Alpha king jealous?

I hurriedly looked into the king's eyes which, surprisingly, locked onto mine.

That gaze again....

Why is he always looking at me like that?

"I see..." He whispered softly and confused me as Daniel smiled at him.

"I'll take my leave then" My cousin continued and patted my back before leaving my room.

What the hell is going on?! I'm left confused.
