Rolf Titus Point of View

"My king, several groups of rogues were seen retreating away"

The sound in my head signalled that someone had arrived.

Looking south at the end of the hill, the group from Trazmoz had arrived.

Drake, as well as the others immediately transformed into their wolf form and assisted us in lighting up the rogues.

Jose's skills in battle tactics and formations were immediately put into practice by commanding the warriors. The warriors who knew their main commander had arrived immediately changed their formation.

Turning towards Drake, he saw the figure of Melissa approaching her mate and gave her something before the white witch disappeared again.

Morena's soul is here, I smiled in satisfaction and jerked in surprise as two wolves crashed into me hard due to my lack of focus on the situation.

Sh*t!

I was caught off guard....

The wolf figure quickly stood in front of me, creating a barricade so that no other rogue could hurt me, Jose...

'Go to the queen, my king' he said confidently and I was so proud of all my current members.

Yes...

The Alphas and all of them showed me a loyalty I never thought they would.

'Take care, Jose' I ordered before turning around and starting to run towards Collins territory and chasing the rogues who were heading there, no doubt to harm my mate, Gwen.

Gggrrrr.....

The thought that anyone would dare try to harm someone we care about angered Wolf so much that he quickened his footsteps like the wind itself.

'Let's end this, Wolf' I said to my wolf who agreed that we must win this time.

'Gwen is hurting' Wolf informed us and kept us moving towards our mate in the hope that we wouldn't be late.

Swooshhh...

A shot of wolfsbane's poison arrow was fired at me and I easily dodged it.

Yeah, there was no way I was going to get hit a second time.

Transforming into a human, I stopped and stood silently to challenge the rogues I sensed around me.

This Collins property is an old land, so there is a lot of wolf scent and just like Gwen was struggling, I also find it hard to distinguish the smell of the rogues or not.

Tap...

"Well.. Well.. Well.. When I smelled my nephew, I thought my nose was broken" Jack's voice echoing from behind the tree.

So, he is here....

4 rogue figures walked slowly around me.

"You think these weak wolves can defeat me?" I asked softly and it made him laugh.

"You can kill them, I don't care" He replied and as I started to move he added

"remember, 1 wound on my men, the same wound will be given to your favourite woman" Halt...

So that's the case...

'He's lying' Wolf commented quickly with confidence.

'Are you sure?' I asked.

'Erol told me that they were on their way to Alpha Collins' old mansion, indeed chased by some rogues but Gwen is still looking for her'

Wolf's answer made me turn into my wolf quickly and attack the nearest wolf before running towards where my uncle was standing.

Where is he?!

SH*T!

COWARD!!!

Third Party POV

Meanwhile, one of Jack's men who was told to look for Morena, managed to find the black witch's cage.

Melissa gasped as she felt the confinement of her magic against the dark witch's power being opened.

"Mum" I said breathlessly as I felt the dark energy of Pearl's black power approaching.

Lola interrupted, she could feel it too "We must find Pearl's mortal body immediately" she said.

Melissa quickly left the palace territory and handed over the protection from the surrounding magic to my mother before telepathically heading to where Gwen was.

I must hurry! Melissa thought and act as fast as she can

Meanwhile, Jack, who feels his power has returned, smiles in triumph knowing that his mate, no, the black witch has been liberated

Hahahaha...

Yes, I know this time the victory is in my hands.

Come Pearl... Come and give me strength... The strength to destroy the man who has destroyed us.

10:19

It's time for our revenge to become a reality.

The world that the two of us lead...

A world where everything is subservient to me and you are the black witch who is my fated mate who will always protect me and give me the strength so that no one can defeat us to rule this world to be what we want it to be.

This is my time...

My time has come to become the true king of Osmund...

But first, I have to get the power of white-wolf before I kill the owner and her mate...

Remember, don't kill the white wolf, he's mine, subvert him at all costs but don't kill him'

I ordered the members who were chasing after my nephew's mate in search of the black witch's mortal body.

Let them collect everything, I don't care if the witch dies if the white wolf is already mine.

Jack who had always been a greedy man forgot that his life and the black witch, who was his fated mate were so closely intertwined that one death would cause the death of the other.

However, he forgot, the black witch's fury was fierce and so far only Titus, the king, had been able to defeat her.

So, if he killed Titus, then betrayed the black witch, then there would be nothing left for him, not even the throne he wanted.

Feeling his strength returning, Jack arrogantly grabbed and ripped the neck of the member standing next to him, startling the other rogues.

Laughing with delight and malice, Jack just kept walking towards Alpha Collins' old home, confident that with his powers back from the black witch, it would be easy for him to conquer the white-wolf he so desperately wanted.

Chapter 72

Go back Gwen's Point of View

Pain..

What I feel right now is pain, the inner connection of the entire pack is connected to

Titus, as their Alpha king, and I who am the mate of the Alpha-king.

The fear of the war...

The fear of losing their loved ones...

And then the pain...

The pain of losing their mate...

The pain of the wounds they received...

The pain of knowing that the world they live in is no longer safe for them and their families...

Because of the anger of 1 person, everyone became a victim, no wonder Titus was very serious in maintaining the safety of his pack, he knew that this was one way to give their pack peace of mind, because they had someone reliable to protect the pack.

'Titus is here'

Destine's words startled me.

'Titus is awake? Is he okay?' I asked quickly, because the last time I saw him he was unconscious from the wolfsbane poison.

Wasn't he at the palace to protect our territory?

What is he doing here?

'For us' Destine replied.

I don't know what to say or feel knowing that my mate cares so much.

However, would our territory be okay if the king wasn't there?

10:20

I asked myself.

'All the Alphas from all the alliance territories are coming to help' Destine sounded proud when she told me the information.

'Really?!' I know he's a great king Alpha, but I never thought everyone would stay loyal like this...

"Because this is time for us to let you both be happy"

A voice came and I was startled to see Melissa appear in front of us.

Melissa?

Knowing that the white witch was here, I quickly transformed into my human form.

"Melissa, why are you here? Aren't you in charge of forming a protective barrier around the palace perimeter?" I asked quickly.

The white witch smiled, "My mum came to help."

Oh G*d...

Another help is coming?!

Hof Hof Hof...

The sound of the wolves behind us indicated that the pursuing rogue was not far behind, making me turn back into my white-wolf self and let Melissa sit by Erol who continued to stay behind me as my guard. Melissa was wide-eyed and quickly dismounted as we stopped in front of a door with the strongest smell of the undead I had ever smelled.

Yes, it looks like Pearl is in this room, I can't be wrong...

"Here?" Melissa asked before she checked the door for magic or not at the same time a groan was heard and the pursuing rogues were right behind us.

2/5

10:20

Sh*t!

Erol swiftly barricaded the rogues to give us time to get into the room.

I stood next to him so that Melissa could immediately open the magic-locked door.

"This door is locked with black magic" she whispered before closing her eyes and whispering to try to use her magic to open the door.

BAM!!!

I gasped and turned my head back when I saw it was open. 'Gwen, this is too easy' Destine said and I know she was right. Jack must have something wicked going on in his head.

Woosshhh....

Smoke?

'Gwen, it's poison' Destine shout-out and I turn my head to see Erol has fainted, so I quickly bite his neck to start dragging him away from the place to go inside the room.

Ugh.. I grunt while dragging him.

We need him...

He's the one who will bring the mortal body of Pearl toward our place, we can't lose him!

Growll...

This feeling...

Dark power?

My eyes widened at the sight of a floating body surrounded by transparent blue walls.

When I heard about Pearl being a black witch, I always imagined her to be like those ugly witches I've seen on TV, but that was far from my imagination.

3/5

She's not like a witch, she's like a sleeping princess in a fairy tale...

I've seen Morena's figure when she was absorbed by Pearl's black magic and it was horrible, how could anyone sacrifice such beauty just for power?

Titus doesn't love such a beautiful woman?

Yes, I knew she wasn't his mate, but knowing my mate never even thought she was beautiful surprised me.

Melissa was also transfixed looking at the woman who looked like she was asleep.

"Pearl mortal body" Melissa whispered while trying to touch the blue wall but she was immediately thrown back knowing that it was a protective magic so that no one could take the black witch's mortal body.

Ggrrrr....

The sound of approaching rogues made Melissa raise her hand and close the door of the room so that they could not enter the room with us.

I transformed back into my human form and Melissa waved a hand to make some clothes for me to wear and I smiled at her in gratitude.

I still couldn't believe that the woman in front of me was Pearl's true form because it was completely different from the way she looked when the dark magic began to consume her.

"Dark magic always asks for sacrifice" Melissa said as if she knew of my shock at Pearl's original figure in front of me "However, this is Pearl's original milky body" She added. "How could she not change?" I whispered as I continued to stare at her.

"When her soul unites, it will change everything, the dark witch's true self will be revealed."

But is it really this easy? We found her body like this without any obstacle or fight from Jack's side.

Wait... Where is Jack?

There was no way he would let us take the black witch Pearl's mortal body because the effects of eliminating her would affect the wolf leader of the rogues himself.

Or maybe...

He doesn't know this?!

Bump... Bump... Bump...

What is that?!

The whole place was shaking, what happened?

'Gwen, we have to hurry, Pearl knows we're here and she's furious!" Melissa looked very scared as she said that.

So that vibration was the power of Pearl's black magic?

Oh my G*d, can we win this battle? Can we defeat Pearl's black magic?

'Melissa... my queen..

When I heard another voice echoed, I turned my head and I widened my eyes when I saw Lola's shadow appear next to Melissa.

'Pearl's black magic?' Destine whispered in surprised

What? I widened my eyes.

Why are they doing it now?

Here?

continued and I didn't have time to even blink when I saw it with my eyes as I watched the two white witches try to use high level black magic.

'Why now, Destine?'

'It seems that the black witch confinement has been released, so they rushed to perform the ritual' She answered my question and my heart was beating faster when I heard it.

We were running out of time so they accelerated the ritual of returning the black witch's body.

I could only stand back and watch as they tried to remove Pearl's mortal body, it wasn't long before like cracked glass, the barrier around the witch's body began to cck before finally breaking completely.

Quickly, I stepped over to her with ease when I realised the shield protecting her was gone and raised my hand to retrieve the body from where it was placed.

O G*d...

Mortal Pearl was already in hand, I thought in disbelief as I touched her.

"We have to hurry, Lola will open the teleportation gate so that we can start the ritual of returning Pearl's soul in Morena's body back to her real body" Melissa explained and I nodded in understanding.

When that happens it's my job to kill Pearl as she enters her mortal body...

"It will be very dangerous, but I'm sure you can do it" Melissa added and I saw that Lola was already mumbling as a sign that she was ready.

Pearl's black magic book floated in the centre and began to envelop the black witch's mortal body.

The world seemed to tremble as the ritual began and I could only watch and wait for the right moment.

'Gwen...'

When Destine's voice suddenly called my name, I knew she had something to say.

Something she was hiding...

The reason why she sounded sad and worried when victory seemed to be in sight.

BAAAMMMM...!!!

"My queenn.." A man's voice called.

That voice...

Jack!

BAAAAMMMMM!!!

He tried to destroy the door!!

Erol stepped forward and tried to protect me by pulling me away from the door...

I didn't realise that he had woken up and turned into his human form.

It looks like Melissa also dressed him when he turned into his human form.

Yes, the wolfsbane poison is indeed dangerous for our wolves, people who find out about it will immediately turn into humans so that the poison doesn't have too much of a negative effect.

After all that happened in a short period of time, I had forgotten that he was still here.

Yes, originally I thought we were going to take Pearl's mortal body and Erol was the courier who would carry it while I tried to keep away the rogues who would try to capture and stab us.

However, that plan failed and Melissa and Lola, with their powers, opened a portal so that I wouldn't have to carry her body around.

"Erol, you're awake.. you okay?" I asked him who nodded. BAAAAMMMMMMM...!!!

"My job is to protect you, the poison gas doesn't have much effect on me" He replied before looking back towards the cracked door.

Looking towards the two white witches who are trying to restore Pearl's body, I think they need time and we are the only ones who can hinder Jack.

I nodded "It seems that only we can protect the completion of the magic ritual" I said as I began to cck my fingers and prepared to fight.

"Who is that beautiful woman?" She asked as she started getting ready to open the door and run out to attack anyone who tried to enter this room.

"That's the original form of the black witch, Pearl Collins" I replied quietly and caused him to widen his eyes in surprise.

Staring at his expression, I couldn't help but laugh "Why, do you like her? I teased him.

She hurriedly shook her head "I've heard my father's story about the black witch, he said different things that the black witch he saw was terrible" She explained in a daze.

Yes, I understand her confusion...

"The use of black magic always requires sacrifice" I told him and realised something.

O G*d, I forgot...

Sacrifice...

Melissa and Lola... They had to sacrifice something in order to complete the black magic ritual of returning Pearl's body and soul!

Do they realise that?!

'Do you know this, Destine?' I quickly asked my wolf.

10:20

She sighed "They know..." She paused and I keep waiting for her to continue "They plan to sacrifice their immortal life" No...

Melissa is Drake's mate...

I can't imagine what would happen if Drake found out that his mate sacrificed her life for the refinement of black magic.

No, I can't allow that.

'What should we do, Destine?'

When she paused and didn't answer me, I knew that the answer she was about to give was not good.

'Destine?' I addressed her again

'Remember what I said about the Moon Goddess only lending me to you?' No... I know where this is going.

O G*d, is she really going to talk about the things I'm thinking about?

'Please Destine, don't tell me that...'

'Yes... She interrupted me 'Returning me to the Moon Goddess could be the right thing to do'

Restoring Destine?

Chapter 75

"You mean I have to sacrifice you?"

Titus smiled and nodded his head to answer me.

Yes, he had said that if something happened to him, I should go ahead with our plan and leave him behind.

He knew that my weakness was him and his weakness was me, so it would be exploited by our enemies.

However, now that I have the vision that the man I love is on the verge of death, can I follow his request?

'We should be able to' Destine sounded sad and pained as she said that, yes, she also saw what I saw in my vision.

This must be Pearl's doing, but is it real?

'We promised him' Destine added quietly.

"Do you also promise to let me be if something happens to me?" At that moment, I also turned to ask him, to make sure that he would continue with our plan.

Yes, because at that time I was planning to sacrifice myself, never thinking that this would turn back on me.

O Lord... can I continue with this at his expense?

What am I living for if not without him?

"I promise I'll finish this even if you're in danger" Titus looked into my eyes as he said firmly "But that doesn't mean I won't follow you after it's all over" He added with a mischievous smile that made me punch his chest in annoyance at that moment.

Yeah... I remember, he always said that he would accompany me wherever I went, whether in this world or the other world.

So, I can also do the same, right?

Right now settling things with Pearl and ending everyone's suffering from black magic is our main task to achieve peace.

Whatever the cost...

'Yes, ignore that vision... Now the main thing is to win this battle first' Destine stated firmly at the same time as the cras in the protective barrier of the mortal body of the woman sleeping in front of us began to weaken.

Lola and Melissa's hands turned black, as they were currently using Pearl's black magic to defeat her.

I can't be lost...

Ignore it...

"GWEN... NOW!!!"

PRAAAANNNKKK...!!!

Like broken glass, a strong wind blew from Pearl's mortal body and the earth began to shake violently as if an earthquake had occurred again when the mortal body's barrier was destroyed.

It seemed that the black witch had learnt that the barrier made for her mortal body had been successfully broken and the vision shown in my head was fruitless.

GRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA.....

The sound of screaming seemed to be heard in my head but I slowly continued to walk towards the witch's mortal body even though the strong wind seemed to make me unable to reach it.

"Gwen... quickly..." Melissa whispered as she continued to try to keep Pearl's mortal body armour open and handed me a long, royal-stamped knife that I guessed belonged to Titus appeared in front of me.

A knife?

I swiftly took the knife and raised it as I was right in front of Pearl's mortal body...

"Follow my words..." Lola whispered and I nodded my head...

"With this knife, and with the blood of the kingdom you have destroyed, I return all black magic to its rightful owner, at the cost and return of all the lives and power you have given me... begone.. begone.. begone..!!!"

"N00000000000...!!!!!"

My eyes widened as I saw a transparent figure with a hideous face appear in front of me at the same time I had thrust the knife into her mortal body...

Yes, the transparent figure was Pearl's soul and her form due to her greed in using black magic, seemed to be sucked back into the body of a beautiful woman who seemed to be sleeping, I saw a change occur in the beautiful woman's form....

The figure of the beautiful woman slowly began to transform into a monstrous figure as if they had become one again.

Too focused on what was happening before my eyes, none of us realised that Erol had been defeated and a man had broken into the room.

STAB!!!

My eyes widened as I stared at the claws on my chest....

Coughing up blood, I turned around to see that Jack had managed to enter the room with a claw stuck in my chest.

"NOOO! GWEEENNNN!!!!!!!!!" Melissa, who had just realised what had happened, screamed in shock but she could not leave her position to complete the ritual of destroying Pearl and her black magic.

"I'll take your white-wolf" Jack snapped and easily lifted my flailing body helplessly in his arms.

"GWEEENNNNN...!!!!!"

Titus....

Too much blood flowed from me making me weak so I couldn't look at my mate.

Third Party Point of View

True to my plan, all of their focus was on the black witch.
Yes, they forgot about me...
I quickly defeated the young wolf protecting the queen, before waiting for the right moment to enter the room....
Pearl must not know that I sacrificed her...
Yes, her hatred for my nephew was the thing that made her a fool that I could use, but now she is no longer needed.
Yes, with the white-wolf and her power, I believe I can replace the black witch....
“With this knife, and with the blood of the kingdom you have destroyed, I return all black magic to its rightful owner, at the cost and return of all the lives and power you have given me... begone.. begone.. begone..!!!”
“NOOOOOO000000....!!!!”
As I heard the black witch’s cry of pain, I entered the room with a satisfied smile seeing that no one had noticed me here.
Turning my hands into wolf claws, I approached the queen and dug my claws into her chest...
CRAAHHH....!!!!
Finally....
The white-wolf is mine!!!
“NOOO! GWEEENNNN!!!!!!!!” One of the white witches who realised too late that their queen was in danger looked at me with horror, but I just smiled, I knew she couldn’t do anything because she had to complete the ritual.

Hahahaha....
Victory for me!!!
“I’ll take your white-wolf” I stated happily and easily lifted her flailing body helplessly into my arms.
“GWEEENNNNN...!!!!!!”

Ahh... My dear nephew...
I turn my head to meet his angry gaze lock on me. With her mate in my arms, I couldn’t help but burst out laughing with satisfaction at the look of shock and anger on his face.
“You took my mate, so I took yours, Titus” I said casually as I pressed the button of the secret room behind me.
Yes, I had been living in the Alpha Collins’ house for so long that I knew my way around this territory.
BAAAAMMMMMMM!!!
As the secret door closed at the same time my nephew managed to reach it but this time he failed.
Yes, looking at the unconscious figure of the woman in my hands, I knew that I had to escape from this place immediately before the king’s wrath came upon me...
I must hide again...

Until the time was right to sink my claws into my dear nephew.

2 weeks later....

Go to Gwen's Point of View

I jolt awake and take a look around the room I slept in.

This is...

"You're awake, my dear?" Huh? Who?

I turn my head to see a man walking with a glass of water in his hand.

Who is he?

Staring at the glass he handed me, I slowly took it and drank the water down.

Where is this?

Where am I?

"I..."

He let out a long sigh "You still don't remember? I'm your husband and last week you had an accident so you lost your memory"

He looked tired as he explained it, as if I asked him many times and he repeatedly explained it.

Accident?

My husband?

Staring into his eyes that kept looking at me with a small smile, for some reason there was a strange feeling that said that I couldn't trust him, but was there any other choice I could make other than trusting this man in front of me?

There's no way he would lie about that, right?

What can he achieve for that lie?

"Where is this? Who am I?" I asked quietly before lying back down on my bed as the dizziness and weakness returned to me.

"Sydney... and your name is Ellaine Gwen... I'm Jack Osmund, your husband" He explained slowly before I lost my consciousness back into the darkness that surrounded me.

Why do I suddenly feel... sleepy?

That water... He seemed to put something in those drinks...

Days passed with me waking up and falling asleep just staring at the plough of the man who claimed to be my husband, Jack Osmund...

Was he really my husband?

Another week has passed and I've had more energy so I'm not constantly taking the medicine the doctor gave me due to the accident.

Amnesia...

Yes, that's what the doctor told me that I lost my memory and as if restarting my life from 0, my memory began when I woke up and saw the man who said he was my husband.

However, why do I feel strange around that man?

"Are you awake?" I looked over to see him coming with a glass of water which he placed on the table before sitting beside me

"It's good to see you're awake and sitting in the living room with me" he said with a smile.

They said we had an accident, but he looked healthy to be someone who said was there with me in the car accident, why am I the only one suffering from it?

Something isn't right...

I just nodded my head without looking back out of the window beside me.

It's strange when you can't remember or recognise anything, as if you just woke up from a long sleep and everything in front of you is unknown whether it's true or just a lie.

"Ellaine..."

I turned towards him when he called my name, a name that felt strange because I didn't seem to recognise it.

"Are you okay?" He asked worriedly.

I nodded again "It's just weird because I can't recognise or remember anything" I replied softly with a sigh.

"I see..." He smiled while holding my hand and I, as if stung by something hot, was surprised at being touched and quickly retracted my hand from his touch.

"Ah... Sorry" I said quickly, confused by this reaction I felt.

Why do I seem to dislike being touched by him?

The disgust and hatred I feel when he touches me...

What am I feeling?

"Does your head hurt again?" he hurriedly asked and went to get some medicine from the drawer.

Strange...

This situation is very strange...

My body feels healthy, but why is it that after taking the medicine and water I always feel weak?

"Here" He gave the medicine into my hand.

How could I trick him into drinking the medicine and water he gave me?

Knock... Knock...

As if my prayers were answered when I heard someone knocking on the front door, I pretended to put some medicine in my mouth before grabbing a glass of water.

He, who thought I was taking the medicine, roused to open the door and I hurriedly spit out the medicine and put it in my trouser me, then pretended to yawn before putting my head on the back of the sofa at the same time he came back with 2 men and 1 woman.

"I see you've still got her captive..." Someone was speaking but I didn't recognise them so at the moment I just wanted to listen.

Yes, my feelings tell me that the man who claims to be my husband is not who he says he is, I know myself and how I would feel and act if I really loved that man.

Why?

Even if I don't recognise him, my heart must know...

However, what's in my heart right now is only suspicion and hatred, so I have to believe in myself rather than that person I don't know.

Did he say captive..?

"Be careful..." The woman's voice sounded as if she wanted to know if I was really asleep or not.

Sh*t!

I need to act better....

"Don't worry, I saw her taking the forgetfulness medicine as well as the water with the wolfsbane, she must have fallen asleep"

This time I recognised Jack's voice speaking.

Forgetfulness medicine?

Water containing wolfsbane?

What is wolfsbane?

Is it some kind of poison?

And memory drugs?

O G*d...

So I was right... He's not my husband!

Rolf Titus Point of View

"What do you mean by leaving all this behind?" Drake looked angry and shocked at my words.

Yes, I know this decision was sudden for him, but it's been on my mind since I saw how great everyone was without me where they were able to protect their pack members and work well together.

They don't need an Alpha king...

I closed my eyes and let out a long sigh "Drake..." I called his name and opened my eyes to meet his gaze "The black magic has been erased with the sacrifice of Lola's immortality and the witch's offspring... They also sacrificed their powers so that there is no more black magic. But, they have their families by their side... Melissa has you, even though she is only human at the moment but she knows you will always be by her side... and Morena, it was a surprise to find out she was Jose's mate..... I thought the old man would always be alone but apparently he didn't find her all this time because she was hidden..." I smiled a little as I remembered Morena...

When she's waking up, the white witch's success in destroying Pearl who had returned to her mortal body, Gwen's stab that managed to stop the black witch's heartbeat, then they returned Morena's soul to her body.

Everything that happened was like a dream...

Our victory, our success in finishing the black magic...

But...

"Drake, I only have Gwen. All of this is meaningless because my mate is not by my side..." I finished my words and smiled at him.

He knows how much I want a mate, after hundreds of years of living without one, this time I can't afford to lose my second chance.

He shed tears and looked down "But, leaving your title and leaving the palace.... What will I do with my new position?"

I got up and stood in front of him to pat his shoulder. "You're a great person, I'm sure you can become a great Alpha and be able to protect this territory... I will give power to each Alpha in each territory" I said firmly with confidence.

Yes, I know everyone will be surprised but this time I want to be selfish, I want to seek my happiness-and don't want the title of Alpha king to hinder me.

Jack crossed the line and only I can put an end to this.

Peace has come and I want to keep this as my gift to everyone... He made Pearl his mate, 1 year is usually the limit for a person to survive after their mate dies, it's been almost 3 weeks since he took my mate, I know he really wants the white wolf and I'm afraid the only way he can do it is to make my mate his, even if by force.

Our bond has not been broken, but Destine is asleep, I can't reach her...

Wolfsbane...

That's what Wolf thought and I agree with him, it seems Destine was poisoned by Wolfsbane so she became very weak. The spies sent by some Alpha to help me said he went to London, but yesterday Richard informed me that they were no longer there.

Australia...

Ares said they went there, and this time I can't lose them again. I just hope Gwen stays healthy and nothing bad happens to her.

Please wait, Gwen...

I will definitely come to you...

Chapter 77

2 days later or exactly 3 weeks since Jack kidnapped Gwen and I couldn't delay anymore to go look for her.

As the days went by, Wolf was getting even sadder because his bond mate with Destine was getting weaker.

There are only 2 possibilities, Destine's resistance makes him constantly use wolfsbane poison to make her weaker or they are very far away.

However, usually the mate bond will not weaken easily even at a distance, unless he uses the poison....

Didn't he desire the power of the white-wolf?

'The owner of the white-wolf is only the Moon Goddess, she will not submit to others no matter what, you know that Titus...' Wolf said and that's what worries us.

Yes, Jack will likely have to remove the wolf from Gwen's body and that could kill not only the wolf, but also the human.

My uncle's main goal is to take revenge on me and make me suffer as much as possible, he knows that my weakness is Gwen so right now I'm sure he will try any means to make that happen.

Ugh... Why did I make that promise?!

"Do you also promise to let me be if something happens to me?" I remember she asked me back when I asked her to promise to complete the task of exterminating the black witches, I didn't expect that she would turn around and ask me to promise too.

D*MN IT!!!

"I promise I'll finish this even if you're in danger, Gwen" I said it firmly and looking into her eyes, never thought this will be happen

"But that doesn't mean I won't follow you after it's all over"

I want to beat myself up for making such a stud decision and promising such a stid thing!!!

F*CK... F*CK... F*UIN' D*MN IT !!!!

SMACK..!!!

The desk that I had been using was split in two due to the emotions that I had been holding back and could no longer contain.

I let out a long sigh to try to control myself at the same time Drake opened the door and he entered with several Alphas who were gathered.

Yes, today is the day of the gathering of all Alphas, which is also the day of handing over my position as Alpha king.

No one knows about it yet, only Drake, not all also know about the kidnapping of my mate and I intend to inform them all today.

"We're ready, my king" Drake bowed his head in respect before turn around to stand outside with Harry and other warrior.

Alpha Blake, Richard, Ares and Mike looked at me sadly.

Yes, they are the only ones who know the truth but don't know my plan yet, I wanted to tell them personally before attending the meeting, that's why I called them here early.

"Sorry you have to see me like this" I said flatly and directed them to sit down.

Blake, who is Gwen's father, approached me and tapped me on the back.

"Rest assured my daughter is a very great woman, she must be okay and is waiting for you" His words made me give a small smile, yes, he was the father figure I had lost, his authority sometimes reminded me of my father and I was happy to have him as my father-in-law.

However, I need to tell him my secret...

"You know Blake, I was once an idiot who studly rejected your wonderful daughter"

Alpha Blake's shocked face was as if I slapped him and I could only smile sadly while bowing my head in shame "My fear of black magic made me do that stid thing" I continued and I saw his hands clenched in anger "That's the reason why she went to the human world to study medical"

SMACK..!!!

Everyone was shocked and more shocked when they saw Alpha Blake hit me with his fist.

For the first time I wanted to feel the pain of the stid thing I'd done and made my lover sad.

She was the best thing that ever happened to me... Before I knew it, tears were falling and I fell to my knees in regret and fear that I wouldn't be able to find her back in my arms...

No one spoke and I only felt the hand on my back.

"I know" My eyes widened and I raised my head to meet Alpha Blake's gaze.

He heaved a sigh "Gwen once told me everything when my Luna was sick and she also explained how you seemed to replace her suffering with your love."

"You knew that and hit him anyway" Alpha Ares grunted as he pulled me to my feet

“What a cruel father-in-law” He whispered loudly and joked in my ear.
“We’ve all done stud things” Alpha Richard chimed in and everyone smiled soothingly.
“What do you plan to do now?” Asked my father-in-law and with a look at the four pairs of eyes, I explained my plan which made them glare in surprise when they heard it.
I nodded my head and showed that I meant what I said.

Hopefully, the others would also think the same as the loyal colleagues who were in this room with me.

This time, I wanted to be selfish and seek my happiness without the title of Alpha king...

I want to find my mate and settle all this with my uncle...

Only I can do this.

News of the king leaving his throne began to spread, at first the Alphas were very surprised to hear me stepping down from my position, they thought I was just joking.

However, when I handed over the Alpha position and the area around the palace to Drake, they only realized how serious I was.

Yes, the kidnapping that Jack did to my mate was also informed, so that this time I would seek my happiness without fear of leaving my position as Alpha king.

There is no more Alpha king, each Alpha has the right to provide the best for his territory, but the meeting of the Alphas must be maintained so that this brotherhood or alliance is not broken.

Drake with Melissa by his side along with the other members accompanied me when I decided to leave the territory to look for my mate and scoured the place where Jack had gone.

Everyone bowed their heads in respect and obvious admiration.

Yes, they thought what I did for my mate was admirable, they didn’t know that I should have done this sooner if I hadn’t made that stid promise with my mate.

Giving everyone a sle and nodding my head, I turned around and transformed into my wolf form to begin my journey to find my mate.

Kurt, who is Erol’s older brother, decided to accompany me, because he wanted to make sure that the queen could return with me, as that was Erol's last request to him.

'For the first time I am proud to be the queen's protector, but please make sure that she can be with the Alpha king and be happy, they deserve it' Those were the words that Kurt told me so that whatever rejection I said he ignored and remained determined to accompany me on this journey.

**

London, England

Deciding to trace Jack's journey, I went to the country where they were seen with Kurt who remained faithfully by my side.

So we contacted the owner of the house where they were seen here in London.

Stepping inside, I knew with certainty that Gwen was here with Jack.

"The husband and wife had an accident on the way here, unfortunately the wife has lost her memory and has to be carried" said the owner of the house that was rented out to Jack.

Husband and wife...

So that's the lie Jack used to tell the humans... that they were husband and wife and had an accident...

'The smell of Wolfsbane is coming from the kitchen' Wolf informs me in my head and I walk towards the kitchen.

Yes, he's right, it's the smell of wolfsbane...

That seems to be the reason why Wolf couldn't contact Destine, they weakened him with Wolfsbane poison...

"Wolfsbane's poison smells all over this house" Kurt whispered and he looked annoyed.

The owner, who thought we were going around to rent the house too, let us in and waited in the living room with a friendly look.

Kurt, who was one of the best warrior trackers I had ever seen, was trying to find something and I was glad to have him as my traveling companion.

"Call me if you decide to use this house" The owner said and I nodded my head while shaking his hand.

Walking towards the car we rented, Kurt and I didn't say anything for fear of sounding strange to the humans beside us.

Blam...

"That coward seems to be giving poison to the queen, my king" He quickly said to me and made me chuckle in amusement.

"Kurt, call me Titus, I am no longer the king of Alpha" I commented dryly.

He exhaled "Are we going to the next place, my king?" He asked without heeding my warning about calling me by my name without the title of king.

I nodded my head "Alpha Ares mentioned about Australia"
He started the car engine and began to drive. "Let's go there" he said firmly.

"Why don't you have your wolf?" Who?

Who is this man?

I smiled wryly "I don't know"

He nodded and I frowned in confusion because I saw no smile forming from his lips but I can't see his eyes.

"Then this will be easier" He said and made me more confused.

"Huh?"

"You see the woman I'm with is more worthy than you... So don't think you deserve to be my mate"

Gasped....

I jolt awake and quickly jump out into seat position only to realize it is just a nightmare.

Sniff.. Sniff...

What...

It is just a nightmare but why do my tears fall heavily like this?

And my heart.... It hurts so much?!

Who is that man?

Because I know it isn't Jack...

Who is that man who I think owns my heart...

But the word he said makes no sense, wolf? mate?

What does it mean?

And the words he shot at me 'the woman I'm with is more worthy than you... So don't think you deserve to be my mate' What does it mean?

Why did he reject me with that kind of words?

It's exactly the third day since I pretended to take their medicine and water but I threw it away secretly, apparently Jack was getting suspicious.

Then it really wasn't the medicine he gave me, because I felt weak after drinking it and now my body feels fitter because I didn't consume the medicine or poison he gave me.

However, why would he do that?

Who was he?

Why me?

Knowing he is not my husband, why does he claim to be married to me?

Ugh... all this is confusing and making my head hurt even more.

However, what about my real family? Are they worried about me? Could I have been kidnapped from my family?

Gasped... Does Jack have an unrequited desire for me? Is that why he's doing this?

Knock.. Knock...

"You're awake..."

He always knocks twice, but Jack would immediately open the door without listening to my answer whether he could enter or not...

I thought this was natural because he was my husband, but if he really thought about me, he would understand that I, who pretending to hold my head and looking weak "Why am I not getting better? It's been 3 weeks" I pretended to ask confusedly. He just gave a small smile and stroked my head.

Ugh...

I had to restrain myself because there was something in me that rejected him if he started touching or caressing me.

Yes, it's as if my body knows that I don't like being touched by him.

Jack, as if knowing that, just sighed "You still don't remember me?" He asked softly and I again just nodded my head.

"Sorry" I replied and he looked happier.

He shook his head with a big smile "You being here with me makes me happy, Ellaine..."

Ellaine...

A name that feels foreign to me, as if it's not my name.

"Thank you."

He just sat there for a while before nodding his head and going outside.

Looking at the food and drinks and medicine in the tray he placed on the side table, I need to come up with a plan soon because

I don't know if the food he gave me is safe for me either...
The possibility of him poisoning me is high, but me not eating and drinking could also

Chapter 80

At 4pm, Inara came to help me go shopping at the Mall and I smiled at her before grabbing my jacket to go with her.

"Thank you for accompanying me" I said with a smile as I entered her car.

She nodded as she started the engine "It's good to see you're well, I was sad when Jack took you from your honeymoon and explained the situation"

Honeymoon...?

Situation...?

'Sorry if I have to ask, have you known us long?' I asked curiously before deciding whether they were just like Jack or could be someone who could help me escape.

She furrowed her eyebrows as if thinking for a minute before answering "Marcus, my husband has been friends with Jack since they were in high school" She said and I had to sigh silently knowing it would be difficult to ask for their help. "You know, Marcus was just like you before, he had an accident and lost his memory and Jack was the one who helped him... Your husband is a really great guy" She added something that could be helpful to me.

Bang...

It was like being hit by a bullet, so it was true that my suspicions were correct, Marcus didn't seem to suspect that Jack was lying, they were also deceived just like me...

"Accident? What happened?" I was interested in her further explanation.

However, I had to look in her direction when I didn't hear any answer.

"Inara?" I called out as she gasped in surprise and turned

However, why would he do that?

What was the goal he wanted to achieve?

I need to act quickly before Jack gets suspicious.

"By the way, Jack left this for you" Inara changed the subject and thrust a black card at me.

Platinum unlimited card...

"Can I get some cash out of here?" I asked quickly and she nodded her head while giggling.

"You can even buy the mall if you want" she commented jokingly and I gave her a big smile.

Why isn't he suspicious?

Why was she acting like her forgetting about someone who claimed to be her husband's old friend was no big deal?

Da*n, it's going to be hard to convince her that Jack isn't who she thinks he is, she might even ruin my plans before she takes my side and helps me, seeing how amazed she looks when talking about the man who claims to be my husband.

Yes, I'll take a lot of cash and buy the things I need if I'm going to escape from this place.

New Zealand... I need an identity if I'm going to head there.

"Inara, do you know a place where I can get a passport and other IDs?" I asked as we entered the mall car park.

can come here using that."

Hmm....

So Jack apparently has my passport and other IDs, I need to find them and search his room immediately if I want to retrieve them.

Sh*t, I've never entered or know where his room is.

"We have arrived... So, what do you want to do first?"

I looked at her meaningfully and smiled "Cash, I need a lot of cash" I replied and she nodded her head even though I knew she was currently confused as to why I needed cash but I wasn't going to explain anything to her.

Yes, it seems like there's no one I can trust in this matter, I have to move on my own.

Third Party Point of View

Ping... Ping...

When the text message came in and informed me of the money spent from the card I gave Inara for shopping, I was shocked to see the number on it.

5 million dollars? What did they use that much money for?

'Looks like the queen realised something, I no longer smell wolfsbane in her blood' My eyebrows widened in surprise at the words my wolf Petros said in my head.

I hurriedly walked into the woman's room to check something.

Could it be that she was suspicious and didn't drink the forgotten poison and wolfsbane-infused water I gave her?

Since when?

And she would limp if she didn't eat or drink something yet she looked the same....

Searching her room, I didn't find anything suspicious, even the dirty dishes that were still beside her bed were still there.

'Bathroom, check the bathroom' Petros ordered and I quickly walked to the bathroom beside his room.

There was nothing...

'Look in the toilet...

My eyes widened to see a small spot of food stains there.

Petros was right... he threw the food away, apparently suspecting me and my lies.

That's why she's avoiding my touch?

Smiling sarcastically, I nodded my head in understanding. Way out... To the mall... The money taken out of my card...

Hmm....

It seems that the queen is planning to run away from me. Hahaha... I must admit she is indeed great...

Yes, the wolf-white bearer is no ordinary woman, I'll admit that.

Even though I tortured her to submit to me, she still refused to give in so the only way was to kill the wolf, if I couldn't use it, then

I had to make sure no one else could also use the Moon Goddess' wolf power.

Even if I have to kill the wolf and its bearer slowly...

My time was only 1 year because I foolishly made the dead black witch my mate, I could have made the queen my mate, but I knew it would take time for her to give in and give herself to me because there was still a bond between her and my niece so forcing a new bond was difficult for me if she was not willing.

Yes, that's why I want her to love me and forget that she has a fated mate.

parties and I have nothing to lose if that happens.

However, if she already has her suspicions, then I just have to give her a large dose of Wolfsbane so that she won't be able to escape from anywhere.
