Chapter 111 In Uproar

Hearing these words, everyone was so shocked immediately. Even Allen's face turned gloomy.

"My God, Jocelyn is too much! Even if she has grudges with Gloria, she shouldn't be so cruel and kill an innocent child!"

"Yeah, the child is innocent."

"I didn't expect Jocelyn, such a gentle person, to be so vicious."

Others began to talk about it. At this moment, in their eyes, Jocelyn was a hateful and vicious woman.

Gloria was so pitiful.

Gloria continued to moan, listening carefully to the talk around her, and paying attention to the changes in everyone's face.

She was extremely proud of herself.

She knew that Jocelyn was screwed up and completely failed today.

Sara also thought so. She couldn't wait to see Jocelyn being kicked out of the house and even discredited.

She really wanted to see with her own eyes, Jocelyn, this beautiful peacock, fell from a noble branch into the mud.

Amidst the scolding, Jocelyn walked leisurely in front of the crowd and stood in the middle of the steps below, leaning on the railing and looking at Joseph, "Joseph, you can't go anywhere today. Honey, stop them two."

Noah took a deep look at Jocelyn, but he didn't say anything. He just stretched out to block Joseph.

The surrounding discussions were a bit harsh. Jocelyn lightly pinched the pinna of her right ear, and then flipped the ponytail on her right shoulder to the back of her head.

"What did she say? Her sister is already like this, but she still won't let her go?"

"I've never seen such a vicious person. Her sister is bleeding, but she can still laugh."

"Is she insane? How vicious she and her husband are! Are they trying to kill Gloria?"

Gloria trembled. She could already guess what would happen next.

"What are you talking about?" Gloria pretended to be weak, lying on the floor, her eyes trembling.

The people who had been condemning Jocelyn all the time shut their mouths. Everyone looked at the blood bag in Jocelyn's hand with a look of disbelief.

No need to ask, they already had the answer.

"Jocelyn, what the hell are you trying to do? Your sister is bleeding. We have to hurriedly send her to the hospital. What is that in your hands?" Sara shouted.

"What is that in my hands? It's the evidence that Gloria pretended to have a miscarriage to frame me." Jocelyn narrowed her eyes. She threw the blood bag on Joseph who was on the floor.

Then she looked up at everyone, "You guys must already know the answer. That's right. It's just like what you think."

Joseph didn't care about Gloria anymore. He climbed up from the floor with difficulty and looked down at Gloria coldly. His eyes were red because of anger.

"See what this is?" After speaking, Jocelyn let go of Gloria, turned on her mobile phone, found a surveillance video, and then pointed the screen of the mobile phone at everyone and clicked it to play.

Soon, everything just upstairs was replaying on the phone.

What Gloria said and did was clearly made public.

There was an uproar at the scene. Everyone turned their attention to Gloria.

"Holy shit! If I were Jocelyn, I could kill her."

"Did she actually never get pregnant from the beginning to the end? Then she is cheating Joseph? The Stewart family is too unlucky, right?"

"I think Jocelyn is the unluckiest, right? Such a mean sister thinks to hurt her every day."

"They are sisters. But why are they so different? Jocelyn is so decent. Why is Gloria this kind of person?"

"Maybe it's because their mother's background is different."

"Jocelyn is very generous, polite and decent."

These words made Sara almost explode with anger, but she couldn't refute it.

She could only grit her teeth and try her best to look angry. She pulled Gloria up, raised her hand and slapped her hard.

Gloria felt it hurt. But Sara felt more painful.

Gloria didn't resist at all. She just let Sara slap her like this. Because she knew very well that this time, it was impossible for her mother not to beat her.

"You bastard! I really didn't expect you to do such a thing. Didn't you promise us that you will get along well with Joyce in the future?"

"You forget it? You really shame on our entire family!"

"Gloria, what else is there that you dare not do?"

After saying that, Sara raised her hand, and slapped Gloria several times in a row.

Gloria's mouth was full of blood. Her face was swollen.

Jocelyn was like a bystander, standing next to Noah, watching it and feeling good.

Jocelyn didn't speak, just held Allen quietly.

"I just feel sorry for you." Jocelyn's eyes were slightly red.

"Don't say such things." Allen let go of Jocelyn gently, "Since she was falsely pregnant, why was she not found when she was in lockup?"

Allen couldn't figure this out a bit. She could bribe a doctor outside. But when she was in the lockup, how could she bribe a doctor in such a short period of time?

"Maybe she bribed the person who was responsible for drawing the blood." Jocelyn also thought about it at the time.

Since Gloria had no chance to contact others after she was brought the police car, there was no possibility of asking others for help.

Then the only possibility was that she promised the person who was in charge of the blood test at that time, and that person was attracted by the huge temptation she proposed for him.

After Gloria came out, Jocelyn secretly hacked Gloria's mobile phone and found that after she was released from prison, she transferred 1.5 million to an account.

So, Jocelyn was completely sure of her thoughts.

"She's really capable!" Allen snorted coldly, then once again looked at Jocelyn lovingly, "You've done a really good job. Others would definitely report her fake pregnancy, but you didn't."

"I don't want you to be angry." Jocelyn smiled.

In fact, the real reason was that she felt that it would be better let Gloria come out and continue to make trouble.

After the trouble was over, just send her into the jail again.

It didn't affect anything at all.

Moreover, she bribed and deceived law enforcement officers, then the punishment would be heavier.

"Are you okay?" Jocelyn asked.

"I want to be alone for a while."

"Then I'll accompany you."

"Not yet." A female voice came over the phone.

"Continue the investigation!!! I said I would reward you with 1.5 million if you found it out. Now I will reward you with 2 million!!!" Then she hung up the phone.

Then Gloria called Joseph again. This time, she was reminded that Joseph's phone was powered off.

She knew that Joseph had blacklisted her. She wanted to go back to the Stewart mansion immediately, but she also knew that the Stewart family would definitely be angry. So it would not be good for her to go back.

Besides, she still didn't know how things would develop and whether she had to get into the jail again. She must run away now.

Then she could let her mother deal with the rest of the matter and try to find a way to solve these affairs.

Thinking of this, she began to pack her luggage quickly. Although the dress in her was covered in blood, she didn't care.

Even though she was packing her luggage, the image of herself being played by Jocelyn like a fool continued to pop into her mind.

Thinking of it, she couldn't calm down at all. She became more and more irritable!

"Damn it!!!!" She growled as she was quickly folding her clothes.

She was going crazy! ! ! She was really going crazy! ! ! Why was she so unlucky?

When Jocelyn walked downstairs, everything had returned to normal.

The guests were eating. Sara was greeting the guests as usual.

She looked as if nothing had happened, and still had a smile on her face.

Jocelyn was also used to Sara's shameless.

So Jocelyn turned her attention to the man.

Although there were so many people, she could find the man at a glance.

Everyone was talking to each other, but he was the only one who was alone, looking still cool and cold, with his own estrangement.

His sitting posture was the most upright among all the people on the scene.

With Gloria being taken away, Sara almost collapsed.

The guests at the door were talking a lot. They didn't say anything good. They all condemned Gloria.

Sara clenched her fists tightly, but said nothing. She just looked at Jocelyn's car viciously.

Jocelyn turned a blind eye to Sara. Then she turned the car and left.

"The Stewart family may be in uproar now." Noah spoke lightly. He slowly lit a cigarette, took a puff, and then slowly exhaled, leaning lazily against the back.

"They deserve." Jocelyn smiled.

While talking, the car came to the gate. Jocelyn stepped on the accelerator to the bottom.

The car galloped away.

In the Stewart mansion.

The atmosphere at home was depressed.

In the living room.

Joseph, William, Archie, Bell and Phoebe were all sitting on the couch.

Everyone pulled a long face.

"What did you say? That girl doesn't get pregnant and she cheated us? Such a thing happened at the banquet?" Archie looked at Joseph angrily, gnashing his teeth.

"I didn't expect it. It seems that she should bribe the doctor in Clemency Hospital. Otherwise, it is impossible to make a false report under our nose." Joseph said. He clenched his fists.

He was already on the verge of exploding. Today, because of Gloria, he was embarrassed again. If this incident spread, others would laugh at him.

Seeing that the situation was not good, Sara fell down immediately, kneeling on the floor, covering her chest and gasping for breath. She looked so painful.

Allen heard the sound and turned around immediately.

Seeing it, he immediately strode back to her, carefully helped her up, and asked with concern, "Are you alright?"

Sara covered her chest and shook her head, "No... No, my wound hurts again. Maybe I was too emotional just now."

Allen softened, "Then I'll help you go back to rest first."

Sara shook her head, crying, "I don't want to go back to rest. I think I should die. What's the point of my life when I live like this?"

"Honey, I really understand a lot of things now. From my standpoint, on the one hand, I really hate her. Why is she so stubborn? She promised me that she won't target Joyce. Why has she gone so far? I think she should be punished by the law."

"But on the other hand, I feel uncomfortable and reluctant to bear it. After all, she is my daughter... I can't let it go."

"I'm really uncomfortable. I might as well die. I think I should have died when I blocked the knife for you that day. I won't have to suffer this if I die."

Sara choked up.

Hearing it, Allen felt moved. His tone became soft, "But this matter, she has gone too far. I have to teach her a lesson, otherwise she will make more mistakes in the future."

"Then find a way to get her sentence reduced. I also don't want to let her come out now. Let her stay in the jail for a while. Do you think it is okay?" Sara said again.

Since Allen was unwilling, it was better to take a step back. Sara firmly believed that her tearful statement would definitely move Allen.

After all, he had always felt guilty because of her blocking the knife for him.

"I'll think about it." Allen frowned helplessly.

"Really?" Sara immediately hugged Allen and asked excitedly.

After saying that, she leaned against Allen weakly, panting, "Honey, I really have no strength. Can you help me back to my room?"

Chapter 118 Watching the Show

After the phone call, Edith sent another message with the address and time.

She said that she would have someone send Jocelyn an invitation.

Jocelyn directly replied okay.

Although Edith didn't say which show it was, Jocelyn knew it.

It was Chanel in Wecreau.

Ryan and other popular stars of X Entertainment received invitations.

On such occasions, the people who could go were celebrities, nobles, and popular stars.

Three days later.

After getting off work, Jocelyn hurried back home, powdered her face, and then walked into the dazzling walk-in closet and put on the dress she had prepared in advance.

Black wavy hair draped over her shoulders naturally.

She wore a white sleeveless knee-length dress with black fur and a diamond necklace around her neck, which looked noble and pure.

With a pair of silver stiletto heels and a black Hermès limited edition bag, after confirming that her overall look was all right, Jocelyn took the invitation letter printed with the word Chanel and went downstairs directly.

Driving the dazzling red Maserati sports car, she rushed to the location of the Chanel show.

Because she didn't need to take photos, she went directly into the show.

The show was as warm as spring.

The huge space was arranged in a European-style court style, with gorgeous crystal lamps, just like an ancient European court.

The background music was a beautiful piano piece, which made people feel extremely comfortable.

Almost none of the people at the scene spoke, so the sound of the music was particularly clear.

Ryan cooperated with them.

After it was over, he walked into the show accompanied by the photographer.

A few people led by Bella immediately followed.

Everyone was amazed.

Now the big show had begun.

In the whole space, there was only the light above the runway. The whole world was dark, but the light on the runway was dazzling.

A group of models were showing the clothes in the most professional manner on the stage.

At the moment, it was all female clothes.

But even if the light was not good, Ryan still attracted the attention of countless people.

Everyone couldn't help but set their eyes on him, and everyone's eyes were full of surprises.

Seeing Ryan searching, Bella immediately came close to him and said enthusiastically, "Ryan, are you looking for your seat? What is the number? I can help you."

"No need." Ryan responded lightly, but he didn't look at her anymore. His eyes locked directly on Jocelyn who was chatting with Edith. A smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

"Ryan, can we be Weibo friends? You should have an impression of me, right? I went to the backstage to see you a few times during your concerts and fans meeting. I'm Bella. Stewart Food Group is my family company..."

"I'm sorry." Ryan smiled politely. When he finished, his eyes quickly swept around the surroundings, and then fixed on Jocelyn. He walked towards her step by step.

His indifference greatly disappointed Bella. This was not the first time she had been rejected by him.

When she went to his fans meeting and concerts before, she had been to the backstage to ask for autographs. She would also introduce herself every time.

He satisfied those small requests every time, but he refused to be Weibo friend with her.

He seemed polite and gentleman to those fans, but in fact he was alienated.

Chapter 120 Ryan, Do You Like Her?

There were only their side faces in the picture. Because of the angle, Jocelyn's head in the picture was almost resting on Ryan's shoulder.

Her hair was scattered on the one side, which was just facing the camera. Most of her side face was covered by her hair, so others couldn't see her face clearly, but she had an excellent temperament.

Ryan looked at the runway with no expression on his face, looking a little indifferent.

At this time, the fans group of 300 people was instantly exploding.

"???? Who is this woman? Don't touch Ryan!!!"

"Is it alright to stay away from Ryan? Who is this bitch?"

"Alright, Ryan is indeed so popular. No matter where he goes, there is someone who wants to cling to him. But what's wrong with this woman? Her head is resting on Ryan's shoulders?"

"How dare she lean on his shoulder openly?"

"Damn, why are you showing me this? My eyes. Give you one minute and tell me what's going on?"

Looking at the anger that was about to overflow the screen on the phone, Bella sneered in satisfaction.

She added this fan group a long time ago. The people in the group were all fans of Ryan, and were extremely fanatic.

Each of them regarded Ryan as their personal exclusive. Whoever got a little closer to Ryan would be considered that she wanted to seduce Ryan. Then they would scold the girl so harshly.

What impressed Bella most was that this group of people cyberbullied a female director who wanted to hook up Ryan on the set. They even checked out the director's address, and sent blades and blood dolls to her.

Bella hadn't said something here for a long time. But today she knew that this picture had to be sent here to get the greatest response.
