Chapter 1131 Ranking

With a smile in her eyes, Jocelyn took a step forward and naturally hugged Allie from behind, smiling, "Good morning, mum."

"You're actually making bread?" Jocelyn asked.

Allie said, "Yeah, don't you like to eat freshly baked bread? So I made you some, later, you can have a few for breakfast and then take a few to the office. Eat when you're hungry."

At these words, Jocelyn's heart warmed.

Allie, although not my own mother, is really better than her mother.

She thought that even if her mother were alive in this world, she would not be able to treat her better than Allie.

"Mum, you are so nice." Jocelyn added, "Like my mother."

In fact, since childhood, although she looked like she lacked nothing, she still lacked one thing inside.

That is motherly love.

Her mother died young and she really didn't know what it was like to have a mother's love.

In Allie, she felt that feeling.

That missing motherly love is replenished.

Her life, with it, has become more perfect.

Allie said with a smile, "Silly child, I was originally your mother, mother-in-law is mother."

Jocelyn nodded, "Yeah, closer than a real mother."

Allie's eyes full of relief, "This is not where you should be, go outside and play with the children."

Jocelyn, "Don't, I'll help you cook, I'm idle every day. I have to do something, otherwise, I'll be wasted by you guys."

"You don't want people to say that the daughter-in-law of the Mason family can't do anything and is particularly lazy, do you?" Jocelyn added.

Allie shrugged indifferently, "I don't care what others say, if my daughter-in-law is lazy or hardworking, it's not the turn of others to say, because my daughter-in-law didn't eat their rice, let alone drink a drop of water from their house."

"If someone really said that about you, then I must say, my daughter-in-law is lazy, because I spoil her, none of their business." Allie said again.

At these words, Jocelyn's heart, at once, felt even warmer.

Chapter 1132 Powerful Alex (1)

The game hasn't even started yet.

At this moment, everyone's attention was on the two people, Noah and Jocelyn.

The big screen, too, showed the two early on.

The two of them are of good looks.

Despite the poor lighting, they still looked stunning on the big screen.

In the crowd, they are the biggest draw.

On Ryan's side, the guide didn't give Ryan a shot because he had greeted the staff in advance.

In the crowd, Ryan and Rosa, both fully armed, were low-profile enough.

At this moment, everyone's attention was on Jocelyn and Noah.

No one noticed that they were sitting with the top star, Ryan, watching the game.

Under the big screen, Jocelyn and Noah's every word and deed was infinitely magnified.

The two of them, however, remained calm and collected.

No one cares about the presence of the camera.

No matter how many cameras are pointed at them, they are always calm and collected.

The two chatted for a while before they each started playing with their respective phones.

Jocelyn swiped the League of Legends section of the Tiger community.

And Noah is watching his company's share price move.

The IM team, because all positions have been reinforced, is not to be underestimated.

At this moment, the netizens inside the Tiger community are making predictions about the outcome of this match.

Everyone felt that the IM-XS match would be a 40/60 split.

And there were many who said that it was possible that the IM team would win the title in a blowout.

But all this, Jocelyn doesn't care.

Chapter 1133 It's really great

Because the XS team has the most fans.

The atmosphere in the arena, which had been filled with passion, almost froze as XS put the game to bed.

Almost everywhere was filled with complaints and despair.

From the commentators, to the IM team members, to the fans on stage, and the fans in the live stream, everyone felt that this time, the XS team was really dead!

In the midst of the chaos, Jocelyn remained calm.

Even so, she was still convinced that the IM team could adjust and play a miracle group.

Even without the Miracle Crew, she was sure that they would be able to play well in the next round.

She wasn't worried about the outcome of the match.

The same is true of Noah.

In the midst of the panic, Jocelyn and Noah's calm and collected appearance was even more absorbing.

[XS team, that's it? That's it? No wonder you're the number one team in the universe, XS!]

[The glory of the LPL, I'm fucking literally laughing at this?]

The members of the XS team, however, remained unaffected by the situation at this point.

Everyone remained focused and attentive to their positioning, trying to find opportunities to play with each other.

This is their last chance.

This wave, if it ends, is completely gone.

They have made many mistakes already, and this time, they can't let them continue.

It was at this point that Alex took the lead and Akali flew straight into the opponent's crowd before killing the opponent's AD in seconds

Jocelyn looked down and opened the Tiger community, the LOL section.
Inside, as one would expect, the buzz exploded.
All kinds of posts praising ALEX and the IM team are flying -

[If the crystal doesn't explode, XS team can flip the game! This is XS!]
Looking at the headlines, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth involuntarily curved up in a nice curve.
Noah looked up just in time to see the smiling side of the woman's face.

No matter how much time has passed, every time he sees this face, he feels his soul shake.
For a moment, the corners of the man's mouth unconsciously curved up into a gentle curve.
The man then couldn't help but raise his hand and gently stroke Jocelyn's hair.
At this time, the guide just happened to give the camera to Jocelyn and Noah.
The scene, too, just happened to be recorded on the big screen.
In an instant, the girls at the scene were all overwhelmed by Noah.
The screams, which had been about to die down, reappeared at this moment.
Even crazier than it would have been, originally -

[Perfect love!]

[This look in Noah's eyes, I'm crazy!]

[I'm here to watch the game, but the love is good, isn't it?]

[I'm going to be teased by Noah! Who can stand this!]

[That look is deep and tender!]

At the sound of his voice, Noah's face was bland as he withdrew his hand, before naturally wrapping Jocelyn in his arms.

Jocelyn coughed lightly in embarrassment, then raised her head and looked at Noah and said, "Can't you be more careful in public?"

Now vaguely, he can sense that Alex is not the same for Jocelyn.

Once or twice is a coincidence, three or four times, not so much.

The man's instincts told Noah that the young man had something in his mind.

He glanced deeply towards where Alex was, before returning his expression to normal and naturally wrapping his arm around Jocelyn's shoulders.

And all of this was lost on Jocelyn.

Soon, the group of XS young mans on stage, led by Alex, walked straight to where the IM team was on the opposite side of the field to shake hands with them.

After the handshake, Alex led the team towards the stage.

The players, at this point, are happy.

Alex doesn't look overly exaggerated, but there is a glow under his eyes.

The players behind him, meanwhile, had their hands up and were swaying back and forth over their heads while watching the fans on stage.

Everyone looked like they were in full flow.

The young mans in this moment seemed to have the world at their feet.

It's like the emperor of the whole LOL world.

They are full of the confidence, youth and passion that they should have at their age.

Looking at the group of young mans, Jocelyn felt relieved.

She has always been very positive about this group of young men.

And the young men, too, did not let her down.

At this moment, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth couldn't help but curl up in a nice curve.

As the young mans took centre stage, a golden rain suddenly fell above the stage.

Chapter 1136 Grilled Fish

On the phone screen, the news of XS winning the LPL Spring Championship popped up.

The four then clicked into the message in unison.

The message was sent from the official League of Legends account, and it had the XS team's winning moment on it.

After a brief glance, Jocelyn clicked on the hot search to take a look.

As one would expect, inside the hot seat, it was very lively.

Hot search 1, #Jocelyn and Noah are now at the LPL Spring Finals#

Hot search 2, #XS team wins the title#

Hot search 3, #Alex Akali perfect Operation#

Hot search 4, #Ryan and Rosa appeared at the LPL Spring Showdown#

A brief look at the first three articles, all of which are filled with various flatters.

After reading it, Jocelyn looked again at the fourth hot search.

The official photographer of League of Legends released a photo of Ryan and Rosa watching the game in a low profile at the finals.

The photo shows two people sitting in a not-so-obvious position, fully armed.

Before Ryan came to support the game, he had discussed with the officials and asked to watch the game in a low profile and refused to be on camera.

They are only accepted for quiet photographs.

How they want to post their photos after the game, he doesn't care.

And League of Legends officials, too, are very much keeping their word.

The utmost respect was given to Ryan and Rosa throughout.

At this point, Jocelyn saw that the bottom of the turn-like-comments had exploded -

[The woman on Ryan's right is me! I'm sitting with my idol and I can't believe I didn't recognise him!!! I have regret!]

The waitress then reluctantly left the private room.

The moment she closed the door, she felt lucky this evening.

Not only did they see Jocelyn and Noah in person.

She even got to see the idol she has been dreaming of.

With a good mood in mind, she took light steps and descended the stairs.

After the waitress left, the atmosphere in the private room, seemed much more relaxed.

A few people leaned back from the cushion.

Rosa naturally leaned his head on Ryan shoulder, looked at Jocelyn said, "XS team is awesome, watching I was all circled, I used to be not like these things, but in the future, I think I have to like e-sports."

Today, Rosa deeply appreciates the charm of eSports.

She was drawn to the never-say-die spirit of eSports.

At that, Jocelyn smiled slightly and said, "Good, then we'll watch the game together later."

Rosa nodded her head.

Noah, "Can Rosa read it?"

Rosa, "Yeah, I used to play this game, just not good."

Noah, "So do you want to play?"

Rosa nodded, "I want to, but, let's forget it, I'm too much of a novice."

Jocelyn, "If you want to play, I'll take you next time."

Rosa, "Okay."

Rosa had heard about the high level of Jocelyn's game.

With a serious face, Noah looked at her and said, "No, I will never get tired of you."

Jocelyn, "Really?"

Noah, "If you tell a lie, heaven will strike me down."

At that, Jocelyn immediately put her hand to Noah's lips, "What are you talking about? No nonsense."

With those words, Jocelyn then naturally put her arm around Noah and said, "Come on, let's go see the children."

The two then returned to the living room together.

Jocelyn picked up Lawrence, while Noah picked up Madeline.

The two children seem to know more and more.

When Jocelyn and Noah picked them up, they instantly reached out their little hands and cupped their faces at the same time.

The moment the fleshy little hands touched the two, their expressions softened at the same time.

Jocelyn said with a loving look on her face, "Lawrence, did you miss Mommy?"

But Lawrence didn't respond, he just caressed Jocelyn's face with his small, fleshy hand.

Those big, dark eyes just gazed silently at Jocelyn.

It was as if a sea of stars was hidden under his eyes.

The eyes are pure to the core.

The pure, clean look in his eyes made Jocelyn feel like she saw an oasis.

Noah, on the other hand, naturally rested his forehead against Madeline's, smiling and asking, "Baby, do you miss daddy?"

And Madeline followed Lawrence's example and looked at Noah quietly as her hands continued to caress his face.

Soon Madeline was smiling.

That smile, all at once, warmed his heart.

"We hope that we can help children from poor families who, need help with, schooling, and major illnesses."

"I am sure that with the joint efforts of us and all the caring people, we will be able to help many, many people in need."

Jocelyn said seriously.

The words were followed by instant applause.

After saying that, Jocelyn added, "About the donation, all depends on personal wishes, you all can donate if you want to, if you don't want to, I won't force you."

"Thank you all." Jocelyn still had a sincere face, "If you don't want to donate, you can all think of it as me treating you to a free concert today."

"Today's concert will be very colourful, and those present are all of our talented artists from X Entertainment."

"Without further ado, let's watch the show."

Jocelyn then bowed deeply towards the crowd on stage.

Despite the countless pairs of eyes on her, she still looked calm and bland.

All the way through, Jocelyn behaved graciously.

And the journalists, too, turned their cameras on her, recorded all her movements on camera.

Jocelyn then said with a smile, "Let's have Ryan to be the first to bring us a wonderful opening performance."

Jocelyn's words were immediately followed by thunderous applause.

The stage lights slowly turned to a warm yellow hue as the crowd watched.

All the lights on the scene went out.

Only a beam of light was left on the stage.

Under that warm yellow light, accompanied by a nice accompaniment, Ryan sang deeply while walking to the very centre of the stage.

He was wearing a snow-white suit with a light blue shirt underneath, and under his feet he had these silver beanies.

[JoJo Charitable Foundation, Noah is afraid that others do not know that he loves Jocelyn.]

[The couple is really great, doing good while still forgetting to show their love.]

[Wondering, will Jocelyn and Noah really take this money and help people?]

[I say, stop your dirty thinking, no one really thinks that the two of them want the billions, do they?]

[I would think that no one would mind having more money, right? Even if you have money, you wouldn't care about a few billion, right?]

Seeing those questioning voices, Jocelyn randomly forwarded and then commented, [All the money will be open. You don't have to worry about it.]

Her tweet prompted countless forwarding, and a few likes, as well as comments -

[Jocelyn cares about that little bit of money, really the best funny cold joke I saw today.]

[Trust Jocelyn, what bad intentions can Jocelyn have?]

[Some people are so desperate that they filthy think everyone under the sun is like him].

Seeing the comment section, Jocelyn quit Weibo in peace.

When Jocelyn and Noah returned home, the time was two in the morning.

The house is quiet inside, with only one light left on in the living room.

By the warmth of the light, the two made their way upstairs.

Missed those two kids though.

But as they could not bear to disturb the kids, the two of them forced themselves to return to their rooms with their thoughts.

Once she had washed up, Jocelyn naturally leaned into Noah's arms.

"We said before that I would give you a make-up wedding. Now that our children have given birth, and the weather happens to be good. Shouldn't we find a date soon and get things done?"

In the darkness, Noah tenderly wrapped his arms around Jocelyn and gently stroked her hair as he asked.

Jocelyn thought deeply for a few seconds and nodded, "That's okay. In that case, I'll have to schedule it in advance."
