Chapter 1191 Me Too

Hearing Allie's words, Jocelyn and Rosa both immediately looked at each other with a tacit understanding and smiled.

Both of them, in fact, are well aware of it.

The reason why their days are going, so smoothly.

In fact, it's all because of a mother-in-law like Allie.

There are countless examples of unhappy marriages because of mothers-in-law.

It is precisely for this reason that they are extraordinarily grateful to Allie.

They are grateful to God for giving them such a good mother-in-law.

Allie said with a smile, "Jocelyn, Rosa, is there anything you two don't like about me? If there is, just say it, I will change it."

Hearing these words, Jocelyn and Rosa both shook their heads at once.

Rosa, "No, you are the best mother-in-law in this world."

Jocelyn, "Neither do I. You are so kind, and if we dare to have a problem with it, then we will really be condemned by God."

After saying that, Jocelyn added, "Mom, you are really good, and Dad is really good, and the two sons you have with Dad are really good, and we are really not dissatisfied with you as a family."

These words are all from the heart of Jocelyn.

She really couldn't even think out of her head what it was about the Mason family that she really wasn't happy with.

This family is, quite simply, perfect.

Rosa opened her mouth, "Yes, that is what I want to say, not only I am very happy with you two, even my parents are the same. My parents have said, you and dad are the best in-laws in this world."

"My father said that I must be filial to you two, or else I will be condemned by heaven."

Rosa continued.

In Rosa's world, the Mason family are gods.

It was the benefactor who gave her a happy life.

Scott was very excited to hear about the crayfish.

The family then decided to go for crayfish.

Soon the black Rolls-Royce stretch car stopped at the entrance of a small alleyway.

The group then arrived at a crayfish restaurant located in the deepest part of the alley.

The restaurant is very plebeian in its consumption.

This is one of the best and most famous crayfish restaurants in the whole of Flento City.

Their crayfish are so famous that people come from all over the world to visit them.

This is the hottest time of the night for people in big cities to have a late night snack.

That's why the restaurant is packed with people at the entrance.

Everyone is lining up.

The Mason family are regular customers, plus they are very familiar with the owner of the place.

So, when they arrived, they were taken by the waiter inside the restaurant.

There were no more rooms, so they were placed in front of a large table by the window in the hall.

The restaurant is not very big, inside the hall, a total of twenty or so tables are set up.

At this point, all the tables were full, except for the window seats.

The Mason family had no disguise or protection.

At this moment, everyone could see their faces clearly, in real life.

When seeing so many people who have just been on the hot seat and live in the crowd legend of a bunch of people appearing here, everyone was stunned.

In a moment, there was a lot of talk -

When Allie saw everyone say that, a big smile appeared on her face. "The man in our family so rich yet so good to his wife, that's something to be quite proud of indeed."

After saying that, Allie naturally leaned her head on Scott's body. Even if they are an old married couple. But at this point, it was still in the same state as a newlywed couple. Even Jocelyn and Rosa could not help but feel envious when they saw such a picture.

"I know a lot of people want to marry into our family, but sorry, our family doesn't have a son to get a daughter-in-law."

"And all the sons in our family don't plan to get married for a second time. After saying that, Allie smiled once again. Scott kept nodding his head and looking at her with dotting eyes, "Yes, you're right about everything." Allie, "That's for sure." Jocelyn,

"Dad, Mom, I envy you two, even after decades of marriage, you still love each other like yesterday." Rosa, "Yeah, I'm super jealous too, if only my husband and I could be like this in the future."

Allie, "You will, do not envy me, if your husband dares to cheat on you, I will..."

After saying that, Allie gave Noah and Ryan a fierce blank stare. It was as if the two of them were already criminals who had changed their hearts. Ryan, "Mom, are you serious?"

Allie, "If that's the case, I'll beat you up in a minute"

Noah knew his mother, for real, was capable of doing it. Ryan knew that his mother was definitely not talking about empty words. Jocelyn, "Mom, they haven't done anything yet." Allie, "But I have to warn them." Rosa, "It doesn't have to be like that."

Allie, "I feel a great need."

Sometimes it can be quite embarrassing to have too high a family status. Very often, their husbands, when confronted by their in-laws, can seem excessively humble and pathetic.

"They usually have an indisputable man behind them." Scott said again.

Allie nodded her head in agreement, "Right, the worse a man treats his wife, the heavier the hostility in her will be, how can family life be happy if the wife is unhappy every day?"

This was agreed by all present.

Everyone nodded their heads.

Scott, "It's like this, women are all made to be pampered and loved."

Allie, "Yes, yes, yes, girls are such wonderful creatures, naturally born to be treated gently by the world."

Jocelyn and Noah first sent Scott, Allie, all to Ryan's home after.

And they went straight back home.

The baby-sitter and the children are all asleep inside the house.

The two of them did not have hearts to bother, but went straight upstairs.

The two of them took a bath together.

Sitting with the person she loves the most, soaking in the bath and enjoying the scent of flowers was the happiest thing that could happen to Jocelyn at the end of the day.

Taking the red wine glass next to her, she poured out a glass of red wine and handed it to Noah.

And then she poured herself another glass, cupped it in her hand and took the initiative to clink glasses with Noah.

It has been a busy day and her nerves have been on edge.

Now with a bath and a drink like this, Jocelyn felt refreshed.

Noah, "Honey, you've worked hard today."

Jocelyn, "You too, you work harder than I do husband."

Noah, "I'm fine, I'm a man, it's normal for me to do more, women, by nature, should do less."

Jocelyn smiled, "The man of the Mason family is so good."

This man had obviously made a deal with her only last night.

There will be no bottomless indulgence of two children.

He says no to unreasonable requests made by the child.

How can everything change after a good night's sleep?

Seeing Jocelyn, Noah instantly took a cold breath backwards in his heart and said, "Anyway, that crystal lamp, I want to change it, it doesn't look good anymore."

Jocelyn continued to frown, "Noah, didn't we agree not to indulge the children in such a bottomless way? How come you still don't keep your word?"

This is the first time that Noah, for the first time, has not spoken to her.

She can't believe it's still about this kind of thing.

She remembers clearly when she was pregnant before.

Noah had said that after the baby was born, he would definitely discipline the child properly.

Definitely not coddling them.

It won't turn them into spoiled brats they are.

She really wanted to ask Noah now if he still remembered what he had said at that time.

Noah, "That crystal lamp should be changed."

Jocelyn, "This obviously shouldn't have been changed! It was obviously bought new, before they were born, and repurchased to furnish their nursery! It's only been a year or so!"

"And, these crystal lamps worth tens of millions, you say you don't want them?" Jocelyn said again.

It really is bottomless to the extreme.

This time, she really couldn't indulge the child.

"Actually you're just looking for a reason. You at all want to change these lights."

At that, Jocelyn immediately let out a long, helpless sigh.

And then she took the intercom in Noah's hand and said, "There is no need to remove the crystal light, you guys rest first."

"When I see my child crying, I feel, as if my heart is being pulled hard by a pair of hands, it's very hard."

"I had, at one time, had a lot of plans for this fatherhood thing, and I used to think that I would be able to be a tough father in the future, and probably be both a teacher and a friend to my children."

"But now I realise that I can't do it at all." sighed Noah.

With those words, he then gently caressed Jocelyn's face and said, "Give me some time, I'll try."

Jocelyn nodded, "I think it's better to change the positioning of our family, or I'll be the stern role. I'm more ruthless than you."

In fact, she is not hard-hearted.

But, she understood very well that there had to be one of them, who could be ruthless with the child.

Since Noah couldn't do it, this person, then, had to be her.

She had, at one time, dreamed of being a loving mother.

Now it seems that the dream has been dashed after all.

Jocelyn instantly couldn't help but sigh, "Noah, you know what? Once upon a time I really thought that you would turn out to be a strict father."

He has always been a very principled man.

Noah, "Me too, I can only say that the reality is different."

"You know what? When I used to look at other people's bear children, I always wondered why their parents coddled them like that, didn't they know that at that rate, the child would be ruined?"

"But since I've had children of my own, I understand how their parents feel." Noah sighed again.

Jocelyn smiled, "I understand, in fact, I can't wait to be obedient to my children and deliver everything they want, but, no."

Noah smiled, and then he naturally hugged Jocelyn tighter, "Well, let's not discuss this, let's eat, I made your favorite seafood noodles."

"Also, I was wrong just now, I'm sorry." said Noah again.

One of the best things about this man is that he admits when he is wrong.

Jocelyn shrugged full of concern and said, "It's fine, let's go, let's eat."

Noah didn't say anything, he just silently led Jocelyn into the dining room.

Chapter 1197 Just Die

At the moment Zoe's belly is much bigger.

She is six months pregnant, and it is clear that it can't be covered up.

Although she has a big belly, She still looks like girl because she has not gained any weight during her gentle pregnancy.

If you didn't look at that belly, no one would believe that it was pregnant woman.

Because of her pregnancy, she looks extraordinarily gentle and serene.

There is a bit more of a motherly aura of Zoe about her.

Robert originally did not want the two of them to know about Zoe's pregnancy before she gave birth to the baby.

But, today, everything was completely unexpected.

When they came to the house today, he happened to be away from home.

Inside the home, there is only Zoe and a group of bodyguards.

The mess made Zoe and the bodyguard at a loss.

In the end they had to be let in for both of them.

Thinking about it, Robert regretted that he had left the house today.

And at that moment, opposite Robert's father and mother, both looked at Zoe's belly with a serious face.

"If you have nothing to say, then hurry up and get out." Robert said coldly.

At this point, he all but ignored them both.

This is a critical time for pregnancy.

She is not to be stimulated.

He was keen for them both to get out of the way.

Although Zoe doesn't say a word at this point.

But Robert knew Zoe's heart, there must be waves of vastness.

Zoe smiled bitterly, "After all, that's your parents, in case they really die on our doorstep, how would that work?"

"Even though I don't like them, and the more I think about them the colder, I get towards them, I don't want them to die after all."

Zoe said again.

At this, Robert's heart, at once, softened even more

Robert laughed bitterly.

And then he gently stroked Zoe's hair and said, "You are such fool."

"How can they really die? It's just a scare."

"The two of them, sitting in glory and wealth, stand above all others, you think, they are the kind of people who can just give it all up?"

Robert said again.

Zoe frowned deeply, "Just in case, if it really comes out, I can't afford to take the responsibility."

Robert, however, once again tenderly hooked his lips, "Even if something does happen, then I won't let you take responsibility."

Zoe, "I don't want them to die in my hands."

Robert lightly caressed Zoe's face, "In other women, they designated, will let them go."

"Or even don't pay attention to them, after all, they are sinners, who have committed an unpardonable crime against you."

"Zoe, you really are different."

When Robert finished speaking, he gently pulled Zoe into his embrace.

And then he added, "It's my fault, if I hadn't gone out today, maybe everything wouldn't have been like this."

"Once again, it's really my bad for letting them have the opportunity to barge in and diarrhea you."

"I know, you remember all that again seeing them, I'm really sorry."

Robert said once again.

Chapter 1199 The Child Is Born

Robert and Zoe are interacting warmly with the child in the belly.

Enjoy the warmth of the hour unique to their family of three.

On the other hand, as soon as the two elders of the Moore family returned home, they began to storm out.

It was clear to them that they had truly lost this son for good.

As soon as Robert's father sat down, he clenched his fists tightly and looked coldly at Robert's mother and scolded, "It was all your good idea, now Robert has completely broken with us."

Robert's mother, "Did you not agree to my sending that girl straight to the mountains? Now that something has really gone wrong, you're blaming me? Are you still a man?"

At this moment, Robert's mother was in a fit of anger.

These days, she has been refused too many times with Robert.

She really didn't feel happy anymore.

At this moment, Robert's father naturally became her venting outlet.

And Robert's father was in an extremely unhappy mood at the moment, and when he heard Robert's mother do this, he became even more upset.

In an instant, he used Robert's mother as an outlet, "Can you stop being so nonsense? Although I agreed to it, didn't you bring it up first?"

Robert's mother, "I brought it up first, but that's only if you agree."

Robert's father, "Shut up, it's noisy."

Robert's mother, "If you're angry, please don't take it out on me, things are done together."

Robert's father gave Robert's mother a cold glare before he turned and went upstairs.

And Robert's mother didn't go after him, just sat there chagrined and didn't say a word.

At this point, she felt inside burnt to death.

And yet, she didn't know what to do.

She actually really regretted it.

She regret having gone to that extreme at the time.

If that hadn't happened, perhaps she and her son wouldn't have gotten into this mess.

Although before, many times, both she and her husband had acted very strongly in front of Robert.

Chapter 1200 Caution and Value

When he saw that Zoe had woken up, Robert's heart immediately burst with joy, and then he clutched Zoe's hand again.

His eyes were full of anxiety, "How are you? How does your body feel now? Are you dizzy? Are you tired? And does your stomach still hurt?"

Robert's reaction made Zoe's heart warm instantly.

Before, she had heard a saying that if you want to know, whether the man is good or not, then have a baby and get pregnant and you will know.

This time, from her own pregnancy to the birth, she really saw Robert clearly.

She has taken to heart everything Robert has done for her.

She understood deeply how much Robert really cared for her.

It's like at this moment, when it's clear that the baby has been born and so many people are looking at it, but Robert, however, was always by her side.

Even if compared to his daughter, the most important one in his heart is still her.

Thinking of this, Zoe could not help but redden her eyes at that moment.

When he saw the redness in her eyes, Robert became anxious, "What's going on? Hmm? Are you having a hard time?"

"Are you in pain somewhere?"

After saying that, Robert then looked at the doctor and said, "My wife doesn't seem to be feeling well, doctor, please hurry up and help check."

Robert's reaction immediately made Zoe smile bitterly.

She instantly looked at the doctor and said, "Doctor, don't panic, I'm fine."

After saying that, she then looked at Robert and said, "I haven't even opened my mouth yet, so how can you conclude that I am not feeling well? I feel fine now, I just have weakness in my body."

"Then why are you crying? You're scaring me." Robert let out a long breath at once.

That reaction of Zoe just now was really about to scare his real soul away.

Zoe immediately said with a smile, "You're really too excited, I'm just so moved that I'm crying."
