

Fatty to Sexy 1211

Chapter 1211 You are amazing

The world is a magnificent palace in pure white.

Inside the palace sits a woman dressed in a magnificent white wind cannon.

The woman looks young and beautiful, dignified and generous, graceful and flamboyant.

At a glance, it does not look as simple as an ordinary superior god.

A gentle smile immediately appeared on the woman's face when she saw the two of them.

Jocelyn and Noah looked at each other.

And then they looked curiously at God.

God smiled and looked at them and said, "This my wife, is what you on earth call the Queen of Heaven, Hera."

At these words, Jocelyn's heart was then slightly surprised.

Not only did she meet God, but she even met Hera, the Queen of Heaven.

As a child, she had always thought that they were fictional.

There is no such thing as God and Hera, the Queen of Heaven, in the world.

Today, she realizes that, as it turns out, it really exists.

And both God and Hera, the Queen of Heaven, are more beautiful than the TV series and novels suggest.

"Greetings, Queen of Heaven." Jocelyn said.

She then joined Noah and bowed politely towards each other.

Queen of Heaven side, however, was still smiling benevolently.

And then they walked gently across to them.

"You two don't have to be so polite with me, in fact you're my benefactors."

"I was once saved by you guys in my previous life when I went down to earth to experience the tribulation."

"Remember, one night, someone gave you guys the necklace and the pendant? That person was actually me. My predecessor is the god of roses."

"The marks on your children are left by me."

"I know what has happened to you, and I know even more what you are about to face, and I have asked God to spare you from this disaster."

"But he wouldn't, saying he didn't want to break the cycle of heaven for me, so I had to give you all protection in the dark."

"The necklace, the pendant, and the seal of the rose on your children are all artifacts that I have given you, those things can grant you power at a critical moment, so that the two of you and the children can be spared."

"The reason why your children were left unharmed after the Lena fox took them away was actually because of my magic."

"For a long time, I have actually been helping you behind God's back in order to repay your kindness. Remember that priest you saw inside the church earlier? The one who gave you the cross."

"That man, too, whom I have transfigured. That cross helped you to deflect an attack of the Lena Fox."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, said again.

Her voice was gentle to the core.

It made Jocelyn and Noah, with their tense minds, relax all of a sudden.

Two people didn't expect this to happen.

Jocelyn immediately asked, "So that priest Orion, is you ah. I thought that was God at first. because that man, is exactly the same as the God on top of a portrait of God that my father bought earlier."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled at the words, "Really? Such a coincidence?"

Jocelyn nodded.

And then she subconsciously looked at God.

The God in front of her was nothing like the God she had seen on the portrait.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, added, "That's quite a coincidence. But the real God is actually different from the portrait you've seen, isn't he?"

Jocelyn then nodded heavily.

And then Jocelyn looked at the Queen of Heaven Hera with a serious face and said, "Queen of Heaven, thank you, for watching over me and Noah and the two children all this time."

In this way, some of the questions that had been lingering deep inside her for so long, she got answers. It turned out that the person who had been secretly helping her and Noah, as well as the children, behind the scenes all this time was actually Hera.

She really appreciates Hera.

The next moment, Jocelyn pulled Noah and knelt before Hera, the Queen of Heaven.

Jocelyn then said with a reverent look of gratitude, "Thank you."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled again, "You are my saviours, and it is only right that I should help you in this way."

"You have God to thank for that too, in fact, this last time, it was God who was moved to compassion, so that those treasures I gave you could work at a crucial time."

"God knew before Lena fox came to you, and I helped you secretly."

"But he couldn't resist my repeated persuasions, so he turned a blind eye."

"And even, after you two have defeated Lena fox, I would like to guide you to come to the Shrine and meet me, to fulfill my long-standing wish to talk to you in person."

"In fact, under normal circumstances ordinary people are not qualified to come to the Shrine at all."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, spoke again.

Listening to her words Jocelyn knew that God and Hera, the Queen of Heaven, were in love.

Chapter 1212 Alternative Reunion (1)

At these words, Jocelyn felt obliged and nodded, "Okay, Hera."

Immediately, Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled with relief and a kind face, "Then it is settled, let us gather here today and talk, and I will send you back after you have eaten."

"And when you return, all your memories of this night will be gone."

"I have repaid you for the kindness you have shown me, and henceforth we are clear."

"In fact, I would love it if there was a me in your memories."

"But there are rules in heaven, and I cannot break them again and again."

"Ordinary people are by definition not allowed to go up to the sky, and since you have come up here, the experience must be forgotten, so that the mystique of the shrine can be maintained."

Once again, Hera, the Queen of Heaven, opened her mouth in earnest.

Jocelyn then nodded obediently once again, "Yes, I understand everything you said."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled again, "Yes, then come with me, I have set a feast."

Following in the footsteps of Hera the Queen of Heaven, Jocelyn and Noah, all the way with God, walked to the backyard of Hera the Queen of Heaven's palace.

The backyard is still smoky.
The whole world is filled with a faint scent of roses.
Between the mist and the air, many roses are in splendid bloom.
The world is very comfortable, with fresh air and the right temperature.
When she came here, Jocelyn was enchanted.
Deep in that plum forest, she saw a gazebo.
A white jade table is set up inside that gazebo.
On top of the tables, there are many gourmet dishes and fruits.
Although a long distance away, she could clearly smell the aromas emanating from those delicacies.
Following in the footsteps of Hera, the Queen of Heaven, all the way forward, they eventually made their way to the front of the table of delicacies.
On top of the table, there are ten dishes in total.

At a glance it doesn't look too different from food on earth.
The only difference is that all these dishes are covered with a golden glow.
It's like a video inside the real world, with starlight effects added.
In addition to mountain and sea food, there are many common fruits found on earth.
There are peaches, and apples, as well as carrion.
Whatever the fruit, it is more face value than earthly fruit.
The peaches are pink through, one as big as two fists, and look incredibly tender.
The apples are fiery red, and one is as big as two fists, looking bright and colourful.
And the carrion, which is redder than fire, looks fresh and tender.
The fruit, again, seems to glisten as if starlight effects have been added to it.
Because of the special effects.
So whether it's the fruit, or the dishes are mouth-watering.
At this point, Jocelyn felt, at once, that her appetite had been whetted.
She thought the peach she saw was probably the legendary Peach.
The book says that the peaches of the immortal world are sweet and delicious.
Jocelyn felt lucky to be able to try it today.
She thought those apples next to her, the carrion, would be many times more delicious than the human world, too.
Although it was not mentioned in the books she had read before, she felt that it must be so.
Noah was equally intrigued by the table of food at this point.
Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled and took the lead in pulling God to a seat.
And then she waved a hand towards the two of them, looking polite, "You guys hurry up and sit down, consider yourselves at home."
Jocelyn then took Noah's hand and sat down opposite the Queen of Heaven, Hera, and God.
"These, are all prepared by the first-class chef of the imperial kitchen, personally. These things look similar to your earthly ones, but they are completely different, with efficacy and nutrition."
"These are all physiological enhancements, as well as longevity. If you finish this meal well, both of you will live fifty years longer, and not only that, but you will look good forever."
"That is to say, you will still look like what you look like now in the future, and you will not grow old until the day you die."
"Most importantly, your bodies will be invulnerable to swords and spears, invulnerable to all poisons and all diseases. You will die naturally when your life is exhausted. You will not endure any sickness or pain."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, explained carefully.

Every word she said made Jocelyn and Noah more interested in the meal.

The two people were very glad that they had come for the meal.

Health forever, youth forever.

These are two of the most coveted items for ordinary people.

When they reached their position, they actually got everything they wanted, except for these two things, which they wanted but could not get at all.

And now, surprisingly, they can get it too.

How could they not be happy?

Jocelyn, in particular, was overjoyed.

For women, there is no one who does not want to stay young forever.

No one, moreover, wants to grow old.

Youthfulness and health forever - this is a lifelong pursuit for women.

Chapter 1213 Alternative Reunion (2)

She instantly giggled with excitement.

Then subconsciously glanced at Noah, looked at the Queen of Heaven Hera and God and said, "It's really too amazing, I never knew that there are actually such amazing things in this world, before I always thought that such things only existed in novels and TV shows."

"Sure enough, drama comes from life." said Jocelyn.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, laughed, "Those fiction writers of yours on earth are really good, each one of them obviously never been to this place at all, yet they can describe it so well."

Jocelyn nodded approvingly, "Hera, then all those things that the author described, all the divine things actually exist in real life?"

Hera nodded, "Yes, that's why I admire this group."

Jocelyn then gave a thumbs up, "Yes, I'm impressed too."

Noah, "It's about time, I think I should take my wife back, you guys get some rest, it's getting late."

"I really thank you both for everything you have given us. Don't worry, when we return to earth, we will take everything you have given us and live a good life. We will be good people and benefit society."

Noah had a pious face.

God smiled gratefully, "I believe your words, when you go back, live a good life, from now on, it will be smooth sailing for you two."

"Your children' will still have to undergo some trials and tribulations, but rest assured that they will not be life-threatening." God added.

Hearing this, Jocelyn's heart suddenly tightened.

And then Jocelyn looked nervously at God and asked, "What does this mean? What ordeal is my children going through? Is it serious?"

God shook his head, "Actually it is not very serious, with many people are similar to it, have to undergo some love above the ordeal, but you do not have to worry, they will not be because of this have any accident."

"These two children can live long enough to be with you all the time, and most importantly, these two children will grow up to be filially obedient to you, and these two children, with whom you are destined, are very good."

"And they have come down to repay the kindnesses they have received, both of them having been shown much kindness by you in their last lives."

God said again.

Jocelyn followed up again, "But the trials and tribulations above the love affair, this is really quite scary."

The hardest thing to deal with in this world is the matter of love.

Because people, in fact, have the hardest time controlling their own hearts.

God smiled again, "As I said, rest assured, there won't be much of a problem."

"Actually, it's okay if you say so, I'll soon forget about it anyway." added Jocelyn.

"In that case, does it make any difference if I say or don't say?" God said again.

It is clear that God does not want to say too much.

Jocelyn thought hard about it indeed.

So she nodded and did not pursue anything further.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, said with a smile, "You may go back, now I will send you back."

"I'm happy to meet up with you guys today. From now on, I'm going to erase all memories of you two about tonight."

"Not only that, but I will turn back the clock and send you back to a time before you met Lena fox today."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, added.

Jocelyn nodded readily.

And then, reluctantly, she took a look at the beauty of the divine palace.

It was a sight she would never see again.

Although, it is not destined to remain in her memory.

However, she still wanted to have a good look before she left.

After looking at the view, she then took a quick look at Hera, the Queen of Heaven, and God in front of her.

She wanted to get a good look at both of their faces.

These two, after all, are not for everyone to see.

Mortal beings, no matter who they are, do not have the opportunity to see them.

Every extra glance is now earned for her.

Compared to Jocelyn, Noah is much more subdued and cool.

Noah just blandly looked around for a moment before looking at the Queen of Heaven and God, and spoke again, "I really thank you both. Thank you."

Hera, Queen of Heaven, "You have been kind to me, and I am only repaying your kindness. We actually belong to a state of clearances between us now, and no one needs to say rest to anyone."

Jocelyn, "Then I would like to say thank you, if it wasn't for you, me and Noah, and the children would have been buried in who knows where."

She knew very well that without Hera, the Queen of Heaven, she and Noah and their children would have endured a lot of turbulence.

They will be inhuman because of that Lena fox.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, shook her head, "It's all a small matter, and you don't have to care too much."

Jocelyn, "By the way, do you know Sophie? I want to know if it's true that her soul is flying away?"

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled again immediately at her words, "That is naturally not the case."

Chapter 1214 A Different Kind of Happy

The moment was full of emotion that flowed deep within them both.

All it took was the thought that, many years later, Sophie could not only be resurrected but become a god.

She was just so happy.

She became more grateful to Hera, the Queen of Heaven, and to God.

Immediately, Jocelyn turned to look at the Queen of Heaven, Hera, and God and said, "Thank you both, truly, from my heart."

"I think that's something Sophie would love to say to you both as well." Jocelyn added.

The Queen of Heaven, Hera, shrugged indifferently, "It's just a small matter, I was just touched by this girl's sincerity and kindness. We, in the heavenly realm, need such sincere and kind gods."

"Of course, in addition to that, there is actually one more thing, which is that Sophie Sophie was, in her previous life, very kind and did many, many good things. In her previous life, plus everything she did in this one, it is enough to get special care from me."

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, added.

Hearing these words, Jocelyn smiled again and said, "Thank you and God."

Hera, "You can rest easy, Jocelyn, Noah, you can now go back to where you belong, if you have no further questions."

"I would like to ask is my father living well now? Is he in heaven now, or is he in hell?" Jocelyn added.

"Your father is here." said Hera, the Queen of Heaven.

"What? In here?" Jocelyn was filled with stunned eyes.

The same is true of Noah.

The Queen of Heaven Hera nodded, "Your father, in his previous life, was originally a god, he was only down to earth for the tribulation, and when the tribulation was over, then it was time to return to the divine palace. But today your father went down to earth to do some business, so you will not be able to see him."

"In fact, for a long time, your father has been silently watching you."

"Jocelyn, your father sees all your joys and sorrows with Noah, but because there are rules in the heavenly realm, he cannot easily show up or do anything for you." added Hera, the Queen of Heaven. These words shocked Jocelyn and Noah once again.

Immediately, Jocelyn asked excitedly, "My father has become a god?"

And he even kept a secret eye on her?

Just thinking about it makes Jocelyn feel happy.

It turned out that her father had not completely disappeared from this world.

Father just came to the heavenly realm and became a god.

Her father is still watching her silently.

In a way that she doesn't even know.

She has really gained so many surprises from her walk here today.

Noah didn't say anything, just looked intently at Hera, wanting to hear what Hera said next.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, smiled again, "Yes, your father, who is the God above here, lives happily here, calling on the wind and the rain. You can rest assured."

Jocelyn nodded, "Then, Queen of Heaven, I hope that you and God will take good care of my father. If my father has done anything wrong, I hope that you two will forgive him for the sake of our having met once."

She actually really wanted to see her father.

But since Hera, the Queen of Heaven, said she would not be able to see him, she did not force her.

It is enough to know that her father is very happy now.

Hera, the Queen of Heaven, nodded, "Be at ease, we will, and your father, who is gentle and of the kind that does not cause trouble, has never, in a thousand years, displeased me or God."

"And that's why he's been able to stay a god." God said.

"That's good, that's good." said Jocelyn had a relieved look on her face as she kept nodding her head.

At this moment, she was so excited that she didn't know how to describe it in words.

Her father she had missed day and night turned out to be doing so well after the separation.

She's really happy.

"What about my mother, do you know the whereabouts of my mother?" Jocelyn asked.

Since she had come here with a chance to know something, she wanted to know something about her own mother.

God said, "Your mother, who is an upper god in the heavenly realm, is the Peony Fairy. She went down to the earth to experience the tribulation at first and then gave birth to you, and returned to the divine palace because the tribulation was over."

"Your father and mother were in the heavenly realm, and were a couple who came down together to experience the tribulation." God added.

At this moment, Jocelyn was once again stunned by it all.

"Really?" Jocelyn asked.

God nodded, "Yeah, it's just that your mother had a shorter time to experience the tribulation than your father, so, she came back to the divine palace early. Your mother had a good life. Once for a long time, she was always watching you from the sky growing up."

"It's just that she can't, because of some heavenly regulations, do anything for you either," God added.

At this point in time, Jocelyn was really even happier.

It must have been a happy mother to be a god in the heavenly realm, taking it easy.

She loved the fact that her mother was always happy.

"So can I meet my mother?" Jocelyn asked.

Heavenly Queen Hera shook her head, "No, your mother is in seclusion to cultivate into the divine art, it takes seventy-nine days, only just half of the time has passed now. When the gods cultivate the divine art, it can't be disturbed, Once disturbed, they will go off the rails."

Chapter 1215 You are wrong

Noah, "Yes, because, I didn't get to hold you, didn't get to be close to you."

At this moment, Jocelyn only felt a deep ripple rise deep inside her.

Although she has been with Noah for a long, long time.

But the two of them are in such a state that every day they seem to be a couple in love.

Noah was as clingy as ever.

No, exactly.

Noah is more clingy than ever.

She liked this kind of Noah.

Glancing at Noah's character inside the game, he was killed.

Jocelyn immediately picked up Noah's phone and said, "Wait, the game is important, then you can not just abandon the game."

As a veteran e-sports player, Jocelyn deeply understands how it feels to meet a teammate who quit at the middle.

So when playing the game, she has always adhered to the philosophy of absolutely no quitting.

Noah looked at Jocelyn with a dotting face naturally hugging her, resting his chin against Jocelyn's shoulder and said, "Okay, you play, I'll watch you."

Jocelyn nodded.

At this time, inside the game, Noah's teammates began to send voice curses.

One cranky old man cursed more than anything else...

[Shit, what the hell? Do you fucking know how to play, you?

[Yes, what are you doing? A top player like that, but he's being rounded up by someone else? You didn't even resist at all? Are you a brainiac?]

[I see you before, the reason why you developed so well, is because of luck. You are at a primary school student level.]

[If you don't want to play the game, get the hell out of my way.]

Hearing everyone cursing, Jocelyn's expression remained as normal as ever.

She wasn't angry.

Having played the game for a long time, she understands this sentiment of her teammates.

She just watched in silence as the game characters came back to life.

And then she bought the drugs and teleported to her teammates and continued to play with them in the group.

Five men on the other side, four on their side.

She operates her game character and plays five at a time.

Her teammates cursed and said she was sending them to their deaths while keeping up with her.

Soon, the five men on the opposite side of the field were bloodied by them.

Instead, she operated her game character and rode it straight to a five-kill.

At this moment, inside the team's voice, the picture changed abruptly -

[Awesome ah, sorry, I apologize.]

[Are you a man or a woman? I think you're a guy from the way you're operating, right? If you're a girl, you don't play games with such courage.]

[I don't think it's a girl either, how can a girl be so good?]

[Buddy, I apologize, let's talk about the game, next time we team up and score together.]

Listening to everyone say these words, Jocelyn suddenly felt unloved.

She frowned slightly and turned on the microphone, "Sorry, I'm really a girl, who says that girls can't be awesome?"

"Now, many of those famous e-sports players in the world are girls, okay? It's true that there aren't as many girls as men, but there are quite a few."

Jocelyn hates this kind of talk from these straight men.

When the group of straight men heard this, they fell silent.

About a few seconds later, the entire team was excited -

[Damn, you're actually a girl? Can a girl actually play so well? It's the first time I've met one.]

[Sorry, Miss, I was mainly dragged down by women before, so I have a prejudice against women, sorry, forgive me.]

[Will we play together in the future?]

[Miss, are you a pro? I feel like you are so professional with this operation.]

Jocelyn said indifferently, "I'm just an ordinary player, next time, you guys should stop looking down on female players. Got it?"

[Yeah, we get it, we'll never do it again.]

[I'm sorry, we really won't dare again.]

[Why do I feel that this female voice is so familiar? Seems like I've heard it somewhere before.]

Instead of continuing to get involved, Jocelyn continued to concentrate on her game character.

Just then, four people from the opposite side teleported in front of her, trying to kill her in seconds.

And she didn't give her opponent a chance at all, dodging into the grass next to her with a sharp dodge and stealth.

And then she used the grass as cover and began to desperately circle her opponent, constantly countering.

Chapter 1216 Top Star's Scandals

By this time the team was even more boisterous inside.

[Holy shit, what kind of perfect operation is this? How do you manage to kill someone who is as good as your gear when you are in bad shape?]

[And, still, an absolutely crushing gesture.]

[And in the case of not losing blood at all, if you say you are a professional player, I believe it.]

[Seriously, I believe it too, which KPL team's pro do you think you are?]

[Or LPL?]

Her teammates were all clearly amazed by her actions.

Jocelyn laughed and decided to keep a low profile, "Just a moment of luck."

[No, I think you're really perfect.]

[Why do I get the feeling that you really are the pro?]

[You're really a pro-level player with this awareness].

[This walk is so good.]

[Really super impressed.]

Jocelyn did not continue to talk to them and just continued to help Noah operate the game.

Soon Jocelyn, with her teammates in an absolute crushing position, killed through the other team's three paths and destroyed their base.

The final game is won.

The team is still on a bender.

Jocelyn, on the other hand, withdrew from the game in a low and silent manner.

The moment she logged out, Jocelyn saw that she had received many friend requests on her side.

All are people who have just played together.

Jocelyn did not want to add.

So it was a straightforward point of refusal.

Seeing as it was getting late, Jocelyn was missing the children.

Then she stood up and looked at Noah and said, "Come on, let's go home, I miss the children."

Noah nodded his head.

Immediately afterwards, the two left the office together.

When Jocelyn and Noah returned home, the two children were playing inside the living room.

Both children are now walking.

The two siblings are now stumbling around the living room, hand in hand, chasing each other.

Both children are chubby and soft and cuddly.

When they returned home, they felt their hearts melting at the sight.

Ever since having these two children, the happiest time of the day for Jocelyn is this moment when she comes home and sees them.

The same is true of Noah.

Even though on the outside, the two people are the reigning.

But inside the home, the two are incredibly gentle when it comes to their children.

They are no different from ordinary mum and dad.

The two went to wash their hands and then started playing with the children together.

As the two children grew older, both children's preferences for toys changed.

Madeline is more like Barbie and all that, loves to brush Barbie's hair and change her clothes.

And Lawrence was more into it, with the blocks and the racing cars.

Jocelyn herself loves dolls, so she was happy to play with them with Madeline.

And Noah accompanied Lawrence to play with the racing car, and the building blocks.

Several people played in great harmony.

The baby-sitters only felt truly blown away by the beauty of the scene.

And at this moment those marks on the two people, and on the children, which had been given by Hera, the Queen of Heaven, had completely disappeared.

But the two people were oblivious to it.

This is true even for baby-sitters.

Everything about those traces is missing from their memories.

It disappears without a trace.

After dinner, Jocelyn accompanied Noah to put the children to sleep before returning to her room.

When she returned to her room, Jocelyn took a comfortable bath with Noah.

Afterwards, all over her body she applied expensive skincare products before sitting down on the bed.

On Jocelyn, she was wearing a snow-white silk nightgown.

A big chunk of the back is showing.

There are only two clean white straps.

At a glance, the glowing skin and the perfect figure are visible.

The woman in the light is like a carefully carved work of art by God.

Although they had been together for a long time, Noah still got an itch every time like this.

However, because there was still a lot of work to be done, Noah could only forcefully suppress those eager in his heart.

And Jocelyn was completely unaware of Noah's thoughts at this time.

She just picked up her ipad to herself and swiped through Weibo.

Today on Weibo, it's very lively.

The top 10 hot searches were almost taken over by X Entertainment's artists.

Basically, it's all about artists walking through airports, going to shows and getting endorsements.

On top of the hot search, it was all about national security.

What caught Jocelyn's attention the most was #Denis Dior global spokesperson#

Eye-catching and unmistakable.

Chapter 1217 School Violence

[Denis is really as handsome as Ryan.]

[Jocelyn is really good at choosing people.]

[Many of the handsome popular men for now are all under Jocelyn.]

[I'm jealous.]

[Denis really has a promising future, it's not even been a year since he debuted and he's already won such an awesome endorsement].

[Many people who have been in the entertainment industry all their lives can't get this endorsement].

[Now those so-called top stars in the entertainment industry are really going to be trembling, right?

Apart from Ryan, no one's fashion resources are as great as Denis'.]

Denis' fans have been flattering

Jocelyn is very much in agreement.

These words, read by other traffic, can really sting the nerves though.

And that is indeed the truth.

Nowadays, Denis' fashion resources can't be compared to anyone else except Ryan.

Even those who have been in the circle for a long, long time, some of the so-called top stars are no match.

The reason why Denis was able to get these high luxury endorsements, apart from the company's credit, is actually, more than anything, Denis' personal image, which is liked by those high luxury brands.

Now Jocelyn really feels like she has dug up a treasure.

Denis is the company's new cash cow.

As the view continued to move down, Jocelyn was again inside the topic and saw a lot of bad comments -

[Aren't you all curious as to why someone has been able to take such awesome resources right out of the gate?]

[I don't believe that this person has no background, as far as I know this person has an unusual relationship with Jocelyn].

[I've heard that this man is a relative of the Jocelyn family's. The reason he has such great resources is all because of this connection].

[How did I hear that Jocelyn gave this person to those fashion industry executives to sleep with?]

[Don't be ridiculous, how could Jocelyn be such a person?]

[I think people are not what they seem, right? How do you know that Jocelyn is not that kind of person?]

These people's brain-dead comments really made Jocelyn feel speechless.

The person who sent these tweets, she knew without even looking at them, that it was arranged by the company against Denis.

This is clearly jealous of Denis, so they want to set up some scandals for him.

Naturally, she would not be accustomed to those problems.

She replied, [@Denis, how come I didn't know you were a relative of my family? Is it because I've lost my memory?]

[@Denis, I heard I gave you to a fashion industry executive? Who is it? How come I don't know?]

After posting these, Jocelyn wrote another tweet on her Weibo account, [If you have time to be jealous of others and make up stories, you might as well find an electronics factory and work a shift.]

Fans who saw these comments by Jocelyn couldn't help but laugh outright -

[Are these people sick or not?]

[Since you have so much time to spare, let's look at handsome men and women and not focus on the useless gossip.]

Jocelyn took a brief look.

She then saw that there were a lot of photos of Denis in the topic.

The photograph shows Denis crouched in a corner, smoking a cigarette.

It looks like Denis was just seven or eight years old at the time.

He was dressed in a snow-white shirt and had a warm, jade-like air.

The features look no different than they do now.

The face is full of scars.

Smoking with reluctance on his face.

The photo, although it was Denis', was something else at first glance for Jocelyn.

And those people, at this time, started to make use of those photos to create rumours -

[I'm a high school classmate of Denis. I want to advise Denis' fans that this guy is a punk.]

[I am a primary school classmate of Denis, I testify. At that time, Denis only smoked and had fight every day, and he was a school bully. Not many people in our school liked this person.]

The rhetoric is starting to get extreme -

[How come he be promoted top star?]

[Was he actually ruffian before? It's really hard to tell.]

[Look at the photo, it is Denis. Denis' fans, if you don't want to admit it, then go to the hospital to get your corneas replaced again.]

[Denis is really something, looking at this, he's only 7 or 8 years old, right? Smoking at seven or eight years old?]

[A child who smokes at the age of seven or eight, what kind of a good thing can he be? What is the state waiting for if it doesn't hurry to ban him?]

[Is this the kind of person who deserves to be a top star? Are you really not afraid of causing harm to the youth? Hurry up and ban him.]

And at this time, at the other end of Weibo, inside the luxurious hotel suite, Denis was standing on the balcony, silently looking at the scandals about himself on Weibo.

Chapter 1218 Cyber violence ensues

"Ever since I entered that school, a few delinquent youths in my class have been targeting me."

"They would add glue into my water and would piss in my boxed lunch."

"It would even be sneaking around hiding my chair and making me stand in class."

"And of course they would always force me to smoke or beat me."

"When they forced me to smoke, they said they were going to get me dirty, they hated that I was so clean."

"I was actually never sure exactly why they hated me so much until then, and after that incident, I got it."

"In fact, they just dislike me for being too clean and studying too well."

Denis just said it word for word.

The past was a scar that he could not erase in any way.

Now it was as if he had torn his scars apart again, bit by bit, with his own hands, by saying this.

Those crisscrossing slashes, once again, appeared in the heart and hurt so much that it was impossible to breathe.

Those days in primary school were truly a nightmare in his life.

That past was something he never wanted to bring up in his life.

If it weren't for the matter at hand, he thought he would really forget all that.

He had really been close to forgetting about it.

After speaking, he fell silent and looked far away, not saying a word.

And after hearing all this, Jocelyn felt a stabbing pain in her heart.

She did not expect that Denis, who looked so sunny and warm, would have such a scarred past.

What's more, she never imagined that the group could be as vicious as that.

So there really are people, starting from primary school, who can be that vicious.

Although, she hadn't experienced anything like that.

But everything Denis said, she felt with.

She then frowned deeply and whispered softly again to the other side of the phone, "Denis, you don't have to worry about everything next, everything is under my hand."

"I will protect you." added Jocelyn.

Her words instantly made Denis' heart feel warm again.

Denis smiled slightly with tears in his eyes, "Thank you, boss."

Jocelyn, "Don't call me Boss, it's weirdly polite, just call me Jocelyn."

"Okay, Jocelyn." Denis said softly.

"Jocelyn, why do you trust me so much that you didn't suspect that those are true?" Denis asked.

Jocelyn shook her head, "Never."

Denis, "Really?"

Jocelyn, "I know your character, I know you're not like that at all. Also, you in that picture, smoking is obviously not happy."

"If you really like smoking, you should look relaxed when you smoke, but you don't. you only have pain, I saw the photos and I already guessed that you were forced."

Once again, Jocelyn said.

"Thank you, Jocelyn." Denis really felt that it was the greatest luck in his life to have met such a good boss.

He swore silently in his mind.

He will definitely stay with X Entertainment for the rest of his life.

Absolutely no betrayal of this company, this boss.

Jocelyn, "As the boss, all this is what I should do, I suspect that the one who broke the photo of you smoking is one of the group of people who, at the beginning, bullied you."

"Don't worry, I will use this as an excuse to make that group of people all pay the price."

Jocelyn added.

Denis was so moved by this moment that he didn't know what to say.

"Denis, I wasn't with you when you were bullied, but now that I'm with you, I won't let anyone bully you."

"My X Entertainment artists have no need to hold your anger in." added Jocelyn.

Denis suddenly had red eyes, "Thank you, Jocelyn, you are so kind."

Jocelyn, "It's all right. Get some rest and leave it all to me, okay?"

Denis nodded, "I'm sorry for the trouble."

Jocelyn, "Don't think too much, get some rest, okay?"

Denis nodded again and then hung up the phone.

Denis understood at once why the Mason family is so good to Jocelyn, why it is that ninety-nine percent of the company's employees, as well as the artists, are dead set on Jocelyn.

It's all because Jocelyn deserves it.

With a boss like this, a wife like this and a daughter-in-law like this, it's really hard not to like her.

He thought that if Jocelyn were unmarried now and he was good enough, then he would have made a move to woo Jocelyn.

Denis' expression became even more tender at the thought of this.

On top of Weibo, those stories about Denis smoking and being a former punk are still spreading all the time.

Denis' various rival families are starting to target him.

Everyone is trying to use this opportunity to stomp Denis, the new top star, right down the pecking order.

Chapter 1219 Jocelyn's Success

For the rest of the day, there was no movement from X Entertainment.

And Denis has been holding back from making a sound.

Although, he had always been curious as to what tricks Jocelyn had under her sleeve.

Still, he was obedient and didn't bother Jocelyn, much less pay too much attention to it again.

On the internet, the tirade about Denis is still going wild.

Denis has even been branded as a tainted artist.

The topic of Denis being a punk has been dominating Weibo, and all the major search platforms straight to the top.

Denis' name has managed to come out of the circle. Even many passers-by who don't follow the stars know all about it.

Some people said they did not know the full picture and would not comment.

While more people chose to join those smearers and stand against Denis.

Things get bigger and bigger.

The silence from X Entertainment and Denis was interpreted as a tacit agreement.

The less they explain, the more heat things get.

And Denis' reputation as an inferior artist is being called more and more loudly.

In the blink of an eye, another three days have passed.

There is still no response from the X Entertainment.

The smearers of Denis' various competitors are beginning to gloat.

The crowd has always believed that X Entertainment and Denis did acquiesce and that Denis has been given up by X Entertainment.

That afternoon, the blogger who broke the story about Denis' smoking photo published a direct tweet.

Explains the original story of Denis' smoking incident.

And he admitted to smearing Denis with rumours.

The reason is that he has received money from Denis' opposite family, Frederick's company, and wants to work with the other company to create scandals for Denis to fall from grace.

X Entertainment forwarded the tweet on their official blog as soon as the other party posted it.

And with a text that reads, "Denis has been clean and honest, these days we don't talk because we are looking for this first person who exploded the photo. Denis has been suffering, in primary school from cyber violence led by this person."

"They were bad to the extreme, forcing Denis to smoke, peeing inside Denis' lunch box and so on."

"Thank those fans who are always willing to believe in Denis, thank you."

"I hope those of you who are smears will stop being led on and see how things really are."

As soon as the tweet was posted, it immediately drew strong attention.

In a flash, the official X Entertainment blog was filled with apologies all over below.

It took only a second for the tweet to be published, and the number of apologies below had already broken a million -

[I want to apologize to Denis, I was hasty, sorry, Denis].

[Heartache for our Denis, Denis is really pathetic, I'm sorry, I'm guilty.]

[Thank X Entertainment for protecting Denis.]

[It was when Denis was blacked out all over the net that I learned this person's name. After knowing it, I searched for this person's video and instantly fell in love with. Through some of his interview clips, I felt he was not such a person. I have been waiting for a truth and never thought I would really wait.]

[Denis is really handsome. I even suspected that he is innocent.]

Inside the fancy hotel suite, Denis was sitting on the hotel balcony with a peaceful look on his face, watching everything on Weibo.

Looking at the overwhelming apologetic remarks, the corners of Denis' mouth immediately curled into a gentle smile.

He then forwarded a tweet published by X Entertainment, saying, "I'm sorry for taking up public resources for so many days, thank you all for your trust and likes."

Fans replied in near seconds -

[Heartbroken, I really didn't think that you would have that kind of history. Give you a hug.]

[Denis is miserable, that group of people should really be struck by lightning.]

[I'm sorry, I am back, Denis.]

[Denis, I'm sorry, I shouldn't have cursed you, I shouldn't have distrusted you, I'm coming back now, do you still want me?]

The fans' remarks made the tenderness under Denis' eyes more intense.

He then replied one of them, [Yes.]

A comment that immediately stirred up a huge wave in the comments section of his Weibo feed.

Fans were screaming at the top of their lungs.

At the same time, he saw his Weibo followers growing like crazy.

Many of them are even people who don't follow the stars.

Inside the Weibo number, there is no news about any celebrity kind.

With this moment, he instantly understood the good intentions of Jocelyn and X Entertainment.

Before, not explaining and letting things keep getting bigger and bigger was, in fact, getting his name be known.

Chapter 1220 Phaeton Kindergarten

On the other hand, the development of the Griffin Group is like a rocket ride.

Unknowningly, the Griffin Group has become an unsurpassed God-class multinational corporation in the world.

The business grew bigger and bigger in all areas.

And all the areas covered have had positive results.

Griffin Group and Murphy Group are the first and second in the world.

The third ranked company below seems to be separated by the height of Mount Everest compared to them.

Nowadays, Jocelyn and Noah are a match made in heaven.

In the blink of an eye, both children are three years old.

It's kindergarten age.

This day, before going to sleep, Jocelyn was applying skin care products to her body while looking at Noah who was sitting on the floor with his two children learning ancient poems, "I enrolled them both in Phaeton Kindergarten."

Noah nodded and said without thinking, "Okay."

Phaeton Kindergarten is considered to be the top ranked aristocratic kindergarten in Flento City.

It is that satisfies him in any way.

"I've looked into some kindergartens in the past few days, and Phaeton is the best in every way." Noah added, "The most important thing is that you feel good about it."

Anyway, whatever his wife says is right.

Jocelyn nodded, "That's settled then."

Noah nodded his head.

Phaeton Kindergarten is excellent in all aspects of teaching except.

And most importantly, it is very protective of the students' privacy.

As the two children grew up, the two of them no longer wanted to expose them excessively to the public eye.

They want the two children to enjoy their childhood in peace and quiet.

And this, no doubt, is the safest for them.

They have a special status of dignity.

It's not good to be watched by too many people.

In fact, the two of them have been intentionally protecting the two children from exposure ever since their one-year-old birthday party.

In the past few years, there has been even less than a single picture of them in the outside world.

"Since we agreed to protect them from further exposure, then on the school, let's give them fake identities to attend as well, just be normal rich family kids." Jocelyn added.

Noah nodded, "That's what I thought, I made the children's identities a long time ago."

Jocelyn nodded.

Both children were just looking at picture fairy tale books at this point, not paying any attention to what their mum and dad were saying.

The two children look even better than they did when they were little.

The two have identical faces.

Lawrence is handsome, and Madeline is beautiful.

Even with the plainest white cotton loungewear on, the two children still seemed to glow.

No matter how many times she looked at them, Jocelyn still thought they were so good looking.

By this time her skin care products were applied.

She then got out of bed, and then sat down between the two of them with her arms around their shoulders, looking at their cute faces.

Watching them, Jocelyn felt that time had flown by.

When they were both newborn, that weak and tiny look was clearly still in sight.

But in just a blink of an eye, they were three years old already.

It's amazing that they're old enough to start kindergarten.

"Time goes by so fast." exclaimed Jocelyn.

Noah nodded his head and looked at his wife and his children with gentle eyes, "Yeah."

Jocelyn gently stroked the two children's hair and added, "If you two go to kindergarten, behave yourselves, okay?"

"Don't mention much about the family, especially not to everyone what your parents' names are, understand?"

"It's for your protection." added Jocelyn.

Both children nodded immediately.

They are very young though, but smart and well behaved.

Whatever Jocelyn says, they will do it.

Every word that Jocelyn says, they take seriously to heart.

At this, Jocelyn once again felt her heart melting.

"The babies are so good." Jocelyn said.

With a gentle face, Noah looked at them and said, "Mum and dad are doing it for your own good, you'll understand when you're older."

Madeline blinked her big soulful eyes and said, "It is to protect us, we will obey what daddy and mommy say."

"Right, brother?" Said Madeline and then looked at Lawrence who had been silent next to her.

Lawrence nodded coolly and didn't say much.

As time went on, the character of both children gradually developed.
