Chapter 171 Counterattack (2)

How she wished that image could be replayed once more.

But she knew that was impossible.

How could anyone be that lucky every time?

Her sanity was getting weaker and weaker.

She was really going crazy.

To the side, Paige did the same, her mouth could no longer hold back the indescribable sounds, and cold sweat broke out on her forehead.

"Learn from your friend and stop holding on so hard, you can call out. I'll let my Tibetan mastiff in if you beg me." Lennox continued to film the two of them in earnest.

He felt not enough standing still to film them, so he came up to them and disliked the face shots, recording all the slightest changes in their expressions.

Scene by scene he was excited and thrilled to watch.

Jocelyn tried to kick him hard, but her feet were tied firmly and she was unable to move.

Her whole body was like a boiler that was about to explode from the pressure.

When she walked out, she would make this man pay!

When the time came, she would drag this man down with her!

As her teeth gritted harder and harder, a bright red liquid began to flow out from the corner of her mouth.

Paige was also holding on hard, and before her sanity was completely lost, she too bit down hard on her lower lip, constantly stimulating herself with pain.

A whole twenty minutes had passed and they were both still holding on.

Lennox was impatient and directly moved a chair and sat down, crossing his legs and waved his hand towards the people around him, "Pull those two Tibetan mastiffs in."

He was completely surprised that these two women were actually so capable of topping it.

Those men, themselves, could not wait to hear the sound.

Lennox gave an order, and one of his men immediately pulled two large black Tibetan mastiffs and rushed in.

Jocelyn, however, did not want to let him off easily, "Let you off? Did you ever think of letting us go at that time?"

She saw a syringe in his pocket, so Jocelyn used her other hand to take out the syringe and pushed it down towards his thigh.

And she injected as much of the liquid inside as she could.

The colour of the liquid was exactly the same as the one he had injected for her and Paige before, and she knew that this was also aphrodisiac.

Soon after the large dose was injected, Lennox began to pant and blush.

By now the car had driven out far, far away.

Making sure there were no followers behind, Jocelyn looked at Paige and gave the order, "Stop the car."

Paige instantly stopped the car.

Jocelyn silently took Lennox's mobile phone out of his pocket, and then pushed him out of the car to the roadside.

This road was off the beaten track.

As far as the eye could see, there was not even a single car.

Lennox was huddled on the ground, trembling, and his mouth kept making unbearable noises.

He longed to the extreme, yet he could not see a single woman.

Jocelyn quickly returned to the car, and then Paige accelerated the car.

Her injured shoulder, because of the violent activity tearing, was in severe pain, and the blood flowed more and more.

At this moment, Jocelyn's lips were already pale to the extreme, and even the strength in her body had disappeared a lot.

"Could it be that he took revenge on Paige and your wife helped out, so she was implicated?" Robert's eyes were full of anger.

"You also know about what happened between Lennox and Paige before?" Noah's eyes were awe-inspiring as he looked at Robert.

The look made Robert's heart tremble slightly, and he recounted what he had seen and heard yesterday with Abel and Zoe in the cafe downstairs at the Hilton.

"At that time, the two of us listened to the content of that conversation and deduced that Lennox should want to sleep with Paige, or X Entertainment's actors, Paige did not agree, but we don't know about the details." Robert added.

"How come you didn't tell me?" Noah's eyebrows slightly raised at Robert.

"I thought it was an irrelevant matter, so I didn't tell you." The words fell, and a touch of searching flashed under Robert's eyes, "So, am I right?"

Noah didn't respond, he frowned coldly and dialed Tom, "Immediately send two hundred people to wait for Jocelyn and Paige at the entrance of the First People's Hospital, something has happened to them."

"Yes."

"Make sure to protect them at all costs." With those words, he hung up the phone and went straight to his black Honda.

Robert, Abel and Harry followed him into the car together.

Abel sat on the passenger side.

Harry and Robert were sitting in the back seat.

Robert cursed viciously, "How are Lennox bully Jocelyn, he'll wait for me, I'll have to kill him."

"And me." Abel coldly snorted, "I think he has reached the end of his good days."

"If he touches Jocelyn, he'll die." Harry's words were loud and clear.

"Noah, is it really because of the reason I mentioned?" Robert asked again.

But Noah didn't say a word, just stepped on the accelerator hard all the way and drove the car fast.

Seeing that Noah was obviously not in high spirits, Robert did not dare to ask more questions and quieted down.

Robert and Harry also immediately stood up and walked over to Jocelyn.

"Jocelyn, are you dizzy now?" Robert asked.

Jocelyn nodded her head, "Well, a little."

Harry said, "Then you have to take tonics, it should be because of too much blood flow."

The paramedics began to continue pushing Jocelyn forward.

Noah and the others helped push the cart all the way.

Looking at their faces, at this moment, Jocelyn felt warm.

After Jocelyn was settled into the large bed in the VIP ward, the medical staff left.

Harry went and moved three chairs and placed them behind Noah and Robert respectively.

The three men then sat down.

The people in black, guarding the entrance to the ward, had serious faces.

Noah carefully adjusted the IV flow rate for Jocelyn, his brows knitted as he looked at her face, "How did Lennox catch you there? Paige said someone broke into her house, how about you?"

At the mention of it, Jocelyn felt her heart tremble slightly, "Me too."

She then told what had happened at home, in its original form.

"He's really arrogant and lawless, shit." Robert gritted his teeth.

"Next, you stay here and recuperate well, I'll take care of him." Noah said.

Jocelyn's heart immediately stuttered, she clutched his hand, "Don't be impulsive, how can you possibly deal with him?"

Hearing these words, Harry and Robert immediately looked at each other, the corners of their mouths couldn't help but reveal a smile.

This was the first time they had heard someone say that Noah couldn't deal with any person.

"I will arrange someone to protect you when the time comes, don't worry, I won't let you suffer." Jocelyn added.

"You really look up to him." Noah hooked his lips with the blandness of a monarch.

"Just in case ... although I know you are good at fight, but."

"I will take care of it, you just stay out of it."

"No, since I asked you to do it, then I have to be responsible for you." Jocelyn insisted.

"Okay, I will let you be responsible for me."

"It's a must."

After saying this, she felt that as if something was wrong with his words.

Could it really be that she was thinking too much today?

"When the time comes, after you go to the room with Lennox, you ..."

"I know what to do." He changed the subject straight away, "You're very good at running away from a place like that." He complimented.

"Probably because desperate times can inspire one's hidden powers." Recalling what had just happened, she still had palpitations in her heart.

She really dreaded to think what she would have been like if Lennox's gun hadn't fallen down.

Probably she would have been eaten by that Tibetan mastiff.

"When you fired that shot, it hurt, right?" His gaze wandered over her left shoulder.

"Yes, I wanted to hurt myself, so I shot, otherwise, how could that feeling be washed away?"

He didn't say anything more, he just gave her a deep look before he lowered the hospital bed for her and covered her with the quilt, "You rest, I'm going to the balcony to have a cigarette."

With these words, he walked to the balcony, stood at the window and lit a cigarette.

Between the smoke and the mist, his face was getting colder and colder.

A knock sounded at the door.

Paige accepted the friend request, and then lowered her head to eat.

At this time, her phone vibrated again.

The other party sent her a message, "I'm Abel. Has the stuff been delivered? Would you like it?"

Paige was a little surprised. She didn't expect that he could get her WeChat ID.

She knew that Jocelyn would never casually tell others about her WeChat ID.

Paige asked, "Where did you get my WeChat ID?"

Abel answered, "I asked a friend to help me get it."

Paige was speechless.

Then, she roughly estimated the price for today's dinner and transferred the money to Abel.

Abel, "What do you mean? Do you want to be my sugar daddy? This money doesn't seem to be enough."

Paige, "Just the money for dinner."

She didn't like to owe others, especially those like Abel, who approached her with a purpose and she didn't like.

Abel, "I asked you for dinner. So it's my treat!"

Paige, "We didn't know each other well."

Noah raised his water cup, and was about to clink with Lennox.

Lennox immediately picked up the water cup and clinked with him, "Cheers."

Then, he took a sip of water.

Noah saw Lennox swallowing the water and then put his own lips to the edge of the cup, pretending to be drinking water.

Seeing this, Lennox smiled contentedly.

As long as Lennox took a sip, it was enough.

Noah's lips slowly left the edge of the cup. He held the water cup in both hands, looking at him, "What kind of drama are you talking about?"

Lennox said, "Oh... a costume drama."

As soon as Lennox finished speaking, he began to feel hot and powerless...

This feeling was so similar to yesterday.

Lennox immediately realized that something was wrong. He pointed at Noah and pulled a long face, panting and asking, "What... what did you do to me? What do you want to do?"

Noah snorted coldly. Then he stood up slowly, sorted out his black coat and flicked off the dust that fell on his shoulders.

The intuition told Lennox that the current situation was very bad.

The man in front of him was definitely not that simple.

He immediately wanted to leave...

But he didn't have the strength at all.

On the other side, Jocelyn felt hungry after browsing Weibo for a while, so she glanced at the time.

"Okay, this matter is very clear. You deliberately set up Mr. Campbell."

"Take this person to fill out the information, and then lock him up." The chief looked at Noah indifferently, with confidence and certainty on his face. He had no intention of asking anymore.

What the real truth was? He didn't think it was that important.

The important thing was that he couldn't afford to offend Lennox. At this time, he could only sacrifice this ordinary person in front of him to protect Lennox.

Noah's face became more and more gloomy. His anger built up.

Hearing this, Lennox immediately sneered proudly, stood up slowly, and squinted at Noah, "Just wait to go to the jail... Not mention that I didn't fuck you today, even if I did fuck you, what can you do to me?"

"Tell me, why did you do this? Huh? I have no grudges with you. Why did you frame me? Huh? To cheat me for money?" Lennox became more and more aggressive.

He even stretched out his finger, ready to poke Noah's forehead.

Noah reacted quickly. Before Lennox's finger fell, he grabbed it tightly.

The next second, Noah raised his head slowly and looked at Lennox. His eyes were like swords.

A wisp of murderous intent poured down from the top of his head.

In the next second, he grasped Lennox's finger and pulled it down.

With a sound, Lennox's bones were broken. His face changed greatly. He couldn't stop mourning,
"Ah...ah... Fuck off, let me go! Son of bitch!"

But Noah didn't mean to let go at all. He was still exerting force. Even the blue veins on the back of his fair hand popped out.

"Don't you guys hurry up and subdue him?" The chief looked nervous and ordered the two policemen behind Lennox.

The two of them immediately went up to subdue Noah.

Noah remained calm. He stood up unhurriedly, and then kicked the chair behind him towards them.

Noah was a little surprised by their arrival.

Abel stepped forward quickly, "Talk about it later when we get in the car."

Looking at Noah's attitude towards Abel and Robert, Lennox was also completely panicked now.

Although the Campbell family was powerful, it was nothing in front of the McCall family and the Moore family.

The person in front of him dared to speak to the two young masters of the McCall family and the Moore family like this, which meant that his status was higher than theirs!

The chief on the side also saw it. He looked at Noah, shivering, "Sir, please forgive me. I'm just stupid. Please forgive me. I shouldn't do those stupid things! I was really wrong."

"I... I was wrong too. Since we meet today, let's make friends, okay?" Lennox looked at Noah and flattered him. He wasn't as arrogant as just now.

Robert immediately raised one of his feet and kicked Lennox's ass, "Make friends with him? Who do you think you are?"

He kicked very hard. Lennox was kicked to the ground.

Lennox had a wound on his hand. Besides, he was kicked to the ground so hard again. He was so painful that he couldn't stand up. He humbly curled up on the ground and looked at Robert in a pleasing manner.

"Mr. Moore, my father, and my uncle are friends with your father, right? Can it be for their sake..."

"You have provoked the person who you shouldn't provoke twice in a row. Today, no matter who comes, you have to die." Abel's face was full of disdain.

"Twice?" Lennox looked blank.

How could there be twice? Apart from today, he had never provoked this guy!

"Chief, today's case, just listen to my bro. In addition, this person falsely imprisoned my bro's wife and her friend yesterday, and almost raped them. With these two accusations, just give him a life sentence, okay?"

Abel looked at the chief coldly and asked.

Jocelyn was still worried.

She clenched the phone tightly in her hands, not daring to relax at all. She kept her eyes fixed on the phone screen, waiting for his call.

The persons sent out hadn't come back to report the situation yet. It was really weird.

At this moment, her mobile phone was automatically powered off.

She wanted to find a charger to charge it.

It was only then that she remembered that she didn't bring the charger with her at all. She immediately called someone outside to come in and asked them to help find the charger.

At this time, she couldn't miss any news.

She was so nervous and anxious that as if she had her heart in her mouth.

After receiving the notification that the other party had turned off the phone, Noah turned off the phone and put it back in his pocket.

"What's wrong?" Robert asked.

"Powered off. Forget it. Go to the hospital first and then talk about it." Noah said.

"Well." Abel said.

"By the way, Robert, tell that chief not to talk nonsense in front of Joyce. He should know what to say and what not to say." Noah turned to look at Robert.

Robert snapped his fingers quickly, "You just don't want to reveal your identity in front of Jocelyn, right? I see. Don't worry."

"Why do you have to do this?" Abel looked puzzled.

Noah didn't answer. He just looked up at Tom and said, "Find the criminal evidence of Lennox's father and uncle as soon as possible and then publish it. Give you one day."

"Yes..." Tom nodded respectfully.

Jocelyn had been waiting for half an hour, but she still didn't get the charger.

She became even more impetuous at this moment.
