Chapter 191 Alexander

Once inside, Jocelyn saw a bunch of marketing numbers posting the image of Ryan just being met by chance in the hotel lobby.

Each one posted a nine-panel picture with similar content.

There were images of Ryan being flanked by a staff of bodyguards as he entered.

There were also images of Ryan talking to her and Noah, and of him being mobbed by fans in the lobby for autographs.

All images were original.

In every picture, Ryan was so handsome that one could not look away.

And that picture of her, Noah and Ryan in the same frame was the best looking one in there, and the picture showed their good-looking facial features.

Her eyes, too, lingered on that for a long time.

In the picture, she and Noah together were like a couple.

When she thought of this, she immediately patted herself on the head and then couldn't help but ask herself in her mind, what the hell was she thinking right now?

Ryan was so handsome as always.

Some people are born to be an artist.

The conversation was abuzz with fans.

"Ahhhhhhhhh Ryan is so handsome, right? That one chatting with Ryan in the same frame is Jocelyn, right? The one next to her with her fingers interlocked must be her husband. Her husband is handsome too!"

"Ryan, I love you! Jocelyn and her husband are so perfect for each other."

"Having lived for so many years, I have never envied anyone, but now I want to say that I envy Jocelyn."

Excelsior: "Really?"

Alexander: "Go....."

To avoid making his own mistakes and dragging him down, Paige quickly went to hide in the grass.

At this time, the ultimate BOSS, the Great Golden Dragon, refreshed, and with a roar, countless wolves, insects and tigers rushed out from all sides of the maze for a moment.

Alexander kept releasing group skills, but in two minutes, all the small monsters died and he was unharmed.

Alexander then rushed to the front of the Great Dragon Boss, using his positioning to dodge the boss attacks while attacking it.

The battle rages on

One scene after another, Paige was on tenterhooks.

After a thrilling battle that lasted a full ten minutes, the dragon was completely knocked out.

A pile of equipment burst out on the ground, as well as materials.

Among them is also the game's, rarest morphing weapon, a white feather fan with a shimmering golden glow.

Paige's eyes lit up at the sight of the shape-shifting weapon.

This weapon, an absolutely treasured item in this game, is the only one in the entire region, in the possession of Alexander.

It can change into any form at will according to its owner's needs, and with it, battle point can be boosted by 500 points.

Most importantly, it will also be supported by the permanent Koi buff, which gives its owner a five percent greater than average chance of exploding good equipment when fighting BOSS.

In the middle of the screen, a text rose across the screen, "Congratulations to player Alexander and Excelsior, for passing the maze copy quest."

In a flash, the world speakers exploded.

Trumpet: "Fuckin' hell! Did I read that right? Did top player Alexander actually pass the maze copy?"

Immediately afterwards, Ryan and a group of staff members trooped off the car.

Ryan wore a black and white striped hoodless sweatshirt with a pair of light blue baggy jeans on top and a pair of white AJs on his feet, no make-up but still starry-eyed.

There were obviously many people around him, but he was the only one she could see at first glance.

Ryan this time the dance instructor of the talent show "Pick Me".

Several photographers then quickly ran out of the villa and began to take pictures of Ryan from all angles in all directions.

"Every day when I see this face, I want to exclaim, he is so handsome." Paige said as she looked at Ryan outside.

Jocelyn smiled, "Yeah. Let's go."

Ryan was surrounded by a group of people, so he didn't notice Jocelyn as he made his way into the villa, surrounded by people.

Jocelyn and Paige sat in the car and waited until they were all far away before getting out of the car in a low profile.

The two made their way into the villa.

Upon entering, some staff members who recognised Paige began to come forward to greet her.

In the villa's living room, various cameras are everywhere.

Paige knew that Jocelyn did not like to show off, so she did not introduce Jocelyn and just held Jocelyn's hand all the way into the dance practice room.

At the moment, the contestants are practising their dance while Ryan is carefully instructing beside them, with countless photographers following behind him.

As one of the hottest top streamers of the moment, there is no hint of star power on his body.

Every player in the practice room is a handsome man, and each one is handsome in a very distinctive way.

But whichever one it was, it wasn't as dazzling as Ryan.

Apart from Ryan, the two people who shone brightest were Nicolas and Dorian.

Chapter 195 I Am Not Someone

When Paige started the car, Jocelyn contacted Allie to ask her to come out to meet at noon.

Allie agreed.

She sent an emoji of a yo-yo monkey wiggling his butt in excitement.

Jocelyn looked on with a burst of joy.

She thought, "Mrs. Mason is really interesting.

After she had set a meeting place with Allie, she asked Paige to drive herself there.

The place is a very famous upscale western restaurant.

When she entered, she saw Allie sitting by the window, playing with her mobile phone with her head down.

The restaurant was crowded, but she found her at once.

Allie's unmistakable aristocratic aura is incomparable.

Soon after, Allie also noticed her and immediately waved enthusiastically towards her.

Jocelyn waved back at her before quickly walking across to her and sitting down.

As soon as she sat down, Allie immediately clutched her hands tightly, her eyes full of concern, "Jocelyn
..... How are you doing? Have you recovered?"

The last time she was put in hospital by Lennox, she couldn't make it to my appointment on time.

Although she had sent a tweet to Allie afterwards to explain why, she still felt quite sorry for herself at the moment.

When Allie mentioned this, Jocelyn said, "I'm much better, Mrs. Mason, I am really sorry for making you wait for me for so long at that time."

Allie shook her head and then got up and walked to her side, continuing to clutch her hand and stroking her hair with affection, "What are you sorry for? It's because of what happened to you, isn't it?"

"No more pain in your body, right? You said your husband was taking care of you closely, did that your husband take good care of you?" Allie continued to ask, her eyes full of concern.

Jocelyn immediately nodded, "Yes."

"Actually, it's not a big deal but, I have an invitation to an antique auction, I don't have time to go, I want you to go instead to help me auction a ruby necklace outflow from the royal family of L country. Okay?" Allie asked with a smile.

"When?" Jocelyn asked.

"A week from now at eight o'clock in the evening." She then took the invitation out of her bag and pushed it in front of Jocelyn.

She had also heard about this antique auction, and it was said that all the antiques up for auction at this auction were extremely rare and precious, and all of them started at ten million.

And this is an auction that you simply can't get into if you have the money alone.

You need not only money, but also respectability.

"Okay." Jocelyn responded dryly.

"Go ahead and buy it, someone will pay." Allie patted the back of her hand lightly, her attitude still intimate as ever.

"Right, there is also a 1950's F country supreme sapphire necklace, when the time comes, you help auction it over together. Price doesn't even matter, as long as someone raises the price, you just keep adding." Allie added.

"Okay, I got it, Mrs. Mason." Jocelyn smiled.

"Besides, if you fancy anything, you can also buy it, I will pay for it." Allie acted very readily.

"No need, Mrs. Mason if I have something that looks good, I will pay for it myself." How could she possibly let Allie buy for herself?

Allie had already given her enough, so how could she be so brazen as to do that?

Allie shook her head helplessly, dotingly stroking Jocelyn's hair lightly, tenderness under her eyes and eyebrows.

"Well, well, well."

Bella immediately stomped her foot hard, while then called the police and explained the situation.

She then waved herself into a taxi and left in a huff.

By the window, Allie watched Bella's exasperated look and the corners of her mouth curled up in a satisfied curve.

Outside, Jocelyn also saw the scene clearly, and this moment her eyes contained a smile.

She doesn't believe that it's a coincidence that Bella's car tires are flat.

She wondered who it was that was so bold in broad daylight.

At this time, someone sent a WeChat to Allie.

"Madam, Bella called the police, but I've just deleted all the images from all the surveillance around"

Seeing this news, the curvature of Allie's mouth, once again, deepened.

She quickly put her phone away and looked to Jocelyn, "How was it, was it good?"

"What?" Jocelyn asked.

"That fool's car with the broken tyre. Doesn't it feel a lot more relieved now?" Allie said.

Hearing her say that, Jocelyn instantly understood, and she looked at Allie to confirm, "So that was you who had someone do it?"

"Yeah, Is it cool?" Allie asked again.

Jocelyn nodded, "Well, it's just that if she finds out that you did it, she won't take kindly to it."

"You think I will be afraid of her?" Allie asked lightly, tenderness and doting under her eyes and on her brow.

"No I just don't want to get you into trouble because of me." Jocelyn said.

"There is no way I will stand by and watch you being bullied and do nothing about it, whoever it is that bullied my Jocelyn will pay the price."

Bella was sure that there was no way that Jocelyn could have had tickets.

She had gone to great lengths to get this ticket, and her family didn't know how many connections they had made.

The Murphy family is not as strong as their Steward family, so how could the Murphy family get it?

With her arms wrapped around her chest and a condescending look on her face, Bella added, "You're here to meet powerful people, aren't you? Let me guess, who are you going to meet? Well it wouldn't be the president, would it? You're here because you know the president is coming too, right?"

Looking at her like this, Jocelyn felt angry and amused.

Rather, it was the information she let slip that the President would be here that surprised Jocelyn.

No wonder this auction is so difficult to get into, it's because of him.

Jocelyn raised her eyebrows slightly and looked at her face, "Do you think everyone else is like you?

"What do you mean?" Bella gritted her teeth.

"Literally." Jocelyn said indifferently, looking soft, but her aura was a million times more powerful.

"Don't you give me a diversion, let me ask you, are you now planning to stand here and wait to meet the president? Let's see what way is our Jocelyn planning to use it? Pretend to be careless and then bump into the President's arms? Or pretend to faint and be taken away by the president?"

"You know it?" The anger in Jocelyn's heart began to rise vaguely, the most hateful woman, besides Gloria, was the one in front of her.

"You don't have tickets and you have to come here, isn't that what this is about? I'm so heartbroken that your handsome husband found such a scum bag like you." Bella continued, her mind already fully concluding that what she thought was true.

Otherwise, why would Jocelyn be here? And it is true that some women will do anything to seduce a powerful man.

It's not just a matter of coming to the door of a place like this and waiting for someone, it's a matter of going overboard.

Another wave of chatter began among the noblewomen, the disgust in each one's eyes almost on the verge of overflowing.

Looking at Bella like this, Jocelyn really wanted to slap her on the ground.

However, Jocelyn held back and just gave Bella a faint glance before silently taking out the invitation from her bag.

At this time, Bella was shocked.

Others do the same

No one expected that Jocelyn would be the one with the invitation.

How could Jocelyn have an invitation?

How could Jocelyn have such a precious and rare item, which she had struggled to get?

So what was her behaviour just now? Is she a fool?

"I thought she didn't have an invitation? How come she has one?"

"How is this girl making up rumours? Then what she said in the beginning is not credible either, is it?"

In a flash, the picture takes a sharp turn.

The finger of public opinion shifted directly to Bella.

At this moment, Bella really wanted to find a crack in the ground and go in.

She gritted her teeth and looked at Jocelyn viciously, "This is a fake, right? Even if it's real, it doesn't prove that you didn't come here for the purpose of meeting powerful people, do you know anything about antiques you? What else could it be if an amateur like you came to this kind of occasion, if not for this?"

As far as she knew, Jocelyn was not at all knowledgeable about antiques.

Jocelyn frowned indifferently, raised her eyes with a calm expression, the corners of her mouth hooked up a mild arc, "Sorry, I really understand, what about you? Do you understand?"

What the hell? How did Jocelyn know the Vice President's wife?

And

How could this Vice President's wife be so close to Jocelyn? Now that Jocelyn has the Vice President's wife to back her up, what about her?

Jocelyn had not yet recovered from her consternation and was still looking at the Vice-President's wife with a wooden gaze.

"What's wrong? Don't you know me?" Ruby added.

Jocelyn shook her head, "No it's just that I didn't expect that you would be the wife of the vice president.

Ruby smiled, "Jocelyn, what do they mean by those words?"

Without waiting for Jocelyn to say anything, the people around her scrambled and described everything to Ruby.

Seeing that the Vice President's wife was on Jocelyn's side, the group of them naturally had to rush to side with Jocelyn as well.

Those few noblewomen who had had followed the trend of scolding Jocelyn were now starting to tremble inside.

Listening to everyone's descriptions, at this moment Bella's frightened heartbeat was almost out of control, and her face was pale.

All that arrogance she had had disappeared without a trace.

Originally, she wanted to turn Jocelyn into a joke.

But what she didn't expect was that the person who turned out to be the joke was herself.

If she had known it was going to be like this, she would never have shouted to attract so many people.

She's now repenting.

Bella stood here, neither running nor staying, her body seemed to be filled with lead, heavy as if it was.

Seeing that the Vice President's wife is so good with Jocelyn, then if she targets Jocelyn, she will surely teach her a hard lesson, right?
