Chapter 21 You Go To Hell

"Well, I see through this person now." Speaking of this woman Gloria, Joseph had a disgusted look on his face.

Recently, because of the various matters between Gloria, Jocelyn and him, it had already caused the share price of Stewart Food Group to tremble, and he had been lectured or even given a cold face by his father.

He knew that if he didn't do as he was told, he might not be able to keep the position he had fought so hard for.

Apart from these reasons, there was another more important reason. After Jocelyn had become beautiful, he felt more and more that Jocelyn was better than Gloria.

No matter what, Gloria was not as good as Jocelyn, and he loved Jocelyn even more now.

"Then I will go to the Murphy family tomorrow to withdraw from the marriage." Archie said.

"Okay." Joseph said.

William smiled as a gentleman, "Since brother is already willing to withdraw from the marriage, Father, you should forgive brother."

Joseph's eyes were full of gratitude as he smiled towards William, and then he carefully placed his gaze on Archie's face.

"Alright, got it." Archie stood up with a cold face, and then quickly walked upstairs.

After Phoebe gave a victory gesture towards Joseph, and then smiled towards William, she followed him.

"Joseph, please push my wheelchair over here." William said.

Joseph immediately pushed the gold-plated wheelchair by the wall over, and then he slowly helped William up.

"Look at me, I'm such a loser, there's so much going on at Stewart's now, but I can't help at all." William said helplessly.

"Big brother, don't talk about yourself like that, you didn't mean not to help, it's just because of that accident, that's why ..."

"Let's not mention it, I'll go up first. "

William then skilfully pushed the wheelchair and entered the lift.

The moment the lift door closed, his warm face instantly darkened, with a sinister and cunning gaze.

"I hope when you die, you'll be miserable, preferably in hell! And then get cooked in a frying pan by the King of Hell."

"Hahaha ..."

Gloria was laughing and shouting like a madman, with a hideous face.

Joseph saw this image and did not dare to go up at all, because if he went up in this situation, he would be dying together with Jocelyn, even if he liked her, he could not die for her.

The repulsive look on Gloria's face instantly made him lash out, "Shut up, you bitch!"

In the nick of time, the dazzling red Maserati winded up from the side and rammed into the middle of the body of the car in front of Jocelyn with a swift, overbearing motion.

The car's owner, Noah's face was as cold as if he were Satan walking down from hell, his deep eyes tinged with bloodthirsty scarlet and ruthless.

"Ah ...!!!" This violent and direct image scared Gloria so much that she covered her ears and screamed on the spot.

Jocelyn was equally terrified, extreme fear and disbelief written on the bottom of her eyes.

This car was hers, and the person driving it seemed to be Noah!

God! Did he want to die?

With sparks and thick black smoke, the red Maserati rushed towards the roadside with the car on top.

The car soon crashed into the wall of the villa first, and the Maserati came to a halt.

The Maserati's front end was deeply dented under the fog, while the car was completely battered, its body bent in.

The snow-white wall had been cut with an extremely deep gash, as if it had been cracked on the road during an earthquake.

Joseph became even more furious, covering his abdomen that had been kicked in pain, and questioned, "Are you ignoring me now?"

Noah ignored him and kept looking at Jocelyn in silence, as if Joseph didn't even deserve a single look from him.

"Someone should take care of her." Jocelyn smiled brightly.

With all the commotion, the outer wall of the house was about to collapse, and the people inside should have heard it long ago.

So she didn't need to do anything to Gloria, it was enough for her to just wait quietly.

Just at this time, Allen, Sara, Archie and Phoebe, four people walked out from the house.

They all came out because they heard the maid say that a car had hit the villa fence outside.

Seeing the image in front of them, they were collectively shocked.

Gloria, on the other hand, saw them come out and cowered in fear.

"What's going on here? Are these two cars hitting the wall together? Isn't that red car Jocelyn's? So it was Jocelyn's car that had the accident that caused all this?"

When she said the word "Jocelyn", Sara stressed it..

"Jocelyn, I'm not talking about you, why don't you drive more carefully? You've been drinking, haven't you?"

"It's not good to drive drunk, especially in broad daylight." Sara had a gloating look on her face.

Then Sara noticed Noah. The aura that emanated from his body made her subconsciously take a breath of cold air.

Glancing at the flattened car, she subconsciously felt that the car belonged to him.

This man looked like a rich young man and was dressed quite well, but she didn't expect him to drive a car worth only 400,000 to 500,000.

Joseph's face was disgusted as he muttered to himself, "What a bitch!"
And then he quickly moved the car to the side and tried to leave from the side.

Gloria instantly moved to the side, hugged the front of the car tightly and said, "Joseph! I'm pregnant! You can't leave me alone!"

She shouted hysterically, her expression almost twisted.

The Stewart family in the car heard her loud and clear.

Joseph was dumbfounded, and the next second he quickly got out of the car, clutching Gloria's wrist and asking coldly, "What did you say? You're pregnant?"

He hadn't taken any measures for comfort, and it was possible for her to be pregnant.

Why it was at this juncture!

Archie and Phoebe were shocked at the same time, their eyes full of disbelief as they looked at Gloria outside the car.

Although Gloria was a woman they disliked, but the child was at least the Stewart family's child, they couldn't help but like it!

Jocelyn and Allen were stunned.

Sara was overwhelmed with joy.

Why hadn't she said so earlier? If she had said so, she wouldn't have agreed to withdraw her marriage, but it's okay, it's not too late now!

The only person who was watching all of this was Noah, who was cool as an outsider.

Joseph immediately increased the strength of his grip on her wrist, staring at her face and questioning, "Is it really true? Don't you lie to me."

He had just seen how sinister Gloria was, and he would not easily believe it, even if it was really possible.

As soon as his words left his mouth, Archie and Phoebe immediately walked quickly to the two of them.

"Whether I will do well or not, please wait and see." Jocelyn responded indifferently.
Although her voice was not loud, her aura was not in the least bit subdued.
Confidence was written under her eyes, and such confidence made Sara feel prickly.
"I hope you won't be directly overwhelmed by the weight of work then, or you will end badly." Sara
"Thank you for your concern." Jocelyn gave a faint smile, but did not look at Sara again.
"I will wait to see your joke." Sara directly gave her a blank stare, and then turned around and left.

Jocelyn was in a good mood, so she didn't even bother to pay attention to her, and turned around to look at Noah, who had been standing coldly on the side, and said, "Thank you for saving me today."

Even now, when she thought of the image of Noah directly using his car to push the car that was about to hit her out of the way, she still felt that scene was impressive.

"No need." He responded lightly, his gaze falling coolly on her face and added, "What property is it?"

"Oh, just the Faraday Apartments downtown." Jocelyn smiled.

"How's your ankle?" He asked, his expression still cold and aloof.

"Not good ..." It hurt.

Before she could finish her sentence, he reached out and naturally picked her up horizontally.

Jocelyn's heart immediately tightened.

In broad daylight in front of her own house, and also around the traffic, what if they were seen?

Jocelyn struggled and said, "Put me down."

She didn't know if it was because the sun was too blinding, but at this moment she felt like he was shining brightly.

"Is that car yours?" With those words, his delicate chin lifted towards the black Mercedes Benz business car next to him.

Archie looked at Joseph seriously and warned, "I don't care what you really think in your heart, since Gloria is pregnant, then continue to be with Gloria and prepare for the wedding."

Gloria was happy at his words.

She touched her belly subconsciously and was glad that she had thought of this solution, otherwise Joseph would have flown away.

In fact, long before she came here, she sent a message to the head of the obstetrics and gynecology department, asking him to cooperate with her in creating fake test results on the condition that she would sleep with him once more, and the other party agreed without even thinking about it.

She had a serious addiction in sex, and because Joseph could not satisfy herself, she had to look for pimps every day, as well as secretly dating different men.

So, for someone like her, sleeping with someone for the sake of profit was nothing at all.

"Right, Joseph, you should ask Weibo to take down the hot search." Archie said.

Since they were inseparable from Gloria, they naturally had to spend money to remove that hot search, Gloria's disgrace was their Stewart family's disgrace.

"Also, Gloria, I hope you won't do it again, or I will be angry." Archie had a dissatisfied face.

Gloria nodded at once.

The Sky Garden Room on the top floor of Lost Bar covered a total area of 150 square meters.

The roof and walls were all made of tempered glass.

It had not only professional karaoke equipment, but also a water pool, flowers and plants, a refrigerator, sofas, a mahjong table, a Kingsize bed, and hundreds of bottles of alcohol worth six or seven figures.

It was the highest end private room in the bar, the only one in the whole bar, and it was not enough to have money to get in.

"That's a salary that no superstar in the industry has, right? Do you know what this guy said?" Abel got even more depressed as he said that.

"What?" Robert had a very interested look on his face.

"Give up." Abel said.

"Maybe he is not interested in playing games professionally." Harry patted his shoulder and said comfortingly.

"Playing games professionally for 30 million a year, why wouldn't he be interested?" Abel's eyes were full of incomprehension.

"What if that thirty million is nothing at all to him?" Robert said and then gulped down a whole glass of red wine, throwing everyone a cigar when he was done, and then got up and took the initiative to light it for Noah.

"Could it be that he is a rich second generation?" Harry said again.

"Hell knows, if he is not a rich person, then he is a pure idiot." After the words, Abel then looked at Harry and asked, "What about you? Isn't your Cloud Entertainment recently planning to monopolize the domestic live streaming industry? What's the progress?"

Harry took a shallow sip of red wine, then swallowed it slowly and said, "I finished signing the last acquisition contract for one of the companies today."

"Awesome, then the next big and small domestic live video platforms are all yours, and it took just one month. You are a true business wizard." Robert couldn't help but give a thumbs up.

"I'm flattered." Harry had a bland face.

"Okay, it's late, I'll go back first, feel free to spend whatever you want, just put it on my account." Noah coldly said, and then directly stepped away.

Gloria came to her with hatred on her face.

Jocelyn frowned coldly, "What?"

"Nothing, I just want to tell you that Joseph and I are getting married, and it's in a fortnight' time."

"I know you've always wanted to ruin our relationship, to get back at me and leave me with nothing."

"But Jocelyn, now I'm telling you that those ideas of yours are not going to work."

"As for the other things you are thinking about, I will also snatch them up with my ability."

"Before or now, you will be my defeat, you are doomed to look up to me for the rest of your life."

Gloria continued to raise her arm to block her path, speaking with a smug face.

As long as she succeeded in marrying Joseph, she would become the most advantageous party within the Murphy family's property battle.

With the power of her in-laws, her back would be much stiffer than Jocelyn's.

When the time came, as long as she could please her father, everything would be at her fingertips.

"Oh." Jocelyn responded indifferently, gently held her wrist and casually touched it, then directly pressed her arm and went into the kitchen.

Gloria, however, was unforgiving and once again stood in front of Jocelyn, proudly folding her arms over her chest, lightly lifting her chin and looking coldly at Jocelyn as she barked.

"You are just calm on the surface, inside you are already angry, after all, everything you have planned with your heart is going to turn into a bubble."

She wanted to find Noah and return the five hundred thousand in compensation to him, but then she remembered that he had never given her his contact information.

She had forgotten to give him the money because of all the messy things that had happened during the day, and because he had left in such a hurry.

Now that she remembered, she couldn't give it to him, so now she could only hope that she would meet him next time.

If she met him next time, she must return the money to him.

At ten o'clock in the morning, Jocelyn slept until she woke up naturally.

She stretched out comfortably on the big fluffy bed, and then sat up slowly.

The black curly hair hung down in a slightly messy manner, adding to her sense of laziness. At the moment, she looked like a white Persian cat lying on a summer afternoon, lazy and noble.

Jocelyn slowly glanced at the phone, which was ringing, on her bed and saw that it was an unknown number, so she picked it up.

Immediately after, a familiar voice filled her ears, "I'm at your door, come out."

It was him, Noah.

Perhaps he had come to ask for money? Thinking of this, Jocelyn immediately got out of bed, gently rubbed her hair and responded, "Wait a minute, I'll wash up first."

After another night of recovery, coupled with the medication, her feet had completely healed.

So, she then quickly ran into the bathroom and washed up.

She then hastily combed her hair, went to the cloakroom and found an aqua blue turtleneck jumper, a pair of light blue jeans and a long white down jacket to put on, before driving straight to the door in her black Mercedes business car.

The ordinary dress, coupled with the pure face with no makeup at all, still cannot cover her beauty.

After eating breakfast, Jocelyn went straight to the office.

Just as she sat down in her office, a knock sounded on the door, followed by Paige walking in with a large pile of documents, all of which were placed in front of her.

"These are all the ones you need to sign. By the way, I've already arranged for Ryan, he will go over to sing two songs next Tuesday before the opening of Faraday Apartments."

"OK," Jocelyn smiled and made an OK gesture.

"It's going to be a big event if he is there, the sales will be great then, and as long as you can make a big splash on this property, you're bound to have a bright future." Paige had quite a lot of confidence in Jocelyn.

Jocelyn smiled, her voice soft and sticky, "Thank you."

"Are you following the Weibo hot search today?" Paige asked.

"What?" Jocelyn was confused.

"That hot search for your sister is actually still at number one." Paige had a smirk on her face.

"It's still there?" Jocelyn really didn't understand who the hell was trying to mess with Gloria. To actually let her hot search number one hang around for so long, how much money would it cost?

But the way this person was doing it, she really felt quite cool watching it.

"Well, the netizens are now scolding Gloria, and the whole Weibo is abuzz with this matter." Paige's mouth was tinged with a touch of joy.

"I guess someone is trying to mess with her." Jocelyn laughed again.

"I am curious who this person really is." Paige complimented.

"Me too." Jocelyn was also curious about this person.

"Right, I've managed to sign the young man from the bar and he'll be coming to stay at our company dormitory today." Paige added, "The first document is his signing contract and his information, you can take a look at it, I'll go out and get busy first."
