Chapter 231 Spoil His Sister

"Miss Murphy asked me to stay here and look after her until she's healed." Paige smiled.

"Oh." He spared the words and turned and strode modestly upstairs, not saying much.

"I'll make dinner today, you come down for dinner later." Paige looked at his back and said.

He didn't respond and went straight ahead.

Walking to the door of the master bedroom, he took a deep look at the closed door before returning to his own room next door.

At dinner time, Paige cooked six dishes, stir-fried baby cabbage, braised sea cucumber with spring onions, ginseng chicken soup, braised boneless chicken feet, braised pork ribs and dry-fried cabbage.

The three of them had just sat down together, and Noah's mobile phone rang.

The caller was Camille.

He first gave Jocelyn her favourite stir-fried baby cabbage, before getting up and walking to the floor-to-ceiling window, looking out at the spring view in the courtyard and answering the phone.

"What's wrong?"

"Noah, I'm finished....."

"What's wrong?"

"What am I going to do? Mum finds out I've sneaked back into the country and has just called and wants me to go to her immediately."

"You go back first, I'll be right there." He said with a depressed pinch of his brow.

At those words, Jocelyn's heart jerked and the light under her eyes instantly faded.

The food in her mouth suddenly didn't smell good anymore.

She unconsciously raised her head and looked at his straight back with mixed feelings in her heart.

It was his girlfriend who called to see him, right?

They seem to have a good relationship and he is available at his beck and call.

She knew that she shouldn't care, she knew that she should have put her mind at rest, but why couldn't she do it anyway?

Hanging up the phone, Noah then turned around and returned to the table, looking at Jocelyn's face, "You guys eat first, I have something to do and must go out right away."

Noah and Ryan looked at Allie's face at the same time, waiting for her to speak.

"Your father returns home next Monday afternoon, so you guys free up that afternoon in advance." Allie said.

"Got it." Noah said indifferently, before turning around and heading out the door.

Ryan nodded and followed along out the door.

After both of them had left, Camille then rubbed herself towards Allie's side again, holding her arms affectionately and pampering her, "Mom, can't I wait until next Monday when dad comes back and see him before I leave? I miss daddy."

"No, school is important."

"I'm begging you." Camille pouted again, her hands constantly shaking Allie's arm, "Mum, can I? Is it okay? I'm sure Daddy misses me too."

After saying that, Camille then put her hands together, clutching them together, the back of her hand against her chin, looking at Allie's face with an expectant face, her big, gleaming, soulful eyes fluttering pitifully.

Allie couldn't help but feel soft in her heart, "Alright, I know, then you can go back next Tuesday."

"Thank you, Mum." Camille instantly threw her hands up in the air and cheered.

Allie doted on her and lightly stroked her hair, "Since you've been discovered by me, there's no need to stay in a hotel, stay at home from today."

"Then I'm going to sleep in the same room with you, until Daddy comes back." With those words, Noah leaned her head on Allie's shoulder and wrapped her arms tightly around Allie's waist.

At this moment, Allie felt her heart was going to melt, "Fine, fine, fine, how old you are, still so clinging to your mother."

Although she complained, her heart was sweeter than honey.

"I'm sending it to you now." The man there added.

As she spoke, her phone vibrated, and in WeChat, the person noted as Toolman sent her a dozen photos of Noah and Camille together.

There are photos of them eating together at KFC, as well as a back view of Noah entering the hotel, and a screenshot from the CCTV of Noah walking out of the hotel room with Camille.

The moment she saw these photos, Gloria instantly lit up.

And then she put the phone close to her ear, looked around to make sure no one was around, and lowered her voice, "Where did you get these?"

This must be her brother-in-law's adopted mistress!

The two looked so close, both going in and out of the hotel together.

Whether this Noah is the real Noah or, as she intuited, a stand-in for Jocelyn to act as a front man, it doesn't even matter.

Now that he was involved in something like this, once it came to light, it was a certainty that Jocelyn would be hurt.

If, however, this person was not a stand-in, then it would have been crazy for Jocelyn to be pointed out by public opinion after being cuckolded.

If, for example, this person was a stand-in and she didn't love him, then she'd be mad too because people would laugh at her!

Jocelyn, you've been shining brightly for so long, it's about time you disgraced yourself!

"I went to KFC for dinner the other day and happened to see them. I recognised the man at once and secretly filmed them. I had a feeling that something was wrong with the two of them." The man over there added, "So I kept watching from the shadows."

"The man was accompanying the woman after dinner and left first, the woman was playing by herself at KFC, then I secretly followed the woman again later and found out that she was staying at the hotel."

"I had been staking out the hotel entrance for a few days, and in between I had seen the man, who had been inside the hotel, so I hacked into the hotel's surveillance system and found those screenshots of the surveillance you saw."

The man continued to speak earnestly, word by word.

"I'll give you a number, you send these photos to the owner of the number, if she asks you who you are, just keep quiet." Gloria hooked her lips in excitement, "Whatever she asks you, you're not allowed to answer, we'll just send a picture and leave the rest alone."

The aftermath was simple enough, after all, and she was sure that Bella would take care of it.

"Yeah, is there a reward?" That man asked.

She shouldn't have been so relieved about Noah, shouldn't have just said that and then not even mentioned it afterwards.

Now trouble comes to the door itself.

People on the outside must laugh at her behind her back.

If her father saw it, he would be furious too.

When that happens, there will be chaos at home.

Thinking of this, Jocelyn immediately frowned, found the man's number and dialed it with an unhappy face.

On the other side of the phone, in the immaculate conference room of Griffin Group, a large group of Griffin Group executives were meeting.

Noah, dressed in black, sat coolly in the main seat, giving his instructions to the senior management of the various departments of the company.

At this time, his mobile phone, untimely, rang.

Naturally, the crowd gathered their eyes on him.

He frowned coldly, glanced at his phone, saw the word Jocelyn, and the glacier on his face melted instantly.

Noah slowly raised his head and looked at the crowd, resuming a serious face, "The meeting is suspended."

And then he pressed answer, got up and headed out.

"Noah, what's wrong with you? Didn't I tell you to be careful? Why aren't you careful?" There was an unconcealed sulk in Jocelyn's tone over there.

The meeting room is very clean.

The volume of his mobile phone was turned up so loud that the executives could hear it clearly, even though there was no speaker.

The crowd was shocked and began to look at each other.

How dare anyone speak to their president like that?

The other side is going to be finished now!

Everyone looked intently at Noah's face, waiting for him to get angry.

Chapter 235 What a Miserable Woman

Jocelyn also did not speak again and logged on to Weibo with her heart full.

The first thing she did was look at the hot seat.

Everything went as she expected, and they were in the hot seat.

Now #Jocelyn's husband has been exposed to cheating on her# at10 of the hot searches.

It was a mess, with all kinds of words.

"What's the use of being rich and good looking? Isn't he still going to cheat? Jocelyn is so miserable."

"This scum is so handsome that I couldn't bring myself to call him out."

"Tsk, ts, what a loser, so rich, so good looking but she still can't keep an eye on her husband. What shall I say about you? Hahaha."

She took a brief look at it, and after that, she retweeted a blurb from one of the hottest marketing numbers straight away and started editing the clarification copy.

Just at this moment, the mobile phone in Jocelyn's hand vibrated, interrupting the silence in the room.

Jocelyn slowly opened her eyes and the series of numbers that met her eyes were from Bella, which she recognised.

She frowned coldly and pressed answer.

"Congratulations, Jocelyn, you're cuckolded again." On the other side of the phone, Bella was leaning against the bed with an arrogant look on her face, holding her phone with a smile that she couldn't hide at the corners of her mouth.

Jocelyn only found it harsh and although she was not face to face with Bella, Jocelyn could clearly outline in her mind what Bella looked like at that moment.

Jocelyn frowned coldly, not bothering to pay any attention to her, and was ready to hang up the phone at once.

said again, "Jocelyn, do you think you are destined to be cuckolded? First you were cuckolded by my brother, and then you were cuckolded by your own husband. That's right, such a good-looking man must have a lot of women around him, how could he only like Bella finished and started laughing again, happy at a while, Bella forced herself to curb her laughter and pressed down her heart's joy, "Forgive me, I'm really happy, that's why I can't help but laugh out care to talk to Bella so she just pressed the hang up mood was extraordinarily bad because of the this time, Allen's Jocelyn instantly pressed answer. divorce him immediately, there is only a difference between cheating zero times and a hundred times. "The more heat this thing gets, the worse she'll be mocked later on after Bella unravels her lies .....", Gloria added.

Jocelyn's clarification text, written very simply, had only a few sentences, "My husband did not cheat, we have good relationship. That is his sister."

The clarification from her side immediately drew countless comments from netizens, many of whom condemned the journalist who broke the story haphazardly as well as the marketing numbers.

Soon after, Ryan retweeted her clarifying tweet.

He just retweeted it, without saying a word.

But even so, it still brought a great deal of heat to the matter.

His fans, who have left comments below, have commented.

"Ahhhhhhh, it seems that Ryan has a really good relationship with Jocelyn, he actually retweeted this tweet of hers! I'm jealous of Jocelyn."

"I am Jealous of Jocelyn, she not only has a handsome friend, but also a handsome husband."

Seeing the comments from his fans, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth couldn't help but lift slightly, and those bad feelings were swept away with it.

Quitting Weibo, she quickly sent a tweet to Ryan, "Thank you for helping to retweet."

"No need." Ryan replied almost in seconds.

And then, the chat ended, she quit WeChat and looked at Paige next to her, "Paige, check out who was the first one to break it out."

Her husband is not a celebrity and it is unlikely that so many paparazzi or journalists will be following him.

She suspects that it may have happened because someone was planning something behind the scenes.

The aim was to, well, blow her away.

Combined with that phone call from Bella just now, she had reason to suspect Bella.

"According to sources close to the situation, the girl who is dating Noah, named Camille, is not brother and sister, although she has the same surname as Noah."

"The girl is the only daughter of the family and is currently studying abroad. My guess is that the reason Jocelyn said she was Noah's sister was just to save her reputation."

A large paragraph of text crashed directly into the two's eyes.

Below the text, there is information about the Division's favoured children.

Jocelyn's eyebrows gradually deepened, and her gaze was unhurriedly placed on the man's face.

She didn't believe a word of what the news said.

All this in turn made her even more convinced that someone was really behind it.

"Someone said that she wasn't your real sister." Jocelyn said.

The man looked calmly into her face, "Do you believe that?"

Jocelyn shook her head, "I don't believe it, you have no reason to lie to me."

The corner of his mouth, curved in a plausible way, "Someone should have checked her out."

"You don't need to explain, I understand it all, your profession is rather special, there must be many enemies. In order to protect your sister, you must help her get a fake identity." Jocelyn said.

Those who are in underworld must be protecting their families.

He gave her a deep look and raised his hand to rub her hair lightly.

Immediately she felt a strong current run through her head and her whole body seemed to be hot.

Her heart seems to be about to stop beating.

Noticing the subtle change in her expression, the smile on his lips deepened, "Don't worry, I'll take care of everything."

Chapter 238 This Mummy

The door opened without waiting for Jocelyn to say anything.

Wrapped up like a mummy, Bella, sitting in a wheelchair, was wheeled in by a bodyguard.

The moment she saw Jocelyn, Bella's face was immediately tinged with a touch of extreme smugness.

Jocelyn was quite surprised by Bella's arrival.

She was beaten up like that and still managed to hang on to this place.

At the sight of her face, Jocelyn's mood plummeted to the bottom.

Her face, along with Paige's, went cold in unison.

"Bella, what are you doing here?" Jocelyn asked coldly.

Bella snorted coldly as the bodyguard pushed her to stand in front of Jocelyn, "What else can I do? Of course I'm here to see you."

"Just now when I went for a checkup, I just heard a couple of nurses say that you came to the hospital, tsk tsk, how come you have an abdominal infection? Is it because you know that your husband is keeping a mistress outside, so ..... hahahahahaha, you're pissed off, right?" Bella said while laughing, looking more and more arrogant.

Jocelyn frowned slightly, "If that would make you happy, then feel free."

"Now you're all over Weibo, everyone's saying you're pathetic, and honestly I feel the same way. You are pretty and rich, what is the use? You're still cuckolded by men."

"You know what? Now all those ladies of our class are talking about you too, you've become a laughing stock in their eyes." Bella continued, with a cold intent under her eyes and on her brow.

The words that Bella blurted out were all within Jocelyn's expectations and did not make much of a ripple in her heart.

Just looking at this face, Jocelyn felt diabolically uncomfortable.

Camille's movements were fluid and the whole process took just two short seconds.

Jocelyn and Paige were both impressive at the same time.

Bella, in the wheelchair, was so frightened that she could hardly breathe, her heart panicked to the extreme.

Camille is very calm, squeezing a bunch of flowers in her arms, walking up to Bella, "Oh ..... you like hitting people a lot, don't you? Good, today I will let you have a good taste of being beaten by others."

With those words, Noah lifted the bouquet in her hand and kept swinging it towards Bella's body.

Her attack irritated directly under the gauze, those wounds that had just healed.

The pain was unbearable.

Bella immediately began to wail, trying to struggle, but she had no strength at all, and every time she moved, her body began to tear with pain.

Neither of Jocelyn and Paige expected that Noah would do such a thing.

Surprised, the appreciation for Camille began to deepen again in their hearts.

None of them stopped it, they just silently ate and watched the drama from the sidelines.

The bodyguard wanted to stop it, but he was too weak to do so. The pain in that area of his body was so bad that he could only kneel on the ground and watch Bella being bullied.

Camille's movements continued as the flowers on the bouquet, which were beginning to fall apart, mixed with a variety of petals that flew wildly with her movements.

A faint fragrance sprinkled throughout the ward.

"Ah ..... help ..... help ....." Bella started frantically begging for help before looking at the ground bodyguard cursing, "You piece of shit! Ahhhhh ..... help ....."

Chapter 240 The Fight

On the other hand, Bella, who had just had her wounds treated, was lying on her bed and instantly exploded with anger when she saw that double photo of Camille and Jocelyn on Weibo.

She was convinced that it was definitely not that simple, and even more convinced that it was all a deliberate illusion created by Jocelyn to save her reputation.

As for that Camille, she must have taken money from Jocelyn, she concluded that this must be the case.

So, she immediately called the hacker, "Immediately screenshot the information of Camille from the household registration system and release it in its original form!"

There was a quick yes.

About half an hour later, Bella, as expected, saw a screenshot of the complete version of the household registration information system on Camille, posted by a marketing number.

She clicked on the comments section with anticipation, thinking to herself that it would dawn on the netizens now.

Some, however, did not go as planned.

"I believe the hell out of you, you lousy marketing number, it's bad."

"Come on, rumour mongering to fix Jocelyn, go to hell."

"Has Jocelyn offended a psychopath? Non-stop with fake pictures to start rumor."

Instead of believing it, everyone helped Jocelyn scold her, which was something Bella had not expected at all.

Those harsh words almost drove her mad!

"Ah!!!!" Bella yelled in displeasure before viciously dropping her phone to the side.

Now that public opinion is clearly already biased towards Jocelyn's side, no matter what she does, people won't believe her.

She was really getting angry, why didn't anyone want to believe the truth when she broke the story?

She knew that no matter what she did next, public opinion would no longer believe her.

that everyone must have been preconceived that there was really nothing wrong
