Chapter 261 Got Enchanted

Noah held her hand all the way up the stairs.

Walking to the door of the master bedroom, Jocelyn was the first to pause and gently let go of him, blushing, "I I'll go to bed first."

As soon as the words left her mouth, she was pressed against the wall by the door, his thin calloused fingers gently cupping her chin as he whispered in her ear, "Won't we sleep together? Honey."

The warmth of the air flowing over her earlobe and the strong sensation of tingling made her heart beat faster.

His eyes seemed like an iron, bringing up gusts of rolling heat wherever they went.

The next second, her face flushed to the base of her neck.

"I I'm tired."

Not daring to touch his eyes, she slid her body slightly downwards, escaping from his pressed position and going straight into the room, locking the door behind her.

Noah propped himself up against the wall with one hand and looked at the door panel, his mouth curving in a curve.

He then strolled back to his room.

After unlocking the door behind her, Jocelyn leaned back against the panel, panting, her heart beating so fast it seemed to be breaking free from her chest.

It was a long time before she stepped into the bathroom and took a brief shower before lying down on the bed.

The original sleepiness was swept away and she didn't know how long it took before she drifted off to sleep.

This sleep took her straight to 5pm.

She stretched gently before sitting up.

Her waist-length hair falls naturally, as soft as a cloud, with a slight sense of disarray, giving her a bit more of a lazy beauty.

After washing up, she went downstairs.

He wasn't downstairs, so she figured he wasn't up, so she sauntered into the kitchen and prepared the meal.

There are few ingredients left in the fridge, just tomatoes, potatoes and beef.

She cooked the rice first.

And then made a borscht, and steak and potatoes.

After setting out all the dishes, she went upstairs, intending to call Noah up for dinner.

"What do you think would be a better gift for Mr. Mason no, to Mum, when we go back today? Do you know what she wants?" Jocelyn asked.

"I know." He responded faintly.

Immediately, Jocelyn's heart fluttered, "What?"

"She wants a grandson, the one you give birth to." He said, with a hint of ambiguity under his eyes.

As soon as she heard that, Jocelyn's heart immediately tightened again.

"What are you talking about?" She gave him a direct blank stare and lowered her head while eating her rice, "I'm ignoring you."

"Shy?" He asked.

"Who's shy?"

"Why are you blushing if you're not shy?"

"I'm blushing because I'm hot, can't I?" Jocelyn added.

"OK, whatever you say."

He was unconsciously chuckling lightly.

She didn't look up at him and didn't say anything else, just ate her food in silence.

Occasionally she could feel it the look in his eyes.

At every moment like this, her heart unconsciously tightened.

This man, with just one look, could make her heart flood with emotions.

"You'll see when you get there." He responded lightly and continued to hold her hand.
At the moment, endless satisfaction grows and blossoms in her heart.
All that is less than what he is doing right now, holding her hand and clasping his fingers with her.
He drove all the way to a deserted estate in the suburbs with her in tow.
This estate, surrounded by a large peach blossom forest, has no house within a dozen miles.
A gust of wind rustled the pink petals, as if a pink snow had fallen.
Every whiff of air inhaled into the nostrils is sweet smelling.
The manor house is typical of the old European style and looks like the residence of an ancient nobleman, lit up inside and out, like the dreamy palace of a fairy tale.
This one place, which she knew, was the famous Peach Blossom Manor in Flento City, named for the peach blossoms that surround it.
Legend has it that the estate was built at great expense by a mysterious tycoon, but no one knows who that tycoon really was.
If people wanted to see the manor, they could only look at it from afar, but could not approach it, for the estate is heavily guarded, inside and out.
In addition to this there is the main reason for the peach blossom forest that surrounds the outside of the estate, which the average person cannot get out of once inside.

It is the highest end forest maze ever created by a maze expert.

"Is this yours?" Jocelyn asked.

She was not surprised by this fact either.

With the status of the Mason family, what is such an estate worth?

"Yeah." He drove all the way into the estate.

The door is automatic.

The car locks automatically once it is driven in.

The estate's courtyard is huge and large, probably thousands of square metres.

The area is filled with peach blossoms, and as far as the eye can see, it looks like a paradise.

The beauty of the fallen flowers is as if it were not on earth.

He didn't drive far before he stopped the car, and then picked up his phone and dialed Tom's number, "Tom, start it."

Jocelyn's face brushed up to the base of her neck.

Once again, her heartbeat couldn't help but pick up speed.

And she could feel, at that moment, his heart beating faster too.

"I love you too." He said.

Would you say the firework in front of you is beautiful? It is beautiful.

But in her heart, it was not as beautiful as the millionth part of his words.

What is the happiest thing in this world? It's when the person you love happens to love you too.

"Exactly, I can't say from when I fell in love with you. At first I just had a crush on you, but then slowly it dawned on me that I was in love."

"I seem to be enchanted by you, what should I do?" He said with deep affection and tenderness under his eyes, a far cry from his usual self.

Jocelyn's heart moved .

Soon, she couldn't help but burst into tears, "Really?"

"Yeah."

"Did it happen suddenly?" She was so excited and incoherent that for a moment, she didn't know what to continue to say.

She had been in love before, but she had never experienced the tension she felt now.

At this moment, she felt as if she were a young girl in first love.

"Fool." He gently cupped her chin, his thumb rubbing delicately against it, moving gently as if he were petting an incredibly expensive Persian cat.

The fireworks continued outside, a brilliant fire that kept jumping in the eyes of the two people.

The moment their eyes met, they could not help but move closer to each other.

The next second, he took the initiative and lifted her onto his lap, cupped her face and kissed her.

The moment the four lips pressed together, all hell broke loose.

In the heat of the moment, he stood up with her in his arms, and then quickly entered the lift.

In the lift, the tangle continued.

The two made their way from the lift to a room downstairs.

"What a dim-witted ruler." Tom couldn't help but spit out.

Upstairs in the room, Noah dropped his mobile phone and everything was left behind.

"You're the one who provoked me, you can't blame me!" After saying that, Noah directly tore off her pajamas that couldn't even cover her body, enjoying the sexy beauty that he had held back for a long time and didn't do anything about.

Jocelyn couldn't even utter a word this time, her mouth was gagged and she was tossed around by Noah, unable to breathe.

It was late in the evening when Jocelyn woke up again.

The sunset hung over the entire sky.

Waking up, she felt more sore and her bones seemed to be coming apart.

Noah was holding her, the warm tones of the light falling on him, melting all the coldness around him.

She moved slightly, and Noah soon opened his eyes as well.

He immediately took her in his arms and rubbed his chin back and forth on the top of her head, his hands continued to tease Jocelyn's body, "Awake?"

Jocelyn huffed and punched his toned chest, "Because of you, I've delayed a lot of things, you pay for my time."

"How do I pay for it? On the balcony, or on the floor, or on the bed?" He asked as his chin continued to rub against the top of her head.

Jocelyn immediately gave him a blank stare, her heartbeat accelerated again by his molestation.

She once again punched him lightly on the chest with her fist and said in exasperation, "Are you sick, Noah? How many times we had sex from yesterday to today?"

"Call me Hubby."

"No."

"No?" With those words, he rolled over and pinned her down, threatening Jocelyn.

Jocelyn begged, "Hubby."

He then rolled onto his back and naturally caressed her face, "That's more like it."

"Are you hungry?" Noah asked.

Jocelyn nodded.

[Is it really good to set off fireworks like this? I don't know why a bunch of people are flattering here, and isn't it a nuisance at night?]

[You are just jealous, what a nuisance! What's the problem? I'm so impressed with this group of keyboard warriors, go to hell]

[Within half an hour, I want to know who the owner of Peach Blossom Manor is!]

]In ten minutes, I want to know who owns Peach Blossom Manor! And what's the inside of this manor like?]

Internet users are saying all sorts of things, some are jealous, others are in awe.

There are also many people wondering who the owner of Peach Blossom Manor really is.

This whole night-long fireworks show have instantly brought the Peach Blossom Manor into the limelight.

Everyone was wondering who really owned this estate and what it really looked like inside.

Jocelyn looked at it briefly before dropping out of the conversation.

Taking another glance at the hot search list, she found the topic of fireworks rising to the fifth place in the hot search.

Jocelyn did not continue to read it, turned her head to look at Noah who was focused on driving, said, "Last night's incident is on the hot search, the heat climbed very quickly, currently has risen to the fifth place."

Noah took her hand and lowered his head for a kiss, asking with interest, "Oh? What's everyone talking about?"

"Some are boasting, some are jealous, and many are wondering who really owns this estate, and even begging for information about it." Jocelyn said truthfully.

"Oh." There was no trace of a ripple in his brow under his eyes.

"Noah."

"Call me Hubby."

"Hubby."

"Thank you for making my birthday memorable." Jocelyn said.

After searching for her, his eyes quickly locked on her and he headed directly towards her location.
Jocelyn said to the other side of the phone, "Paige, wait"
She then hung up the phone, frowning slightly, and prepared to go straight back to her private room.
As she passed by Joseph, Joseph took her arm.
Even if it was just a touch, she was still repulsed by it.
"What do you want?" Jocelyn asked.

"Jocelyn, let's talk,," Joseph added, "I apologize to you for my previous behavior. I did that because, I thought Steward's and everything that happened to me was all your doing, and I was just impulsive."

"In fact, you have also let me be punished, you can forgive me now, right?" Joseph added, "I've hurt you, and you've hurt me, let's put the past behind us, okay?"

"I know that it was you to arrange those women for me, but I don't want to take it up with you because I'm back to normal and I think I deserved it." Joseph had a sincere face.

Hearing this, Jocelyn was startled, but forced herself to maintain her composure, "What do you mean?"

"You don't have to pretend to be confused, do you, Jocelyn? Before, Noah arranged someone to get me into a hotel and arranged so many ugly women to screw me. I know there must be your idea." Joseph added.

Jocelyn was even more shocked.

No wonder Joseph suddenly had psychological problems earlier and developed a fear of women.

So it was because of this?

She didn't expect that Noah had actually helped her teach Joseph a lesson behind her back silently.

"Jocelyn, let's forget all about the past and let's start over, okay? In fact, the reason I accompanied Gloria here today is all because of you." Joseph's eyes were filled with eagerness.

Looking at this face and listening to him say these words, Jocelyn had no half-hearted emotions other than disgust.

No wonder he was here, it was because he wanted to approach her.

and shook off Joseph's hand without hesitation, "Now I am so happy with my husband, why should I start over with you? My husband is so many times better than you,

Chapter 268 Have a Problem

A headline popped up on her phone, about fireworks at Peach Blossom Manor going off all night long.

What is clear is that the Peach Blossom Manor is now the biggest hot news story, with a national sensation.

Inside the news, apart from describing the fireworks extravaganza, there was a wave of speculation about the identity of the owner of Peach Blossom Manor and the other party's reasons for keeping the fireworks at Peach Blossom Manor going all night long.

Regarding the identity of the owner, the editor has listed almost all the rich and powerful people in the high society of Flento City, including the heir of the Griffin Group.

And the reason for the other side to keep the fireworks at Peach Blossom Manor going all night, is to woo the beauty for a smile.

Those in the comments section at the bottom, too, have expressed their views -

[If it's really for a woman, then I can only say I envy that woman.]

[Is this the romantic love of a rich man? But isn't this against the rules? It's illegal, right? Aren't fireworks not allowed?]

[The area where Peach Blossom Manor is located has no ban on fireworks, okay? I'm speechless.]

[Not so for me. You are all curious about the identity of the owner of Peach Blossom Manor, while I am curious about who that beauty is and want so badly to take her.]

[If this is really just for a woman, then this person is stupid, right? It smells like an ancient faint-hearted ruler].

[You are just jealous.]

Looking at the comments, the corners of Jocelyn's lips unconsciously curled up.

Noticing her expression, Noah then glanced at her phone screen.

Seeing the comments, the corners of his lips curved in the same way, taking her hand and sitting on the sofa, before placing her on his lap and resting his chin against her shoulder while watching the comments.

After browsing around, Jocelyn gently leaned her head back and looked at his perfect jawline, gently stroking his hair, "Peach Blossom Manor is popular by that fireworks feast."

"Hmm." He took her phone and placed it next to him, he involuntarily kissed her on the lips.

But Jocelyn's heart beat as fast as if it was about to break free from her chest.

"Do you like that manor?" He asked.

"Yeah, it's beautiful." Jocelyn responded truthfully.

Chapter 269 The Real Noah Is Ugly

At that, Gloria's heart instantly fluttered, "You mean that the Noah you found out about, and the Noah we saw, had a different face?"

"Yes, before I checked the world's census database, but I couldn't find the name Noah Mason, but yesterday, after the Z Country census database was updated, I found a new one named Noah Mason, and his age is the same as that of Jocelyn's husband.

He is particularly ugly and the man is married but his wife's profile database doesn't show up and the they married in Y Country."

He added, "And the most important point is that I have been following your request before, asking my friend in Y Country to help me investigate the grandson of Dr. Mason, and that friend of mine just happened to know a friend of Dr. Mason recently, and that person told my friend that Dr. Mason's grandson is ugly. My friend showed him the picture of Jocelyn's husband, and he said that the grandson of Dr. Mason did not look like that, and my friend showed him the ugly Noah, and he said that was the real grandson of Dr. Mason.

That person also told my friend that the grandson of the real Dr. Mason registered his marriage to a woman about two years ago or so, but because of the frequent domestic violence against the woman, it caused the woman to be unable to stand it anymore and the two are now in a state of cold war."

At these words, the joy in Gloria's heart deepened several more times.

It seemed that her previous guesses were not at all wrong.

The reason Jocelyn got married in the first place and didn't tell her family about it until she exposed it was because her husband was of a lowly status.

All those explanations she gave to her father later on were fabricated.

She just thought that what she said could not be easily traced by others and that's why she made up lies like that.

And later, she went to find a decent looking man who knew a bit of medical healing to act as her husband in order to continue to cover the lies.

Did Jocelyn actually get domestic violence a lot before? It's really tragic to be married to an ugly and even have to be beaten every day.

Why did she was so happy hearing that?

That ugly was right up her alley.

"You've done a great job this time, I'll transfer half a million to you right away." Gloria grunted coldly.

"Thank you, thank you, Dr. Mason is not really accessible to the general public right now, if it were not for my friend who happens to have recently met a friend of Dr. Mason, it would not really be possible for all this to come to light so soon." The tone of the person over there was full of joy.

"It just means that that little bitch Jocelyn's luck has come to an end." Gloria's eyes grew more and more morose underneath, and the hand on her thigh, naturally, clenched into a fist.

The phone call was from Noah.

"You have got up?" There was tenderness and doting in Noah's tone over there.

On the other side of the phone, Noah was talking to her on his mobile phone while walking towards the lift, his eyes were fill with tender.

The snow-white shirt, paired with black trousers, is a perfect ratio figure that is outlined to perfection, and his long legs are eye-catching.

The first three buttons of his shirt are naturally open and the red mark on his neck is clearly visible.

The two young girls at the reception desk and the workers who passed by him all looked as if they had seen a ghost when they saw him in such a state.

Noah was on the side of no man's land, waiting for Jocelyn over there to speak.

"Yes, I'm up." Jocelyn said.

"I've just arrived at the office, so I won't be going back during the day, but I'll be back for dinner with you in the evening." His tone was still gentle.

"Okay."

"What do you want to eat tonight? I'll make it for you."

"Want to eat hot pot."

"Okay, I'd also like some fried chicken."

Noah spoke to her as he entered the lift.
