Chapter 301 Performing Suicide

And then she sent photos to Phoebe.

It was accompanied by a quote they had discussed in advance, "I am desperate, please tell Joseph, I'll go first."

She then closed her eyes.

On the other hand, in the living room of the Stewart family, Phoebe received the photo and quickly called the hospital.

And then she called Allen, "Gloria killed herself, just now we came out of your house, she said she wanted to go around the mall alone, so I let her go, but she just sent me a message with a picture of her slitting her wrists, with a message, saying she was desperate and had to go first, and asked me to tell Joseph for her."

As soon as Allen heard this, he jerked up from the sofa, his face instantly gloomy to the extreme, "Where is it?"

"Based on the background, it's Everland Hotel, her picture shows the pillow with the words Everland Hotel on it, I've called the hospital and explained the situation."

Without another word, Allen simply slipped his phone into his pocket and quickly rushed out.

Seeing this, Sara immediately put on her shoes and ran out with them, asking, "What's wrong?"

"Gloria committed suicide," Allen said, and rushed up to the black Audi at the door.

Sara, with a horrified look on her face, followed straight after.

Intuition told Sara that it was definitely Phoebe who had instructed Gloria to do this, in order to give Gloria the capital to force Allen to convince Jocelyn.

When she thought of this, Sara's heart immediately went cold.

The Stewart family, who will do anything to get what they want, have made Gloria go to desperate lengths!

And her daughter was stupid enough to take the initiative without consulting her!

Thinking of this, Sara immediately cried and looked at Allen next to her, "Look, it's all because of you. If you hadn't stimulated Gloria like that, Gloria would definitely not have done this. Gosh, my heart hurts."

After saying that, Sara then covered the part of her body that she had originally injured blocking the knife for Allen, deliberately attracting Allen's heartache.

After a long kiss, Noah cupped her face with both hands and rubbed his two thumbs back and forth on her face repeatedly, "Go and play the game."

Jocelyn blushed and pushed him away, jumping off the desk, then just as her feet hit the ground, she leaned straight forward because she wasn't standing still.

She subconsciously hugged him and was able to get to safety.

The man gently cupped her chin with one hand, a touch of playfulness in his eyes, "Do do you want to continue with me?"

Jocelyn's face immediately flushed to her neck again and her heart began to beat more and more chaotically, "Nasty, I obviously didn't stand still."

The curve of his lips deepened and he gave her a kiss towards her jelly-like lips and said, "Go back and continue this evening, I have a lot to do next."

"Who's going to continue with you?" Jocelyn pushed him away gently with both hands before returning to the sofa with an embarrassed look on her face and quick steps.

Watching Jocelyn's back, Noah couldn't help but laugh lightly before sitting down in his seat.

His heart was titillated by Jocelyn.

Jocelyn sat her legs up and picked up her laptop again, her heart still beating hard.

To get her heart rate to calm down quickly, she then started the game, intending to divert her attention.

A golden sunset enveloped the city in the evening as the lights came on.

The large office was tinted with a warm orange hue.

At this point, Jocelyn was tired of playing the game, and after around, she turned her laptop off and stretched out naturally.

And then she turned her head to look at the man behind the desk behind her.

At some point, a pair of gold-rimmed glasses were added to the bridge of the man's nose, with thin gold chains dangling from the temples.

With his suit and shirt and tie, as well as his exquisite and stunning features, and his serious working demeanour, it gave him more than a little bit of a svelte look.

This was the first time she had seen Noah wearing glasses, which was enough to tantalise any woman's heart.

Starting the car, he drove her all the way to the castle-like villa.

At home, Allie, Scott and Camille are all present.

At the moment they are sitting on the sofa watching TV.

When they saw them return, smiles were on the corners of several people's mouths.

Camille took the lead and stood up, trotting all the way to meet Jocelyn and Noah, enthusiastically holding Jocelyn's arm and saying, "Jocelyn, you're here."

"Yeah." Jocelyn said.

"Jocelyn, Noah, hurry up and wash your hands, I've already made dinner, now I'll go and heat it up, we'll eat right away." Allie also stood up and said enthusiastically.

With that, she quickly went into the kitchen.

"Mum, I'll help you." Camille let go of Jocelyn and followed her directly into the kitchen.

"I'll go and help too, you two hurry up and wash your hands." Scott said.

Scott then followed suit.

Looking at their hurried backs, Jocelyn felt her heart melting. The Mason family was a warm family.

After the family ate their dinner happily, Jocelyn put down her chopsticks and looked at Scott and said, "Dad, can I talk to you alone?"

Scott nodded readily.

Allie looked curious, "What is it? It's mysterious."

Jocelyn smiled, "I'll talk to you later."

She had really fought hard to keep this current position.

Allen, Phoebe and Sara, who were sitting by the bed, saw her wake up and immediately stood up at the same time.

Phoebe deliberately put on a look of immense sadness and held Gloria's hand, "Silly girl, why did you slit your wrists? Can't you just say it?"

Allen had a gloomy face and frowned, "Are you trying to scare me and your mother to death?"

Sara cried out, "Silly girl, don't do that again. I'm having a heart attack."

Compared to Phoebe's pretentiousness, she really felt for Gloria.

Looking at her daughter like that, she felt her heart scratching.

Gloria tried to keep her mood somber, "It just feels desperate. What will I do if the Stewart family is finished? I don't want my family to be like that, I don't want to see my husband suffering day and night because of all this."

"I married the Stewart family, if the Stewart family is good, my mood will be good, if the Stewart family is bad, I will not be good." After saying that, Gloria then tried to squeeze out a tear.

"You don't have to kill yourself over this. Don't you have a way out?" Allen was straightforward, "You're really planning to piss me off, aren't you?"

Sara immediately took Allen's hand, "Honey, if she has a way out, why would she kill herself? It is because she loves Joseph. Isn't that what loving someone is all about? When he is hard, she will also be hard along with him."

"I think if Joseph is not emotionally stable, our Gloria's emotions won't be stable either, and the only way to make Joseph's emotions stable is for the Stewart's to get through the crisis." Sara continued.

Allen let out a long, helpless sigh.

It was particularly painful for him to watch his second daughter suffer.

Jocelyn and Noah both accompanied Allie and the others for a while before walking out of the house together, hand in hand.

Outside, the moon is clear and the stars are sparse.

The fragrance of the flowers is a delight to the nose with the breeze.

Her feet were uncomfortable so she didn't change her shoes, her feet still wearing the same pink slippers she wore at home.

"Come on, go home" Noah took her hand and got into the car with her.

Jocelyn fastened her seatbelt and looked at him, "Didn't you want to hang out with Robert and the others?"

"Your foot won't work, some other time." He said.

"No, I can walk perfectly fine, what's about the pretense?" Jocelyn added, "It's normal for women to be like that."

"Really no problem?" Noah's eyes were full of concern.

Jocelyn nodded.

Just at this time, Robert's phone call came in.

Noah put on his headset and answered the call, before starting the car and turning around sharply.

"Lost Bar, Sky Garden, hurry up and get over here, we're all here." The sound of a noisy DJ dance music was interspersed on Robert's side.

"Got it." Noah hung up the phone.

Jocelyn fished her mobile phone from her bag, ready to call Ryan to report the good news.

That was when she realised that she had forgotten to charge her phone and now it wouldn't turn on at all.

"Give me your phone." Jocelyn said.

After about five minutes, Robert stepped out of the lift.
Seeing Robert, the Netflix face immediately ran to him, holding his arm and wailing, "Honey, those two women hit me."
"How dare you touch my woman?" Robert had a displeased look on his face.
The Netflix face immediately pointed to the position of Jocelyn and Paige.
Robert followed the position of her finger and looked over, when Jocelyn and Paige happened to be looking at him as well.
The two of them never imagined that the person behind this Netflix face would be Robert.
Immediately, Jocelyn shrugged helplessly towards Robert.
Robert froze and pointed at Jocelyn and Paige, looking at the Netflix face and asking, "You're fucking talking about them?"
The Netflix face nodded and pulled Robert all the way to Jocelyn and Paige's location, saying as she walked, "Of course, honey, you must help me teach them a lesson, what makes them so excessive?"
At this moment, her heart snickered with joy.
She knew that they were both going to be finished soon.
Robert followed the Netflix face all the way to Jocelyn and Paige, and without saying a word, he directly withdrew his hand and looked at Jocelyn and asked, "Jocelyn, what's going on here?"
Netflix face froze, looking at Robert and then at Jocelyn, "What do you mean?"
"She hit Jocelyn all over with the wine and then caused troubles here." Paige was straightforward.

Netflix face shuddered in fear.

Robert gave a truthful account, with an apprehensive look on his face.

Abel did not say anything, pulled Paige to the front of the sofa, forcibly dragged her to sit down.

He then skilfully took a few ice cubes from the bucket of ice on the table, picked up another wet towel on the table and wrapped it around the ice cubes, and gently pressed it onto Paige's face.

The slightest hint of coolness spread, diminishing the burning sensation on her face.

"Thanks." Paige said, but her attitude remained bland.

"You are welcome." Abel crossed his legs.

Without another word, Paige took the ice towel and continued to apply ice.

Noah looked at Robert and his face suddenly turned cold, "In the future, don't bring in just anyone to play with."

Robert nodded repeatedly and stepped forward to make amends, "Yes, yes, I know, I was wrong, I was wrong."

"Did that woman beat you?" Noah asked, looking at Jocelyn.

Jocelyn shook her head.

Only then did Noah say nothing more, pulling Jocelyn back to Harry and sitting down beside him.

Harry nodded politely towards Jocelyn, "Hello, Jocelyn."

Jocelyn smiled, "Hello."

Harry nodded towards Paige.

Paige also nodded towards him as a greeting.

Robert awkwardly touched the back of his head and sat down next to Abel and Paige, "No one of the women I played with is not gentle enough as Zoe."

Abel, "Then from now on, we'll just take Zoe out."

Robert, "How is that possible?"

Their conversation, though uncomfortable for Jocelyn to hear, did not come as much of a surprise.

Chapter 308 Haemorrhage

Seeing this scene, Robert's heart immediately throbbed hard, and even his scalp began to tingle.
The blood flowed more and more, soon staining half the bed.
It wasn't that he hadn't seen women having their period before, but not at all with blood flowing like this, and he knew Zoe was lying!
Robert instantly and quickly picked her up across the room and rushed out the door.
After placing her in the back seat of the car, he stepped on the accelerator and quickly sprinted off.
On the way, he drove the car like a rocket.
Zoe was still bleeding profusely, and her face was growing paler and paler.
The smell of blood in the enclosed compartment, which grew stronger, filled the tip of his nose and aggravated Robert's panic.
What the hell was wrong with her!

Since he was a child, he had experienced many things and had had many women, but he had never felt anything like this.

He had never been so flustered over anyone.

Soon, they arrived at the First People's Hospital.

By this time Zoe was almost covered in blood.

Robert rushed straight into the outpatient building with her in his arms, shouting, "Someone help."

Seeing this, a nurse immediately went to call the doctor and together they all pushed the stretcher cart and flew to Robert's side.

People were coming and going in the hall, and everyone was looking at Robert.

At this moment, Robert was in a mess, his face and body were covered in blood, and the person in his arms was even more so.

He panted as he placed Zoe on the stretcher cart and clutched the collar of a doctor next to him, "Save her or I'll simply tear this hospital of yours apart."

The doctor was nodding in shock.

The next moment, they joined forces and pushed Zoe into the VIP emergency room.

Chapter 309 Ryan's Concert

She began to remind herself constantly in her mind that she should expect anything.

A few days later, it was the day of Ryan's concert.

Early in the morning, Jocelyn opened her eyes and saw that the topic about his concert was on the hot search.

And in total, it took up two positions on the hot seat.

Hot search first#Ryan rehearsal photos#

Hot search second #Ryan concert ticket at 500,000#

Jocelyn clicked into the second one first to have a look.

The first thing that caught her eye was the news posted by a vlogger. "It is reported that when Ryan's concert tickets went on sale a month ago, they were sold out in a second.

Many fans who didn't get tickets are so upset that they are scrambling to buy tickets from scalpers, and the front row seats in the hands of scalpers have now been speculated at 500,000 for one, and even so demand still exceeds supply."

Such a figure was something that Jocelyn had not expected at all. The most expensive concert ticket in the entertainment industry was Ryan's concert ticket last year, which topped out at 300,000 at that time.

Little did she know that it was now being speculated at half a million for one ticket.

Jocelyn marvelled at the popularity of Ryan, but was also happy.

Below this, the comments section had been uproar.

[I wanted to buy tickets too, but I couldn't. I really like Ryan, when on earth can I see his concert?]

[I am really jealous of those who can have a ticket, I want to see Ryan too.]

[Ryan is really a real top stream in the entertainment circle.]

[If this guy keeps on being popular, then it will be really hard for others in the entertainment industry to be popular.]

[I'm stunned, but if I could see Ryan in person for half a million, then I'd be willing to.]

The comments in the comment section made Jocelyn's lips unconsciously curl slightly.

Chapter 310 Being treated like a stalking fan

It was a meaningful concert with my father, and with Jocelyn.

"Well, behave yourself." Paige patted her shoulder lightly, "Go for it."

Ryan nodded.

The concert started at eight o'clock.

All the lights in the room suddenly went out and only the lights above the stage shone brightly.

Amidst a thousand cries, the music started.

Ryan sang his newly released song from last year, "No Regrets", which rose little by little from the bottom of the stage to the top.

At this moment, a thousand rays of light converge on him alone.

All over the field, he shone the brightest.

The soothing rhythm of the music, with his clean, fresh and penetrating voice and his handsome face, the world was going crazy for him at this moment.

Many teenage girls' hearts were tantalised.

Fans shouted wildly and waved the glow sticks in their hands.

Looking at his son on stage, the corners of Scott's mouth also involuntarily curved up in a seemingly unsettling curve.

Allie and Camille were both completely mad at this moment, clutching each other's hands tightly and staring at Ryan on the stage with a deadly gaze, shouting continuously.

"Camille, I think my son is so handsome. How did I get such a good looking son?"

"Do you have to boast like that? But brother is really handsome tonight."
