Chapter 371 BOSS, Sorry

After the deep kiss, Jocelyn blushed and panted as she looked at him, "Honey, I came here to talk to you about something serious."

"Well, we can talk about it later." said Noah, then he quickly locked the door, while he picked her up and went into the adjacent lounge.

The sex went on for a long, long time before he reluctantly let her go and got up covered in a thin white blanket and leaned back against the bed to smoke.

The scratches on his body were titillating.

Jocelyn braced her sore body and rolled over, looking at Noah's handsome and peerless face, "Noah, you're really annoying."

"That's not what you said just now." A touch of playfulness flashed under his eyes.

Jocelyn's heart instantly tightened again, and her blood seemed to catch fire as it began to boil madly, "You are shameless."

"You have something serious to talk to me? What is it?" Noah slowly exhaled smoke and looked at her face through the lingering smoke.

Jocelyn once again gave him a blank look, propped up her almost scattered body, sat up, while putting on her clothes, said, "Just want to say thank you in person, for your contribution to Ryan."

Her long nails that were just done, tying the buttons was very laborious.

It took a long time for one button to be buttoned.

Seeing that, Noah immediately carried her to his lap, and then put the cigarette in his mouth, and began to tie the buttons to her in earnest.

"You can't even button up." There was a hint of doting in his tone.

Jocelyn, "I am not very handy with my nails."

"Then don't do it." Noah said.

"It doesn't look good if I don't do it." Jocelyn said.

"You look good either way."

"..... Noah."

"Yes?"

"I'm thirsty."

Chapter 372 What Happened to Cillian and his father

At this time of the day, it was just about time to leave work.

The lobby was all full of people.

Everyone's attention fell on the couple.

Everyone had eyes of envy, as well as admiration.

After the two walked out of the hall, the employees of the company discussed.

"Have you heard? That new secretary of our president, Lucia, was directly fired by the president for seducing him."

"Really? Who did you hear that from?"

"A good friend of Lucia in secretary department, she is now talking about it everywhere, do you know what our president said about Lucia?"

"What did he say?"

"At that time, after the president pushed Lucia away, just as Jocelyn entered, the president directly embraced Jocelyn and asked Lucia, do you think that, after keeping the noble rose every day, I would still be interested in the rubbish on the roadside? Hahaha, I'm fucking laughing my ass off. "

"There's nothing wrong with it, the president's wife is noble and beautiful, since he has such a good-looking wife, how could he interested in other women?"

"The president is really a good man, handsome, and dedicated, I am jealous of Jocelyn."

Jocelyn and Noah didn't hear all of everyone's chatter.

The two of them walked out of the company and got into Noah's black Bentley Elegance together.

Noah drove the car himself.

A few bodyguard cars followed behind in a low profile.

Noah held the steering wheel with his left hand, while the other hand was towards Jocelyn.

Jocelyn then tacitly took his hand and interlocked her fingers with his.

"Next, it's time for a life sentence for Cillian's father, right?" Jocelyn asked.

"Yes, the president was furious when he found out about this and said it was a life time sentence and seize all his assets."

"What about Cillian?"

"The same, life sentence."

"Pretty good, the two have done a lot of evil, it is a light sentence." Jocelyn did not feel the slightest bit of sympathy for their downfall.

"Jocelyn is suspected to be having an affair with Tom, the special assistant to the president of the Griffin Group."

When Allie saw this article, she instantly couldn't help but roll her eyes, "Are these people crazy?"

Seeing that Jocelyn and Allie did not follow him, Noah

When he saw the message on the screen, Noah raised his eyebrows slightly, and then directly clicked on the news.

It said that Jocelyn had been frequenting Griffin Group recently.

Every time she came out with Tom, the special assistant to the president of Griffin Group, and they would talk intimately.

There was also a picture posted on it.

It was a picture of Tom hugging Jocelyn.

It happened this afternoon, when she was at the headquarters of the Griffin Group.

At that time, she met Tom at the entrance, and she casually asked Tom if Noah was there, and after that the two of them chatted for a while.

After that, she was about to enter the company, but when she was walking forward, her heel was too high and she broke her foot slightly and almost fell down.

It was Tom who helped her in time.

The scene in the photo was then revealed.

She didn't expect that it would be captured and even be used as a rumour.

The Gill family had an accident, and the next, she was being smeared.

This was too much of a coincidence.

"I can explain, I ..." Jocelyn immediately turned to look at Noah, ready to explain.

After all, this photo was indeed looking quite intimate.

"You don't need to explain, I believe you." Noah, however, extended his long arms and naturally wrapped her in his arms.

This phrase made her heart unspeakably warm.

After saying that, she then turned the music back on, threw the microphone to the tuner, and walked up to Jocelyn with a spirited look on her face.

Because of the yellow-haired girl's declaration just now, everyone's attention was fixed on her and Jocelyn's position.

"Miss, don't regret." The yellow-haired girl was full of confidence.

Jocelyn's eyebrows were slightly raised, "Okay."

She did not expect that this girl would be so high-profile, but, she was not afraid.

All the people cheered up for the yellow-haired girl.

In full view of the crowd, the girl walked straight to the high stage and waved her hand provocatively towards Jocelyn, asking her to come on stage.

Allie pulled Jocelyn's hand, "Jocelyn, go for it."

Jocelyn nodded and walked blandly to the girl's side.

All this was seen by Noah, who was not far away.

Noah's eyes were as calm as a windless lake, holding a light blue cocktail in one hand and tapping the table with the other.

Even if he did not do anything, the noble aura, with that absolutely handsome face, attracted the eyes of countless girls.

The tuner also knew a lot.

He changed to a more dynamic dance song that was more suitable.

The yellow-haired girl was the first to start dancing.

She danced a verse and Jocelyn danced a verse.

The more the two danced, the more difficult it became.

And Jocelyn's dance moves were obviously more charming than the girl's.

Jocelyn's aura was in full swing, changing her usual gentle and soft appearance to that of a hot and beautiful girl.

Her body was as soft as a snake, with a great sense of rhythm, and she was able to perform all sorts of difficult dance moves, tantalising the men on the scene.

Under the lights, she was like a sparkling diamond, with a gorgeous light emanating from her entire body.

Soon, the hall was back to its original bustle, everyone was frantically drinking and dancing, no one cared about what had just happened.

Allie turned Jocelyn's body around, clasping her hands on Jocelyn's shoulders, still full of adoration.

"Jocelyn, let me take a good look at you, you look so quiet, how come you are so powerful when you dance? Did you learn to dance since you were a child? I never knew you were actually such a good dancer."

Jocelyn shook her head, "No, I only started learning when I was at grandfather's for treatment."

Allie's eyes flashed with a slight surprise, "What? Well, maybe that's genius."

Jocelyn touched her hair in embarrassment, "Mom, you should not praise me."

Allie, "How can I not praise you? Jocelyn, my admiration for you is non-stop."

Noah didn't say anything, he just looked at Jocelyn dotingly.

"Jocelyn, let's go dance, shall we? Can you teach me that top crotch dance just now?" Allie was full of anticipation and energy.

"Okay."

"Be careful, you two." Noah seriously admonished.

"Got it." Allie took Jocelyn's hand and rushed into the sea of people as soon as the words left her mouth.

The bodyguards were there the whole time, escorting them around.

Noah's gaze was fixed on Jocelyn the whole time.

Following her, he crossed the sea of people one at a time.

As a glass of wine was drunk, a heavily made-up woman walked up to Noah.

The woman settled down flirtatiously, propped her chin up with one hand and looked at Noah,
"Handsome, alone ah? Can you buy me a drink?"

Noah, full of all international brands, has an extraordinary temperament.

The watch on his wrist alone is worth tens of millions.

He was the one she wanted to catch tonight.

Chapter 376 Jocelyn is the best

The netizens are constantly condemning Jocelyn.

[No matter what, cheating is not worth forgiving, right?]

[What kind of disgusting plot is this? Jocelyn, aren't you ashamed?]

[I am shocked. She is innocent on the outside, dirty on the inside, puke.]

[The Murphy family is so unlucky to have such a daughter.]

[Her husband was very good to her, didn't he say that he even blossomed all over the city for her? What else does she want?]

These remarks made Jocelyn's head spin as she read them.

She briefly looked at them, and then clicked on the topic of Blossoming City.

At the top, was a post from a netizen who claimed to be a distant relative of Jocelyn's family, some time ago.

He said that Jocelyn was the heroine of Blossoming City and the hero was his husband, saying that he had heard it from Noah at the Murphy family party.

The avatar of the person who broke the story was a picture of himself, and Jocelyn knew him, who was a distant relative of Sara, and this person was at the family party for Murphy's 25th anniversary last time.

The netizens in this topic were even more emotional than the previous one.

[Her husband has done this for her, and she still cheats on him, what a heartless.]

[I thought that the one who could make Flento City bloom with red roses overnight would be an honorable and peerless man, but I didn't expect that it would be Jocelyn's husband who didn't do much?}]

[The man of the blossoming city is actually him? It's just a man who takes money from women to make a big fortune.]

[The point is, Jocelyn is a slut, Noah has the heart no matter what the money is from.]

[A woman like Jocelyn would have been flogged in ancient times.]

At this time, Noah came out with a half wooden basin of warm water.

The water was filled with rose petals, and the fragrance was overwhelming.

He gently put Jocelyn's feet in the water.

The movements were gentle to the extreme.

Noticing Jocelyn's not-so-good face, he asked, "What's wrong?"

This hot search overpowered Ryan's original hot search.
The number of topics read was up to three billion, and the number of discussions up to 250 million!
The netizens in the topic were excited.
There were even countless people that released some of Noah's previous photos.
Everyone's attention has long since shifted from the matter of Jocelyn's cheating to her husband himself.
Jocelyn turned her head and looked at Noah.
He was still sitting at his office, and there is seriousness in his eyes.
He looked cold and noble when he was concentrating on one thing.
"You're in the hot seat with me." Jocelyn said.

"Yeah." Noah still was calm.

"Now the topic has been discussing hotly." Jocelyn explained truthfully.

"Okay." He responded tersely.

"Everyone is saying that you are handsome."

"Okay."

He was as calm as could be.

"Are you sure Mom and Dad won't say anything if you're this high profile?"

"No."

Jocelyn saw that he had no interest, so she continued to shift her attention back to her phone.

However, in the next second, Noah closed his laptop and casually placed it on the bedside table, before reaching out with his long arm and carrying her up onto his lap.

"What?" Jocelyn asked.

Chapter 378 Finals

It was a message from Noah, "Cheer up for the competition today, I'll be there to see you."
Jocelyn replied with an OK, and then sat down at her desk.

Turning on her computer, she didn't immediately go to work, but clicked on Weibo to check today's hot search.

On the hot search, she, along with Noah, Ryan and Cillian, were all still there.

Apart from them, she also saw a hot search about the #XSIM final# at the tenth position of the hot search.

She clicked on it with great interest.

The first thing that caught her eyes was the news posted by some gaming vloggers about the spring finals between XS and IM at 5pm today.

In the square, fans from the gaming community started to predict the winner of the match.

Most of them were more optimistic about the IM team.

[Although XS is stronger this year because of Jocelyn, I still think more of IM, which is the number one team in the league.]

[Jocelyn is good, but no one really thinks that she and Lian can beat IM's lower lane, right?

[You don't have to boast about it, she's probably only playing two or three heroes, and if she's banned from all of them today, she'll probably be out of luck.]

[I think the final score today will be 3:0.]

[I'm more optimistic about XS, after Jocelyn joined, everything will be different.]

[Are they worthy of being compared to the number one team in league, IM? You've got success and you're all overestimating yourself.]

After reading the posts, she went back to the LOL section to have a look.

In there, most people were still optimistic about IM, saying that today's match would be 3:1 at best and XS could only win a small game.

The fans in the gaming world are always very direct in their words.

Jocelyn had long been used to it.

There was no big ripple in her heart.

For the next match, she personally was quite confident, these days, their team was well bonded, and they had played well in the training matches.

However, whether or not they can win today will depend on the team's coordination and play.

However, with her nimble handling, Jocelyn and her supporter managed to complete a 2V4, killing two of them and getting away.

This time, the whole IM team was in top form.

However, in the end, they were unable to defeat the XS team.

The match ended in the 16th minute.

IM did not win once.

It was the shortest final in the history of the league.

The XS fans in the crowd were excited.

The applause and cheers almost overshadowed all.

Jocelyn and the rest of the XS team couldn't believe how quickly they had beaten the number one team in the league and won the spring championship.

The applause and cheers around them were like a dream.

They stared at the victory on the screen for a long time before reacting and hugging each other in excitement.

The middle and top laners were crying with joy.

Jocelyn also had tears in her eyes.

At this moment, he was sitting in the driver's seat smoking.

Between the smoke and mist, that face became more and more captivating.

Just one glance and she was amazed.

Jocelyn happily held her trophy and looked at him, "Why did you want to go up on stage to give me the award today? When did you decide? Why didn't you tell me?"

The car was filled with the faint smell of tobacco.

Noah put out the cigarette with one hand and threw it into the car next to him in the ashtray, and then held her in his lap, "Well, the official found out I was there, asked me to do it, and I wanted to surprise you, so I agreed."

"You're really getting more high-profile every time." Jocelyn was filled with a sense of happiness.

"Are you happy?"

"Well, it was a surprise." The first time in her life she played professionally, the first time she won a championship, the first time she won an MVP... ..

And this MVP trophy was delivered to her by the person she loved the most.

He stood on that stage, basking in the golden rain with her, feeling the glory with her, and it meant so much.

"The way you play the game is fascinating." He whispered in her ear.

The next second, a sizzling kiss fell.

Jocelyn was forced to cooperate while saying, "You're crazy."

She didn't know how long it took before he let go of her.

Jocelyn blushed and broke away from his embrace, panting as she sat on the passenger seat.

Her heart pounded because of him, seemed like it was going to jump right out of her throat in the next second.

"Noah! In the future, can you not do that outside?" Jocelyn frowned in discontent.

Noah put on a playful smile, "I will."
