Chapter 401 Her Skill Was Revealed (4)

The whole thing was perfectly mirrored on the big screen.

Gloria was instantly quiet.

The scene was once again in an uproar -

"There's actually Lily's signature, so Gloria is the one who plagiarized, huh?"

"She is not copying, she's simply stealing the artwork. She's so shameless, she's even bragging about someone else's unwanted design."

"A thief calling out to catch a thief is really something, she is so bad herself, but still has the nerve to pretend to be vigorous and accuse others of plagiarism."

"Taking a picture that Lily didn't want, coming out and competing with Lily herself and then saying that her picture was praised by Lily, she's amazing."

The employees turned the tables on Gloria.

Allen's face, once again, darkened.

He thought that Gloria had grown up these days, but to his surprise, she did not change a bit.

The truth was clear at a glance.

Jocelyn did not need to say much, she just calmly walked up to Gloria and seriously instructed, "Gloria, if you want to develop in this area, then work hard, don't always think about speculation. Copying, stealing pictures, are not a long term solution."

"You got, I think, the whole book of designs that I threw away. Where did you get it? I obviously threw them in the trash."

"I was very dissatisfied with those designs. The designs you showed last time were copied from my book of designs, right?"

"Last time you just copied, but I didn't expect that this time you were bringing the original drawings." Jocelyn added.

"Haha, taking Jocelyn's discarded design as a treasure, I am impressed by her."

"The two sisters are not on the same level in terms of character, and talent."

"Yeah, no wonder Jocelyn is the heir apparent while Gloria is nothing."

A new round of mingling began among the employees at the bottom.

People's voices were not loud, but because of the number of people talking, a lot of the words reached Gloria's ears.

Allen felt ashamed for her.

He said coldly, "Get down. When you go home, explain to me."

Chapter 402 Martian Meteorite Bracelet

The object eventually rested on the toe of Jocelyn's high heels.
Out of curiosity, Jocelyn immediately picked up the box, and then opened it and took a look.
What was reflected in front of her eyes was a string of black bracelets.
The beads of the bracelet appeared to be of stone, dark in colour and polished smooth and round.
When held in the hand, it felt extremely good in the hand.
Jocelyn was filled with curiosity, "What is this?"
"Didn't you say you wanted stars? There are no asteroids to name at the moment, so I took a piece of a Martian meteorite for you and made it a bracelet. You can wear it for fun first, and when an asteroid is discovered later, I'll give you a real star." Noah said, then naturally took the bracelet and put it on Jocelyn's wrist.
A touch of coolness spread out on her wrist.
In an instant, Jocelyn felt that this insignificant bracelet on her wrist seemed to weigh a thousand pounds.
A Martian meteorite, which might not even be bought with money, was worth a fortune.
He had bought it and polished it into a bracelet.
"I was just saying it casually, why are you so serious?" Jocelyn's voice was soft and gentle, and the sweetness in her eyes was almost on the verge of overflowing out.

The man in front of her fulfilled all the fantasies of a perfect prince charming in her mind.

"You said it casually, I can't just listen to it." He said, before wrapping his arm around her shoulders and continuing on.

Allen also began to continue to walk forward, while walking, said, "Jocelyn, Noah is nice to you, you also have to be good to Noah."

The corners of Noah's mouth curved up, "She's pretty good to me."

Some of the people in the hall who hadn't left recorded the whole process of Noah giving Jocelyn a meteorite bracelet with their mobile phones.

Everyone was shocked.

Having actually thought of Lincoln and the others, Jocelyn immediately turned her head, looking for a few of them.

Chapter 403 Giving money to please you

[Gloria actually came out to make a scene again, is she crazy? Taking a design that someone Jocelyn doesn't want, pretending it's original, and coming to compete with Jocelyn, hahaha.]

[Jocelyn actually has such a hidden identity, it's awesome.]

[I don't think anyone will disagree if I say that Jocelyn is much better Gloria, right? Gloria, stay away from our angle.]

[Jocelyn is simply a delusion on earth! She is talented and pretty!]

[Jocelyn, have your debut.]

After looking at the first search for a while, Jocelyn clicked on the second search.

The first thing that caught her eyes was a story posted by a person claiming to be an employee of the Murphy Group.

"I saw Noah give Jocelyn a string of Martian meteorite bracelet, saying that he wanted to give it to Jocelyn to wear for fun.

Do you know what the reason was? Just because Jocelyn casually said that she wanted stars!"

The comments section at the bottom had millions of comments and forwarding.

[What kind of love is this? He spends so much money to please her.]

[I am jealous of their love. Noah is an ideal husband.]

[Give priceless bracelet to his wife, but some people can even afford to buy food. Can he donate money to the poor?]

[Why are you so jealous? Is it possible that Jocelyn and Noah have not done charity?]

[Ahhh! Martian meteorite! It's worth a lot of money! He said it is for fun. Is this a rich person?]

Her eyes shifted back to the hot search list once again.

Chapter 404 Strange Man's Invitation

A man with a Maserati steering wheel avatar, sent an invitation, "Want to get a room together tonight?"

Gloria instantly clicked on the message, and then looked at the man's moments.

In the moments, there was no human face, only some pictures of his locating landscapes around the world he had set foot in.

There were also some pictures of his luxury cars.

It could be seen that it was a very high quality man too.

"Okay." Gloria agreed.

She was in a bad mood and had planned to find someone to date and relax in the evening.

At this moment, the quality man came to her door, how could she refuse?

She replied to him with the word "Okay".

Next he had sent her his location.

The location was the Sylvie Hotel.

"8pm, meet me at the Presidential Suite 8809. I'll be waiting for you." The man added.

"OK," Gloria responded cheerfully, and then sent a message to Phoebe on WeChat, telling Phoebe that she was staying at her mother's house tonight longer, and would be home after 10pm.

There was no reply from Phoebe.

"Why does my right eyelid keep jumping?" Sara rubbed her right eyelid and complained, "Is something bad about to happen?"

Only then did Gloria return her gaze to Sara, "How is that possible? Why are you so superstitious like my father, Mum?"

As the words left her mouth, her right eyelid, too, began to jump.

However, she didn't care, instead, she threw her phone aside and took Sara's hand, "Mom, when dad comes back later, you have to put in a few more good words for me. I'll go first, in case dad comes back and runs into me, it won't be good."

Sara nodded helplessly, "Well, don't worry."

After eating lunch, Allen and Lincoln and their group left first.

Noah, on the other hand, took Jocelyn to get the bill paid, before walked out of the hotel hand in hand.

The sun was shining brightly outside the door.

As far as the eye could see, there were full of red roses, and when a breeze blew, the scent of flowers was all around her nose.

"Do you have any plans for this afternoon?" Jocelyn asked.

Chapter 405 Catching an Adulterer

There was no extra expression on the man's face the entire time.

He stood there for a moment watching, before sitting down in the chair across from the bed and watching her perform.

It wasn't until Gloria had stripped herself completely naked that the man slowly stood up, "Let's go play in the bathroom."

Gloria nodded and jumped right off the bed, pulling the man by the lapels and trying to pull him to the bathroom.

The man was stolid, "You go first, I'll get a condom."

Gloria smiled, then turned around and took the lead and walked into the bathroom.

The man did not follow, but silently picked up all the bags and clothes scattered on the floor and went out the door.

Hearing the sound of the door closing, Gloria thought that maybe the man had gone out to buy condoms, so she didn't care.

She took a shower on her own.

After the shower, she realised that there were no bath towels, and after searching around, not even a bathrobe.

She instantly frowned in exasperation and then returned to the room in her slippers, ready to go to the wardrobe to look for a bathrobe.

The image in the room instantly petrified her.

Her clothes, her bag, were all gone.

After all these years of dating, this was the first time she had encountered such a situation.

She knew that she had met a scammer.

It's possible that the video of her dancing just now was captured on camera!

This person was so bold!

At this moment, her heart was panicked to the extreme.

But at the moment, she had no better choice than to leave it to fate.

After all, she would be the only one who would be unlucky if this matter became a big issue.

She only wanted to pray that that man had taken the video just to extort money from her, and not for any other purpose.

If it was for any other purpose, then she would be finished.

But her intuition told her that he should not be seeking money, but to screw her.

Otherwise, there was no need for him to take away her clothes, her bag, and not even leave her the bed sheets, pillows and quilts.

Chapter 406 Joseph, don't leave

At this time, Joseph took out his room card from his pocket.
The next second, he opened the door without hesitation.
The door opened-
Gloria's heart rose to her throat in an instant.
Her naked body fell into Joseph's eyes.
However, he didn't have any extra emotions other than disgust.
Because he didn't love anymore, it didn't matter to him what this person did.
The longer he looked at her, the deeper the disgust in his eyes became.
How on earth had he ever fancy her in the first place?
The look in his eyes, like a knife, knocked deep into the deepest part of her heart.
"I heard that you were having a room with someone here and stripping for him, so I came over to take a look, and to make some of the things clear to you." Jocelyn's face was cold.
Gloria completely panicked, like crazy dragged Joseph into the room, and then locked the door, leaned against the door panel to avoid Joseph leaving.

"Joseph, this is all not what you think."

"Then what is it?" said Joseph then calmly took out his phone from his pocket and showed the video of her doing a strip dance, in front of her.

When she was dancing in front of that man, she didn't feel ashamed, but now that she was seeing it with her own eyes, she felt extremely ashamed.

When she thought that Joseph had seen such an image, she could not wait to find a crack in the ground.

Now she was finished, wasn't she?

What upset her the most was Joseph's attitude.

She couldn't see any sadness in Joseph, all she saw was disgust.

Chapter 407 Dazed

Joseph grunted coldly and turned to look at Gloria, "What?"

"You've been on drugs lately." Gloria coldly snorted.

Jocelyn heard this and instantly his face changed, "What are you babbling about?"

Half a month ago, one night, when Joseph came home, she smelled amphetamin on him.

In the past, her friend had smoke, so she was familiar with that smell and sensitive to it.

At that time, she had suspected Joseph, but she had never found any substantial evidence.

At this moment, she really had no choice, so she thought of swindling him and trying it out.

If she really swindled something, then she would have the leverage to keep him from getting a divorce.

"If dad knows that, do you think he would still hand the Stewart's over to you? If the police knows that, do you think you will be in jail?"

"I'm talking nonsense, aren't I? Then I'll call the police later and tell them you're on drugs, and then have them take you for testing."

Gloria's words were loud and clear, and there was determination in her eyes.

"Fuck." Joseph became irritated and instantly raised his hand, ready to slap Gloria's face.

His reaction, with ease, made it clear to Gloria that her suspicions were correct.

Sure enough, he was on drugs.

Gloria instantly let out a sigh of relief and clutched his hand to keep the slap from falling, "Just be a good boy and don't divorce me, and I'll keep my mouth shut."

"Gloria! You are despicable and shameless!" Joseph gritted his teeth.

"I am despicable and shameless, but that is because I love you." Gloria added, "Joseph, you have to believe that although my personal life is messy, I have slept with countless men but there is always only you in my heart, they can enter my body, but not my heart."

Joseph felt more and more disgusted by her, "When did you know that?"

"You don't have to care about that, I just know anyway, and I have photographic evidence, as long as you divorce me, I will make you lose your reputation in a minute." Gloria added.

At this moment, Joseph felt that this woman in front of him was like a leech, disgusting, and hard to get rid of.

About half an hour later, a steaming bowl of seafood noodles was cooked until it was finished.
He carefully brought it into the room.
In a moment, the room was filled with fragrance.
By now, he was completely back to normal and didn't look any different from his usual self.
Jocelyn, who was busy posting, smelt the fragrance and got hungry.
She then put down her phone and moved straight to the bedside.
Soon, the man put the noodles on the bedside table and said, "Eat."
The noodles he cooked were as flavorful as ever.
The hot air that coiled around the noodles seemed to warm her heart all at once.
Noticing that there was only one bowl and chopsticks, Jocelyn asked, "You're not eating?"

"Well, I'm sleepy." After saying that, Noah lifted the covers and laid down, closing his eyes, "Take the bowl out when you're done eating, I'll wash it tomorrow."

She nodded, picked up her chopsticks and spoon, and began to enjoy the food.

Noah soon fell asleep.

After Jocelyn ate her bowl of noodles, she took the bowl downstairs to clean it and returned to bed.

As soon as she lay down, Noah turned over and subconsciously wrapped her in his arms. She let him hold her, hanging on to him like an octopus.

Sleep came over her and she fell asleep.

The next morning, Jocelyn woke up and subconsciously touched her side.

Seeing Jocelyn, the two of them immediately quieted down and then they immediately smiled towards Jocelyn.

Jocelyn politely smiled towards her and nodded, and then continued to stride towards the lift position.

"Miss Murphy, cheers," A woman at the reception desk looked at Jocelyn with eyes full of admiration.

"Well, I will." Jocelyn smiled, and then stepped into the lift.

When she walked into her office, Jocelyn was shocked.

Her desk was filled to the brim with large and small bags with the LV logo on them.

She went to her desk and took a good look at the contents of the shopping bags.

What was inside were all clothes.

She took out a few pieces at random, and found that they were all summer clothes.

And, no matter which one, she liked it very much.

Noah's taste was absolutely good.

Jocelyn knew that there would be no one else but Noah who could give her so many things at once.

She immediately gave Noah a call.

"Have you received the things?" Noah asked.

"Yes, why did you send me so many clothes?"

"I went to inspect the mall below, and I feel these clothes all quite suitable for you, so I have someone send them to you. Like it?"

In a moment, a trace of slight surprise flashed under Jocelyn's eyes, "Why are you here?"

The corners of Jocelyn's mouth grew into a smile as she took the initiative to hold Noah's hand, clasping her fingers together.

Soon, the applause and cheers almost drowned out everything.

After the performance was completed, the other mentors came off the stage together, while Ryan was still standing at the very centre of the stage.

The screams and cheers from the scene, one after another, still had no intention of stopping.

He smiled and placed his right index finger, on his lips, signalling for everyone to shut up.
