Chapter 471 Dare you refuse

Abel did not speak, inclined his head to look at Paige, long arms naturally wrapped around Paige's waist.

Paige did not resist, allowing Abel to wrap his arms around himself, looking at Emily and saying, "Got it. Emily, don't do it again."

When Emily heard this, he let out a long breath as if he had been greatly released.

The same went to Aadam.

And Aadam kept nodding his head towards Paige, "Thank you, Paige. thank you, thank you."

afterwards, Aadam and Emily bent towards Abel, with the same voice, "Thank you, Mr. Mccall, thank you, Paige, thank you. thank you."

"Let's go." Paige put his gaze on Abel again.

"Okay, honey." Abel was full of doting eyes.

Emily gave a smile and added, "Mr. Mccall, Paige, I know a place that is fun, let's go together some time?"

Although she knew that the odds of that Paige and Abel being together would not last long, Emily still wanted to please Paige.

After all, if she spent one day with Abel, she had something to show off.

Paige smiled, "No need, I'm not available."

She then stepped straight forward and Abel followed, continuing to wrap his arms around her waist.

The two were intimate the entire time.

When they reached the corner of the stairs, the heel of Paige's right foot suddenly broke towards the side.

A sharp pain spread and she couldn't help but let out a cry of pain.

The next second, her whole body fell forward.

Seeing this, Abel instantly pulled Paige back with a swift movement.

In the next second, Paige crashed into Abel's arms and subconsciously hugged him tightly.

"Are you alright?" Abel asked.

And then, following her example, he hugged her tightly.

She had seen people trying every possible way to get something from others.

Rather, she had never seen someone who tried every possible way to give something to someone.

Paige was somewhat exasperated by him, her face darkened, "If you do that, I won't accompany you to dinner in the future, we'll cut off our friendship!"

Noticing Paige's face change drastically, Abel instantly wimped out, "Fine, fine."

He knew that he couldn't go too far.

The words fell, and he couldn't help but sigh, "I really can't do anything to you, do you think I owed you in my last life?"

Paige didn't pay him any more attention, just silently turned her head and looked out at the busy street scene that flashed by.

Abel let out a long, helpless sigh, "You know what? Before you, I never chased anyone. As long as it was my favorite, I casually beckoned, the girl would run straight to me and beg me to love her."

"You're the most special person I've ever met, and the hardest to get." Abel added.

"Difficult as it is, give up." Paige responded lightly.

"But I love you." Abel said again.

Paige, "....."

Just at this time, the sound of a vibrating mobile phone rang, interrupting the two's conversation.

Seeing that it was X Entertainment, the head of the legal department Judy's phone, Paige pressed answer.

"I have sent a lawyer's letter on behalf of you, our big boss, and those artists who were smeared to Francesca asking her to compensate you for the damage to your reputation, the amount of compensation combined is a total of two hundred million."

Paige indifferently hooked her lips, "Okay."

She then pressed hang up, and then with an accomplished look, she closed her eyes to get some rest.

As she expected, after Francesca received the lawyer's letter, Francesca would come to her door and beg her.

"There's nothing else, you can go out and do your thing."

Jocelyn nodded, and then stepped away and returned to the general manager office of the design department.

Sitting back in her office chair, she then picked up her phone, intending to swipe her Weibo for a while and relax.

At this moment, Paige's phone call came in once again.

She answered it in seconds, "Paige, what's wrong?"

"Francesca received a lawyer's letter and came to me to beg for forgiveness. She told me that that Peter, using her family's personal safety as blackmail, told her not to talk nonsense."

"I leaked to her that the big boss of X Entertainment was actually you, and told her that you would definitely keep her and her family safe, and after she heard that, she was reassured that she would work with us."

"Next, she will go on Weibo and personally whack Peter. At the same time, to further increase credibility, I will have the marketing number put out a photo of Peter and Francesca coming out of a private club together two days ago." Paige added.

"Okay." Jocelyn hooked her lips in satisfaction, "After Francesca posted, the company's official can forward it, even further increase the credibility."

Hanging up the phone, she then put her attention back on Weibo and began to check the Weibo hot search.

On the hot search, basically, all of them were some of their artists.

The number one hot search was Ryan's airport show.

The second was the official announcement of the replacement of the fehero in Deep Love.

The fifth was Bilmith airport show.

The seventh was the Cuttlefish CP.

The comment section of the marketing number was instantly buzzing.

[The entertainment industry is so dirty and insidious, my Ryan is so miserable! Boycott all members of Sunshine Entertainment, starting with me.]

[From now on, I won't buy any shows, movies, TV shows, magazines, etc. that are endorsed by this company's artists.]

[@Peter, damn it, you didn't think this would happen, did you? What kind of sins did our idol make to be with you?]

[It is the boss behavior, please don't blame it on artists, on behalf of all the artists of Sunshine Entertainment, I apologize to all of you.]

[Who do you think you are? You can't not represent them, Boycott to the end! Never forgive!]

Looking at this, the smile on the corner of Jocelyn's mouth deepened.

The resentment that had been pent up inside for a long time, at this moment, had also completely dissipated.

Exiting the topic, she saw that the hot search list had changed once again.

Hot search number one, #Peter, go to hell!#

Hot search number two, #Peter and Francesca#

Hot search number three, #Boycott Sunshine Entertainment#

Hot search number four, #apologise to X Entertainment#

All of this was expected and she didn't feel much surprise.

After sweeping the list, she then clicked on Peter's Weibo.

Paige took out her phone and swiped Weibo.

Seeing the buzz about Peter and the boycott of Sunshine Entertainment, the corners of her mouth curled up into a satisfied smile.

"I'll take you home to rest." Abel said.

"No, send me to the office, it's just a sprain, it's nothing serious at all."

"But the doctor said that you shouldn't be too tired or walk too often during this period of time."

"The company has a bunch of things waiting for me. I'll sit in the office and I won't be walking much."

"No!" Abel decisively refused.

"Abel!" Paige pulled down her face with a look of dissatisfaction.

Although she knew that Abel was doing it for her own good, she really had to go back to the office.

There were still a lot of things waiting for her right now.

Seeing that she was angry, Abel was once again wimp, helplessly raising his hands in surrender, "Fine, fine, whatever you say."

The words fell, Abel then started the car and drove towards the location of X Entertainment.

When they arrived, Abel then hugged Paige all the way into the building in full view of everyone.

This scene instantly caught the eyes of countless employees of the company.

Taking the exclusive lift, Abel carried her all the way to the president's office.

Once inside, Abel carefully placed her on the office chair, panting and bracing his hands on the arms of her chair on both sides, leaning down to look at her.

The two were so close that her entire body was encircled between his arms and the chair, and if she

Looking at this scene, Jocelyn only felt funny.

She didn't say anything, she just pushed her sunglasses onto her forehead before raising her head and looking at Peter's face.

When he saw that face clearly, Peter was confused.

Wasn't it Jocelyn?

So, Jocelyn was the big boss of X Entertainment?

He knew who was behind Jocelyn's.

He was instantly dumbfounded.

At this time, Abel walked behind Peter, his hands naturally in his trouser pockets, lifted his foot and kicked him hard in the buttocks again.

In the next second, Peter flew out once again, fell heavily at Jocelyn's feet.

He covered his buttocks and climbed up with difficulty, looking behind him with a terrified expression.

When he saw Abel, he once again shut his mouth and didn't dare to let out his breath.

He rubbed his buttocks and looked at Abel and asked curtly, "Mr. McCall. how come you're here too?"

Abel, "How are you make a scene in Jocelyn's turf?"

Peter subconsciously looked left and right at the two of them and explained, "It's all a misunderstanding. I didn't know that the big boss behind this company is Jocelyn, if I knew that, I wouldn't have made a scene."

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry." After saying that, Peter began to continuously bow towards the two of them and nod his head.

"If sorry is useful, what's the need for the law?" Jocelyn snorted indifferently.

When Peter heard this, he pissed himself in fear and once again looked at Jocelyn cautiously and said, "I'm really wrong, really, let me go."

Chapter 477 Major brands are coming to the door

"Major brands have issued statements to stand in line, saying that they will terminate the contracts of the artists from Sunshine Entertainment."

Seeing this news popping up in her phone, Jocelyn's heart was satisfied again, but her face remained unruffled.

When she clicked on the news, she was greeted by the various bad situations that Sunshine Entertainment was in.

The endorsements of their artists had basically all fallen off, and the brands had announced that they were going to replace them.

Some of the dramas and movies that were originally slated to feature their artists have also been replaced.

Advertisers, as well as drama and movie producers, have switched because they don't want to risk a mass boycott of their artists.

And Sunshine Entertainment's share price has fallen wildly because of these reasons.

Seeing this, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth once again unconsciously curved up in a nice curve.

In the comment section, the number of comments had already broken three million.

However, she wasn't interested in reading them anymore.

She knew exactly what everyone was cursing.

It was just fans of the artists on X Entertainment, along with fans of Sunshine Entertainment's artists, hurling abuse at Peter.

She had seen too many of them, and knew their wording by heart.

But this time, before the fans, had even really officially started boycotting, these people suddenly, in a surprisingly unanimous manner, started to unwind their contracts.

She always felt there was something else behind it.

"What are you laughing at?" Paige asked.

Jocelyn instantly pushed her phone in front of Paige, "Take a look."

Seeing the content on the phone screen, Paige then also hooked her lips, "That was expected."

After saying that, Jocelyn took her own mobile phone and left the office sharply.

Paige stood up without haste, holding the table with one hand, and said, "Let's go."

When Abel saw this, he then extended his long arms and once again picked her up.

This scene, once again, caused Paige's heart to rise to her throat.

She subconsciously frowned slightly, "Put me down."

Abel said with a smile, "Come on, it will hurt a lot if you walk, don't play tough."

Paige, "....."

Seeing that she had quieted down, the corners of Abel's mouth curled up.

"When exactly are you going to withdraw that confession ad?"

"I booked for half a month. Money has been paid, how do you want me to withdraw it? This money is not refundable."

"Ten minutes is thirty thousand for an advertising space, and you even booked for half a month, you are really rich and generous." Paige couldn't help but sigh.

After Jocelyn went downstairs, she drove her red Maserati all the way back to her house.

Just after she arrived home, her mobile phone vibrated.

The caller was the First Detention Centre in Flento City.

After she parked the car, Jocelyn pressed answer, and then walked towards her home while listening to the other side speak.

"Excuse me, is this Miss Jocelyn Murphy? Gloria said that she would like to see you and hoped you can come to the detention center."

"Got it."

"Our visiting hours are nine o'clock in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon."

Seeing this name, Jocelyn unconsciously frowned.

Out of curiosity, she clicked into the hot search to take a look.

Located at the top was a video of Bella dancing that she had posted two hours ago, and with a text asking, "Can this level debut and join a girl group?"

Jocelyn subconsciously clicked on the video.

afterwards, the image of Bella, dancing in a navel-less dress, caught Jocelyn's eyes.

In the video, Bella's dance, however, looked very good.

As expected, she had learnt to dance since she was a child, her movements were very powerful and her body softness was also very good.

Her body, too, was very okay, and her face was also pretty.

If she hadn't had such scandals, she wouldn't have had a problem debuting.

It's just that she has so much scandals that it's almost impossible for her to be an idol.

She really felt that Bella was a bit out of her depth.

In the comment section below, netizens have also expressed their opinions.

Chapter 480 One get ten years, one get five years

In the visiting room, Jocelyn sat quietly in a chair, playing with her mobile phone, waiting for Gloria.

In front of her, a thick glass wall separated the large empty space into two parts, inside and out.

Not long after she sat down, Gloria was escorted over by two prison guards.

Gloria's hair had been cut extremely short, she was dressed in a grey prison uniform with an orange prison waistcoat over it.

Her face was haggard to the extreme, and she had lost none of her usual air of a grand lady.

The look in Gloria's eyes was full of hostility, like a stern ghost that had crawled out of hell.

Even through the thick glass, she could still feel the murderous aura of Gloria's body.

Jocelyn was still as calm as ever, her heart was unruffled.

She gave Gloria a faint glance, and then, picked up the phone in front of her and put it to her ear.

Gloria was pressed into a chair and likewise picked up the phone.

The two stared at each other through the thick glass.

One murderous, the other calm.

"Jocelyn, I just got word that my mother and I, one will be sentenced to ten years in prison and one to five. Are you satisfied?" Gloria snorted coldly.

Jocelyn slightly raised her eyebrows and spoke lightly, "Yes."

Gloria was momentarily exasperated and dumbfounded, "You..."

Jocelyn coldly snorted, "Know what it means to deserve what you get?"

Gloria's face was pale with anger, and her hand clutching the phone was even more trembling, "Jocelyn, don't be complacent, when I get out, I will still get back at you."

"I hope that in ten years' time, the pain of prison has not smoothed out your edges and you will still have the strength and qualifications to fight me." Jocelyn added.
