Chapter 601 Aston

"She and I are living out in a rented house now, and now that we've split up, I'll have to move out."

"I have to look for an apartment in the next couple of days, plus I'm working as a waiter serving plates at a restaurant."

"If I have to open a hospital, and I have to go through the resignation process, a lot of things that need to be done."

"The resignation procedure is fine, it will be done in a while, but it's a hassle to find a house and move, so it will take a few days."

Jace explained carefully, word by word.

Jocelyn said indifferently, "Oh, you do not need to find a house, I have many houses, I will give you one."

"Of course, it's not for you to live there for nothing, you pay me rent, five thousand a month." Jocelyn added.

She knew that Jace would definitely not be willing to live there for nothing.

So, she then decided to charge some money.

Jace nodded, "Okay."

He naturally understands Jocelyn's mind, inside, he felt gratitude.

He really felt lucky, in this life, to have known Jocelyn.

"As for the resignation procedure, just go and do it tomorrow and keep yourself busy earlier so you don't get carried away with your thoughts." Jocelyn added.

Jace nodded heavily, "This can be done tonight, I'll just talk to our manager about it."

Jocelyn said, "Then after dinner, I'll go with you, and I'll call a couple of bodyguards to help you move afterwards."

Jace added, "Would it be too much trouble for you? I'm really embarrassed."

Jocelyn smiled, "No don't be embarrassed."

Jace coughed again.
Yet he still endured.
Both fists clenched tighter.

"Jace, why don't you say anything? Are you deaf? Didn't you hear I am talking to you?" Aston spoke arrogantly once again.

Jace took a deep breath, tried to hold down his anger, and asked, "What do you want? I'm in a hurry, I hope you'll move aside."

Aston immediately laughed out loud, "Why should I? Today I'm in a bad mood, so I want to have some fun on you."

Tonight, he is upstairs in a private room with a group of people, having a gambling game

He's got a bad hand, lost over 30 million in an hour

When he saw a fool come to his door, he naturally had to make the most of it and vent his frustrations.

"Be merciful," said Jace as he continued to hold down his anger, word for word.

"Sorry, in my dictionary, there are no such words." After saying that, Aston then directly raised his hand and slapped fiercely towards Jace's face a few times.

Jace subconsciously closed his eyes.

Aston put his chin against Jace's shoulder and spoke lowly in his ear, "How about you go through my lower body and I'll let you go?"

Said Aston then directly lifted his feet up and placed them on the bonsai tree next to him

Pointing to the position of his lower back, he added, "Today you can either climb through here or get dragged out and beaten up by my men."

Aston knew that the person in front of him had little backstage and was incomparably easy to be bullied.

It's a soft touch he can take at will.

This time, Jace couldn't bear it any longer!

"Keep beating!"

Aston looked at his men, who were frozen in place, and ordered them in a cold voice, with ice and coldness in his eyes.

After saying that, he walked up to Jocelyn and smiled curtly, "Miss Murphy, I'm just teaching a disobedient trash a lesson, so don't... Ah!"

Before he could finish his sentence, Jocelyn raised her hand and fiercely threw a slap towards his face, stunning the crowd.

The severe pain spread, and Aston was angry.

But even so, he did not dare to show anything.

He simply caressed his face and continued to ask curtly, "Miss Murphy, Ah!"

Without waiting for him to finish his sentence, Jocelyn lifted her foot and kicked him out sharply.

Aston was even more stunned.

The pain was so intense that he wanted to get up, but he couldn't.

Then he slumped helplessly to the ground, looked at Jocelyn and asked, "Have I offended you? What do you do this to me?"

Aston's men, who had been prepared to continue, froze at this moment, not knowing whether they should continue or not.

"How dare you lay hands on my friend?" Jocelyn's expression was clear and cold, and her voice was not too loud.

But even so, it's still enough to make people tremble.

At these words, Aston subconsciously shivered and his whole body froze in place, "What? He is your friend?"

At this moment, Jace, who was on the ground, was already on his deathbed.

Looking at Jocelyn who, in the midst of despair, came to him, at this moment, he felt that this woman's whole body radiated a holy light.

At this moment, Jocelyn was an angel who brought him back from the brink of death.

"You'll be living over there from now on."

"Then I will arrange for two bodyguards to look after you closely for a couple of days."

"If you need anything, you can always call me."

"For the time being, just recuperate from your injuries, and I'll have someone take care of the separation procedures and all that."

"Let's talk about the rest when you're better."

Jocelyn said in a soft voice while looking intently ahead and skilfully manoeuvring the steering wheel.

Jace nodded, "Thank you, Miss Murphy."

Jocelyn went all the way and dropped Jace off at his own upscale neighbourhood in the city centre, Xianghe Garden.

After going to the property and asking for a spare key, he gave it to Jace.

Afterwards Jace was helped upstairs by her two bodyguards.

Instead, she drove, with her other bodyguards, back to her house

By the time she arrived home, it was exactly twelve o'clock.

Noah did not sleep, at this time is sitting on the sofa, clutching the laptop, having meeting with the L country branch side of the senior management.

Seeing Jocelyn enter the door, the man's eyes instantly became tender.

After telling the people on camera to "wait a minute", he simply put down his laptop and walked straight up to Jocelyn.

He naturally took Jocelyn into his arms and asked, "I heard that Jace was bullied by Aston today?"

Jocelyn was filled with stunned eyes, "Well, how did you know that?"

Noah, "Ok, go upstairs and wait."

"Well, I'm going upstairs to take a shower."

After saying that, Jocelyn ran all the way upstairs, and after putting a tub of hot water in, she poured some milk into the hot water.

Once everything was ready, she stripped herself clean and soaked comfortably in the huge bathtub.

After a busy day, coming home and soaking in the big bath like this was the ultimate treat for her.

She had just finished skincare when Noah pushed the door and walked in.

The man walked all the way behind her, tightly circling her in his arms from behind, his delicate chin naturally resting on her shoulder, his dark eyes, at the moment, looking dotingly at her in the mirror through.

"Honey, come out and eat." Noah's voice, as always, was gentle and affectionate.

"Okay," Jocelyn nodded dutifully and went back to the room.

"Yeah?" The man asked in a low voice.

"I will love you well in the future, thank you for the love you have given me." Jocelyn said in a soft voice, her voice as soft as ever.

"Don't worry, if one day we do have a bit of everything and have to part ways, then I will return everything you have given me, intact." Jocelyn added.

At these words, Noah frowned deeply and pressed her to the bed with a serious face, holding her face with a serious face, and said.

"Listen up, Jocelyn, the two of us will always be in love to the end."

"And what if it happens? Like, you cheated on me?" Jocelyn joked.

"If I cheat on you, just like the pledge I wrote before, I' will give everything to you." Noah continued word for word, "Also, I will not cheat in this life"

Instead, Jocelyn joked again, "Who knows?"

She was joking, but Noah was serious

His expression grew more serious, and he even raised three fingers, "I swear to God, if I betrayed Jocelyn, I'll..."

Without waiting for him to finish, Jocelyn took the initiative to hook her arms around his neck and tenderly kissed back all the words he had not yet said.

The lips are entwined and ambiguous.

She didn't know how long it took before he let go of her, panting and looking at her with deep love in his eyes.

"Jocelyn. I love you so much."

A word that once again warmed the heart of Jocelyn.

Jocelyn continued to naturally hook his neck, "I'm kidding with you."

A message came from Jocelyn's phone, and on the screen, a message from Allie popped up, "Jocelyn!
My son left everything in your hands?"

Jocelyn did not expect at all that Allie would know the news so quickly.

She became apprehensive at once.

She doesn't know what kind of mood Allie is in now

This, after all, is no small matter.

Immediately after, Allie over there sent another message, "This is fantastic, right?"

When she saw this message, Jocelyn's tightly wound heartstrings immediately relaxed.

Jocelyn replied back, "Aren't you angry?"

Allie, "Why should I be angry? The group was given to him, it is his, he can give it to whoever he wants.
Besides, it's not a loss to give it to you, right? You're one of my family."

Her words, once again, moved Jocelyn.

Her eyes, once again, were unconsciously red.

Jocelyn, "You really think so? Aren't you worried?"

Allie, "What do I have to worry about?"

It was at this time that Allie's video call came in.

Jocelyn immediately pressed answer.

In the next second, Allie's face, full of smiles, appeared before her eyes.

Chapter 608 Abel's Car Accident

"Hundreds of millions of luxury cars scrapped on site."

On her phone screen, this message popped up.

Seeing this, she clicked in.

What comes to mind is the image of Abel, covered in blood, being helped down by two traffic police officers from a black Ferrari Limited Edition 250GTO with a dented and broken front end.

Such a Abel looks woefully out of place.

The moment she saw his face, Jocelyn's face instantly paled, shock written in her eyes, and her heart filled with apprehension.

As the view continues to move down the road, the editor explains how this crash happened.

It started when a Ferrari opposite, a red Audi, was speeding and ran a red light.

And the light was just green on the Ferrari side, so the Ferrari subconsciously drove ahead

The Ferrari then dodged and collided directly with the Audi.

She called Abel's number to ask for information.

However, Abel, over there, did not answer.

After calling several times but not answering, she thought of Noah

She quickly went downstairs and went to the kitchen dining room to have a look, which revealed that Noah was not there.

On the table, there was a glass of milk, and a sandwich with an egg.

Not caring about the food on the table, Jocelyn quickly got into her red Maserati and called the police.

Ask the person who was just in that car accident where they were taken.

After learning that Abel had been taken to the First People's Hospital, she immediately called Noah and Paige to inform them.

Finally, she quickly put away her mobile phone, kicked the accelerator straight away and raced towards the First People's Hospital.

At this point, worry was written all over the bottom of everyone's eyes.

"He is badly injured, and his life is not long. He now asks to see Paige" Lennon again said, "Which one of you is Paige?"

When he finished he let out another long sigh, his gaze constantly moving over several of them.

Hearing this, everyone's expressions, almost to a fault, froze.

Paige even felt as if her heart had been viciously ripped out.

The dribs and drabs of her and Abel's day-to-day life suddenly flooded into her mind like a flood.

From the first time she met him in a bar with Jocelyn

See him radiant, spirited.

Then later, when the two of them meet again, he offers to come up and ask for her contact.

Then, Abel became her loyal dog, pleasing her in every way, and even display screen confession on the building across to her office.

Then later on, Abel pestered her every day, eating dinner together, trying every possible way to please her and make her happy.

All of yesterday, every scene hurt her heart.

He was once a womanizer, but since he met her, he's been really, really good.

As Jocelyn said, he had really changed.

She was, in fact, going to accept him, but he couldn't seem to wait for that day.

If she had known this was the case, she should have promised him earlier, not to test him any further.

Once upon a time, she always thought that there were still plenty of days ahead anyway, so there was no need to rush.

But now, she realises that there are times when there is no later.

She never knows which will come first, the accident or tomorrow

Taking a deep breath, she rushed into the emergency room regardless

Although the words were said, because at this moment, she was still angry, she did not want to answer Abel at all.

She was really scared to death of him just now!

Until now, she hadn't been able to recover from the fear of death.

This is outrageous of him!

Seeing this, Abel directly pulled Paige onto himself again.

A large living person fell violently on top of him, at this moment, Abel immediately felt his heart location began to tear again.

"Hiss--" he subconsciously muffled a grunt, wrapped one hand around Paige's waist, forcing himself to endure the pain, and added, "Anyway, I don't care now, you are now my girlfriend in name only."

"No backtracking, or I'll..."

"What?" Paige struggled and tried to get up, "Isn't your heart hurting from the steering wheel? Why do you still have me hold you down like this? Let go."

But Abel continued to hold her tightly, not giving her any chance to get up.

For considering that, he was wounded all over.

She was worried about struggling too much and making him hurt more, so she didn't dare to struggle too hard at all.

Abel, however, still did not let go, "I'll just kiss until you change your mind."

His words, like a breeze, unconsciously caused her heart to ripple endlessly in the lake.

Her face, at once, flushed.

The few nurses couldn't stand it.

They quickly exited the emergency room.

At this time, the two of them were the only ones left in the large space.

No one is around, the silence is infinite and ambiguity lingers.
