Chapter 641 Touching the Blind Spot of Knowledge

Today what he knows touched his knowledge blind spot things.

"Yes." Noah's eyes were waveless, and his voice was as good as ever.

"I think maybe one day, we can become wizards together and then we can forever young?"

"I see that Ghost Face means that we can all become wizards, it's just not time yet."

Jocelyn said word for word, in fact, originally for this matter, she did not have much interest.

Because, to her, if Noah could not forever young, then even if she became a wizard, forever young, there was no use.

When the time comes, after Noah leaves, what awaits her is endless loneliness and longing.

But now, she knows that Noah also has the highest talent and can also become a wizard.

So, her thoughts had changed.

Jocelyn suddenly felt that, in fact, if she could become a wizard with Noah, together, that would be good.

At that time, they could always be together.

And most importantly, by becoming a wizard, one can forever young.

The second half of the word forever young appealed to her the most.

There was no woman that didn't want to be forever young.

However, they all can't achieve it.

She, on the other hand, now had the way to achieve it.

Smiling, Noah hooked his lips, "If the two of us could forever young together, that would be good."

Chapter 642 Will he spoil his daughter

As soon as she got up, she subconsciously patted her hips, fearing that they were covered in dust.

Noah picked up clothes from the floor, and tenderly put them on for her.

He didn't let her do anything the whole time.

At this moment, Jocelyn was like baby being tenderly taken care of by him.

Suddenly, Jocelyn couldn't help but think, this man was so good at taking care of people, so if they have a daughter in the future, will he also be so gentle to his daughter?

Thinking of this, her mind could not help but conjure up a picture of Noah brushing the teeth, washing her face, washing her clothes and cooking for a little girl.

It was the ultimate in beauty.

The corners of her lips couldn't help but curl up in a brilliant curve.

"What's on your mind?" Noticing that Jocelyn had wandered off, Noah's eyes tinged with a touch of inquiry.

"Nothing, just thinking a man like you who is so good to his wife will be better to his children in the future?" Jocelyn said.

Noah thought deeply for a few seconds and dotingly stroked her hair lightly, "Well, probably."

Jocelyn jokingly said, "Then will you, because of the child, ignore me?"

Noah put his hands on her shoulders in a serious manner and looked into her beautiful eyes, "Remember, no one in this world deserves for me to ignore you, even if it's our child."

"No matter what time it is, you are my favorite and no one can replace you, not even children," Noah added.

She was just joking, but she didn't expect that Noah was actually serious.

"Noah. I love you.," Jocelyn said softly.

Noah naturally picked her up, "I love you too."

And then he pressed her against the tree and kissed her.

Along the way, Jocelyn saw many familiar faces, but not the bald scarred man who had made things difficult for her and Noah that day.

That man made a deep impression on her.

Because that day, she and Noah were almost killed by his hands.

With that, Ghost Face respectfully guided them both into the living room.

On the traditional style coffee table, a pot of tea was brewed.

The teapot was transparent and filled with pale green bitters.

Walking over to the coffee table the three of them then sat down naturally.

This time, Ghost Face was alone, sitting on the single sofa.

Jocelyn and Noah, on the other hand, were sitting shoulder to shoulder, on the long sofa.

As soon as Ghost Face settled down, he naturally picked up the teapot and poured a cup of bitter tea for each of the two of them, as well as himself.

The faint scent of the tea continued to spread across the tip of his nose, soothing the body and mind.

"Have a cup of bitter tea, it's good for your body." said Ghost Face as he lifted the bitter tea in front of him.

Jocelyn and Noah nodded slightly and coincidentally picked up the bitter tea and took a sip.

The extreme bitterness spread in the mouth, and although she didn't like it, Jocelyn didn't say anything.

So did Noah.

"How come we didn't see that bald scarred man from before?" Jocelyn asked casually.

"Then I asked him about becoming a wizard, but he said that I couldn't become a wizard for the time being, because I had sinned in my past life and I had a curse from God on me."

"So I asked about my own past life, and he told me that in my past life, I was a tyrant and killed countless people."

"So, what I needed to do was to save countless people in order to become a wizard."

"Not only that, but he also implanted all the memories of my previous life, being an emperor, into my mind."

"And also taught me, the way to check my curse value, that way is exactly the same as what I taught you to check your energy value."

"I was seeing my curse value, which was 100 percent. The whole sin bar was black."

"I asked him how to remove the curse value and he then told me the way to do it is to save souls, grant them some wishes, stop them from becoming demons, remove their grievances, stop demons from harming ordinary people and send them to hell so they don't harm the earth anymore. "

"The second is to practice medicine and save people. I can do both, or choose one." Ghost Face said again.

"Then why are you not practicing medicine and saving people at the back?" On this point, Jocelyn felt very curious.

"It's because, ever since I started helping those unjust demons, I've been so busy and hectic that I have absolutely no time to practice medicine and save people. At first I just shortened the time to practice medicine and save people, but later on there is absolutely no way."

"Between the two, I had to make a trade-off." said Ghost Face, before picking up the teapot in front of him again and refilling a cup of tea for Jocelyn, Noah, and himself.

The expressions of all three people were extraordinarily serious.

Noah did not speak the entire time, just silently, sipping the bitter tea and listening to Jocelyn and Ghost Face's chat.

"So that's how it is.," Jocelyn understood at once.

"Would you, then, be so kind as to tell us that it is the same person to whom we owe a debt? Suppose this person came to claim for indemnity, what form would that be in?" Jocelyn was full of inquisitive eyes.

"Well, it is the same person. as to what form this person, in what form to claim for indemnity, I don't know." Ghost Face added, "But if this man should appear, it will certainly put you in danger."

"You two, because of this man, will go through many, many trials and tribulations." Ghost Face said with a sigh.

His words made Jocelyn and Noah, at the same time, tensed.

"If this person he doesn't come now, I guess in a few years, he will come, and you guys don't need to worry, as long as the curse is lifted, it will also be fine."

"When the curse is lifted, you guys can start becoming witches. At that time, I will tell you the way to become witches." Ghost Face was full of sincerity in his eyes as he soothed.

He understood very well how the two of them were feeling at this moment.

Jocelyn nodded gently, "Okay."

At this moment, both of them were starting to worry.

Today, hearing all this was telling them that there was a big hurdle ahead of them, waiting for them.

Suddenly thinking of the hardships she had previously, experienced, Jocelyn immediately looked at Ghost Face and said, "I have a half-sister and a previous fiancé, who I was betrayed by when they joined forces. "

"They wouldn't be my defaulter, would they?" Jocelyn asked.

Gloria and Joseph looked a lot like debt collectors.

"They are just your little defaulter, and the biggest defaulter is in the back, exactly, I am really not at liberty to say." Ghost Face said again.

Jocelyn nodded sagely.

"In fact, in this world, every encounter has a reason."

"There is also a reason why you love someone and hate someone, all these things are related to past lives." Ghost Face finished and took another puff of his cigarette.

"Are you okay with that?" Jocelyn asked.

Noah shook his head, "It's fine. I can work tomorrow."

At that, Jocelyn got up and looked at Ghost Face, "Where is the kitchen, we both just go and heat things up."

Ghost Face was also quite old.

She was really embarrassed to bother this old man.

"I can't have my guest cook. If you don't want me to be angry, you guys just sit tight."

After saying that, Ghost Face went into the kitchen.

Jocelyn had no choice but to let out a long sigh, so she sat down.

Ghost Face's hospitality was unbearable, and if she continued to insist, she was afraid that she would look a bit insensitive.

After he left, the two couples were the only ones left in the large living room.

In the few hours since she had arrived here, she had experienced too many shocking and bizarre events.

At this moment, she needed to be quiet and digest the same.

She rested her head on Noah's shoulder and slowly closed her eyes.

For his part, Noah gently swept her into his arms.

There are good and bad things that she learned here today.

The good thing is that the medicine given by Ghost Face earlier can be taken directly.

After eating it, Noah can then undergo the bone marrow transplant surgery.

When the words came out, she naturally rubbed her face into his arms, and her hands subconsciously hugged his neck.

"Thank you for staying with me all the time." Noah said, "If it wasn't for you, maybe I really wouldn't have been able to be a normal person in my life. Thank you."

If it wasn't for Jocelyn, he wouldn't have had a chance to regain his health.

Jocelyn shook her head, "What's wrong with that? As your wife, this is what I should do."

Noah did not say anything, only kissed on her forehead.

The girl in his arms was gentle, beautiful, understanding.

There was really no way for him not to fall deeply in love with her.

Chapter 648 Super Popular Influencer, Leo

"Super popular influencer, Leo, openly shouted said to Jocelyn, wanting to sign with X Entertainment, you can't imagine the reason."

Leo, was known to her.

He was stationed in Tiktok three months ago, and on the first day he was stationed in Tiktok, he released an original pop-up video "Poison".

With his outstanding appearance and magnetic voice, he became an overnight sensation, attracting over ten million fans.

After that, he would update an original song every three days on Tiktok, and in just three months, he drew 100 million fans.

He became the first influencer to have a fan base of more than 100 million.

The official height of this person is 185cm.

He has delicate features, a standard model body.

The reason why he has attracted more than 100 million fans is that apart from being handsome and talented, there is another very important reason.

That is, this man has a very humorous and humble personality.

Since he became popular on Tiktok, there are quite a few companies, which have thrown olive branches towards him, but he has refused.

The reasons for his refusal are many and varied.

The people once thought that this person, who only wanted to be a net star, did not want to be a star.

Jocelyn never thought this person would actually take the initiative and ask to be in her company.

Jocelyn clicked on the news and looked at it.

The news was sent out by Weibo news.

When she clicked on it, what she saw was a large paragraph of text.

Jocelyn immediately replied with a cute smiling emoji. She then called the Dreamland Hotel and booked a private room.

After booking the private room, she sent another message to Leo, "Tomorrow noon, Dreamland Hotel, we'll see you at twelve."

Leo, "Okay, goddess. Thank you for your appreciation."

Leo spoke with great humor and wit.

After talking to him, Jocelyn's mood was much lighter.

She smiled, did not continue to respond, and clicked on Leo's Weibo and followed it. She then placed her phone next to her, opened her work email and began to check her work emails.

Just at this time, a knock sounded on the door.

Jocelyn said softly to the door, "Please come in."

Soon, the door opened.
