Commentary B added, "As we all know, after Kassadin reaches level sixteen, it is invincible."

[Here we go again, Kassadin is impressive in level sixteen.]

[Remember the last time, XS team played who? The other side of Kassadin is 16? How come it is not invincible?]

[I don't know how to win with this CE lineup.]

[I am not optimistic about CE.]

[CE is destined to pay for its arrogance. I really don't know who picked this crap lineup.]

The CE fans on the stage are worried about the CE side at the moment.

In the early stages, if it can't get an advantage, it is basically ruined in the late stages.

The people around are anxious, but Noah is always calm.

Soon, the game began, and Jocelyn led her support, killing the opposite AD and support.

The wonderful operation of the two people once again drew cheers from the whole audience.

And the middle, and top lane, have finished their operation.

At the tenth minute of the game, Billy arrived at the lower lane to gank.

The opponent's top lane, as well as the middle lane, and the wild saw this and all gathered in the lower lane.

The CE team members, seeing that the situation was not good, gathered in the lower lane.

The 5 V5 team battle broke out.

With their perfect positioning and skills, the CE team members killed the AD and supporters of the opposite side.

The opponent was defeated and the remaining three fled.

Afterwards, Camille couldn't help but shatter, "Really the entertainment circle are all false. You begged me everyday before and play my support."

She really can't understand, why his company prepares such a speech for him.

Flora, "Then, then I want to know, what kind of person can get your assistance?"

Billy, "Confidential."

Camille helplessly shook her head, thinking that he makes it quite mysterious, obviously he plays support for everyone.

Thinking of this, she sent a message to Billy, "Fake."

The phone in the pocket of Billy on stage soon vibrated.

However, because he was on stage so he didn't pay attention to it.

Flora, "In that case, then I won't ask, I really like you, hopefully later, I can get one of your autographs."

Billy, "Okay, thanks."

Flora had been very enthusiastic, but Billy, however, was always nonchalant, answering whatever he was asked.

He would never say one more word.

Not to mention that he would not give Flora a second glance.

In her heart, Flora was nervous and lost at the same time.

Realizing that she had left Jocelyn out in the cold, Flora walked to Jocelyn's side and began to compensate with a smiling face, "Miss Murphy, you are really excellent. I am curious, who commanded your BP today?"

Jocelyn smiled, "It was me."

Flora, "Awesome, as far as I know, today you came to the game site by helicopter. Your husband personally escorted you."

At that, Jocelyn smiled blandly once again, happiness and sweetness written in her eyes, "Because it's almost late, so, it had to be done in this way."

Just at this time, the air conditioning in the arena suddenly turned off.

The temperature of the entire arena, all of a sudden, rose.

Chapter 733 Jocelyn is six weeks pregnant with twins

Seeing this image, Noah instantly panicked.

Just before Jocelyn fell to the ground, Noah, in a swift move, held her up and hugged her sharply in his arms.

The man who has always remained steadfast even when his troops are under the city is, at this moment, in a state of worry.

The man anxiously hugged Jocelyn, calling out, "Jocelyn, wake up, what's wrong with you?"

But Jocelyn did not respond at all.

He carried Jocelyn and ran through the crowd towards the back door.

At this moment, he didn't care about his image or anything else.

He ran like a gust of wind, the anxiety and panic on his face could no longer be concealed.

The bodyguards he had with him at the back door, who were in charge of security, saw this scene and stepped forward.

A bodyguard, then, opened the cabin door for him.

Noah placed Jocelyn in the passenger seat and used the seat belt, securing her body to prevent her from falling down.

Afterwards, he hurriedly boarded the plane, started the helicopter and operated it to lift off, racing towards the location of the First People's Hospital.

Seeing this, the other bodyguards then boarded the helicopter.

A few of them, who were in the lead, contacted the other bodyguards who were not at the scene, asking them to gather and follow the route of their boss.

The cockpit was lit up.

Under the white-hot light, Jocelyn's face, reflected in the light, was extraordinarily pale and bloodless.

Noah's mind was in complete chaos at this point, and his entire mind was in disarray.

A few minutes later, Jocelyn was pushed into the VIP emergency room of the First People's Hospital.

Noah's fingers were tightly clasped against his forehead as he sat on the bench at the entrance to the emergency room, his heart beating as fast as it could.

Once he thought that there was nothing in this world that could make him panic.

Chapter 734 Hypoglycemia During Pregnancy

"Or, if you think, hypoglycemia during pregnancy, it will be very hard, you can abort it."

Noah said, seriously, in his eyes, without any half-hearted hypocrisy.

This was all from his heart.

Although, he really wanted the child in Jocelyn's belly, and was really happy about it.

However, he was still willing to respect Jocelyn.

Since they were married, it was the wife who was the most important.

At these words, Jocelyn's heart suddenly warmed up, "Since there is an accident, then I have no reason to abort them. They are two little lives, is the crystallization of our love. "

"It is true that I did not want to have a child so early, but since the child is here, then I do not want to abort it."

"Abortion is an extremely cruel act, I don't want to hurt them."

"Don't worry, I will nurture these two little lives properly."

Jocelyn said in a soft voice, and when the words left her mouth, she couldn't help but reach out her hand and gently stroke her belly.

The thought of two little lives developing inside her belly made her feel warm and fuzzy inside, as if her heart was about to melt somewhere.

She had never known that being a mother could feel so wonderful.

"But pregnancy is hard, are you ready for it?" Noah asked.

"Well, I want them both, I don't want to abort them," Jocelyn added.

"It depends on you." Noah said again.

Jocelyn smiled, hooked her lips contentedly, lifted her hand and gently stroked Noah's hair, "Good."

Allie nodded desperately, "Yes, we will go there right now, but before we go there, I think we have to prepare some kind of gift for Jocelyn."

"The child is pregnant with the descendant of our Mason family, we must give gifts." Allie said.

"You can give whatever you want." Scott said without thinking.

"Forget it. I think small things simply are not enough upscale, we send Jocelyn house. The three high-end community buildings in the city centre transfer to Jocelyn."

Allie said, completely without half a hesitation.

Scott nodded, "Okay, let's hurry up."

Allie nodded heavily, "Yes, hurry, hurry."

When Camille walked down from upstairs, she saw the two people had been excited.

She was instantly filled with curiosity, "Dad, mum, what are you guys getting excited about?"

"Jocelyn is pregnant, we're going to be grandparents again. Hurry up, pack up and come over to the hospital with us to see Jocelyn." Allie added.

"Ah!!! Really? Great! Wait for me to change my clothes!" Camille said, and ran upstairs quickly, trembling with excitement.

Allie's heart was in direct chaos at this moment.

She had been standing in place for several minutes before she remembered that she was still wearing her pajamas.

After taking a look at the pajamas she was wearing, she ran upstairs and changed into the clothes.

Half an hour later, Scott personally flew a helicopter and brought the two of them, Allie and Camille, to the First People's Hospital.

After the plane landed, the three of them, according to the location posted by Noah on WeChat, arrived at the door of the emergency room where Jocelyn was.

At that moment, Jocelyn had just finished her glucose injection and was lying on the bed resting.

"Mom, you can go ahead." Jocelyn said.

"Do you think I should simply follow your father and move to your place? That way I can watch you at all times and take care of you."

Allie was impromptu, mainly because Jocelyn's pregnancy was such a big deal, she really valued it and was worried about.

How hard a woman's pregnancy is, having given birth to six children, she knows very well.

For Jocelyn, who gave birth to the next generation of their Mason family, Allie is very grateful and heartbroken inside.

She wished very much that she could take close care of Jocelyn and spoil her into the happiest little pregnant woman.

Jocelyn was a good looking girl, excellent in every way.

Such a girl was the kind of girl who should be pampered, loved deeply, cherished by all, and treated as a treasure.

She doesn't want her precious daughter-in-law to be unhappy in the slightest.

The Mason family is lucky to have found such a daughter-in-law.

She had to follow her father-in-law's advice and spoil Jocelyn.

At that, Jocelyn shook her head, "This is really not necessary, I can take care of myself, my husband can also take care of me."

Jocelyn did not feel that pregnancy was something so big that everyone must surround her and spoil her.

Allie added, "Are you afraid that your father and I will disturb your lives? Don't worry, we definitely won't."

Jocelyn shook her head once again, "That's certainly not. I just don't want to bother you both, in fact, pregnancy in my opinion is not a big matter."

Allie was serious all of a sudden, "How is this not a big deal? Even the entire Griffin Group Group combined is not as important as this, but since you don't like us to go over, then we won't go over. "

She only gave advice.

Noah's eyes flashed with a touch of inquiry, "Why?"
Jocelyn said with a straight face, "Your family has been so good to me, I think it is right for the children to take your surname."
Noah, "Actually, our family doesn't care about that."
Jocelyn, "But I do care."

After the words, Jocelyn looked at Noah with a straight face and said, "Noah, will you listen to me? Otherwise I'll, never speak to you again."

The Mason family is so good to her, if the child does not take the Mason family's surname, it is really not justified.

Noah helplessly nodded, "Okay, okay, all according to you. "

Jocelyn's face became mild, "Good."

Noah dotingly stroked her hair and asked, "Now you are better?"

Jocelyn shook her head, "I'm fine."

Noah, "That's good."

Just at this time, Scott came out of the kitchen.

Scott had a snow-white apron around his body, and his hands were still covered with beads of water that had not yet dried.

While gently rubbing the water droplets on his apron, he walked over to Jocelyn and Noah and asked, "What are you talking about?"

Noah said, "The question of whose surname the future child will take."

At that, Scott smiled benevolently, "What kind of question is it? With whose surname, isn't it all the same?"

Jocelyn said, "No, I want the children surnamed Mason."

Scott smiled, "Whatever, even if the surname is Murphy, I don't care, no matter who the surname is, it's my grandchildren."

After saying that, Scott then sat next to Jocelyn and said, "Your mother and Camille are busy in the kitchen, I can't help much, I'll accompany you to chat."

Jocelyn nodded and took the initiative to find a topic, "Dad, do you want me to have boys or girls in the future?"

Hot search number five, #League of Legends 9th Anniversary Showdown#

Hot search number six, #why is it called CE team#

There were so many topics about the League of Legends Ninth Anniversary Showdown on the hot search list that Jocelyn's eyes were dazzled.

Inside all the topics, Jocelyn clicked on the first one.

It was all filled with various hickey photos of herself.

No wonder, when she was backstage, Noah would suddenly tie a scarf around her neck.

So it was because of this!

Jocelyn felt embarrassed to the extreme, and then, she subconsciously touched the scarf around her neck.

As she looked at it, her face unconsciously blushed.

She thought that it should be because the air conditioning in the arena was suddenly not available at that time and she had sweated excessively.

But when she bought this concealer at the time, it clearly said that it was waterproof and sweat-proof.

It seems that she really can't just look at the advertisements!

At this moment, Jocelyn really wanted to find a hole in the ground and go inside.

At this moment, Noah noticed what Jocelyn was looking at.

His eyes were filled with astonishment.

When this topic had appeared before, he had clearly asked someone to remove it.

But it was unexpected that now it would actually appear on the hot search list again.

Something must have gone wrong.

"What is it?" Noah looked at Jocelyn with interest, his eyes were full of seriousness and inquiry.

"Before, Billy didn't seem to like playing League of Legends, and even once told me that computer games were inconvenient to play."

"I think that he suddenly started playing this must be because Camille likes it."

"I remember Camille told me before that Billy likes to drag her along to play the game whenever he has time."

"Moreover, every time he said he wanted to play the support position. Someone who doesn't like playing the support position at all, yet he took the initiative to say he would play the support for Camille."

"Can you believe me if I say this is not fishy?" Jocelyn continued to analyze carefully.

After listening to this, Noah's eyes narrowed slightly, he thought deeply for a moment, and said, "It's indeed like this."

"So, I think that Billy must like Camille, and Camille seems to be extra slow to realize this."

"But it doesn't matter, as long as Billy really loves her, sooner or later, he will confess to her, let's not worry about this." Jocelyn continued and added.

Noah nodded, "Okay."

"We just pretend we don't know anything, the relationship is a matter between the two of them, it's not good for us to get too involved." Jocelyn advised.

"Got it."

"Well, you have something to talk to me?" Ryan asked as he leaned lazily against the door and looked at Rosa.

Rosa looked at his beautiful face and choked.

Rosa nodded, "Well, come to talk to you about tomorrow's itinerary."

Ryan walked into the room, "Come in and talk."

Rosa followed and closed the door.

On the sofa, Ryan took the lead and sat down, followed by Rosa who carefully sat beside him and got straight to the point, "Tomorrow at 10am, you will go over to Grand Treasure Plaza, to stand for your endorsed Chanel perfume."

"The stand is for an hour and after that, we need to go to LB Magazine to shoot the cover of the magazine and the inside cover."

"After the shoot, we have to take a plane to M City in F Country for the show."

Rosa finished her report, and added, "If you eat, you need to take time out during working hours."

Ryan nodded slightly.

"In addition, I have checked all the sound equipment for tomorrow's mall, there is no problem, you can sing as much as you want tomorrow." Rosa added.
