Chapter 771 Boss, will you come to watch the finals

It's a message from Alex.

He sent a very simple sentence, "Boss, will you be there for the finals?"

Jocelyn smiled slightly, "Yeah."

Alex, "Good."

After typing one word, there was silence on the other side.

And Jocelyn was silent.

Jocelyn opened Tiktok, intending to swipe Tiktok for a while.

"What time is the S10 World Final?" Noah asked as he rested his hand on her shoulder.

"Saturday in a week and the fight starts at 7pm." Jocelyn said.

"Okay." Noah said softly.

Jocelyn did not speak again, just silently watching the Tiktok.

When she first entered Tiktok, the first video she saw was that of a black Rolls Royce stretch car with dozens of black Mercedes Cayennes racing down the road.

The Mercedes was theirs.

And that Rolls-Royce stretch car, too.

Video with photo, "Poverty limits my imagination, it is said that the Mercedes in the back is full of bodyguards, all protecting the people in the Rolls Royce at the front. Do you have anything to say about this?"

The video is filtered and the sky in the sea town looked extra blue.

And the luxury cars look extraordinarily classy.

The number of likes as well as comments on the video currently stands at a million.

Out of curiosity, Jocelyn clicked on the comment section.

Chapter 772 S10 Emergency Substitute

On her mobile phone screen was a message from the president of the team, Bob.

"Boss, urgent, our team's ADC has just been scalded on the butt by hot water, the burns are serious and it is impossible for him to play in the game at the moment."

"For the grand final, you'll have to go yourself."

Looking at the messages, Jocelyn felt embarrassed.

She would be very busy during this time.

Previously, she had little energy to deal with the company because of her pregnancy-related vomiting.

Plus, having been taking care of Noah, she really had accumulated too much work.

If she were to go back to the S10 finals, she would only accumulate more work.

This finals is different from the previous regular season games she has played on the court.

There is a chance to start again from scratch after a regular season loss.

A regular season win or loss will not shake a team to its foundations.

However, this Worlds Grand Final was a different story.

A loss would mean that the entire team, a whole year's worth of hard work, would have been wasted.

It's really not easy for a team that has made it this far.

There can be no half-measures.

And she, wanting to take part in such a competition, had to take it seriously.

This means that she has to put in ten times more effort than before, and can't just take some of her time to play training matches with the players, as she used to do, a few days before the start of the tournament.

This time, it had to be all hands on deck.

At least, she has to let the family be her side.

"Dad, leave this to me." Noah looked at Scott, faintly said.

"No," Scott retorted and gave Noah a direct blank glance, "I'm telling you, if anything goes wrong with the two babies and my daughter-in-law, I'll really get you killed."

"Is your heart too big?" Allie began to complain.

"Listen to me." Noah insisted, "I have my plans."

After hearing Noah say this, Allie and Scott shut up.

After dropping off Camille in the afternoon, Noah went home with Jocelyn, packed some bags and sent her to the XS team's base.

Once she arrived at the base, she began her intense training with the group.

As the finals approached, the atmosphere throughout the team was tense to the extreme.

Even the nanny who cooks for the team is nervous.

The management of the team, at the base, even speaks carefully, for fear of irritating the players.

In order to avoid others worrying about herself, Jocelyn did not tell anyone about her pregnancy.

When she wanted to rest, just said she was tired.

Time always passes extraordinarily when she is busy.

Before she knows it, it's dinner time.

Jocelyn felt her heart warm.

No wonder, without thinking, he would let her out alone and live on base.

As it turns out, he had plans to do so.

"Oh." said Jocelyn.

"How are you today? Tired or not?" Noah asked.

Jocelyn smiled, "It's okay. I'm sleepy, you hurry up and take a shower and then go to bed."

"Okay."

With those words, Noah kissed her deeply.

About fifteen minutes later, Noah got into bed.

Naturally, she retreated into a warm embrace.

It was a peaceful night's sleep.

For the next few days, Noah was at the base, keeping Jocelyn company.

Time, in a hurry, goes by.

In the blink of an eye, it was the day of the S10 World Finals.

On and off the field, the atmosphere is hot to the core.

Live commentary carried on all the time with passion.

LPL commentator A, "Personally, I'm more optimistic about GRT's lineup, in the late stages, it will be powerful, and, this version of the Orne, in the late stages, you can hardly beat it."

Commentator B, "I am also more optimistic about GRT's lineup, but in fact, XS's lineup is not bad, only that in both are not bad lineup, GRT's lineup is a bit more safe."

Commentator A, "Yes, but on the XS side, it is hard to say, they have taken many unfathomable formations this season, and have won against perfect formations."

Commentary B, "Yes, anyway, see, I'm still more optimistic about GRT's for now"

"Go XS."

"XS go for it."

"Go, GRT. GRT is the best."

The fans of the two teams on the scene were excitedly waving their respective support banners in their hands, constantly shouting and screaming.

The enthusiasm of each and every one of them rose to the top.

Amidst the screams, Noah entered quietly with over two hundred bodyguards.

"Ah. I'm suffocating, this is Noah, right? First time I saw him in person, he's really handsome."

"Ahhhhh. this is the best looking man I've ever seen."

"He's coming, he's coming, he's coming to watch the Jocelyn's game. So sweet."

At this moment, the arena and the field are all in a frenzy.

Jocelyn's wave of manipulation show the crowd scalp tingling.

Jocelyn's teammates, too, have been on the mic, giving her compliments like crazy.

But the person in question, Jocelyn, did not react at all, still looking unperturbed.

What just happened was all calculated by her.

So it was all to be expected that the game would play out this way.

She has seen the most awesome ADC, LPL once the world's number one ADC killed five himself, that is really awesome.

In the midst of the crowd, Noah had been sitting quietly, without too much excitement on his face.

There was just a curve of approval at the corner of his mouth.

And Ryan, likewise.

Taking out his phone, Ryan posted, "My sister-in-law is awesome."

As the top star in the entertainment industry, his Weibo, which had just been posted for less than a second, immediately garnered tens of thousands of comments as well as likes.

[Ahhhhhh, Ryan, I know you're there. I want to see you.]

[Hahahaha. how do I feel Ryan is his sister-in-law fan? It's so cute, Ryan.]

[Ahhhhhhh. Ryan, I am also very good at playing ADC, please praise me.]

[Look at me, I love you.]

Because of the passionate heat of the game, at this moment, Ryan was completely absent of mind and read more of the comment section.

With just a faint sweep, he unlocked the phone with one hand and put it in his pocket.

Soon, he returned his gaze once more to Jocelyn.

At this time, the guide gave a large close-up of Noah.

This match is a BO5 match, which means three out of five.

It also means that they only need to win two more games and they will be safe and sound, taking this year's Global Finals title.

Now that the game has just started and they have won a game with ease, everyone is in a great mood at the moment.

The two brothers, Noah and Ryan, on the stage, had their lips curved up in an arc of approval once again.

After a short break, Jocelyn joined the group and discussed the BP lineup for the next hand.

She then took the group with her and returned to her place.

After sitting down, BP started.

On the XS side, the team picked their lineup.

Top lane Vampire, Wild man Gun, Middle Ritz, Bottom Uphalius + Tam.

And the opposite side settled on their lineup.

The opponent chose, top lane Orne, wild leopard girl, middle demon girl, lower lane EZ+Titan.

The two sides of the lineup, in this version, look indistinguishable.

Soon the game began.

Everyone was tense to the extreme.

This is especially true for fans on GRT's side.

The game opened with a mistake in the middle, going out and forgetting to buy equipment.

And it got killed by opposite mid.

Immediately after, the wild followed the mistake and invaded the opposite field when he was singled out by the opposite wild.

It was a bad start, and at this point, the commentators, as well as the live, in-studio audience, were all sweating for XS.

However, Noah and Ryan were as calm and unperturbed as ever.

LPL commentator A, "I think XS is really at disadvantage, with this lineup, they have to get the advantage in the early stages."

The consecutive victories immediately boosted the morale of the entire XS squad.

In the third set, everyone gave it their all, confidently.

They took the LPL's style of bloody fights and made the most of it.

Three lines were always in the extreme against the line.

Soon XS had the opposition in disarray and their minds were blown.

The ADC and the top singer on the other side had been completely broken because of the number of solo kills by Jocelyn and Alex.

Two people burst into tears.

The big screen on the set also gave them a special close-up.

It made XS fans laugh out loud.

It also broke GRT fans in droves.

By the fifteenth minute of the game, Jocelyn and Alex were leading their players all the way to the top and pushed the opponent's base.

3,0 clean sweep to take the S10 Global Finals.

Not only that, but the fifteen-minute time set a record for the shortest time in an S match.

The two commentators from the LPL region were in tears of emotion.

Commentator A, "We are the champion! The champion of the S10 Global Finals."

Commentator B, "Yes, we are the champion, we are always the champion. This is the third Global Finals title that we have won in the LPL, and now I can proudly announce to the world that we are the number one region in the world. We LPL is always the number one region in the world!"

Commentator A, "This is the third S-League title for the LPL, but the first S-League title for Team XS. This group of players from Team XS can shut up all the people who don't think highly of them with their results."

Commentator B, "Yes, tonight, the whole XS team came together and smacked all the people who didn't think much of them in the face. Fifteen minutes to end a game, they did a miracle!"

offstage, the fans of the XS team jumped and screamed along with the excitement, went straight to the second floor railings and led the crowd in a chant, "XS

And they, soon, will have to take the trophy, back to their base.

Soon the staff on site, took their championship uniforms, to the stage and handed them out to several of them.

The staff helped them to take off the clothes they were wearing and change into their championship uniforms.

The championship dress on Jocelyn, a women's style, was rather plain but was worn in a way that ordinary people could not afford.

Soon, the beautiful host, Flora, walked straight to the edge of the stage and shouted towards them on stage, "Take the trophy, XS."

Jocelyn was the first to place her hands on the trophy.

And the others, together, followed suit, placing their hands on the trophy.

Soon they were together, holding the trophy, lifting the huge trophy above their heads and cheering with gusto.

And the moment they lifted the trophy, golden sequins rained down from the stage.

That golden glow, covered the entire stage, enveloping them all.

The scene was dazzling very much.

After everyone had held the trophy for a while, Jocelyn joined the group and put it down.

Immediately afterwards, Flora came to the group's side.

Flora was wearing a snow white silk high split long gown with a simple pill head, girly air fringes and delicate makeup.

It's just that when Jocelyn stood over, Flora suddenly looked, well, not so beautiful.

She shone so brightly that she dwarfed Flora.

After a long line, Flora congratulated them.

After the interview, Alex carried the trophy straight to the backstage, taking Jocelyn and the others with him.
Although the match was over, the enthusiasm of the crowd did not fade away.
The fans of the XS team are still chanting desperately, "XS is awesome."
Even when a few of them went backstage, Jocelyn could clearly hear the cheers, so ear-splitting and passionate.
After looking at Jocelyn's figure and disappearing from his sight, Ryan got up and left the scene under the escort of his own bodyguards.
He had to leave as soon as possible or he was sure to cause a huge commotion.

In order to escort Ryan, Noah had dispatched over a hundred bodyguards followed him.

Many people at the scene, at this point, were frantically shouting XS is awesome, and didn't bother to look at Ryan.

But there were also some of the girls who ran out in a frenzy, following Ryan.

They followed him as he pushed his way out while shouting, "Ryan, Ryan, you are the best."
