"You're flattering, I'm lucky to be married to a family." Rosa added in a soft voice.

"What a humble and kind girl, I like you so much."

"Since you and Ryan decided to get married, then I will tell you what our family wants from our daughter-in-law."

"Yes, I'm all ears." Rosa subconsciously sat up straight, wanting to listen carefully.

Allie laughed, "Our family has no request."

Rosa froze, "What?"

Allie, "Our family has no requirements, we do not ask you to live with us, after the marriage you can live independently and we will not interfere with you."

"The only thing we ask is that you come home often after the wedding to spend time with us for dinner or whatever."

"It would be nice if you could go out shopping with me more often." Allie added.

Hearing these words, Rosa was instantly more satisfied with her in-laws.

The Mason family dotes on their daughter-in-law, and she knows it.

However, she thought that only a famous woman like Jocelyn could be pampered like that.

She never thought that an ordinary person like her could.

"We will definitely go back to see you both often, and I will always go out shopping with you."

"Well, I have one more request."

"Yes."

"That is, you are not allowed to refuse anything I buy for you. I like to dress up my daughter-in-law beautifully." Allie said again.

Rosa nodded readily, "Okay."

Allie was satisfied and gently stroked Rosa's hair, "Good girl."

"Next, it's you, Ryan." Allie shifted her gaze to Ryan's face.

Chapter 832 Phenomenal Hotspots

"Of course, you're the top of the entertainment world. There are still a bunch of people discussing it at that time in the middle of the night, let alone in the daytime." Just thinking about it made Rosa feel uncomfortable inside.

But now that it's over, there's no point in being upset, so she'll just have to take one step at a time.

Next, it all depends on the company's operations and arrangements.

Taking a deep breath, Rosa tried to enter the Weibo again.

This time, however, it went in.

The whole of Weibo was a million times more lively than it was in the middle of the night.

The topic of her romance with Ryan filled up all the hot searches.

The entire hot search list, as far as the eye can see, is full of her and Ryan's names.

For the first time in her life, Rosa saw such a spectacular image.

What does it mean to be a phenomenal hotspot?

Right in front of her.

Through the list of hot topics, she could already get a general idea of what his fans were talking about right now.

Aside from fans leaving, there were also fans who chose to be blessing.

And Ryan's overseas fans are in the same state at this time.

Ryan's love affair has topped the hot list of many foreign countries.

The current state of her and Ryan is a global concern.

And when she clicked on her own homepage, she saw that all the people she followed on her homepage were also discussing, at this moment, her romance with Ryan.

"Thank you, Rosa, it's nothing, I just want to ask you, when is it convenient for your parents? We will go to your home and meet your parents.

"My parents are both retired and are free whenever they want, it just doesn't have to be such a hassle, does it? When the time comes I'll go home and bring my parents over and then we'll all just meet in Flento City."

It was just as well that she wanted to bring her parents over to spend time with her.

"It's no trouble, no matter what the place is, we can be there by a private jet. Where is your home?"

"Our family is in a small county in our province, called Ice County."

"Then talk to your parents and we'll go over the day after tomorrow, and it just so happens that my husband and I are both free the day after tomorrow."

"Okay."

Rosa nodded.

She was prepared to call her parents to explain these matters when Allie had left.

"And, where do you want to buy a house? Do you have a particular location you like?" Allie added, "Whatever place it is, as long as you like it, you don't have to worry about money."

"The house will be under your name alone." added Allie.

At these words, Rosa once again felt flattered.

The Mason family is good for her.

"No, I think it's fine to live in this house now, I like the sea."

"This house is a bit small." Allie took a disgusted look at everything around her.

"It's not small, I think it's great." Rosa said in a rush.

One was confident, generous and regal, like princess.

The other, on the other hand, has a strong inferiority complex, is timid and cautious, and is just the most ordinary of people.

There's really no comparison between the two of them.

She could feel what Ryan felt in his heart for Jocelyn as she followed him around.

And because of this, she feels even more inferior.

There is not a single place where she is as good as Jocelyn.

Looking at Jocelyn's face, she was struck with a strong sense of doubt.

She wondered what exactly did Ryan feel when faced with a completely inferior significant other to Jocelyn.

Is there a strong sense of disparity?

"I'll do whatever you want." Ryan said.

"First of all, I'm going to arrange a live broadcast for you two, a live broadcast of your routine as a couple, and you must be very sweet."

"To get to the point where people marvel at your love."

"You have to show your fans that you are happy and let them understand, through this broadcast, why you had to choose Rosa. And make everything public when you are at the top of your game."

"The current big data shows that from the time you went public with your relationship until now, the number of your fans who have left is as high as 10 million, but of those 10 million, roughly half of them, are among those who are still pining for you."

"It shows that this part of the world really loves you, and I'm sure if you can show them that you are happy, they can try to understand you."

"Now those fans still remain naturally love you, I believe, this part of the people will still love you when they see you are happy, after knowing Rosa is not so vicious as marketing number analysis."

"In this situation right now, it's impossible to get all of your fans back, but we can try to do it and get most of them back."

Jocelyn continued analysis word for word.

The scene in the studio is more beautiful than a sweet idol drama.

"Get up, didn't we agree to go live?" Ryan whispered softly in her ear.

At this, Rosa instantly came to her senses and sat up.

Seeing the camera, she instantly and covered her face and fled into the bathroom.

Live pop-ups:

[The look on her face when she realizes she's been filmed is hilarious, haha.]

[Actually, if you look at Rosa's face seriously, it's not very stunning, but it's not ugly either. With a good make-up, she should be a beauty.]

After Rosa left, Ryan also took his phone and went into the bathroom.

At this moment Rosa is brushing her teeth in the mirror.

Ryan placed the phone holder next to the sink, making sure they both had access to the camera.

Once everything was ready, he stood next to Rosa.

Rosa had already squeezed the toothpaste onto his electric toothbrush and the water was connected for him.

Naturally, he picked up his toothbrush and cup and started brushing his teeth.

Ryan shows everyone a grounded version of himself, with a grounded love.
Many people, deeply, were attracted to them.

On Weibo, the topic of Ryan's live broadcast is still trending high and is firmly at the top of the hot search.

Many of those have become his fans again.

As for those who were originally in conspiracy theories, have become a fan of Rosa after seeing this live broadcast.

The love affair got public recognition.

Apart from their fans, this wave of their live broadcast has also enlisted countless fans.

Many people who were not followers of the stars were all enamoured by their sweet and grounded routine of being together as a couple.

The number of Ryan's Weibo followers has been rising, but in a day's time, the number of followers that had fallen off has all come back, a joyful achievement that is shocking.

And Rosa's popular recognition in Ryan's fan base has been drifting up, with fans even more intimately calling her sister-in-law.

Her Weibo feed gained a whopping one million followers in one day.

After finishing dinner, Rosa and Ryan nestled on the sofa together and swiped Weibo.

Watching the Weibos, which were getting better by leaps and bounds, the two men were content.

Rosa, in particular, could hardly contain her inner joy anymore.

She skimmed through the Weibo comments and saw that almost all of them were warm and positive.

"I'm going on a business trip tomorrow, abroad for about a week. Is that okay?" Noah asked with a serious face.

Jocelyn nodded readily at once, "Sure."

"It's a job that has to go through, so get some rest while I go and pack my bags." Noah added.

Jocelyn got out of bed as soon as she heard that, "Let me help you."

But Noah stretched his long arms and picked her up horizontally and put her on the bed, "Just rest, I'll be ready in a while."

Jocelyn nodded helplessly.

When she thought that she would be separated from Noah for a whole week, Jocelyn felt a bit sad.

However, she did not show it.

Originally, she wanted to wait for Noah, but instead, she fell asleep in a daze.

While she slept, Noah packed his bags and afterwards went into the bathroom to take a brief shower.

After clearing himself, he made his way to bed.

Looking at the sleeping woman beside him, Noah's heart was instantly filled with a sense of peace and quiet.

Immediately and unconsciously, he lifted his hand and gently stroked her hair before he switched off the light and took her in his arms.

In the haze, feeling someone leaning over, Jocelyn instantly shrank into Noah's arms like an octopus.

A night of peace and no dreams.

The next morning, when Jocelyn opened her eyes, Noah was no longer with her.

When she thought about what the man had said last night, she was lost.

She knew that the man would have been gone by now.

Stretching, she then lazily climbed to her feet.

As soon as she got up, she saw a dozen Hermes bags on the floor next to her bed.

The sudden arrival of the bags filled her eyes with consternation.

Jocelyn immediately bent down, picked up one of the bags and opened it to have a look.

"Stop right there, give me back my wallet." It was an unmistakably mournful woman's voice.

"Dare you say that again." It was an unmistakably cold man's voice.

Hearing the sound, Taylor instantly and pushed his way through the crowd to the side of the road and looked at the source of the sound.

At this moment, in front of himself, about a dozen metres away, a middle-aged, greasy man with a wallet in his hand was slapping a middle-aged, dry, thin woman hard across the face.

The man was very hard and the woman fell straight to the ground as the man slapped her.

Both of these men were known to Taylor.

The female is his niece.

The man, on the other hand, is his niece's husband'.

They live next door to their house.

This man is jobless, but fond of drugs, drinks and gamble.

The two of them have a lovely son who is in junior high school.

For the child's school fees and for the family's living expenses, the woman does a few jobs every day.

But even with her desperate efforts, her family is still at the poverty line.

Because, from time to time, the man would come home and ask for money to gamble, to smoke, to whore, to drink.

If he can't get the money, he beat her hard.

Then the whole family was smashed to pieces and he tried to find money everywhere.

When he found it, he run away and are not at home for ten days and a half.

Seeing this scene, Taylor could guess what had just happened between the two of them.

The middle-aged man said again, and started laughing.

The crowd is growing.

Many people, all on the sidelines, witnessed the farce.

With these words, the middle-aged man continued to punch and kick his wife.

Having had enough of beating up women, he began to punch and kick Taylor.

He struck, harder and harder, without any semblance of humanity.

People around, who couldn't stand to watch, started calling the police.

Some, moreover, went straight forward and pulled the man away.

After being pulled away, the man struggled while pointing at the woman and Taylor and cursing, "Didn't you guys say that Rosa's boyfriend is a big shot? I'm not leaving today, I'm waiting here for that so called big shot boyfriend to teach me a lesson. Hahaha. Two pieces of shit."

Taylor's body was aching at this point.

The pain was so intense that his eyes went black, and he was so angry that he still couldn't do anything.

He felt like he like a boiler that was overstressed and about to explode.

And beside him, the middle-aged woman, likewise.

"What a scumbag."

"That's right, how can you beat your own wife and your elders like that?"

"Cut the crap, this is a notorious hooligan in our area, whoever messes with him is out of luck."

The people around couldn't help but start whispering.

A sharp pain in his abdomen hit him and once again, Taylor spat out a mouthful of blood.
