Chapter 911 Is it too much to lose (1)

Compared to the nervousness and anticipation in the eyes of the crowd, Jocelyn looked calm and composed.

Looking at Jocelyn like that, Bella couldn't help but curse in her heart.

She really didn't know what, in the end, Jocelyn was pretending to be.

It doesn't matter, soon enough, Jocelyn can't pretend anymore!

When he saw the crowd, Hector's eyes were filled with excitement and shock.

There was even a touch of panic.

The look on Hector's face made Bella's mind more and more ready.

Bella immediately took the lead and walked up to Hector's face, eyes full of anticipation, and opened her mouth to ask, "Is there nothing underneath?"

Hector didn't pay any attention to Bella, he just ran to Jocelyn panting for breath.

And Hector's silence made Bella even more certain that there was nothing down there.

Bella then took the lead to stand in front of Jocelyn, hands naturally folded in front of her chest, "Really nothing is there. Jocelyn, kneel down, call me mother, good daughter."

With those words, Bella flicked her long, slim, red, diamond-encrusted nails, which she had just had done.

The arrogance and smugness under her eyes was almost overflowing.

Such an image made Jocelyn's eyes tingle beyond belief.

Jocelyn, however, did not move her voice, However, letting her gaze bypass Bella and fixing it on Hector's face behind Bella, "How is it, Hector?"

"Look at his frightened look, don't you understand? Must he say that there is nothing, before you are willing to believe?" Bella coldly snorted, "Don't stall for time, hurry up."

Jocelyn, however, did not pay any attention to Bella and just continued to look at Hector's face.

Anyway, no matter what, Bella was ashamed today.
She really regretted what she had just done.
Why is it that every time, God always leaves good things all for Jocelyn?

What the hell is Jocelyn?

Taking a deep breath, Bella lowered her head, her face suffocating in a flush.

At this point, she really had no choice but to leave or stay.

"What's the matter? Too much to lose, Bella?" asked Jocelyn in a soft voice as she and gently flicked her long nails.

Her voice is soft, but her aura is strong.

Obviously without any expression, it was an easy task, overpowering Bella.

Bella had nothing to say.

And all those bodyguards around them, who were Jocelyn's bodyguards, couldn't look away.

One by one, they began to speak up, blaming Bella and helping Jocelyn out -

"What a loser."

"That's right, you have the agreement to get down on your knees and call Miss Murphy mother? What's wrong? Want to backtrack?"

"It's OK to backtrack, then you can do what you said and eat shit live."

"If you're not capable of bearing the consequences, then why on earth did you pretend just now? Didn't it ever occur to you that you might lose?"

The bodyguards' words made Bella feel even more groundless.

At this point, Bella felt like a joke on earth.

Bella was instantly annoyed and stomped her foot fiercely, raising her head and looking at the bemused Jocelyn.

The more bashful Jocelyn is, the angrier she gets.

But at this time, she can do nothing but has impotent rage.

Bella is really suffocating.

Growing up, she was really rarely insulted by others.

All the humiliating moments are almost always related to Jocelyn again.

She felt that Jocelyn was really her nemesis.

"Jocelyn, don't go too far." Bella gritted her teeth and looked at Jocelyn and scolded.

Jocelyn frowned slightly and continued to flick her nails before placing her gaze on Bella's face, "I wouldn't like to hear it. You lose in your bet, how can it be going too far?"

"Wasn't that your own proposal? What? Now you know it's too much?" Jocelyn's voice went colder and colder.

She really resented Bella.

So she don't even want to give Bella a good look.

"That's right. You brought it up yourself and now biting back, are all the Stewart family members so shameless?"

"You're right about that, isn't everyone in the Stewart family like that? They don't have good character."

"Yeah, whenever the Stewart family is in the news, then there is really very little positive energy. All scandals. tsK tsK."

Jocelyn's bodyguards addressed Bella.

Their words seemed like poison to Bella, making her ache.

Bella then clenched her fists tightly and looked coldly at those bodyguards who were laughing at her, "Aren't you afraid that when I go back, I'll find someone to break your legs?"

"You can try," Jocelyn spoke faintly.

There's a dungeon down there now waiting for her.

At this moment, she didn't want to waste too much energy on Bella either.

After all, time is precious.

Issac continued to insist, "How about this, if you have to go down, then I'll accompany you. I'm knowledgeable about this, too. I can't let you go down alone."

Bodyguard A, "I'll go down with you too. Miss Murphy, we can't watch you go and put yourself in danger and do nothing."

Bodyguard B, "That's right, I'll go too. If there's any danger, I can die for you."

Bodyguard C, "I'm going too. I'm going to die in Miss Murphy's place too."

They have been following Jocelyn for all these days and have long been deeply attracted and conquered by Jocelyn's character.

Once upon a time protecting Jocelyn was a task, now protecting Jocelyn is where the heart is.

She's so wonderful, she should live well.

Soon, the other bodyguards, too, all immediately took a stand.

One by one, they all said they would die for her.

Jocelyn was inwardly moved.

Instead, she just smiled helplessly and said, "Okay, everyone take it easy. I'll be fine, I promise."

Issac, "How can you guarantee that when things are so unpredictable down there?"

Jocelyn, "Anyway, I insist. No one follow me, that's an order."

With those words, Jocelyn took the lift down the shaft and started moving towards the location of the shaft, despite the people's persuasion.

Not even giving them any chance to react.

After Jocelyn left, the bodyguards, and Hector and those of their staff, as well as Issac, were worried to the core.

Only Bella was full of relief.

She pulled out a cigarette from Shabbie pocket, and then lit, leisurely sitting on top of a large stone aside, crossed her legs, while smoking, while watching the show.

Hector frowned deeply, "I do not know what will happen."

Issac, "She's really too stubborn."

Bella took a deep drag on her cigarette and laughed out loud happily.

Chapter 915 Countless Strange and Exotic Treasures

The other room is equally full of exotic treasures.
Even more so than in the room at the entrance just now.
Before she could admire the treasures, countless cold arrows were fired from all directions.
Although it is known that it cannot hurt her.
But at this moment, Jocelyn's heart was still in her throat.
She shot up and looked around.
All the cold arrows brushed past her perfectly.
After grazing her shoulder, it shot straight into a gap in the stone of the wall next to it.
After ten consecutive minutes of firing cold arrows, the world finally fell silent.
Jocelyn opened her perspective eyes to confirm that those cold arrows had completely finished firing, she then stood up in peace, and then walked straight into the front room.
In this room, in addition to luminous pearls, gold, jade and precious stones, there is an assortment of antique vases of various shapes.
She didn't have time to take a closer look before she crossed right over those things and went to another wall before continuing the way she had just done.
And just like that, the walls opened up again.
The cold arrow, too, once again brushed perfectly against her.

And she saw something else in the other room.

The contents of the other room were mostly gold bars, and various rare jades and pearls.

And of course there are night pearls.

The night jewels in this room were even larger than the ones she had seen before.

All of them are of the kind that, with a diameter of four metres, are luminous pearls.

She counted them carefully and there were eight of them.

Seeing this, Jocelyn could not hold back her excitement any longer.

Chapter 916 How to end it

Bella was quiet for a moment.

After about a few seconds, Bella then looked at Shabbie next to her and added in an air tone, "Just watch, she's definitely going to die."

Shabbie then kept nodding his head in compliment, not even daring to retort.

Bella, on the other hand, had a smug look on her face.

"Why don't you get lost?" A bodyguard saw that Bella hadn't left yet, and then chided.

Looking at the face of Bella, he felt like punching it.

Bella immediately curbed her smug face and said, "Can't I sit here?"

I'm going to sit here and watch the corpse of Jocelyn.

"Get out of here. You're not welcome here, it's annoying to see you." the bodyguard added.

Instead, Bella just stood up but had no intention of leaving.

The bodyguard didn't bother to continue to tangle with her, so he just turned away.

Bella snorted again in triumph and cheerfully set her eyes on the deep, bottomless well.

Issac, with a depressed face, looked at the mouth of the well, sighed, "Hope she will be fine. "

Bella added in her mind, "I hope something happens to Jocelyn, God, please do grant my wish."

And it was at this time that the sound of the lift starting up rang out.

The sudden buzzing sound attracted everyone's attention.

And those who had been worrying about Jocelyn, in an instant, all put their hanging hearts down.

Under each of their eyes, excitement was written all over them.

Only Bella, at this moment, suddenly felt lost.

All those hopes were dashed.

The huge contrast in emotions caused Bella to be a bit overwhelmed for a moment.

Receiving Jocelyn's gaze, Bella for a moment felt even more humiliated.

Bella frowned deeply and stood up directly, looking at bodyguard C and denied, "I didn't say that. Which of your ears heard that?"

Bodyguard C, "Got the guts to say it but not the guts to admit it?"

Bodyguard D, "I heard it too. I heard it with both ears, Bella, get down on your knees."

Jocelyn did not intervene and just let the bodyguards pick on Bella.

She felt no sympathy for Bella's plight.

She, Jocelyn, had never been a saintly mother, and had no need to pity people who had hurt her and could not wait for her to die.

Bella shut up, dumbfounded.

Taking a deep breath again, she stammered and said, "I am wrong, okay? Besides, I just talk to Shabbie casually, this is Shabbie say it weather to screw or not screw down my head."

Shabbie shielded Bella behind her and said, "Yes, yes., I don't need her head."

Looking at the two of them, the bodyguards then gave them a blank stare.

Bodyguard A, "You dare not admit it."

Bodyguard B, "Yeah, since you know you can't afford the consequences, so don't just speak up."

Bodyguard C, "What a disgrace to the Stewart family."

Every word was again like a slap in the face, hitting Bella unmercifully.

Bella was once again annoyed.

Yet there is no nerve to continue to pick them on.

After leaving the door, Noah leaned lazily against the wall, and then waited with a serious face for Jocelyn to speak.
Over the phone, Jocelyn told Noah everything that she had just encountered.
And she said she would send the picture to Noah.
Listening to Jocelyn's graphic descriptions, Noah's eyes already had images in front of him.
However, the more he listened to Jocelyn, the colder his expression became.
He was silent, while, Jocelyn kept talking.
After saying that, Jocelyn saw that she couldn't receive a response anymore, and then she had a question, "Honey? Are you listening?"
Jocelyn, on the other side of the phone, is now halfway up a mountain in the middle of nowhere, lazily leaning against a pine tree.
There was no one around, so she could say whatever she wanted.
Noah frowned deeply, "Yes."
Jocelyn, "So why don't you say something?"

Noah, "Jocelyn."

The tone of the man's voice was serious to the core.

This tone of voice made Jocelyn become serious.

She knew at once what Noah was thinking at that moment.

Just don't wait for her to speak, Noah said directly, "Jocelyn, you are not allowed to do such a dangerous thing again."

Jocelyn nodded obediently, "I know. it's actually not dangerous, mainly because I can see everything, so I go down."

Noah frowned more deeply again, "Even so, you can't do that. Although you can see, you are taking a risk. What if you move slow and accidentally get hurt? Have you thought about the consequences?"

"And did you know that you're pregnant yourself? In case something happens to you, you will all die."

It's true that Jocelyn didn't think that much about it.

After about an hour had passed, an entire division of the city of Blue Mountain, on one military helicopter after another, arrived at the mining area where Jocelyn was.

A large number of military helicopters were deployed at the same time, attracting many people's attention at once.

The topic #Blue Mountain City Military Helicopter# instantly made it to the number one spot on Weibo's Hot 100.

The netizens have had a heated debate about this.

[You know what? Today in Blue Mountain City, there are many, many military helicopters, all of which are said to be coming from the Blue Mountain City Military District.]

[Crap, so many military helicopters at once all together, is something big happening?]

[Each helicopter is said to be filled with soldiers, numbering up to a division.]

[Is there a war on?]]

[This would never have been possible to mobilize so many soldiers if it wasn't a major event.]

[Agree with most people, something big must have happened because it's not anything that can make the top mobilize a division.]

And the person in question, Jocelyn, knows nothing about it all.

Once all the people she wanted had arrived at their destination, they stood in a quick line, striding neatly, in front of Jocelyn.

The number of people was so large that it took up, almost, half of the hill.

The leader, who was standing at the front, walked up to Jocelyn.

Before he could say anything, Jocelyn stood straight up and then saluted in a dignified manner towards him.

He then returned the salute.

Because of their arrival, the whole atmosphere of the hill became serious.

One by one they stood straight.

The other experts who had DSLR cameras around their necks started taking pictures like crazy at this point.

They took pictures while marveling at.

"Oh my God, I'm really stunned. What kind of divine image is this?"

"So many luminous pearls. My goodness, it's the first time I've seen them."

"What a dignified and peerless figure should a woman with such a graveyard be?"

"Any random object here is worth a fortune when taken out!"

Compared to others, Jocelyn, who has already seen it twice, is not so excited at this time.

Although not thrilled, inside, she was joyful.

After taking out her mobile phone and taking another shot, Jocelyn then placed her gaze on the night pearl, before opening her own see-through eyes.

Soon she saw it, the process of making that night pearl.

After penetrating the night pearl, she went straight on to penetrate some of the other things.

She can see exactly how other things are made.

By what one sees, the workers are dressed, and the images of various things being made, all belong to Egyptian culture.

Next, Jocelyn took a selective look through the others.

The same is true of everything else.

So, nowadays, Jocelyn can be sure that everything here is basically an object belonging to Egyptian culture.

It is really worth a lot of money if it belongs to Egyptian culture.

At this moment, Corey was holding a fine gold mask in one hand and a thick magnifying glass in the other, seriously examining it.

The more he surveyed, the more Corey's gaze looked stunning.
