

Legendary FBI Detective Chapter 13

Chapter 13 Come out to mix, talk about power, have a background

"You bought too much, man."

Ryder ate five packs of breakfast in one go, drank a sip of coffee, and then said to Roan who was cleaning the desk not far away:

"Our No. 5 investigation team has just been established, August is the team leader, Lacey and I are the senior agents in charge of field operations, five office agents in charge of technical support, plus you and the new little girl , there are only ten people in total."

Other investigation teams started with twenty people.

"I also reported on the first day, and I don't know that these things are normal."

Wiping his own desk clean, Roan sat down on the chair, pointed to the empty office, and pointed to the clock at the front of the office, and asked doubtfully:

"It's already half past eight, why are there only two of us in the office?"

"Because Augustus won't come to work before nine o'clock, he won't come, and we don't need to come too early."

It wasn't Ryder who answered. The door of the office area was pushed open, and a white woman with a protruding front and back, long brown hair, and blurry eyes walked in, wearing a casual suit.

Seeing the breakfast woman on the table, her eyes lit up, she picked up one and started eating, then closed her eyes and explained to Roan:

"Thank you for the breakfast, Roan."

Seeing the woman falling asleep on the table while eating, Roan was very surprised. Is this also a member of the No. 5 investigation team?

Tilting his head to look at Ryder, Ryder shook his head, walked to Roan and explained in a low voice:

"She is the senior agent Lacey I told you just now, a lesbian. Looking at the situation, she should have gone to a bar in Manhattan last night to hunt for sex."

Roan was silent for a moment, tilted his head and asked:

"The consumption of bars in Manhattan is not low, and the salary of a senior agent is just that little. Where does she get the money?"

Roan only wants to make money, and other things have nothing to do with him.

"Forehead."

Hearing Roan's question, Ryder was silent for a moment and said with a distorted expression:

"Lacey never spends money when she goes out to play, it's those women who pay her."

Roan: "."

It seems that you can try it yourself?

The time slowly reached around 8:50, and people finally began to enter the office one after another.

After receiving the breakfast, everyone's favor towards Luo An is +10. Looking up and looking at Luo An's ordinary handsome face, the favorability instantly +50.

So much so that Augustus was very surprised when he brought Mona into the office area, because he found that everyone in the office was chatting very happily with Roan.

Except for Lacey, she's still sleeping.

"It seems that everyone knows our No. 1 newcomer Roan."

He slapped the table vigorously to wake up Lacey, Augustus stood at the front of the office, pointed to Mona on his right and said:

"This is our No. 2 newcomer, official agent Mona. We will work together in the future."

crackling—

There was a burst of applause, and Augustus waved his hand to signal to everyone what to do, and then called Roan and Mona to the team leader's office.

"This is the official document for the two of you."

Sitting behind the desk, Augustus threw two folders to the two, motioned for the other to sign his name, and then continued:

"After the park murder case is solved, the bonus of the New York Journalists Association and the reward for the murderer will total 55,000 U.S. dollars, which will be distributed together with your salary this weekend. You two will discuss how to divide it."

"Thank you, sir."

Roan and Mona looked at each other, and both saw the joy in each other's eyes.

Seeing that Roan was not so happy when he heard the news that he had become a regular, Augustus pouted, took out another document from under the desk, and said:

"Last night, during the process of entering Conrad's identity information, it was accidentally discovered that he was also related to the murder of a state congressman a few years ago, and that state congressman was also killed by him."

Luo An froze for a moment, then thought of something, with a surprised expression on his face.

"I just said that your brain is as smart as mine, and it turns very fast."

Augustus chuckled, handed the document to Roan, and said:

"Yes, there is also a reward for the murder of the congressman, which is a full half a million dollars."

"Half a million dollars?"

Hearing the news, Mona's eyes turned into flashlights.

But hearing such a large amount of reward, Roan calmed down instead, put the folder back on Augustus's desk, and said to Augustus with a smile:

"This is too much money."

After hearing Roan's words and seeing the calm smile on Roan's face, the smile on Augustus' face became wider and wider, and finally he slapped the table fiercely:

"Fu-k! I like you more and more now! Roan!"

"I believe in the officer, the officer will never treat me badly."

Roan gave Augustus a small compliment.

Seeing that Mona was still in a daze, Augustus picked up the document and explained slowly:

"The murder of a state congressman is not our responsibility. Although we caught the murderer, the investigation team in charge of that case has also put in a lot of effort, especially the original team leader, who is now the director of the Washington headquarters."

Roan nodded, Mona was silent, but she also nodded hesitantly after seeing Roan nodded.

Seeing that both of them understood what they meant, Augustus was very satisfied and continued:

"But after all, we caught the murderer, and there is still some hard work. The team leader Vernis thought twice and decided to allocate a special fund to our No. 5 investigation team starting next month, which will last for three months."

Seeing that Mona looked a little nervous, Roan was still as calm as before. Augustus admired Roan more and more, and laughed:

"The two of you are the main detectives who caught the murderer Conrad, and the bonus will be distributed at the end of this month, 30,000 US dollars each."

The gap between 500,000 and 30,000 is a bit big, and Mona's expression changed.

Roan nodded very calmly, and laughed:

"Thank you, sir, I knew he would not treat me badly."

"Okay, you go out after the matter is finished."

Augustus waved his hand, signaling the two to leave the office, and then said seriously before Roan left the office:

"Handle the case well, Roan, Vernis appreciates you very much, your future is better than mine."

"Okay sir, thank you sir."

The smile on Roan's face was even better.

Come out to hang out, you must have influence, and you must talk about your background.

What if there is none?

Of course it's a thigh hug.

The two sat back at their workstations. Mona thought for a long time, and suddenly slapped her hands, startling Lacey who was sleeping next to her.

"What's wrong?"

Lacey opened her eyes in confusion, Mona hurriedly tidied up the uniform on Lacey, and comforted her in a low voice:

"It's okay, it's okay, it's just a bug, you go to sleep first."

"OK."

Lacey nodded, turned her face to one side, and closed her eyes again.

Mona took a deep breath, suppressed the restlessness in her heart, slowly moved to Roan's side, and said in a low voice:

"Roan, let's have dinner together tonight, I invite you."

Seeing Roan looking at him in surprise, and then his eyes gradually became strange, Mona immediately crossed her hands on her chest, and said seriously:

"NO, I just simply invite you to eat to express my gratitude. I am not feeling well these days, and it is not suitable."

"Physical discomfort?"

Roan nodded, then shook his head decisively:

"That's not going."

Mona: "."

Ask for collection! Ask for collection! Ask for collection!
