

Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Book-2

Chapter 11

/ Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Novel
Chapter 11-Book 2

###WARNING Language topics###

Jack was sitting at their fire watching Nova, the firelight made her look even more lovely. He scooted closer to her hoping that she wouldn't get alarmed. He just couldn't help it, he needed to be close to her.

When she looked at him so close to her he expected rejection, instead, there was warmth in her eyes. Perhaps she is as affected as he was. Maybe he should risk just a little bit more. He reached around and pulled her into his side. She at first stiffened up and he thought he crossed a line.

She settled down though and snuggled closer. He smiled. Go slow Jack, go slow. Her scent though was driving him crazy. Nova wasn't sure what she was feeling at the moment. She knew she just met this guy under less than normal circumstances, but at the same time, she was so attracted to him. He smelled wonderful.

He seemed to be unsure as well because he keeps making little moves and then pulling back. Then repeats them like he was testing the fences.

She was a little new to this but she doubted he was, perhaps it was their circumstances that were causing the trouble.

She didn't want him to think she was easy or a slut. She saw enough slut stuff working at the motel. Cabin 1 was just for that very thing, it was the only cabin you could rent for an hour. They had a regular there, they called her easy elly. They didn't know her real name, only what the men she brings there call her. They thought she was a prostitute but they found out later that she was giving it away for free.

With all this running around in her mind plus all the shit from the last couple of days, heck if she was honest with herself, the last couple of years.

She wanted more than anything to kiss him, she just wanted him to be the one to start. She wanted to know that he at least liked her before she started anything. That and she was afraid her lack of experience would turn him off.

Still, now that he had his arm around her, she started to think that he felt the same way she did after all.

Nova turned her head to look up at him, he was a handsome devil like something from the cover of a romance novel. Long sandy blond hair, those eyes like the sky in the morning. She could get lost in those.

He was staring back at her, he moved his face closer to hers with a little smirk on his lips. The next thing she knew was he was kissing her. At first, it was light kinda tentative then his tongue found its way inside her mouth and he was exploring. O

She started to feel like she was getting hot and tingles went all over her body and settled in her center. She moaned and he increased the intensity of the kiss. His arms were around her, she wasn't sure how but she was now sitting in his lap.

He stopped suddenly and pulled away, picked her up, and set her back down on the log they were sitting on. She was confused, he didn't like kissing her? Had she done something wrong?

Jack looked over at Nova expecting her to be pissed, instead, he could see that she was about to cry. He ran his hand through his hair and sat back down next to her.

"Don't you think for one moment that I didn't enjoy that kiss? The truth is I want you bad, if that kiss would have continued I would have taken your virginity right here in the dirt and I don't want that for your first time."

"What if I told you I wasn't a virgin?"

"Sorry sweetheart but if that kiss didn't give you away, all the blushing you were doing earlier did."

"I will go and set up my sleeping space then, thank you Jack for having me come with you. I am not sure how things would have turned out if I continued alone."

"Nova, from the day we met, was the first day, that you would never be alone again."

With that, she went over to her pack, got out a small sleeping bag, a tarp and a small hand saw. She went over to the far end of camp, cut some little branches of the old pine tree, she then took the tarp, and then came back for the sleeping bag.

Once she was inside her little shelter he couldn't see her at all, Brutus gave the air a sniff, He couldn't smell her either. She was smart and clever their soul mate.

He wasn't going to sleep tonight, he was going to sit by the fire on guard duty then Brutus will take over just enc before dawn. Then they are going to gather up all this stuff and get the hell back to his clan.

Agent David practically dragged Kathy to his car and then into cabin three. She didn't say a word. That told him a few possible things, she was so used to abuse that this was a normal thing or she was so scared that she just shut down.

After locking the door he sat her on one of the chairs in the room. He took a good look at her, he had seen this stuff before. He is going to have to get her to a more sober state to get some answers, he can't let her get too sober though or she will start going into withdrawals.

What happened to her, this was not the same woman he slept with, and thought that there could be more. She was hardly anything at all. Pasty looking pale skin, she was skin and bones. Even her hair was different in the fact that it lacked any kind of luster.

He didn't know her so much after all.

He sighed.... "Well shit, this is a turn in the road he didn't see coming."

She didn't appear to be too aware of him but he knew she was watching him. He watched her right back, causing the tension in the room to spike to uncomfortable levels.

"What are you doing here David?"

"What am I doing here? I work for the FBI remember? I am here cause I was sent here to investigate all the missing people.

She went pale at hearing that, could she know something about that? Perhaps her wonderful husband has had his hands in the cookie jar so to speak.

"Why did you leave Kathy?"

"I left your sorry ass because, after two weeks, I was bored with it. Your high and mighty job made it so you have to keep up a goody two-shoe image. I was not into that, I wanted to explore and see what was out there for me."

"Yes, Kathy, I can see how life turned out for you, what was the matter? Too much fun?"

"That is not true, after I had November I had a lot of fun and men. When she was older I decided that it was time to settle down. I got married and we have a good life."

"Oh, you had a daughter with your so wonderful husband, I feel sorry for the poor girl. Didn't see her in the house, was her room, the room with the smashed window?"

"My life is none of your business, I have been happily settled down with my family, I have been married for 10 years now. My daughter is now nineteen almost twenty and is working at the motel, she will do well one day. I don't see that any of this is your business."

He stared at her, did he hear what he thought he heard.

"Who is your daughter's father Kat?"

"That is not your concern asshole."

He grabbed her by her hair and held her head up to look at him, I have no intention of hurting you, but if it is the only language you understand then so be it. end sys To "Is she, my daughter?"

"It is not like you can take her away from me now anyway, the little bitch ran off. That is where my husband is right now chasing her down."

He tugged her hair again, this time she winced.

"IS SHE MY DAUGHTER?"

"YES, DAMN YOU SHE IS YOUR DAUGHTER!"

He let her go and went back to his seat. He was dumbstruck, he had a daughter. Suddenly that empty feeling he always had was gone. Oh, my god I am a father.

"Why did you keep her from me, you know I would have helped with whatever you needed. Money, schooling everything. Why?"

"Why?"

"David I wanted to keep her for myself, if you found out you could have taken her from me. As it turned out she was very useful to me. It even landed me my husband."

"What? She was useful to you, can you hear yourself talk you selfish bitch?"

God he never used violence or bad words if he could help it around women and children. There was something with the vibes or whatever coming off Kathy though that was making him pissed off.

In a very low and quiet voice, he asked.....

“Kathy, did you abuse or let others abuse my daughter?”

“Your daughter? How the hell is she “Your daughter? How the hell is she your daughter? You didn’t even know who she was till just now.”

“I said she was my daughter, you terrible woman, because from the way it sounds, she was never yours. The way you talk, she is some sort of tool you use.”

Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Book-2

Chapter 12

/ Fates Hands by Lori Ameling

Chapter 12-Book 2

#####WARNING Sex and Language*#####

James finally found a trail, it was barely there but he could follow it with his Bear’s nose. He picked up another scent too it was another male bear. The damn bastard was a grizzly.

The scent was mixed with Nova’s, she is definitely with another male, he wondered if she knew of shifters. Even her mother didn’t know about that. So she is slutting herself out to other shifters.

When he catches her he is going to make her pay and pay. Though the thought of confronting a grizzly was a daunting task. He would not come out on the good end of it. Especially if there were other grizzlies around.

At least he would have surprise on his side. If that stupid grizzly was leaving this great of a trail, it is obvious that he doesn’t know about James. He would have to be quick though, the only way to beat a grizzly as a black bear was to be quick.

He should have no trouble though, he is an experienced killer after all.

FBI Agent David was not proud of himself right now, by pulling her hair like that, he was no better than the others who had abused her. He was so messed up inside right now. He has a daughter 19-year-old daughter who he has never seen before.

He felt cheated that he did not get to know her growing up, he felt angry for the environment that she had to grow up in. Then to know that that piece of crap is out there trying to hunt her down, for god knows what.

After everything he had found out, he called headquarters to report in and ask for assistance. They were going to send three more agents down to help, two will be undercover the other will be his partner. Joe Cosin, Joe was like him, old school.

The other two will be a husband and wife undercover type deal. They will rent one of the cabins as well and they will set up a makeshift headquarters there.

Kathy will be transported secretly to the jail in the next town over for holding as a "federal witness".

Till she was properly charged with her crimes, along with the other two.

Agent David knew it was time to visit some grizzlies and see what they know or can do about all this backwoods crap.

One thing is for sure, he is going to find his daughter and make sure that asshole never touches her again. He is going to make it so he won't be thinking about her either.

He hoped that she would want him in her life. He wouldn't blame her if she didn't, but he hoped that wouldn't be so. He wanted more than anything to have a family. He all but gave up that dream though as he got older. Now though he had hope. 2

Nova fell asleep pretty easily, she was pretty exhausted, she fell asleep to images of Jack undressing to show her his bear. He was showing her something bare alright.

She started to dream that James was pretty exhausted, she fell asleep to images of Jack undressing to show her his bear. He was showing her something bare alright.

She started to dream that James was pulling her out from under the tree, only James was a big black bear. She was kicking him fighting him with all she had and then his face was right next to hers...

"Hello, Nova my dear, did you miss me?"

She started screaming and couldn't stop, she felt shaking and then the sensation of being pulled out from under her tree by way of the tarp. Someone was calling her name...

("NOVA!!!! Wake up Nova, come on sweetie it's just a nightmare, come back to me. Nova, come on it's alright whatever is there is just a dream. "Wake up!"

She woke up crying into a massive soft yet hard naked chest. Enclosed in warm strong arms. She couldn't have gotten any closer to him unless she wore him as underwear

They stayed like that for only moments, it felt like forever. Nova couldn't help herself, she reached up and pulled his head down to hers, and kissed him. It quickly turned into something much more, something wild and hot.

Just as they ended that kiss and started a deeper passionate kiss. Thunder roared throughout the sky as it started to pour. It didn't matter both were lost to the passion that was ignited from within.

They both felt like a cord was tied between them, making them one. Before either realized they were both naked in the rain.

Jack shifted so Nova was on top of him, She was a goddess. As lightning hit from above he could see her eyes were dilated the once bright green was dark as the shadows in the deep woods, as the rain ran down her body in all the right places.

He knew she was a virgin, however, neither of them was thinking at that moment. So in one swift thrust, he was inside her as far as she could take him. She let out a scream of pain and pleasure. He went still while she adjusted to his size. 4

When she wiggled and tried to move upon his shaft, he grabbed her hips and helped her move up and down in fast pace strokes, driving them both to new heights in the heavens.

She threw her head back with a scream of pleasure as Jack caressed her wet breasts, her hair was so wet from the rain it made its own waterfall. Jack had never in his life seen anything so perfect, so beautiful as his little goddess.

They were both soaked and a little muddy, Jack rolled her so she was under him. He kissed her everywhere, left hickeys everywhere too. She was his he didn't care if others saw them.

Werebears mark each other as the wolves do, just not in the same place. Werebears mark each other high up on the inner thigh. She wasn't ready for that yet. Soon though, now that they have gone this far as crazy as it seems. Jack wasn't going to wait too long before claiming her completely.

They stood up and laughed when they looked at each other, Jack picked up Nova and they went into the forest.

"I know this nice little place, we could go for a swim and clean ourselves es

She started laughing again.

"I guess this means that we both like it dirty."

They were both laughing as they reached a little pool where the stream widened out. It was perfect.

They swam for a little bit to remove the mud. By that time the storm had passed and the moon was out peeking from behind the remaining clouds. Nova looked at Jack, he was standing in the middle of the pool, it was up to his lower abdomen.

Nova shivered a little bit, he had the body of a god. For some reason even though it has been almost two whole days since she knew him, she felt that he was hers and hers alone.

She also entertained the thoughts of how slutty she was feeling. Jeessh *Nova you could of at least got dinner

She did get dinner before hand.

He came up to her and picked her up into his arms, they were heading back to camp.

"Your shivering my goddess, lets get back to camp and get dry. Then if you're willing, I think we need to leave sooner than later. Brutus my bear is uneasy, that for sure means it's time to leave."

"The way we are going to travel is going to sound strange to you, but it will be faster. After we pack up camp, I am going to shift into Brutus and you are going to ride him to where my bike and trailer is waiting."

Nova didn't know quite what to think about that.

"I don't know Jack, my pack is pretty heavy. Won't that be too much for a bear to carry?"

Jack gave a little laugh at her question.

"Not at all goddess. Just hold on tight and Brutus will see us out quickly."

With that they packed up camp, Jacks stuff was stashed away in a tree trunk, Nova put on her pack again. Jack took off his clothes and put them inside Nova's pack and before she could blink there stood a bear before her.

He was a giant of a bear, golden brown fur tipped with silver. He did a little dance as he approached her, then laid down so she could climb up on him.

When she was settled Brutus stood up and at first went really slow so she could get used to his movements. The he picked up speed Nova held on as tight as she could. 2

It was then that she heard Jack's voice in her mind, relax my little goddess, Brutus will not let you fall. He says that you should feel loved, no one has ever ridden him before. 4

Well not like this anyway, we won't count all the children back at the clan.

Nova had to admit it was definitely something she had never thought she would experience, riding on the back of a huge grizzly bear, not to mention the fact that this bear was just a little while ago a god of a man she gave herself to.

Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Book-2

Chapter 13

/ Fates Hands by Lori Ameling

Chapter 13-Book 2

Sheriff Avery was livid, how dare that asshole go chasing after that girl at a time like this. FBI was in the neighborhood and Avery could tell that this wasn't some young inexperienced idiot that they usually send.

No, this guy knows what he is doing and knows how to see things as well as get information. God only knows what those people in town told him. Avery made note of every last one he recognized and planned to pay them all a little visit when this blows over.

Right now though he was going to have to get to his house and start getting rid of some evidence. Tonight he is going to have a bonfire. If he can't find that moron James, then he is going to have to get rid of Kathy, she knows way too much.

If they got her to talk, she could tell them almost everything, including where the body parts are hidden and the money.

Nope afraid dear old Kathy was going to meet up with an accident. Not that anyone would be surprised about it, she has had several drunken accidents that landed her in the ER.

As far as Kathy's daughter is concerned Avery didn't think she would care too much either, that girl was not a fool, though she didn't know the exact details of all the things going on. She would have had to be blind to not know something.

Avery suspected that James could keep her on a leash though. If not well there is always room for one more in the pile.

Nova and Brutus were coming to a clearing, it was a small clearing it was also surrounded by a fence, on the opposite side was a small building with double doors, the doors were locked.

Brutus stopped and lay down, a signal for her to get off. She stood up a little sore from riding Brutus for two hours in the dark and from the other activities. It was just starting to get light, though the sun wasn't above the horizon yet.

Before she knew it she was looking at a very naked Jack, she couldn't help it he was gorgeous. He gave her a smirk when he caught her looking.

"You can look all you want my goddess, it is all yours." 4

He walked behind her and took his clothes and boots out of her backpack. Half dressed he unlocked the storage house. Where he hid that key was anyone's guess, Nova thought with a smile.

With both doors open he lit an oil lamp. There before her was a motorcycle. In the corner was a little covered trailer, Jack walked over to it and pulled it to the bike, and hooked it on. He opened the trailer and motioned to Nova he took her pack off and put it in the trailer.

There now we get the hell out of here before Nova knew it she had on a black leather jacket that was way too big for her, it smelled like Jack it made her feel protected and warm. She was riding on the bike behind Jack holding on tight. It was kinda freeing Nova thought that she could get used to this.

They traveled a dirt road for a little while till they came upon a two-lane highway and were off at a higher rate of speed

Once they were going pretty good, Jack put one of his hands over both of hers where they were wrapped around him. She fell asleep lulled by his scent and warmth, feeling the air moving around her face and the freedom it was bringing.

Jack smiled to himself, this was perfection. He found his soul mate and was taking her to his clan. He knew that there was trouble coming their way, but a clan of bears is not something you mess with lightly.

He couldn't wait to show her off, he knew though it was all going to be a little overwhelming at first. He would be with her every step of the way. If worse came to worse then he was going to take her to Duncan's pack for a little bit, while he goes and does some dirty work.

There was no way that he was going to let Nova be close to any kind of danger ever again. He would go with her to the police or he could contact a guy in the FBI he knew. He would see that Nova got her justice. E

James came upon a clearing, the scent was strong here and he could also smell the faint scent of sex. He couldn't tell though if it was Nova's or another it was just too faint to tell.

He could smell the male a lot stronger than the female, he knew enough that Nova had to have been here he just couldn't tell who else. Even though the scents were mixed quite a bit, it just wasn't enough to tell with all the rain that had fallen.

He followed only one scent going out of camp though, it was just one Grizzly bear. What the hell? How was that possible? Was he carrying them or did he eat them? He decided to follow the trail, cautiously.

Jack pulled up to the Clan's main house and noticed that there was a car there he didn't recognize. Who is visiting us now? he thought with a sigh. He wanted Nova in his room enjoying a warm bed and some good food before, she had to start meeting the Clan.

Nova woke up as he was coming to a stop, He steadied the bike so she could get off, he could tell she was going to need a nice hot bath to get rid of some of that stiffness.

They were just about to go inside when his second, Sam came out to him.

"We have a visitor Jack from the FBI his name is Agent David Whitmore and he said that he knew you. He said he needs some help getting some solid evidence. He won't say anything more till you got back." (2

"Jack looked surprised, now that was serendipity if it ever was."

Jack told Sam to put him in the main living room and get him something to eat, while he took Nova up to his room. Send up some hot food to my room.

"Once I have my Mate settled, I will talk with him."

Sam's eyes widened at that declaration. He was grinning from ear to ear and took off to take care of everything.

Sam's eyes widened at that declaration. He was grinning from ear to ear and took off to take care of everything.

Turning to Nova. "Now my Goddess we get you settled, bathed, fed, and into my nice warm bed. You are almost dead on your feet."

At this point, she didn't care if she had anything but the bed. He picked her up and carried her to his room.

Nova looked around it was a nice cozy simple room, it was log cabin style of furniture with some natural light and forest view from the big bow windows. She gave out a sigh she finally felt completely safe.

He set her down and went to get her the best hot bath she was ever going to have.

She was already taking off her clothes when he came to get her. He took her hand and led her into the bathroom, it was a huge room. It had a walking shower with all kinds of showerheads. The main attraction for her though was the giant clawfoot bathtub. 2

She almost squealed in delight at the sight of the steam and bubbles waiting for her. It smelled like heaven. She couldn't wait she took off the rest of her clothes and got into the tub with a sigh of pleasure.

"I put some eucalyptus oil in the water to help with your sore muscles. I hope it is alright."

"Alright? Jack this is heaven. I felt so dirty in the same clothes for days even with the swims in the river and pool I still need hot water. Oh, my god Jack I always wanted a bathtub – like this one."

Jack heard a knock at the door, it was one of the helpers from the kitchen she had a tray loaded with just about anything and everything. Along with two steaming bowls of beef stew. There was a freshly baked loaf of bread with jam and honey.

He went to his closet and pulled out his robe for her to wear when she gets out of the tub. He set out the food on his coffee table in front of the overstuffed sofa. She was in there for almost forty-five minutes.

She looked radiant though he could still see she was still exhausted. He patted the space next to him on the sofa. She noticed the food and her eyes got really big.

"Wow is all this for me? I have never seen so much food, it smells delicious." Just then her stomach made out a growl and they both laughed.

She sat down next to him he looked at her for a moment and then decided he wanted her on his lap instead. Once he had her settled he began to feed her, this was a strange feeling for her, still, it's another thing she could get used to.

When he fed her the fresh bread with honey on it some of the honey dripped down the front of the robe onto her skin between her breasts, he opened the robe and licked it up to her lips, giving her a finishing kiss.

She rested her head on his shoulder till finally she couldn't eat anymore and was starting to fall asleep. Jack carried her to his bed and settled her in its warmth.

"I will be back in a little bit my goddess, I have a visitor I need to see before I can join you."

in its warmth.

"I will be back in a little bit my goddess, I have a visitor I need to see before I can join you."

With that he was out the door she could hear his boots on the stairs as he went down. It wasn't much after that that she was asleep.

Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Book-2

Chapter 14

/ Fates Hands by Lori Ameling
Chapter 14-Book 2

##warning language##

Sheriff Avery managed to get rid of most of the physical evidence, as far as witnesses go that is another story. He is going to have to take care of at least six more people before all of the threat was gone.

That was just too many at once to take care of with the FBI hanging around every corner. His hitman was MIA, that jerk better show soon or he will be the first loose end he is going to tie up.

He had another shipment coming in tomorrow, He did manage to get the drop route changed, so at least the FBI wasn't going to interrupt that. Distribution on the other hand will be tricky.

The Sheriff sat on his back porch enjoying a cold one, wondering how James's hunt was going, and if he was going to have to clean up for that jerk. He is always thinking of his dick, his bear and the next kill. He didn't believe in shifters, till he saw James in action.

He enjoyed the hunt when, they would run and they would catch them, watching people being eaten alive though, was both horrible and fascinating.

Agent David sat in a huge living area, it was cozy and warm. They gave him coffee and doughnuts. He laughed and told them that he was FBI, not the local fuzz. Still, the doughnuts were good. He was waiting for about an hour when Jack finally came down.

Before Jack could even sit down, David started talking hurriedly.

“Jack you got to help me, I was going to come here anyway. I am investigating all the missing people cases in this area. Something has come up that was unexpected, it is wonderful but I need help to get my daughter out of the forest before she is hunted down.” 2

Jack just stared at him, that is the most words he had ever heard the man speak.

“Slow down David, you have my help. When did you have a daughter? Who is she? Where in the forest is she?”

David took a deep breath and a sip of his coffee.

“Jack I don’t know exactly where she is in the forest, I know she is north of here. I just found out today that I have a daughter her name is November Jane Fosters.”

“Her mother and I had a fling, I thought it was something more. Turns out she was just bored and left for something more exciting, I talked to her over an hour ago. That was when she told me that her piece of crap husband was out after our Daughter.”

Jack just looked at him like he had grown two heads.

“You said her name was November Jane Fosters?”

“Yes, That is what I said Jack, why do you ask, do you know her?”

Jack went over to the bar and poured two shots of vodka, handing one to David.

David tried to wave it off, he was working, you don’t drink when on the clock. Jack shoved it his way again.

“Drink it, David, your gonna need it. You might want to call your crew and tell them that you will be staying here tonight.”

James followed the trail to a small enclosed clearing, he realized by the marks on the trees, that this was that Mountain Bear Clan, he swore every word he knew. He let out a roar.

He could smell Nova's scent here and a male that was it. Just the two of them. It ended at the gate going south, that was where he picked up on the motorcycle tracks.

He ran off into the forest heading home, that little slut is going to pay. How dare she do this to him. She was his, all his, only his. He was going to make sure she paid for all of her sins. First, he was going back to Kathy and making her wish she never had the slut, to begin with.

His bear was livid, he wanted the kill. James wanted the girl and he wanted the kill of the grizzly. He'd never killed another bear before and thought that it would be exciting. James soothed his bear, soon you will have your kill just be patient a little longer.

Kathy Fosters was coming down from her addiction, she desperately needed another drink. The woman that she was with handcuffed her to the bed, she took the gag out of her mouth, as long as Kathy stayed quiet.

The woman came over and looked at 'her, with a disgusted look in her eyes.

"You look like shit."

She handed Kathy a shot of some kind of liquor. Kathy didn't question what it was she just tilted it back. It was gone in one gulp. With her free hand she held up the glass for another, the woman smiled and took the glass. She didn't give her anymore though.

"Please I need more, now."

"You don't need more, you want more. I will keep you from going too deeply into withdrawals till you get admitted, but I am not going to let you be drunk all the time."

"You want another drink, you want to feel comfortable with the withdrawal symptoms, I can do that for you, but you better start answering some questions."

With that, the woman got up and left the room. Leaving Kathy to her thoughts. Thoughts Kathy wasn't too happy to be thinking.

Nova woke up with warm arms around her and sunlight on her face. It was a little disorientating at first but she woke up a little bit more remembering everything that happened before.

She snuggled back into the arms and closed her eyes for a little bit relishing the feeling. She felt shy at the same time she wanted him. It was all new to her and she vowed to enjoy it all. If the world thought she was a slut then so be it. She wasn't going to change.

She had a lot to learn and she wanted to know it all. Not just the sex parts she wanted it all, she wanted to stay here with Jack. She was a little intimidated about being the only human in a bear clan. She didn't know what that all entitled though.

She knew one thing for sure, even though she wasn't sure if it was a wise thing. She was in love with Jack Dawson. It is happening rather fast.

She did wonder though what was going on at home, have they discovered that she left. Did James figure out that she was in his shed? She started to shiver a little with the memory.

That was when she felt Jack stir, he moved so he could look her in her eyes, she was startled for a little bit, Jack's eyes were not the light blue they were a darker blue. This was Brutus.

"What is it that has you afraid, little one?"

She just stared at him in wonder, the eyes were just as warm as Jack's but a bit more of wildness to them.

"I'm alright I was just remembering the inside of that shed."

"Would you like to tell me what you saw in there?"

"You are my soul mate, I would like to know what scares you so I can eliminate it."

She was silent for a little bit, then she snuggled closer deeper into his arms. Brutus enclosed her completely to give her courage.

"Before I tell you can you both answer a few questions?"

"I will answer a question, then you tell us what was in that cabin that has you so upset and scared. After you can ask us as many questions as you please."

"Ok, my first one is just so I can understand. When you are looking at me through Jack, does that mean that you and Jack are here right now, or is it just one of you?"

"We are both here, Jack was sleeping while I was on guard. The moment you started to shiver though we were both aware. We are both here right now. I am always with Jack and Jack is always with me."

"Alright, I think I get the idea anyway, now for what I found in James's shed. It was the single most horrible thing I have ever seen or ever will. The walls were all decorated with ears. Human rotting ears, some had earrings on them still. There was also a box with jewelry in it."

"There was a table there with a chair, on the table was a huge jar of eyeballs. The smell was unforgettable. I almost barfed right there, I did later in the forest."

"When I got back to my room, I realized a few facts. One my mother got new earrings and she gave me a necklace. I am certain that she didn't buy it."

"It made me sick again, instead, I changed my plans. I was going to wait till early morning to run but I decided it was best with the storm coming that I would just go right then and there."

She started shaking again she even felt cold to the touch, Jack took over holding her tighter and covering her up with the blankets.

"Shhhh, No more. Don't go there anymore, you are here with me and Brutus we will let nothing happen to you. We are going to keep you, you are our soul mate that means forever. We will keep you safe and we intend to spoil you rotten." I

Nova let out a little laugh as she started to cry. She buried her face into his warm bare chest and let all that fear go.

"Nova, we have something to tell you. It may come as a bit of a shock and I don't know how your gonna feel about it. You have to know though. I will never keep anything from you. ever."

She looked up at him, as he kissed her tears away.

"Your real father is sleeping in one of my guest rooms."

Nova's eyes got really big and her mouth hung open for a minute before she let out a loud...

"WHAT?"

Fates Hands by Lori Ameling Book-2

Chapter 15

/ Fates Hands by Lori Ameling
Chapter 15-Book 2

###WARNING Language Sex and Dark issues###

James arrived home to an empty house, where the hell was his bitch now? He looked in all the cupboards and noticed that there wasn't much left, so she must have called her skanky friend Denise to take her into town to get more booze.

Still, something was wrong, there was a scent he couldn't figure out. Sometimes he almost thought it was another bear or at least another male. At the same time, the scent would disappear altogether.

He picked up Avery's scent it went as far as the bathroom, where James had left Kathy passed out. He intended to ask Avery, what the hell he was doing in his house while he was gone.

That was when he heard a vehicle coming up the drive, he looked out and with a small growl realized who it was. Fucking Avery, what is his problem he laid low like he was told to do.

Wonder what has his panties in a twist this time. Perhaps he has come to tell me that Kathy decided to shack up with him. He laughed at that, might even let it go on for a bit too. Get that crazy useless bitch out of his hair for a bit.

That is when he gets that little slut of a daughter back, He got so hard it was almost painful, whenever he thought of Nova. Well, at least now she is broken in he won't have to worry about not being rough at first.

A knock at his door brought him out of his thoughts.

"Get your stupid ass in here Avery, don't want to tarnish your reputation now do we?"

Sheriff Avery came inside with a look of rage on his face...

"I thought I told your sorry ass to lay low.!"

"I was laying low, you ass, I wasn't even here for three days. I didn't catch up to her in time. The fucking slut is off with another bear doing all kinds of her slutty things."

"WHAT!!"

"YOU WERE SUPPOSED TO KEEP HER UNDER CONTROL!!!! NOW SHE IS OFF AND TELLING GOD KNOWS WHO OUR BUSINESS!!"

"Whoa, calm your ass down Avery, doesn't matter does it, she doesn't know anything. She is just a stupid slut I will deal with her in a little while."

"SHE KNOW'S ENOUGH, YOU MORON!! ENOUGH TO TELL THE FBI ANYWAY. Even if she doesn't know details or have evidence she can still point them in the right direction."

"You are being paranoid again Avery, FBI, really like they are going to come here in the back ass of the world."

"HERE IS A NEW'S FLASH YOU DUMBASS, THE FBI ARE ALREADY HERE."

"They are looking into all the missing person's cases, you know all the ones that we killed. They showed up while you were having fun in the woods. Is it sinking into your thick skull now?" 2

James just sat there dumbfounded looking like the idiot he was...

He said only one word. "Fuck!"

Nova had breakfast in bed, she was in the shower when she heard the door open. She knew who it was as soon as she sniffed the air. Her god of a mate. The door to the shower opened and there he was. He shut the door behind him

His eyes were switching from light blue to dark blue, she could see that both of them were there and they looked like they were stalking prey. They looked very hungry. She turned her back to them quickly, her wet long hair splashing them as she turned.

She started to soap herself up everywhere, fully aware that it was driving them insane with lusty passion. All for her. It kinda gave her a sense of power, making her feel confident.

Jack wrapped his arms around her from behind, getting them both slippery. He moaned and let out a little growl.

"I know you were a virgin and I should give you some time to adjust but all we could think about was you in the rain. I think my favorite place for us will be in the shower unless, of course, the rains come again."

"You are perfection Nova, my goddess of the rain and fire."

He cupped her soapy breasts and kissed her ear then down her neck. She started to giggle when he started to rinse off his tongue because he got a mouthful of soap. 2

He turned her to face him, he began to rinse her off using his hands like squeegees to get the soap off. He was on his knees before her.

"Oh, my have you washed here yet, I better make sure that this is clean." 2

He raised her leg on his shoulder, as his fingers started to stroke her center. Then he started to lick her till she was going crazy with pleasure.

"Oh Jack, oh my love....."

She came right there in a starburst of pleasure, she almost fell over but he had her tight in his hands. He was lapping up all of her like she was the last honey pot in the world. A

When she looked down into his eyes she could see that they were all dark blue. So the bear was licking the honey pot. She let out a happy little giggle. He turned her to face away from him, he leaned her forward so her hands were on the wall.

The water was running down her back, he picked up both of her legs at the knee putting her into a kind of kneeling position with him holding up her. He spread her open just a little bit more and then moved her over his manhood and he pushed his way in

They both let out a moan, Nova was at his mercy. He didn't let her down nor did she feel like she was going to fall, but oh my lord she felt him to her belly button. He moved her hips slowly with the motion of his cock. All she could do was hold on as tight as she could to the wall.

She felt him starting to climax as she was just about over the edge, he pushed her faster and faster till both let out a shout as they both raced the stars.

She could hardly move after that, Jack washed her up again, and together they got dried and dressed.

Jack looked at Nova, she was beyond anything he had ever imagined his mate would be. She had determination, cleverness, strength, and a heart of gold. She also had a strong sense of justice.

"Ok, Nova are you ready to go meet your father? I know all this is a lot to take in as fast as it is going, I will always be with you though. If you don't feel you are ready, then I will tell him he has to wait till you are."

"No, Jack I am ready. I always wondered who my real father was. I want to meet him and hear his story. If he is a good guy I want him in my life, I want to know him. I want a good family. My mother will not be welcome in my life anymore."

* "I am serious Jack about going to the police, I want justice for those victims. I want James locked in a cell so deep in the ground that not even the smallest flicker of light can find him or I want him dead."

"My Goddess when I take you to meet your father, I will be taking you to see the FBI. Your father's name and the title is, Special Agent David Whitmore."

He proceeded to tell her everything he could about her father, every memory he had of him, and everything he learned about him through the years.

"You tell him everything and anything you want. I will be right there with you. Then when that is done, I am going to introduce you to all of the Clan."

Agent David Whitmore was nervous for the first time in a long time. So many thoughts going through his mind, What if she doesn't want anything to do with him? what if she doesn't like him? what if this, what if that, over and over in his mind.

He was pacing when he heard Jack clear his throat at the open door.

Out from behind Jack came a young woman she was gorgeous and an angel. Her eyes were his eyes, her hair was his mother's. She had some of Kathy there too, but that didn't matter. He couldn't deny her if he tried she just took after him and his family. 1

She was staring at him too, she looked a little tired still probably from all the crap she has had to endure in the last week, not to mention all of her life.

If she will let him he was going to try to erase those years with Kathy and her revolving door of men. He had to sit down he was in so much awe.

She came over and sat down on the sofa across from him. They didn't say much at first they just stared at each other. Jack sat down next to Nova holding her hand in his.

"My name is David Whitmore I am your real father, I didn't know that you existed till yesterday. Your mother Kathy told me, she wasn't too happy about doing so. Something about it being too late for me to take you from her."

"I would love to be a part of your life if you will let me. I understand if you don't but we can also just go slow and go from there. I know that this is sudden, I just want you to know. I will be in your life in any capacity you wish."

Nova launched out of her chair and into David's arms giving him a huge hug. David held her in part shock and part absolute joy.

Jack was grinning ear to ear, he knew his goddess would have lots of questions and will also have her own story to tell. This was a very happy start though.