“What is it? Do you think you get to do whatever you want in Chicago, just because you are wearing clothes from SK Fashion?”

The rich girl smiled even more charmingly, “I’m glad that you know. I assume that you also know that my clothes are the latest, and they are from Light Breeze, the best designer of SK Fashion. You are well aware that you can never afford them, right?”

She was implying that since she could afford such expensive clothes, she wasn’t someone Paige could mess with.

“That’s it?” Paige raised her hand to signal the shop assistant to come over. “Tell her. The shoes I’m wearing are dirty. How much do I have to pay for dry-cleaning it?”

The shop assistant took a closer look and said, “Gosh! The shoes belong to PQ Fashion’s custom-made series. I have seen them once in the internal training class. A pair of them costs about 320 thousand dollars... The dry cleaning and maintenance alone cost about 25 thousand dollars. But dry-cleaned shoes don’t hold their value. I assume that this pair of shoes haven’t been worn long, right? I think the total loss is around 32 thousand dollars.”

32 thousand dollars?

The rich girl pulled a long face.

She thought, the clothes I’m wearing are worth around 250 thousand dollars. And the shoes she is wearing alone are more expensive than my whole set? How can that be?

Moreover, her shoes are from PQ Fashion’s custom-made series...

Everyone knows that Paine, PQ Fashion’s founder, doesn’t take orders easily. The only people who can get her.

Chapter 252 Fawn on Paige

Abbigail could not figure it out, so she decided to drop it.

"Abbigail, what happened to your face?" Under the scorching sun, Lindsey suddenly noticed a clear palm print on Abbigail's right cheek. Lindsey immediately had a theory. "Did Paige hit you before I went to the mall?"

"No..." aggrieved, Abbigail lowered her long lashes and said, "I accidentally bumped into Paige's palm. It had nothing to do with Paige..."

Lindsey was about to snap, but on second thought, she stroked Abbigail's face.

"Don't worry, Abbigail. I promise that we will make Paige pay. We will make her provide us with countless resources and funds. Be good, Abbigail. Bear with it for today..."

When Abbigail heard Lindsey's words, she raised her eyes in surprise, finding Lindsey's behavior puzzling. Instead of taking her side, Lindsey asked her to bear with it and stand the humiliation.-

Abbigail thought, I've been slapped, and my face is now swollen. So what if we get the money and the resources from Paige? It's still not going to make up for the grievances I have suffered.

Sensing the abrupt change in Lindsey's attitude, Abbigail felt even more upset.

After a while, they saw a familiar figure walking out of the mall.

Tyrell rushed to Paige, opened the umbrella, held it over her head, and smiled ingratiatingly, "Paige, finally. you're out! Are you feeling hot? I just went to the supermarket to buy an umbrella. They told me that it could protect you from the sun. This brand may not be as good as the PQ Fashion you founded, but at least it works."

Paige glanced at him coldly. Instead of stopping, she continued to walk forward.

Lindsey also rushed forward, handed over some cupcakes she had just bought to Paige, and said fawningly, "Paige, I just went to that famous bakery outside the mall and picked out some cupcakes for you. "Really? Then how come you could afford to go shopping?" Paige smiled sarcastically and looked at the gift box in his hand.

"Well..." Tyrell was choked by her words. Stunned for a few seconds, then he said, "It was the last of my savings. As I said, I could give you everything that I had."

Seeing that Paige still did not buy it, Tyrell added, "You saw it in the mall. It was Davon who paid for Abbigail.

I couldn't afford anything, since I had no money."

"For the last time, get out of my way." Paige didn't want to waste another second on them.

Yet Tyrell continued to beg shamelessly, "Paige, Abbigail can't afford to be detained or apologize to you. publicly. If words get out, her reputation will be ruined, and our family will be implicated as well... After she marries into the Elinor family, she will be looked down upon by Davon's parents!"

"What do I care?"

Paige thought, seriously? Do you really think a woman like Abbigail gets to marry into the Elinor family?

Since when does the Elinor family lower their standards to this point?

"How about Abbigail apologizing to you in private?"

After saying that, without waiting for Paige to say anything, Tyrell turned to Abbigail and urged, "Abbigail, come over here. Apologize to Paige now."

Abbigail was aside. She stepped forward reluctantly, pretended to be innocent and pathetic, and said, "Paige, I'm sorry. I didn't know that you were the founder of PQ Fashion, and I didn't know that you were so capable. Please believe me. I was simply worried that you might go astray. I was looking out for you, and I had no bad intentions..."

Before she finished speaking, she noticed that Paige's eyes had turned cold. Then she said hastily, "I'm sorry.

Please forgive me."

"Do I look like the forgiving type to you? off!" Paige lost all of her patience. She pushed Abbigail away

Lindsey patted Abbigail on the shoulder and said, "The girl I'm talking about is Abbigail. I'll introduce her to you later!"

Cindy's daughter, Juliet Emerson, noticed the dress on Abbigail and could not help but ask, "This dress is from LV, right?"

Abbigail nodded and smiled at her, saying, "Yes, you're wearing Dior, aren't you?"

Juliet said, "That's right. You keep a low profile. Your dress and jewelry are expensive, but there aren't any logos. My name is Juliet. It's nice to meet you."

"My name is Abbigail Tate. Thank you for coming to my party."

"Is your surname Tate? Did you hold this party?" Juliet was a little surprised.

Then what about Paige?

In fact, Juliet was quite looking forward to seeing Paige, because she liked Paige's personality.

"Let's go in first." Tyrell chuckled and invited his friends to come in.

Tonight, he booked eleven large tables in the lobby on the first floor. There were a total of 88 seats for his relatives and friends. He planned to personally announce Abbigail's identity in front of everyone.

Because Morningstar Restaurant did not receive any other guests today, they were the only people in the hall on the first floor. Someone might think that they booked the entire restaurant.

Lindsey held Abbigail's hand and stepped into the hall. Immediately, many relatives and friends who had arrived first stood up and greeted them.

"Lindsey, long time no see. You're leading a better life over the years."

"How generous. You booked an entire restaurant."

"Why haven't I seen Madam Tate? I haven't seen her for a long time. I miss her so much."

"Where is Paige? Why haven't I seen her?"

"Where are the people from the Elinor family? Didn't they say that they would come?"

Lindsey looked at them with a smile. "Calm down. Mr. Elinor and Mrs. Elinor have caught a cold these past few days, but their son, Davon, will arrive soon..."

Lindsey knew that most of these people came for the Elinor family. After all, in the past, the Elinor family was much richer than the Tate family. Even the Tate family wanted to build a relationship with the Elinor family!

Chapter 255 A Handsome Man

Last time, the nanny seemed to have said that Paige's biological family had prepared a lot of valuable gifts. They wanted to thank the Tate family for raising Paige all these years, but the Tate family did not accept it...

Could it be that Paige's biological parents are rich?

Thinking of this, Abigail subconsciously clenched her fists. She couldn't accept the fact.

Under the welcoming of everyone, Paige entered the elevator for VIPs. When the elevator door closed, she looked up and met Davon's surprised gaze in the distance.

When Davon walked to the entrance, he was shocked by the scene. He froze there immediately.

Why did the whole restaurant welcome Paige?

The one behind Paige is the nanny?

Paige got out of a recreational car? That RV was worth 1.6 million dollars...

The guests in the lobby were all surprised and began to gabble.

“Isn’t that Paige? Why didn’t she say hello when she passed by? It’s OK that she ignored us. But her parents were standing in front of her, and she didn’t even look at them.”

“What is going on? Why does it seem that she has become very cold and indifferent as if she doesn’t know

“Yes. Didn’t Lindsey say that her daughter got 1,320 on the SAT and wanted to invite us to celebrate it? Why

"Abbigail? Abbigail?" Tyrell called her softly and tugged at her skirt.

Only then did Abbigail come back to her senses and withdrew her gaze.

"Invite Davon up on stage and let him make a speech."

Abbigail knew that Tyrell was trying to show off and tell everyone how outstanding his future son-in-law was.

Davon seemed to have no mood tonight, but Abbigail still stepped down and gently held his hand and brought him to the stage.

"It seems that Davon listened to Abbigail. She asked him to go on stage, so he did."

"They are very in love..."

"It's a pity. I like Paige more."

"Me too."

Davon went up to the stage and said a few words of courtesy. He didn't say much and quickly got off the stage.

Abbigail was led by him. Just as she was about to step down from the stage, she suddenly noticed a cool boy walking at the entrance.

The cool boy had brown hair. He wore designer clothes and sunglasses with a mask on his face. Judging from his style of dressing and his vibe, Abbigail got a hunch that he was Jack, one of the most popular celebrities recently.

Just as she was about to take a closer look, the cool boy had already walked towards the elevator.

A beautiful girl with an arrogant look walked in, followed by a nanny.

“Kailyn?” Allison hung up the phone and complained, “What’s going on? What took you so long? Paige has been waiting for you for so long! Lauryn, you should have told her!”

The nanny, Lauryn, immediately lowered her head and apologized, “I’m sorry, Mrs. Lusk. It’s my fault.”

“Come over here! Let me introduce you. This is your cousin, Paige. Paige, this is your cousin, Kailyn.”

The corners of Paige’s lips curled up! It turned out that the girl who refused to apologize after bumping in to her shoulder and stepping on her in the shopping mall today was actually her cousin, Kailyn.

Didn’t she say that PQ Fashion’s clothes didn’t look good and there was nothing worth paying for?

Why did she wear PQ Fashion’s clothes today?

Perhaps because she noticed Paige’s gaze, Kailyn felt her face burning, as if she had been slapped in the face.

She did not expect to meet Paige here again and her eyes widened in disbelief. But quickly, she calmed down and pretended everything was fine as she asked, “Mom, is she the daughter of Danica and Donald who has been missing for years?"

"Yes, come over and say hello!"

Kailyn didn't expect that this woman who could afford a pair of 320-thousand-dollar shoes was actually her cousin. She immediately felt a little displeased.

"What are you waiting for? Come over and greet your cousin!" Allison glanced at Kailyn with disapproval and teased, "Did you get shocked by Paige's beauty?"

"You don't know, Mrs. Lusk. But Ms. Kailyn was offended today! She said that she encountered an unreasonable girl when she was in the mall..."

It was such a precious thing and it could only be passed to Martin's wife.

So Rosa already admitted Paige as Martin's future wife?

But Rosa was a vegetable, and her condition didn't get better.

Was it Killian's idea?

Paige had just returned to the Lusk family, but she had already gained favor from her parents, Killian, and Martin. As for Patricia, the resentment in her eyes was so obvious that she couldn't hide it at all. She was so impatient.

"Martin, here you are!" Donald stood up happily and gestured to the seat beside him. "Come over here and take seat."

"Sorry that I'm late. I had something urgent to deal with at the last minute." Martin then turned to look at Michael and Allison and said politely, "Sorry to keep you waiting. I'll drink it up as my apology."

He picked up the wine on the table and poured himself a glass of wine. Then he finished three glasses in a row.

Both Donald and Danica said that he didn't have to do that, and even though Michael and Allison also tried to stop him, Martin still finished the three glasses of wine.

-His manner was noble, along with his strong vibe that could not be ignored. His masculine charisma was quite fascinating.

"Don't be so formal to us!"

"That's awesome. You didn't even brush after finishing three glasses of wine. Martin, come sit down. Are you hungry?"

"Don't wait for Jack. Tell them to serve the dishes first!"

"Martin, good evening."

Patricia greeted Martin on purpose. She was specifically dressed up today to attract Martin.

Kailyn also greeted Martin, but Martin only nodded slightly at them and then fixed his eyes on Paige. He didn't give them a look at all.

A trace of disappointment flashed across Patricia's eyes.

After an unknown period, Jack suddenly thought that there was someone beside him and immediately looked over. "Patricia?"

"Yes." Patricia finally heard Jack call her by the name. She raised the corner of her lips. The smile on her face had not bloomed completely yet.

"How many points did you get on SAT?" Jack hadn't asked about Patricia's results since she returned home.

Jack only knew that Paige scored full marks.

Although Jack's voice was low, Patricia heard it and felt embarrassed. She could even hear Kailyn, who was next to her, secretly chuckling.

"Jack." Kailyn smiled and called out, "Patricia scored 1,540 points. I scored 1,555 points."

"I heard that it was difficult this time. You can get 1,555. Very good."

Kailyn raised her chin and looked at Patricia with interest. Before she became happy, she heard Jack adding.

"But the best one is Paige." When Jack said this, he saw Jayden, the restaurant manager serve another dish, then he put the dish directly in front of Paige. "Paige, take care of yourself. You are too thin!"

Martin peeled a shrimp for Paige and put it on her plate. Jack was not to be outdone. He picked up the crab peeling tool next to him and picked out the meat. Then Jack put it on Paige's plate.

Danica picked up food for Paige. Donald added soup for Paige. The attention of the whole family was on Paige.

Kailyn's eyes flashed with a touch of calculation. She glanced at Patricia's skirt which fell to the ground. After pressing it with the foot of the chair, she picked up a glass of orange juice and said, "Paige, let's have a toast.

Pay Money for the Mess

"Nonsense!" Tyrell's cousin-in-law didn't believe it. Several relatives and friends around him were getting things worse.

"You are only a waiter and you don't know anything about the private dining area. I don't blame you, but if you don't call the manager here today, we will do something!"

"Yes, call your manager over! Apologize to us personally!"

"Who are you? Being a waiter and making you feel superior? What right do you have to ask us to leave?"

One of them even blew a cloud of smoke on the waiter's face, revealing a look of disdain.

"I'm sorry, sir. You can't smoke here." The waiter kept his cool. "Mr. Tate really didn't reserve the entire restaurant. If you don't believe me, you can ask him in person. An honored guest came to our restaurant today. The manager personally serves the private room, so he can't come over. Please be kindly noted."

"What do you mean by that? Are you looking down on us?"

"What? The guests in the private room are distinguished guests. We have already booked the entire restaurant, and you look down upon us? You're too rude!"

"Tyrell must have booked the entire restaurant. Otherwise, why is there not a single person in the hall?"

*Call your manager over!"

"That's right. We'll see him!"

At this time, Lindsey saw that the guests were making a ruckus and hurriedly came over to ask, "What happened?"

Davon is still here. If he sees the behavior of the Tate family, won't he discredit Abigail?

A few relatives told her what had happened. The waiter did not forget to add, "Madam, if you and Mr. Tale had not insisted, our manager would not have left the area in front to treat your guests. Our manager will not receive other guests today. Now this area is all dirty..."

The table was full of leftovers. There were melon shells on the ground and cigarette butts everywhere. Someone had even put the cigarette on the carpet and extinguished it. There were several holes in the carpet.

It was the first time that such rude customers had appeared in the Morningstar Restaurant.

"If you insist on adding this area, the service fee will be increased by 20..."
