Chapter 311 Fly to Switzerland

"Then you have to talk to him more. His hair has gone grey."

If not for the excessive sadness, Samuel's hair wouldn't turn grey so quickly.

Martin knew the sorrow of losing one's loved one. He touched Paige's head and said, "You are the one who can support him now."

"Mm. I will take good care of him."

The next day after the funeral, Paige went to the place where Cassie lived when she was still alive.

Because the garden had not been cleaned for a long time, most of the flowers and plants had withered. The cobblestone path was covered with fallen leaves and flowers. After Cassie left the world, everything here seemed to have lost its vitality.

Paige asked someone to clean up the entire villa. She went to Cassie's bedroom and twisted the wall lamp. Then, the wardrobe automatically moved away, revealing a small dark room.

In the dark room, there were all the things that Cassie had treasured when she was alive. Some were Cassie's precious items that Paige had given her, some were the property ownership certificate under Cassie's name, and some were Cassie's collections.

There was also a safe in the corner. After Paige pressed the password, she took out the thing inside.

It was the jade ring that Cassie planned to give to Martin. But now... Cassie couldn't give it to Martin by herself anymore.

After being immersed in her memory, Paige opened her backpack and put everything into it. Cassie guarded these things with her life. Paige wouldn't let Tyrell and the others get them.

In the dark room, Paige also found a big box. She opened it. Then, she saw the paintings she had drawn since she was a child. She also found a letter for Cassie.

The letter said that after Paige grew up, she would take Cassie to travel around the world and let Cassie live a better life...

After reading this letter, Paige felt a lump in her throat. Paige didn't expect that such her naïve promise would be stored in the dark room with other treasures.

Paige was her precious granddaughter. Thus, in Cassie's world, Paige should be more valuable

Chapter 312 Do You Also Want to Leave Me?

In the process of the patient's own operation of euthanasia, the court staff and the notarization staff must be present. In addition, the whole process needed to be recorded.

After that, this record also needed to be handed to the American police. It had to be confirmed that it was the patient himself who wanted to die peacefully, and it had nothing to do with others.

As long as Samuel still hadn't injected himself with the drug, he could stop it at any time. But Samuel really didn't want to live anymore. Before he died, there was finally a glimmer of light in his eyes.

Cassie was like Samuel's spiritual pillar. If the pillar collapsed, Samuel really couldn't find any other reason to keep living in this world.

Cassie was Samuel's everything!

After Samuel signed the application for euthanasia, he rolled up the switch of the intravenous drip and waited for death.

The process would only last for four minutes.

If Paul hadn't informed Paige in advance, or Paige hadn't arrived in time, Paige wouldn't have been able to see Samuel while he was still alive...

There was a court officer, a notary, a family doctor, a nurse, and a servant standing in Samuel's bedroom.

But the spacious and bright bedroom was deathly silent, and everyone looked sad.

Paige slowly walked to Samuel's bed and asked in a choked voice, "Do you also want to leave me?"

"Paige..." When Samuel saw Paige, he smiled. Then, he looked at Martin and said lightly, "You are also here..."

Samuel thought it must be Paul who told them about everything...

"Don't leave me alone." Paige knelt by the bed. She didn't want Samuel to leave her.

Chapter 313 The Day Before the School Starts

There was still one last day before the start of school.

On this day, Paige was handling private affairs in the bedroom instead of going to the company.

A while later, her mobile phone lit up.

"Paige, this is the college dormitory that I prepared for you. Is it okay?"

Paige clicked the picture and saw that it was a luxurious dormitory with four bedrooms and two living rooms. Each bedroom had an independent bathroom and a balcony. One could have a view of the sea from the balcony.

There was also a small kitchen. The kitchen was equipped with a refrigerator, an oven, and all kinds of electrical appliances...

"It's too high-profile," Paige replied.

She was going to school, not on a vacation.

"I know that you are low-key. To cover it up, I specially had a new residence hall built up, telling everybody that the building was for the students with excellent academic performances!"

Paige felt amused. "It's so thoughtful of you."

"Of course. For your sake, I've even replaced the original cooks of the canteen for you."

"Come to the principal's office to meet me tomorrow. I haven't seen you for a long time. I've got your favorite tea and snacks. Remember to come!"

"Okay." After Paige replied to the text, she received a message from Anna.

"Paige, see you at the University of Illinois at Chicago tomorrow. Love you!"

Ever since Paige chose the University of Illinois at Chicago, Anna did not hesitate to apply for this university too. It was said that she planned to live with her by pulling strings.

"See you tomorrow." Paige sent an emoji and reminded her that the new dormitory was very good.

She was about to go downstairs when she suddenly saw that in the living room, Donald and Danica had prepared twenty suitcases of groceries and new clothes for her.

"I must let Paige bring this. What if she doesn't feel well..." Danica picked up a medical kit and stuffed it into her suitcase.

"Paige is a doctor herself..."

Without waiting for Donald to finish, Danica interrupted, "A doctor can't cure himself. It's always good to bring some medicine with you. If you need it, you can get it easily..."

"Martin, you are so thoughtful to get so many things for Paige. Would you go with us to take Paige

Martin was pleased and gently agreed.

"Is Mrs. Stowe getting better recently?" Donald sat on the main seat and asked with concern.

"Impressive..." Danica did not expect her precious daughter to have such great achievements in

"All this is thanks to Paige." Martin was also very surprised that Paige was so confident with her medical

*Suddenly, Martin remembered the day Cassie ***d. Paige cried and said that there were some*

Martin felt distressed whenever he thought of how helpless and sad Paige was back then.

"I can go alone tomorrow."

Paige looked confident sitting on the sofa, holding lemonade in one hand and the other hand on the chair arm.

Paige was completely different from before. She used to cry sadly.

"So?" Paige raised her eyebrows and asked.

"I'm not like your brother. I can't give you a photo for you to think of me. If you miss me, I can appear in front of you at any time." Martin's eyes were full of tenderness and affection.

Paige suddenly found out that Martin and Jack seemed to be fighting for her favor. Was it her illusion?

At the school gate, Paige did not let him get out of the car, "You are too eye-catching."

"Are you

afraid that I will be seen by those brats?"

"I'm afraid that you will flirt with other girls."

Martin smiled and held her face with both hands, kissing her greedily.

Donald got out of the car and caught sight of this scene. He hurriedly tilted his head. "The young people nowadays are really different than in our generation..."

*They were ***showing affection, holding each other tight.*

Danica glanced and said disapprovingly, "What do you know? This is called sweet love. They are deep in love and inseparable..."

Paige obviously became from a rich family.

"It's lucky for you to live in the same dormitory. Paige, didn't you bring something to share with your classmates? The gifts are in the No. 9 suitcase..."

At home, Danica pasted each suitcase with a number. She recorded what was in each suitcase and sent a text message to Paige.

*Paige opened the No. 9 suitcase and said very generously to the two girls, "Take w***ver you like."*

The two girls glanced at the suitcase. These snacks were all brands that they have never seen. before. Judging from the packaging, they were very expensive...

As for these fruits, they hadn't even seen some kinds before.

They were indeed rich people.

Paige saw they stay still and thought that they were too embarrassed to take the snacks. She picked up some and handed them to them.

"Feel free to take them."

"Thank you..."

The two girls didn't expect even Paige's movements and tone to be so cool when she handed over the things. They couldn't help but sigh in their hearts. They were both girls, and yet they were so different.

Paige's appearance and aura were so cool. She was good at studying but not nerdy.

"This is your dormitory?" Danica looked around, nodded, and smiled. "Not bad. Small but has got everything..."

One of the girls heard so and widened her eyes. This dormitory environment had surpassed that in the entire country. Moreover, the area was bigger than her home...

However, what Martin noticed first was Paige's shadow reflected on the glass door when she took the photo.

Her waist was so thin.

She was so beautiful.

Just as he was about to text Paige again, someone knocked on the car window.

"Martin." Patricia smiled sweetly. Standing outside the car, she said gently, "It's too stuffy in the car.

Why don't you come out and get some fresh air?"

Martin ignored her and meant to type when Patricia knocked on the window again persistently.

"It's so boring for you to be alone in the car... No one will talk to you."

"The drivers have gone to take Paige's luggage to her, and your parents aren't here. Since we have nothing better to do, why don't we go to a nearby coffee shop to have a cup of coffee while waiting?

"Martin, did you hear me?"

A fly?

Rhys was confused for two seconds before he remembered Patricia. Was his boss talking about Patricia?

She was so pitiful...

Since when did Patricia become a fly in his boss' eyes?

Martin at least considered her a human before...

Now she was nothing...

Martin took out his phone and called Donald, saying that something urgent had happened in the company, so he went back in Rhys' car; they could have dinner together when Paige had the time.

Donald knew Martin was busy every day, so he said understandingly, "You took Paige to school. That already made her ***and me very happy... Only that...next time... be more careful. After all, you're in public. It's not good..."

It was Anna.

Paige picked up the training uniform and was amazed that their quality was quite good. Suddenly, she remembered that Martin had just asked her if she had received the training uniform on the phone. Could it be...

"I heard that the fabric and style of the training uniform this year are different from the past. This year, it's sponsored by the Stowe Group. Did your man do this?"

Paige's face flushed a little. "What are you talking about?"

"He's your man, isn't he?" Anna teased. "This material is really good, but the style looks a little conservative."

This uniform surely covers all sensitive parts.

This man is so protective of his fiancée.

The next morning, all the freshmen stood on the sports field under the scorching sun.

There were so many freshmen there.

The drillmaster who trained Paige's class looked very strict. Although he was young, his dark face and sharp eyes were scary.

Paige realized that someone was talking to her. She glanced at the boy first. The boy was also a freshman. He was wearing a military uniform and looked a little nervous.

"Sorry, but no."

When the boy heard Paige's words, his face became even redder. He apologized and quickly slipped away. His friends all burst into laughter.

After a while, another boy came to ask for Paige's Line number. Paige refused too and asked the boy to go back to study. Paige's roommates were amused.

On the way back to the dormitory, there were boys constantly looking for Paige and her roommates to chat up. Paige was the most popular one.

In the next few days, in addition to basic training such as standing posture, and walking straight steps, the drillmasters also taught the freshmen military boxing.

During the break, Bess left for a while. When she came back, her eyes were red.

"What's wrong?" Leana was the first to notice Bess' strangeness and put a hand on her shoulder. "Didn't you say you were going to the toilet? Why are you crying?"

When Bess heard Leana's caring words, her eyes became even redder and she sobbed, unable to speak.

Paige's eyes fell on her. "Do you need our help?"

Bess shook her head.

"All stand up."

At this moment, Daniel whistled and announced the break was over.

Leana whispered to Bess, "Are you alright? You can ask for a leave?"

Bess still shook her head.

The next lesson was still about military boxing. The sun was about to set and the freshmen were exhausted. Their postures became less and less standard.

Paige, Anna, and Leana glanced at Bess from time to time and found that Bess was absent-minded. Her eyes were dim and she seemed to have suffered a great bl*w

Albert Wallace, the drillmaster of the class next to Paige's, could not help but laugh because he thought his students were better than the others.

Albert whistled and said loudly, "Blanca, come out and teach the fellow next to you. Let Daniel go to rest
