Chapter 371 It's Getting More and More Chaotic

Nathan's sister had been bullied. How could he slow down? He arrived at the school gate in less than ten minutes. The security guard who was guarding the gate was shocked.

The security guard was about to get angry. When he saw that it was Nathan, who had come to the school two days ago, he smiled and bent down very kindly. "Mr. Lusk. This way, please... Your car can be parked at the school gate. I hope it's convenient for you."

Even if Nathan the car to the security booth, the guard had no objection. After all, Nathan came from the Lusk family!

"Sorry, I will stop the car for a while. I will leave soon." Nathan also wanted to find a parking spot, but now he was worried about his sister. All he wanted to do was to rush over to help his sister as soon as possible.

Paige, who was in physical training, looked at Pamela from time to time. Paige was suddenly aware of something.

Even Bess could see it, so she whispered to Paige, "Paige, look, Pamela seems to have a dispute with someone. Should we go over and help her?"

"No need."

The people from the Ministry of Security could deal with the students from the school.

Moreover, Pamela was not easy to deal with.

"I'm just afraid that Pamela will suffer a loss... She's too naïve." Leana turned to look at what was happening when she was doing exercise. "They are *Pamela, on them..."

"Let's wait a little longer. We will be dismissed in ten minutes." Anna raised her hand to look at her watch.

Soon, today's military training was over.

At this time, lyana was still asking Pamela, "Why don't you tell us what happened? Isn't Paige the adopted daughter of the Lusk family? Why is her surname Lusk? Why did she move to the Lusk's house? And why did

"I've never lied. But Patricia, why did you slander Pamela for no reason?"

"Pamela did not do anything. Patricia fell on purpose." Paige also stood out to testify.

Pamela did not expect four people to stand up for her. She was moved, and she looked at Patricia with confidence.

"Aren't you guys going too far?" Lyana couldn't help but add, "You two are just lying. I saw with my own eyes that Patricia was pushed by Pamela. Nathan, you don't have to believe what I said since I'm an outsider. But Nathan subconsciously looked at Paige...

Lyana thought that Nathan looked at Paige because he doubted the credibility of Paige's words. So Lyana smiled.

"Let's take a look at the surveillance video and we will know who is telling that truth."

Paige's words made Patricia's heart skip a beat. Patricia thought that it was not good!

When Patricia was acting just now, she did not know whether there were surveillance cameras. This was the University of Illinois at Chicago, and Patricia didn't study here, so she did not know where there was a surveillance camera... She thought that she was careless!

“Nathan, my head hurts...” At this time, Patricia used her hand to rub her temple and added uncomfortably, “Did I get a cerebral concussion from the fall? Will there be any sequelae? I am so afraid...”

Nathan said, “You still know that I am your second brother, which means that your consciousness is clear.

The concussion patient will have a chaotic consciousness, a loss of consciousness, and even a coma. You are not.”

Patricia was stunned. She didn't know about it.

Iyana remembered!

She had a chat record!

"Paige, you really don't shed tears until you see the evidence, right? It just so happens that I have all the chat records. They are clearly preserved... I will find it for you right now!"

Iyana opened the chat between her and Patricia, searching for keywords about "water" and "swimming pool"...

Soon, there were related chat records, and the time was known.

“See?” Lyana took the phone to everyone and added, “Let’s see how you quibble now?”

“Oh...” Paige looked at the day when Patricia said that she splashed water, then Paige said, “Funny. I flew to Switzerland that day.”

At that time, Samuel wanted to choose euthanasia. Martin arranged a private plane for Paige, and she flew over that day. She did not come back that night.

“As for the swimming pool... If I remember correctly, every Monday, the servants would clean the pool... There Patricia originally thought that she would win, but when she heard what Paige said, her face suddenly turned.

At that time, she was just casually looking for Lyana to ridicule Paige. Patricia lied that Paige bullied her, and she did not think too much about it...

Seeing Patricia’s reaction, Lyana was also somewhat skeptical. But since she was Patricia’s friend, Lyana insisted and said, “Who knows if what you said is true or not?”

“She is not lying.” Nathan suddenly said, “Every Monday, cleaning the pool is a habit of the Lusk family for lyana thought that Patricia had suffered a lot because of Paige. lyana even wanted to stand up for Patricia.

The three girls beside lyana were disappointed and disdainful of Patricia.

“Let’s go!”

When lyana left with the three girls, she passed Paige and said sorry.

“Well. This is called shooting yourself in the foot. Paige, we’re going back to the dormitory first. This is your family matter. We won’t get involved.” Anna took Leana and Bess away.

There were only four people left beside the playground.

Pamela held Paige’s hand and looked at Patricia coldly. If there was no monitoring to testify, Patricia still wanted to wrongly accuse Pamela of pushing others. Patricia went too far.

“Nathan, it was you who kept saying that even if Paige returned home, you would still treat me as well as before. Do you still keep what you said?

Before Paige could say anything, Patricia continued, "If you are thinking about your identity, I will make it clear in front of my classmates. I'll tell them that you are the real Ms. Lusk of the Lusk family. And I am adopted. I will not hurt you again for my own sake."

Paige had no words.

"Paige, please give me one last chance. Okay?"

Patricia pulled the corner of Paige's clothes and begged, "Let go of the past and let's become good friends again. Forget all the unpleasant past."

Paige found that this time, Patricia didn't seem to be as calculating or shrewd as before. Instead, there was only sincerity and pleading.

Patricia should have been afraid of losing everything she had, so she had to lower her head and confessed.

“Paige, I beg you!” Patricia said and was about to kneel.

Paige used her foot to stop Patricia, not letting Patricia kneel. Her tone was somewhat indifferent,

“There are some things that cannot be solved simply by an apology.”

“Then what do you want me to do?” Patricia asked very sincerely, “How about I send you to breakfast every day? I will cook for you at noon. After the afternoon dissolution, I will also come to find

you and occupy a seat in the canteen for you. What about helping you take your package? Massage? Scratch your back?”

Paige felt Patricia was going too far.

“Paige, tell me. As long as I can do it, I promise I will.” Patricia seemed to have made a big decision.

“Let’s talk about it later.” Paige did not say whether she would forgive Patricia or not. Then Paige and Pamela were about to leave.

Patricia was in a mess. She didn’t know what Paige meant. Patricia was even more concerned about whether Paige had forgiven her. Or was Paige expecting Patricia to do more?

"Of course." Pamela raised her eyebrows proudly.

Patricia was waiting outside. She was so hungry that her stomach was growling. The air conditioner kept in her direction. She hugged herself to keep warm.

The sound insulation effect of the room was excellent. Patricia did not hear anything from the inside.

In the next few days, Nathan and Pamela took Paige to the nearby site attractions. Patricia just followed them from a distance. She did not take the initiative to strengthen her presence and kept a certain distance from them.

During the meal, Patricia would order them a few more dishes.

“We didn’t order these dishes.” Paige was surprised when she saw the dishes.

“The young lady at the last table ordered them for you. She said that you liked them.”

Patricia still remembered that Paige liked seafood...

Paige looked up at Patricia. She lowered her head and ate, not daring to look over.

After the meal, Patricia would pay the bill for them in advance. When they were tired, Patricia bought small fans, water, tissues, and other things to send to them...

In the next two days, Martin accompanied them. They visited many attractions. Patricia still followed them, but her eyes no longer dared to stay on Martin. It seemed that she no longer crossed the boundary in her heart.

Two days later, Nathan and Pamela returned to their work. Paige’s college life officially began...

Paige just wanted her family to be happy.

As long as Patricia behaved well, then the happy atmosphere in the family could continue to be maintained...

Patricia thought, if one day Paige finds out that I have changed for the better, will she look at me differently and accept me as her sister?

If Paige did, Patricia was willing to continue to try.

As soon as they walked out of the university, Patricia heard two sounds.

"Patricia, why are you here?"

Donald and Danica just got out of the car, carrying a lot of things in their hands. They were apparently going to visit Paige.

"Dad, , Amily, why are you here?"

"We are here to see Paige and you. Amily said she missed you, so she came with us. Patricia, why are you here?" Danica asked curiously.

"I brought some milk and bread to Paige, but..."

Patricia thought about it and could not say that Paige did not accept her kindness. That would mean that she was speaking ill of Paige.

"But I didn't see her," Patricia said.

Patricia said she didn't meet Paige.

Danica asked, "Did you call her? I heard that you often go to the university recently. Why are you so diligent? When did you start reading medical books? Don't tell me this is also prepared for Paige."

In the next few days, Paige was still busy in the laboratory, but there were more and more rumors outside.

"It has been almost a month since the start of school. I heard that the top scorer only attended a few days of classes until now. She is so with full marks."

"The teacher in Class One for Traditional Medicine cherishes talents and has never blamed her privately. The whole class is also very supportive of her."

"She just took a red flag during physical training and let the whole class take a day off. What's so great about it?"

When Anna, who was going to the bathroom, heard this, she couldn't help but ridicule, "It's nothing, but it seems that no one in Class One for Modern Medicine can do it."

"You..." The short-haired girl was originally complaining to her friend. When she saw Anna, she couldn't help. but say, "I know you... You are Paige's friend. We are talking about Paige. What does it have to do with you?"

"You already said that I am her friend. Her business is my business. As for you, what does it have to do with you whether she comes to school or not? You've gone too far!"

"You..." The short-haired girl was furious.

After washing her hands, Anna was just about to walk out of the bathroom. She seemed to have thought of something and suddenly stopped. "Oh right, Paige did not come to class because she had the capability. Not everyone has to sit in the classroom to study."

With Paige's capability, it was a waste of time in the classroom.

The only thing that really attracted her to the University of Illinois was the expensive equipment in the laboratory, as well as working together with Cason to study the new drug formula.

She couldn't let an old man run to her to do experiments every day.

After Anna left the bathroom, she went back to her seat in the dining room. "There are really all kinds of people nowadays."

"Compared to modern medicine, traditional medicine is more specific and more active, and has no side effects."

The whole class of traditional medicine suddenly applauded. Paige was so cool!

She was awesome!

Before, when they were in school, they were overwhelmed by the class of modern medicine.

They didn't expect that when the top scorer came, they would be able to lift their heads in high spirits!

Tiana was embarrassed to the extreme because of Paige's words.

"It seems that Paige has learned a lot about it. Paige is right. The herb mentioned by Paige just now belongs to traditional medicine, so that medicine is a mixture of traditional medicine and modern medicine. Paige is great, and Tiana, you have to learn more after class. Please sit down."

The old professor knew that the students of the modern medicine class and the traditional medicine class had grudges against each other. To be more precise, the students of the modern medicine class were targeting Paige.

“She thinks highly of traditional medicine. But I have had a cold for six days, and can’t get better after taking the traditional medicine you mentioned. Is it because you don’t know the traditional medicine and exaggerate its effect? Or is traditional medicine not as effective as modern medicine?”

Her questions were very provocative, but Paige just replied lightly, “No one knows how you take them.”

After all, maybe she didn’t take the medicine properly. Perhaps she took other medicine at the same time, which would affect the efficacy of the traditional medicine.

“You...” Janet was annoyed, sneering, “I think you only engage in idle theorizing. I’m afraid you can’t think of a good way to deal with the illness...”

“This kind of illness is just a piece of cake for me. Do you want to get better? Come to the stage.” Paige looked at Janet with a smile.

Janet was stunned, and so was everyone else in the classroom. They wondered what Paige wanted to do.

They didn’t know what Paige meant by those words.

“What? Don’t you dare to come?” Paige smiled and looked at Janet.

Chapter 380 Crash Into Their Car

Paige had just walked out of the teaching building when she saw a familiar figure in the distance. It was Martin.

Leana met Martin's gaze. Originally, she hugged Paige tightly, but she immediately released her hand and explained, “I... I brought Paige here. Goodbye.”

Seeing that Leana ran so fast that she almost tripped, Paige could not help but laugh.

"Why are you here?"

"How many days has it been since you ignored me?" Martin ignored the attention of the seven or eight girls around him and reached out to touch Paige's face, saying, "You forgot about me as soon as you did the experiment."

Paige thought about it. Recently, she seemed to have been busy with research, so she failed to reply to his message and phone calls in time. Even the video chat every night was reduced...

"Let's go. I will show you something." Martin took her hand and left the campus.

The car soon arrived at Martin's closest residence.

Paige followed him to the third floor and found that he had created a huge and transparent laboratory on the entire floor.

In the laboratory, there was not only the same medical equipment that Cason had purchased with huge sums of money, but also all kinds of advanced equipment...

Some of them were even more advanced than the ones Cason bought.

"You..."

"This way, you will come here often." Martin took her hand and went in to take a look. "The systems of medicine research, analysis, and production are currently the best."

When Paige glanced at one of the medical equipment, her eyes lit up.

If Cason was there, they would be able to do experiments immediately...

Martin found that her eyes lit up, and she was happier than seeing him. He could not help but be jealous...

Were these pieces of cold equipment so good that he couldn't even compete with them?

"Now, shouldn't you praise me?"

Martin wanted to hear her praise, but he didn't expect Paige to stand on tiptoe and kiss him. Then she
