Chapter 381 Being Spanked

The leading foreign man was tall and fierce with his hair tied into a braid behind his head. He wore a mask and said in broken English, "I only want that girl in the car. We didn't mean to offend you just now. Please forgive us."

"What do you want the girl in the car for?" Rhys looked at the twenty or so people in front of him and couldn't help but ask, "Who sent you here?"

"Sorry, no comment." These men took out their weapons and targeted Rhys.

Martin stood still, exuding a cold aura. He smiled coldly. They just sent a few of you to pick up my fiancée? It doesn't show you respect."

That was annoying.

Paige was Martin's fiancée, so how could only these few people come?

A hint of intent flashed through the foreign man's eyes.

"I'll give you some time. Call more people over. Is five minutes enough?" Martin raised his hand to look at his watch.

"You... Don't think that I won't dare to you just because you're Martin!" The foreign man was enraged.

Just now, he gave Martin a chance to leave with his assistant, but Martin refused. Then he wouldn't show any mercy to Martin!

"His people are everywhere in Chicago. There is no need to provoke him. We only want that girl..." Someone whispered in the foreign man's ear.

The foreign man swore and looked at Martin, saying, "Hand her over, and I can let you live."

"What? Isn't she with you?" Martin raised his chin, indicating behind him.

The foreign man was just about to turn around when a knife was on his neck. Paige smiled, "I heard you want to catch me, right?"

"You..." The foreign man could not believe that a little girl could get close to him without anyone knowing. The key was that more than a dozen subordinates did not notice her approach either!

Rhys, who was driving, looked at the rearview mirror and could not help but ask, "Mr. Stowe, do you want me to send Ms. Paige back first?"

"Go home," Martin said.

"Send me back," Paige said.

They said in unison and looked at each other.

Martin said seriously, "The identities and motives of those people have yet to be determined. If you go back, you will bring danger to your classmates. You should stay by my side. I will protect you."

Paige thought, huh? Protect me?

"Did our people get any news?" Martin glanced at Rhys, who was in the driver's seat.

"Not yet... "But I think that person will say it soon..."

"I found it." Paige got into the bounty site and soon found the address of that person's IP. "The poster released it at the Great Smoky Mountains last night at eleven o'clock. The bounty is 8 million dollars." She didn't think she was worth that little.

Rhys widened his eyes and looked at the rearview mirror in disbelief.

Rhys thought, Ms. Paige found it out so quickly?

How long has it been?

Less than a minute, right?

Martin looked at Paige with a deeper look in his eyes. He did not expect Paige to become more and more capable.

"The Great Smoky Mountains are a long way from downtown Chicago, Usually, no one goes hiking there. The trail there is steep, and there is not even a place to rest. Therefore, there is no surveillance there.

passing by, and without a second of hesitation, he pushed the boy down...

At that time, the little boy had not reacted and fell into the pool just like that.

It was the first time that Kiara had seen such a thing. She was so scared that her hand trembled. Then, there was indeed someone who rushed over and jumped into the pool to save the child.

What happened afterward was exactly the same as what Paige had said.

In order to make people believe that the child was saved by him, Scott deliberately went into the pool to make his whole body wet. Then he pretended to be anxious to call the guests over.

A few days later, the international fashion design competition was in full swing in France.

Just as Mariela stepped through the door of the art hall, she was hit on the shoulder by someone.

"Mariela? No. 1 in America?"

The person who bumped into Mariela was a blonde, blue-eyed girl. She looked young and vigorous. She looked at Mariela with eyes full of contempt. She even raised her thumb, turned it upside down, and said, "Trash."

"You..." Mariela was awkward. "Who are you cursing?"

"You and your country are all trash."

Hearing these provocative words, before Mariela could get angry, she heard a girl coldly say, "The education industry of Canada has taught a scum like you? Is this the quality of your people?"

Mariela looked back. It was Paige!

Mariela was so excited that her nose inexplicably ached, "Paige!"

Her voice was a little choked.

Mariela even wanted to cry.

Mariela had been nervous recently, especially after the plane arrived in France yesterday. She was alone, unfamiliar with the new place, and even too anxious to fall asleep.

"Is that so? I also think that she has strength. There are so many good designers who have real strength. Unlike you guys, whose level is just ordinary."

"Don't worry, the one who cried is definitely not me. As for you, have you brought enough tissues?"

"You..."

"I've seen the three competitions you participated in in Denmark. To be honest, I can only say it is too

“You...”

“What’s the use of talking nonsense? Isn’t it better to show off your skills later than your *****?”

The second and third American winners couldn’t help but clap their hands.

“You are Mariela? You are so good at talking! Look, she was angered away by you.”

“These people are so . Just now, they kept talking in front of me, but I didn’t argue with her. Mariela, you are so cool! I am No 2. in the last competition, Nicole. I am very happy to meet you!”

“I am No 3. Mila. Just now, you said that you have seen the video of Jamiya’s competition. Where did you watch it? I can’t find any videos about her online.”

“Me too. I haven’t been able to find it even after searching for a long time...”

“About this... I lied to her.” Mariela smiled mischievously and did not dare to tell the truth.

In fact, it was not only Jamiya’s video. She had seen all the videos of all the contestants before today, and they were all found by Paige!

It was always good to know about your opponents.

"I hadn't noticed that she looked like assistant No. 16 until you said that..." Another judge also noticed something, but he also couldn't believe it. After all, with Paine's identity, it was impossible for her to be an assistant to a newcomer....

"It should just be that they look alike, not the same person."

At this time, Isabella, who was standing on the stage, saw Paige, who was sitting on the judging panel, and her face was visibly pale.

She was surprised to find that this young girl was actually a judge....

Besides, in front of her, there was a name tag written Paine on the table.

She is Paine...

All along, Isabella had always admired Paine the most and wanted to see this top designer in America, but she didn't expect that Paine would be right in front of her eyes now...

At this time, Isabella's mind totally went blank.

No wonder this girl just said that she had the power to decide whether Isabella would stay or not. It turned out that she really had the right.

"Paige, who do you think has the most potential?" Hernan's eyes fell on the stage. The dozens of contestants were all working on their clothes in an orderly manner now, looking very confident, and the clothes they made.

also had their own merits.

"Well, I have high hopes for Mari," Paige said indifferently as her gaze drifted around the stage.

After all, Mariela had watched hundreds of videos and learned a lot of skills during this period, which was very helpful for her.

Mariela had a deep understanding of her work, and soon, a beautiful dress was made.

Time was up.

All the contestants needed to go backstage and put on the clothes they designed. They would take turns showing their clothes on stage later.

While waiting for the contestants, a series of finished products appeared on the big screen. They were the clothes made by the contestants just now. The ten judges and thousands of senior members of the audience would grade the clothes first.

All kinds of beautiful clothes made people dizzy. At a glance, only the dress designed by Mariela impressed people the most, and it soon stood out among the pile of works.

She used the red color to represent her country and made a bright red and elegant dress. The stripes on the lapel and the dark flower design on the hem of the dress carried American elements. At the same time, it also integrated into modern fashion, showing a keen sense of fashion as a designer.

Paige looked at the dress with admiration. Nice dress. Although there are still a few places that could be improved, overall, it's much better than the other clothes.

Soon, Mariela drew card No. 1 and went up to the stage to display her dress first.

With a retro hairstyle and a slender figure, she wore a red dress that fitted her perfectly. She held an umbrella and slowly walked out from the background of a beautiful scene with a small bridge and flowing water. The

V-neck design showed the lines of her collarbone and neck perfectly. The romantic and retro aura emanated from her made many people at the scene stunned.

This was the unique noble and elegant charm of women, which was undoubtedly and fully displayed by Mariela, so beautiful that people could not take their eyes off her.

Especially when she looked into the distance with her bright and clear eyes, deep in thought, she was even more attractive.

There were also patterns embroidered on the dress, adding an overall sense of elegance and magnificence.

The sleeveless style even flattered the figure more and made the whole dress more elegant.

Paige quickly graded the dress and gave a score of nine points, only one point away from ten points!

The audience was all stunned, and even Mariela, who was on the stage, was surprised and excited at the same time.

Chapter 389 She Is Convinced

Paige looked at the girl on the stage and asked in a low voice, "You don't know where you lost to her, right?"

"Yes." Isabella was very sure that if her design were to be sold today, it would definitely be marketable. She thought that she should not have gotten six points only.

Mariela, who was backstage, saw the live broadcast and clenched her fists nervously. She had caused trouble for Paige...

With such an episode in such an important competition, would there be any impact on Paige's identity as a judge?

She felt that she had burdened Paige and could not help but feel anxious and guilty.

“Because her dress can show the unique nobility and beauty of American women, and it can also reflect the charm of the traditional colors of America, and your suit can’t.”

Isabella bit her lower lip and asked, “Why”

Her suit merged with the national cultural elements, and the design was the most avant-garde. Wasn’t it better than Mariela’s classical dress?

“Mariela’s design, whether she wears it or any other middle-aged woman puts on it, can maintain the traditional cultural elements. Meanwhile, it is fashionable. In other words, her style is suitable for anyone.”

“Impossible.”

Isabella saw with her own eyes that the dress was high-demanding in terms of figure. If a middle-aged woman put on it, it would definitely ruin the dress.

“Mariela only did a good job in the shape. If a middle-aged woman wears it, it will definitely not be worth this score.”

“Is that so?” Paige did not think so. “Then you can pick a woman on the spot and let her wear the dress that Mariela designed. Then you can pick another woman to wear the one you designed.”

“Good!” Isabella was still very confident in her work. She immediately picked two middle-aged women around forty years old who went backstage to get changed.

Chapter 390 She Has Some Professional Ethics

Isabella bowed 90 degrees in the direction where Paige left and picked up the microphone with some guilt.

*"I'm sorry, Master Quinn. I was and offended you just now. You modified it very well. It's my own problem that I didn't get nine points."

Paige returned to her seat, and her clear eyes fell on Isabella.

Her voice passed through the microphone and reached everyone's ears word by word.

"On the stage, nationality or friendship is not what the jury considers. It's your work that matters. As long as your design can amaze us, then you will get a high score."

As a judge, she still had some professional ethics. She would not take revenge for personal grudges.

"Focus on your next competition. There are still two rounds. Everything is possible."

Everyone was amazed by Paige's manner and magnanimity, and they began to applaud.

She did not take the opportunity to disqualify Isabella, nor did she fly into a rage out of humiliation.

The staff backstage heaved a sigh of relief.

Isabella could not help but bow again to thank Paige for her kindness.

After the first round of screening, only nine contestants were able to successfully enter the second round.

In the second round, contestants were expected to design a wedding dress they thought was the most beautiful for the most important person in their life. It could be one's relatives or friends. The time limit was sixty minutes.

A person suddenly appeared in Mariela's mind. It was too good-looking. It seemed that no matter what kind of wedding dress she wore, it was not high-end enough.

Mariela thought about it, and when everyone was competing against time, her eyes fell on Paige not far away.
