Chapter 471 Being Brid

After all, in the Triangle Area, she had a priceless medicinal mountain...

There were many precious herbs on the mountain that couldn't be bought on the market with money.

"That's it?" Lamont was skeptical.

"Yes." Paige nodded, her face full of sincerity. "That's it."

Lamont heaved a sigh of relief. "Then can you tell which gang those people were from?"

Shaking her head, Paige honestly replied, 'I couldn't tell."

Each of their moves was vicious and deadly, and no one could tell where they came from for the time being.

Lamont nodded. 'I'm very happy that you have such skills. At least in times of danger, you can protect yourself. But...you risked your life today and used yourself as bait. You don't know how anxious I was when I saw them pull out their guns. In the future, if you have any problems, you must tell me first. Although I'm not as good as you, I can at least arrange for more people to help you.'

Paige thought that if he arranged more people, he would only alert the enemy and might even become a burden to her.

She knew that his starting point was good, so she felt sorry for him. She nodded and said obediently, "I understand, Lamont."

"You must be tired today. Go to bed early." Lamont patted her head.

"Lamont, you should go to bed early too. Don't sit alone on the balcony until dawn."

Hearing this, Lamont did not expect his sister to know that he had stayed up all night. He was touched and said, "Okay, I promise you."

She went back to her room to take a shower and deal with some personal matters before going to bed at one o'clock.

Early the next morning, when she went downstairs for breakfast, she suddenly found that several servants were looking at her hesitantly.

It was as if something had happened that she didn't know.

Amily's eyes fell on Bonnie and then looked at the small bottle in her hand. She said disdainfully, "She's so stingy. Ms. Patricia is too embarrassed to take out such a small thing, but you all treat it as a treasure."

"Yes, even if Ms. Paige gives me a blade of grass, I will be happy! I will also take it as a treasure!" Bonnie was touched by Ms. Paige today, and she was full of confidence. "If you are not happy, you can complain to Mr. and Mrs. Lusk!"

Amily's face darkened, and she was a little angry.

"Ms. Paige saw that I didn't look well, so she kindly gave me a bottle of medicine. As a result, you couldn't stand it and thought that I had been bribed, so you wanted to drive me out of the Lusk family! Go ahead! See if they will pay attention to you."

Amily didn't expect that Bonnie would become so sharp-tongued today. "It seems that you have someone to back you up. You are full of confidence."

"Yes, I have Ms. Paige's support. What do you think? If you're not convinced, go and find her!" Bonnie looked at Amily again. "Ms. Patricia must have given you a lot of things over the years. You have accepted them for 18 years, but I only accepted them twice! If I pack up and leave, you should get out of here first! What else can you do besides taking advantage of your position and bullying others?"

"Bonnie, don't go too far. After all, Amily is half my mother. She grew up with me and is like my family. Please apologize to her immediately!"

With Patricia backing her up, Amily straightened her back and looked at Bonnie with her nose out.

"I didn't do anything wrong. Why should I apologize?"

"You don't take me seriously now? Well, I'm very dissatisfied with your service now. Please leave this house immediately. I'll explain the situation to Mom and Dad. Please pack up and leave now!"

When Bonnie heard this, she became even angrier. "It's Mr. and Mrs. Lusk who pay me salary. Unless they let me go, no one can make me step out of this house!"

"Which two fools made you unhappy?" Danica could tell that Paige's tone was not good and immediately became angry.

"Alice, Lauryn." Paige directly said their names.

"Did they bully you? If so, I won't let them leave so easily!"

Alice and Lauryn instantly had a bad feeling when they heard this.

"It can't be considered bullying. They just like to speak rudely and bully other subordinates."

"They're so mean? They've gone too far! Just you wait, I'll go down and get even with them right now. I invited them here for tens of thousands of dollars a month not to give my daughter a hard time and ruin the family's atmosphere! These two insensible people can forget about working in this industry in the future!"

Danica's angry voice came from the other end of the line, as well as the sound of her getting out of bed to look for something. "Hey, where are my slippers? Where did they go?"

She seemed to be going downstairs to get even with Alice and Lauryn.

Alice and Lauryn panicked and instinctively wanted to flee, yet they were blocked by Jamie and Jesse.

"Mom, don't worry. I'll take care of it." Paige looked at them indifferently.

"Since you have no objections, I'll fire them."

"Yes, of course! I'll go down and talk to them later!" Danica couldn't find her slippers anywhere. She felt strange and said, "Paige, remember, you're Mom and Dad's most precious daughter. You'll always have the right to fire anyone in this family!"

Paige hung up the phone and looked at Alice and Lauryn. "Did you hear that?"

"I'm sorry, Ms. Paige. It's all Amily's fault..."

"That's right. Otherwise, Amily would be wagging her tail to the sky." Bonnie smiled. "Ms. Paige, thank you so much."

"You're being too polite." As she spoke, she heard someone calling out to her.

"Paige, why did you get up so early?"

The person who came downstairs was Lamont. He had seen the lights in Paige's room turn off only at 1 a.m. last night...

She didn't expect to get up so early today.

"I'm not sleepy." She looked up and asked, "Did you sleep well last night?"

"I couldn't have fallen asleep at first, but I soon fell asleep after smelling the exhaust gas you gave me..." Lamont also felt that it was amazing. It had been a long time since he had slept so soundly.

When Jamie heard this, she thought, "What kind of material is that? It sounds very useful. I really want one!"

Seeing the envy in her eyes, she asked softly, "You want it? I'll give you one later."

"Ahh, thank you, Ms. Paige!" Jamie was extremely excited.

"There's a share for all of you." Paige looked at the two people beside her.

Hearing this, Bonnie and Jesse were immediately happy. So they also had one?!

"Ms. Paige, you're the best..."

They wondered why there was such a big gap between two rich young ladies.

Patricia had received the best education since she was a child. She had been immersed in the best family atmosphere for a long time. Why was she so ill-bred in the end?

Look at Ms. Paige. She grew up in adversity and her skills are amazing...

Lamont asked straightforwardly, "How much did you spend? I will transfer it to you."

"There's no need! You work so hard, how can I spend your money? I have my own." Patricia tried her best to show her understanding.

However, Lamont said lovingly, "I promised to cover your expenses. How much? It's alright, tell me."

Patricia deliberately smiled mischievously. "I won't tell you."

"You're still a student, but I can already make money. Last night, I should have taken you to buy it, but something came up at the last minute..." Lamont felt like he had stood his sister up last night. He felt very apologetic. "If you don't tell me, I'll have to ask Amily."

"Don't look for her."

Patricia hurriedly tightened her grip on Lamont's arm.

"Lamont, you really don't have to pay for it. I'm not here to ask you for compensation. I just want to tell you that I've bought all the gifts for Christmas this year. Your gift... you'll definitely be very happy when you receive it! But I can't tell you now. I'm here today to tell you that you don't have to prepare a Christmas gift for me."

"Why?" Lamont asked in confusion.

"Because you've bought me a lot of things over the years. Buy more for Paige from now on!"

When Lamont saw the innocent look in her eyes, his gaze immediately softened. "That won't do. I can't lose either of you. You're both my younger sisters."

At this moment, Amily just happened to pass by the garden. Lamont called out to her. "Amily, come here."

Amily pretended to be confused.

Patricia lowered her head and didn't say anything.

"Ms. Patricia, next..." Emily whispered in Patricia's ear, planning something.

On the other side.

When Paige arrived at the Knapcoll Villa, Jairo saw her and reported truthfully, "Boss, those people woke up last night, but they refused to reveal anything. They're all tough."

"It's okay. Don't worry. I'll go to the lab first."

Jairo looked at her back and thought, "Boss is so handsome when she's engaged in her career!"

She began to analyze yesterday's powder again. She always felt that she had neglected something. Her cell phone vibrated as she was busy. It was a call from Callia.

"Callia?" Paige stopped what she was doing and felt a little puzzled.

"Paige, where have you been? I'm at the Larsen Villa!" Callia's voice came from the phone. "The servant said that you went out early in the morning. Did you go out to play? Can you take me with you?"

"I'm going out with my friends."

"Oh, when are you coming back?"

"It might not be that fast."

"Lamont isn't at home either... Can you finish your work at noon? Let's have lunch together. I heard that there is a beautiful cave restaurant in Chicago, and many people go there."

She really wanted to build a good relationship with her future sister-in-law. Another reason was that she liked Paige's cold personality very much and got along very well with her.

However, ever since Paige knew Lamont's attitude, she tactfully refused. "I might not be able to do it at noon. I'll treat you another day."

for the time being. We can find her parents first."

Perhaps her parents knew the inside story.

"Then what are we waiting for? Let's go to Florida now."

Lamont really wanted to find her. When he thought about how Yana might have been poisoned and had to rely on another poison to slow down the toxicity, his heart felt like it was suffocating and he felt terrible!

At this moment, Jairo knocked on the door and said, "Boss, there's news. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob have run out of money. They're teaching a family where they live. I've sent you their rented place."

"Alright." Paige instructed, "Prepare a private jet for me. Lamont and I are heading over right now."

When Lamont heard that he thought, "She has a private jet?"

Hearing this, Jairo said, "Boss, you can't go there! Have you forgotten that the previous forces are everywhere..."

Seeing the pressure in her eyes, Jairo immediately changed his words. "You'd better stay here. There are so many things waiting for you to deal with..."

Lamont sensed that something was amiss. "What do those forces mean? Why can't Paige go there? Is she in danger as soon as she leaves here?"

"I..." Jairo was stunned by the question. After a long while, he lied. "I mean, when Boss went to catch those people, one of them escaped, didn't he? What if that person goes back to ask for reinforcements... and sets up an ambush for Boss in Florida? Boss has no manpower there. It's too dangerous to go there."

"Shut up and leave." She really felt that he was talking too much.

"Boss..."

Paige raised her warning eyes again, and Jairo could only retreat silently...

"Paige, send me the address. I can go by myself." Lamont could tell how dangerous it was. "It's safer for you to stay here. If anything happens to you, I will never forgive myself."

"Jairo just likes to worry about others. Don't worry about it. Let's go back to the Larsen Villa to pack some light luggage first. It may take two or three days."

Martin could only give in. "Okay, then you go over today and I'll go find you tomorrow."

Martin couldn't help laughing, "Okay."

Paige had a good anti-reconnaissance ability. As long as it was someone he arranged, she could find him everytime.

In Larsen Villa.

Patricia didn't expect Lamont to come back with Paige. Did he go out to look for her just now?

Thinking of this, she felt a little unhappy.

Lamont first went to the dressing room to retrieve a few sets of clothes to change into. Then, he knocked on Danica's door, saying that he would be leaving with Paige.

"You brat, you finally got it!" Danica said happily, "Then I'll leave Paige to you. You have to take good care of her. You must stay in the best hotel and accompany her anywhere she wants to go. You have to buy whatever she wants to eat. Also, it's getting cold. Don't let her catch a cold."

Danica thought that his son was going to take Paige for a trip. While he was happy, she nagged.

Everything was about how to take good care of his sister.

'Okay, I'll keep it in mind.'

Lamont did not tell her about the dangers of this trip. He wanted her to mistakenly think that they were traveling.

He waited for his mother to finish her instructions before

After getting on the plane, they found that the living room was luxurious and beautiful, and someone served them tea, snacks, and fruit.

"Lamont, eat something first and then go to the bedroom to rest for a while."

There were four separate rooms on the plane, and the master bedroom belonged to her. Only one of the three guest rooms had been used by the injured Jairo, and the other two rooms had not been used yet.

However, someone cleaned it up on time, and it was very neat inside.

"I'm not sleepy. But you went to bed so late last night, got up so early today, and did experiments for so long."

Lamont felt apologetic. At the same time, he also felt that his younger sister was really different from the other rich young ladies. She worked hard every day.

The other young ladies were all dressed exquisitely. They attended all kinds of parties, did SPA, and went shopping every day.

In comparison, Paige's life was much more fulfilling and meaningful.

"Oh, right. I suddenly recalled something." Sitting on the couch and drinking half a glass of lemon water, she continued, "I didn't find anything related to you in Yana's room."

When Lamont heard that, his eyes darkened instantly.

Seeing through his thoughts, Paige explained, "Those people said that she's a traitor. I was wondering if she was afraid of implicating you, so she erased everything related to you. If that's the case, then she really loves you."

Lamont suddenly lifted his eyes. When he thought of this possibility, his entire heart became agitated.

"She's protecting you in her own way," Paige added.

Ever since Yana had left, Lamont had been disheartened for a year. Now that he was suddenly informed of this possibility, his heart seemed to come alive again, full of vitality.

"We still have hours before we reach our destination, so let's all rest for a while." Paige stood up and walked towards the master bedroom.

But the girl's eyes were sincere. She nodded with a sincere attitude and emphasized, "We won't hurt Yana."

Because the place rented by Mr. Jacob was on the first floor, people passed by from time to time, and some people even looked at the yard.

"Let them in!" Leyna entered the house anxiously. Mr. Jacob had mixed feelings and finally followed her in.

Paige and Lamont looked at each other, as if to say, "They've agreed."

Lamont closed the door in the courtyard and followed his sister into the house.

The living room was small, but it was clean and tidy everywhere.

"Sit wherever you like."

Hearing Mr. Jacob's words, Paige and Lamont sat on the sofa obediently, like two students.

Leyna went to the kitchen to get some water. Paige wanted to say that there was no need to bother, but judging from her worried expression, it was obvious that she was still thinking about what had just happened. Her attention was not on the kitchen, and she was absent-minded...

On the other hand, Mr. Jacob glanced at Paige and then at Lamont. "Brother and sister?"

The two of them nodded.

"Related by blood?"

They nodded in unison again.

"How long have you been dating Yana?" Nels then looked at Lamont and asked.

"One year," Lamont answered truthfully. "One year later, she left me and I went to look for her for another year."
