Chapter 481 Obtaining Trust

If her daughter had been poisoned, how could she have looked so relaxed?

According to the girl, the process of fighting poison with poison was very painful...

Why was her daughter still smiling so sweetly at her after taking the poison powder?

The look in Paige's eyes deepened. "At that time, Yana and my brother were still dating..."

"Paige also said that there was a group of people looking for Yana everywhere," Leyna mentioned to her husband.

Nels looked at the girl in front of him in disbelief. "How do you know?"

Without hiding anything, she told him everything that she had found out from her neighbors, as well as how she had climbed over the wall and entered their house...

Nels and Leyna were a little angry at first, because the girl broke into their house without telling them...

However, when he heard the girl say that there were so many cameras and listening devices installed in her house, and that the group of people had quickly come looking for her after the girl had installed those things...

While they were shocked, they were secretly glad that Yana did not return. Otherwise, she would have fallen into the hands of those bad guys.

"Paige, were you injured at that time?" Leyna asked again.

If he were to get injured because of this, the couple would feel apologetic.

"No," replied Paige truthfully. "But those people said that Yana is a traitor, so I'm guessing that she wants to continue being together with my brother. She doesn't want to bring danger to your parents, so she was forced to take poison. When the poison took effect, it was very painful, so she had to use another strong poison to fight against the poison and save her life."

Hearing his sister's analysis, Lamont suddenly remembered. "At the end of the year, I couldn't get in touch with Yana. When I asked her, she always said that she was busy, so I didn't take it to heart. Sometimes, I finally managed to ask her out for a meal. After eating, she would go to the bathroom for a long time. When she came out, her face was a little pale."

Chapter 482 Discovering a Problem

However, Paige said softly, 'As long as you tell us everything you know, I believe that Yana's whereabouts will soon be revealed.'

Speaking of this, she paused for a moment before continuing, "Yana lied to you that she found her biological parents and was going to live abroad with them. However, we checked the flight records of the past year and did not find any records of her exit."

As soon as she said that, they were stunned again.

"I told you, Yana is not a heartless person. Something must have happened to her..." Leyna had been with her daughter for many years, and they knew each other well. Ever since her daughter said that she would find her biological parents and leave them, she felt that something was wrong and panicked.

Seeing Leyna silently wiping away her tears, Nels also felt a lump in his throat and said in a hoarse voice, "I hope she really found her biological parents, and I don't want her to be in danger..."

If possible, they would rather their daughter be happy for the rest of her life, even if they would never see each other again...

"I heard from my neighbor that a group of people went to your house a few months ago. It's raining and they're still walking around in the yard." She looked up at them.

The neighbor said that after that day, the Jacob Family had not opened the door for four or five days. The neighbor saw them four or five days later and asked them what was going on. They only said that they were relatives and did not tell them anything else in detail.

"That time..." Nels wanted to say something but stopped on second thought. He didn't know whether to say it or not.

"Tell them, they are good people, and they really want to help us." Leyna persuaded.

In the end, Nels chose to tell her everything. "It was a rainy night. When I was asleep, I suddenly heard something coming from Yana's room. At first, I thought I had misheard, but after a while, there was another sound coming from Yana's house. This time, Leyna also heard it."

"The two of us thought that Yana had returned. We were so happy and excited that we got up to take a look. At that time, the sound of the storm was so loud that it made people panic when it hit the window."

"Well, these are the same as the ones in your house. Although they are not the latest style, they are more than enough to monitor the movements.'

"Why are they monitoring us?"

Leyna thought to herself, "No wonder my husband always felt that the layout of the house had changed a little. At that time, I thought that he had thought too much, but now it seems that the group of people has entered our house several times and installed cameras and bugs!"

Just thinking about it made her feel numb all over.

"However, there are only you two living together. They probably don't want to listen to your conversations for 24 hours. What's more, when we were talking just now, I had turned on the anti-reconnaissance device, so they couldn't hear what we were talking about."

She took out a small button. If one didn't look carefully, he wouldn't be able to tell the difference between it and a real button.

Not only Nels and Leyna, but even Lamont was surprised. He did not expect his sister to carry so many treasures with her...

This time, she was here to investigate Yana's whereabouts, so her small backpack was filled with all kinds of divine weapons.

"But the surveillance video should have recorded us coming here, but the other party couldn't hear anything because the source of the sound was disturbed, but the surveillance video can still be seen."

"Does that mean this place isn't safe anymore?" Leyna asked uncertainly.

"Yes, go pack your things. We'll leave as soon as possible."

"Paige just said that Yana didn't come to Florida. There's no point in us staying here. Let's pack up and go with them first..." Leyna discussed this with her husband.

She still had a lingering fear of that group of people. After all, they were ruthless and skilled...

Nels nodded and went into the room with her to pack up.

Then, she took out her phone and contacted Joseph, ordering him to book hotels of the Stowe Group. It was relatively safe.

Chapter 484 There's Something Inside

The man in black wanted to bite his tongue to kill himself, but Paige raised her hand, and the white powder fell profusely.

Many people fainted.

When Martin's people arrived, the room was full of chaos, and there were more than a dozen people lying there.

Their hoods had been removed a long time ago, revealing unfamiliar faces, and there were no tattoos or marks on their bodies.

"You take care of the rest."

Paige knew that these people were very hard-spoken and would not be able to answer within a few days, so she said, "Be careful, don't attract attention."

"Yes, Ms. Paige."

The headed bodyguard watched Paige's leaving back, took out his mobile phone, and wanted to secretly take a photo of Paige's back...

Unexpectedly, Paige noticed something, turned her head and asked, "What are you doing?"

The man was so frightened that his hands trembled, "I, I'll show it to Mr. Stowe to prove that Ms. Paige is safe..."

Damn, Ms. Paige's aura was terrifying to death. Even though he had been in the world for many years, he still felt a little scared...

Lamont thought that this man had taken a fancy to his sister, and wanted to secretly take a picture as a souvenir... Unexpectedly, it was Martin's idea.

Paige was also a little speechless. Before she left, she confessed, "Deal with the scene as soon as possible."

"Yes!" The man blushed, a little embarrassed.

Lamont picked up the bag on the ground and opened it. There was a scarf and some other personal items inside.

It should be the bag Leyna mentioned.

There was a car outside the door to take them to meet Joseph.

As soon as Paige got into the car, she asked, "Lamont, do you have any new discoveries?"

Lamont seemed to have found something related to Yana, and his heart was excited.

Paige suddenly thought of something, "Lamont, did Yana also give you an amulet?"

When Lamont heard it, he suddenly realized, "Do you think there is something hidden in that amulet?"

"Possible."

Lamont immediately took out his wallet and took out the red triangular amulet.

He shook it, but didn't hear any sound coming from inside the amulet.

Thinking that there might be clues hidden in it, he became ruthless and opened the amulets layer by layer...

Nels and Leyna held their breaths and carefully watched his movements. Not long after, a small crescent moon suddenly appeared in the innermost part of the amulet.

The crescent was about the size of a fingertip, and it was made of platinum, with a strange symbol engraved on it.

"Is this the clue Yana left for me?"

Lamont didn't expect that Yana had hidden the relevant things in this amulet a long time ago, but he waited so long to find out!

If it wasn't for his sister's reminder, he probably wouldn't have found out in his lifetime...

He was really stupid!

"What does this little crescent moon mean and what is its use?" Leyna couldn't figure it out at all, "What message does Yana want to convey to us..."

Nels didn't know what this gadget was for, so he held it in his hand and looked at it carefully, "If Yana is really involved in a certain organization, then the small symbol on the crescent moon, could it be the symbol of a certain organization?"

Chapter 486 Go Back First

After hanging up the phone, Paige raised her eyes and ordered, "Joseph, prepare for the plane, and send Leyna and Nels back to America first."

"Yes." Joseph quickly took the order.

Leyna raised her tearful eyes and asked in astonishment, "Going back soon? But we haven't found Yana yet..."

"This matter is too involved. It's not safe for the two of you to stay here." Paige came to them and said softly, "We will definitely find Yana, trust us."

"Take us with you." Leyna grabbed Paige's hand and begged, "We don't want to go back to America, we promise, we will never hold you back... As long as you are in a city, when you are doing business, we will stay far away..."

"No." Paige said firmly, "We are going to the next place, which is more dangerous than this place."

After all, the triangle area was notoriously chaotic...

Even if she and Martin's people occupy half of the country there, it's still best to be careful in everything.

"I can assure you that within a week, there will definitely be news from Yana." Paige seemed to give them a reassurance.

Within a week?

Lamont couldn't believe it when he heard it. They could find Yana's whereabouts in such a short period of time?

Could it be that the phone call that Paige answered just now brought some clues?

Her own power in the country, the power of her grandfathers, and Martin's power at least could keep

But not necessarily outside...

Paige smiled slightly, "Okay, I see."

After hanging up the phone, Paige saw that Jairo had sent her two messages.

"Boss, the four people in Knapcoll Villa don't eat or drink, and they want to commit suicide whenever they get the chance. If it wasn't for your lifesustaining needle, they would have died long ago. '

"I have tried all methods now, but they just refuse to reveal a word, what should I do?'

They were beaten and beaten, tortured and tortured, but their bones were tough, and they refused to reveal the slightest bit of news.

Paige replied, "Don't they want to reveal it? Didn't they already reveal it?

Those unknown and inconspicuous small organizations, under such torture, have already told what they know."

Paige typed another sentence, "They would rather die than reveal a word like this, and keep the secrets of the organization tight-lipped. In fact, there are only a dozen of organizations at home and abroad."

Jairo quickly replied, "Yes, I can investigate from these dozen or so organizations first, maybe there will be clues."

"Other things I asked you to check, give me the results as soon as possible.' Paige didn't want to have long nights and dreams.

"Yes! Boss! I will hurry up."

Moreover, among the medicines that the old lady took, there were the three kinds she mentioned.

These three were special medicines, and they were not yet on the market. How did the girl know?

Amazing!

The driver also stared wide-eyed. Although he usually didn't take care of the old lady's medication, but he heard the girl speak clearly and logically, and still felt that the girl was awesome...

She even knew this.

"Well, do you know medicine? If we don't use these three medicines, what other medicines can we use?' The short-haired girl caught her and asked, "Can you leave a contact information? If you are helpful to our lady's condition, sir will definitely reward you heavily."

"Madam's body cannot be cured in a day or two."

When Paige took the old lady's pulse just now, she found many problems. If she wanted to treat her, she had to keep changing the prescription, and even had to observe the old lady's reaction to the medication, and make adjustments at any time, which was a bit time-consuming.

"Miss, it's time to get in the car."

At this moment, seeing that Paige had been delayed for too long, Joseph couldn't help coming over to remind her.

There were cars coming and going here, if someone found out, Paige would be in trouble that she could not get rid of in the future.

"Can you leave a contact information?" The short-haired girl was a little reluctant to part with this beautiful girl, who looked only in her teens, and she didn't expect her to know so much about medicine.

But Paige thought, if this scene was seen by the bad guys, they would definitely follow the clues to find the old lady's family if they couldn't find her. She didn't want to implicate the innocent

Paige saw that there were so many flowers and plants outside. It was surprising, and it can be said to be a beautiful small garden.

"I made you travel all the way, and I feel so sorry, drink some water first? Oh yes, I bought some bread at the supermarket just now, and I'll give it to you..." The old man stood up tremblingly again.

"Do not bother."

Paige picked up the cup and smelled a faint smell as soon as she got close.

She raised her eyes to look at the back of the old man. The old man bent down to get the bread in the bag. It seemed that he was struggling, "I often buy this bread...the taste is not bad."

He staggered to Paige again, handed it over, and said kindly, "Try it."

Paige didn't drink any water, but put down the water glass and said with a smile, "Calendula and knockout drops, this is your way of hospitality?"

The old man didn't expect her to smell it all. The key point was that the girl's eyes are clear and bright, and she didn't seem to be afraid of the situation in front of her. Her strong psychological quality was quite surprising.

"What are you talking about?" Conan was still pretending to be stupid.

"In addition to these two, you also used faint fragrance."

"Haha..." The old man put down the bread and said with a smile, "When did you find out?"

"At the door." Paige's beautiful eyes were calm and calm, and she said slowly, "You said that you have planted the land for decades, and you often do housework at home, and even set up a small garden, but I accidentally touched your hand, it doesn't look like a hand that has worked."

That's why Paige didn't help him carry his things, but deliberately followed his footsteps into the house, hoping to see what he would do next.

"After you entered the room, you put down your things, showed a tired look, and touched the side table next to you. At this time, you turned on the switch of the fragrance?"

Hearing this, the old man became even more interested, "What else?"

"And when you went to pour water, in order not to let me see, you first took an empty glass, filled it with water, and waited a while before coming out... At this time, you are already administering medicine, right?"

In the ranch, Martin's men lined up in a straight line, vowing to protect the people in the house to the death.

Dozens of men in black quickly attacked them, as fast as lightning.

Some men in black rushed to the door, but Lamont blocked them all by himself, not allowing them to step into the door.

"What to do... Will Lamont be in danger?"

Leyna hid by the window and peeked. While worried, she once again felt that this child was doing good to them with all his heart and soul, and was risking his life to protect them time and time again.

Just because of this child's character, she swore in her heart that if she could find Yana smoothly, she would absolutely agree with this marriage.

"It's causing trouble for them again." Nels was also extremely worried, the killing outside was fierce, Lamont's arm had already been slashed severely, and blood flowed instantly.

"Lamont..." Leyna's heart ached so badly, with so much blood, how painful this child was!

But Lamont didn't stop. Two men in black wanted to break in while he was injured, but he stopped them again.

The situation looked tense.

At this moment, a rattling sound fell from the sky.

Leyna and Nels discovered at the same time that it was a plane, and the plane to meet them came!

A man in black pulled the trigger on the plane, but it didn't prevent it from landing smoothly...

Startled by these noises, the herd ran around.
