

Lana's POV

Halfway toward Red River Pack I stop, in the middle of the road walking off to the side and stopping at the tree line. I had a terrible feeling about this, something was off my senses on high alert.

"Why have you stopped Lana?" Arial asks stopping herself and walking over to me. I look back the way we came an uneasy feeling settling over me.

"This is a bad idea Arial" I tell her. Tate's words coming back to me, to let Drake handle his father, this was stirring up trouble, trouble that hasn't anything to do with me.

"You can't back out now we are nearly there I can smell the pack from here"

"No Arial something isn't right, it has been quiet from their end for days, I'm sorry I am not going any further, we should head back and ask Tate and Drake" I tell her turning around.

"You aren't pussyng out, they can't do st we are direct descendants of the moon goddess we can handle Drake's father, st probably take on the entire pack if we want" Arial argues.

"Yes but that doesn't mean its right Arial, not even mum oversteps and forces her will over other packs, this is wrong Arial we are going back" I tell her grabbing her arm. She shakes me off.

"Arial!" I warn her.

"No, it's alright for you, you have your mates home with you. I am not leaving mine stuck on another territory when I can do something about it" She snaps.

"Just because you can doesn't mean we should" I tell her.

"We are Alpha's or Alpha's wake up Lana, they can't do st to us without repercussions from mum"

"Do you see mum here, she is Alpha of Alpha's not us and never will be that title goes to Ryker when mum steps down, we are just her daughters we have no rights here Lana, we walk into their territory we are trespassing" Arial rolls her eyes.

"You are being dramatic, now hurry up"

"No, I am not getting involved I am heading back"

"So, you will let me go alone" She asks folding her arms across her chest.

"We can ring mum, ask her to help or get Tate and Drake"

"I am not asking Tate for help" She snaps.

"Fine I will ask him, or we can ring Ryker he is next in line, they won't deny him if you don't want to ask mum" I tell her, turning and walking back the way we came. When I don't hear her following, I stop looking back at her.

“Arial come on” I wave to her, but she doesn’t move.

“No I am going, if you are too scared just go, I will do it myself” She snaps. St! I think as I watch her continue leaving. I follow her to the border before deciding to use the pack link to ask Tate for help.

“Tate?” I ask he answers instantly.

“What’s up? Where are you, you feel far away?” He asks before I feel his worry hit me.

“I think I have f*d up, is Drake awake?”

“Lana what’s going on?” Fk! I never should have listened to my sister, I should have went home and rang mum or got Drake.

“Lana answer me” His voice booms through the link.

“I am at the border of the River Pack” I confess.

“Come back now” He bellows through the bond making me flinch.

“I can’t Arial is about to storm through looking for Chase, can you come please”

“Head back we are on our way” I go to answer when I see Arial step over the border.

“Lana, don’t you step over that border, promise me” Tate says I could feel he had shifted, feel Drake had too though, something felt different and I was shocked I didn’t notice it before, my heart skipping a beat when I realise what it was, Tate had marked Drake. Guilt hitting me that I ruined their moment.

“Lana?” Tate demands.

“Okay I will wait” I tell him before he cuts the link.

“Arial wait they are on their way” I call to her, but she doesn’t listen.

“Arial come back now, this is stupid” I tell her when she goes out of sight. I growl annoyed standing away from the border when I hear her scream.
