CHAPTER 029

I tried to walk past Lucas but he put his arm up on the wall and stopped me from walking past.

him.

"What the f**k do you want Lucas?" I yelled.

"What are you doing? This isn't you." He said, looking at my clothes.

"Maybe it is. How the hell would you know? People aren't always what they appear to be. Are they?" I asked.

"Can we talk?" He asked.

"No. I'm busy with my actual friends." I said.

"Do you have any idea how dangerous it is for you out here? If all of these people knew who you were then you wouldn't be having such a good time." He said.

"Just leave me the f**k alone." I yelled in his face.

"Emma. Please, just listen to me.'

クラ

"You've got nothing to say that I want to hear. Just get out of my way." I said, pushing him out of the way.

I only made it a couple of steps before he caught up and stood in front of me again.

I tried to mind link with Avery but I'd had too much to drink. It wasn't working.

"Lucas. I already told you. Stay the f**k away from me. I don't want anything to do with you.

You had your chance and you blew it. You blew it in a way that you can never fix it." I yelled. "That's what you think. But I am going to make this up to you."

"Why? It was a f*****g bet. Just find a new victim and move on. Because I'm done being a victim. It was the wake up call that I needed. I'm never going to be a victim again." I said. "You're not my victim. Can we please go somewhere quiet to talk?"

"No!" I yelled.

"It started off as a bet. But the more I got to know you, I was going to call it off. If it meant that Levi got our parents assets then I didn't care." He said.

"Give me a break. Do you really think I am stupid enough to fall for that? It started off as a bet and you started to fall in love with me? That's just a typical bad teenage movie that's ever been made." I yelled. 1/4

CHAPTER 029

I tried to push past him again, but this time he grabbed my arms and he pushed me against the wall so we were facing each other and he was staring me right in the eyes.

"You have to believe me. Because it's true." He said.

"Hey. Let her go." Noah yelled, coming into the hallway.

"Who the f**k are you?" Lucas asked.

"That's none of your business. Let her go." Noah said, grabbing Lucas by the arm and pulling him off of me.

Pretty soon Avery and Chloe ran down the hallway to where I was and they pulled me away while the guys were having words and I could tell that it was getting really heated.

Avery got the bouncers before it got out of hand.

She didn't want a fight to break out because that means we will have to leave and they wanted to show me a great night tonight.

They didn't want it to end too soon because this was my first time out. But I guess brawls are pretty common in clubs. So I don't know why they were so worried about me not getting the best experience.

I thought a brawl would be part of the experience.

We saw Lucas and Noah being kicked out of the club and I stayed inside with my girls and we kept drinking and dancing and having the time of our lives.

They were taking photos on their phones and we were all posing for the photos while on the dance floor and standing at the table or the bar drinking.

We did attract a few guys that night and it didn't worry me too much to dance with the guys, but I made it very clear to my friends that it wasn't going any further than that.

I didn't even want these guys to know my name. Which they all agreed to.

One guy was paying more attention to me than the others and I was dancing with him, pretty trashy dancing, but I didn't care.

I was letting my hair down and having a blast.

By the time we left it was freezing outside and even though we had drunk a lot, we didn't get drunk like humans.

So we walked down the road to Avery's car and we got in it and all headed home.

Violet and Ella were in another car but they were following us back to the territory. 2/4

CHAPTER 029

"So, did you have fun?" Chloe asked.

"Yeah. I did. We definitely have to do that again." I said.

"Hell yeah." Avery said.

"Who was that guy at the bar?" Chloe asked.

"I don't know. Never seen him before. Said his name was Noah. That's all I know. And then he saw Lucas holding me up in the hallway and he thought it was up to him to come to my rescue." I said.

"He was pretty cute." Avery said.

"Does it look like I'm wanting to find another guy that's just going to use me and break my heart? I don't f*****g think so." I said.

"So what? Are you going to stay a virgin for the rest of your life?" Avery asked.

"At this point, yes. Guys suck." I said.

"Which is why you use them for s*x and then toss them aside." She said.

"Not interested. Thanks." I said. But I saw Avery give Chloe a look through the mirror.

"She's not going to give up her V card for a one-night stand. Which means she's not going to have s*x now." Chloe explained. "Not all guys are like Lucas and Levi." Avery said.

"I know. But somehow, I always manage to find those ones." I said.

"I know." She said.

When we got back to the pack, Avery dropped us off as close to the castle as possible and Chloe and I got out and started walking.

We couldn't get inside the castle without the guards seeing us so we snuck around the side again and I called Zidrith.

He gave us a lift back up to the castle and we snuck back inside and went up the backstairs to my room.

I got changed straight away and washed the makeup off my face and we jumped into bed.

Chloe actually went to her own room tonight which I was thankful for.

It was really late and I was really tired.

I fell asleep as soon as my head hit the pillow and I don't think anything could wake me up after that.

CHAPTER 030

I decided to skip going for a jog the following morning and when I stumbled out of bed I had a shower and I started looking through my wardrobe.

I got dressed in a black one shoulder loose fitting top that was longer down the left side and the side that had the sleeve was a long sleeve, jeans and black high heels with several straps over my feet.

I grabbed my jacket and walked downstairs to the dining room.

Anna met me there and told me what was on this afternoon and I told her that I just wanted to get through the day first.

"Emma. Are you alright? You don't seem like yourself right now." Anna said.

"Yeah. I'm just tired. I only got a couple of hours last night." I said.

"Yeah. That's usually what happens when you sneak out." She said. And I turned to look at her, but she was just smirking at me as she left the room.

When breakfast was over I walked to the bottom of the stairs and I started walking towards town and looking around at the village that was at the bottom of the council.

I could see the stealth warriors in position and now they were waiting for Felix to make the wrong move.

When I got to town I stopped to get another coffee before I got to school and as soon as I walked into the building with Avery, I saw Hazel and her friends including Levi standing near my locker. But I ignored them and I unlocked my locker while chatting with Avery.

"So, we hear you had a pretty good time last night. Dirty dancing with any guy that would look at you." Hazel said.

"What the hell does that have to do with you?" I asked.

"You really are turning into a slut. Aren't you?" She asked. So I slammed my locker and I turned around to look at her..

I saw her flinch at the sudden movement but I stood there and I noticed Levi standing back watching the exchange.

I slowly got a smile across my face which confused everyone.

"Emma. She's not worth getting into a fight with. The principal will call your mother."
Avery

CHAPTER 030 said.

"Hazel. You've been in love with Levi for years. You even had a one-night stand with him. Didn't you?" I asked. "Yeah. So?"

"Lucas is your cousin. Did you know that Lucas and Levi are brothers?" I asked.

"What?" She asked, confused.

"They're brothers. Levi was adopted when he was 10 but Lucas stayed with their parents. b***h, you just called me a slut but you're the one that has had s*x with your own cousin." I announced just as loudly as she announced that they had bet on me.

Hazel whipped her head around to look at Levi and he had his head down, staring at the ground.

"That's not f*****g true." Hazel yelled at him.

"I didn't know that you were my cousin when we slept together. I swear." Levi said.

"Why didn't you tell me after you found out?" Hazel asked. But he didn't answer her. I guess he didn't have an answer.

Avery burst out laughing and couldn't believe what she heard, but it wasn't just Avery.

A lot of people in the hallway started whispering and snickering at Hazel and she got really red in the face before she turned around and started running down the hallway towards the front door.

"That was so much better than hitting her." Avery said, walking over to me.

"I know." I said. And I looked back over at Levi who just looked at me for a moment before I turned on my heels and walked away.

I don't think I'll be hearing from her again for a while. Not while she's trying to process the fact that she is in love with and slept with her own cousin.

The best kind of revenge is always knowledge. And it's the best ammo when you need to get rid of someone.

That morning went by about the same as usual but when we got to our third class I was starting to feel pretty tired.

We were half way through the class when my phone started ringing. So I grabbed it and took it outside the classroom.

CHAPTER 030

"Hello." I answered.

"Emma. It's Anna. The files that you requested were just sent to your private email. I can't get into it but it's titled Felix." She said.

"Alright. I'll be right home." I said.

"I think you better. It's also marked 'urgent'." She said.

So I went back into the classroom and I grabbed all my belongings and told the teacher that something important came up. And he knew better than to ask me what it was.

I left the school and got home as fast as possible.

As soon as I got to the castle I went straight into the office and I opened the email and I started looking through the file.

There were actually several files that came through. From different packs.

It finally stated what Felix had done and why he was being hunted by other packs. All of his crimes. Right down to child abuse and s****I assault. He was a really bad guy and he had the whole village under his thumb before I started paying attention to them.

So I went upstairs and I got changed into raggy clothes and I gathered some warriors and we headed down to the village.

As soon as I stepped into the village with the warriors, everyone was paying attention to us. "Where is he Cole?" I asked the stealth warrior. So he came out of hiding and no one knew that he was there.

"He just went into his house when he saw you coming." Cole announced.

"Surround his house." I ordered them.

The warriors surrounded his house and I stood at the front of it, ready to breach when a woman came running towards us, screaming for us to stop.

"What is it?"

"He has my daughter. He took her two days ago and she's been locked in his house. If you go in there then he'll kill her." The woman yelled.

"How old is your daughter?"

"12."

I looked at the warriors and I had to think quickly on my feet.

"It's alright. We're not going to let him hurt her. Can you please get her away from here?" I 3/5 asked her husband. So he walked over and pulled her back so she wouldn't get hurt in the attack.

CHAPTER 030

"If you come in here I will kill the girl." Felix yelled.

"You're dead, no matter what. So, you may as well let the girl go."

"Why? If it means I'm going to die anyway."

"Because if you hurt her, I'm going to make it last a lot longer and it will hurt a lot more."
I said.

"Is that meant to scare me?" Felix chuckled.

"You should be." I said.

"I'm not leaving this house. You may as well give up." Felix yelled.

"Cole. Where is he?" I asked through the mind link.

"He's near the front door." Cole replied.

"Breach from the back." I ordered.

So I waited for a couple of minutes and I heard the doors and windows smash as the warriors breached his house from the back and when he was distracted I kicked in the front door and Felix was standing in the middle of the living room holding the girl by the wrist.

I looked at the girl and then back at Felix.

"I will kill her." He said, grabbing her by the throat.

But the anger I felt right now started to bubble to the surface and I raised my hand at him and an energy blast hit him in the chest, throwing him across the room.

Another warrior grabbed the girl and took her outside to her parents while I walked over to Felix.

The warriors lifted him up and dragged him outside.

We took him to the middle of the village and I called the two Alpha's that had been hunting Felix.

They were the ones that he had wronged so I put them on facetime so they could watch what was going to happen.

"You need to hold a trial." Felix yelled.

"You just held a 12 year old girl hostage. I don't need a trial. You're guilty." I said. And I nodded to the guard who forced Felix to his knees and pushed his head down over a piece of wood. 4/5

CHAPTER 030

Another warrior walked up to me and handed me a sword.

Someone else was holding the phone while I walked over to where Felix was being held.

"You can't do this." Felix yelled.

"Tell that to the parents of the 5 year old girl that you assaulted and murdered." I said.

He didn't say anything to me after that so I raised the sword and I brought it down over his neck, decapitating him with his other victims as witnesses as well.

I looked around at the rest of the village and they actually looked relieved. They didn't seem to care that I just publicly executed someone in the middle of the village. They weren't under his thumb anymore.

Fighter 133

CHAPTER 031

The warriors handled the clean up and I went back to the castle where Lexie and Jacob were waiting for me.

"Your mother called me. She said that you might want to talk when you got home." Lexie said. "About what?"

"She told us about Felix and what you did today." Jacob said.

"Are they pissed that I took matters into my own hands? Isn't that what a royal is meant to do?" I asked.

"They're not pissed. They're worried because that was the first person you killed." Lexie said. "I'm fine. He deserved it. The crimes that he committed were beyond atrocious. The files included photos. That's why I didn't wait." I said.

"Well, if you change your mind then you know where we are."

"I do. Thanks." I said.

I walked out the back to my favorite courtyard and I sat on the bench looking out at the ocean when I felt a gust of wind behind me.

"I was wondering if you were going to show up." I said.

"I had to. I felt the power that you used today." Maisie said.

"I couldn't help it. The rage that I felt when I was looking at that asshole." I said.

"That's usually how it happens sometimes. You've just never experienced the rage that you needed for your powers to emerge." She explained.

"I've never felt like that before. But that's not what bothers me the most...I just killed someone. I killed another wolf and I don't even seem that fazed about it." I said, turning to look at her properly. "You're a wolf. It's your nature as an apex predator. But as a werewolf, you were created to protect the innocent. And that's what you were doing." Maisie explained.

"I really thought it would feel different when I killed someone." I said.

"I know. And I bet a lot of people around here were hoping that you would never have to."

"So, does this mean you're going to start training me?" I asked.

"I have to. You need to know how to control it. You got lucky today. But you could have hurt that little girl." Maisie said.

"When do you want to start?"

"Right now. We'll start off slow."

Maisie stayed out there with me for a couple hours trying to train me with my powers but trying to teach me how to control my emotions. She said that it was going to be the hardest thing to do. And when I went back inside I heard Lexie and Jacob talking to someone so I walked to the living room but I froze at the doorway when I saw our guest.

"Hello Emma." Noah said.

"What the f**k are you doing here?" I asked.

"You've met?" Jacob asked with a c****d eyebrow.

"Yeah. Sort of." I said.

"Noah is your new head of security." Lexie said. And I looked at him as he was standing there staring at me, the same intensity in his eyes.

"So, you're going to be following me everywhere I go?" I asked.

"Yes, ma'am." Noah said.

"I don't need anyone's protection." I said.

"You're the princess. You need as much protection as you can get. And Noah was sent here by your parents. We can't turn him away. He was ordered by the Queen so there's no argument." Jacob said. And I turned back to look at Noah.

"So, what was last night? Just a way for you to meet me without telling me who you were?

What a familiar f*****g story." I yelled.

"Emma. Calm down. This is different." Chloe said, walking over to me.

"No. It isn't. Go to hell Noah. Stay the hell away from me." I yelled, going upstairs to my room.

He had every opportunity last night to tell me who he was, but he didn't. What a f*****g asshole. He's almost as bad as the other two. But at least he wasn't trying to sleep with me. I guess I better give him credit for that. I sat on the chair next to my window when my phone started ringing and I picked it up to see that Avery was trying to facetime me.

CHAPTER 031

I answered it and she had the phone pointing at Hazel's house.

"What's going on?" I asked.

"Can't you hear her?" Avery asked.

+25 Points

I could hear Hazel inside screaming and crying and throwing things. Her mother was trying to calm her down and find out what was going on, but Lucas just walked out the front door and he saw Avery standing there. She tried to hide the phone but he walked over to her and started questioning her and grabbed the phone off of her.

He looked straight at me.

"I heard that you did this." Lucas said.

"She deserved it." I said.

"I'm not mad at you for it. I just wish I knew before she came home and tried to punch me." He said. And I started laughing.

"You f*****g deserved that." I said and I hung up.

So much f*****g drama. I was getting sick of it to be honest. But at the same time, it was good to see the people who deserved to get screwed over to finally get what they deserved.

I walked over to my room and I laid down for a while so I could get some rest and I ended up falling asleep in my dirty clothes.

Chloe came and woke me up when dinner was ready and I sat up on my bed and I was still pretty groggy.

"Are you feeling alright?" She asked.

"Yeah. Just tired. I think next time we go out, it needs to be a little better planned out." I said.

"Noted. At least you're agreeing to go out again."

"Of course I am. I have fun." I said, getting up.

So we went downstairs to the dining room and Noah was standing by the stairs and followed us downstairs.

"Are you actually living in the castle?" I asked.

"Yes, ma'am. I've been put in the room right next to yours." He said.

"Are you f*****g serious?" I asked, turning to look at him.

CHAPTER 031

"It's only temporary. You're the only one sleeping on the top floor at the moment and it's for your protection. Queen's orders." Noah said.

I turned back around and finished walking down the stairs and went to the dining room.

I was looking through some other work for the pack while we were eating dinner because I blew off my commitments this afternoon.

But after everyone heard what happened with Felix, they were perfectly okay with me not. going to my prior engagements.

But there were a lot of files there from people requesting to move to our territory.

I guess this is why mom wanted to build a new community in that clearing. Because she knew that more people would be coming to us for some reason. "You need to learn how to prioritize." Lexie said.

"I know. But I'm still learning. I feel like my parents just threw me in the deep end."

"I think they did, in a way." Jacob said.

"I know." I said.

"They wouldn't have done it unless they believed you could handle it." Lexie said.

After dinner the other disappeared to do what they always did and I got up and put all the paperwork back into the office.

When I walked out I saw Noah standing there, so I walked towards the front door.

I opened the double doors and I walked to the stone veranda that looked out over the village at the bottom of the stairs.

It was lit up with the houses and some fires burning near the houses with people sitting around them. Talking and laughing and having fun.

I guess they were celebrating that Felix was finally gone.

"It's beautiful, isn't it?" I asked. And Noah walked over to stand next to me.

"Yeah. It is." He said.

"Why didn't you just tell me who you were?"

"Because I wanted to know what I was dealing with before you knew who I was. I wanted you to be yourself. I've been private security for a lot of people, but never the werewolf princess before. I thought I would find someone completely different."

"What were you expecting?"

"Not you. But in a good way." He said.

"So, I passed the test?"

"It wasn't a test. Not for you. It was more like a test for me." He said.

"To see if you could handle me?"

"Yeah. I watched you today. What you were doing. And I'll be honest, last night I thought you might be a handful. But watching you today, I know that you're not a handful. You've just got a lot going on right now. You were blowing off steam. And I respect that. But it proves that you're not a typical teenage princess." He explained. So I turned and smirked at him.

"That's good to know."

CHAPTER 032

LUCAS POV

I stood in the field watching Emma standing on the balcony at the front of the castle while talking to that same guy from the club. Who the hell is he and why the hell is he moving in on her?

I just need her to listen to me but she won't. I need her to understand that I don't care about my parents' crap anymore. I'll give it all up if she will just forgive me.

I can't get her out of my head and it's driving me crazy that I can't talk to her right now.

I think I might have completely lost my chance with her. All because Levi came up with that stupid bet and I was cocky enough to think I could win.

I tried to hear what Emma and that guy were saying to each other but they were too far away. But she was smiling. She was talking to him and smiling at him at the same time. She used to smile at me like that.

I really think that I have no chance of getting near her again. And I don't know what that's going to do to me.

I slowly turned around and I walked across the field and headed back to the house.

When I got there it sounded like Hazel had settled down so I walked inside and the house was empty.

There was a note on the table saying that her parents had taken her out of town for a while. Until she calmed down.

That was definitely fine by me.

"It looks like Emma really did a number on her." Levi said, walking into the house.

"She deserved it." I said.

"You think she deserved to know about me and her?"

"You should have been the one to tell her. But the crap she's been telling Emma. Like the bet..."

Hazel deserves everything she gets."

"Emma found out about the bet because she heard us talking about it."

"Yeah, Outside my bedroom window. That must really kill you." I said, turning around and crossing my arms as I leant against the table.

CHAPTER 032

"Why? Because she was coming to see you and not me in the middle of the night? That doesn't mean anything was going to happen." Levi said.

"Keep telling yourself that." I smirked. And he looked like he was getting really pissed after I pointed out that she was coming to see me. "Answer me something, Levi. Did you care about Emma at all? Or was it just a bet to you?" I asked. "Of course I don't care. I want the stuff that our parents left behind. It's the only way I'm gonna be able to support myself after school. There's no way I'm getting into college with my grades." Levi said.

"And you don't want to work like me?"

"Exactly." Levi said.

"You really are a piece of shit."

"Wait. Don't tell me that you were actually falling for her?"

Levi started laughing when he realized that it had become more than a bet to me. I was starting to get really upset that I couldn't see or talk to Emma anymore.

I didn't know what I was going to do to get her back. But it is killing me right now that I can't be with her.

"You idiot." Levi said.

"Why? Just because you don't see her as a person doesn't mean everyone else doesn't. At least I didn't have s*x with my cousin." I snapped at him.

"She's the f*****g princess. Did you really think you ever stood a chance with her? With her parents? Her fathers aren't going to accept anyone that isn't her f*****g mate." Levi said. And I looked at him quickly before I turned to look out the window.

"No f*****g way." Levi said, taking a step back.

"What?" I snapped.

"You're not her mate."

"I don't know."

"What the hell do you mean you don't know? You're 22. If you were mated with her then you would know."

"No, I wouldn't. I've read the history of her mother. Emma has all the same species in her so finding that werewolf mate bond is a lot harder than you think. She's the one that will know it when she turns 18."

CHAPTER 032

"So, you have to wait for two years before you know if you're her mate or not."

"Yeah. But the feelings that I have for her aren't normal. I've had girlfriends before. Ones that I thought I was in love with. But it's nothing like this." I said. I looked back at Levi and I could see wheels going around in his head. "Don't you f*****g dare. I will kill you if you say a word of this to anyone." I said, pushing off from the table and walking towards him.

"I don't think people would believe me even if I did tell them."

"Good. It's possible that she'll find out that I'm her mate before she turns 18. Her mother knew the triplets were her mates when she was younger than 18." I said.

"So, what? Are you just gonna hang around here and cross paths with her until she figures it out? It's going to hurt her so much more if she finds out that you're her mate and you betrayed her like that." Levi said.

He was actually making a lot of sense right now.

I thought he would give me s**t or he'd run out of here and tell everyone.

I don't want Emma to reject me before she realizes that I'm her mate. Or her possible mate because I don't even know.

All I know is that it was more than a bet to me. I have never felt this way about anyone before and I needed to make sure that she knew before she made up her mind about my future with her.

I walked over and sat on the couch and Levi walked over and sat next to me.

"I'm sorry I left." Levi said. And I looked at him strangely.

"What? You've never been sorry." I said.

"I know. But now I see what dad did to you. The crap that he put you through and I have a feeling that it got worse after I left." Levi said. "You have no idea." I said.

"I was telling the truth when I said that I didn't know Hazel was our cousin. Not until afterwards."

"Well, you're the one that's gonna have to live with it. I don't really care. That b***h will spread her legs for anyone." I said.

"Yeah. I can't believe they packed up and left."

"Jayla and Diego won't be gone for too long. They'll be back soon enough." I said.

CHAPTER 032

"Damn. I thought we were finally going to get a good break from that little leach." Levi said and I chuckled.

"No one is that lucky." I said.

Levi and I sat there talking and for the first time it actually felt like we were brothers again. We were talking like we were brothers.

We hadn't spoken since he was adopted. Not until I moved to this pack. And now we're actually talking like brothers again.

7 years is a long time to go without talking to your brother. It's strange not knowing where he is or what he's doing.

But when I found out that he was living on the Queen's territory, I was more than surprised about that. And then I was surprised that they allowed me to move here. Even if it is temporary.

I hadn't decided what I was going to do when I moved here. And then I decided that I was going to cut Levi out of our parents assets and go back to my old pack. But now, I don't know if I can do that. I have to stay longer for Emma.

Even if she knows it or not.

"What the hell is that?" Levi asked, looking at the window.

I looked at the same window that was on the side wall of the living room and I saw the trees moving so we got up and ran outside and around the side of the house. But the person that was there was long gone.

We saw footprints in the dirt under the window so we checked the backyard and the yard of our neighbors.

Whoever was watching us was long gone and I didn't recognise a scent that had a reason to be watching us.

Only the neighbors' scents and they didn't have anything to do with me. But someone was definitely watching us just then.

EMMA POV

The following morning I got up to go for my usual morning jog and I got dressed for it.

And when I walked out of my bedroom I saw Noah waiting in the hallway wearing a workout shirt and shorts.

"Ready to go?" He asked.

"Do you have my entire schedule?" I asked.

"Yeah. Pretty much. I have to know your schedule cause I'm your head of security now."

"I've had security before."

"Not like me. I'm not going to be as subtle as them. And I've actually trained a lot harder for this position."

"What do you mean?" I asked.

"I'll explain later. Come on. Let's go." He said.

So we walked downstairs together and I started stretching in the entrance of the house.

I started jogging down the stairs and then kept going along the edge of the territory but not too close to the border because there was always something dangerous hanging around outside the border. My parents have drummed that into my head for as long as I can remember.

I was surprised that Noah didn't have any problem keeping up with me.

He kept in pace with me the whole way. Not like my other guards. And he was easier to talk to. The others were always too serious and I didn't really like them too much.

But Noah was about to have a conversation with me while he was looking around for danger. Making sure that I was safe.

When we got back to the castle I went up to my room and I had a shower and got dressed into a white long sleeve off the shoulder top with a ruched neckline and cuffs on the sleeves, jeans and black boots.

I grabbed my brown jacket and my bag and I walked downstairs.

I went to the dining room to get breakfast and that's when I saw that no one else was in there.

I was surprised. There was always someone eating breakfast when I got there, but the cook brought out my breakfast and I sat there looking over my day planner with Anna and there was a lot of paperwork piling up.

As soon as I finished breakfast I realized that I still had a bit of time before I had to get to school. So I went to the sitting room and I grabbed out my phone and I dialed a number. "Hello."

"Mom." I said.

"Hi honey. How's everything going there?"

"It's good. I'm just wondering when you're coming back."

"Honestly, I don't know. There's a real mess of things here in the states. We have to try and fix a lot of packs. There's been a lot of reports of abuse and we have to see it for ourselves."

"You could just teleport there. I don't know why you all had to go and why you have to be gone for so long."

"Because we have to investigate thoroughly. I heard that you're doing great there." Mom said.

"I guess. Mom, I had to execute someone."

"I know. I heard all about it. And I heard that you did it with extreme strength and dignity. You did it by the book and there is nothing wrong with what you did. We aren't going to punish you for it. Not after we found out what was going on in the village."

"But more people want to join the pack and I don't know if they're good or not."

"Emma. You are more special than you realize. You have great intuition and strength. That's not something that can be taught. You were born with that and you need to go with it. If you believe that those people are worth joining our pack, living near us, then let them. If you don't think they should, reject them." Mom explained.

"It's not that easy for me." I said.

"I know. But we trust you."

"Thanks mom."

"Is everything else alright? Do you need to talk about anything else?" I asked.

I was thinking about telling her about Levi and Lucas, But then I chose not to. I knew that she would get worried about me and my dads would get really upset and want to kill them.

I don't want them dead. I just want them to hurt for what they did.

"No. There's nothing else. Except for the new personal guard."

"Are you and Noah getting along?" She asked.

"Yeah. He's actually a pretty nice guy. Not like my other guards who always acted like they had a stick up their asses. I can talk to this one and he talks back to me." I said. And she chuckled at me.

"Well, I'm glad you're getting along."

When I got off the phone I made sure that I had spoken to everyone. My dad's as well and told them all that I loved them, but I could tell that something wasn't right.

I don't think they're not telling me the whole truth about why they're away.

I'm sure there's more to the story that they just aren't telling me. And if they won't tell me, I know that no one else will either.

When it was time to go to school, Noah was ready for me and he was waiting by the door and we walked down the stairs together and across the field.

"You know, I can drive you to school if that would be easier." Noah said.

"No. I love walking to school. It actually makes me feel sort of normal. But we'll talk again when winter hits." I said.

"Deal." He said.

"So, what do you do for fun?" I asked. And he looked at me strangely.

"Fun? What is that? I don't think I've had fun in years."

"How is that possible?"

"Because I've been training at a secret camp."

"What secret camp? You said that you were trained to protect the royal family but you never said anything about a secret camp." I said.

"Well, it's a camp where a lot of warriors go to train extensively just to be able to protect the royal family and other officials that the Queen believes needs that level of protection." He explained. I nodded my head thinking about it for a moment.

He has been training at this camp for a long time, I don't even know how long, just so he could come here and protect me and my family. I wonder if he knew that he was actually going to be assigned to me.

That was weird. But I guess I'm not surprised.

Royalty comes with all sorts of perks.

CHAPTER 033

As we were coming into town I saw Lucas standing out the front of the cafe. He was staring straight at me so I grabbed Noah by the shirt and forced him to cross the street with me. He looked back and saw Lucas standing there.

"Wow. That guy really does have a thing for you." Noah said.

"I don't want to talk about it."

"I know that he broke your heart. Your friend has a big mouth. Him and Levi were betting on who could get you into bed first." Noah said.

"Which friend?" I growled. He looked at me strangely. Knowing that I was pissed off that my friends were talking about it.

"I really don't think I should say."

"It was Chloe, wasn't it. It had to be. She's at the house with us. She's the only one who's had the opportunity to tell you." I said.

"She didn't mean to. I asked about him after I saw him harassing you at the club." Noah said.

"I still don't want people talking about it." I snapped.

"Alright. I'm sorry I said anything. But it's good that I know about them two. So I can keep them away if they try to get close." He said.

I looked at him and he genuinely looked sorry. But I still wasn't fully trusting of men right now. So I just nodded my head and kept walking.
