

The Triplets' Fighter Luna

Fighter 51

CHAPTER 51

The triplets convinced me to go back to the packhouse with them. But I didn't want to go just yet.

I needed to calm down and my whole house was trashed.

They told me not to worry about that. But they helped me calm down and brought me a washer to wet my face before we left. As soon as we got to the packhouse the Alpha and Luna were in the living room with Ava and Theo.

I just looked away, knowing that I was scared of what I was going to say if I even looked at either of them.

The triplets didn't say anything to anyone in the living room either.

Koda just took my hand and led me upstairs and we all went to his bedroom and he closed the door.

"I know about the meeting yesterday. Are you sure that it's a good idea for me to be here?" I said.

"You know?" Dean asked.

"Yeah. And I know that Ava brought my father to the pack because they are freaking out that I've accepted the mate bond."

"Is there anything that we can actually get past you?" Tyler asked, sitting on the bed.

"Probably not. But I was there last night. I was in the tree on the other side of the highway from you three. I wondered why you didn't tell me that my father was in town." I said.

"We wanted to find out ourselves before we told you anything. We were following Ava all day yesterday. She chewed out Jasper as well because we got together." Koda explained. "So, Jasper even knew about it." I said.

"I don't know if he is a willing participant. But he does know." Tyler said.

I walked over and sat on the bed.

All I could think of was when they were training me. And how that felt like it was the best time of my life.

It was the first time I felt like I belonged to something. And it was something important. But it was all a lie. Everything was a lie.

CHAPTER 51

My whole life was a lie.

"What are you thinking about?" Dean asked, sitting next to me.

"I'm thinking about how my whole life is a lie." I said.

"No, it's not. We're not. We're here and we will always be here. I promise you that." Koda said, kneeling in front of me.

"They are going to make it look like an accident. When this war starts, they're gonna have me doing all the hard stuff and kill all of the bastards that are coming for you. But then they are going to kill me. They're gonna have to make it look like an accident.

It's going to destroy you guys and then Wesley is going to walk into the supernatural council and announce that he's the father of the hybrid and he is taking his seat at the head of the table." I explained. "We're going to stop them." Dean said.

I sat there thinking for a moment while the triplets looked like they were getting a little concerned about me because I wasn't talking.

"Nova. We're in this together. We're going to protect each other. Remember." Koda said.

"I know. But what if there is no war?"

"What are you talking about?" Tyler asked, confused.

"We've only been told that the war is coming. How do we know that these people actually want you dead? How do we know that Wesley and Ava aren't pulling the strings to make them come after you?" I asked. They all looked at each other. And then they looked back at me.

"Honestly, we didn't know that we were a problem until you told us that people were coming for us. We'd never received any death threats or anything like that. No one made it known that they hated having triplet Alpha's." Tyler said. "What if we can stop the war?"

"How?" Koda asked.

"Well, I am part of all these species. I am the chosen one. I'm one of a kind. If they are going to listen to anyone, it's going to be me." I said.

"No way. You're not going to meet with very dangerous people alone." Koda said.

CHAPTER 51

"I can take care of myself. You know that." I said.

"We're doing this together or not at all." Tyler said.

"We're gonna have to tell dad about this though." Dean said.

"We don't have enough proof that Ava is behind it." I said.

"Yeah. That's the problem. We need proof before we do anything." Dean said.

None of us had any idea how we were going to get the proof that we needed, but I was starting to think that this war might be inevitable.

"He's here." I said.

"What?" Koda asked.

"Wesley. He's downstairs." I said.

"These rooms are soundproof. How can you hear them?" Dean asked.

"I don't know. I just can." I said.

So Koda got up and he walked out of the room.

I followed to the doorway but I saw him walk downstairs and I went to the landing to look downstairs.

"Wesley. This is my oldest son Koda." Grayson said.

"It's very nice to meet you." Wesley said.

"I wish I could say the same." Koda said.

"Koda. You will not be rude to our guests." Luna Sophia said.

"Did you know that this is Nova's non-existent father who abandoned her before she was born and let her grow up in a very abusive household?" Koda asked. "No. We didn't get that far." Sophia said.

"Well, maybe now you can understand why I don't think it's a good idea for him to be in our house." Koda said.

Dean and Tyler were standing on either side of me and Dean put his arm around my waist. Trying to keep me calm, but I was just listening to whatever that bastard had to say. "Eva and Wesley go way back. They have a long history." Grayson said.

"Yeah. I bet they do. He's not welcome here." Koda insisted.

CHAPTER 51

"Well, he said that he wants to discuss business with me. I have to hear him out. He might not belong to this pack, but I still have to hear him out." Grayson said. "Actually, while I've got you here. I just went by Nova's house and there was no answer. Do you know where she is?" Wesley asked.

"You stay the hell away from her. She doesn't want to see you." Koda said.

"You're very protective of her." Wesley said.

"Of course I am. She's my mate. And the second she allows it, I'll be marking her. And so will my brothers." Koda said.

Suddenly everything went quiet downstairs and I looked at Tyler and Dean with a little bit of panic on my face.

So Tyler held my hand tight, letting me know that everything was alright.

I knew that him marking me wasn't on the table right now.

Most of the pack didn't even want me here. So what was that going to mean for the future of this pack if they mark me but the pack doesn't want me here.

I don't want to be the Luna of a pack where no one respects me.

"I think I better come back at a better time. When things aren't so tense. I know that my showing up right now has thrown a lot of things in the air." Wesley said.

"If you think that's best." Grayson said.

They all walked out of the living room and walked towards the front door. But Wesley stopped and he looked up at the landing and he saw me standing there with Tyler and Dean. But Koda walked around him and opened the door for him. Letting him know that he isn't welcome here. So Wesley walked out the front door and Koda slammed the door behind him.

"That was extremely rude. We aren't going to make alliances with an attitude like that." Grayson said. "We don't need his alliance." Koda said.

He walked back upstairs and he grabbed my hand and took me back to his room.

"I can't stay here." I said.

"What?" Dean asked.

"I'm causing too much trouble. I just can't stay here." I said.

"Where are you gonna go? Your house is trashed." Tyler said.

CHAPTER 51

"Don't worry. I'll find somewhere."

"You're not leaving us." Tyler insisted.

"No. I just think it would be best if I kept a low profile right now. That's all."

"That might be best for you. It's not for us." Dean said.

Koda walked in front of me and cupped my face in his hands so he could look me straight in the eye.

"You're not leaving us. You're staying here and we are going to figure this out together. I mean what I said down there. The second you let us, we're going to mark you." Koda said. "Even if the pack is against it?"

"I don't care about them. I only care about you." He said. And I nodded my head, so he leaned forward and kissed me.

CHAPTER 52

We stayed up late that night talking before the guys passed out in Koda's bedroom.

I made sure that they were all sound asleep before I got up and I walked over to the desk.

Don't be mad. I know where I'm gonna go. I've got my cell with me. I'll call you in the morning and let you know where I am. It's just best if I'm out of the way at the moment. I'm not only putting you three in the middle of this but I'm also putting your parents in the middle of it as well. And they don't have anything to do with it. Wesley will make sure that they get dragged into it. I'm sorry. I'll call in the morning.

Nova.

So I crept out of the bedroom and I made sure that there was no one hanging around the packhouse as I made my way downstairs and I snuck out the front door and closed it quietly behind me.

I stopped by my house to pack a bag full of clothes and my laptop and stuff that I would need before I left that house as well and I walked through the middle of the pack until I got to the forest.

I kept walking until I got to the human pack and then I was back into the forest again.

I got off the highway after that and I walked through the forest for about half an hour before I came across a dilapidated broken down cabin in the middle of the forest.

It didn't look like anyone had lived here for years.

I walked inside and there was still furniture inside but it was really dusty and really old and rustic looking.

I knew that this place had a lot of potential but it was just a temporary home for me.

It didn't even have electricity or running water or anything like that.

But luckily there was a stream nearby so I would be able to use that for as much water as I needed.

I put my bag on the table as soon as I walked inside and I started looking around the cabin. I'd seen this place as I had passed it and looked inside. That's how I knew that it was abandoned, but otherwise I had never really had a good look inside.

The first thing I did was start to clean the house. I had to get all the dust and everything out of here because it was driving me crazy.

CHAPTER 52

I know I was a little OCD when it came to cleaning my house, but I didn't think it was a bad thing.

I knew that I wouldn't be able to sleep knowing that it was so dusty and dirty like this.

I was cleaning in the kitchen when I heard the door open and close so I walked to the living room and I froze where I was standing. "What the fk are you doing here?" I snapped.

"Would you believe me if I say that I missed you?" Johnny asked.

"No." I said.

"Well, I heard that you were having a hard time. I thought that I might be able to help."

"You can't. Leave." I said, going back to the kitchen.

+10 Bonus

"Well, I can't leave now. The sun is coming up." He said. And I looked out the kitchen window. "Isn't that convenient? The forest is dense enough. I'm sure it'll shield you from the sun."

"Are you seriously gonna make me go back out there?"

"What are you even doing here? Who told you that I was in trouble?"

"A little birdy."

"Ava?"

"Why did you ask if you already knew?" He asked, sitting on the bench.

"Because that bh will do anything to get me away from my mates. And if you think that's going to work then think again." I said.

"Are you saying that you really are completely over me?"

"I found my mates Johnny. I am completely over you."

I picked up my phone and I put a pin drop to my location to all three of the guys phones. So as soon as they got it they would come to this cabin.

I didn't want them showing up without me telling them where I was only to find Johnny here.

That was a recipe for disaster. Especially since he was a vampire.

It's bad enough that Johnny is going to tell them that we used to sleep together.

"Johnny. I really don't have the energy for you right now." I said.

"That's fine. I'll be asleep in the bedroom." He said, walking out of the kitchen and he went to CHAPTER 52 the bedroom and shielded the window from all sunlight.

What the hell is this bh playing at?

Did she really think that I didn't know what she was up to? Does she think that I don't know she's behind all of this?

I finished cleaning the kitchen and I sat on the couch just as a message came through on my phone.

AVA Hey. What is going on with you? You're acting really strange lately.

ME Hormonal werewolf crap.

AVA - I know that the mate bond is going to get stronger the longer you're around them. I told you that it would. You said that you could handle it. ME-Don't worry. I've got it handled.

AVA - You weren't meant to accept them as your mates. They are going to be crushed if you die during this battle.

ME - What do you mean 'if'? I thought it was written in a prophecy that I wasn't meant to survive.

AVA - Well, I believe that not every prophecy is absolutely correct. And I believe that we can change them if we want to. ME-Me too. And I'm starting now. My fate is not written in stone. I'm making my own fate. I'll talk to you later.

I have to give it to her, she's really convincing. But she's completely lost my trust now. And once someone loses my trust, that's it. We're done.

I wasn't someone to forgive as easily as she would like and she knows that. She's seen people screw me over and I've always gotten them out of my life straight away. They were cut off. She should have realized that. I don't know why she didn't.

Not long after that the door burst open and three very worried looking werewolves were puffing as they barged in only wearing shorts.

"Hi." I said.

"You scared the hell out of us." Dean said, hugging me.

"My note said that I wasn't running away. I just needed to get away from that house." I said. "I know. And you sent us that pindrop. Thank you. At least you let us know where you were. It's 3/4 pretty far away though." Tyler said.

CHAPTER 52

"I know." I said. Then the bedroom door slammed open and Johnny came out in his boxer shorts.

"Do you mind? Some people are trying to sleep here." He snapped.

All three of the guys looked at me and I glared at Johnny, because I knew he was just sitting in that bedroom waiting for them to show up. That sneaky little bastard. I was going to rip his fg head off.

"Who's that?" Dean asked.

"No one. Not anymore." I said, getting up and barging into the bedroom and I pulled the black garbage bag off of the window, letting the sun in and Johnny had to run to the corner of the room where there wasn't any sun shining.

"Are you trying to fg kill me?" Johnny yelled.

"Yeah. Obviously." I said, sitting back on the couch.

"He's a vampire. What's he doing here?" Koda asked.

"Being a pain in my ass. He showed up just as the sun was rising so he couldn't leave." I said.

"How do you two know each other?" Tyler asked.

"We met in California. We were screwing each other for a while." Johnny said. And all three of the guys looked at me.

So I went to the kitchen and I grabbed a silver kitchen appliance and I shone it in the light and made it reflect onto Johnny in the corner, causing him to start smoking and sizzling. "Alright. I'm sorry." He yelled. So I put the appliance down.

"I think you need to tell us what's going on." Koda said, looking at me.

Fighter 53

CHAPTER 53

I walked over to the couch and sat down with the triplets looking at me strangely.

"I came here because I came across this cabin ages ago. Just after I moved here during one of my hikes. I knew that it was abandoned. It just needed to be cleaned." I started.

"That's fair enough. This was our grandmother's cabin. She won't care if you're living here."

Koda said.

"Yeah. Especially since she's dead." Dean scoffed.

"Alright. Well, since I guess this cabin belongs in your family I'm not doing anything wrong. But then he showed up and I told him to leave. He couldn't because the sun was coming up. He said that Ava called him. So, I'm guessing this is just another way of her trying to get between us." I said.

"As soon as the sun sets, you're leaving. Or we're ripping you apart." Koda said. But I cleared my throat to get their attention.

"I believe the right to rip him apart is mine." I said. And Koda nodded, agreeing that I could do it if I wanted to.

"Really? After everything we went through, you want to kill me?" Johnny asked.

"It was s*x Johnny. And it was before I knew about my mates. And it was before Jacob." I said.

"Wait a minute. You were sleeping with that loser after me." Johnny said.

"Only you thought he was a loser. But I stopped sleeping with him after I saw the triplets as well. The only people I am interested in having s*x with are those three. Get used to it." I yelled.

"You're meaner." Johnny said.

"I've had a bad couple of days. Ava called you on a really bad day." I said.

"Obviously. Can you please go and fix the window so I can go back to sleep?" Johnny asked.

"There's a basement." Dean said. And I smiled at him.

"Follow Dean. He knows where the basement is." I said.

Johnny looked at me in shock, but I didn't change my mind. I wasn't letting him back into the bedroom so he had no choice but to follow Dean down to the basement. CHAPTER

"So, a werewolf and a vampire. Are there any more that we need to know about?" Koda asked, sitting next to me.

"No. It's just them."

"Why would Ava call him? I mean, did you two have something special?" Tyler asked.

"He was my first. Maybe that's why she thinks he's special to me. He's not. Not anymore." I said, looking away.

Tyler sat down next to me and he grabbed my hand.

"What aren't you telling us?" He asked.

"Johnny is what made me realize that I wanted to be with you three and no one else."

"How did he do that?" Koda asked.

"He showed up in Canada. Just after I got that vampire army to turn back. He bailed me up against a tree and kissed me. I pushed him away and I came back here. I practically ran the whole way back here. That's when I found you three in my house, about to yell at me for drugging you." I explained.

"That explains a bit." Koda said.

"Maybe we should thank him." Tyler said.

"I don't think so. I want him gone. I don't know why he seems to think that he's so special to me." I said.

"Well, you do leave an impact on people." Koda said.

"I don't care about Johnny right now. I'm kicking him out tonight. We just need to figure out how to get Ava out of here. And how to get rid of Wesley." I said.

"Well, that's not going to happen. Dad is already talking to Wesley about a possible alliance." Dean said, walking into the room.

"And you can't tell him about Ava. Not yet. He won't believe you. Theo and him have been friends since they were kids." Tyler said.

"He's not going to take my word over Ava's and Theo's." I said.

Dean wrapped his arm around my shoulder and pulled me over to him so my head was resting on his shoulder.

"Well, how big is the bed in there?" Koda asked.

"It's only a double." Tyler said.

211

CHAPTER 53

"Well, the living room floor is big enough until we can get another bed here." Koda said.

"You don't have to stay here with me. You have pack duties to tend to."

"And we have a mate to take care of. I know you think you need to be strong all the time. But we know that you are breaking right now. You're just trying not to show it." Koda said. So I reached my hand over and held his hand. I didn't know how, but they already knew how I was feeling before I felt it.

Tyler grabbed some firewood and he checked the fireplace and he got it all set up and started a fire because the inside of the cabin was freezing. Just like the temperatures outside were starting to drop.

"I really like it out here. It's so peaceful." I said as we were watching the fire.

Tyler sat on the floor right in front of us and rested his head on my lap.

"Dad never used to let us come out here." Dean said.

"Why not?"

"Because he didn't get along with his parents." Tyler said.

"That sucks. But I know the feeling. What about your mother's parents?" I asked.

"They live in a different pack. We see them occasionally. But not often." Dean said.

"Do we have a plan out here?" Koda asked.

"Right now. I'm just staying out of the way. I see the way people look at me. They don't want me around." I said.

"Well, we do. And that's all we care about." Koda said.

"You all had a private meeting and didn't bother telling me about it. No one let me explain myself. Explain who I am."

"Do you want to?" Dean asked.

"Not anymore. They've already made up their minds. The only way to prove to them that I'm not here to hurt them is by actions. Not words." I said.

"Well, that sounds pretty positive." Koda said.

"I guess so." I said.

Dean pulled me closer to lay on his shoulder and we all just sat there watching the fire in a really comfortable silence.

CHAPTER 53

I knew they were gonna let me stay in the cabin for as long as I wanted. It was out of the way, I wouldn't be running into pack members all the time and I felt comfortable out here. But I also knew that they hated having me so far away from the pack because if anything happens then they won't get to me in time.

Even if I am the one that's meant to be protecting them. I think it's pretty obvious now that it was a mutual feeling. We were going to protect each other.

Especially now they knew that Ava and my father wanted me dead.

I wasn't sure if they were ever going to go back to the packhouse. And right now, I didn't really care.

Fighter 54

CHAPTER 54

I woke up one morning to my phone ringing. I was asleep on the living room floor with the triplets and they were all asleep so I leaned over to the coffee table to grab my phone.

I saw the caller ID was blocked so I ignored it. But then it started ringing again.

"Who the hell is that?" Koda asked.

"Hello." I answered.

"Nova. Is that you?" An older woman asked.

"Yeah. Who's this?" I asked.

"It's Gran." She said. And I sat up really quickly.

"Gran. Where are you?" I asked.

"I'm at your mothers house. She told me that you ran away."

"Did she tell you why?"

"No. But I can only imagine why. Do you think you could stop by here some time today? I would really like to see you." She said.

"Sure. Is Pops with you?" I asked.

"You bet."

"Alright. I'll be there soon." I said. I hung up the phone and now all three guys were awake and looking at me.

"Gran and Pops?" Koda asked.

"They're at Evelyn's. They want to see me." I said.

"You're not going alone." Tyler said.

"I know. But I can't show up with three of you otherwise there will be too many questions." I said.

"Well, Koda and Tyler told dad that they would help him with Alpha crap today. I can go with you." Dean said.

"You're meant to be helping as well." Tyler said.

"I'm the youngest. I can get away with it." Dean said.

I got up and I went to the bathroom to have a shower and I got dressed into some of the clothes that the guys had brought over from my house and they all started getting dressed as well.

1/5

10 Bong

CHAPTER 54

They didn't think I had noticed but they were systematically bringing clothes to the cabin piece by piece and hoping that I wouldn't notice.

I hadn't said anything to them. I really didn't care if they were doing it. It was more convenient for all of us.

I said bye to Koda and Tyler and they headed back towards the pack while Dean and I headed in the other direction to Evelyn's house.

"Are you alright? You're pretty quiet." Dean said, holding me close to his body with his arm around my waist.

"Yeah. I'm not nervous, I guess. I haven't seen my grandparents since Evelyn and Henry got married." I said. "Do you think they're going to be mad that you moved out? I mean, are they going to be on Evelyn's side?"

"Honestly, I don't know. They were always hot and cold with me. I don't know what the hell they're doing here and I don't know why they are so desperate to see me. I remember times when I was a kid when they just flat out refused to see me. I never knew why." I explained.

"Well, we don't have to go and see them. If they haven't been that great to you then we can turn around."

"No. I'll never hear the end of it if I don't go. We'll go and see what mood they're in and then we'll leave. That's it. A quick catch up." I said.

When we got to Evelyn's house we could hear loud talking inside and Dean stiffened straight away, holding my hand really tight.

He was already getting protective and we weren't even inside yet.

"Relax. They hate Henry." I said.

"Well, that's something that you have in common with them." He said.

We walked up the rickety stairs and I opened the door and went inside.

I saw Evelyn standing in the kitchen with Henry standing beside her and they were facing my Gran and Pops.

"Nova." Gran said.

"Hi Gran. Hi Pops." I said, casually. Trying to avoid eye contact.

CHAPTER 54

"It is so good to see you." Gran said, pushing past Evelyn to walk over and hug me.

"And who is this?" She asked, giving me a wry little smile. "Hi. I'm Dean." He said.

"Well, aren't you a big strapping young fellow?" Gran said.

"My grandmother. The ultimate cougar." I said.

"I never act on it. Doesn't mean I can't look." Gran said.

"Okay." I said.

"Evelyn, Henry. Do you think you can give us a few minutes with Nova?" Pops asked.

"This is our house. She doesn't even live here anymore." Henry yelled.

"We can go outside." I said.

So Dean and I turned to leave the house and my grandparents both followed me outside.

I was surprised that they were so calm with me. Being so nice. They always taught me to respect my elders and I definitely didn't do that when I moved out.

We got far enough away from the house that Evelyn and Henry couldn't hear us and I turned around to look at them..

"What's this all about? Why are you here?" I asked.

"We came to talk to you. We thought we were the ones that was going to break the news to you, but it seems we're a little late." Gran said.

"What are you talking about?" I asked.

"Do you remember when you were about 5 years old and you threw a temper tantrum because your mother took away your favorite toy? She was just doing it to be mean. You hadn't done anything wrong. So you started screaming the house down." Pops said.

"I'm sure I did that a lot. I was a kid with a bh of a mother." I said.

"The table started levitating off the ground while no one was holding it." Gran said.

I looked at Dean and I was really confused. I don't remember using powers at that age.

I don't remember having any powers until my wolf came out.

"We knew right then that you were special. But we knew that we had to keep our distance from you so we didn't influence you." Pops said.

"What the fk are you talking about?" I asked, starting to get agitated.

So Gran stood right in front of me where Evelyn and Henry couldn't see her and she raised her hand in front of her.

Suddenly a blue orb appeared on her palm that she could control and then she made it disappear.

"You're a witch." I said.

"Yes. Evelyn was a complete dud. But you, you're the one that got all the powers." She said. "Where does the fae come from? I know where the witch now comes from and my dad is a werewolf. But I don't know where the fae and the vampire come from." I said.

"I'm the fae." Pops said, talking directly into my mind.

I whipped my head around at him and I was stunned. I didn't know what the hell to believe right now.

"Alright. So, Gran is a witch. Pops is a fae. I don't know where the vampire fits in yet. But you two never thought to tell me?" I asked.

"We couldn't. Not until you were ready. We didn't know about the werewolf side of you until you shifted. And by then, it was too late. Ava already had her grip on you and you wouldn't believe anything that we said." Gran explained.

I couldn't believe what I was hearing or seeing right now. What the hell was going on here? My whole family knew about this except Evelyn.

"So, Evelyn got absolutely no powers?" I asked.

"That's right. Complete dud. Thank the goddess. Or whatever it is you pray to." Pops said.

"Why? Maybe she would have turned out differently if she had the powers." I said.

"No. She would only abuse the powers. But you are doing something good. You came here to use them for good." Gran said.

"Honestly Gran, you don't know what the hell is going on here."

"I know that people are coming for the triplets. You've been tasked to keep them safe. And they are also your mates." Gran said.

"I think she knows more than you realized." Dean said. And I gave him a sarcastic look.

"Alright. Are you here to help me or kill me?" I asked.

Gran and Pops looked at each other like they were offended but with everything that's come to light, I had every good reason to ask them that. 4/5

CHAPTER 54

"And just remember, if you lie, I can tell." I said.

"We're not here to kill you. But Ava isn't who you think she is." Gran said.

I just rolled my eyes and looked away.

"We're aware of Ava. And Wesley. Nova's father. He's in town now too and we know what's happening. We're doing everything to keep her safe and she's doing the same for us. She's not protecting us anymore. We're protecting each other." Dean explained.

Gran looked at Dean with a really warm smile. I could tell that she was happy with his response. I was as well.

He explained everything in a nutshell and I think it was obvious to Gran and Pops that I wasn't going back to Evelyn's house. So we said goodbye in the driveway and we started walking back through the forest.

"I really wasn't expecting that." I said.

"I can tell." Dean said.

Fighter 55

CHAPTER 55

Instead of going back to the cabin Dean insisted that we go into town which I was really dreading.

I knew the humans didn't know any better, except that I had been seen with all three brothers and they were probably calling me a slut.

That didn't worry me as much as the werewolves. I could only imagine what they were saying. But Dean insisted that we stop at the diner and get some breakfast.

The cabin is pretty sparse of food because I hadn't been there long and none of us had had any time to come in shopping for food.

We were sitting in the booth waiting for our food to arrive when we heard the door open and Izzy walked in with her posse.

"How the hell does that bh always know where we are?" I asked.

"I honestly think she has a tracker on us somewhere." Dean jokes. But under the joke, I think he thought there was some truth to it.

"I really wouldn't put it past her." I said.

Some guy then walked inside and he scanned around the diner before Izzy started singing out to him. But he stopped when he saw me sitting at the table with Dean and started staring at "Do you know him?" Dean asked.

"Yeah. From California."

"You were surrounded by our pack members in California."

"Yeah. I realized that after I met Ava. But he never found out what I was."

"So, he's probably confused as to why you're sitting here with his Alpha. Was he mean to you?" Dean asked.

"They were all mean to me." I said.

"I can punish him for that."

"And what would that do? It doesn't matter anymore." I said.

The guy finally turned around and went to sit with Izzy and her friends and I tried to ignore them the whole time we were at the diner.

CHAPTER 55

But once we finished eating we left the diner and started walking down the road.

"Damn. That wind is starting to get cold." I said.

"Yeah. It's gonna start snowing soon."

I knew that it was too early to start snowing but that's in typical weather. This is Northern Alaska. It starts snowing a lot sooner than the states.

It was something that I had to get used to.

Dean and I started walking back towards the pack but once I realized where we were going, I stopped.

He assured me that it was alright and the other two wanted us to meet them there.

I reluctantly agreed and we walked to the pack.

A lot of people were staring at us but we went to the packhouse and Tyler and Koda were in the living room waiting for us.

"What's going on?" I asked.

"Dad knows about your Grandparents." Koda said.

"How? I only just found out." I said.

"Well, he wants to know what they're doing here."

"They didn't tell us. They just let Nova know what they were and that was it. They didn't tell her of any plans." Dean said. Then Grayson walked into the room behind us.

"I need to know the second they let you in on any secrets. We can't have a witch and fae walking around without us knowing their intentions." Grayson said.

"I can handle them. I've never been overly close with them and they've always tried to keep their distance. I don't really have any feelings towards them. At least not warm feelings." I said.

"We still need to know about it." He said.

"Alright. I can do that." I said.

"Thank you. Does Evelyn know?"

"No. They said that she is a dud. She's just a carrier of the genes. She didn't get any of the powers herself. They passed down to me." I said.

"And you got all the powers. I don't know if they were expecting that."

CHAPTER 55

"Well, the vampire part is still a mystery. I don't know where that comes from." I said.

"Maybe we should try to find out. I mean, if you have vampire in you then it comes from your family genes." Koda said.

"Well, I got fae and witch from my mother. My father is a werewolf. Where the hell would the vampire come into it?"

"It's there somewhere." Dean said.

"Don't worry. You've got all of our information at your disposal if you want to find out. But, before we get into that, I understand you are living in my parents cabin." Grayson said.

I looked at the guys and their expressions didn't change.

"Yeah. I thought it was abandoned. It wasn't until the guys told me that it belonged to your parents. I thought it was best that I was out of the way." I said.

"I'll transfer the house into your name. You can have it. It has been sitting there abandoned for a long time. The guys told me that they have already hooked the water up but we'll get the electricity going as well." He said. "Thank you. I don't want a free house out of it. I was only going to stay there for a short time." I said.

"Don't worry about it. It's yours. Otherwise it's just gonna stay there and rot." He said.

"Thank you. I appreciate that." I said.

"Hey dad. Why are there people moving here from our California pack?" Dean asked.

"I've had a couple of requests for transfers. Why?" Grayson asked.

"We saw a guy this morning. Nova knows him from school back in California. He was an asshole to her." Dean said.

"We'll send him back." Koda said.

"It doesn't matter. He was hanging out with Izzy so he's going to be an asshole, no matter what. I can handle it. He was always trying to be mean to me. I never let it get to me. The same way I didn't let Izzy get to me." I said.

The triplets didn't like that I wasn't taking this guy's appearance more seriously but he was just an asshole that I went to school with. I didn't think of him as a real threat. Not like the guy who then walked into the room moments later. "Hello Nova." Wesley said.

CHAPTER 55

"What the fk are you doing here?" I asked.

10 Bon

"I had a meeting with Alpha Grayson. I heard you so I thought I would come out and say hello."

He said.

"Is there anything else you guys need or can I leave now?" I asked.

"We can all leave now." Tyler said, standing up.

"Nova. You can't ignore me forever." Wesley said, standing in my way as I was trying to walk towards the door.

I heard the echo of three separate growls as he did that.

"Are you a member of this pack?" I asked.

"No. I belong to another one." Wesley said.

"Then I don't need to listen to anything that you say." I said.

But that made me realize that I didn't belong to a pack either. I had read about rogues and how their animals would take over if they weren't part of a pack. But that hasn't happened to

I think because I'm not a full werewolf, my human side has been able to keep in control.

But that meant that no one was actually obligated to help me. Only the triplets because we were mates. But no one else in this pack was obligated to come to my rescue if I was in need.

I was really all by myself. And I wasn't sure if I liked that or not.

It left me more vulnerable. But it also made it easier if the pack was going to reject me. Because I didn't have an emotional connection to them.

I pushed past Wesley and I walked out of the packhouse and the triplets followed me.

Fighter 56

CHAPTER 56

We stopped by my house as we were passing it and I walked inside, realizing what sort of a mess I had left it in.

I didn't like seeing it like that since it wasn't my house. I was only living there out of generosity from Grayson and so I was close to the triplets.

So I decided to start cleaning up the mess. Especially the glass that was shattered everywhere from the coffee table.

The triplets looked confused as to why I was cleaning it up because they assured me that they had people who could do it for me, but I didn't care. It was my mess and I always cleaned up my own mess.

We were in that house for hours cleaning up. The guys reluctantly started helping me because I told them that they were acting like a bunch of spoiled brats who have had people do things for them their whole lives.

And honestly, that was true. As long as they had omega's in their house cleaning and cooking for them, they never had to do anything for themselves.

They were definitely going to get a shock the longer they hung around with me.

I was too used to doing everything for myself.

Once we were finished cleaning, I grabbed another suitcase and packed the rest of my clothes and we headed back to the cabin.

When we walked inside I took my suitcase to the bedroom and I knew that something looked different.

I dropped the suitcase and the guys walked into the bedroom behind me.

Dean ran up and jumped on the massive bed that was set up in the middle of the bedroom while I was standing there staring.

"Where the fk did that come from?" I asked.

"We had it delivered today. It's big enough for four people and we don't have to sleep on the floor anymore." Koda said.

"I thought you guys liked sleeping in front of the fire." I said.

"We do. But it starts to hurt after a while. So, if we leave the door open we'll still get the heat from the fire. It's not a big cabin." Tyler said, walking up behind me and wrapping his arms around my waist.

CHAPTER 56

"What am I going to do with you guys?" I asked.

"What do you mean?"

"Well, now that this cabin is mine I am going to change some things. But I can afford to do it myself." I said.

"Would you please just shut up and accept a gift when you get it?" Koda asked, kissing me as he walked past and sat on the bed as well.

I walked over and laid on the bed between the guys and I had to admit, it was pretty comfortable.

Wesley's appearance at the packhouse was bugging me and the guys could tell that I was bothered by something.

We started talking about it and they didn't think that it was anything to worry about.

Wesley was only meeting with their dad as a courtesy because he was from a different pack and he was staying in Grayson's pack. That's all it was.

But I was more confused as to why Ava called him when she knew that I accepted the mate bond.

I know that they wanted me dead so he could take over the supernatural council and so my future child couldn't become the werewolf King.

But that didn't explain what he was going to do while he was here. What was he really plotting and was he going to try and use Grayson to get it?

Was he going to use their pack's fear of me to isolate me even more?

We have never had anything to do with Werewolf royalty. There hasn't been werewolf royalty for years. They all died out.

So I wasn't sure how they were expecting me to create another royal family.

"Does Ava know that you're on to her?" Dean asked.

"No. Not that I know of."

"Shouldn't we talk to her?" Koda asked.

"Not yet. I don't want her to know. They plan on killing me. Do you really think she's going to admit it? Not to mention, she's mated to your father's Beta. That makes her a pretty high priority in your pack." I said. 2/4

"Do you have hard proof of anything that you've told us?" Koda asked.

"If I did then this war would already be over." I said.

"I'm sure your father won't be here for too long." Tyler said.

"I think he will be. Ava called him because I accepted the mate bond. He's here to make sure that we aren't marked by the time the war breaks out." I said.

I still wasn't too sure how Ava and Wesley planned on killing me, but I knew that it was in their plans.

They should know that they can't keep anything from me.

I wasn't sure how I was going to get around those two. And I wasn't sure who else was in on the plan. All the others that trained me. Do they all know what Ava was planning?

"I better get back to training." I said.

"This place doesn't have a basement like the house." Dean said.

"I know. I have to get all the equipment here somehow. I'll have to clear out a bit of the forest to give me a backyard." I said.

"Are you sure?" He asked.

"Yeah. It's mostly just fallen leaves and debris at the back of this house anyway." I said.

Someone started knocking on the door so I got up to answer it and I was really surprised to see Ava standing there.

"Hi." I said.

"I was hoping that we could talk alone?" Ava asked.

I looked at the guys reminding them that I didn't want Ava to know what was going on so they agreed to leave. But they weren't going to go too far.

So Ava walked into the house and I closed the door behind her.

"I forgot what this place looked like. Grayson did a good job to get his parents out of the way."

Ava said, looking around the cabin.

"I like it. It's really peaceful out here." I said.

"Nova. We really need to talk." Ava said, sitting at the table.

"What about?" I asked.

I started making a coffee in the kitchen and Ava sat at the table staring at me.

CHAPTER 56

"What do you think you're doing? You know that if something happens to you in this war then they are going to be heartbroken. They won't be able to lead this pack at all." Ava said, "I know that. But I've only got you saying that I will die in the war. There's no proof that I will." I said.

"Be realistic. You know what we're going to be up against."

"I know what I'm going to be up against and I've been trained by the best in the world. I'm sure I can handle it."

"Nova. Those boys mean everything to me..."

"Me too. You almost sound like you want me to die." I said, catching her completely off guard.

The door then swung open and Dean ran into the cabin.

"Rogues. North border." He said. So I dropped what I was doing and I ran from the cabin, straight into the woods following behind the triplets.

Fighter 57

CHAPTER 57

As we were running through the woods all three of the guys shifted in front of me, and I ran behind them, shifting as well without missing a step and we ran almost a direct line to the northern border.

Warriors were running in the same direction from the pack and it didn't take long before we heard the commotion ahead of us.

When we got there, there was already a huge fight going on led by Alpha Grayson. He was in front of everyone.

The triplets barged into the fight with a thunderous noise erupting and the growls and snarls got even louder.

I took in my surroundings first and there was one warrior that was being cornered on the far side of the battle, so I managed to dodge everyone as I ran past them and I grabbed lunged at one of the rogues that was cornering the warrior and we flipped over as soon as I had tackled him to where he was on top of me, but my back legs were still free.

I reached them up and using my claws, I dug them deep into his stomach and drew them downwards from his chest to his stomach.

He fell off of me to the side and laid there, taking in his last few breaths.

I jumped up and looked back at that warrior who gave me a nod because he was safe now. He was only faced with one rogue, but that rogue was facing me.

The warrior lunged at the rogue and got him away from me as I turned back towards the fight.

I started running to the middle of the battle and I could hear the triplets at different sides of the battle ground, howling towards me but I ignored it.

I couldn't be worried about them and I didn't want them to be worrying about me. They had to protect themselves and I have told them repeatedly that I was perfectly able to take care of myself.

I picked off rogues that were available to me, right in front of me and it didn't take long for the guys to realize that I didn't need them by my side. I was capable of killing these bastards on my own.

I looked over and saw Alpha Grayson fighting a rogue, but pretty soon, he was surrounded.

I looked around and everyone else was in their own battle and he didn't seem to be asking for help. 1/4

10 Bonu

CHAPTER 57

He wasn't going to ask for help either. He wasn't going to distract them, but he was really outnumbered.

I know that he's the strongest wolf in the pack and he and his sons were the biggest, with the exception of me, but there was no way he was going to walk out of that alive.

He was slowly backing up, looking at the rogues surrounding him and I barged through the crowd.

I knocked any wolf out of my way, whether they were a rogue or a warrior. It didn't matter to

I made it to the Alpha and I lunged into the several rogues that had cornered him and separated him from the battle.

They weren't expecting it and even Alpha Grayson looked surprised when he saw that I had arrived.

I grabbed one rogue by the scruff of its neck and I threw it with so much force that it hit a tree and didn't get back up again. Hearing several bones break as it collided with the tree. Several of the rogues turned back to look at me and the rest kept fixated on Alpha Grayson. They were slowly approaching me, trying to get me to back away as well. But when I didn't move from where I was and I was allowing them to get closer to me, I could see the confusion on their faces.

But then when they were close enough I ran to the side and used a tree as leverage to get around them and I landed on the ground right in front of Alpha Grayson.

I shifted back into my human self and I placed a shield up in front of Grayson and myself and I raised my other arm to face the rogues and a long fire streak came from my hand, hitting all of the werewolves and they caught on fire the second they were exposed.

The fire that I contained in my body was actually dragon fire and it was more dangerous and lethal than lava from a volcano.

As soon as the rogues who weren't in my line of fire saw this, they all backed away and immediately started retreating back to the woods on the other side of the border.

I lowered my hand and the shield that was protecting Alpha Grayson.

I was the only one that had shifted back during the whole fight and it wasn't long before one of the triplets ran up to me with clothes in his mouth.

They hid clothes in the hollows of trees for just this sort of occasion so I got dressed into the baggy clothes that he gave me and Grayson shifted back and grabbed a pair of shorts as well.

CHAPTER 57

"I don't know what happened back there."

"I don't think that was by accident. They deliberately aimed to get you alone." I said.

"Thank you so much. You saved me." Grayson said.

"Don't thank me. It's what anyone around here would have done." I said.

I saw all the warriors looking at me strangely and I realized that I had just used my powers in front of them and that's what they were mostly scared of. Because they didn't understand me or my powers. So I looked at the triplets who were still in wolf form and I nodded to Alpha Grayson before I started walking off through the woods.

I went back to the cabin and I had a shower and washed my hair because I was filthy from that fight.

I got dressed into something more comfortable to sit around the house in and I went to make something to eat. Since I had just worked up an appetite.

When I finished eating my phone went off so I looked at the message.

DEAN - Come to the hospital. It's Koda.

So without cleaning up the mess in the kitchen I put my shoes on and ran out of the house.

I ran all the way to the hospital and Dean and Tyler were waiting for me in the hallway. "What happened? You guys all looked fine when I left." I said.

"He didn't let us see until we'd shifted back and started the clean up. It's not life threatening but he did get hurt." Tyler said.

So I looked through the window into Koda's room and he was sitting up on the bed as they were dressing the deep gashes that he had down his rib cage.

I walked into the room and I looked at the wounds as they were being dressed but Koda just smiled and wrapped his other arm around me.

"It's alright. This will be healed in a day or two. It's nothing to worry about." Koda said.

"Why the hell did you wait so long before you told anyone you were hurt?" I asked.

"I don't know. I didn't think it was as bad as what it really is." He said.

"You scared the hell out of me."

"I know. I'm sorry."

The nurse finished up and then left us in the room together and the other two came in as well. 3/4

"Ava came to see me before the attack." I said.

"I saw her in your house." Dean said.

"Yeah. I didn't want to have this conversation in a hospital room. But it needs to happen." I said.

I was at the hospital for a little while and when I walked outside I took in a deep breath of fresh air when I saw Ava walking up to me.

"Koda got hurt because he was worried about you."

"You think I don't know that?" I asked.

"This is why you weren't meant to get too invested. We can't have them dying because of you."

"Well, you don't need to worry. I just told them that it can't go on. I'll move out of their grandmother's cabin and I'm moving back to my house in the middle of the pack. Can you make sure that the house is still available for me?" "Yeah. It's always been yours. You can move back whenever you want. I'll loan you my car to bring all of your stuff back into the house." She said.

"Alright. Well, you should be happy. You got what you wanted." I said, walking away and heading straight back towards the woods.

I could sense what she was feeling and I could hear what she was thinking.

She was elated that I had broken it off with the triplets and she knew that their plan was back on track.

Fighter 58

CHAPTER 58

I moved out of the cabin that night and went back to my house. It was just down the road from the triplets and I knew that they weren't going to want my protection now. But I knew that what I was doing was for the best. At least, it would keep Ava and Wesley away from the guys. And it would give me a chance to dig further into what they were doing without the triplets worrying that I was getting into dangerous situations.

As soon as I got to the house I started from the living room at the front and worked my way back and then upwards.

I cleaned the house from floor to ceiling and I ordered new furniture to fill the house and replace what I had broken.

I was up all night cleaning the house. I didn't feel like sleeping and I could smell the burning of dead bodies just over the border. The rogues that were killed and were now being burnt because Alpha Grayson wouldn't want them to desecrate their pack territory. It was a completely normal process after a fight like that.

I sat on the front veranda of my house with a coffee when I saw pack members wandering around. Knowing that it was safe again for them and I was more than surprised when a young couple that I hadn't met before actually stopped out the front of my house and nodded to me. They said hello and told me that it was a beautiful morning.

I replied politely but I was really confused by the interaction.

I thought everyone in the pack hated me. They all wanted me gone. And now they're being nice to me.

I had seen some others smiling at me this morning but I didn't really pay too much attention. These people were definitely acting weird.

"Everyone in the pack heard about what you did yesterday." Lexie said, walking towards my veranda.

"What did I do?" I asked.

"You risked your own life to save Alpha Grayson." She said, walking up the stairs and sitting next to me.

"So, I saved the Alpha and now everyone knows that I'm not dangerous?"

"Yeah. Pretty much." She smiled.

1/4

CHAPTER 58

I shook my head. I shouldn't be surprised. I guess it was going to have to take a huge gesture like that before they started trusting me.

"Are you alright? You seem a little down this morning." Lexie said.

"I'm alright. I'll be alright." I said.

Wesley then walked up to me while I was sitting on the veranda with Lexie.

"What are you doing here?" I asked.

"I wanted to come and congratulate you. It looks like you did good during that fight." Wesley said.

"You sound surprised."

"Not at all. I'm pleased. I know that you've been trained well. Listen, I was wondering if you wanted to come and get a bite with me?" "Where?" I asked.

"Just down the road at the cafe. We can even walk from here." Wesley said.

I looked at Lexie for a moment while I was deciding if I wanted to or not when I turned back to him.

"Just let me get my stuff." I said.

So I walked inside and I grabbed my bag and I turned on a digital recorder that was in my bag and then I grabbed my keys and walked outside.

I said goodbye to Lexie and then I walked up the road with Wesley to the cafe.

We sat at a table and ordered something to eat straight away and I was staring out the window for a while.

"I know that you probably have a lot of questions for me and I don't blame you for hating me. I shouldn't have taken off when you were a baby." Wesley started. "Why did you leave?"

"Because I found my mate. But I couldn't tell your mother that. She is completely naive when it comes to all this supernatural stuff."

"Yeah. No kidding." I said.

"I'm sorry that you had to put up with all of that when you were growing up."

"I want to know the full extent of my family heritage." I said.

CHAPTER 58

"I thought Ava told you."

"No. She told what side of the family. She never told me who was who." I said.

"Alright. I can do that. I am a werewolf. Evelyn's mother is a witch and her father is a fae." Wesley said.

"Where does the vampire come into it?" I asked.

"That is on my side." Wesley said.

"Where?"

"Do you really need to know this?"

"Yeah. I really do." I demanded.

"I'm a daywalking vampire. I was a werewolf who was turned into a vampire. Many years ago.

The vampires got the better of me and they turned me. But I don't kill humans or werewolves. I promise." He said.

"Alright. How do you suppress your vampire side?"

"I'm guessing the same way you do. You just don't crave blood. I'm sure they were trying to figure out a way to create daywalking vampires but I proved that it can't happen. We can still choose to be a werewolf and suppress the vampire nature." He explained.

I nodded along, understanding what he was saying. I mean, I did have vampire in me and I never had that urge to kill people or drink blood. I could relate to that.

"And Evelyn is just a carrier?"

"Yeah. She never gained any of her parents powers. But when they found out that she got pregnant with me, they tried to force her to have an abortion. She refused because she believed that we were going to be together forever." "And where is your mate now?" I asked.

"I couldn't bring her here. Not among all of this. You'll meet her, eventually."

"I'm sure I will. Have you had any more children?" I asked.

"No. I haven't." He said. But I looked at him strangely.

"You're an Alpha. If you don't have any other children then who gets your pack?" I asked.

"My oldest child. Which would be you." He said.

I sat there staring at him for a moment with my mouth open, not knowing what the hell to say. 3/4

I'm the heir to his pack and he's planning on fg killing me. What the fk am I missing here?

"Evelyn told me that you have chosen to end things with the triplets. We both have agreed that it's best if you keep your distance. We can't have you all getting too attached with this war coming. They will try to protect you and you are tasked with protecting them. They won't even consider their own safety as long as you're there." Wesley explained.

"Wow. I didn't realize you and Ava were so close. You talk about this?" I asked. And he realized that I had just caught him in a lie. Something that I wasn't meant to know. His close relationship with Ava.

"Well, you know that I was the one sending her money to give to you. We've spoken a bit over the years. I guess she thought that I should be kept up to date with everything that's going on while I'm here." He explained. Nice fg save. He's a born liar.

We sat there eating together and talking for a while before I had to get going.

I left the cafe and I started walking towards my house but I stopped briefly when I saw the triplets standing out the front of their house and they were all looking back at me.

The looks on their faces were indecipherable. I didn't know if they missed me or hated me. I really couldn't tell.

So I just put my head down and went into the house and closed the door behind me.

Fighter 59

CHAPTER 59

I spent the rest of the day in the gym in my basement, working out and letting out whatever frustration I was feeling.

I had a shower after that and went to get something to eat.

I sat at the table eating while I was writing in my notebook.

I was the first of my kind and I was sure to write as much about my life in these books as possible because no matter what, I was going to get them published.

Even if I had to make sure that someone else did it after I died, they were going to get published for future generations to read.

They need to know what I have dealt with my whole life and how it is to be what I am.

I also wrote down a detailed layout of my heritage so the future generations would know how I came to exist.

But I wasn't sure if these books would be enough for werewolves to believe them 100 years in the future.

I had a feeling that I might have to add something else to it. To show them that I'm for real and that every word that I am writing is real. I couldn't just assume that they were going to believe my writings. So it was something that I was going to have to figure out. But I had time to do that.

Once I finished that I grabbed my laptop and I got on the dark web and started searching up the supernatural council and how it all worked.

I knew how the werewolf council worked and that sort of stuff. But I didn't know how the supernatural council worked.

It was composed of one werewolf, one vampire, one fae, one witch. And they were all highly regarded in their species. They were elders and ones that had seen more than the rest of their people.

If it was composed of one member of all four species then how the hell did Wesley think he was going to overthrow them and take over the council by himself. It didn't make any sense. He obviously thought it could be done, but I didn't know how.

He was gonna have to use me to do it, so I was curious as to when he was planning on doing it. It would have to be before the war because he would have to do it before they tried to kill 1/3

CHAPTER 19

At least, that's what I believed. He may have different plans.

I can't assume anything when it comes to Wesley and Ava. They are obviously more cunning than I thought.

I waited until after dark that night and I left the house again but I headed towards the human town.

I saw Wesley in the middle of town with Evelyn.

There were so many questions that I could ask about them two spending time together, but right now, I couldn't care less.

I went to the hotel where Wesley was staying and I snuck into his room and I opened my bag and pulled out bugs that I planted in the air vent, one in the phone in the living area and another in the bedroom air vent and in the bedroom telephone.

I'd already gotten his cell phone when he went to the bathroom at the cafe today.

I managed to get back out of the hotel without Wesley coming back and I snuck the key back behind the desk without the manager seeing me, the same way I stole it. And I walked back out of the hotel.

Wesley was in the park with Evelyn and it looked like she was crying.

Putting on a real pity party for herself and I got a little closer so I could hear them.

"What am I going to do Wesley? Henry left and barely said anything to me when he left." Evelyn said.

"Maybe he just needs time to cool off. I'm sure he'll be back." Wesley said.

I just shook my head and turned around and walked away.

I didn't need to listen to that crap. And honestly, if I got involved in that conversation then I would probably punch her in the face.

That's how much her voice annoyed me. And I hadn't realized it until now, but just how much I had loved not being around her or Henry since I moved out.

I'd never really thought of it before but seeing her now, I was more than happy to know that I didn't have to deal with them any more. And I definitely didn't feel any pity for her.

More than likely, she brought it on herself. It wouldn't surprise me if Evelyn drove Henry away just so she could try and have another go with Wesley.

CHAPTER 59

But if he's found his mate, that's never going to happen. He'll never cheat on his mate. That's one thing that werewolves are incapable of doing.

Before I went back to my house I went for one last patrol around the territory, but I always go out further than the normal patrols do.

They patrol the pack borders, but I go further than that to make sure that there aren't any camps being set up close to where we are.

After that rogue attack, we can't be too careful.

It's not long before I realize that someone is following me, but I kept going the way that I had planned out on the map. An area that hadn't been patrolled in a while and I knew it was more open to attacks since no one has been here for a while.

I eventually get far enough ahead of the person following me and I climb a tree and I perch myself on the branch that was 10 feet off the ground. I hid my scent and controlled my breathing so he didn't know where I was.

The guy walks under the branch, looking around for me and trying to decide which direction to go since he couldn't see me anymore. So I grab onto the branch and I swing down and kick him in the chest before I let go of the branch and I land on my feet in front of him.

I then press my arm to his throat as he's pinned up to the tree.

"It's me. It's Walker." He said. He was the pack's head warrior.

"I know who you are. Why the fk are you following me?" I asked.

I started tightening my grip on Walker's neck the longer he stood there without saying anything. I wasn't going to let him start following me and not tell me why he was doing it.

"I just thought you might need a hand if you get into trouble." He choked out.

"Do I look like I need help?" I asked.

"No." He said, barely able to breathe. So I finally let go of his neck and he leaned forward while still pressed against the tree and started coughing and sucking in as much air as he possibly could.

"What are you really doing out here?" I asked.

"I had to see for myself if you could do the job or not." He said, which completely confused "What job? What are you talking about? If this is about the triplets, I can still protect them from a distance. I will always know when they're in trouble."

"No. Not that job. Alpha Grayson had an idea about you training the young wolves how to fight. "He said, standing up to look straight at me. But I was very skeptical about what he was saying.

"What?" I asked, looking at him like he was an it.

"Alpha Grayson has been talking to the pack. He wanted to see if they agreed to me training

the pups how to fight. It's the youngest members of the pack." Walker said.

"No one will agree to that. They all hate me." I said.

"Not since you saved the Alpha. They have really changed their minds about you. They saw how you protected the Alpha and he's not even your Alpha. You're not a member of this pack, but you saved him anyway." Walker said. "Why wouldn't I? Grayson has been nothing but nice and kind to me. Even after he knew what I was. The same as Sophie." I said.

"But you also saved a warrior who was against you staying here. That proved that you aren't going to let anyone in this pack die."

I can't believe that I actually had to save lives for them to realize that I wasn't a threat to them. It didn't matter at all that I am mated to their future Alpha's. They just had to see me prove it with actions.

CHAPTER 60

"Most of the pack is still in California. Who the hell would I be training?"

"You'll be training the new pups. The ones that have just gotten their wolves. Between 12 and 14 years old... That clearing behind the packhouse, you've seen the construction. They're building houses to bring pack members back here from California. Alpha Grayson wants everyone here in Alaska. He knows how dangerous it is for the triplets to be in the states now. And that probably won't ever change." He explained.

"People are actually okay with me training their children?" I asked.

"Yeah. They're actually excited about it. You might be able to teach them things that the normal warriors can't." He said.

I'm not a teacher. I'm a fg warrior. But I knew that it was a good idea to start training them young.

They needed to know how to protect themselves. But that didn't mean I wanted kids that age out on the battlefield.

"I don't want kids that age fighting during any battles." I demanded.

"They won't be. It's only for self defense." Walker assured me.

"Alright. I'll do it. But as a trial run. If I think it's not going to work out then you need to find someone else. Do you understand?" I asked.

"Yeah."

"And no one can question my training methods. I was their age when I started training and it wasn't easy on me either. I'm not going to go easy on them."

"Understood."

"Good. Now stop fg following me." I said, turning around and walking away.

When I got back to the house it was really late, but I grabbed a second notebook and I wrote down my interaction with Walker.

I tried to take notes on everything so I had a record of everything and so no one could stab me in the back later on.

That's also why I take my recorder everywhere with me and then I download important conversations onto my laptop and I even make a hard copy onto USB drives and I hide them in my wardrobe.

It had been a really long day and I hadn't slept the night before so when I got changed and I got into bed, I fell asleep almost straight away.

CHAPTER 60

I woke up in the middle of the night hearing something downstairs.

I laid in bed for a moment before I heard someone bump into another piece of furniture.

I was still waiting for my new furniture to arrive so I had decorated my house differently while I was waiting for the furniture to arrive and whoever was downstairs hadn't seen the new layout.

I got out of bed and I grabbed a throwing knife that I kept in my bedside table and I slowly walked down the stairs and I saw someone going through my bookshelf in the living room.

I stood at the foot of the stairs, leaning against the wall and I grabbed the knife by the blade and I threw it directly next to the man's head and it embedded in the wood frame around the books, only centimeters from the man's head. He stood there frozen when he realized he had been caught.

"What the fk are you doing here Logan?" I asked.

"I'm looking for a book." He said, still not game enough to turn around.

So I walked into the room and I turned on the light so he finally turned around to look at me.

"I can see that you it. What fg book do you want?" I asked.

He looked really hesitant about telling me since he'd just had a knife thrown at his head. But he slowly started telling me.

"I was looking for one that explains how the werewolf council works."

"Why would a vampire want that book?" I asked.

"Because someone asked me to get it."

"And let me guess, you can't tell me who asked you." I said, walking over to him and pulling the knife out of the book frame.

"No. I really can't." He said.

"Get the hell out of my house. And next time, I'll make sure that my aim isn't as good." I said.

So he turned towards the front door and he left the house.

I made sure that he wasn't standing outside my house looking when I grabbed the werewolf, vampire, fae and witch books out of my bookshelf and took them to my room and I hid them in my wardrobe as well. "Why can't these assholes leave me the hell alone?" I asked as I climbed back into bed and passed out almost straight away.
