

The Triplets' Fighter Luna

Fighter 61

CHAPTER 61

The following morning I went for my early morning patrol and I got to watch the sunrise over the lake behind our houses and when I got to the house I made a coffee and I sat on the front veranda with it.

I wasn't too sure what was going on but a group of warriors had gathered in the street and it wasn't long before the triplets came out of their house.

They were going for a training session at a different clearing since houses were being built in their regular one and all of them looked over at me and I looked at them briefly before I turned to look at the house beside me and down the street where they had just walked from.

I knew that they were pissed that I had ended it and I didn't blame them,

They were sure that I was going to accept the mate bond and even though they still felt it, I think it was easier for me to stay away.

I did miss them but if I hadn't gone all the way and accepted them completely, it would be easier on them to accept what was happening now.

I could only imagine what kind of hell they were going through right now.

Lexie comes over to my house again and sits down next to me after she saw the exchange between the triplets and myself.

"Alright. You need to tell me what the hell is going on with you four."

"It's nothing." I said, looking down.

"Don't lie to me. I know that there is something going on. The whole pack is talking about it."

She said.

I looked at her and let out a sigh before I leaned forward and I pulled a secret drawer open that was in the table that I had on the veranda.

I pulled out a packet of cigarettes and I pulled one out and lit it up.

"I told them that we had to stop. I can't protect them if they are going to keep getting hurt while trying to protect me." I explained.

"Alright. I get that you're trying to keep them safe. But did you really have to break it off with them?"

"Koda got really hurt during the battle. He saw me helping his dad and he was so sure that I wasn't going to make it out of there because Grayson was surrounded. He didn't realize that I 1/4 was more than capable of taking on 8 rogues on my own."

"You took on 8 of them? I heard the stories but I didn't know it was that many." She said, shocked.

"It was. And then I got the call that Koda was in hospital because he was pretty badly injured. Massive gashes down his ribs. He hid them from us until after the fight. No one knew until he shifted back to human." I explained. "Yeah. I can imagine that would have pissed you off."

"It just made me realize a few things. A lot of things really."

"Well, you're doing this to keep them safe. I don't think it's going to work. They're always going to protect you if they can." She said.

"I know. Which is why I'm keeping my distance. I would rather them hate me and not want to save me, then die trying to save me." I said.

"I still don't think you deserve to be alone."

"Well, I'm kind of used to it by now." I said.

"Alright. Well, if that's the case then we need to go out and have some fun." Lexie said, getting a wicked smirk on her face.

"I am really not in the mood."

"I don't care. We're going. Your whole life has been focused around training and patrolling. Well, now we're going to go out and show you a good time." She said.

"How much of a good time can we have as teenagers out in the middle of Alaska?"

"There's a club at a neighboring town. The bartender and the bouncer are both werewolves. They give us special stamps on our hands and we can have as many drinks as we want. Only because they know that we don't get drunk like humans. Our metabolism works differently and it takes a lot more for us to get drunk." She said.

I knew that I wasn't going to win this argument so Lexie dragged me to her house and we started going through her clothes to see what we could wear.

I obviously didn't have any clothes to wear out to a club so she was going to do me all up.

She did my hair and my make up and then she handed me a dress and I pressed it up against myself.

"Are you kidding?" I asked.

CHAPTER 61

"Just shut up and put it on." She said.

So I got undressed and I put on the black mini dress with thin straps that felt like it stopped right under my bum and I looked in the mirror.

"You look hot." She said.

"I feel like a slut. I have never worn anything this short before." I said.

"I know. And you're going to make every guy in there wet themselves."

"Lexie. I'm not going there to pick up guys."

"I know. But it doesn't mean you can't tease them." She smirked.

We got to the club at 9pm that night and we were let in straight away because the bouncer was apart of Lexie's pack.

And he was aware of who I was. He was in the battle against the rogues and he nodded his head at me as we walked inside.

We made our way through the crowd and got a couple of drinks immediately and we sculled them down really quickly before Lexie grabbed my hand and dragged me to the dance floor.

I really wasn't used to stuff like this. I never danced and never let my hair down like this.

I'm usually out patrolling right about now. But Lexie even commented on how well I could dance and that I really need to it more because I looked like I was really enjoying it.

It wasn't long before we were surrounded by a group of guys and Lexie was loving it.

She was all handsy with them, as they were with her but once they tried to touch me I would stop them.

Boundaries were a big thing for me and I wasn't going to let them cross any of mine.

I was still mated to the triplets and even just the thought of these guys touching me was giving me the creeps.

I told Lexie that I was going back to the bar to get another drink and she nodded at me.

So I walked over and got another drink.

I recognised the bartender. I had seen him around the pack and he was giving me my drinks for free.

Some guy then walked up beside me as I was sitting on the barstool drinking and I looked to the side.

"You look really popular tonight." Dean said.

CHAPTER 61

"Lexie is the one that invited them over."

"Nice dress." He scowled.

"I guess."

10 Bonus

I saw him looking me up and down and he didn't look too impressed with what I was wearing.

"We agreed to stay away from each other. It's for the best." I said. But I looked behind me at the same time and I saw Tyler and Koda standing at one of the high tables looking over at me as well.

But what pissed me off the most was that Izzy was hanging around them with her friends and she was getting really flirty.

"Looks like you three have your own fan club tonight." I said, turning back to the bar.

Lexie then ran over to us and she was all bouncy and happy and she greeted Dean but tried to drag me back onto the dance floor.

"You know what, I've got a big day tomorrow. I'm gonna head home." I said.

"No. You can't. You've gotta stay and have more fun. They are." She said, looking at the guys standing there with Izzy.

She was right. Why the hell would I want Izzy to think she's upset me.

So I got back up and went back to the dance floor where those guys hadn't gone anywhere. But I still wasn't letting them touch me.

I finally got home at around 2am that morning and I walked in my front door and closed it.

Before I had a chance to even turn the light on though someone had grabbed me and pinned me against the door.

I had to let my eyes adjust to the darkness when I realized that Koda was the one holding me and the other two were standing a couple feet behind him.

Fighter 62

CHAPTER 62

Koda was staring straight into my face while I was looking back at him and I relaxed as soon as I realized who had broken into my house.

"What the hell are you doing here? We had an agreement." I said.

"Oh yeah. The agreement. Well, we can only play along so far with that agreement. Especially seeing you out in a dress like that, flirting with a whole bunch of guys." Koda said. "I never touched any of them and they didn't touch me." I said.

"We know. But that doesn't mean it didn't turn us on." He said.

"Tonight was the last straw. We can't stay away." Dean said.

"If Ava thinks that we're still together and this is just some act to get her to drop her guard, then we're all done for." I said.

"That's why she's never going to find out. Ava and Theo are out of town for a couple of days." Tyler said.

"But their daughter isn't. And she will be more than willing to tell her mother." I said.

"She thinks that we got really cranky about you tonight and we stormed off home. She's still at the club." Tyler said, moving closer to me.

"Is that right?" I asked.

"Dad was meant to go on this trip but we convinced him to send Ava and Theo instead. We needed to see you." Dean said.

"Aren't you a bunch of sneaky little bastards." I said.

"You have no idea." Koda said, grabbed my arms and lifting them above my head and he started kissing me.

Tyler walked around my house closing the blinds to make sure that no one could see in.

Even though no lights were on, werewolves could see in the dark.

And we had to make the whole pack believe that we weren't together anymore. It was the only move we had to play at the moment in order to get Ava to slip up. Once she relaxed, she was going to make a mistake.

Koda let go of my hands and he reached down and grabbed me under my bum, around my legs and lifted me on the ground so I wrapped my legs around his waist. CHAPTER 62

He carried me over to the couch and laid me down while he I saw the other two getting undressed.

They were already here, so we may as well make the most of it.

Koda grabbed my dress and pulled it straight over my head, revealing the black lace underwear that I was wearing underneath it.

heard a low growl rip from his throat as he took his shirt off and he leaned back down over

He started kissing me again and I was undoing his jeans. He managed to kick them off and they landed on the ground at the bottom of the couch.

10 Bonus

Tyler walked up beside me so Koda sat back on his heels and he lifted my ass up so he could line himself up and he thrust his large hard c**k straight into me, causing me to gasp at the sudden fullness of him. Tyler turned my head to face him and he slowly pushed his large c**k into my mouth.

He started thrusting in and out of me. Making it harder for me to moan out loud, but I took as much of him in as I possibly could.

Koda started pumping faster and faster into me, running his hand up my stomach until they stopped at my breasts.

"I have f*****g missed you." Koda moaned out.

My eyes managed to wander over to the other chair where Dean was sitting, rubbing himself. Getting prepared for his turn.

I gripped onto the back of the couch as Koda kept ramming into me and his hand found his way back down to my clit.

I let out a louder moan, but it was still muffled by Tyler's c**k in my mouth.

He was pushing it in as far as he could, where I was almost choking on it.

"Oh f**k, yeah." Tyler moaned.

I could feel Koda thrusting in harder and harder while my clit was rolling through his fingers, but his movements soon became erratic as he came inside of me. He thrust in a couple more times, really hard as he leaned over me and I released Tyler's c**k from my mouth.

"Holy f**k, that was amazing." Koda said, kissing me.

Koda pulled out of me and he moved over to the side of the couch and got on his knees and started sucking on my breasts while Tyler moved forward again and put his sock back in my 2/4 mouth.

I felt Dean walk over to me and he pulled me down lower on the couch so my ass was on the arm rest, causing the other two to growl at him.

I chuckled and they had to move down a bit to where I was and Dean stood at the end of the couch and pushed himself inside of me, a little slower than Koda did.

Tyler was thrusting harder and faster into my mouth, making me gag a couple of times as he hit the back of my throat, but his moans were telling me everything that I needed to know. Koda moved his hand down to keep playing with my clit while he was sucking on my breasts and I felt Tyler getting more and more excited.

"Oh fuck." Tyler moaned. He found his release in my mouth and made me swallow all of it. Tyler leaned down to kiss me, tasting himself on me as our tongues danced around together. I raised my head up and looked at Dean who had increased his pace and started pounding harder and harder into me.

I found myself getting closer and closer, but I tried to put it off for as long as I could.

But it was no use. I fell over the edge of my orgasm and let out a loud moan as my whole body started shuddering under the touch of all three of my mates.

Dean then grabbed my arms and he pulled me up, making me sit on the arm rest of the chair and he wrapped his arms around me while I wrapped my legs around his waist.

I was still sitting on the arm rest but he was pounding harder and harder into me, kissing me and fondling me at the same time.

He pulled me as close to him as possible and he came inside of me. But he kept holding me close to his body, even after his orgasm had passed.

"Tell Lexie to keep her trampy little dresses to herself." Dean whispered in my ear.

I chuckled and pulled back to look at him.

"Not a f*****g chance. Not if this is going to be your reaction." I said. But he just shook his head, knowing that I was teasing him.

We laid on the floor with a blanket under us while Koda got the fire going again.

We laid there watching it and it felt like an unbelievable night. Something that I didn't think I would get to have again for a long time. "How long do we have to keep sneaking around?" Tyler asked.

"I don't know. Until she makes a mistake. Until people finally realize what she's up to." I said.

"That might be a while." Tyler said.

"Well, I guess we're going to have to make the most of these stolen moments then." Koda said, climbing back on top of me.

I started laughing as I put his hands on his waist and he started kissing me.

I wasn't going to protest at all.

CHAPTER 63

I wasn't sure how many times we had s*x that night, but we kept going until the sun started to come up. And then the guys had to sneak out the back and get back to the packhouse really carefully. Without anyone seeing them.

I went upstairs and had a shower and I got dressed into some casual clothes so I could go on a hike and patrol the whole perimeter of the pack. Parts of the border that the patrols didn't go because it was so far off the beaten track. But I knew that those were the places that needed to be checked. Because that's where people were most likely going to hide.

It took me a couple of hours to finish that sweep of the border and then I got back to the house and I made a coffee and I sat at the computer and started listening to the recordings from Wesley's room.

I was happy to realize that he hadn't found the bugs yet.

He'd probably think that Ava planted them anyway if he did find them.

So I was pretty confident in my plan to find out what the hell he was up to.

There wasn't a whole lot at the beginning but then he made a call and a woman answered the phone.

"Hey Camila. It's just me, checking in." Wesley said.

"I was starting to think that you had forgotten about us back here." She said.

"Of course not, baby. I've just been busy here trying to get Nova to trust me." Wesley said.

"And how's it?" She asked.

"I think I'm starting to make some headway. She agreed to have lunch with me yesterday and I'm gonna keep trying to get close to her." Wesley said.

"Hi dad." A girl said.

"Hi sweetie. Are you taking care of your mother?" Wesley asked.

"Yeah. My dad was here the other day but we had the warriors kick him out." She said.

"Good. If he comes back then I'll instruct them to kill him." Wesley said.

Wow. He will actually kill his stepdaughter's biological father. I guess he's more sadistic than I thought.

"Put your mother back on the phone." Wesley said.

"I'm here." Camila said, getting the phone back.

"The supernatural council are having a huge meeting next week. I know that I won't be able to get Nova's confidence by then so I'll have to wait until they call another huge meeting." Wesley explained. "Can't you call a meeting when you're ready? I mean, they are all going to be interested once you tell them that you want to show them Nova. I mean, none of them would believe you." Camila said.

"I know. I guess I could. One thing at a time. I need her to trust me."

"And what will happen after you take over the council?"

"I will bring Nova back to the pack and Ava is already rallying the troops. Getting them ready to attack this pack. Nova will die in the attack and she won't know any different. I'll take over the council and she will never know that it's not her son who is meant to bring back the werewolf royalty." Wesley explained.

What the f**k? The prophecy says that my son will be the werewolf King. He will bring back to life the werewolf royal bloodline. Now they're saying that I am supposed to do that?

These bastards can't even keep their stories straight with each other.

"So, Nova doesn't know that she comes from werewolf royalty?" Camila asked.

"No. She's got no clue. She just thinks that she's made up of all these different species and that's all." Wesley said.

"Wow. She's really not that f*****g bright, is she?" Camila asked.

"She has her moments." Wesley said.

"Well, all the council has to see is what she is and that you are her father. You created her. So, you are entitled to the head seat of the council." Camila said.

I stopped listening to the recording after that.

I sat there thinking for a moment before I took my coffee out to the veranda and I grabbed a cigarette out of my table on the veranda and I lit it up.

I looked around the streets and there were a few people hanging around, but it was pretty quiet today. I didn't know why.

I could hear the construction work going on in the distance and it was worrying me about how many people they were going to bring to Alaska.

I didn't know exactly how big the pack was. And there were only a fraction of them here so far.

2/4

CHAPTER 63

But I saw that they were also rebuilding the school. I guess that was good. But I didn't see any point in me going back to school.

I had to try and make it to my 18th birthday before I tried to graduate high school.

I got inside the triplets' heads while I was listening to the recordings and they heard everything.

They were obviously pissed off about it but I warned them not to come to my house. We can talk about it later. Right now, we can only communicate this way. And that's only because I'm a fae and I don't need to be a part of their pack to be able to communicate through mind links. Tyler and Dean were pretty wild but Koda was the one to settle them down. He said that I was right and we can't risk ruining what we're doing.

They made me promise to let them know if anything else happened. And I saw that I would. I know that I was in a really vulnerable position right now, but I also had the advantage. Wesley and Ava didn't know that I was on to them. They've always known that I could read minds and they thought that they were doing a good job of hiding their thoughts from me.

Which they did.

But they left paper trails and that's how I found out what they were doing.

Ava had to leave a paper trail for her facility in California but I knew it was fake as soon as I saw it. And that's what made me start digging.

She showed me the fake documents thinking that I wouldn't realize, but I did. And that's what made me start snooping.

So if there's anyone to blame for their plan getting ruined, it's going to be Ava.

And believe me, their plan is definitely going to be ruined.

My phone then went off so I looked at the message and it was from Walker.

WALKER - Training at 4pm. Ages 12-14. Only five kids for now.

ME-Okay. I'll be there.

I guess they were serious about wanting me to train the younger kids. I knew that Grayson liked me, but now the rest of the pack was getting on board as well.

It felt weird actually being accepted by people when I've been rejected by everyone my whole life.

CHAPTER 63

Well, I might have to get used to it. Because it doesn't look like I'll be going anywhere for a while

Fighter 64

CHAPTER 64

That afternoon I had gotten changed into the proper working out clothes and I made my way to the training field where Walker was waiting with the five kids that I would be training. "There she is. Alright, Nova. This is Liam, Oliver, James, Elsie and Amy." Walker said.

"It's nice to meet you." I said.

"They've never trained before and they've been told that they are being watched to make sure that they behave." Walker said. "I'm sure I can handle it. Thanks." I said.

So Walker left and I stood in front of the kids, looking at their body types and trying to come up with a good plan for them.

"I can't believe they are making us do this." Liam thought to himself.

"They're making you do this Liam, so you know how to protect yourself in case there's another attack. We can't guarantee that they aren't going to get past us." I said. And they all looked at me with wide eyes. Realizing that the stories about me are true.

"Alright. This training field isn't very big. And you all need to start on cardio and building up your muscles. I want 10 laps of this field. Right now." I said.

"Are you serious?" Elsie asked.

"If you argue then it will be 20." I said. But she stood there and crossed her arms.

It looked like she was going to be the problem child and the other kids were taking their cue from her.

So I held my hands out in front of me and I created an ice ball in one of my hands and I started tossing it back and forth before I turned it into fire. And I started tossing it back and forth in my hands as well.

"Do you really want to argue with me?" I asked.

"You won't hurt us with that." Elsie said.

"No. But I'm guessing fire will make you run faster." I smirked.

"You're on your own Elsie." James said as the others turned around and started running the laps.

Elsie stood there looking at me for a few moments longer when she finally turned around and 1/4 started running as well.

CHAPTER 64

So I put the fire out.

"Don't f*****g scare them." Koda said in my head.

420 Point

"Why not? If they're going to ignore me, then I will do what's necessary to make them move." I said, without turning around to see where he was.

I could still hear the construction on the other side of the forest from where I was standing and I was starting to wonder how many houses they were actually building over there.

I know I've got the vote of all the members of these pack members, but I don't want to have to go through the same s**t again when more of them come here.

I mainly worked on muscle building with the kids that day. Push ups, sit ups, chin ups. All that sort of stuff. Stuff that they probably thought was boring but it was necessary. And when we finished, I let them all go and they all looked really sore.

I guess they really weren't used to training at all.

I decided to go for a walk through the forest until I came to the clearing and I stood next to a tree looking at the rows of one level cabins that were being built. They didn't have a yard and barely any privacy.

I knew that the houses would have to be soundproofed because they were so close to each other. But it looked like they were building dozens of these cabins.

They were bringing a lot of people from California to Alaska.

I wonder how the wolves were going to handle the climate change.

It was a shock to me when I first got here. And I'm still getting used to it. But that's only because it's getting ready to start snowing.

With the amount of progress that they had made, I knew that they were going to be bringing people here very shortly. I had to be prepared for it. It was going to be a culture shock for me as well.

I started walking back towards the pack when my phone started ringing. I looked at the screen and it said Ava.

"Hello." I answered.

"Hi Nova. I'm so glad to get a hold of you. I wasn't sure if you were going to be busy or not."

"No. Just heading home. Is everything alright? Are you back?" I asked.

2/4

CHAPTER 64

"No. Not yet. That's why I'm calling. I probably won't be back for a while. I have to stay at the facility here for a while. The scientists that work here are really having a hard time trying to get this formula right." She explained. So I stopped walking and I started nodding my head. "What formula?" I asked, playing dumb.

"Oh. It's nothing that you need to worry about. But they are going to need me here for a while. I just wanted to make sure that you were alright. After everything that's happened." She said.

"Yeah. I'm doing great. I guess, the other species are helping me deal with not seeing the triplets."

"Good. I'm really glad to hear that. If you have any problems and want to talk to anyone then please don't hesitate to call." She said.

"I won't. Thanks." I said.

When I got off the phone I stood there leaning against that tree for a moment just thinking about Ava back at the research facility that she runs in California.

It drove me crazy knowing what she's doing in there but there was nothing that I could do about it right now. I needed to keep pretending like I didn't know what was going on.

I must have been so deep in thought that when I turned around I jumped when I saw Tyler standing right in front of me.

He quickly put his hand over my mouth because there were people not too far from us and he didn't want to alert them.

"What the f**k are you doing? Do you want to get caught?" I whispered.

"No. But the danger is so f*****g hot." He said, leaning in and kissing me on the neck.

He pushed my backwards until I was pressed up against the tree behind me and I let out a little moan before I realized what he was doing.

It was broad daylight and there were people everywhere in the woods.

"Alright. That's enough." I said, pushing him off me.

"You have no idea how much I want you right now." He said, resting his forehead on mine.

"We have to be careful. Otherwise all of this is for nothing." I said.

He didn't answer me, but he didn't move either.

I heard him taking in some deep breaths like he was trying to savor my scent.

But pretty soon we heard some voices getting closer to us and we hid around the other side of the massive tree that he had me pressed up against.

3/4

We saw Izzy off in the distance walking along with a couple of her friends.

They didn't look like they knew that we were there because Izzy was too busy talking her head off and they were all dressed like they were going out for the night.

They looked really out of place. But we just stayed quiet until we heard them mention the triplets and her mother.

That caught our attention and we carefully moved a little bit closer without alerting them to where we were, but so we could hear everything that she was saying.

"So, you're saying that your mother deliberately broke up Nova and the triplets for you?" One of her friends asked.

"That's right. I have the best mother in the world. She's determined to make sure that I am the next Luna of this pack. She says that I will be running this place. The triplets are going to be of no help, which I don't understand, but she said that it's going to come down to me to be the Luna and Alpha." Izzy said.

"So, where is Nova going?" Her friend asked.

"I don't know. I think my mother has some plans to get rid of her. And it's going to devastate the triplets. They won't be able to function. So it will be up to me and my family to run this pack. I can't wait." Izzy said.

I turned to look at Tyler and he looked like he was ready to run through the woods and rip Izzy's head off right now.

It was obvious that she didn't know the full story. That Ava is planning on killing me and the triplets are going to be devastated that I am dead.

They'll take advantage of that and move Izzy in on the triplets and get her to be the Luna.

"Don't do it. You'll give it all away. We're playing the long game." I said.

"I know. But there's one thing I know for sure. We're marking you before that war." Tyler said. And I looked at him in complete shock.

Fighter 65

CHAPTER 65

I walked the rest of the way home in a daze. I still wasn't sure if I had heard Tyler right. Did he say that they were going to mark me before the war? I know that will make them more in tune with whatever is going on with me and it might save my life if Ava and Wesley get me alone somewhere. But I also know that I can take those two on.

They also know that I can take them on. So they would have to have a better plan than them attacking me and trying to catch me by surprise because that would never work.

When I got back to the house Wesley was standing in my front yard, looking into the forest that was behind my house.

"What are you doing here?" I asked.

"I wanted to see if you were hungry. It's almost dinner. There's a really nice restaurant a couple of towns over." Wesley said. "Yeah. I guess I could eat. Just let me go and get changed." I said.

So I went inside and I went up to my bedroom.

I walked inside my wardrobe and I grabbed some fancier clothes to wear while I was out and grabbed my phone.

ME - Going to dinner with Wesley. Restaurant a couple of towns over. I don't know what place he is talking about.

DEAN - We know the place. We'll follow behind after we see you leave.

ME - Make sure you wait about 10 minutes. He'll notice if someone is following.

So I got changed and I did my hair and a little make up before I walked back downstairs and grabbed my jacket and bag.

We left the house and got in Wesley's mercedes and we drove for about an hour to get to this town and he pulled up right outside the restaurant.

It looked pretty fancy and I was guessing that it was where he was used to eating at.

We didn't have anywhere like this where we lived. So he was either missing his old life or he was trying to impress me.

As soon as we walked in they sat us near the window and I started looking at the menu.

"This is a really nice place." I said.

20 Point

CHAPTER 65

"Yeah. Someone at the hotel recommended it. I didn't even know that it was here." Wesley said.

I glanced out the window and I saw the triplets drive by slowly looking in at me and I was able to relax a little.

I wasn't sure where they were going to park or what they were going to do while we were here. But I felt real uneasy about coming here without anyone knowing where I was. And they would have been pissed if they saw me leaving the house with Wesley and I didn't tell them.

They knew that they had to hide. We couldn't risk Wesley seeing them. And if he did then they had to look like obsessed ex boyfriends or something like that. It was the only way to play it off. And I had let them know that as well.

"So, there is something that I wanted to talk to you about." Wesley said.

"Sure. What's up?" I asked.

"Have you ever heard of the supernatural council?" He asked. And I sat there thinking back to all the conversations I'd had with all my trainers. "No. I've never heard of that." I said.

"Well, it's made up of one member from each species. And the problem is, they recently found out about you. You're the first of your kind." He said.

"Yeah. I'm aware of that. Do they have a problem with it?" I asked.

"No. It's more like they just want to meet you. To find out what you can do. And your abilities and everything like that."

"Oh. Well, that's flattering. I guess." I said.

"Yeah. So, I haven't really been given a choice. I've been told to get you there so you can meet them." He said.

"Where are they?" I asked.

"They're in New York State." He said.

"So, we'll be gone for a few days." I said.

"Unfortunately." He said.

"When do they want to meet me?"

"As soon as possible. I told them that I have to talk to you first. I'm not going to force you onto a plane."

"Well, thank you for that. I appreciate it. But I don't know if I can leave right now. I've just started training the kids in the pack. And apparently there are more people coming from California. They'll be here soon." I said.

"Nova. This isn't your pack. You don't belong to a pack. Remember." Wesley said.

Saying that felt like he jammed a knife into my heart and started twisting it. But I had to remain calm and pretend like it didn't bother me as much as it obviously did.

"Yeah. I know that. Let me talk to Alpha Grayson and let him know that I'll be leaving for a few days. I did make a commitment to him and I should at least talk to him about it before I take off for a couple of days." I explained.

"That's fine. Just don't mention the supernatural council. He isn't meant to know what goes on in that building." Wesley said.

We sat there and tried to have a pleasant conversation which was a little hard when all I could think about was this damn council that he wanted me to go and see. It was driving me crazy. But I managed to make it through dinner and when we walked outside, I didn't see the triplets anywhere but I knew that they were close.

Wesley drove me home and instead of going inside my house I walked to the packhouse to see Alpha Grayson.

I explained the whole situation to him and the triplets came in while I was talking to him.

They still had to pretend like they were pissed with me and that we weren't seeing each other. So they sat on the chairs in the living room listening in to me telling Grayson that I would be going away for a couple of days and that I wouldn't be able to train the kids while I was gone.

He asked a lot of questions and I did what Wesley told me to. I kept the supernatural council a secret. But he knew that there was something going on with me.

Since I wasn't actually a member of his pack, he couldn't order me to tell him what was going on and he couldn't order me to stay.

I said goodnight to him and I looked at the triplets before I walked out of the door and headed for my house.

As soon as I got there I went to have a shower and I walked out of the bathroom wearing a towel.

I don't know why I wasn't surprised, but the triplets were in my room when I walked out of the bathroom.

CHAPTER 65

"I told you guys to stop being so reckless." I said.

"We need to know about this trip." Koda said.

"It's with the supernatural council. He's taking me there tomorrow on his private jet." I said.

"Were you going to tell us?" Tyler asked.

"I was going to message you. It's the safest way at the moment."

"What are we going to do? You're not going there alone." Dean said.

"Well, you can't be seen. And no one else from your pack can be seen. Wesley made it really clear that I wasn't allowed to tell anyone." I said.

I walked into the wardrobe to get dressed and then I grabbed my laptop and I sat on the bed and turned it on.

The guys saw me opening some strange program and it had several files that hadn't been opened yet. So I started opening them and listening to Wesley's conversations in his hotel room.

"What the hell is this?" Koda asked.

"I bugged his hotel room." I said. And he chuckled like he was really surprised.

A lot of it was just a bunch of bullshit.that I didn't care about until he started talking on the phone with some man.

"So, she's going to the council?" The man asked.

"Yeah. You gather the men. Attack the pack while she's gone." Wesley said.

"What about Ava? She wants Nova there to make her death look like an accident."

"I know she does. But I don't care. I want that pack. So you go for the triplets and their father. And then that pack will mine as well as the supernatural council." Wesley said.

I looked up at the guy and they were all looking at each other, confused and not sure what to

Fighter 66

CHAPTER 66

We finished listening to the last of the conversation and the plans that they were making for when I wasn't in the pack.

I wasn't sure what Wesley had planned for me when we got to New York but I had a feeling that he wasn't expecting me to come back.

"We're not letting you go to New York alone." Koda demanded.

"You can't leave your pack defenseless. You have to stay here." I said.

"We won't be. We have to go and talk to our father. Can you find out everything you can about Wesley's pack?" Dean asked.

"I've already done that." I said, getting up off the bed.

I walked to the wardrobe and I grabbed a file and I handed it to him.

"That's got the hierarchy in it plus how many people are in his pack and how many warriors he has. Plus stealth warriors. I've been patrolling pretty regularly so they haven't been scouting out this pack while I've been here. They might be waiting for me to leave." I said.

"God damn it. What the hell are we going to do about this?"

"There's nothing we can do. I'm leaving tomorrow. I can't say no because he is claiming the supernatural council will come here. And from what I understand, none of us want that." I said

"Alright. Let us talk to our father and we'll be in touch before you leave." Koda said, walking over to me.

He kissed me before leaving the room and Dean walked over and cupped my face in his hand while he kissed me. But Tyler is the one that stayed the longest.

He looked like there was something else that he wanted to say but he knew that there was no point. We were up against a rock and a hard place right now. We had to try and figure something out tonight otherwise I would be at the mercy of the supernatural council and the triplets could potentially lose their pack and their lives.

He walked over to me and stood there staring at me for a long time before he leaned down and kissed me, really gently.

After Tyler left I sat back on the bed and I got on the dark web and I started looking for whatever information I could on the supernatural council.

It was really pissing me off to a point because they were definitely secretive.

CHAPTER 66

There were little mentions of them but that was about it.

They didn't have anything on the dark web about themselves. I didn't know who was on the council or what role they played for their species or anything like that.

I didn't know what the hell I was walking into. And Wesley obviously didn't care. He made me think that they just want to meet me because I am the first of my kind. And we all know that's bullshit.

And to find out that he's going behind Ava's back...that's a whole different issue that I couldn't deal with right now.

I didn't get any sleep that night, but when I saw the sun finally starting to come up the next morning I realized how late it was getting.

I had to grab a bag and pack enough things for a few days in New York. But I opened a secret compartment and I hid all of the weapons that Wesley didn't know that I had. We were taking a private jet and we were going to a private airfield. I'd already checked it out and there wasn't any security. So my weapons wouldn't be found.

I got everything ready that I needed and then I got dressed and I did my usual sweep of the territory.

I was way out of the bounds of where the border was looking for any scouts that might be hanging around.

Now that I knew it was a possibility, I needed to make sure that they weren't here now.

I couldn't find any, but Tyler managed to find me.

"What are you doing out here?" I asked.

"I knew you'd leave the border of the pack."

"It's not my pack, remember."

"Not yet." He said.

"Tyler. Go home."

"When are you leaving?"

"In a while. He's going to message me when he's ready to leave for the airport." I said.

"Alright. So, we've got time." He said.

"Time for what?" I asked, confused.

CHAPTER 66

20 Pain

So he walked closer to me and he pushed me up against the nearest tree and pinned my arms above my head.

He started kissing me and nibbling at my bottom lip, getting me excited straight away.

As much as I wanted to resist him, I was finding it way too hard to.

I felt Tyler's hand slide down my stomach until it found the top of my pants and he started undoing the button and zip and pulled them down a little way.

I pulled the drawstring on his shorts and lowered them enough to let out his erect c**k.

He never stopped kissing me the whole time and he let go of my arms so he could grab my legs and lift me up and I wrapped my arms around his waist.

"Tyler. This is really f*****g stupid." I said.

"I know. Shut up and enjoy it." He said.

He pushed himself inside of me in one quick thrust, causing me to dig my fingernails into his back.

I grabbed onto him tightly as he used the tree as leverage and he thrust into me as fast as he could.

I could feel the bark on my back digging into me but I didn't care.

He pulled my face back down to him and started kissing me and I could feel myself getting hotter all over.

I grabbed onto Tyler's shirt and pulled him as close to me as possible as I fell over the edge of my orgasm and I felt my whole body trembling at the same time Tyler thrust hard into me and his movements became erratic as he spilled his seed inside of me.

He held me there for a moment, staring at me and pulled me in for a kiss before he put me down and I pulled up my pants.

"You're gonna get us busted, you know that." I said. But he just smirked at me.

"If we get busted by doing that, it was worth it." He said.

We walked a bit of the way back before we had to split up and go in different directions.

As soon as I got home I had to have a shower because I had Tyler's scent all over me and Wesley would be able to tell.

I got dressed into nicer clothes and Wesley sent me a message telling me that we're leaving now.

CHAPTER 66

So I closed up the house and I grabbed my bag and walked out the front.

When the car pulled up out the front, I got in the back where Wesley was and he smiled at me. "Are you ready for this?" Wesley asked.

"Do I have a choice?" I asked.

"Don't worry. Everything will be fine." He said, looking out his window as we started driving.

I looked out my window and I saw the triplets standing in the forest just behind my house, watching me leave from the shadows.

I could practically feel the way that they were feeling. The panic that they were feeling. But I had to try and push it aside and concentrate on protecting myself here.

I had to make sure that I was on my game at the moment, because I couldn't afford to be distracted right now.

CHAPTER 67 +20 PARM

It took several hours for us to get to New York state and we came to a small airport outside of Rochester, New York and there was a car already waiting for us on the tarmac. We got into the car and it took us straight to a hotel.

When we got there we were shown to the top floor and Wesley was in the room next to mine and the bellboy showed me to my room which was a penthouse. We had the only two penthouses in the whole hotel.

It was massive and it seemed a little extreme for people who were only going to be staying here for a couple of days.

I guess he wanted to give me a good send off before he did whatever he was planning on doing tomorrow.

Once the bellboy left I walked around the penthouse and saw all the luxuries that it had to offer but then my phone went off.

DEAN - Did you arrive in one piece?

ME - Yeah. Meeting the council tomorrow. How about you? Anything happening?

DEAN - No. We suspect that they will attack while you're in the meeting. So we can't contact you.

ME-That sounds about right. Wesley is doing everything to hide his thoughts from me. He's thinking of everything except the meeting.

DEAN - What has he been thinking about?

ME - Nothing that a daughter should know about his father doing to his mate.

DEAN - I don't know what to say. He's doing that on purpose because he knows you can read minds.

ME - I'm aware. Just be careful and I'll let you know when we are leaving for the meeting.

DEAN - You be careful too. We've got everything covered here. Dad even called in a bunch of favors that are owed to him.

ME - Good.

As soon as I put the phone away I made a coffee and I sat on the balcony to drink it.

I was looking out at the view and it was really beautiful being up this high.

CHAPTER 67

I know that winter was coming on, but it felt so much warmer here than it did in Alaska. It would eventually snow here as well, but not for a while yet. Alaska was preparing for it to snow any day now. I looked over to the side where Wesley's Penthouse was but he was inside and the doors were closed.

These damn hotel rooms were soundproof so I couldn't hear anything that was happening in there.

He wasn't coming to see me so I knew that he had to be on the phone talking to someone. When I went back inside I closed the door and I went to the bedroom and I laid down on the bed, staring up at the ceiling thinking.

Wesley had already made it clear that the supernatural council had people planted all over this town as their own security so I wasn't allowed to leave the hotel. At least not until the meeting tomorrow.

I knew that this was going to be one boring ass night. I didn't have anyone to talk to and I didn't have anything to do.

I did bring my laptop but that was about it. I could try and do some more research but I was sick of trying to find out information on the supernatural council. They kept everything very close to the vest.

They didn't let anyone know how their operation worked.

I was staring at the ceiling for ages when Wesley knocked on the door and invited me down to the restaurant in the hotel for dinner.

So I went with him and we sat towards the back of the room and ordered something to eat.

"Are you alright?" Wesley asked.

"Yeah. There's just a lot on my mind." I said.

"Yeah. I bet there is. There's nothing to worry about. They just want to meet you. That's all there is." He said.

"I hope so. But there's nothing I know about them. And that makes me nervous." I said.

"Yeah. I know. But they aren't as scary as you think." He said.

I just nodded my head and looked around the restaurant.

While I was sitting there I noticed a couple of people scattered around the restaurant that kept glancing over at us.

20 Pont

I didn't have to read their minds to know that they were only here to keep an eye on me. And I started keeping an eye on them.

It didn't take long until Wesley noticed and he started looking around as well.

"Don't worry about them." Wesley said.

"Are they with you?" I asked.

"Not really. They work for the council. I think they are just making sure that we are behaving ourselves." He said.

"Well, that's not intimidating at all." I said, being sarcastic.

"I know. I'm sorry but this is how things go around here." He said.

When I finished dinner I couldn't wait to get back up to my room and as soon as I went inside I locked the door.

I went to the bathroom and I had a shower and I got dressed for bed.

After that I went to the kitchen area to make a coffee and I sat at the table with my laptop.

I started searching through all the files that I had compiled on a lot of different people and started trying to search through all of them. Trying to make sense of what I was reading.

I knew that something was going to happen while we were here. And the triplets needed to stay back and defend their pack from the impending attack.

I didn't get to bed until late that night and I was tossing and turning the whole night.

When I got up in the morning I couldn't even eat because I was so nervous about today, but I got dressed into a red blouse, black pants and black boots.

I did my hair and put on a little bit of makeup to look respectable and when it was time, Wesley came knocking on my door.

I grabbed my bag and I went to answer it and he was standing there in a very expensive three-piece suit and I closed the door behind me.

There was a car waiting for us at the front door of the hotel and it took us 20 minutes to get to the supernatural council.

We pulled up in front of a very old-looking yellowish sandstone building with all sorts of different symbols carved into it. One representing a witch, one a werewolf, one a fae and one a vampire.

CHAPTER 67

Obviously the symbols were subtle enough that humans couldn't detect what they were. But I looked over at Wesley who had come to stand next to me with a big smile on his face.

I stood there on the sidewalk staring up at the building in shock, with butterflies going crazy around my stomach.

Wesley walked up behind me and put his hand on my back and he led me inside.

We walked to the reception desk, and she allowed us to go right through. They were waiting for us.

So we walked down the hallway to a flight of circular stairs and we walked up them until we got to the top of the building and we walked down the long hallway with ancient-looking paintings all over the walls.

I was impressed by everything that I had been seeing so far, but when I saw the massive mahogany double doors at the end of the hallway, I had to stop and take a couple of deep breaths to contro

Fighter 68

CHAPTER 68

As soon as we approached the large doors there were two men standing on the outside who opened the doors for us and we were let inside.

The room that we walked into was just as impressive.

It was a lot larger than I thought it would be and it had massive columns down the room that led to four large chairs that looked like thrones at the front of the room. There was a person sitting in each of the chairs and they were all looking at Wesley and myself with just as much intrigue as I was showing towards them.

We walked up the room, across the marble floors, and we stopped a couple of feet in front of them to where they had set out two chairs for us.

Wesley and I sat in those chairs and I tried really hard not to fidget in front of them. I tried to keep my composure and not let them know that I was worried about today. "Well. Nova, this is the werewolf Elias, the vampire Lincoln, the fae Nicole and the witch Celine." Wesley introduced me.

"It's nice to finally meet you." I said.

"Have you heard of us?" Elias asked.

"Everyone had heard of the supernatural council. But it was just all talk. I don't know anything about you." I said. "Good. That's the way we like to keep it." Lincoln said. And they all seemed to relax back into their chairs.

"So, you call your father by his first name?" Nicole asked.

"I've only known him for a very short time. Weeks. It feels a little strange calling him dad." I said.

"I can imagine. But it's still very disrespectful." Celine said.

"With all due respect, I disagree." I said. And Wesley elbowed me for speaking to a council member like that.

"It's alright Wesley. She's allowed to speak her mind." Elias said.

"You have three mates. Is that correct?" Celine asked.

"Yes. They're identical triplets." I said.

1/5

CHAPTER 68

They all gave each other a look before they looked back at me. All their eyes are boring into me, trying to make me feel very uncomfortable.

"I don't mean to be rude. Believe me. But I don't know what I'm doing here." I said.

"Well, that's because your father contacted us and told us what you were. You are the first of your kind and that wasn't something that we could just let slide." Lincoln said.

"What are you talking about?" I asked.

"We know what each species can do individually. But we don't know what a person can do when all of those species are mixed in together." He said. And I chuckled.

"I can do some pretty impressive s**t. That much I can tell you." I said.

"Nova. This isn't a joke." Wesley scolded me.

I looked around the room once more and I saw paintings all around the room again. But these were portraits that were painted of the council. But the council members were different in all of the pictures. "Why is Lincoln the only consistent person in these portraits?" I asked.

"Because I'm immortal and I can't die. All of the other council members are dead." Lincoln said. And I nodded my head.

That made sense. He's been on the council the longest. That's why he had the largest seat and right in the middle.

He wanted people to know that he was in charge without actually telling them that he was in charge.

I looked back at Wesley and his expression had changed while looking at me. He wasn't smiling anymore. He was a lot more serious and he was looking at me with a wicked glint in his eye.

"What's going on Wesley?" I asked.

He then turned to look at the council and studied them for a moment.

"What do you think?" Wesley asked.

"I can feel her power from here. She's going to be a handful." Celine said.

"We already knew that before she got here." Elias said.

"What are you talking about? I was tasked to go to Alaska and protect the triplets." I said.

"That's just the bullshit that Ava fed you." Wesley said.

2/5

CHAPTER 68

"Excuse me? I'm not meant to protect them?" I asked.

Wesley stood up and moved away from me and at the same time doors opened behind me and on either side of the walls beside me, letting in a lot of warriors.

"Wesley. What the hell?" I asked, standing up.

"Ava wanted you in Alaska. She wanted you to die while protecting the triplets. And then they would be broken without their mate and her daughter was going to glide in as the next Luna. That's all Ava cares about. To make sure that brat takes over the pack." Wesley said, stepping away from me.

I stood up from the chair and looked around at the warriors that were surrounding the whole room and then I turned back to the council.

"You can feel my power Celine?" I asked.

"That's right." She said.

"Then you should know that not even this many men can stop me." I said.

Wesley walked in front of me but now he was standing closer to the council and he had a wicked smirk on his face.

I started laughing at him and he looked at me really confused.

"You set me up. You're going to give me to the council? How the hell were you planning on getting rid of the council? I mean, that's what you told Camila, isn't it? That you were going to take over the supernatural council?" I asked. "How the hell do you know that?" He growled at me.

"Because you were stupid enough to underestimate me." I said.

But then he looked at the warrior that was standing to the left of me. He looked like he was the one in charge.

He nodded at that warrior and suddenly they were all surrounding myself and the council.

My dad had their own warriors in his back pocket and that's how he planned to overthrow them.

He was really going to literally get rid of them. Kill them.

"So, you're going to kill me and say that the council did it and then claim that you had to kill the council while you were trying to protect me." I said.

"You are smarter than I gave you credit for." Wesley said.

CHAPTER 68

"I'm a hell of a lot smarter than you gave me credit for. I can't believe you actually thought this little plan of yours would work." I said.

"Look around you. It already has worked." He yelled.

But then the door opened again and I forced the warriors to step aside without even touching them and Lexie walked in wearing thick leather gloves while holding a silver blade to Camila's neck. "What the f**k?" Wesley yelled.

I then walked forward to Camila and I looked her straight in the eye before I turned around to face Wesley and I placed my hand on her chest.

"Give me one good reason why I shouldn't end her right now?" I asked.

Wesley jumped and wanted to run to Camila but he knew that it was a death wish if he made any sudden movements.

I stumbled backwards onto the platform that the council members were on and they were all out of their seats now too.

"Please? Don't hurt her?" Wesley pleaded.

"Why not? You were going to kill me. Your own f*****g daughter." I said.

Wesley stood there staring at Camila with wide eyes and I looked at him for a moment before I raised my other hand and I placed it on the chest of the warrior that was right next to me.

He instantly started screaming as he burnt from the inside out. But it was a domino effect.

Once he started burning then so did the warrior beside him until they were all dead on the ground.

"You assholes know how dangerous I can be and yet you still thought it was a good idea to piss me off?" I asked.

"You can't hurt us. We're the supernatural council." Lincoln yelled.

Celine stepped forward and I stood in front of Lexie and Camila, but mostly to protect Lexie.

I knew that she was going to try and stop me, but she was going to try pretty damn hard. I wasn't giving up this fight for anything in the world.

Fighter 69

CHAPTER 69

As soon as Celine got close enough I raised my head and stared straight into her eyes, seeing inside her soul.

You can tell a lot from a person's soul. Especially, what they are most afraid of.

And holy water seemed to be a great fear of hers. Probably because it is known to protect people from curses.

Suddenly she started screaming as water started rushing into the room from behind her.

Elias started screaming and hiding behind his throne to dodge the silver knives being thrown at him.

Lincoln was trying to put out the fire that had caught on to his clothes and Nicole started dodging the dragon that was attacking her.

"What's going on?" Lexie asked.

"I'm just making them realize their greatest fears." I said.

"No offense, but after this, I think you might be their greatest fear." Lexie said.

"That's the point." I said, keeping my concentration focused on the council.

Wesley stood back in shock as the council members were all dodging imaginary fears when I focused my eyes on him.

"What are you going to do?" Wesley asked.

"I'm going to make you sorry that you ever f****d with me, dick." I said.

"Are you still alright to transport them back to the pack?" Lexie asked.

"Yeah. Can you get Camila back there?" I asked.

"As long as she doesn't know where her daughter is, she'll do as she's told."

"You took her daughter?" I said.

"I might have had some help." Lexie smirked at me.

So I walked towards the platform and Wesley backed away and got closer to the supernatural council who were still screaming and trying to get away from their imaginary fears. But as long as they were all on the platform then that's all I needed.

I raised my arms and a shield appeared around the platform and I pictured where I needed to go before I spoke the latin words.

1/4

CHAPTER 69

And suddenly the whole platform was in the middle of the woods in Alaska.

The council members finally stopped screaming as their fears were no longer attacking them, but they were all surrounded.

Surrounded by the triplets and the warriors of their pack.

"What the hell did you just do?" Wesley asked, looking around.

"It's called teleportation. It's a pretty neat trick, isn't it?" I asked.

Koda walked up onto the platform and he punched Wesley across the face and threw him into the warriors.

"Throw him in the dungeon." Koda ordered.

"He'll have to be let out again before she gets back." I said, referring to Ava.

The guys knew who I was talking about but no one else did. We hadn't told them about her part in all of this yet.

"I know. We'll deal with that a little later on." Dean said.

"Have you got the cell's ready for them?" I asked.

"Yeah. One for a werewolf, one for a vampire, one for a fae and one for a witch. We followed your instructions completely." Tyler said.

"Good." I said.

I walked off the platform and Alpha Grayson was standing at the front of the warriors.

"If I knew that he was going to hand you over to the supernatural council then I never would have let him stay here. I never would have let him near you." Grayson said.

"I know that, Alpha. But it's fine. This needed to play out." I said.

"What are we going to do about the council? I mean, people are going to realize that they're missing." Koda said.

"I've got it covered. They've been called overseas on emergency business that couldn't wait." I said.

"You did think of everything."

"I've been thinking about it for a while now. What about the army that was coming here from Wesley's pack?" I asked.

CHAPTER 69

"We intercepted most of them before they even reached our pack. The rest that got through had a whole heap of allies waiting for them at our border. He didn't send enough men." Koda said. I shook my head.

"He was basing the attack on how many warriors he's seen around the pack. He didn't think you had any allies. He's great at underestimating people. Just because he wears $3000 suits, doesn't mean he's smarter than everyone else." I said.

"What about Lexie?" Walker asked.

"She's flying back with Camila. And I believe Camila's daughter is being held somewhere by someone else. I'm not sure who though." I said, looking at him strangely.

He looked relieved when I said that and then he saw me looking at him. So he quickly composed himself and he walked away.

We all walked back into town and I called Lexie to make sure that she made it to the private plane on time and she said that she would be arriving back at the pack by tonight.

I went to see the cell's that the council members were being kept in. They were all coated with that species kryptonite and I looked at how pathetic they all looked right now.

A lot different to the people who were choosing my fate earlier this morning.

Deciding that I was too dangerous to let live.

"You can't keep us here forever." Lincoln said.

"Wanna bet. No one knows that you're here."

"Our building has security cameras all the way through it. The warriors will find out."
Nicole

snapped.

"Are you sure about that?" I asked.

"What?"

"Are you sure that the cameras were in perfect working order while I was there? You know, technology can be so touchy these days." I smirked at her.

That's when they realized that no one would be able to find out who the hell I was because we never gave the front desk my name, only Wesley's and Lexie was going to take care of that for And there was no video proof that I was ever there.

"What are we going to do with them?" Tyler asked as the triplets lined up behind me.

CHAPTER 70

Izzy stood in the living room tapping her high heels on the floor with her arms crossed waiting for us to answer her as she was getting angrier and angrier. "Well, this was fun. Not. I'll see ya later." I said, turning around and leaving.

I went straight for the front door and walked outside and down to my house. But when I went inside, I knew that there was someone inside.

I opened the door cautiously and I saw a teenage girl sitting on the couch, looking really upset.

So I opened the door even wider and Jacob was standing on the other side of the room with his arms crossed, keeping an eye on her.

"Please? Help me. He's kidnapped me." She pleaded.

"Did you tell your mother any of this?" I asked.

"No. You asked me not to." Jacob said.

"Good." I said, closing the door behind me.

"Who the hell are you people?" She asked.

"Nova. And you?" I asked.

"You're Wesley's daughter?" She asked, surprised.

"That's right. And I think we need to have a nice little chat." I said, sitting on the chair on the other side of the room.

Jacob sat at the table and she looked between us, wondering how much trouble she was in right now. And if she could make a run for it.

"I wouldn't advise trying to run from me. I'll find you. No matter where you go." I said.

"How the hell did you know what I was thinking?" She asked.

"Because I'm f*****g psychic." I said. And she cowered back into the chair.

Jacob tried to hide his smile, but he wasn't doing a very good job of it.

"Alright. Here's the deal. Wesley just tried to have me killed. And then he was planning on taking over the supernatural council. I'm sure that you're aware of that. I had you kidnapped so your mother would comply and then she was kidnapped and used against Wesley so he couldn't kill me. Do you understand?" I asked.

"I think so." She said.

"Good. Now get comfortable in Alaska, sweetie. Because you're not going anywhere for a long time." I said.

"I didn't do anything."

"You're a b***h and you wanted me dead so I wouldn't take over Wesley's pack when he stepped down. I'm his oldest, so his pack does rightfully belong to me. You're not related to him." I said. "He treats me like a daughter."

"Yeah. Well, I treat him like a sperm donor. And I think even less of you and your mother. So, don't piss me off. Or I'll be forced to hurt you. And don't think I won't. I heard the conversations that Wesley had on the phone before we went to New York. You're just as bad as your mother and a few less wolves like you in the world is better for the rest of us." I said.

I got up and I walked to the kitchen to get a coffee and I stood in the kitchen, staring at Rory.

She wasn't tied up or anything. But she had me and Jacob in the house that she would need to get past. And that wouldn't be easy.

"What are we going to do with her?" Jacob asked.

"Her mother will be here this afternoon. I think it might be best to keep them all separated." I said.

"There's a dungeon under my house."

"I can't risk your parents or Izzy finding her." I said.

"What do you suggest?"

"I have a basement. I just have to clean out the soundproof shooting range." I said.

"Yeah. That'll work." Jacob said.

"You're not going to let me see my parents?" Rory asked. And I glared at her when she said parents.

Her and her perfect f*****g parents. The father that created me and abandoned me to raise someone else's kid.

What a f*****g joke?

"Be thankful that I don't keep you chained up like a f*****g dog." I snapped walking towards the basement and I went downstairs.

CHAPTER 70

I started clearing everything out of the shooting range and we moved the single bed from the spare bedroom into that room as well as a makeshift toilet and sink.

I was able to get that done by the afternoon but I had to run out to get a lock.

I installed that on the door and then I dragged Rory downstairs and I locked her in the basement.

As soon as I closed the door to the shooting range, she started screaming and carrying on but I couldn't hear her when I was on the outside.

So I went back upstairs and Lexie messaged me saying that she was just getting back to town with Camila.

The guys were going to collect Camila and put her in the dungeon under the packhouse but she wasn't going to see Wesley at all.

We made sure that Wesley was taken back to his hotel room before Camila was taken to the dungeon.

Wesley was also given a list of instructions to follow. And the main one was not to call Ava and tell her anything.

Ava was to remain in the dark about this whole situation.

I had one under control and now I just had to figure out what the hell I was going to do about the other.

I guess I will have to deal with that when the time comes.

I went out to the patio with a coffee and my laptop when I heard yelling down the street and Izzy was storming out of the packhouse while Tyler walked out behind her.

He wasn't trying to stop her from going off, he wasn't saying anything to her little temper tantrum. He just stood there watching her and when she finally left to go back to her house he sat on the patio looking at me.

"The guys know what we did in the woods. I think they're a little pissed at me." Tyler said through my mind.

"Well, I'm not surprised by that. It wasn't really planned." I said.

"I know. But having Izzy around is making them more irritable."

"Can you control them? We can't have them say or do anything that will alert Ava."

"Don't worry. They know that. They won't say anything." He said.

CHAPTER 70

A car then pulled up in my driveway and Lexie got out of the driver's seat and Camila got out of the passenger side. "Where's my daughter?" Camila asked.

"Reasonably safe. For now." I said.

"What the hell do you want from me?" She asked.

I saw Tyler go back inside the packhouse and when I got the message I walked her to their house and we went inside.

The Alpha was there to greet her and let her know that she would be staying in the dungeon for the time being.

She could smell Wesley's scent, but we made sure that they weren't near each other and Koda forced her down to the dungeon and locked her away before Wesley was allowed to come out from where he was.

"What's going to happen now?" Wesley asked.

"You're going to go back to the hotel and make sure that everything looks normal. You're going to make sure that no one tries to attack this pack. And remember. I will be listening." I said.

He looked around at the Alpha and the triplets and hesitantly nodded his head.

So we let him walk out of the packhouse and he started walking down the road.

"I think I need one hell of an explanation now." Alpha Grayson said.

We all turned to look at him and I looked at the triplets who were all looking a little concerned. But we knew that with everything that was going on right now, he needed to know everything about Ava. He needed to know who his Beta was mated to and he needed to find out if his Beta was involved in it. Even if that man was Grayson's best friend who he grew up with and trusted with his life.
