Chapter 10 [The wealth password is back]

The next day, Friday 25 July.

At around 8:30 in the morning, Fang Hong came to this Internet cafe again after a week.

Half an hour ago, Cao Chenghui had already come to the Internet cafe early. Seeing the boss appearing at this time, he was also very excited. Seeing the boss coming, Cao Chenghui said repeatedly in his heart: "The wealth code is back..."

Fortunately, I contacted the boss yesterday. If it was a few days later, by the time the boss had returned to his hometown, the opportunity to get rich would have slipped away.

As Fang Hong sat down on the machine next to him, Cao Chenghui immediately chatted with him, and said directly after a few words: "Brother, what is your bank card number? I will transfer the money to you."

Fang Hong was not hypocritical, nodded, and promised to let him copy his homework during this time, and take him to try to taste the sweetness. It is a quiet routine, Cao Chenghui, to obtain leveraged funds from him, and he must be willing to offer superior.

Cao Chenghui handed him a pen and a piece of paper that he had prepared, and Fang Hong took it and immediately wrote down the account number and name of the depositary bank card linked to the securities account on the paper.

After a while, when Cao Chenghui saw that Fang Hong wrote the word "IOU" in the blank space below the note, he immediately grabbed the pen and paper and said, "Hey brother, this is unnecessary, there is no need."

Fang Hong, who had his paper and pen taken away, looked at Cao Chenghui and said, "Are you sure?"

Cao Chenghui's move was obviously a bold move to win the favor of the boss, and Fang Hong knew this well.

But if it was Fang Hong, he would never do this kind of operation.

There are many ways to achieve the goal, such as Cao Chenghui's irrational behavior, in the consideration of risks and benefits, this kind of emotional behavior is risky.

If Fang Hong took the money and ran away, or refused to accept the account, then Cao Chenghui's money would be in vain. You must know that he has not even figured out where Fang Hong lives now, what school he goes to and other information.

"Haha, of course, this kind of trivial matter doesn't need to be so troublesome, how can I value such a small amount of money with my brother's ability." Cao Chenghui laughed and said: "Let's not talk about it, the market is about to open, I will send money to you first. "

As soon as the words fell, Cao Chenghui got up and left the Internet cafe to send him money.

About half an hour later, Fang Hong received a text message reminding him that 60,000 yuan had been remitted to his bank account. Cao Chenghui completed the inter-bank transfer and sent him 60,000 yuan.

At around 9:20, Cao Chenghui returned to the Internet cafe in a hurry, out of breath, obviously running all the way here. At this time, five minutes had passed since the big A call for bidding.

Cao Chenghui sat down in his seat and asked, "Brother, did you get the bill?"

Fang Hong nodded, and said concisely: "Yes, thank you."

Cao Chenghui smiled happily, and quickly logged into the market software, and remitted 60,000 yuan to Fang Hong. The money was transferred from his own securities account. There is still 75,000 yuan left in his current account, which was 100,000 yuan before. 10,000 yuan in principal, and then followed the boss to copy homework and earned more than 30,000 yuan in three days.

At this time, Fang Hong had already transferred 60,000 yuan from the depository bank card to the securities account. There was 17,500 yuan in the account before. Adding this new liquidity, the operable funds reached 77,500 yuan.

Time passed by every minute and every second, Cao Chenghui was gearing up, his stud heart was already restless.

With the call auction results coming out, today's market index directly opened lower by more than 1 percentage point. It just stood at 2910 points yesterday, and today the direct call auction fell below the 2900 point mark.

But with the boss around, Cao Chenghui doesn't care about how the market goes, as long as he hugs the big guy's thick legs, every day is a bull market, and getting rich is just around the corner.

"That's what I'm going to do today." Fang Hong looked at the time-sharing of a stock on the screen and said, while Cao Chenghui glanced at his computer screen, and then immediately entered the transaction code on his computer's market software: 000798 (China Water Fish Industry).

This target opened +2.82% higher at a price of 6.20 yuan per share today. During the bull market last year, this stock hit a historical high of 11.78 yuan, and then fell to 4.01 yuan in June this year. The market for two consecutive boards has been broken.

The market opened at 9:30. After the opening of this ticket, it stepped back slightly to the price of 6.15 yuan in the previous minute. At this time, Fang Hong resolutely bought the full position and completed all transactions at the price of 6.15 yuan.

One minute after the opening of the market, this stock quickly sold 6.35 million yuan, which was sufficient in the early trading.

Cao Chenghui saw that it was also a stud, and he went in with a full warehouse. Because of the rapid rise after stepping back, his average transaction price was higher than Fang Hong's, and he was sold at a price of 6.21 yuan.

Not long after the transaction was completed, the time-sharing chart of this stock started a three-stage upward attack. The first stage quickly rose to the price of 6.42 yuan ten minutes after the opening of the market, an increase of more than 6 percentage points, and then made a step back.

At about 10 o'clock, the time-sharing line ended and went up again, the height also exceeded the previous peak, and the increase expanded to 9 percentage points, and then stepped back again by about 3 points.

At around 10:30, the time-sharing line of Zhongshui Fish Industry launched the third attack wave, and this section rose directly and reached the daily limit price of 6.63 yuan.

"The daily limit is up, the second entry and the third board are successful!" Cao Chenghui said quite excitedly.

"Tomorrow there should be a premium of 1 board." Fang Hongyan said succinctly, and immediately glanced at his position.

[Target held: Zhongshui Fishery (000798)]

【Number of shares held: 12600 shares】

[Average transaction price: 6.15 yuan]

[Current market price: 6.63 yuan]

[Market value of positions: 83538 yuan]

[Profit and loss of the day: +6048 yuan (+7.80%)]

[Floating profit and loss: +6048 yuan (+7.80%)]

[Total assets: 83623.18 yuan]

【Cumulative income: +21.81%】

Judging from the position data, the cumulative rate of return has changed from the previous doubled return to the current 21 points. This is because the account has added a principal of 60,000 yuan.

Fang Hong doesn't care about the rate of return, but the absolute return is the key point. With the new principal of 60,000 yuan, the profit amount is obviously several times faster than before.

Cao Chenghui, who copied his homework, made almost the same money as Fang Hong today, because his current funds were basically the same as Fang Hong's.

"Down."

Fang Hongyan said succinctly, there is no position after buying, so there is no need to look at it, just wait for the market to open tomorrow.

Exited the market software and got off the plane at the same time.

Next is the weekend weekend, and the opening time of the next trading day will have to wait two days later.

...

After the weekend weekend, A shares opened as scheduled on Monday, July 28.

The stock of Zhongshui Fish Industry was suspended for an hour at the opening of the market today, and trading resumed at 10:30. When trading resumed, the stock price plummeted rapidly.

However, Fang Hong didn't care about it, but stared at Zhongshui Fish's handicap while starting to scan the market to find new targets to sell today.

At around 11:07, Zhongshui Yuye's estimate hit 7.29 yuan to close the daily limit. Fang Hong immediately cut to the time-sharing board of this ticket and said, "The board is all out."
