

MY FINTECH EMPIRE

Chapter 13 [Money-making machine with no emotions]

After buying Yue Media, the stock fluctuated all the way up in the early trading, and at around 10:40, the stock price began to accelerate its upward trend on a time-sharing basis.

At 11:05, Yue Media hit the daily limit price of 12.10 yuan for the first time, but it was not blocked, but it did not dive, but competed near the daily limit price.

In the end, the long and short sides played the game for 15 minutes, and the bulls won, and the stock price completely closed the daily limit at 11:20.

At the end of the trading day, a huge amount suddenly burst out, and the market exploded for a while, but in the end, the market was closed without any risk.

It is worth mentioning that Fang Hong got off the plane after buying the stock of Yue Media at around 9:30 in the morning. This is one of the things Cao Chenghui admires about him.

The boss is really too confident, he buys every time and doesn't pay attention, but he has the confidence that he is in control.

Fang Hong also has a new label in Cao Chenghui's mind: a money-making machine with no emotions!

In Cao Chenghui's eyes, Fang Hong is definitely a money-making machine with no emotions. It didn't seem to cause the slightest fluctuation in his mood.

What is this other than a ruthless money-making machine?

Perhaps, this is the boss!

...

Fang Hong left the Internet cafe and ran for more than half an hour on the school playground when he returned to school.

During these days during the summer vacation, he basically lived a life of two points and one line. He went to the Internet cafe on time every day to operate the stock account, and completed an intraday change of hands, that is, selling the target that he intervened in and held yesterday, and then chose another target Re-intervene, then disembark and leave.

It's no wonder that Cao Chenghui, who followed him to copy his homework, regarded him as a money-making machine with no emotions.

It is still on summer vacation, and several roommates are not there.

As for his hometown, Fang Hong called his cheap parents and lied that he would not go home because he was doing summer work outside, and then he basically didn't take the initiative to contact him.

In fact, Fang Hong never thought that he was telling a lie, but spoke the right words.

In his worldview, there are only proper words and inappropriate words, and there is never such a thing as lie or truth.

Tell the truth, it hurts!

If you tell the truth to the cheap parents in your hometown, it will inevitably cause them unnecessary worries. If you say that you are doing summer jobs outside, then they will not worry, and they can do their own things smoothly.

Such a statement is obviously the most appropriate.

Fang Hong didn't have any feelings for his hometown, but by inheriting this body, he also inherited all the causes and effects based on the identity of the original owner.

The original owner's parents, Fang Hong, naturally accept it out of emotion and reason, otherwise they will suffer a blow to their prestige due to unfilial piety in the present. Although they have no emotional foundation for them, as a son, there must be some filial piety and responsibility that should be fulfilled. No less.

It is worth mentioning that, by retrieving the memory information of the original owner, it is also learned that the original owner has a girlfriend who has been dating for almost a year in school.

The girlfriend who is dating the original owner is called Lin Ruoshui. Fang Hong retrieved the images from the original owner's memory. Lin Ruoshui is a beautiful beauty. The original owner was able to get a beautiful woman to be his girlfriend. To a large extent, he was also tall and handsome, and his appearance was quite good.

However, during this time, Lin Ruoshui did not contact Fang Hong. By retrieving the memory information of the original owner, Fang Hong learned that the two were having conflicts and were in the cold war stage.

It seems that they are waiting for the other party to compromise and take the initiative to contact.

But at this time, Fang Hong is absolutely impossible to take the initiative to contact. The current owner is not Fang Hong, the original owner. He is not interested in this cheap girlfriend, and has no emotional basis.

The most important thing is that the owner of this body is a top boss in the financial world, and now Fang Hong is a person who will never be swayed by factors such as emotions.

Fang Hong, who plays in the financial circle and stands at the top of the pyramid in this field, has no so-called black and white right and wrong in his eyes, only the consideration of risks and benefits, rational and irrational choices.

And Fang Hong is an almost absolutely rational person. In front of such a person, feelings can't even reach the weight factor of 1%.

If Lin Ruoshui didn't contact him, Fang Hong wouldn't contact her either. Everything came naturally.

I have a lot of things to do.

...

After the time came to 11:30, Fang Hong returned to the dormitory, took a shower and changed into clean clothes, and then made a bucket of instant noodles to simply solve the lunch problem.

Fang Hong is a person who can go from being frugal to extravagant, and from extravagant to frugal. He can live off delicacies from mountains and seas as well as instant noodles.

After a simple lunch, Fang Hong stayed alone in dormitory 303, and began to think about the next plan.

He moved a stool and sat down at the desk next to him, and took out a notebook, opened a few pages to a blank page, and picked up a pen.

Sitting in front of the desk, Fang Hong didn't say a word, and after thinking for a while, he wrote four words in the notebook first:

【Stars Capital】

Fang Hong's next plan is to set up an investment company first, and the name of the company will be Qunxing Capital, which means that the companies it invests in are as numerous as the stars and shine like the stars.

After confirming the name of the company, Fang Hong wrote the words "articles of association" again.

The company's articles of association are to a company what a country is to its constitution. Next, Fang Hong began to draw up a series of company articles of association and system, and carried out the top-level design of Qunxing Capital.

To formulate the company's articles of association, shareholders' agreement, and improve the top-level design, Fang Hong basically does not need to hire a professional lawyer to help him. He can easily handle it by himself. It can even be said that most lawyers in China are not as professional as Fang Hong .

The top-level design of Qunxing Capital adopts a limited partnership structure.

According to the "Partnership Enterprise Law", partnership enterprises are divided into general partnership enterprises and limited partnership enterprises. The difference between a limited partnership and a general partnership is that, in addition to the general partner (General-Partner, referred to as "GP"), it also includes limited partners (Limited-Partner, referred to as "LP").

A limited partnership needs to be established by two to fifty partners, at least one of whom must be a general partner.

In a limited partnership, the general partner (GP) bears unlimited joint liability for the debts of the partnership, and the limited partner (LP) bears the liability for the debts of the partnership with a limited amount of capital contribution.

Because the general partner bears unlimited joint and several liability, the general partner executes the partnership affairs.

That is, the general partner holds absolute control over the limited partnership, and this has nothing to do with how much equity the general partner holds.

Even if he holds 0.1% of the company's equity, the general partner GP also has absolute control over the limited partnership. .

The limited partnership structure has achieved the separation of money and rights, and the division of shares without separation of powers.

In other words, Fang Hong, through the mechanism of limited partnership in the top-level design of the company, can truly achieve the state that even if the world does not belong to me, all the world belongs to me.

...