

MY FINTECH EMPIRE

Chapter 2 [Is the price limit really high? That kid has something]

Fang Hong chose a ticket on the main board of the Shanghai Stock Exchange. After buying the whole position, the big A also closed, and immediately switched the interface to look at the position information.

【Position target: Xinhujin (600735)】

【Number of shares held: 1700 shares】

[Average transaction price: 4.91 yuan]

[Current market price: 4.96 yuan]

[Market value of positions: 8432 yuan]

[Profit and loss of the day: -852.02 yuan (-9.79%)]

[Floating profit and loss: +85 yuan (+1.01%)]

The market value of the positions shows that the loss of more than 800 yuan on that day is due to the sharp drop in losses of the three stocks owned by the original owner today, while the floating profit and loss is the Xinhujin that Fang Hong just bought, which is almost copied at the current lowest point of the whole day. With a profit of about 1 percentage point, Fang Hong can basically confirm that this price is at the lowest point of the whole day today.

The buddy next to him turned on the battle platform. He was playing the real-time strategy game "StarCraft" in 3V3 mode.

While waiting for other players to come in, he glanced at Fang Hong next to him and couldn't help but said: "Brother, you are also brave, why would you buy this kind of ticket? You are also directly full of Stud, and the lowest plummeted from more than 17 yuan to 3.9 yuan. It fell by 77 percentage points, and now it's just a reverse draw, you didn't see the previous 30-day moving average suppression, your buying logic is to bet on this breakthrough?"

Fang Hong smiled, and said with a simple analysis: "It can be regarded as a breakthrough in gambling. The logic is to look at technical analysis, volume and price analysis. Not surprisingly, the trading funds of this ticket will be pulled in the late trading, attracting a large number of short-term experts. Tomorrow there is an expectation of connecting the board, and this wave of rebound can see about 7 yuan, depending on the market sentiment, I am optimistic that it will be over directly, and we will talk about it when we grab the first move."

The buddy hesitated to speak, Fang Hong spoke clearly and professionally, and he wanted to refute a few words, but he held back. At this time, his game had already started, so he began to focus on the game battle.

And Fang Hong also closed the market software and got off the plane directly, left the Internet cafe and went back to school.

Xincheng University has just had its summer vacation, but Fang Hong does not plan to go back to his hometown, and will spend this summer vacation in Xincheng.

After entering the university, he went straight to the 303 dormitory where he was. Fang Hong didn't have much money in his hands now, otherwise he would definitely live outside. If he didn't go home during the summer vacation, he would have to apply for a stay

He doesn't want to touch the money in the securities account, the principal is not much, and the debt of 330,000 to the former will be dealt with in two months, which is almost after the summer vacation.

Earning 330,000 yuan with 8,700 yuan means that the rate of return has to be increased by 37 times during this summer vacation. Basically, it is possible to do so every day with a daily limit.

However, the problem is not big, Fang Hong has this confidence.

He is alone in dormitory 303, and the other roommates have all gone back. There are six people in this dormitory including Fang Hong.

According to the memory information of the original owner, the other five roommates are named Sun Xin, Lou Gaoyuan, Xu Jingren, Yuan Jie, and Wang Ping.

This university is not a 985 or 211 university, but a university, not as good as 985 or 211 but not too bad.

In fact, the original owner's grades are not bad, he majored in computer science, and several roommates are also top students in the school. Fang Hong retrieved the memory information of the original owner and learned that these roommates are quite ideal. He hopes to jointly start a company after graduation. technology company.

At this time, Fang Hong sat on his bed and said to himself: "It's July 2008. Last year, Jobs launched the first-generation iPhone at the Apple conference. That amazing slide unlocked the world. opened the door of the mobile Internet era, and the launch of the iPhone 4 two years later officially kicked off the surging tide of the mobile Internet..."

Fang Hong had a thought, and the interface of the "Social Fame System" appeared in front of his eyes. After thinking for a moment, he made a decision, nodded secretly: "We must seize the trend of this era of mobile Internet and become the godfather of the mobile Internet. It will inevitably greatly improve the reputation and influence."

How to do it will be decided soon.

Wang Ping and Xu Jingren, the roommates, want to start a business together. Their majors should also be engaged in Internet business.

That's right!

Fang Hong's strategy is to be their boss, play the role of Bo Le, and not end himself, but invest in them and guide the general direction of the times for them.

Xu Jingren and his young college students, in front of Fang Hong, a super financial crocodile who has been in the turbulent capital market for decades, are as pure as a few white rabbits. Prestige comes easily.

At the same time, with Fang Hong sitting in charge as the big boss, the achievements made by the few of them will definitely not be eaten by others.

"When school starts, let them start their own businesses while studying, and I will provide the funds." Fang Hong thought, and immediately nodded to himself. A general strategy has begun to take shape in his mind.

The focus now is to make money, and the start-up funds for starting a business must be prepared. Xu Jingren and the others have no money, so Fang Hong can only rely on Fang Hong to solve the problem of funds.

And Fang Hong wants to solve the funds, so he naturally "withdraws" from the big A.

...

At the same time, it said that the buddy who played StarCraft in the Internet cafe, his name was Cao Chenghui, was a StarCraft fan, and he played from about ten o'clock in the morning to more than three o'clock in the afternoon.

Of course, it is also a ten-year-old leek. It entered the market around 1998, and then experienced the big bull market from 1999 to the millennium, plus this time the epic bull market that started in 2005.

But this time in the epic bull market of 6,000 points, Cao Chenghui experienced a roller coaster treatment. Last year, his net worth reached one million. Millionaires in this era are still very valuable.

It's a pity that Cao Chenghui failed to keep this wealth because of his greed. When he returned to the pre-liberation during this year's plunge, the only thing that made him feel lucky was that he reached 4,000 points in the market. Experts said that the opportunity to build a position in the middle line has come. There was nothing to fall, so the idea of selling the house to buy the bottom came up. In the end, it was his wife who threatened him with divorce before letting him give up.

Looking back now, Cao Chenghui is extremely thankful that his wife's threat made him rein in the precipice, otherwise his wife and children would be separated now.

However, although Cao Chenghui cursed at Big A, he still played Big A secretly without telling his wife. Of course, he can only play with private money now.

At this time, Cao Chenghui, who was about to get off the plane, suddenly thought of Fang Hong in the morning, and immediately murmured: "The kid said everything well, I remember he seemed to say that the tickets he bought should have a price limit in the afternoon, I want to see if the real price limit is true. "

Cao Chenghui immediately opened the search engine, entered the PC web version of the stock quotes, thought for a while and muttered to himself: "What is the name of the ticket... What is the salary... Oh yes, it is called Xinhuajin!" Immediately enter the stock name and hit the Enter key.

After a while, the time-sharing chart of Xinhua jin jumped out, and the data showed that the stock rose +10.08% to close the daily limit at the closing price of 5.46 yuan per share today.

Seeing the time-sharing chart of the daily limit, Cao Chenghui said in astonishment, "Damn it? Is it really the daily limit? That kid has something."

...

(Ps: Please recommend, collect~)