

MY FINTECH EMPIRE

Chapter 6 [Fortune is coming and you can't stop it (ask for tickets, please collect)]

Not long after Fang Hong returned to the school dormitory, a notification sound came from his mobile phone QQ. His current mobile phone is a feature phone with 30M data per month, and the function of mobile QQ is also very simple.

It is worth mentioning that smart phones have not yet been rolled out in the country. The real explosion of smart phones came three years later when the Xiaomi mobile phone was born. Its affordable price allowed the rapid expansion of smart phones in China.

In any case, Rebs' Xiaomi mobile phone has made an indelible contribution to promoting the development of the domestic mobile Internet.

Fang Hong glanced at the QQ message on his mobile phone, and it was a message from Cao Chenghui: [Brother, something big happened. The Dinghai Seed Industry just made an announcement that it will revise the performance forecast for the first half of the year. It will suspend trading for an hour in the afternoon. It feels like we are stepping on a thunderbolt. up]

At this moment, Cao Chenghui was panicked to death.

Seeing the news, Fang Hong quickly edited the message and replied: [Have you read the content of the announcement?]

Cao Chenghui replied quickly: [Haven't watched it yet, I dare not watch it...(Frightened.jpg)]

Fang Hong couldn't laugh or cry when he saw this news, and at the same time edited the text to reply: [Let's read the announcement first, what is the revised performance? I'm outside, so it's inconvenient to check on my phone.]

In fact, in the dormitory, because there is no computer.

As a top boss in the financial circle, telling lies is the most basic skill. Fang Hong is the kind who will never disclose his real information to others unless necessary. habit.

At the same time, Cao Chenghui in the Internet cafe saw Fang Hong's reply, so he mustered up the courage to click on the content of the announcement. After browsing through it, he was stunned.

It's not as bad as expected, it seems to be better.

Cao Chenghui, who came back to his senses, immediately copied and sent the content of the announcement:

[The net profit attributable to the owners of the parent company disclosed in the previous performance forecast is expected to increase by 80%~110% compared with the same period of the previous year, and the revised estimated performance of the net profit attributable to the owners of the parent company will increase by 520%~ 550%... Brother, what about this revised performance?]

Fang Hong glanced at the message and replied immediately: [Resumption of trading straight up to the daily limit, wait to get rich]

After replying to this message, Fang Hong thought for a second, then quickly edited a few words and sent it: [Do not disturb unless necessary]

Fang Hong sent these five words in order to create a cold image of himself in Cao Chenghui's eyes. It was necessary to do so, lest that buddy keep asking questions all day long.

That must be annoying to death?

In this way, Cao Chenghui would be afraid of arousing Fang Hong's dislike, so he would not dare to disturb him easily.

Save clean.

On the other hand, Cao Chenghui, who was still in the Internet cafe, saw the news from the boss, and his panic was instantly comforted. However, when he saw the latest news from the boss, he immediately realized that Fang Hong's character was not good enough. I like to be disturbed too much.

"Try to disturb this boss as little as possible in the future." Cao Chenghui secretly decided that Fang Hong was already a code of wealth in his eyes, and he wished he could be the kind that his ancestors raised.

As time passed by every minute and every second, Cao Chenghui neither got off the plane nor played the game, but waited for the resumption of trading in Dinghai Seed Industry at 14 o'clock. After all, he was really stud.

Now greed and fear are fighting fiercely in the brain at the same time, constantly stimulating his dopamine secretion, and constantly raising the threshold.

Finally, the time came to exactly 14:00, and Dinghai Seed resumed trading after an hour of trading suspension in the afternoon.

Cao Chenghui also stared intently at the time-sharing chart of this stock.

Up!

And it's soaring!

Sure enough, as expected by the boss, the resumption of cards was a straight line!

Cao Chenghui stared at the curve of the time-sharing chart on the screen, which was almost vertically upward. He was so excited that he stared at the screen, and kept saying, "Limit up! Limit up! Hurry up!"

At this time, the time-sharing line of Denghai Seed Industry is also accompanied by a surge in volume and turnover rate when it goes up.

One minute, two minutes, three minutes... until about 14:05, the stock price of Dinghai Seeds rose to 27.08 yuan per share, an increase of +9.99%, and the limit was closed at this minute. Exploded to more than 30 million yuan!

"Damn it, oh Janis!!"

The moment Cao Chenghui saw the daily limit closed, his whole body was excited to the highest point. This is the first time he has had a full stock stud since he played Big A for ten years. The first daily limit.

He even gambled on the daily limit of his marriage, so it was no wonder he was so excited, it was so much more exciting than playing games.

"Ten years of part-time work is still a job, and once a stud lives in the palace!" Cao Chenghui said happily.

Two minutes after Denghai Seed Industry closed the board, it exploded again, but it did not dive sharply, but was running at a high level, and it was closed again at around 14:26.

After the board was re-sealed this time, it was completely sealed, and the board was not opened again.

"It's really amazing. There are really such people in the world. It won't be long before the big A is bound to rise to a top hot money. This technology master is not so good!" After the market closed, Cao Chenghui watched the daily limit close Denghai Seed Industry, after thinking about it for a while, he couldn't help but smacked his lips.

After watching it for two days, he found that the boss's trading skills could not be learned at all. Cao Chenghui could only think of using talent to explain such an awesome short-term skill.

"It doesn't matter if you can't learn it. As long as you hang out with the big guy, relying on the big guy's superb technical level, getting rich and free is not a dream at all. You must cherish every day when you copy your homework with the big guy." Cao Chenghui couldn't help thinking about it. nod.

The more I thought about it, the happier I became, and I secretly said cheerfully: "When the fortune comes, I really can't stop it!"

At this time, Cao Chenghui could not wait to worship Fang Hong as the patriarch and God of Wealth.

After the market close, Fang Hong's stock account position data:

【Hold the target: Denghai Seed Industry (002041)】

[Number of shares held: 400 shares]

[Average transaction price: 24.43 yuan]

[Current market price: 27.08 yuan]

[Market value of positions: 9772 yuan]

...

The following day, Wednesday 16 July.

Fang Hong still came to the Internet cafe on time, and then came to the usual seat, but Cao Chenghui came earlier than him, and when he saw the boss coming, he went to the front desk to buy two bottles of water, and then handed Fang Hong a bottle.

"Yesterday I was really shocked. Brother, you have a big heart." Cao Chenghui talked and boasted. He is not speaking as loudly as before, knowing that the boss likes to keep a low profile.

Moreover, Cao Chenghui didn't want other people to know that he understood the reason why he had to be silent when he got rich.

If more people know about it, the boss will most likely not come. This kind of master is rare, and if you meet him once, you may use up the greatest luck in your life.

Nature is extremely cherished.

Yesterday, Cao Chenghui once again experienced a roller coaster-like exciting experience since the 6124 universe top of the market plummeted, and yesterday's market was also a day of plummeting. It closed down by more than 3 points within the day, but he ate a full limit limit when he followed the big guys.

At this time, Cao Chenghui was also refreshed and happy.

The market opened at 9:30, and the price of Dinghai Seed Industry opened more than 2 points higher today. Cao Chenghui, who was sitting next to him, was also gearing up, ready to follow the boss at any time. This feeling of winning money steadily is really wonderful, don't be afraid or entangled, because you know you can make money steadily.

This is a feeling that I have never experienced before, and it can be described as wonderful.
