

MY FINTECH EMPIRE

Chapter 7 [The big brother's legs are not as thick as usual]

At around 10:00 in the morning, Fang Hong suddenly said concisely: "Clear the warehouse and throw it away."

Before he finished speaking, he had already begun to clear the warehouse and withdrew, and completed the change of hands at around 10:04. The average transaction price was 28.90 yuan. At this time, the intraday increase of Dinghai Seed Industry was +6.72%.

Cao Chenghui also immediately followed up and sold all of them. The current stock price is in the stage of rushing up. The two of them currently have a small amount of funds, and it is easy to get out, and they will not cause too much fluctuation in the stock price.

After selling, Fang Hong did not choose to sell again.

After waiting for about 20 minutes, Cao Chenghui saw that Dinghai Seeds began to plunge sharply, from nearly 7 percentage points to more than 2 points now. Looking at his selling point, it was almost the highest price in the whole day.

Almost every time the boss buys at the lowest point of the day and sells at the highest point of the day, he seems to be a roundworm in the stomach of the main funds.

At this time, Cao Chenghui looked at the big brother silently, and his admiration for the big brother in his heart was like a surging river.

As time passed, Cao Chenghui saw that Fang Hong had neither sold nor scanned the market to find the target, so he said curiously: "Brother, which sector's stocks are you going to buy today?"

Fang Hong tapped the keyboard casually, entered the transaction code 600843, and said concisely: "Do this today."

Cao Chenghui couldn't help but said after seeing it: "Shanggong is promoted, tickets for the special equipment sector, what about now?"

At this time, the stock was running underwater, and the biggest intraday drop was close to 3 percentage points.

Fang Hong shook his head and said, "Don't go ahead, there's no limit."

This ticket has been up to now, and the largest one-minute volume column shows that it has only sold about 200,000 yuan. Sometimes the turnover within one minute is zero, and there is no transaction at all. Most of the time it is The transaction can be hundreds of yuan, one or two thousand yuan in one minute.

When the market was closed in the morning, Fang Hong did not make a move.

Cao Chenghui glanced at the time, and suggested accordingly: "Brother, I know there is a good restaurant, why don't you go have a meal first, anyway, the market is closed."

Fang Hong nodded.

Immediately, they logged out of the securities account, put the phone on-hook at the same time, and the two left the Internet cafe.

Cao Chenghui had already scouted where to go to the restaurant. Fang Hong nodded and took him there directly. Naturally, it was a treat for the boss.

After a while, the two entered a local restaurant, not too luxurious, but not too bad.

While waiting for the food to be served, Cao Chenghui said with a smile: "Brother, I'm curious, how did you manage to catch the price limit so accurately? It's so accurate, I was shocked."

Fang Hong said without hesitation: "It's just sweeping the plate, follow the fate, and do whatever is important first."

As soon as this remark came out, Cao Chenghui was dumbfounded for a while, and couldn't help but said in a daze: "Follow...follow fate? This...is it like this? Haven't you reviewed and analyzed these bids?"

Fang Hong immediately said: "Analysis, scan the market and analyze it by the way. As for the review, there is no review in the shortest period of the day. There is nothing to review. Basically, a glance at the market can make a general judgment."

"Uh, this..." Cao Chenghui was dumbfounded.

If it wasn't for the fact that the big guy caught the daily limit and caught a precise operation in the past few days, I would definitely think that he was bragging without making a draft.

But the facts make Cao Chenghui unbelievable that he is now making money with the boss.

It can only be said that some people are born to be good players in the stock market, talented players, even if they are taught by hand, they can't learn it.

I really only have envy.

As the dishes ordered were brought to the table one by one, Cao Chenghui personally brought Fang Hong a glass of wine, and then took the initiative to toast, still raising his glass with both hands, holding the bottom of the glass with one hand and lowering his glass very low.

His humble and humble behavior caused the waiter who came to deliver the food to see this scene. Although he didn't show anything, he was very surprised and couldn't help but look at Fang Hong more.

These two people are obviously Cao Chenghui's older seniority, and it can be seen at a glance that Fang Hong is a college student in his twenties. Normally, the positions should be reversed.

Unexpectedly, it was the older Cao Chenghui who toasted the young Fang Hong with such a humble and humble attitude, but Fang Hong did not take it for granted with a high attitude, nor did he politely show mutual humility.

Everything comes naturally, that's all.

In the last life, I don't know how many people would have the opportunity to toast him a glass of wine, but it is no exaggeration to say that there are really not many people who can make him show humility.

Cao Chenghui didn't mind at all, the big brother can talk about anything if he takes him to make money, how much is this kind of face worth.

The boss can not be modest, but Cao Chenghui cannot but be humble. This is determined by the positions and abilities of both parties, and has nothing to do with age or cultivation.

At around 13 o'clock in the afternoon, as the big A opened in the afternoon, the two had already returned to the Internet cafe.

Half an hour after the market opened, Fang Hong still didn't do anything.

And Cao Chenghui is also very patient, as long as the boss operates, follow-up will be over.

At around 13:38, Fang Hong made a move. Seeing that the Shanghai stock market's benchmark Shangong Shengbei (600843) began to increase in volume, he immediately bought the whole position. The -2.72% position scooped up 3,000 shares.

This price is basically the lowest price of the day.

And Cao Chenghui also immediately filled the stud, buying 32,000 shares for about 160,000 yuan.

Those who have big bosses controlling the market are not cowardly at all. As long as the big boss is there, even ST stocks with stars and hats will dare to stud.

"Niubian, brother, I really entered the market with a pinch!" Cao Chenghui saw that the ticket started to rise not long after he bought it, and he was very energetic on the spot.

In less than three minutes, the time-sharing line of Shangong Shengbei turned red from 2.76 percentage points below the water, and the highest rose to 2 percentage points, and then stepped back down, but this time the step back did not Did not turn green.

The time for stepping back on the time-sharing line is only about a minute, and then it is pulled up again to play a higher upward trend. The stock price on the time-sharing chart has been rising in a straight line, with volume and price, and both volume and price.

At around 13:50, the stock price of Shangong Shengbei rose to 5.65 yuan per share, hitting the daily limit.

Although the board was blown up again later, it was closed again after 2:30 in the late trading, and the daily limit was directly sealed until the market closed.

As of the close, the Shanghai stock index fell -2.65% to 2705.86 points, and it plummeted nearly 4.5 percentage points during the session.

Cao Chenghui looked at the market situation today and saw that his account was full of positions and made nearly 20 percent in one day. He was very excited. This was a day when the price limit was only 10% and the amplitude was large. A created nearly 20 points. Yield, this is the first time he has encountered a scene since entering the market.

This rate of return was the result of rushing high in the early trading, eating at a premium and running away, and then in the afternoon when I fished for Shangong Shengbei underwater, it was still full of positions, and this ticket went up and down again in the late trading, so it achieved a rate of return of nearly 20 percentage points. .

The boss's legs are not so thick!
