

Fire 1507

Chapter 1507

'Just as I thought...'

Kisa's heart was a tangled mess as she cast her eyes downward.

David sneered.

"You know Gilbert's been hurting you all along, right? Meanwhile, my son risked his life to save you, but you still chose Gilbert. And then there is the old bat. Just because Gilbert likes you, she crushed my son's dreams and kicked him out of the country. Even now, that old bat is still selfish as hell."

Suddenly, David bent down and glared at her.

"If you had to choose again, who would you pick?"

Without a moment's hesitation, Kisa looked up and replied, "Gilbert. I would still choose Gilbert."

David stood up straight, laughing bitterly.

"Damn, you are heartless, just like your mom."

life, and I would do the same for him. But emotions me because she felt obligated. That was why she was able to move on so easily with Christopher. But

"That's not true..."

"Enough!"

cut her off, his

I want to know is where Mrs. Kooper Sr. is. Tell me, scowled, wondering why Madalyn was not with David and who

silence,

talk, I'll just tell Gilbert where you are. He can decide whether pawn in this twisted

of the bodyguards

made her way to

there were

that David intended to hold her captive and use her as leverage against any way. She could not stay trapped here forever, though. She had to find a from the Kooper residence and show David her true heart, then perhaps his animosity would dissipate. But how the hell could I get out?' Kisa