

Fire 1521

Chapter 1521

David had barely finished speaking when a familiar voice echoed through the doorway, sending a jolt through Kisa's body. She spun around to see Gilbert standing there, but he paid her no attention. Instead, his eyes were fixed on Madalyn with a look of panic.

"I'm here. Let my grandma go," Gilbert barked at David.

David snickered. "You've got it all twisted. I didn't bring you here to bargain for her freedom."

Gilbert's brow furrowed, and his eyes turned icy. "If you lay a hand on my grandma, we'll both go down in flames."

David let out a chuckle. "Wow, talk about family ties."
