First-class Son-in-law By Drunk Alone Chapter 11

Chapter 11

“Ms. Forest, why would you lie like that? Why are you protecting this b*stard?”

“Is there some sort of secret between you two?”

Andrew suddenly pointed the finger of suspicion at Rain.

The moment he said those words, the atmosphere in the office instantly froze over.

Everyone fell silent, and their confused gazes moved back and forth between Rain and Henry.

Andrew and Lily’s words could not be denied.

It was hard to believe that a security guard could manage to fork out ten million dollars.

After all, why would he become a security guard if he had ten million dollars?

Rain did not intend to continue discussing this matter in the face of Andrew and Lily’s accusations and her other employees’ confusion.

“I’ve already said what I needed to say. I won’t give any further explanations. It’s time to work,” she said coldly and with no expression on her face.

“Hmph. You simply can’t provide a reason for us to accept that piece of trash as our new boss, can you? Alright, since you’re going to keep protecting him, then pardon my rudeness, but I’m going to expose you right now.” Andrew scoffed. “Lily, you’re in charge of the company’s finances, so you should have interacted with the bank plenty of times. Call them now.

“We’ll know whether Ms. Forest is telling us the truth the moment you ask whether our company has really received ten million dollars.”

With that said, everyone's eyes turned bright.

This was a good idea. The bank could not possibly lie to them.

Hence, they just needed to make a call to know whether Rain was lying.

Lily cast Henry a derisive look before she eagerly called the bank in which Brilliant Designs had their account.

She even turned on the speaker in order for everyone to be able to hear the bank's answer clearly.

Soon, a crisp and sonorous voice came through the speaker. "Good morning. Welcome to Eastlake Bank. I'm Sunny Well, your customer service manager. What sort of help do you require?"

Lily did not hesitate. She went straight to the point and said, "Please give me the details of Eastlake's Brilliant Designs' transaction history today."

"Alright, Madam. Please provide the password before I proceed to look for the transaction history," Sunny replied.

"958714." Lily's job was to reconcile the company's accounts, so she naturally knew the password that would clear her to check the transaction history.

Soon, Sunny spoke once more. "Hello, Madam, based on the system, Eastlake's Brilliant Designs received ten million dollars at 10:49:31 a.m. today."

"What? That's impossible! Aren't you mistaken?" Lily's expression changed, and she cried out in shock.

"I can assure you, Madam, I am not mistaken. The system does indeed show that Brilliant Designs received a transaction of ten million dollars." Sunny's voice was completely devoid of emotion.

"No... That's impossible! How could that poor b*stard have so much money?"

“He can’t be the one who transferred the money. That’s right. Someone else must have done it,” Lily started mumbling like she had lost her mind. It was as if by doing so, she could convince herself that Henry was not the one who transferred the money.

The next moment, Lily spoke again in a much higher pitch. “Check who transferred the money to Brilliant Designs. Do it quick!”

“Alright, Madam. Based on the system, the person who transferred the money to Brilliant Designs is Henry Gian,” Sunny said sonorously.

“What did you say? Say it again!” Lily screeched.

“Madam, the one who transferred the money is Henry Gian. H-E-N-R-Y, G-I-A-N.

“If you have any other questions regarding the transfer of money, please come to the bank’s counter to get answers for your questions.” Sunny’s voice was still as gentle and sonorous as before. He spoke calmly but not too slowly, and no emotion could be detected in his voice.

Clatter!

Lily’s phone slipped out of her hands and fell on the floor.

She was stunned, and confusion was written all over her face.

She was not the only one like that.

Everyone was shocked as well.

Even though Rain had said it already, when they heard Sunny confirm the transaction, they still felt as if someone took a hammer and struck a powerful blow at their hearts.

One moment, Henry was just a security guard who earned 3,200 dollars a month, while the next, he suddenly transformed into a man who invested ten million dollars into the company and became its boss.

This news was too shocking, and they could not wrap their heads around it for a period of time.

Of course, the ones who were the most surprised were Lily and Andrew.

At that moment, Andrew's face was red with rage, but his small eyes were filled with confusion and shock.

Both he and Lily could choose not to believe Rain's words, but Sunny, the bank employee, had personally verified that the transaction was true. It completely destroyed the last shreds of their perseverance and the hope that this was not true because they knew full well that no bank employee would lie about this.

So, it was a fact that Henry had invested ten million dollars into Brilliant Designs.

For a short period of time, both of them felt humiliated and enraged. They felt as if they had just been publicly shamed, and the feeling was absolutely horrible.

Suddenly, Lily remembered something, and she started shouting at Henry resentfully. "Henry, you shameless, despicable b*stard! Why didn't you tell me that you had ten million dollars?!"

"Five million of them belong to me! I'm ordering you right now to transfer them to me!"

"Otherwise, I'm going to sue you for keeping your money a secret from me!"

Henry just stood where he was with no expression on his face.

When he heard Lily's words, he smiled and looked at her as if he was staring at a clown. "Heh. Go on ahead and sue me. I suggest you hire one of the best lawyers for your own good."

The moment Lily saw how fearless Henry was before her threat, she came to a swift realization.

That money was Henry's asset from before the marriage. It had nothing to do with her!

The only money she could claim was Henry's monthly wage of 3,200 dollars as a security guard during the one year they were married.

"You... Henry, how could you do this to me?!"

“You clearly had ten million dollars! Why didn’t you tell me?! Did you want to embarrass me that badly?!” Lily stared at Henry sadly.

“I tried giving you the money, but you rejected it.” Henry shook his head expressionlessly.

“Ah... Could it be... Are you talking about the gift box?”

Lily’s eyes flew wide open. She remembered what Henry told her when he handed her the gift box.

Her heart filled with regret and remorse. She fell to her knees with a loud thud.

“I’m so sorry, honey. I really am. Please don’t leave me.

“I know that you still love me. Please forgive me this once. I swear that I’ll be good to you from now on.”

She hugged Henry’s legs while crying and started begging him to take her back.

“Lily, stop wasting your time. I told you in the morning that you missed the chance to have the entire world in your hands.” Once again, Henry just shook his head expressionlessly.

“No, honey! It’s Andrew! That b*stard seduced me!

“I love you! If Andrew hadn’t seduced me, I wouldn’t have let you down!”

Lily refused to give up and continued hysterically begging Henry to take her back.
